INTRODUCTION

—:o:—

PHYSICAL ASPECTS

Name and derivation :—

Amritsar means 'the tank of nectar or immortality' and the district derives its name from the sacred tank situated in its centre, in which is situated the Golden Temple.

Boundaries :—

Amritsar is one of the westerly situated districts of the Punjab (India). It is bounded on the North by Gurdaspur and Sialkot districts, on the South by Ferozepore district beyond the river Beas, on the West by Sialkot and Lahore districts of Pakistan and on the East and South-east by Kapurthala district of Pepsu beyond the river Beas. It lies between north latitudes 31° 04′ 30″ and 32° 03′ 10″ and between east longitudes 74° 29′ 20″ and 75° 24′ 15″.

Area :—

As a result of the partition of the Punjab, 370 square miles of area on account of the transfer of 183 villages and 3 towns of the Lahore District have come to the lot of Amritsar District. Thus the total area of the district according to the Survey of India Department, comes to 1942·0 square miles.

In shape it resembles a rectangular block occupying the whole of the Bari Doab between the districts of the Gurdaspur and Lahore, now in Pakistan. The district consists four tahsils ot Amritsar, Tarn Taran, Ajnala and Patti.

Rivers and Nalas :—

There are two rivers in the district which are of permanent flow i. e. the Beas and the Ravi. The only other perennial stream in the district is known as Sakki Nala. A brief account of each is given below : —

The Beas :—

The Beas River takes its rise in the Noth of Kulu valley and passing through the Kangra District, and between Gurdaspur and Hoshiarpur districts enters the district and separates it from Kapurthala and Ferozepore districts forming the eastern and southern boundaries. In the rainy season heavy floods come in this river and the water spreads over a mile in width and 30 to 35 feet in depth. In the cold weather, the river rarely sinks so low as to be fordable and is seldom over a hundred yards wide.

The Ravi :—

The name Ravi is identical to Irrawati and in its upper reaches the river is called Rauti or Irauti. It takes its rise in the Mid Himalaya and Bara Bhangal Ranges. After flowing through the Chamba District in a serpentipe manner, it enters the plains near Shahpur in the Gurdaspur District. At Madhopur, a canal has been dug from this river which is called Upper Bari Doab and irrigates the whole of the Amritsar District, excepting the area lying beyond Sakki Nala in Ajnala Tahsil. For the last four miles of its course past Amritsar, the bank is considerably higher to withstand the force of the flood current but at no other point in its course the bank is sufficiently high. It carries rather more fertilizing silt than the Beas. In the cold weather, it reduces in its size so as to be called a stream but in the rainy season floods of considerabe vigour come in the river.

The Sakki :—

As mentioned above, leaving aside the rivers, it is the only stream of permanent flow in the district. "It rises in the Bahrampur marsh in the Gurdaspur District and is known there as the Kirah. It enters the Amritsar District near Ram Das and winds through the Ajnala tahsil in a deep and tortuous bed between abrupt banks, past Ajnala and Saurian and finally falls into the Ravi at Ranian, near Ajnala where the bridge of boats used to be on the Gujranwala road. There is reason to believe that it follows the course which the Ravi once took, or rather that it flows just under what used to be the high left bank of the Ravi." This stream, when in flood, causes havoc but its floods do not deposit any silt. A small canal has been dug from it in the Gurdaspur District which is managed by the District Board and a few acres of Amritsar District are also irrigated from its waters.

Other less important Nalas are the Patti Rohi, the Kasur Nala and the Hudiara drainage line. The first and the last mentioned take their rise in the Gurdaspur District.

Geology :—

The following geological description is re-produced from the District Gazetteer of Amritsar, part-A, 1914:—

The whole soil consisting of alluvial clay and loam, the only mineral product of value is the peculiar calcareous concrete known as kankar. It is found in beds generally at a slight depth below the surface whence it is excavated to form material for road making The presence of this concrete is of considerable importance in a district where stone road-metal is not procurable unless imported, and which contains a considerable length of the Grand Trunk road and North-Western Railway besides State canals. The Kankar is also much used for lime. No limestone is found in the district, and stone lime has to be fetched from Pathankot, Khushab and other distant places.

The best kankar beds are found in Ajnala on the left bank of the Sakki, from Karial downwards, and between Kalet and Vadala Bhittewad. Good kankar is also found to right and left of the Grand Trunk Road near Jandiala and at Virpal. In Tarn Taran it is met with at Bala Chak and Gohlwar At the recent re-assessment kankar was not treated as an asset. But in the administration paper of every village, a clause has been inserted declaring that the kankar is the property of Government and may be dug for by Government when required without the payment of any royalty to the owners of the land. The owners, however, have liberty to dig for and use the kankar when it is not required by Government. It is said that saltpetre used to be manufactured in the Sikh times in the Ajnala tahsil where kalar wastes abound, but it is hardly ever made now. The kalar efforescence is scraped up by washermen to be used in place of soda as a cleaning agent, but is not otherwise useful. Coarse pottery clay, white, grey, and black are dug for by potters, who use them in their trade and distinguish between the different varieties, but these call for no particular remark."

Archaeology

The chief objects of architectural interest are the Sikh temples at Amritsar Tarn Taran, Khadur Sahib, Goindwal Ramdass and Baba Bakala but relics of Mohammadan rule which need be mentioned here, are the remains of the imperial caravanserais at Serai Amant Khan, Nurdin, Naurangbad and Fatehabad, in the Tarn Taran Tahsil as well as the kos minars which marked the course of the road from Lahore to Delhi.

Climate

The climate of the district is extremely hot in the hot weather and cold in the winter season. Hot winds also blow in the months of May and June. The climate in the second fortnight of February and uptil the middle of April is very pleasant. The drinking water is cold and sweet and is available in every part of the district and the climate of the whole district is healthy except few tracts lying between the Ravi and Sakki Nala, Kathunangal circle and the villages around Majitha, which are favourable to the growth of Malaria.

Rainfall:—

The district of Amritsar lies away from the hills, hence the monsoons do not cause heavy rains. The rain generally falls in the months of June to September and December to March. The months of April, May, October, and November almost remain dry. The average rainfall of each tahsil is given below:—

Name of Tahsil.	Average rainfall.
Ajnala.	25. 97"

Tarn Taran.	21-76"

History : —

During the rule of the ancient Hindu Rajas, it is probable, this region remained under the king of Lahore and not much about it is known. It was in 1023 A. D. that Sultan Mahud permanently established the Mohammadan power in the Punjab and until the final overthrow by the Sikhs, the district remained attached to the Suba (province of Lahore).

In the middle of 15th century, Guru Nanak, the founder of the Sikh Religion and the first Guru of the Sikhs was born at Talwandi in the Lahore district and a century later Amritsar became the seat of the Sikhs and they began to add secular interest to spiritual occupation. But it was not until the beginning of the 19th century that the Sikhs, under Maharaj Ranjit Singh, established themselves as a political force. In 1801, he seized Lahore and made it his capital and by and by brought all the territory up to the Sutlej River under his sway. During the reign of Maharaja Ranjit Singh, the city of Amritsar took its place as the religious capital of the Sikhs and was frequently visited by the Maharaja. After the two Sikh wars, the district was annexed by the British in 1849 and was attached to the Lahore Division and remained with it till 1859. In that year a new Division was formed having its headquarters at Amritsar and included districts of Amritsar, Sialkot and Gurdaspur. It continued to be the headquarters of the division upto 1884 when this arrangement was discontinued and the district once again was attached to Lahore Division.

At the time of its annexation, there were four tahsils in the district i. e. Tarn Taran, Amritsar, Ajnala and Talwandi but subsequently the first mentioned three constituted the district Now with the partition of the punjab, 188 villages and 3 towns of Lahore District, have come to the district of Amritsar and the district now again consists of four tahsils of Amritsar, Ajnala, Tarn Taran and Patti.

NOTE EXPLAINING TABLES GIVEN IN DISTRICT CENSUS HANDBOOK.

—:)-o-(:—

In the 1951 Census, in addition to the sorting of the slips to produce the tables, essential Census information relating to every person enumerated in every village and every town/wrad has been incorporated in a National Register of Citizens which has been preserved as an unpublished administrative register for purposes of reference during the inter census decade.

Some changes have been made between the procedures for tabulation adopted at the 1931 and earlier censuses and at the present census. These are explained below :—

1. Substitution of Economic Classification for classification based on Religion.

In the past, Census slips were, at the very out set, sorted on the basis of religion, and the figures of population by religion thus obtained were the basis of village statistics. The separation of slips by religion and sex was maintained throughout the sorting operation ; and thus certain Census characteristics were cross tabulated by religion. During the present census, the slips have been sorted in the first instance into the following eight livelihood classes of the population.

Agricultural Classes:—

I. Cultivators of land wholly or mainly owned and their dependants.

II. Cultivators of land wholly or mainly unowned & their dependants.

III. Cultivating labourers and their dependants.

IV. Non-cultivating owners of land ; agricultural rent receivers and their dependants.

Non-Agricultural Classes.

Persons (including dependants) who derive their principal means of livelihood from :—

V. Production other than cultivation.

VI. Commerce.

VII. Transport.

VIII. Other services and miscellaneous sources.

The resulting figures have been given in the Primary Census Abstracts which serves as the basis for village statistics.

2. The Concurrent 10% Sample:—

The Age (Sample) Tables have prepared from the enumeration slips by taking a 10% sample, out of the population excluding the displaced persons. Separate figures for displaced persons are given in the Handbook in all important tables.

3. Preservation of Census Records and Registers.

In the past, the abstract (first prepared in the process of sorting and compilation) was used for compiling village statistics, which were retained as unpublished administrative records by some States and printed and published by others. At the present Census, the following data are included in the District Census Handbook and printed and published as such :—

i. Introduction to the District Census Handbook.

ii. District Census Tables (furnishing district data with break up for Census tracts, within the district).

iii. Census Abstracts (a) Primary Census Abstracts (b) Occupational Abstracts and (c) Census Abstracts of small scale industries.

The following tables have been included in the Handbook:—

A. General population tables.

I. Area, Houses and poputlation.

(The area figures given in this table have been supplied by the Deputy Commissioner of the district and hence do not tally with the area figures maintained by the Survey Department No. of houses are those which were found to be occupied at the time of house numberlng by the revenue staff; unoccupied houses do not figure in the table)

II. Variation in Population during fifty years.

(The population figures given in this table for the previous censuses have been adjusted, taking into consideration the transfer of enclaves during the period 1941-51, Population of areas transferred to and/or from each tahsil have been added to or subtracted from the population of that tahsil for the censuses 1901 to 1941).

III. Towns and Villages classified by Population.

IV. Towns classified by population with variation since 1901.

V. Towns arranged territorially with population by livelihood classes.

(In this table figures for livelihood classes I to III have not been given separately but have been clubbed together)

B. Economic tables.

I. Livelihood Classes and Sub-classes.

Non-earning dependants in this table mean economically passive persons i. e. who do not earn anything; an earning dependant implies a person who is semi-active, i. e whose earnings do no suffice his living and who has, therefore, to depend upon others; self-supporting persons mean economically active persons i. e. who do not depend upon others, and are at least able to maintain themselves.

II. Secondary means of livelihood.

(Non-earning dependants do not have secondary means of livelihood. An earning dependant is maintained partly by the income of some other person and partly by his own, the source which gives him some income is taken to be his secondary means of livelihood for purposes of this table. A self-supporting person may have more than one means of livelihood in some cases; the second best source of income has been given in this table as his secondary means of livelihood).

III. Employers, Employees and Independent workers.

(The self supporting presons in non-agricultural classes have been classified in this table as Employers, Employees and Independent workers and are distributed in the various divisions and Sub-divisions of Industries and Services. The fly-leaf of this table gives the number of self-supporting persons who are economically passive e. g. persons living principally on pensions, remittances, scholarships and funds, inmates of jails, asylums, almshouses and beggars and vagrants. To economise paper and labour no space has been provided in the table for those divisions and Sub-divisions in which no self-supporting person falls).

C. Household and age (Sample) Tables.

I. Household (size and composition). This table has not been published in the handbook.

II. Livelihood Classes by Age Groups.

III. Age and Civil Condition.

IV. Age and Literacy.

V. Single year Age returns (Infants below 1 year of age have been shown under the age 0)

D. Social and Cultural Tables.

I. Language. This table has not been published in the handbook.

II. Religion.

III. Scheduled Castes and Tribes. (The fly-leaf of this table gives the number of Anglo-Indians who have been included in the figures of Christians in Table D—II).

IV. Migrants (The fly-leaf of this gives the number of people born in countries outiside India but enumerated in this District).

V. Displaced persons. (For Census purposes, a displaced person was taken to mean any person who has entered India having left or been compelled to leave his home in Western Pakistan on or after the 1st March, 1947, or his home in Eastern Pakistan on or after the 15th October, 1946, on account of civil disturbances or the fear of such disturbances or on account of the setting up of the two Dominions of India and Pakistan. But some persons, who had migrated to India from Western Pakistan even before 1st March, 1947, returned themselves as displaced persons at the time of Census taking for the simple reason that they had left their immovable property in Pakistan; such persons have also been included in the definition of 'Displaced Persons)'.

VI. Non-Indian Nationals. (This table was not prepared in the previous censuses; it has been based on a suggestion made by the U. N. Population Commission).

VII. Livelihood Classes, by Educational Standards.

(This table is also new and is designed to show the distribution of educated man-power among the different livelihood classes).

E. Summary Figures by Districts.

(This table furnishes selected data by Tahsils/tracts in the district. The area figures given in this table have been furnished by the Deputy Commissioner of the district and the 1941 population figures has been given after giving effect to the adjustment of enclaves).
