PREFACE

Districtwise village statistics have been published at most of the Censuses. A list showing the population of villages in each district was published after the 1891 Census. No such list was brought out in 1901. In 1911 Village Directories were prepared for all districts, but could be published only for thirteen on account of the outbreak of the First World War. At the 1921 Census they were published for all districts in the form of District Census Statistics. In 1931 they were compiled for all districts, but were not published owing to financial stringency, leading to loss of valuable data. At the 1941 Census even though restricted tabulation was undertaken on account of the Second World War, yet the utility of District Census Statistics was recognized and they were published. At the Census of 1951 two volumes were brought out for each district—the District Census Handbook and the District Population Statistics. Government have decided to continue the publication of District Census Handbooks. The 1961 District Census Handbooks contain more data than ever published before. Village Directories, besides giving the population of villages by industrial categories, also contain useful information about schools, hospitals, post offices, etc.

As revised District Gazetteers are going to be published, introductory matter in the District Census Handbooks has been given in brief to avoid duplication.

Information for the District Census Handbooks was collected mainly from three sources viz., State Tabulation Office, District Officers, Heads of Departments and their district level officers. In all cases confirmation has been obtained from Heads of Departments concerned. I am extremely grateful to District Officers and the various Heads of Departments for their wholehearted co-operation in furnishing the desired information.

It is hoped that the District Census Handbooks will prove useful to the various Government departments and scholars.

The printing of the Handbooks commenced from August, 1963.

INTRODUCTION

1. The District

1. The district of Chamoli is one of the three newly created districts of the new Uttara Khand Division. It was formerly a sub-division of district Garhwal. The district lies entirely within the Himalayan mountain system. On the north the snowy range separates it from Tibet. On the south it is bounded by districts Garhwal and Almora. On the east its boundary runs along Almora for some distance and thereafter along Pithoragarh. To the west it is bounded by districts Uttar Kashi and Tehri-Garhwal. The area of the district, according to the Surveyor General, India, is 9,130 Sq. Km. (3,525 Sq. miles).

2. The district is comprised of four Tahsils—Joshimath, Karnaprayag, Chamoli and Ukhi Math. The largest is Tahsil Joshimath and the smallest Ukhi Math. All the tahsils are entirely rural as there is no town in the whole district.

3. The nearest railway station is Rishikesh in Dehra Dun district. It is at a distance of 127 miles from the district headquarter. There is only one main motor road passing through the heart of the district linking prominent places right from Rudraprayag to Joshimath. The distance between Rudraprayag to Joshimath is 71 miles. This further leads to the holy place Badrinath. From Rudraprayag a motor road also runs upto Kund (21 miles) on way to the other holy place Kedarnath. Some other strategic roads leading to important places have made much headway.

4. The country-side consists of a succession of steep mountain ridges interspersed with deep glens. Except the pasture of Panai (Ganchar) on the banks of the Alakhnanda there is no level land in the country-side except where the glens open up as at Lohba plateau but they are narrow and precipitious. The principal mountains of the district are a series of spurs from the Tibetan watershed. The principal mountains can be divided into two groups, the Nandadevi Range and Badrinath Range. East presents a snowy curtain stretching almost due east and west for 25 miles, the former flanked by the peaks Nanda Kot and Trisul and the latter by the offshoots from Badrinath or Chaukhamba and Kedarnath peaks. Nandadevi, a huge Monolith rises in grey outline behind the white snow curtain of Trisul, its southern surface being so steep that snow can not rest on it. Another very massive range runs down from the watershed dividing the basins of the Dhauli ganga and the Vishnu ganga. The principal peak close to the watershed is Kamet (25,443 feet). Excepting this group, the watershed does not exceed 18,000 feet.

5. The district is mainly drained by the river Alakhnanda and its tributaries. Alakhnanda can be said to come into being at the confluence of the Vishnu ganga and the Dhanti ganga, the former rises from above Badrinath the temple of Vishnu from which it derives its name and the latter comes from the Niti pass. The Alakhnanda flows south-west to Nandprayag where it receives the Nandakini, a river emanating from the glaciers on the western slope of Trisul. Its next important affluent is the Pindar, issuing from the Pindar glacier on the western slope of Nandakot in the Almora district. It enters Chamoli at Harmal and merges with Alakhnanda at Karnaprayag.

6. Geologically the district exposes a complete slece or section across the Himalaya. The outer Himalayan zone and central axis are composed of slates and massive lime-stone, sometimes succeeded by hands of mesozoic lime-stone. Iron was mined at Hat, Jaisal, Chorpagna and Mokh, the metal produced at Mogh was most highly esteemed. But the industry has since nearly died down. Lead is reported to exist but has long since ceased to be worked. Gold is washed in the Alakhnanda. Arsenic, lignite, graphite, sulphur and soapstone are found.

7. The climate is exceedingly diversified. The river valleys have unhealthy climate for whole in summer months the temperature rarely falls below 80° F and in the winter they are generally shrouded in mist during the night and early forenoon. The hilly tops at high altitudes are exceedingly cold. The rains usually break earlier than in the plains. Heavy showers, apparently of local origin accompanied by northerly and westerly winds, occur about the same time the monsoon reaches Bombay. During this period soil erosion is quite damaging. Snow rarely falls below 4,000 feet during winters.

8. There is a broad belt of forest extending from Malla Kaliphat and Bamsu. Maikhanda in the west to Pindarpar Palla in the East Pine trees are the principal component of these forests upto about 6,000 ft. Above 6,000 ft. the principal component are the Oak (Banj) trees. They have hard wood which is used in agricultural implements and fuel. Above 8,000 ft., the ordinary Oak gives place to harder Oak, the Tilonj and the Kharsu. Deodar is not common here.

9. Tiger is found in the interiors of forests. Panther and the black Himalayan bear are quite common. Other wild animals are the mountain fox, pine marten (Chitraila), general or hindiyom chamois Sambher. Musk deer is found above the altitude of 8,000 ft. Among birds, eagles, hawks, falcons, vultures, swallows, king fisher, wood peckers, cuckoos, tree creeper orioles and waxblers are common.

10. In the greater part of the district there are two harvests, rabi and kharif. The chief crops of the rabi are wheat and barley and those of kharif are rice and mandua. The kharif is the more important. The data on cultivated area are not available.

2. Statistics

A—General Population

1. The district occupies the 3rd position in area and the 53rd position in population in the whole State. The table giving variation in population since 1901 shows that there has been an increase in population since 1911, the percentage increase being the highest during the decade (1951-1961). The population rose by 253,137 during this period giving a percentage increase of 16·67 which is nearly equal to the State average of 16·66. The order of tahsils by population in 1961 is Karnaprayag, Chamoli, Ukhi Math and Joshimath.

2. The area of the district according to the Surveyor General of India is 9,130 Sq. Km. (3,525 Sq. miles). The density of population in the district is 27·7 persons per Sq. Km. which is lower than the State average of 250 persons per Sq. Km.

3. The district has 1,529 villages of which 1,415 are inhabited and 114 un-inhabited. Most of the villages are of small size with a population below 500 (95·0 per cent). The percentage of medium size villages having a population between 500-1,999 is 5·0. There is only one village with a population of 2,000 and over.

4. The sex ratio i.e., number of females per 1,000 males in 1921 was 1,084; in 1931, 1,069; in 1941, 1,077; in 1951, 1,096 and in 1961, 1,108. The sex ratio of the district is higher than the State average of 909, because most young males go to the plains in search of employment. It is noticeable that the sex ratio decreased between 1921 and 1931 whereafter it again took up an increasing trend. This indicates that the growth of population is increasing the pressure on land thereby quickening the pace of out migration for jobs.

5. General Population Tables A-I to A-IV and their appendices have been reproduced in this Volume.

B-Economic

1. Workers—The population of the district is distributed between workers and non-workers in the ratio of 65·3 : 34·7 respectively. The corresponding distribution of workers and non-workers for the State is 39·1 : 60·9. The reverse order is noteworthy. Among workers 89·1 per cent work as Cultivators and Agricultural Labourers. Next come Household Industry and other Manufacturing jointly claiming 4·7 and other Services 3·0 per cent. In other categories the number of workers is very small. Female participation is significant as the percentage of females among workers is 55·1. The extent of female participation in non-agricultural activities is lower than in agricultural activities accounting for 95·6 and 4·4 per cent respectively.

2. The largest number of workers is in the age-group of 15-34 accounting for 46·9 per cent, followed by next age-group 35-59 which accounts for 34·8 per cent. The percentage of workers below the age of 15 is 11·0 and that in the age 60 and over 7·3. The population of workers in the lower and higher age-groups is small.

3. The largest number of workers is in Construction and maintenance of roads, railways, bridges and tunnels (2,615); followed by Production and rearing of livestock (2,615), and Wool spinning other than in mills (1,316). Occupationally the bulk of the workers comprises Farmers and Farm Managers, Animals, Birds, and Insects rearing (2,223), followed by Spinners and Winders (1,441) and Tailors, Dress Makers and Garment Makers (984).

4. Non-workers—These constitute 34·7 per cent of the total population. Among non-workers the percentage of females is 46·6. More than half of the non-workers (89·9 per cent) are in the age-group of 0-14, being mostly infants and dependents. In all other age-groups females are mostly engaged in household duties. Among male non-workers 37·8 per cent are full-time students and 61·5 per cent dependents, who jointly account for 99·3 per cent. Among female non-workers the corresponding figures are 5·9, 88·5 and 94·4 respectively.

5. The more important General Economic Tables of the B-Series have been reproduced.

C—Social and Cultural

1. Literacy—The percentage of literacy in the total population is 21·8 as against the State average of 17·7. It ranks 13th in literacy in the whole State. The population of the district is progressive as the percentage of persons in young and very young age-groups is 38·4 as against a small percentage 9·8 of elderly persons (55 years and above).

Among females 37·1 per cent are never married, 49·1 per cent married and 13·8 per cent widowed or divorced. Of the married males 0·9 per cent are in the age-group 0-14, 40·4 per cent in the age-group 15-34, and 41·6 per cent in the age-group 35-54 and 17·1 per cent in the age-group 55 and above.
