DISTRICT CENSUS HAND BOOKS

District Census Hand-books for each of the 43 Districts in Madhya Pradesh

PREFACE

The publication of District Census Hand-books, which was begun in the 1951 Census, represents a significant step in the process of making census statistics available for the smaller territorial units basic to executive and developmental administration. Apart from the fact that the proper implementation of policy depends on the ability of the administrative authorities concerned to quantify accurately the variables involved, it is at these levels that policies get really thoroughly tested; also, policies can fail—and probably have failed—because their statistical basis was weak. It is undoubtedly necessary that gaps in statistics at lower levels be filled as rapidly as possible. It was not possible at this Census to base all census statistics on the development block as the unit mainly because in 1961 there were many areas not till then covered by blocks. The coverage had become complete by about the middle of 1963 and it is not unlikely that the 1971 Census will recognise the block as the basic field unit as much for purposes of presentation as for operational purposes.

2. What we have tried to do in the 1961 Census Hand-books is to make them more informative by the inclusion of as many categories of non-census statistics as possible; some of these are climate, agriculture, co-operation, industry, banking, education, health etc. There is also an introductory note to each Hand-book high-lighting the more striking features. It has not been possible for the Census Organisation to check the accuracy of the figures supplied by various authorities; it is to be hoped that some other organisation, better equipped for the purpose, will take up this task.

3. For the seventeen districts of Mahakoshal (Part of erstwhile Madhya Pradesh) and for Panna and Tikamgarh districts of erstwhile Vindhya Pradesh, which are part of the present State of Madhya Pradesh, the area figures for districts and tahsils furnished by the Director of Land Records and presented in Table A-I are internally inconsistent in the sense that the tahsil areas do not add up to the district area. This inconsistency arose from the fact that, in the case of these districts, the district area includes, but the tahsil areas exclude, 'forest' area for which the tahsilwise breakup was not then available. Later on, while this Hand-book was in the press, the Director of Land Records brought out revised area figures for the year 1962-63 for tahsils and districts, which among other improvements, do not suffer from the defect of internal inconsistency even in case of these nineteen districts. Revision of Table A-I on the basis of these area figures was not feasible at this late stage; the only alternative was to print these revised area figures also in this Hand-book.

4. One unfortunate fact about these Hand-books is that they became available to the users rather late in the decade. This is partly due to the considerable time required for the collection of information from various authorities and partly to difficulties in printing. Owing to the fact that State presses, with a heavy backlog of printing weighing down on them, would find it impossible to print all the District Census Hand-books themselves, arrangements have been made for printing them in private presses. If these Hand-books are to have a useful life of more than four or five years of inter-censal decennium, more expeditious methods for the collection of non-census statistics, for the preparation and checking of the manuscripts and for printing will have to be devised.

5. The Census Organisation is grateful to the Government of Madhya Pradesh for having been so kind as to undertake the publication of these Hand-books and to the Superintendent, Government Printing and his organisation—particularly the Assistant Superintendent, Printing, Government Regional Press, Indore and his staff—for the printing arrangements made. The inspiration behind this ambitious venture is that of our indefatigable Registrar General, Shri Asok Mitra, to whom we are all deeply grateful. Our thanks are also due to the various authorities who supplied us with all the necessary statistics.

NOTES AND EXPLANATIONS

This note gives the meanings and explanations of terms and concepts used in this Handbook. This is necessary because, without a proper grasp of the meanings of such simple concepts as building, house, household, worker, etc., it is not possible to appreciate the data presented in the Handbook. Thus, one who does not know that an unpretentious hut in the thick of Bastar forests with unplastered bamboo walls and a thatch roof and with space hardly enough for two cots is not a whit less of a building than the Indian versions of the skyscrapers in one of the metropolitan cities, or that a central jail housing all manner of criminals and shady characters is as much a household as the household of the most pious and god-fearing citizen in the State, may not be able to appreciate what exactly the figures represent. Besides explaining the terms and concepts, the note also contains brief notes on the salient and peculiar features of some of the Census tables presented in this Handbook.

Census.—The Census in India is a decennial operation taking place in February-March of the first year of every decade. It ensures coverage of all members of the population irrespective of age. The operations constituting a Census involve, besides counting of heads, the counting of numerous attributes of the person counted. These are demographic, social, economic and cultural in nature. The number of these attributes regarding which information is recorded has been increasing from census to census and is limited only by considerations of cost, time and organisation.

Population.—The important thing about a population is that it is dynamic. It is a constantly changing entity. These changes take place by the natural processes of birth and death as well as by migration. A statement of population has therefore little sense unless the point of time to which it relates is also stated. A population figure is correct only for a particular point of time; and, even though in practice one may omit to indicate this point of time, one should none the less be clear about it. The population figures presented herein refer to the sunrise of 1st March, 1961, unless otherwise stated.

Rural-Urban Classification:—Data collected at a Census is usually presented separately for the rural and urban areas. A 'town' or a 'town-group' constitutes an urban area. A 'town' in the 1961 Census was either (i) a municipality, cantonment or corporation; or (ii) a habitation with a population at least of 5,000 with atleast three-fourths of the adult male population being engaged in non-agricultural pursuits. The rural-urban classification, being operationally cardinal and prior in point of time to the census count, had to be tackled earlier and a list of 219 towns in the State was therefore, prepared much earlier than the census proper. This included 28 habitations which were tentatively treated as towns, the intention being that, after the 1961 Census data became available, their cases would be re-examined. Later on, however, no modification was made in the list, even though 7 towns did not satisfy either the minimum population criterion or the one based on the ratio of non-agricultural adult males being 75% or greater. These are Gogaon in West Nimar, Datla Bandhi in Chhindwara (both under 5,000 in population); and, Icchawar, Patan, Pendra, Akaltara, Arang respectively in Sehore, Jabalpur, Bilaspur, Bilaspur, and Raipur Districts (not satisfying the economic criterion). The reason for not disturbing the original list of towns was that as many as 14 habitations which did not satisfy one or the other of the criteria laid down earlier managed to sneak into the list of towns as municipalities, and inclusion of seven more such towns was not supposed to introduce greater demographic distortion than was already present. The cases of Chachaura-Binaganj town in Guna District and Sardarpur-Rajgarh in Dhar District are peculiar in that each of these two municipal towns consists of two distinct habitations separated by 2 miles in the first and 3 miles in the second case.

All areas, which were not urban were rural. They consisted of 'villages'. A very large majority of the census villages were 'revenue villages', which had well demarcated or recognised boundaries, and which included not only the inhabited portion (or portions) but also agricultural land and uninhabited waste (or other) lands. The census village was thus not synonymous with a habitation or a dwelling; in fact, a village could contain two or more distinct habitations separated by considerable distances known variously as 'tola' or 'mazra' or 'para'. Besides, in many districts there were forest villages, situated inside Reserved forests and without clearly demarcated boundaries. The areas entered against these villages in the Village Directory are thus only approximate. It is to be noted that being, as observed by Martin [Census Superintendent (old) Madhya Pradesh, 1911 and Census Commissioner for India, 1921] arbitrary and irregular units of area, carved out chiefly for revenue and administrative purposes, there are many revenue villages which do not have any habitation. They are not, therefore, of much demographic interest, and their inclusion in the Village Directory is only for a proper tally of area aggregates.

A—General Population Tables:

There are four main tables and three appendices in this series.

Table A-1.—This table presents the basic figures relating to area, houses and population separately for the rural and urban areas of each district, each tahsil, and for each city, towngroup or town. The area figures used in the table for the district and the tahsils are those furnished by the State Director of Land Records. In case of the district, the area figures furnished in 1962 by the Surveyor-General, India are also given. The Surveyor-General does not furnish area figures for tahsils. In case of cities and towns the area figures are furnished by the local urban authority (if any) in charge of the municipal administration, or by the local revenue authorities. Except in case of Raipur and Sagar districts, there is no agreement between the area figures for the district furnished by the Director of Land Records and the Surveyor-General, India. These differences arise principally from the differences in the methods adopted by the two agencies in measuring and computing the area.

In the case of eighteen districts (Bastar, Raipur, Durg, Raigarh, Bilaspur, Surguja, Balaghat, Seoni, Chhindwara, Mandla, Narsimhapur, Jabalpur, Sagar, Hoshangabad, Betul, East Nimar, Tikamgarh and Panna), only the district 'total' and 'rural' figures for area include the forest area; the figures for forest area were not available for individual tahsils in these districts, and hence the tahsilwise area figures for these districts do not include forest area. This fact is important particularly for appreciating the district and tahsil population density figures of these districts. The population density (i.e., persons per square mile) given in column 4 of the table is calculated on the basis of the figures of area supplied by the State Directorate of Land Records.

Occupied Residential House.—This is a Census house which was actually occupied at the time of enumeration for residential purposes either partly or fully. The concept of 'Census house' together with the allied concepts of 'building' and 'household' are dealt with later in this note.

Town Group.—The introduction of the concept of "towngroup" is a new feature of the 1961 Census. One kind of 'towngroup' has its basis in what may be called demographic prognosis, this being that a particular group of towns is situated in such a way, and exhibits some interconnecting features of such a kind, that they can be considered a single demographic entity whose organic nature is likely to become more and more evident in the future. Examples are: Bhopal City with Bairagarh in the West and Heavy Electricals Township in the East; and Durg Town and Bhilai Industrial Township. The other type of towngroup is a group only in name in the sense that it represents a group of localities which geography unites but definition separates. Examples are Sagar Towngroup consisting of Sagar Municipality and Sagar Cantt., and Jabalpur Towngroup (consisting of Jabalpur Corporation, Jabalpur Cantt. and Khamaria). In both these instances, the urban complex is single and continuous, but as each corporation or cantonment is a separate town by definition, it gets split up in the Census into more than one town. In Madhya Pradesh there are six towngroups in all; three of them belong to the first type: Bhopal in Sehore District: Murwara in Jabalpur District and Durg in Durg District; the other three belong to the second type, Pachmarhi in Hoshangabad District, Sagar in Sagar District and Jabalpur in Jabalpur District.

Houseless & Institutional Population:—"Houseless population" means those who did not live and were not enumerated, in Census-houses at the last Census. Obviously these swell the ranks of the social destitutes who, to speak in every day parlance do not have even a roof over their heads, but live under the shade of trees or bridges or on pavements. "Institutional population" means the population that was enumerated in institutions at the last census i.e., in hostels, jails, boarding houses, hospitals etc.

Class of Towns.—Towns are classified into six classes as below according to their population sizes:—

Class	Population range
I	100,000 and above
II	50,000—99,999
III	20,000—49,999
IV	10,000—19,999
V	5,000—9,999
VI	Below 5,000

Towns of Class I are also known as Cities.

"Status" of a town means the authority in charge of its local urban administration. Thus a town could have a Municipal Corporation; a Municipality, a Cantonment Board, a Gram Panchayat, a Town or Notified Area Committee, etc.

B—(i) General Economic Tables.—This series includes 22 tables containing information on certain economic aspects of the population. The concepts involved have undergone significant changes as compared with the 1951 and earlier Censuses. In the 1951 and earlier censuses or at any rate in the last few censuses income or economic independence (and dependence) were treated as the criteria for denoting the economic status of a person. Separate account used to be taken of all persons who were economically independent and of those who were economically dependent. An intermediate category of economic semi-independence was also introduced in the 1931 Census. This consisted of the 'earning dependents' of the 1951 Census and even there the element of income was present. This income-based classification seems to have not infrequently resulted in a suppression of information relating to those who worked in household economic activities but did not actually earn any income like men other than the head of the household and women of the family or children working at the family cultivation or cottage industry but not earning any incomes. The 1961 Census introduced the concept of work and totally abandoned the 'income' approach. Thus all people who worked (i.e., were "economically active") including family workers who were not in receipt of any income, & working children who did not earn enough for their maintenance were treated as workers. On the other hand such persons as a receiver of rents on immovable property, or of interest on securities deposited in a bank, and doing no other work, were treated as non-workers. Persons professionally engaged in anti-social activities (i.e., thieves, robbers, prostitutes, beggars, etc.) were, however, not treated as workers. The approach to the concept of "work" was pragmatic and numerous illustrations were given to clarify the concept. The basis of work was held to be satisfied in the case of seasonal work i.e., work at cultivation, livestock, dairying or household industry if the person has had some regular work of more than one hour a day throughout the greater part of the working season. In the case of regular employment in any trade, profession, service, business or commerce the basis of work was satisfied if the person was employed during any of the fifteen days preceding the day on which he was visited by the Census enumerator. A person who was working but was absent from his work during those fifteen days or for a longer period owing to illness or other causes was treated as worker. Work included not only actual physical work but also effective supervision and direction of work.

The Working Categories:—The primary classification of the population is by means of a simple dichotomy into workers and non-workers. The former is further sub-divided into nine sub-classes or working categories of the Census. These are listed below; the correspondence with the Standard National Industrial Classification is also indicated.

	CENSUS WORKING CATEGORY	CORRESPONDING DIVISION OR MAJOR GROUP OR MINOR GROUP OF NIC
I	Workers in cultivation	Minor Groups 000, 001, 002, 003, 004,
II	Agricultural Labourers ...	The same as in I above
III	Workers in mining, quarrying, livestock, forestry, fishing, hunting and plantations, orchards and allied activities	Major Groups 01, 02, 03 and 04 and Division 1; Minor Groups 005, 006, 007, 008, 009 (if not classifiable as household industry)
IV	Workers in household industry ...	Minor Groups 005 to 009, 013, 014, 015, 020 to 026, 031, 032, 040 to 048, 107, Divisions 2 & 3 (excepting Minor Groups 201, 217, 218, 232, 252, 260, 290, 324, 325, 338 and 380) if on a household scale
V	Workers in manufacturing other than household industry ...	Divisions 2 & 3
VI	Workers in construction ...	Division 4
VII	Workers in Trade and Commerce ...	Division 6
VIII	Workers in Transport Storage and Communications ...	Division 7
IX	Workers in other services ..	Divisions 5, 8 & 9

The only term requiring explanation is household industry, the others being self-explanatory. As regards household industry, a three-fold test was laid down, viz:—

(a) "Household Industry" should consist of manufacture, processing or servicing and may include sale but should not be confined simply to buying and selling. At least part of the goods offered for sale from the household should be manufactured or processed by members of the household.

(b) "Household Industry" should be on the household scale where the workers mainly will be the Head of the household himself and/or members of the household, the role of hired workers from outside being of secondary importance. Thus, in any Household Industry, members of the household should be in a position to lend a hand in the industry whenever they find the time in the course of their daily chores. Household Industry cannot, therefore, be on the scale of a registered factory but can use machinery and employ power like steam engine or oil engine or electricity to drive the machinery.

(c) Location also is important, for proximity decides participation by members of the household. In a village this participation is possible if the Household Industry is located at home or within the village because village organisation is such as makes it possible for members of the household to move about freely in the village to look after their work. In urban areas such free movement is not possible, and therefore, for household industry in urban areas we should consider only those industries which are located or at least the major part of whose work is located at home.

Class of Worker:—A worker, other than a cultivator, agricultural labourer or a worker at household industry could be: (i) an Employer, that is, who hires one or more persons in his work; (ii) an Employee, that is, who does his work under others for wages or salary in cash or kind; (iii) a Single Worker, that is, who is doing his work without employing others, except casually, and without the help of other members of the family, except casually (this includes workers working as members of a co-operative); and (iv) a Family Worker, that is, who is doing his work in his own family without wages or salary in cash or kind. A person could be an employee in a household industry also.

PRINCIPAL AND SECONDARY WORKER:

Table B-VII Part A and Part B involve the concepts of principal and secondary work. For every worker the principal work had to be indicated in the case of a person who was engaged in more than one work, and also the secondary work if he was engaged in two or more than two productive activities. The concepts of primary and secondary work had nothing to do with the income accruing to a person from his work. The principal work of a person was that activity which took up most of his time; similarly the secondary work (in case a person was engaged in two or more than two kinds of work) was that which took up less time than the principal work but greater than the other kinds of work. Unless specifically stated to the contrary in the table heading itself the tables in the Handbook are based on the principal work of a person.

Non-workers:—The non-working section of the population also was divided into eight classes according to the nature of their activities. Thus a non-worker could be (i) a full time student or child attending school, (ii) a person engaged in home duties (like a housewife or other adult female who does no other work) (iii) dependent including an infant or child not attending school, a person permanently disabled from work because of illness or old-age; (iv) a retired person who is not employed again, rentier, a person living on agricultural or non-agricultural royalty, rent or dividend, or any other person of independent means for securing which he does not have to work and who does no other work; (v) a beggar, vagrant or independent woman without indication of source of income and others of unspecified source of existence; (vi) a convict (not an undertrial who was to be recorded for the work he did before being admitted to Jail); (vii) persons who were seeking employment for the first time; and (viii) persons who previously had worked, but were out of employment, and were again seeking work.

Education Levels:—A person was treated as illiterate if he did not satisfy the test of literacy, this meaning the ability both of reading and writing. The test of reading was held to be satisfied if a person could read printed matter or easily legible manuscripts. The test of writing was the ability to write a simple letter. The minimum educational level is primary or junior basic, and this includes all persons who have passed this examination but have not passed the next higher level examination i.e., matriculation or higher secondary. Persons who had formal schooling but had not passed the primary or junior basic level examination were literates without any educational levels. A person belonging to any particular educational level means a person who has passed the examination denoting that level.

INDUSTRIAL AND OCCUPATIONAL CLASSIFICATION OF WORKERS:

Workers have also been classified according to their occupation and industry. The concepts of 'industry' and 'occupation' are of fundamental importance in connection with all economic activity and it is necessary that they should not be confused with each other. By "industry" is meant the sector of economic activity in which a worker is engaged e.g., the textile industry, mining industry, etc., whereas by 'occupation' is meant the exact function that a worker performs in that sector e.g., fitter, carpenter, typist, etc. Occupation thus is "a trade, profession or type of work performed by an individual independent of the worker's industry, status or years of experience".

THE INDIAN STANDARD INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION (I. S. I. C.):

The industrial classification used in some of the economic tables of this hand-book is the 'Standard Industrial Classification' prepared by the Ministry of Labour and Employment, Government of India. Under this scheme of classification, the whole range of economic activity is divided into nine 'divisions', and a code number is given to each. The first digit of the code number of any specific economic activity stands for the 'Division' under which that activity is classified. Each division is then divided into a number of major groups not exceeding ten. The first and second digits of the code number represent the division and the major group into which an economic activity is classified. Each major group is again sub-divided into a number of minor-groups not exceeding ten, and the first, second and third digits in the code number of any economic activity represent the division, the major group and the minor group into which it is classified. To illustrate, the industrial 'code', '261', represents an economic activity corresponding to minor group 261 in major-group 26 of Division 2. A reference to the Standard Industrial Classification will show that the minor group code stands for the economic activity 'Dying and bleaching of silk' in the major group 'Textiles Silk' of the Division: 'Manufacturing'. The 'Divisions', 'Major Groups' and 'Minor Groups' of the Standard Industrial Classification are printed immediately after this note as Appendix I.

NATIONAL CLASSIFICATION OF OCCUPATIONS (NCO):

Table B-V gives the occupational classification by sex of persons at work other than cultivation. This classification is based on the 'National Classification of Occupations' prepared by the Ministry of Labour and Employment, Government of India. Each occupation is represented by a code number containing a number of digits (extending in the NCO upto 5). We have used only the three digit Code number for classifying occupation. All occupations are divided into ten divisons to each of which a digit is allotted. The first digit of the code number of an occupation stands for the 'Division' into which it is classified. Each division is then sub-divided into a number of groups not exceeding ten. The first and second digits of the code number represent the 'Division' and 'Group' into which an occupation is classified. Each group again is divided into a number of families not exceeding ten and the first three digits of the code number stand for the division, group and family into which an occupation is classified. To illustrate, the code number 911 stands for the family 911 (Cooks, cook-bearers, domestic and institutional) included in the Group 91 (Housekeepers, Cooks, Maid and related workers) included in the 'Division' 9 (Service, Sport and Recreation workers). The Divisions, Groups, and Families of the National Classification of Occupations are printed after this note as Appendix II.

It may be mentioned that the three digit industrial code can easily be extended into a four-digit code on the principles illustrated earlier to secure greater precision in the classification of the economic activitity of a worker. This has in fact been done in case of workers at household industry, and these four-digit code numbers have been used in Table B XIV Part B.

B—(ii) Household Economic Tables:—Tables belonging to this series differ from others in two respects: (i) they have been prepared from information recorded on the household schedules, while the other tables are prepared from information recorded on the individual slips; (ii) whereas the other tables are based on the total population, the tables in this series are prepared from the data contained in a 20% sample of all households. The instructions for selecting the sample are reproduced below:—

"Every fifth household from the starting random household will be selected to make a 20% sample. The sample household will be marked continuously for rural areas of a tahsil/taluka and for urban areas of a district i.e., households left over in a household pad should be carried over to the next household schedule pad for the selection of sample households.

"Before making the sample households the household schedule pads should be arranged in the order of location code numbers of villages in a Taluka or Tahsil in the case of a rural area and in the order of location code numbers of towns in a district for urban areas. The first sample household should be chosen randomly among the first five households in the first household schedule pad and stamped (s) as selected. This random number (random start) should be chosen separately for rural areas of each taluka/tahsil and for the urban area of the district. From the first random household every fifth household should be continuously stamped as selected..... The sample should be continuously marked for all the pads of villages in a tahsil and urban areas in a district. If in a particular household schedule pad at the end, some households (these will be four or less) are left after marking of the sample household, the housedolds left over should be carried over to the next household schedule pad and the appropriate household in that pad should be marked as a sample household".

C.—Social and Cultural Tables:

This series contains 8 tables of which Table C-1 is prepared from data abstracted from the 20% sample of households.

Marital Status:—As regards marital status a person could be (i) never married, (ii) married, (iii) widowed and (iv) divorced or separated. The figures given do not necessarily indicate the legal position. Thus, persons who lived together as man and wife and who were regarded as such by society were treated as 'married' even though there might not be any legally valid marriage between them.

Age.—The age of a person was recorded in completed years as on the last birth day at the time of enumeration, so that a child who had not completed a year of its existence was recorded as of age '0'. Inspite of the best efforts, distortion of ages is common phenomenon in Indian Census. This distortion is ascribable to the combined effect of a variety of causes like, for example, digit-preference, age-bias and estimation error and its most obvious manifestation is the heaping of the ages at digits ending in 0 or 5 and in even rather than in odd numbers.

Mother Tongue:—Mother tongue is the language spoken in childhood by a person's mother to the person, or mainly spoken in the household.

Religion:—Separate figures are given only for the six main religions: Hindu, Muslim, Jain, Sikh, Christian and Buddhist. Figures for persons professing other religions have been clubbed together under the head: Other Religions and persuasions'

Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes:—In view of the constitutional safeguards guaranteed to persons belonging to scheduled castes and scheduled tribes with a view to ameliorate their social and economic condition, basic census figures are for the first time being published separately for each scheduled caste and scheduled tribe. A scheduled caste or a scheduled tribe means a caste or a tribe included in the Order issued by the President of India under Articles 341 (1) and 342 (1) of the Constitution, amended, if necessary in accordance with Articles 341 (2) and 342 (2) thereof. It should be remembered that the population of a particular scheduled caste or tribe as given in the tables does not necessarily mean the entire population of that caste or tribe in the district. This is so because scheduling of a caste or tribe under the Constitution is territorial so that a caste or a tribe scheduled in a district, (or a tahsil or tahsils of a district) is not necessarily a scheduled caste in other districts (or other tahsils of the same district). Thus Gond is a scheduled tribe in all tahsils of Jabalpur District except Jabalpur Tahsil so that the figures for Gond population in Jabalpur District exclude the Gonds of Jabalpur Tahsil. Secondly, some of the scheduled tribes have not been given independent status in some parts of the State by the Order but have been clubbed together with some major tribe, while, in other parts of the State, they have not been so clubbed but have been included as distinct scheduled tribes. Thus, in the districts of the Mahakoshal region of the State, the tribe Agaria has been clubbed, along with many another, with Gond as the latter's sub-tribe. In these districts, therefore, figures relating to Agaria tribe, whose ethnic identity with Gond is controversial, do not appear independently in the tables of these districts, but are included in the figures for Gond. In the Vindhya Pradesh region, however, Agaria is Scheduled tribe in its own right and in the districts belonging to that region Agaria population appears separately in the relevant tables.

Religion of Scheduled Castes and Tribes:—A scheduled caste can exist only in Hindu and Sikh religions and in no other religion. A scheduled tribe, however, may be found in any religion.

E—Housing Tables:—The Handbook includes five tables on housing. In using these tables, it should be remembered that they are prepared from the data on households abstracted from the 'Houselists'. Tables E-I and E-III are based on the full count while table E-II, E-IV and E-V are prepared from a 20% sample of households entered in the Houselists. Houselisting was non-synchronous with census proper, having taken place in the month of September-October, 1960, about five month before the reference date of the Census. Also, the population of households entered in the houselists is not necessarily identical with the population of households in respect of which household schedules were filled at the time of the Census. Thus the samples of households drawn from the household schedule, and from the house lists are different samples.

The instruction for drawing the 20% sample of households from the houselists are reproduced below:—

"Before marking the sample households the Houselists should be arranged in order of location code numbers in the case of rural areas for tahsil etc., and in the case of urban areas other than towns with population of 50,000 and over. In the case of towns with population of 50,000 and over the Houselists should be arranged in order of blocks. The first sample household should be chosen randomly among the first five households in the first Houselist. From that every fifth household from the first random household should be continuously marked..... The sample should be marked continuously for all the Houselists. If in a particular Houselist at the end two households are left after the marking of the sample households then these households should be carried over to the next Houselist and the third household in that list should be marked as sample households".

Census House and Census Households:—The concepts of "building" "house" and "household" are important and differ somewhat from their connotations in common speech. A building refers to the entire structure on the ground. A census house is a structure or part of structure inhabited or vacant or a dwelling, a shop, a shop-cum-dwelling or place of business, workshop, school etc., with a separate entrance. A census house was thus a building, or part of a building with a separate entrance. A census house could have a variety of uses, residential as well as non-residential; or it might be vacant (at the time of houselisting).

A household was defined as "a group of persons who commonly live together and would take their meals from a common kitchen unless the exigencies of work prevented any of them from doing so." A household necessarily lived in a census house or part of a census house. The definition of a household was broad enough to include all persons living together in a census-house and dining from the same kitchen, even if they were not related to one another. Such were the institutional households, like jails, hostels, hospitals etc. The house in which a household lived could either be owned or rented. All census-houses which were not owned by the households living in them were treated as 'rented' even though no rent was being actually paid.

"Factory" and "Workshop":—As is clear from its definition, a Census house could be a workshop. A workshop is a place where some kind of production, repair or servicing goes on, or where goods or articles are made and sold. A bigger workshop which was either registered under the Indian Factories Act or was of the scale of a registered factory was returned as a factory. For a manufacturing, repairing or servicing establishment to be registered under the Indian Factories Act, it should have ten or more workers if using power and twenty or more workers if not using power.

VILLAGE DIRECTORY AND ITS APPENDICES:

Village Directory:—The Village Directory corresponds to the Primary Census Abstract of the 1951 Census. It gives for each village of the district: (a) information relating to area, census houses, households, scheduled castes and scheduled tribes and literacy; and (b) the classification of the population into workers and non-workers, and again 'workers' into their 'Industrial Categories' separately for both the sexes. For facilitating comparison with the Census Handbook of 1951 the serial number at which the village is to be found in 1951 Handbook is also given. A new feature introduced in this Census is the presentation of additional information about each village relating to schools, hospitals, child and maternity welfare centres, medical practitioners, electricity, post and telegraph offices etc. This has been done by entering symbols against the name of each village. Another novel feature is the presentation in eleven appendices of useful information relating to villages and towns i.e., industrial establishments, places situated on bus routes, or within five miles of a railway station, places having pucca wells, markets, public reading rooms, drains etc.

To enable the reader to locate the village in the Village Directory without much difficulty, an alphabetical index of village names is given. This gives for each village the 1961 location code number of the village (in the Village Directory, villages are arranged according to their Location Code Numbers); and its location code number in the 1951 Hand-book.

INTRODUCING THE DISTRICT

by

K. S. Bhatnagar

Deputy Superintendent of Census Operations, Madhya Pradesh

Situation : Guna district lies between latitude 23° 90'-25° 15' North and 76° 85'-78° 20' East, towards north-western corner of Malwa in southern Gwalior Division. The district has an area of 4,240 sq. miles and a population of 595,825 persons. It is bounded on the north by Shivpuri district and on the east by Jhansi district of Uttar Pradesh and Sagar and Vidisha of Madhya Pradesh, (the two districts being separated by the Betwa river). On the west lies the territory of Rajasthan State and in the south are Rajgarh, Vidisha and Sehore districts of Madhya Pradesh.

Historical Background : The oldest thing about the present Guna district is its comparative youth having been established in 1922. The old name for the district was Isagarh (24° 50' N : 70° 55' E). In 1811 Jean Baptiste Filose in the service of Scindia, conquered the village Ondila from Khichies, and named it as Isagarh in the honour of 'Isa-Masih' or Jesus Christ. Isagarh (Pop : 3,424) is a sub-tahsil in Ashoknagar now. In 1909 some districts in the erstwhile Gwalior State were re-organised. As a result of this the headquarters of Isagarh district were shifted to Bajrangarh (24° 35' N 77° 20' E) then a tahsil place. Isagarh district comprised of the following tahsils : (1) Isagarh (2) Mungaoli (3) Bajrangarh and (4) Kumbharaj. Prior to this reorganisation Bajrangarh and Isagarh were two separate districts. Guna during this period was occupied by the British Army. It remained a cantonment and the Central India Horse, a cavalry formation was stationed here. Guna town (24° 39' N 77°21' E) was a small village in the nineteenth century. In 1844 Gwalior Contingent Force was stationed here, but during the mutiny, the upsurge of patriotism overthrew the labouriously inculcated discipline and the Force revolted. After the failure of Indian troops the British were more careful and posted a detachment of cavalry at Guna in 1850. Later an Assistant to the Resident at Gwalior was also posted. Thus Guna remained an English cantonment after 1860. The aim of the British obviously, was to keep a watchful eye over the rulers and petty chieftains of this region.

During the period of British occupation, although Guna was de jure a part of Gwalior State, but because of the presence of British officials it was not considered expedient to locate the district headquarters there. Bajrangarh (Pop: 2,754) enjoyed that privilege. In 1897 the Midland Railway constructed the railroad passing through Guna. It was then known as Bina-Bara Section. Today the sector is on Western Railway and known as Bina-Kotah Section. The Agra-Bombay Road passing through Guna had already been consrtucted. Thus communications to Guna were fairly good in early days.

The Collectorate or "Subat" as it was then known, remained at Bajrangarh about six miles south east of Guna. In 1922 the British were pleased to transfer the cantonment of Guna to Gwalior and on 5 November, 1922, the 'Subat' was shifted from Bajrangarh to Guna. It appears that Bajrangarh had poor communications being away from railway line and the main road, whereas Guna offered better accommodation, viz., the one vacated by the British Army; added to that ,water scarcity at Bajrangarh tilted the scales in favour of Guna. With fair communications and location of district offices, Guna continued to progress steadily. Today it appears a sprawling city of 31,031 souls. Though the headquarters were now located at Guna, the district continued to be known as Isagarh district upto 1937 when the name was officially changed to Guna and Bajrangarh and Kumbhraj tahsils were renamed as Guna and Chachaura respectively. In 1948 when the new State of Madhya Bharat was formed, another tahsil viz. Raghogarh was formed by merging various jagir villages. Thus today the district comprises of (1) Guna (2) Ashoknagar (3) Mungaoli (4) Chachaura (5) Raghogarh tahsils and three sub-tahsils viz. (i) Bamori (ii) Isagarh and (iii) Chanderi in (1), (2) and (3) respectively. Isagarh is no longer a tahsil for the same was shifted on 1.1.26 to Ashoknagar, (Pachhar 24° 34′ N and 77° 41′ E population 14,440) without any change in the jurisdiction of the tahsil.

1 The revised area figures are from Director, Land Records. According to Surveyor General the area is 4,271 sq. miles.

Physical Features :

Topography:—The district lies in the northern part of Malwa plateau joining the Vindhayan ranges. The district presents two distinct features. The northern portion is interspersed with the Vindhyan ranges and the southern one is in continuation of Malwa plateau. The general elevation of the district is between 1,500 and 1,800 feet above MSL; Guna town being 1,570 feet above MSL. The district is generally speaking flat bounded by Vindhyan ranges in the north west and Malwa plateau in the south-west.

These two prominent fcatures have effected the vegetation considerably. On the north, north western, north eastern side the forests are devoid of any teak and mainly consist of the dry deciduous type : in the western and southern portions, i. e., starting from Guna towards, Chachaura, Fatehgarh, Raghogarh, Maksudangarh, teak (Tectona grandis) with few other varieties is found. The other varieties of forest vegetation is dhow (Anogeissus latifolia), khair, (Acacia catechu), tendu (Diosypyros melanoxylon), mahua (Madhuca latifolia), achar (Buchanania latifolia), saja (Terminalis tomentosa) baheda (Terminalia belerica), koha (Terminalia arjuna). nain (Mitragyna parviflora), haldu (dina cordifolia), dudhi (Wrightis tinctoria), dhaman (Grewia tiliafolia), ganera (Cochlospermum gossypium), aonla (Emblica officinalis), semal (Bombax malabaricum), palas (Butea frondosa), siras (Albizzia lebbrek), gurjan (Lannae-gravdis), sisham (Dalbergia sissu), chirol (Holoptalia integrifolia), khirney (Mimusops hexandra), reonjha (Acacia lencophlea).

The central portion of the district is mostly under cultivation. The unoccupied area has trees like palas (Butea frondosa), babul (Acacia arabica), khair (Acacia catechu) etc.

The River System :

The general drainage of the district is towards the north and north-west. In the south the hills have a higher elevation. There are three main rivers flowing across the district viz. the Parbati, the Sindh and the Betwa with their tributaries.

The Parvati : Rising near Ashta in Sehore district the river flows across Sehore, Rajgarh districts before entering Guna from the west, and flowing for a while through Rajasthan joins the Chambal, after having run a course of 210 miles (80 miles in the district). The river is perennial, but not navigable and not used for irrigation.

The Sindh : Rising in Lateri tahsil of Vidisha district, it enters Guna, flows north east and then after passing through Shivpuri, Gwalior, Datia, Bhind districts in M. P. joins the Yamuna in U. P. It is perennial, used for irrigation but not navigable. Its total length is 200 miles, 48 miles being in the district and important tributaries are the Pahuj, the Kunwari, the Chachund the Chonch and the Son.

The Betwa : Its ancient name is Vetravati. Rising in Raisen district it flows through Vidisha, Guna, (45 miles) Shivpuri, Jhansi and Tikamgarh districts before joining the river Yamuna, It is perennial and is being utilised for irrigation. Mata Tila Dam is built across it in Jhansi district.

The Kuno : The Kuno is one of the lesser important rivers. It rises in Guna district and flows into Shivpuri and Morena districts before joining the Chambal.

The rivers because of their steep banks have not caused floods but have aggravated the dacoity problem. On the banks of these rivers forests are thick and because of centuries of erosion, very deep ravines have been formed. These afford ideal shelter for the dacoits.

Geology :

The following formations are found in the district :

(1) Bundelkhand Granite.
(2) Upper Vindhyan including Kaimur Rewa Bhander Series.
(3) Deccan Trap (Malwa Trap).
(4) Laterite.

Bundelkhand Granite is found in the eastern corner of the district and the country is gently undulating, consisting of sparsely cultivated uplands traversed by quartz. It is commonly of a pink massive granite type.

Vindhyan : The eastern part has Kaimur and Rewa Series while in the west we have Bhander Series. The two ends are separated by vast Deccan trap.

The Kaimur sandstone is fine grained greyish yellowish, sparkled brown massive and stratified. The Vindhyan sandstones form an excellent building material. Rewa sandstones are softer and preferred for carving. Bhander sandstone is very finely grained and softer than the two.

The Deccan Trap

This occupies more than two thirds of the area of the district. The trap gives rise to either deep brown to rich red soil or regular black cotton soil all over the district. When wet the soil swells up but on drying fissures appear.

The Laterite

This is confined to the northern portion of the district and is composed of a mixture of hydrated oxides of alumina, percentage of manganese and titanium. A variety of this is often used in buildings and road construction.

Minerals

The following minerals have been reported to occur in the district: bauxite, sandstones, basalts, laterite and the road metal.

Forests Flora and Fauna

The forest is mainly the Central India dry scrub type. It is divided into the following types :

(1) Teak Forests and Mixed Teak (Tectona grandis) Forests.
(2) The Khair (Acacia catechu)
(3) Bamboo
(4) Miscellaneous including Salar
(5) Grass.

Pure Teak Forests comprise 34,547 acres, and is spread over six blocks. Mixed teak forests constitute 18,796 acres. Khair (Acacia catechu) is spread over the entire region. Bamboo forest is located in few places towards Bajrangarh. In some areas the growth of trees is very insignificant but such areas produce good fodder. These areas are covered under the head grass

Fauna

In the Mughal times the forests were very thick We read of the Emperor hunting elephants in the region. Elephants are no longer found. Even today in some portion the jungle is thick although over the past two decades it has gradually been thinning. Tigers (Felis tigris), panthers (Felis pardus), hyaena (Hyaena stirata), black bucks (Antilope cervicapra), chinkara (Gazella benetii), cats, jackals, foxes and wild dogs are found in the district. Among other mammals following could still be met with, sambhar (Rusa unicoior), barking deer (Muntiacus muntiak), cheetal (Axis-axis), nilgai or blue bull (Boselaphus tragocamelus), four horned antelope (Tetraceros quadricornis) and bears (Melursus ursinus)

Among the birds the following are found:—

Baya (weaver bird), cuckoo, saras, bahmini, duck, pea fowl, painted partridge, grey partridge, grey quail, jungle-bush quail, myna, crow, hariyal and the common sparrow. Among the reptiles snakes, cobra, vipers, krait and other non-poisonous ones along with pythons and lizards are found. Crocodiles, turtles, tortoise are found in the three rivers described earlier. Among fishes the more common varieties include the following: patola (Notopterus-notopterus pallas), chhal (Oxgaster bacaila Ham), jhalar (Barillus-barila (Ham), rajana (Resbora-daniconius (Ham.) Prti (Ham), punti (Punti uschagunio (Ham.) Mahaseer (Tor-tor. Ham.). rohu (Labeo rohita (Ham.)

At present wild life is protected by the following legislation (1) The Indian Forest Act 1927, (2) M. B. Shooting Rules, (3) M.P. Game Act 1935 and (4) Wild Birds and Animals Protection Act of 1912; under these enactments shooting and consequent destruction of the wild life is prevented and controlled.

Climate and Rainfall :

The climate is generally mild and the seasons well defined. The monsoons from Arabian Sea break sometime in middle or end of June and are over by early october. The district receives on an average between 35'' to 40" of rain. Winter season sets by November and December, Junuary are the coldest months . It does not freeze but the minimum temperature goes up to 40°F. Winter rains accompanied with hail are quite common. The summer sets in by April with May as the hottest months. Even in summer the evenings become cool because of its elevation. Chander is the hottest place in the district, the maximum temperature goes upto 115° F.

II

THE ADMINISTRATIVE INSTITUTIONS

The Representation of the District in the Parliament and the State Legislature.

Four tahsils of the district viz., Guna, Raghogarh, Chachaura and Ashoknagar alongwith Vidhsha, Basoda, Kurwai and Sironj (including Lateri) tahsils of Vidisha district return one member for a general seat in the Parliament. Mungaoli tahsil of the district is tagged on to Sagar Parliamentary Constituency. The district returns five members to the State Legislature, one from each tahsil. Raghogarh Constituency which includes some patwari circles from Ashoknagar returns one Scheduled Caste member.

The Administrative Set-up :

Since the days of Gwalior State there has been complete separation of the executive from the judiciary. The Collector who is also the District Magistrate is the executive head of the administration and as the chief representative of the Government co-ordinates the work of other department. He is assisted by four Deputy/ Assistant Collectors one of whom is stationed at Ashoknagar. They (Deputy Collectors) are also Sub-divisional Magistrates for their charge and are responsible for the maintenance of law and order and dispose of cases under the Preventive Chapters of the Criminal Procedure Code. All other cases are tried by the Judicial Magistrates. The jurisdiction of Sessions Judge at Guna extends to Rajgarh and Shajapur districts. A Superintendent of Police looks after the working of the Department. At the district headquarters are also located the following officers : The Executive Engineers PWD & Irrigation, The Civil Surgeon, The Divisional Forest Officer, The District Excise Officer, the District Education Officer, The Assistant Director of Industries, the Assistant Registrar of Co-operatives, The District Livestock Officer, The Assistant Director of Agriculture and The Settlement Officer. One of the Deputy Collectors looks after Panchyats and NES Blocks.

The Revenue Administration :

The Collector is the Chief Revenue Authority for the district and is assisted by SDOs (Dy. Collectors or Assistant Collectors), Tahsildars and Naib-Tahsildars. Each tahsil is under the charge of a Tahsildar assisted by one or two Naibs or deputies The Revenue Inspector Circle and Patwari Halkas alongwith police stations given beow :

GUNA DISTRICT : 5 Tahsils.

According to the Madhya Pradesh Land Revenue Code 1959 each tahsil is a sub-division. For each tahsil a Tahsildar is placed in the charge. Two or more tahsils are sometimes grouped for better administration under a sub-divisional officer. Thus Mungaoli and Ashoknagar have one Sub-Divisional Officer.

The land revenue pattern of the district had not been very uniform till recently. Upto 1853 the State recovered anything between one fourth to one haif of the produce. In 1890 the Land Records Department was set up and for the first time, patwaris were appointed. In 1899 a summary settlement was effected. It was only in 1923, that a regular settlement and theodolite survey was made. Excepting for Jagir villages, assessment was made.

The first enactment relating to land revenue was passed in 1904 and was known as Qanoon Mal, Samwat 1961, it was subsequently amended in Samwat 1983 corresponding to 1926. The legislation had created various categories of proprietor of lands and the actual cultivators and tillers were at their mercy. In 1948 consequent to formation of Madhya Bharat an Ordinance No. 43 of 1949 was introduced. Thereafter Madhya Bharat Land Revenue and Tenancy Act 1950 consolidated revenue laws. This was followed by the Abolition of Zemindaris and Jagirdaris in 1950-and 1952. It was only in 1959 that Madhya Pradesh Land Revenue Code came into effect. Ashoknagar tahsil was under settlement from 1941 to 1948. In other tahsil, records of rights were corrected in the period 1956-60.

The total demand of land revenue for 1960-61 was[2]

Year	Current Demand	Arrears	Collections
1960-61	Rs. 23,84,971	Rs. 20,2255	Rs.23,64,612

The collection of land revenue in made through patel or the village headman who is appointed by the Collector. He receives commission for the above. Some Panchayats have also been given powers of collecting land revenue. During the time of Maharaja Madho Rao commendable efforts were made at land reforms and land utilisation. In Samwat 1966 Kavayad Chakook Tarashi was passed with a view to make the Zemindars utilise culturable fallow waste lands. Ten blocks of 100 bighas each, formed a chak and on failure of a Zemindar to bring land under plough, it was distributed to other cultivators under certain conditions. In 1924 a new Kavayad Tarashi was passed. These laws were energetically enforced and the result was that more land than ever was brought under the plough.

Similarly attempt was also made at reclaiming ravines. The idea behind this was to conserve the soil, preventing it from being carried away by rivers, and nullahs. The Government gave every possible help, another attempt was made at bringing more fallow land under plough after formation of Madhya Bharat. This was by tractorisation and reclamation by the Central Tractor Organisation in the district. The efforts are clearly reflected in the comparative figures for land utilisation for 1951-61, reproduced below.

Year	Net area sown	Current fallows
1950-51	675,573	75,732
1960-61	949,044	24,935

The Police :

There are eighteen police stations in the district. A Sub-Divisional Officer of Police is also stationed at Ashoknagar. The area is infested with dacotis especi cially in the northern portion adjoining Shivpuri district. Besides the District Executive Force, a Special Armed Force Battalion is also stationed at Guna.

CD & NES Coverage :

The entire district has been covered by National Extension Service Blocks. The first was formed on 2.10.54 at Raghogarh. Excepting Chachaura tahsil which has only one block the other tahsils have two each and are located as under :

Local Bodies :

There are six municipalities for urban areas.

Class I Municipality Guna[4]

Class II Municipalities[5] (1) Ashoknagar
(2) Chanderi
(3) Mungaoli
(4) Chachura
(5) Raghogarh.

The rural areas come under the jurisdiction of Panchyats for which a three tier system was envisaged under M. B. Panchyat Act 1939 (Act 58 of 1949.) For a village or a group of villages one grampanchyat was consitituted; at the block level was a Kendra Panchyat and district level a Mandal Panchyat was formed. In the district there are 280 Gram and 8 Kendra Panchyats. The election to Gram Panchayat is direct and by secret ballot, but for Kendra and Mandal Panchyats there was an indirect election. For the former all the Sarpanchas and Up-Sarpanchas of the gram panchyat formed an electoral college. All sarpanchas of Kendra Panchayats formed members of Mandal Panchayats.

The income of the Panchyats is mainly from rates, taxes, licence fees, fines and grants-in-aids. The last contributing the greatest share. The expenditure is on public health and conservancy, water supply, sanitation, drainage, roads and buildings, wells and tanks and other miscellaneous items. The Panchayats are steadily begining to play an effective part in village planning and local development works.

The Nyaya Panchayat is a Judicial Body for administration of justice civil and criminal. Its powers are limited for trying petty cases. The M. P. Panchayat Act 1962 has been promulgated now.

Medical :

The western system of medicine was introduced in 1888 to the district. Prior to this Ayurvedic and Unani systems prevailed. There was a chartitable dispensary in Guna city. In 1905-06 a military dispensary was established in Guna. In 1912 it was reported that malaria was responsible for high mortality. Apart from this plague in 1902, 1903, 1904, cholera in 1906, 1919, 1924-25, 1934-35 and 1952-53, influenza in 1918-19, small pox in 1934, flu in 1957-58 are the other recorded epidemics.

Some of the other oldest dispensaries in the district are :

S. No.	Place	Year of Establishment
1	Mungaoli	1899-1900
2	Isagarh	1904
3	Guna	1905
4	Chachaura	1911
5	Bahadurgarh	1920
6	Maksudangarh	1920
7	Bajrangarh	1920
8	Chanderi	1920

Apart from these there are thirteen other dispensaries. In addition to allopathic dispensaries there are 17 ayurvedic ones, eleven of them having come up during first and secong five year plans. There are six maternity homes, five maternity and child welfare centres. In the First Five Year Plan a TB and Leprosy clinic at Guna have been opened. Family Planning Centre was started in 1957. A malaria unit having two sub-centres viz. at Guna and Ashoknagar are also functioning. The number of beds available in all the hospitals and dispensaries in the district at the end of 1960 was 152 as against 49 in 1948-49, giving one bed for 3919.9 persons. Malaria has now been controlled to a considerable extent. Small-pox, cholera, pneumonia, dysentry, tuberculosis (T.B.) are the chief causes of mortality[6].

Education :

In 1930 western education was introduced for the first time. Prior to this Vernacular Middle Schools imparted instructions in Hindi medium.

Educational Institutions :

Today there is a Post Graduate Govt. Degree College teaching science, arts and commerce subjects. It was started in 1958, prior to that it was an Intermediate College. The other educational institutions till 1960-61 academic sessions were as follows :

4 and 5 Municipalities with an income of Rs. 75,000 or above and with a population of 15,000 or above were Class I municipalities in Madhya Bharat. Those below the above were Class II.

5.	Primary or Junior Basic Schools.	515	206	M	25,137	M	7,691
				F	4,563	F	1,511

The above makes an encouraging reading, the spread of education, it may be said, has been considerable. Although female education has not increased anywhere near their proportion in the population, yet it has registered an upward trend. Their percentage of literacy in 1951 which stood at 6.1, now stands at 13.4 in 1961, with males literates at 21.6% and females at 4.4% as against 11.1% and 2.0% of 1951. The Primary education is now compulsory and this would boost up the literacy figures further in future.

Co-operative Societies[7] :

The District Co-operative Bank was registered in 1922 (22 March, 1922). Proir to this not much is known about such societies. The bank played an important role in advancing credit facilities to the needy cultivators. Upto 1940 the Bank suffered losses but thereafter it was re-organised. Prof. V.G. Kale, an economist from Poona was requested by the ruler to advice on re-organisation of the co-operative movement. Thereafter the Bank remained under the Government for next five years and then the management was handed over to the share holders. The bank has progressed well as is obvious from the table below :

Table showing the progress of the Co-operative Bank

6.	Number of Societies	469	870
7.	Membership	7,185	18,500

The bank has four branches at tahsil level and four sub-branches two at sub-tahsils and other two at police station headquarters.

By the end of the Second Five Year Plan period, 908 village Co-operative Societies have been formed. The coverage is about half, out of these 132 Societies have been converted into 18 large size societies and 50 into Service Societies. The total membership is 19,926. The loan facilities offered by the Bank are helping to reduce indebtedness of the rural population much of which still remains in clutches of sahukar or the money lender.

Other Banks :

The State Bank of India with a branch at Ashoknagar carries on banking business including that of the Government. The Punjab National Bank and State Bank of Indore (Guna and Ashoknagar) meet the needs for other banks. They advance loans at 8 to 9% per annum, with the establishment of these banks better credit facilities have been made available. Ashoknagar has grown in importance due to trade. Besides this the Government has distributed big sums of taccavi through its various agencies viz. The National Extensive Service Blocks, the Tahsil and other departmental agencies. These have generally helped in relaxing the grip of money-lenders over the cultivators, although much still remains to be done.

III

THE PEOPLE

The Growth of population :

In 1901 Guna had a population of 332,963 persons, this has risen to 595,825 in sixty years, showing a total increase of 262,862 persons or 7 I am indebted to Prof. J. P. Dubey, Asstt. Prof. of Economics, Govt. Degree College, Guna for his note on Co-operatives in Guna.

4,381 persons annually. The increase during the last decade being 23.64%.

The growth during the period has been as follows :

Table showing increase in population 1901-1961

Year	population	Variation	Percentage decade variation
			Guna	Gwalior Division	M.P.State
1901	332,963
1911	393,657	+ 60,694	+ 18.23	— 0.48	+ 15.30
1921	382,082	— 11,575	— 2.94	— 4.83	— 1.38
1931	425,442	+ 43,360	+ 11.35	+ 9.51	+ 11.39

1961	595,825	+ 113,929	+ 23.64	+22.12	+ 24.17
1901-61		+ 262,862	+ 78.95	+55.27	+ 92.00

During the decade 1911-21 the outbreak of influenza caused a decline in the population. Although no mortality records exist, but estimates put the figures of the persons who died at about 75,000 to 80,000. Thereafter the growth has been fairly steady. Of the comparatively little growth between 1941-51 the Census Commissioner[8] of 1951 writes, "For want of vital statistics it is difficult to account for this sudden drop in population of the district. All that is known is that cholera struck the district thrice during the decade and that the district seems to be losing population by emigration. During the present decade, however, the growth has been normal.

The Tahsils, Towns and Villages

Tahsils :

Among the tahsils Guna is the largest in area (1218 Sq. miles); Ashoknagar in population (151,466 persons), Chachaura in density of population (181 persons per sq. miles) and Guna also has the highest number of villages. The details are :

Table showing Area, Population, Density and Villages (Tahsilwise)

Tahsil/District	Area in sq. miles	Rank in area	Papulation	Rank	Population per Sq. miles	Rank	Number of villages Total	Rank	Populated villages	De-populated villages
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11
Guna District	4,240	..	595,825	..	141	..	2,266	..	1,922	344
1 Guna Tahsil	1,218	1	130,029	2	107	5	595	1	400	159
2 Ashoknagar Tahsil	918	2	151,466	1	165	2	485	3	433	51
3 Mungaoli Tahsil	886	3	126,329	3	143	3	412	4	352	60
4 Raghogarh Tahsil	757	4	104,545	4	138	4	509	2	440	69
5 Chachaura Tahsil	461	5	83,456	5	181	1	302	5	297	5

In 1951 as many as 384 villages were uninhabited, this figure has, however, come down to 344 in 1961. Guna tahsil as in the past still has the highest number of depopulated villages, partly due to the area being afforested. Chachaura tahsil which is in the ridge of the Malwa Plateau is comparatively more densely populated.

All the tahsil headquarters are towns. Apart from these five towns Chanderi in Mungaoli tahsil is the other town in the district. Thus there are six towns, and during the decade they continued as towns.

Among the towns Guna has shown continuous growth after 1931, returning an increase of 39.07%, 44.97% and 39.65% respectively in the ensuing decades. Its situation coupled with location of the district headquarters is greatly responsible for it. In the case of Ashoknagar the growth has been consistent since 1931. Chanderi and Mungaoli have registered 39.61% and 33.14% increase respectively during the present decade. Chachaura registered a 21% increase and Raghogarh grew by 13.93% which again suggests, that towns with better communications grow faster. Chachaura-Binaganj with a density of 65,980 persons to a

8 Ranglal, Census Commissioner, Madhya Bharat and Bhopal. Census of India 1951, Vol. XV Madhya Bharat and Bhopal, Part I-A (Report)

sq. mile apperas most densely populaed. This, however, is not very accurate for the municipal area of 0.1 sq. mile has apparently not been correctly recorded. Similarly Chanderi with 0.27 sq.miles urban area returns 30,622 persons per sq. mile and is next in density.

The Villages :

The rural population of 520,955 persons 274,024 males and 246,931 females lives in 1922 habited villages giving an average of 271.05 persons per village. Comparable figures for Gwalior division and the State being 432.85 and 394.03 persons respectively. Thus in population a village in Guna district is smaller than those in the division or the State. The average area of a village is 1.86 sq. miles or 1190.40 acres; comparable figure for the division being 2.31 sq. miles or 1478.40 acres. As regards population living in villages there are 87.62% villages whose population is less than 500 persons and in them 61.67% of the rural population lives. There are only 9.78% villages between 500-1,000 persons contributing 23.61% population. The villages of 1,000-1,999 population account for 2.13% of the total number and sustain 9.72% of the population. There are no villages of 5,000 persons or above and only nine villages or 2.13% have a population of between 2,000 and 4,999 persons, but return 9.72% of population. The number of smaller villages has decreased there being a 4.34% decrease in villages of 200-500 population; a slight increase of 3.27% in 500-999 and 0.92% increase in villages of 1,000 to 1,999 population.

The area of the district according to Surveyor General India is 4,271 sq. miles giving a density of 140 presons per Sq. mile. The Director Land Records gives the area at 4,240 sq. miles which gives 141 persons per sq. mile. The difference in area is mainly due to the different methods adopted. Calculations for this note have been made as per figures supplied by the Director Land Records.

The district appears less densely populated when compared to State (190) and Gwalior Division (200) persons per sq. mile. Even as compared to the neighbouring district, the density is somewhat low, the comparable figures being Shivpuri, (142), Vidisha (174), Rajgarh (218) Sehore (209) Jhansi (280) Kotah (177) Jhalawar (204).

Guna tahsil has forest area around it and thus appears sparsely populated. Chachaura tahsil situated on the southern fringe is most populous. It is difficult to have a correct idea of congestion in the urban areas because at the time of enumeration non-municipal urban areas (some areas outside municipal wards) were included in the urban frame. Thus although population of an area was enumerated but the same was not included as an urban area. Another factor which affects the urban areas, is that according to the municipalities only such area, as is officially notified, is the urban area in their records. In the Census our definition of urban areas was more elastic. As a result of this Chachauru shows 65,980 persons to a sq. mile which does not necessarily suggest any congestion but only emphasises the inaccuracy of the urban area.

Occupied Houses :

The table below gives the position of the occupied houses during the decade.

Year	Occupied Houses	Decade Variation	Persons per house
1951	84,368		5.68
1961	113,618	+ 26,250 or + 34.76%	5.24

From the above it would appear that there is an increase of 34.67% in the occupied hosues as against 23.65% increase in the population during the decade. The figures reveal that to a certain extent there has been some relief in congestion, but this is not very accurate; for it does not necessarily indicate that new houses have been built, in many cases these occupied houses are parts of the older ones. The table below gives the total number of persons per household in the district.

Table showing persons per occupied houses :

	Persons per occupied house
	Total	Rural	Urban
District	5.24	5.23	5.31
Guna Tahsil	5.10	5.04	5.30
Ashoknagar	5.21	5.23	5.01
Munhaoli	5.49	5.45	5.72
Raghogarh	5.35	5.33	5.62
Chachaura	5.06	5.08	4.87

As among the tahsils Mungaoli has returned most persons per occupied houses. The comparable figures for other districts are Morena (5.82), Bhind (6.14) ,Gwalior (6.86) , Datia (5.26) and Shivpuri (5.13).

Rural-Urban Population :

Guna is essentially a rural district, for out of 1,000 persons only 126 live in urban area and the remaining 874 in the rural areas. Comparable figures for the State being 143 : 857. The adjoining districts are also mostly rural, figures for urban being Shivpuri 70, Rajgarh 95, Vidisha 131, Jhansi 238 and Kotah 189 for one thousand persons. Thus leaving Jhansi, the entire tract is more rural than urban.

The table below gives the proportion of rural/urban population for adjoining districts.

	Urban Population	Total population	Proportion Rural	Urban
Gwalior Division	5,82,410	34,26,639	831	169
Shivpuri	38,882	5,57,954	930	70
Rajgarh	49,019	5,16,871	905	95
Vidisha	64,280	4,89,213	869	131

Madhya Pradesh	4,627,234	3,23,72,408	857	143

In the past few years there has been a very slight trend towards urbanisation as noticed from the growth of urban population. The figures indicate the trend although the growth appears slow.

The table below gives the proportion of rural and urban population during the last decade.

PROPORTION OF R/U TO 1,000 POPULATION

Year.	Urban Population	Total Population	Rural	Urban
1951	56,564	481,896	883	117
1961	74,870	595,825	874	126

The Working Force :

Out of 1,000 persons 467 are workers as against 464 and 523 workers in Gwalior Division and State of Madhya Pradesh. The working force tends to diminish in the urban areas. The table below gives the total number of workers for 1,000 populations.

Total workers per thousand persons (Males and Females)

District	Total Workers	Total Non-Workers	Males Workers	Males Non-Workers	Females Workers	Females Non-Workers
Guna ..	467	533	602	398	317	683
Shivpuri	524	476	613	387	423	577
Rajgarh	549	451	625	375	467	533
Vidisha	473	527	620	380	307	693
Gwalior Division	437	563	589	411	262	738
Madhya Pradesh	523	477	602	398	440	560

The proportion of total number of workers among men tallies with the State average and is higher than divisional average. As far as women are concerned the proportion of workers is less. In the northern districts of Madhya Pradesh fewer woman work as compared to those in the southern or south-eastern districts. Bhind and Morena districts have returned 134 and and 255 women workers respectively. In Morena the figure has improved because in Sheopur subdivision the tribal population is considerable and among the tribals women are regular workers. The corresponding figures for female workers in Indore, Bhopal and Raipur divisions is 419,396 and 542 per thousand females respectively,further in the urban areas the proportion of female workers shows a steep fall e.g.,

District/Division/ State	Workers Rural	Urban
Guna District	342	139
Gwalior Division	298	83
Madhya Pradesh	524	145

Workers in Urban Areas :

In the urban areas there are 464 workers per thousand population and out of the total workers 25,045 persons, no fewer than 6,730 are engaged either at Household Industry or in Manufacturing other than Household Industry, 6,741 are engaged in Other Services. The other workers are either in Trade and Commerce (4,090); Transport (1,542) and Cultivation 3,420 persons.

The main reasons for the increase in urban areas appear to be (1) better employment facilities (2) opening of few small scale industries (3) increase in establishments of the Government Offices and (4) migration of ex-proprietors of land to towns, because of the loss of proprietory rights and fear of lawless elements. The last reason has also caused other landholders to migrate to towns or big villages.

The Proportion of Sexes :

There are more males than females in the district. (899 females to 1,000 males). This reflects the general characteristics of Gwalior Division or the north-western districts of Madhya Pradesh, in none of which does the figure exceed (900 females for a thousand males). As against the figure of last decade returning 919 females per thousand males, the number of females seem to have been reduced. As one goes down south in Madhya Pradesh the number of females appear to increase, to cite a few examples, Rajgarh 917, Shajapur 943 have returned more females. There appear no reasons for this deficiency. For the last 40 years the male, female ratio in the district has fluctuated between 899 to 919. The details are :

Table showing females per 1,000 males-1921-61.

Year	Females per 1,000 males
	Total	Rural	Urban

1941	905	903	928
1951	919	917	933
1961	899	901	882

It is in urban areas that there has been a decline in the feminine population. This is mainly because persons who come in the hope of employment to the cities either leave behind their families or are unmarried. There has been some drift towards urbanisation and this has been reflected in sex ratio of females.

The Age Table :

The age data given below are based on ungraduated ages and though the quinquennial groupings adopted below suppress to some extent the distorting effects of age-heapings at multiple of 5, still the data is not fit enough to permit analysis by quinquennial age-groups unless corrected or smoothed. It would therefore be safer to confine the scrutiny of the age-data to the age-intervals 0-14, 15-34, 35-59 and 60+which may be described as corresponding to children, young persons, middle aged persons and old persons.

From the above it is obvious that over two fifths or 41.8% of population is in the younger age-group 0-14. In the 15-34 age-group there is another 33.5% of the population. Thus 75.3% or three fourths of the population is within the younger age group. This is slightly more than the State figure of 73.4%.

The sex-ratio in 0-14 age-group is 907 but is higher in 0-4 age-group being 980. This indicates that in the last four years more females were born. Only in 20-24 age-group is there a pre-ponderance of females over the males and the position worsens in 50-59 age-group where there are only 703 females per one thousand males. Again in the 70 and above, and age not stated groups, there is a preponderance of females.

The table inset below gives the percentage distribution of 100 persons in the district in 1951, by broad age-groups; the relevant proportions for 1961, are also given in order to focus attention on the changes that have occurred. The 1951 data is based on 10% sample of the population, and in making the comparision with 1961 Census data (based on total population) we are making the assumption that the age-composition in the sample (1951) represented the universe.

Percentage distribution of 100 persons in 1951 and 1961 into broad age-groups

Age-group	1951			1961
	P	M	F	P	M	F

15-34	34.9	18.8	16.1	33.5	17.5	16.0
35-64	28.3	18.0	10.3	23.0	12.4	10.6
65+	1.9	0.8	1.1	1.8	0.8	1.0
Age not stated	0.2	0.1	0.1	0.0	0.0	0.0

From the table it is apparent that during the decade the percentage has risen in the age-group 0-14, has remained more or less constant in 15-34, has fallen in 35-64 age-group. It points to the fact that in 0-14 age-group there has been greater growth. Whereas in the age-group 35-64 there has been a considerable reduction.

Vital Statistics :

In 1953 the Madhya Bharat State Government promulgated the Madhya Bharat Births, Deaths, Marriages Registration Act 1953 basing it on a similar Act of 1886 of the Government of India, making the registration of births and deaths compulsory, but it was never enforced. The position regarding the maintenance of vital statistics therefore has been far from satisfactory. During the decade, under the existing laws the municipalities and the panchayats were required to maintain statistics of births and deaths. Both these local bodies have not been able to keep any accurate statistics and the position remained practically the same as was described by Ranglal in 1955. In the Report of Operations connected with the Improvement of Population Data M. B. 1952, he wrote. [9]

"The arrangements for the registration of births and deaths are unsatisfactory even in large municipal towns. The Director's Report as to the agency responsible for the reporting of the deaths in urban areas is silent. All that is known is that generally the responsibility has been laid either on members of the family of the deceased or on sweepers or on both".

Whereas the position was bad enough in the municipalities, it was much worse in the case of Panchayats; Kendra Panchayats were made responsible to arrange for the registration of births, deaths and marriages in their jurisdiction provided it could find funds, for the purpose. The Gram Panchayats were supposed to record births and deaths and send the figures monthly to the Mandal Panchayats through the Kendra Panchayats which submitted returns to the Deputy Director of Health Services. The municipalities also sent these returns to the Deputy Director concerned who after consolidation sent it to the Director, Health Services. The Panchayats obviously failed to grasp the importance of this duty and no regular records were maintained.

The births and deaths statistics of the municipalities are generally those that are made available to them by the government or municipal hospitals and such others as may have been collected by their Health Department. The coverage is by no means full, as many births and deaths are never reported. There being no supervising agency it is impossible to verify the accuracy. In 1952 when an experimental Census of births and deaths was conducted in Madhya Bharat the results were as follows:—

1. Period covered by Census .. 30.10.51 to 18.10.52
2. Period for which figures .. 1.11.51 to 31.10.52. were supplied by the Health Department.

The Occupational Pattern :—

Guna is mainly an agricultural district. There are in all 278, 313 workers which constitute 46.7% of the total population. Out of this 185,747 persons or 66.74% of workers are engaged in cultivation if we add 37,382 or 13.43% engaged as agricultural labourers, then we have a total force of 223,129 workers or 79.17% working population engaged entirely in agricultural operations. The other most important occupations are Other Services with 20,362 or 7.32% persons, and Household Industries with 15,533 persons or 5.58%. Beside Household Industry another 3,384 or 1.22% are engaged in Manufacturing Other than Household Industry. A brief mention may also be made of the handloom industry at Chanderi which is famous for its silken fabrics all over the country and abroad. In and about Chanderi town alone there are 2,237 persons engaged in weaving of silk cloth. Chanderi a small town of 8,268 souls has as many as 1,418 persons in the household industry and manufacturing other than household industry. Apart from this major industry there are no other household industries of note. The table below gives the break up of the working pattern:—

Cultivation:—

The district depends almost entirely on the natural rainfall for cultivation. Irrigation facilities are very meagre. The total area under cultivation in 1960-61 was 982,133 acres or 1534.71 sq. miles or 35.93% of the surface of the district. [10] Out of this 25,584 acres are under irrigation. The double cropped area is 33,089 acres only. The agricultural land is of comparatively poor quality. Towards the south of the district the soil is black and in the north it is brown with gravel which prevents it from retaining moisture for any length of time.

The principal crops of the district are wheat, jowar, gram, maize, linseed, pulses, sugarcane, rice and groundnuts. There has been an increase of 38.58% in area brought under cultivation in the last ten years, whereas in area under irrigation the increase is 36.78%. The table below gives the details. [11]

Year	Net Area sown	Area irrigated	Area sown more than once
1950—51	722,575	17,899	32,381
1960—61	949,044	255,584	33,089

The main sources of irrigation are tanks, canals wells and other sources. There are no major irrigation works in the district. Nearly 60% of the irrigation is by wells at present. A medium size irrigation work at Maula Dam has been completed. Culturable waste including fallow land in 1951 was 873,426 acres which in 1960-61 is, 681,592 acres. It is obvious from the figures that in the past few years efforts to reclaim land have borne substantial result.

The cultivators generally use only the cowdung manure, which they prepare by making a dungheap and adding the waste, cow urine and other sweepings; chemical fertilisers are not popular. Seeds are generally stored by cultivator for his own use. Cultivators of smaller holdings often borrow seeds on payment in kind, worked out at one and a quarter times the grain borrowed. This is locally known as Sawan or 1-1/4 times. The seeds are stored in earthern vessels called Kothies.

The Main Crops:—

The main crops are :

(1) Wheat (2) Jowar (3) Gram (4) Maize (5) Linseed (6) Sugarcane (7) Rice and (8) Groundnut.

Jowar:—Jowar was sown as a kharif crop in 347,732 acres in 1960-61. The area has shown an increase during the decade, although after 1953-54 when it was 332,298 acres, there has been a decline till 1960-61. It is un-irrigated and the yield is about 350 lbs. per acre.

Maize: Maize is sown as kharif crop in 43,049 acres (1960-61 figures). The area has remained more or less constant during the decade.

Wheat:—Wheat is sown as a rabi crop. In 1960-61 it was sown in 302,454 acres. During the decade the area has more than doubled itself. The yield is estimated at 400 lbs. per acre. The increase in wheat acreage underlines a steady change in agriculture pattern. A total of 9,780 acres, highest in the decade was irrigated.

Gram:—Like wheat it is also a rabi crop. In 1960-61 it was sown in 149,204 acres. The acreage under gram has remained more or less steady excepting in 1959-60 when it was sown in 183,522 acres. It is mostly unirrigated 1,633 acres were irrigated in 1960-61.

Sugarcane:—In 1960-61 sugarcane covered an area of 3,340 acres. Out of which 3,118 acres were irrigated. During the decade, there has been a moderate increase in the acreage of sugarcane.

Condiments and Spices:—Condiments and spices were sown in 20,286 acres in 1960-61. These are, garlic, onions, ginger and coriander.

Ground-nut:—The area sown with ground nuts is 7,510 acres and has shown no increase in the decade.

Rape and Mustard:—Rape and mustard were sown in 1960-61 in 14,960 acres. Since 1956-57 the area has been declining.

Linseed:—In 1960-61 linseed was sown in 31,869 acres : the variation in acreage has been slight.

Cotton:—The area under cotton has been declining steadily from 2,269-in 1951-52 to 1,130 in 1956-57, 1,713 in 1958-59, 1,401 in 1958-59, 489 in 1959-60 and 357 in 1960-61.

There has been some tangible improvement in the technique of production. Newer implements and improved methods are slowly finding their way to the villages.

Agricultural Labour: The wages of agricultural labourers vary according to season. At the time of sowing or cutting of crops usually in July-November-December-January-March-April they are paid better because there is a big demand for them. Agricultural labour is mostly of the casual type and some of it comes during March/April from Rajasthan side. The rates of payment in rupees are:—

Season 1960-61	Working Season July–April	Non-working season May
Males	1.25 to 1.75	1.00 to 1.50
Females	0.75 to 1.25	0.75 to 1.00
Children	0.75 to 1.00	0.75 to 1.00

The mode of payment is steadily undergoing a change. Cash payment is gererally preferred because the employer feels that giving of grains is more expensive. Often crops are cut on contract basis. The employer finds this method more economical. The above methods are only some of the modifications, but at the time of cutting of crops payment in kind is in vogue.

Mining, Quarrying Fishing etc:—There are 4,891 persons 4,163 males and 728 females constituting 1.76% of the workers engaged in the above occupation. They are mostly engaged in production and rearing of livestock. 3,133 persons, 2,888 males 245 females; forestry and logging 1,061 persons 778 males 283 females; felling and cutting of trees 408 persons; production of fuel including charcoal 277 persons.

Household Industries:—There are 15,533 workers-10,363 males, 5,172 females or 5.58% of workers who are engaged in household industries. The main household industries are : production and rearing of livestock (large heads only) mainly for milk and animal power, 2,943 persons - 1,853 males and 1,090 females spread out mostly in rural areas; manufacture of bidis, 1,531 persons, 918 males 613 females; manufacture of materials from cork, bamboos cane leaves 1,861 presons, 945 males 916 females making of textile garments 914 persons—752 males 162 females; manufacture of structural wooden goods, 1,091 persons—1,062 males, 29 females; manufacture of shoes 1,482 persons—1,212 males 270 females. The other manufacturing processes are manufacture of earthenware 1,773 persons—1,050 males 723 females and manufacture of jewellery and silver-ware 386 persons, 377 males and 9 females.

Industries Factories and other Establishments.

Guna has no major industry. The handloom industry weaving silk garments—the famous Chanderi sarees and silk come from the district. In Chanderi there are 1,418 weavers. Although Guna has excellent communications being on the all weather National Highway and broadgauge, industrially it is poor.

Manufacture other than Household Industries :

Recently a Government Cycle Parts Factory has been set up at Guna. The Assistant Directer of Industries at Guna, looks after and grants loans for establishing small scale industries. Saw machines for cutting wood have also been brought into Guna.

Workers in Construction :

There are 1,736 workers-1,587 males and 149 females in the above category constituting 0.62% of the workers. They are mostly engaged in maintenance and construction of buildings : 1,031 persons, 946 males and 85 females; followed by workers in construction and maintenance of railways roads, buildings, 435 persons, 414 males 21 females.

Transport, Storage and Communications :

There are 1,974 persons, 1,962 males 12 females in the above category, constituting 0.71% of the total workers. They are mostly engaged in transportation by railway 783 all males, transport by road through other means; 344 persons 343 males 1 female, transport by motor vehicles-269 persons 262 males 7 females and transport by bus services 227 persons all males.

Trade and Commerce :

The number of persons engaged in Trade and Commerce has risen to 7,364 in 1961 from 5,984 in 1951. The details are:—

	1951	1961	Increase/ Decrease	Increase%
Persons	5,984	7,304	+ 1,320	22.07
Males	5,546	6,547	+ 1,001	17.03
Females	438	757	+ 319	72.83

The increase of 22.07% is commensurate with the general increase of population which is 23.64%. A note worthy feature is that whereas in the case of males the increase is only 17.03% women workers in the above category have shown an increase of 72.83%. This is mostly due to, not less than 506 females being returned under Major Group 640(retail trade in cereals, pulses, vegetables, fruits, sugar, spices, oil, fish, dairy products, eggs and poultry etc.) . Figures for similar work in 1951 were 121. More women are now working for livelihood than ever before. Similarly under retail trade in fuel, coke, coal, firewood and kerosene 106 workers as against 65 have been returned. again marking an increase.

Other Services:— In 1951 in the above categoty there were 11,581 persons as against 20,362 persons in 1961. The increase has been fairly high.

Table showing workers in Other Services

	1951	1961	+ —	Percentage increase
Persons	11,581	20,362	+ 8,781	75.82 |
Males	10,035	14,380	+ 4,345	42.30 |
Females	1,546	5,982	+ 4,436	286.93 |

In the last decade employment in the Government service has gone up considerably. In educational services only there is an increase of 1,094 persons The inset table gives the details.

	Persons	Males	Females
1951	730	671	59
1961	1,824	1,615	209
Variation +	+ 1,094	+ 944	+ 150

This is accounted for by the opening of new schools and colleges. In Medical and other Health Services there were 236 persons, 196 males and 40 females in 1951. This has gone upto 526 persons, 378 males, 148 females registering an increase of 122.88% in total personnel, 92.88% increase for males and 270% for females. The progress of females is another remarkable feature of the decade. The impact of implementation of the two five year plans is being felt in the employment pattern. Practically in all departments the strength of the staff in Government offices has increased

The Non-Workers, The Un-employed etc:— There are 317,512 non-workers in the district or 533 persons per thousand are non-workers. The number of non-workers is more than the State average which is 477 persons per thousand; 398 males and 560 females; The details of the non-workwers are:—

Age-group	Non-Workers			Percentage to total Non-workers
	Persons	Males	Females
1	2	3	4	5
0—04	226,638	116,022	110,616	71.38
15—34	52,814	4,934	47,880	16.63
35—59	27,159	1,734	25,423	8.55
60 and above	10,749	2,058	8,691	3.39
Age not stated	152	55	97	0.05

In the age-group 0-14 dependents, infants are the largest being 95,342 males and 97,680 females followed by whole time students 20,541 males and 4,622 females. In the age group 15-34 among the males 3,029 are full time students followed by dependents being 1,442. In case of women 45,574 are engaged in household duties followed by dependents 1951. In the 35-59 age-group 1,078 males are dependents,disabled, followed by beggars, 426; among the females household duties claim 21,314 and dependents, disabled 3,818. In the age 60 and above 1,551 men are dependents and disabled and 334 are the retired types. In women disabled and dependents number at 6,230 followed by those engaged in household duties 2,174.

The Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes:— The Scheduled Castes and Tribes were enumerated as per Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes Lists (Modification) Order 1956. It would not be accurate to compare the 1951 and 1961 returns as there have been many changes in the Scheduled Castes.

The Scheduled Castes:—There are 108,398 presons, 55,720 males and 52,678 females who have been returned as Scheduled Castes. They consitute 18.19% of the population. They are mostly spread out in the rural areas. In Chachaura Tahsil where they are less in number, they constitute 13.87% of the population; in Ashoknagar they form22.15% of the population. In the other tahsils they vary between these two.

The main castes returned are (1) Chamar, Bairwa, Bhambhi, Jatav, Mochi or Regar. 79,954 persons, Koli or Kori 7,208 persons, Chidar 6,518 persons, Mehtar or Bhangi 5,681 persons and Basod or Barahar 2,814 persons. As compared to the district figure, the Scheduled Castes have returned more females per one thousand males, for as against 899 females per thousand males in the district they return 945.

The Scheduled Castes in rural areas are engaged mostly in cultivation, agricultural labour, other services, followed by household industries and other manufacture. Including the urban areas there are only 860 persons who are engaged in tanning and currying of hides and skins and another 939 persons in scavenging. In the urban areas the pattern of occupation undergoes a radical change. There are 4,407 workers out of which 1,185 persons are in Other Services, followed by 1091 in Household Industry, 553 in other Manufacturing Process; as many as 535 persons are engaged in Construction. This then is the main occupational pattern of the Scheduled Castes. The literacy figures among the Scheduled Castes is 4.29% persons 7.98%—males and 0.39% females. In this respect they are much behind in the district.

The Scheduled Tribes:—The number of Scheduled Tribes remained unchanged during the decade. There are 42,657 persons 21,639 males and21,018 females or 7.16% who have been returned as Scheduled Tribes They live almost entirely in the rural areas. The decade growth has been rather high being 51.12% for there were only 28,288 presons in 1951. The Scheduled Tribes are spread out in Mungaoli, Guna and Ashiknagar tahsils in that order, their percentage to the tahsil population being 10.94%, 10.71% and 7.26% respectively. The remaining two tahsils viz., Raghogarh and Chachaura have returned 3.93 and 1.01% only. There has been some colonisation in the district but that does not completely account for the increased rate of growth of the tribes.

The main tribes of the district are Seharia (40,931), Gonds (635) Korku (2) Unclassified (470). Among the Scheduled Tribes the proportion of females to the males is even higher (917 per 1,000males) than that found in the Scheduled Castes. In 1951 there were more females than males, which is rather rare for a district in these parts. The inse ttable below gives the details of the tribes :—

Name of the Scheduled Tribe	Persons	Males	Females
Seharia	40,931	20,839	20,092
Gonds	635	294	341
Korkus	2	1	1
Uuclassifiable	470	181	289

Mother Tongue

Hindi is the main language spoken in the district. Out of 595,825 persons as many as 572,861 or 96.16% speak Hindi. The other major languages spoken in the district are Urdu 14,704, Punjabi 2,421, Marathi 2,148, Gujarati 1,491, Marwari 883 and Banjari 430. Hindi is spoken in both rural and urban areas. Urdu is mostly spoken in urban areas; there being as many as 9,307 or 63.30% of total Urdu speakers in urban areas. Punjabi is spoken by more persons in rural than in urban areas. This is mostly due to Punjabi settlers who are now cultivating lands or working in the forests: only 38.16% of Punjabi speaking are urban dwellers. Marathi is spoken in urban areas by as many as 1,345 persons. Gujarati is spoken mostly in rural areas. The rise in number of Urdu speaking population has been very conspicuous; from 3,183 in 1951 they have shot upto 14,704 in 1961 showing an overall increase of 461.95% as against population increase of only 23.64%.

Religion:—Hindu religion has been returned by 560,924 or 94.14% of the total population. The details about other religion are given in the inset table:—

Christians	253	54	199	..	3,615	0.04
Buddhists	5	5	..	..	..
Zoroastrians	5	2	3	..	Neg.

The Christians have shown an increase from 23 persons to 153, which in terms of percentage is the highest. Some Zoroastrians have left the district their figure thus goes down from 13, to 5.

Sikhs have very few females (626) per thousand. The others conform more or less to the district pattern with minor fluctuations. There is an excess of females among Christians (149 females per 1000 males). The Sikhs have a comparatively higher concentration in Ashoknagar where they work as cultivators and in exploitation of forests. The Jains are spread in greater numbers in Ashoknagar and Mungaoli tahsils apart from the urban areas.

Whereas Hindu, Jain and Muslim population increased in accordance with the overall growth of the district but Sikhs with 55.42% and Christians have shown higher growth. A Christian Misson has its headquarters at Guna.

COMMUNICATIONS

Guna is on branch railary line viz. Kotah-Bina Section of the Western Railway. Other important places in the country that can be reached from here are Kotah (185 Kms.) and Bina (119 Kms.) which are on the mainlines viz. Dehli-Bombay via Ratlam and Delhi Bombay via Jhansi-Bhopal and Delhi-Madras section of Western and Central Railway respectively Another rail link viz. Guna-Maksi is under constru ction. When completed this would open up Shajapur, Rajgarh and Guna districts connecting them with direct line to Ujjain and Indore. The other railheads in the district are (1) Dharnavda (2) Rothai (3) Guna (4) Ashoknagar (5) Mungaoli (6) Pagara (7) Shabdaurangaon (8) Orr (9) Piparigaon.

Guna has no air strip and no naivgable river, therefore apart from the railway, the other means of communication is road. Eighty-eight miles of National Highway 3, the Agra-Bombay Road passes through the district. This connects tahsil Chachaura, passes three miles west of Raghogarh through Rothai and Guna. It is an all weather highway and carries very heavy traffic throughout the day and year. For districts like Shajapur, Rajgarh, Shivpuri and Guna where railway facilities are meagre this is the main artery of communication carrying goods and passengers and is entirely black topped and well maintained.

State Highways:—The district has 108 miles of State Highway connecting Isagarh, Vidisha, Mungaoli and Ashoknagar. The passenger traffic is shared between M. P. State Road Transport Corporation and private bus operators. State and National Highways are looked after by the State PWD under an Executive Engineer stationed at Guna. The State Highways are all weather roads, though only 10 miles are black topped.

District Roads:—There are 117 miles of district roads connecting places like Aron. Sironj, Fatehgarh, Maksudangarh, Chanderi and Isagarh. Only five miles is black topped. On these roads traffic may be held up in the monsoons as the culverts are mostly low lying ones. These roads are also maintained by the PWD.

Forest Roads:—There are 18 forest roads totalling 126 miles. They are only fair weather roads mostly used during the working season by the departmental contractors.

Block Roads:—There are 13 roads running into 23 miles; these have been constructed through the agency of National Extension Service Blocks during the two plan periods. Out of these six miles is pacca and the rest is of the fair weather type. These are mostly village approach roads.

The district leans heavily on its roads for transport. The road link is district to places like Ujjain, Indore, Bhopal, Sagar, Vidisha, Bombay, Shivpuri, Gwalior Agra, Mathura, Delhi and Kanpur. The rail link is somewhat circuitous. For sending goods, trucks are preferred being more speedy with a door-to-door delivery, thus dispensing with all formalities for obtaining railway wagons.

Posts and Telegraphs: There are 76 post offices including rural post offices in the district giving an average of one post office for 7,827 persons. There are six telegraph offices at Guna, Ashoknagar, Chachaura, Chanderi, Mungaoli and Raghogarh. Besides these telephone facilities are avaiable at Guna, Ashoknagar. Besides the above, for official use the police have wireless transmitting sets.

THE SUMMING UP

During the last sixty years the district has shown an increase of 78.95% in the population. this is well below 92% incerase for the State, but higher than the increase for Gwalior Division. In rate of growth for the last sixty years the district ranks twenty-seventh in the State. The decade 1911-21 registered a loss of population due to the ravages of influenza and plague epidemics. Thereafter the population has been more or less steady in growth. The district occupies 2.49% of the area of the State and contributes 1.84% of the population. In area it is eleventh in the State but in population ranks twenty-eighth.

There are few towns in the district, thus the composition is mostly rural. Agriculture is the mainstay of the economy of the district. Along with labourers in agriculture it accounts for over four fifths of the working population. The notable industry is the silk weaving at Chanderi, which is mainly a household industry. Apart from this there is no other major industry.

References etc.:—The above note has been compiled from the various Census Publications, the old gazetteer of Gwalior State by C.E. Luard and the Administration Reports of former Gawlior State. Among the district officers the Collector Guna, the District Statistical Officer and Divisional Forest Officer Guna, were particulary helpful in making the relevant files and papers easily available to them our grateful thanks. The remaining sources have already been indicated in the note.

IMPORTANT PLACES IN THE DISTRICT

Ashoknagar:—(24°-34′ North and 77°76′ East Pop : 14,440)

The old name for Ashoknagar was Pachhar which has fallen into disuse. During the days of Akbar, it was a mahal under Chanderi sarkar. It is located on the Western Railway, Bina-Kotah branch line and is a sub-divisional headquarters. The grain market or mandi here has been an important trading centre.

Bajrangarh:—(24°35′ North and 77°20′ East; Pop; 2,754).

The old name was Jharkone. It was captured by Scindia in 1815. It became the district headquarters and remained so till 1922,when it was shifted to Guna. An ancient fort and a Jain Temple are important monuments. It is situated about 6 miles south-west of Guna.

Chachaura:—(24°-10′ North and 77°-2′ East; Pop: 6,598)

Chachaura is now a tahsil headquarters and it about 2 miles west of Bombay-Agra National Highway from Binaganj which is on the Highway and alongwith Chachaura forms one muncipality. It was held by the Khichies before being captured by Jean Baptiste Filose.

Chanderi:—(24°-43′ North and 78°-11′ East; Pop : 8,268).

The ruins round Chanderi, frequently remind one of its rich historical background and its ancient glory. Today, however, it is still famous for its exquisite silken fabrics which are produced in the town. The Muslim appeared here in 1251 when Gayasuddin Balban captured it. In 1950 Rana Sanga of Chittor captured it and placed it under the governorship of Medni Rai who was defeated by Babar in 1527,later Shershah captured it and it came under the governorship of Shujat Khan(who founded Shujalpur in Shajapur district). During Akbar's time it was on the Deccan route to Burhanpur and beyond. In 1586, the Bundelas of Orchha captured it and in 1811 Scindia whose forces were lead by the irrepressible Jean Baptiste Filose, captured it. It remained with Scindia as a part of Gwalior State. Somewhat picturesequely perched 1300′ above sea level, amid hills and valleys resplendent amid its ruined fort, a palace and tanks, Chanderi still arrests attention.

Guna:—(24°-39′ North and 77°-21′ East; pop: 31,031).

Guna is located on the Kotah Bina Section of the Western Railway Branch line and on the National Highway 3 viz. The Agra-Bombay Road. In 1844 the British stationed the Gwalior Contingent Force. Later an Assistant Resident was posted here. In 1922 the English returned the town to Scindia and in November that year the district headquarters was established. It is continued to grow steadily after 1931.

Isagarh:—(24°-50′ North and 77°-53′ East; Pop : 3,424).

The old name was Ondila, but when Jean Baptiste Filose captured it in 1811 he christened it as Isagarh, in the honour of Jesus Christ. The district was named after this place. It is now a sub tahsil. In 1901 it had a population of 3,688 persons Kumbharaj:—(24°-22′ North and 77°-7′ East; Pop: 3,245).

It is located about 5 miles east of the Agra-Bombay National Highway. It was a tahsil headquarters which has now been shifted to Chachaura.

Malhargarh:—(24°-17′ North and 78°-6′ East; Pop : 1,353).

It is situated near the Betwa river in Mungaoli tahsil. Once it was known as Hasangarh, but when Malhar Rao Holkar the founder of Holkar State, captured it he renamed it as Malhargarh.

Mungaoli:—(24°-25' North and 78°-8' East; Pop: 8,168).

It is situated on the left bank of Betwa river and is reached by train from Bina or Kotah on the Western Railway. It is a tahsil headquarters. Its old name was Indrasi : the present name came from an old fakir Munga Shah.

Raghogarh:—(Pop : 6,365)

Once the stronghold of Khichies Rajputs it now forms a tahsil in the district. It is about 3 miles to the west of the Agra-Bombay Highway. The old fort still catches the eye.
