GOALPARA

INTRODUCING THE DISTRICT

Area & Boundaries The district of Goalpara is bounded on the north by Bhutan ; on the east by Kamrup ; on the south by the Garo Hills ; and on the west by Jalpaiguri, Cooch Behar and Rangpur It covers an area of 39·87 sq. miles. It has two sub-divisions, Dhubri and Goalpara. The district headquarters are at Dhubri.

General Aspects : The greater part of Goalpara consists of a level plain the lower portion of which is intersected by the Brahmaputra. A few outlying spurs of the Assam Range project towards river and even appear on the north bank. Near the Brahmaputra, much of the country is exposed to flood and is covered by a dense growth of grass and reeds. Further back, the level rises and rice fields replace swamps. The houses of the cultivators are buried in dense groves of palms, bamboos, and plaintains and at all seasons of the year the country looks fresh and green. At the foot of the Bhutan Hills are the Eastern Duars, very sparsely populated and, for the most part, covered with jungle grass or dark forest.

Mountains : The northern and western portions of the district are absolutely flat. On the east, there are several low ranges projecting from the Garo Hills, reaching right down to the river near Goalpara Town where there are isolated hills projecting from the alluvium from 4 to 7 hundred feet in height. Immediately north of the Brahmaputra, these hills again appear, attaining a higher altitude (Bhairab Hill 1,635′, Baukumari 1,491′, Nakati 1,669′, Bhumiswar 1,550′ and Nadangiri 1,276″).

River System : The principal river of Goalpara, as of every other district in the Assam Valley, is the Brahmaputra, which flows either through or along the boundary of the district for a distance of 85 miles. Few rivers allow themselves greater latitude in their wanderings than the Brahmaputra as it oscilates from side to side of the sandy strath through which it makes its way. Here it cuts away a great bank, there it throws up a chur, which may either by carried away by the next flood or may grow into a large island covered with grass and reeds. It enters the district on the south bank a few miles before Nagabera in Kamrup, and on the north bank the mouth of the Manas, which is nearly opposite to the town of Goalpara. Its course through the district is at first from east to west, but after running about 65 miles, it turns to the south-west and finally to the south. The river is crossed by the steam ferries plying between Dhubri-Fakirganj, Goalpara-Jogighopa.

The Manas, rising in the Bhutan Hills, is probably the longest of the rivers which joins the Brahmaputra in this district. Some of its tributaries are the Dalani, Ai, Kokila and Chaulkhoa. West of the Manas, the Brahmaputra is joined by the Champamati and the Gourang, both issuing from the Bhutan Hills. West of the Gourang are the Hel, the Gangia and the Longa, which unite to form a stream, which, under the name of Sankosh, falls into the Brahmaputra near Bagribari. The Greater Sankosh is however, a much larger river which forms the boundary between the Ripu Duar and Jalpaiguri. Its eastern branch is also known as the Gangadhar. Another eastern channel of it, known as the Gadadhar, falls into the Brahmaputra immediately to the east of Dhubri. These are, however, but the principal rivers north of the Brahmaputra. The whole of the eastern Duars is a net-work of rivulets and streams, many of which dry up in winter. West of Goalpara Town, the drainage of the Garo Hills is carried to the Brahmaputra by the Karnai, the Phulnai, the Kalpani, the Dudnai, the Krishnai and the Jinari.

Bills and Marshes : There are a large number of bills in Goalpara, the more considerable of which almost attain the size of lakes. The largest are the Dalani and Tamranga bills. Merging into one in the rains, they form a magnificent large sheet of water presenting a picturesque appearance. Dhir Diple and Urpad are more important among the other bills.

Climate : Climate of Goalpara, as is only natural, differs considerably from that of Upper Assam The winter is comparatively warm and in March and April the temperature is fairly high. Hot winds blowing from the west and bringing sand from the river are very common in the months of March and April.

Rainfall : The average monthly rainfall is only 95 inches in the year, but at Kachugaon, near the Bhutan Hills it is about 60" more, whereas even at Marnai, which is only about 30 miles north of Dhubri, it is 140". There is considerable rainfall in May, but hardly any in winter months.

Soil ; The soil of the plains is composed of sand and clay in varying proportions ranging from pure sand near the Brahmaputra to clay so stiff as to be quite unfit for cultivation. In the Duars, the soil is for the most part light and gravelly. The hills contain large rocks, making good building stone.

Earthquake : Goalpara, like the rest of Assam, has always been subject to earthquakes. All previous seismic disturbances were insignificant in comparison with the Great Earthquake of 1897. It was felt over an area of 1.75 million sq. miles, from Rangoon to Kangra and from the Himalayas to Mussalipattam, doing serious damage to masonry buildings over an area of 1.45 lakh sq. miles. The shock occurred at 5 p.m. on June 12, 1897, lasting for several minutes. Most of the masonry buildings in the district were wrecked. In Goalpara, the S. D. O.'s bungalow, the Circuit House, the Treasury, the School and the Post and Telegraph Offices were all demolished. The bazaars sank and the whole of the town went under water ; the people being compelled to live like birds on bamboo platforms erected near the roofs of their houses. Serious injury was done to all masonry buildings at Dhubri. Fortunately the loss of life was very small (5 only).

Fauna : Wild animals used at one time to be innumerous but they are rapidly decreasing in numbers. They include elephants, tigers, leopards, bears, wild pig, bison and deer. The rhinoceros, once found here, is nearly extinct. Elephants do considerable damage to crops. Small game includes wild geese and duck, snipe, partridge, jungle fowl, pheasants and hares.

FORESTS

The Government Forests of the Goalpara District comprise of approximately 894 sq. miles of Forest Reserves and about 39 sq. miles of Unclassed State Forests, the latter including unsettled land at the disposal of Government whether bearing tree-crops or not. In addition there are extensive areas of forests owned by proprietory Estates such as Parbat juar, Mechpara, Bijni, Sidli and Gauripur. The area of the forests under these proprietory Estates may be approximately 600 sq. miles.

The principal valuable species occurring in these forests is Sal (Shorea robusta) over a million cubic feet of which are probably exploited annually from the Government and other forests of this District, principally in the form of logs, posts, Railway sleepers and scantlings, the latter two principally from the Government forests and the former two more from the proprietory Estates. The bulk of the timber so produced is exported to Pakistan. In the Government forests there is an area of about 10-15 sq. miles the predominant species of which is Bonsum (Phoebe goalporenis) with scattered Champ (Michelia Champaca) trees. Other important species in the Government forests are Gogra (Schima Wallichi) which is used as plywood and Khoira (Acacia cotechu) from which the 'katha' used with 'pan' and the catechu for dying fabrics are produced. Also occurring scattered in these forests are such species as Sissoo (Dalbergia Sissoo), Gomari (Gmelina arborea) and Simul (Bambax malabaricum). The Government forests, for a depth of about 67 miles from the Bhutan boundary are completely waterless except for certain of the larger streams flowing through them and water has to be carried to these forests by Tramway or other transport to enable timber exploitation to take place.

For administration purposes, these Government forests are placed under the charges of two Divisional Forest Officers, the Saralbhanga river being the boundary between their respective jurisdictions. There are 54 miles of Forest Tramway serving the purpose of supplying water to the workmen in the forests and extracting the timber worked out form a part of a Government Forests. About 39 1/4 sq. miles of land in Forest Reserves are cultivated by an adult population of approximately 6,750 and a total population of over 30,000.

Wild animal life is plentiful in these forests, there being also a few rhinos in the Forest Reserves towards the western and eastern boundaries of the District. A portion of the Manas Reserve at the north-eastern corner of the District is treated as a Wild Life Sanctuary and it is under consideration to constitute another area in the neighbourhood of Deosiri also as a Wild Life Sanctuary. The upper reaches of the Aie and the Sankosh as well as sections of the Champamati rivers are good for mahseer fishing while Deosiri and Jamduar are places of scenic beauty. The forests of the District are popular hunting grounds of sportmen with rifle, rod and camera.

The Forest Department has artifically regenerated over 11 sq. miles of forests principally with the species Sal, there being small-scale plantations of other species such as Champ, Sissoo, Khoir and Teak. It has also got about 16 sq. miles where efforts are being made to get assisted natural regeneration of Sal. The Government Forests of the District earn an annual gross revenue of about Rs. 11 lakhs, the bulk of which is derived from sale of Sal timber, another important commodity which earns revenue being 'katha' manufactured from Khoir trees.

The Forest Department maintains over 300 miles of roads and paths in a motorable condition during the cold weather inside the Forest Reserves and from there to important Railway Stations. There Forest Department dispensaries are maintained in the District primarily for the welfare of the Forest village population and great progress has been made with provision of drinking-water wells while numerous schools mainly Primary Schools are located inside the Forest Reserves.

Archaeology: Goalpara, though forming a part of several powerful kingdoms has generally been an outlying or frontier district, now attaining the status of the capital of a king. The result is that there are hardly any archaeological remains of interest within its boundaries. At Rangamati, there is a mosque which is said to have been built in 1687 A. D. There is an Idgah on the hill with a deep well. The hillock at Dhubri is said to have been artificially constructed in 1665 A. D. by the Moghul Army under the orders of Guru Teg Bahadur.

History: Goalpara district has never been a separate political entity and its history has to be considered in connection with that of the various states of which it formed a part. It was originally included in the ancient Hindu Kingdom of Kamrupa which is mentioned in the Mahabharata and which at one time occupied North-Eastern Bengal and the great part of what is now known as the State of Assam. Naraka's name mentioned in the Yogini Tantra is still remembered as one of the first protectors of Kamrupa and the builder of the causeway to the southern face of the hill Nilachala on which the temple of Kamakhya stands. His son Bhagadatta, is mentioned in the Mahabharata as fighting on the side of the Kauravas at the great battle of Kurukshetra. Practically nothing is known of the history of the district for the next 2,000 years. About the 12th century A. D., Goalpara is said to have been conquered first by the Sen and then by the Pal kings of Bengal but there are practically no records of the period of their occupation. According to the traditions of the Mahapurushia, it subsequently formed part of a kingdom called Kamata whose ruler at the beginning of the 14th century was named Durlav Narayan. In the 15th century the district was included in the dominions of the Khyen princes, whose capital Kamatapur, the modern Lal Bazar in Cooch Behar state, was sacked by the Muslims in 1498 A. D. A few years afterwards it passed into the hands of the Koch Kings, who also established their capital in Cooch Behar. The Koch Kingdom was founded by a Mech named Viswa Singha. He was succeeded in 1534 A. D. by his son Malla Deva who assumed the name of Nara Narayan (1534-1584 A. D.). His reign represents the zenith of the Koch power. He received the submission of the Ahom king, the Kachari Raja and the Raja of Manipur and conquered and slew the kings of Jaintia, Tippera and Sylhet. Thereafter, Nara Narayan tried to conquer Gaur but failed. Nara Narayan refused to accept this defeat as final and a few years later, joined with the Emperor Akbar in a second attack upon Gaur. This enterprise was crowned with success and Gaur was divided between Akbar and the Koch king. The decline and fall of the Koch Kingdom, which had attained to an extraordinary height of prosperity and power within the space of two generations, was as rapid as its rise, on account of the division of the Kingdom between Nara Narayan's son and nephew. The Koch Kingdom was divided in about 1580 A. D., and the country east of the Sankosh which included Goalpara, Kamrup and Darrang was surrendered to Raghu Rai, the nephew of Nara Narayan ; while the territory that lay west of that river was reserved for the son of that prince. Disputes, however, soon broke out between the two families and Goalpara was conquered by the Muslims who had been called in by Nara Narayans' son to his assistance. The aid of the Ahoms was invoked on the other side and for some years the war between these two powers dragged on with varying results. In 1637, peace was concluded and the Barnadi, which now divides Kamrup from Darrang, was fixed as the boundary, between Muhammadan and Ahom territory. In 1658 the Ahoms advanced again, occupied Goalpara and held it for three years but were compelled to retreat before Mir Jumla's army. From that time onwards the district formed part of the Muslim dominions till, with the rest of Bengal, it was ceded to the British in 1765 A. D.

THE AREA AND POPULATION BY THANA DENSITY

The first district as we enter Assam from the west is Goalpara where the Brahmaputra Valley widens and after Dhubri opens out into the great delta of Bengal.

The population of Goalpara has increased from 1,014,285 in 1941 to 1,108,124 in 1951, an increase af 938,391 as against 130,997 during 1931-41, by far the least increase among the districts of Assam Plains Natural Division. Ignoring the displaced persons who have contributed as much as 44,967 to it, the increase in the 1941 population of this district comes to only 48,932—the smallest overall increase registered by this district in the last 50 years. From Subsidiary Table I (ii) as well as I (iii) it is clear that the population of Goalpara is increasing at a decreasing rate. For example, it registered a percentag increase of 15.76 in 1921-31, 14.83 in 1931-41 and only 9.25 in the last decade. In terms of growth rates, which is a slightly more refined measure than the crude rate of percentage variation, was we have seen above, the rates for these three decades respectively are 14.61, 13.81 and 8.84. During the last decade Goalpara has registered the least percentage increase of any plains district in Assam, or ignoring the Frontier Tracts of any districts, hills or plains, in the State. This is in contrast to its position in the two decades previous to the last when its rate of percentage increase as well as the mean decennial growth rate was higher than those of Sibsagar and Cachar at least. Its density has steadily increased from 222 in 1921-31 to 254 in 1931-41 where it has gone up to 278 in the present census. At the present Census, Goalpara subdivision has increased by 10.03%, a slightly higher rate of increase than that registered by Dhubri, which is only 8.93%. This is fully in line with the tendency of population growth in the two subdivisions for the last 40 years, during which Goalpara subdivision has consistently registered a higher rate of growth than Dhubri, excepting the decade 1931-41 when for the first time in these 40 years the rate of increase of Goalpara subdivision (13·86) was slightly lower than that of Dhubri (15.24). Goalpara which was almost equal with Dhubri in density in 1921 has by now forged ahead of the headquarters subdivision with its density of 299 persons per square mile, as against 271 of Dhubri, which was exactly the density of Goalpara subdivision in 1941, when Dhubri was still at the figure of 248.

Subsidiary Table I (i) shows that no police station in Goalpara has a density less than 100 or over 750. As much as 45.89% of its area has a density less than 200, supporting only 27.54% of its population. 43.83% of its area has a density from 200 to 450, supporting almost exactly one-half of its total population. Only 10.28% of its area falls into the high density group of 450 and above, containing 22.44% of the population. Thus slightly less than one-half of the area of the district (45.39%) supports only slightly more than one-fourth of its total population (27.54%), while the remaining slightly more than half the area (54.11%) supports as large as nearly three-fourths of its total population (72.46%). This word picture of the area and population of the district in 1951 is almost identical word by word with that revealed by the 1941 figures; hence I see no necessity to discuss the latter in detail except stressing the fact that even in 1941 45·93% of the area of the district supported 29.97% of its population, while the remaining 70.03% of population was supported by only a slightly larger area of 54.07. In line with the tendency revealed in all the previous censuses, the density is highest in the south-west of the district adjoining Bengal (Dhubri 708, Mankachar 699 and Golakganj 488). These three thanas occupied only 10.20% of the area of the district, while having 22.44% of its population. The density of Gossaingaon (171), of Kokrajhar (174), Sidli (147) and of Bijni (174) like that of the district as a whole looks extremely low but it must be remembered that these thanas, forming what is known as the Eastern Duars, contain vast areas of reserve forest, which extend along the northern boundary of the district. These thanas, better known as the Eastern Duars, have continued to maintain their reputation for unhealthiness accentuated by the grossly inadequate medical facilities and difficulties of water supply. Sidli thana is the worst, conditions being not much better in northern Bijni and Kokrajhar. In Gossaingaon side the amenities provided by the Local Board are supplemented by the Forest Department and the Mission. No wonder that they contain only 27.54% of the district population while occupying 45.89% of its area. The highest percentage increase over the 1941 population during the decade has been registered by Dhubri thana (22.5%), followed by Bilasipara (18.8) and South Salmara (17.1), whereas the thanas showing the least percentage increase are Bijni (0.6%), Sidli (1.7), Gossaingaon (1.9) and Kokrajhar (2.7), in spite of the fact that the thanas of Kokrajhar, Sidli and Bijni together received an influx of displaced persons to the extent of 8,416. The percentage increase of North Salmara has dropped from 27.4% in 1931-41 to 7.7% in the last decade in spite of its receiving a huge influx of 12,450 displaced persons.

Though only a moderate increase in Goalpara's population was expected for the decade 1931-41, the population actually increased by 14.8%, a somewhat higher than was foreseen in 1931 or expected in 1941 as this decade was on the whole an unhappy period for that district.

My predecessor felt that unless the next decade saw vast improvements in communications, extension of medical facilities and some progress in irrigation, much increase in population cannot be expected and is not desirable. During the last decade, efforts were made to improve agriculture by striking dongs and other irrigational channels on the north bank while medical facilities showed definite extension. The decade has seen vast improvements in communications with the new Assam Rail Link, a marvellous piece of engineering, done in record time of two years after the Partition of India to restore Assam's all needed link with the rest of India which was severed by the Partition. The last Great War saw the construction of an all weather pitched road from Siliguri to Jogighopa via Golakganj and beyond to Gauhati onwards. The places between Bilasipara and Jogighopa which were almost inaccessible during the rainy seasons on account of lack of bridges over the numerous rivers are now all within a few hours' journey by car to Dhubri or Gauhati with pucca bridges and pitched roads all through constructed by the Military. The Great Assam Earthquake of August, 1950, left the district more or less unharmed. There were no epidemics either cholera, small-pox or kala-azar. Floods are an annual occurrence so far as south bank of the Brahmaputra is concerned, but the flood of 1948 was unusually high, and gratuitous relief and agricultural loans amounting to rupees four lakhs had to be issued. A number of riverine villages was eroded and the people shifted to Bijni or on the north bank. This brief history of the district during the decade does not give us any clue to the remarkably low total or percentage increase (48,932 or 4.8% ignoring the displaced persons) registered by the district over its 1951 figure. There was no widespread epidemic in the district nor the efficiency of enumeration in Goalpara less than any other district of Assam as we have seen while discussing the results of Sample Verification. Though the population of Goalpara has been increasing at a decreasing rate, there is no apparent reason why the rate should decline to so low a figure against 14.8% in 1931-41 or 15 76% in 1921-31.

The reasons for this extremely low increase of Goalpara, lower than that registered by any other district of Assam Plains Division, will therefore have to be looked elsewhere. One of the principal causes is that the large increase in population of this district in the previous decades was mainly due to heavy immigration, mostly from Pakistan (East Bengal), which continued till all the available lands in the riverain areas were occupied. But even in 1931 my predecessor Mullan reported that great days of mass immigration by the Mymensingias were over. There was indeed some immigration from outside during the decade 1931-41. All these have formed settlement along the Manas river. It is this fact which lead to an increase of 48·3% and 27.3% in the population of Bijni and North Salmara respectively in 1931-41. The Deputy Commissioner, Goalpara, reports that during the decade 1941-51 immigration was practically nil thus causing no increase on that account. Next, a number of villages in the south bank of the Brahmaputra have been eroded by the river; while some of the inhabitants have shifted to other places within the district, others have left this district for good in search of lands elsewhere. The Deputy Commissioner also reports a certain amount of migration of tribals from Goalpara mostly to Kamrup and Nowgong. Though the exact reason is not known he is inclined to think it to be probably economic in its origin. As usual with the tribals, when they move, they move in a body. After continuous cultivation in an area, when the soil becomes less fertile they go out in search of virgin soil for better crops even preferring jungly tracts in out of the way places to open areas with good communications. The Deputy Commissioner is inclined to attribute the low increase at the present census to the probable inaccuracy of the 1941 census, during which he suspects a certain amount of inflation of figures due to political or communal reasons, though he is unable to give any definite proof of this suspicion. The most important factor responsible for this unusual phenomenon is the unprecedented communal disturbances that took took place on a vast scale during the early part of 1950, when approximately 150,000 Muslims left this district. Though a number of them had returned by the time the Census was taken, a large number still remained outside. Thus the worst affected areas, viz. the thanas of Gossaingaon, Golakganj, Kokrajhar, Sidli, Bijni and North Salmara show either a very small increase or a great reduction in their usual large increase of the previous censuses. I have prepared a special Table which is given below, which brings out this fact very prominently. It is clear from it that while "Others" i. e. all communities expect Muslims, have shown a reasonable rate of growth during 1941-51, the Muslim community which, as a rule gives a rate of increase higher than that of others, not merely has fallen below them in Urban Tract No. 5, Tract No. 16 and Tract No. 13, but on the contrary, registerd heavy decreases, e. g. 8.4% in Tract No, 11, 34.6% in Tract No. 12 and 26.1% in Tract No. 15. As these were the worst affected areas from which Muslims had migrated to Pakistan in large numbers the number of Muslims recorded at the Census of 1951 has actually fallen from that of the 1941 Census by 8.4% in Tract No. 11, 34.6% in Tract No. 12 and 26.1% in Tract No. 15 ! On account of the stern action of the State Government against anti-social elements, and its sincere and generous efforts for the rehabilitation of displaced Muslims, practically the entire number of Muslim migrants are bound to come back to the district during the coming decade, if they have not done so already. Thus if taking into account such unforeseen influx as that of Hindu refugees the population of the district is bound to show again a much higher rate of increase in the coming census.

INTRODUCING THE STATISTICS

In the past, village statistics for each district used to be printed after the Census, giving the population of each village and showing the distribution of communities and of literate persons. In view of the importance of the 1951 Census, at which in addition to the usual population data, valuable information was collected concerning the social and economic life of the people, it was decided to publish a District Census Handbook containing the more important Census abstracts and tables.

The Primary Census Abstract gives the details of each village by the 8 Livelihood Classes. There are five general population tables of the 'A' Series, three economic tables of the 'B' Series, five household and age (sample) tables of the 'C' Series, seven social and cultural tables of the 'D' Series and one table 'E' giving summary figures for the district and tahsils. As far as possible, these tables furnish district data with break-up for Census tracts within the district.

At the 1951 Census, the economic classification was substituted for the classification based on religion. The people have been divided into two broad livelihood categories, namely, the agricultural classes and the non-agricultural classes. There are four agricultural classes defined as below :—

I. Cultivators of land wholly or mainly owned and their dependants

II. Cultivators of land wholly or mainly un-owned and their dependants.

III. Cultivating labourers and their dependants.

IV. Non-cultivating owners of land, agricultural rent receivers and their dependants.

There are similarly four non-agricultural classes defined as persons including dependants who derive their principal means of livelihood from—

V. Production other than cultivation.

VI. Commerce

VII. Transport

VIII. Other services and miscellaneous sources.

The above eight classes have been referred to as livelihood classes.

Each of the above eight livelihood classes has been divided into three sub-classes with reference to the economic status as below :—

(i) Self-supporting Persons ;

(ii) Non-earning Dependants ; and

(iii) Earning Dependants.

(i) A 'Self-supporting Person' is one who earns an income in cash or kind sufficient at least for his own maintenance.

(ii) A 'Non-earning Dependant' is a person who has no income of his own either in cash or in kind.

(iii) An 'Earning Dependant' is a person who earns a regular (not casual) income not sufficient even for his own maintenance. It includes seasonal income also.

All self-supporting persons are, ordinarily, economically active. But there are certain classes and groups which constitute an exception to this rule. These are mentioned below :—

(i) All self-supporting persons of Agricultural Class IV,

(ii) The following groups of self-supporting persons who are included in Non-Agricultural Class VIII, and derive their principal means of livelihood from miscellaneous sources (otherwise than through economic activity) :—

(a) Non-working owners of non-agricultural property,
(b) Pensioners and remittance holders,
(c) Persons living on charity and other persons with unproductive occupations, and
(d) Inmates of penal institutions and asylums.

Economically active persons engaged in industries and services are classified in economic table B-III into the ten divisions and 88 subdivisions mentioned above, and are further divided into three sections, namely :—

(i) Employers,
(ii) Employees, and
(iii) Independent Workers.

A person should be treated as an 'Employer' only if he has necessarily to employ any person in order to carry on the business from which he secures his livelihood, provided that employee is regularly employed and derives his Principal Means of Livelihood by such employment. Part-time or casual employment which does not provide the Principal Means of Livelihood of the employee should not be taken into account. A person employing a cook or other servants for domestic services is not an employer.

An 'Employee' is a person who ordinarily works under some other person for a salary or wage in cash of kind, as the means of earning his livelihood. Managers, Superintendents, Agents etc. and all Government servants should be recorded as employees only even though they may have power of employing or appointing subordinate officers or assistants.

An 'Independent Worker' means a person who is not employed by anyone else and who does not employ anybody else in order to earn his livelihood.

The Age (Sample) tables were prepared from the original enumeration slips by taking a ten-per-cent sample in accordance with the following instructions of the Registrar General, India,

The 'D' Series social and cultural tables include Table D-V relating to the displaced persons giving particulars about their arrival into India. Table D-VI gives details of the non-Indian Nationals and Table D-VII is designed to show the distribution of educated man-power among the different livelihood classes.

Important population data for the district and the tahsils have been summarised in Table 'E' which also gives the classification of the people by livelihood classes.

The main Report of the 1951 Census for the States of Assam, Tripura and Manipur will be found in two parts entitled "Census of India 1951—Volume XII—Assam, Manipur and Tripura". Part I contains an analysis of the statistics collected and Part II statistics arranged in different tables for the States, their natural divisions and districts.

In addition to these Volumes there are National Registers of Citizens prepared for every village and ward and maintained in manuscript giving important census details for each person. These registers are preserved as permanent records in the district headquarters.

From the data collected at the Census of the Small-scale Industries, three tables were prepared which are included in the District Census Handbook, giving village or wardwise distribution of small-scale industrial establishments, employment in textile establishments for Census tracts and employment in non-textile establishments for the same tracts.

While the accuracy in respect of the details actually recorded by the Enumerators during the Census of the Small-scale Industries has been reported to be good, the District Officers were of the view that there was tendency towards under-enumeration of the establishments, due to the failure of the enumerating staff to make intensive effects to discover all establishments within the areas allotted to them. The figures in the tables for the Small-scale Industries should, therefore, be regarded as illustrative of the nature of small industries prevalent in the different parts of the district and should not be relied upon as giving accurate number of specific type of establishments in different localities,

INSTRUCTIONS FOR TABULATION OF VILLAGE NOTES.

Important information for every village was separately recorded on printed forms and has been incorporated in columns 3 and 4 of Primary Census Abstract using the symbols given below :—

1. Floods :—Write "F" it is liable to flood of any category.

2. Epidemics :—Entries like Cholera, Small-pox, Kala-azar, Malaria, write Ch. Sp, Ka or Mal. For all other epidemics mentioned in this column, enter it in full.

3. Water Supply—

   A—The village has a source of water supply provided by the Government or Local Board.
   B—Natural sources of supply like rivers and bils.
   C—Private supply.
   D—Acute scarcity.

   Underlined, it will indicate that quality of drinking water is bad.

4. Medical Facilities :—

   a—The village has a Local Board or Government regular dispensary within 5 miles radius.
   b—There is no regular dispensary but a Public Health Dispensary within 5 miles radius.
   c—There is no dispensary but a private qualified doctor within 5 miles radius.
   d—No medical facilities of any sort.

5. Educational Facilities—

   1—Served by a Local Board or Government School within 2 miles radius.
   2—Served by a Private Venture School only within 2 miles radius,
   3—No educational facilities of any kind (Mission Schools have been generally treated as private schools although in some areas where they get grant-in-aid they have been shown as Government Schools by Enumerators).

CENSUS TRACT—SAMPLE POPULATION AND DISPLACED PERSONS

Census statistics of the urban and rural population can be studied in various ways. The results of such studies in comparing the conditions and characteristics of the urban and rural people in the matter of births, deaths, sex composition, sanitation, levels of living etc. would be of great value in economic planning and devolpment of social welfare work in the State and its different parts.

Each district was, therefore, divided for purposes of the Census into a number of rural and urban tracts according to the size of the population.

Preparatory to the sorting and tabulation of Census information, rural and urban areas of a district were grouped into Census Tracts on the basis of instructions issued by the Registrar General of India. With the approval of the Registrar General of India, the following rural and urban Tract No.

Rural

11. Gossaigaon, Golakganj
12. Kokrajhar, Sidli, Bijni
13. Bilashipara, Dhubri
14. South Salmara, Mankachar
15. North Salmara
16. Lakhimpur, Goalpara, Dudnai

Urban

5. Dhubri, Goalpara, Gouripur.

In several Tables the term "Sample Population" has been used. This sample was drawn according to the following instruction of the Registrar General of India. Enumeration was done on pads of 100 slips each, a slip containing the record of an individual.

"Break each pad and stack the slips of the pad; and "cut" the stack as in a card game. Place the lower portion above the upper portion and then deal the slips into the pigeon holes. You should deal the slips into pigeon holes in the order of 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, S, 6, 7. 8 and 9 successively. All the time, you should watch the slips of "Displaced Persons". If you come across any slip of a displaced person deal it in the pigeon hole separately labelled for 'Displaced persons'. Thus there were three bundles; (i) General Slips i. e. Slips combined for holes labelled for 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 (ii) Sample Slips i. e. Slips in the hole marked 'S' and (iii) Displaced Persons.

Hence it will be seen that that the sample is not a sample of the total population but of the latter excluding the 'Displaced population'.

The check factors for the sample population :—

1,000 S/G Rural Total	=	111
1,000 S/G Urban Total	=	111
1,000 S/G District Total	=	111

A "Displaced Person" was defined by the Registrar General of India as follows ;—

"A Displaced Person" means any person who has entered India having left or being compelled to leave his or her home in Western Pakistan on or after the 1st March, 1947 or his/her home in Eastern Pakistan on or after the 15th October, 1946 on account of civil disturbances or the fear of such disturbances or on account of the setting up of the two Dominions of India and Pakistan."
