PREFACE

The reports and statistical volumes pertaining to the 1961-census fall under three broad groups on the basis of territory coverage. The All-India Reports and Tables compiled in the office of the Registrar General, India, encompass the entire country. The reports compiled by the State Superintendents relate to individual States and Centrally Administered Territories. The third group consists of District Census Handbooks, the scope of which is limited to individual Districts, and they give information for each town and village. The Handbooks were compiled by the Superintendent of Census Operations, Punjab, but the State Government has undertaken their publishing.

The District Census Handbooks were published for the first time at the 1951-census. They proved very useful with the officers working in Community Development Blocks, Tahsils and Districts, and were consulted in connection with elections, as also by students of social sciences interested in local problems. This Handbook contains the essential census data for each village and town (according to wards) in the District. Besides, some other useful information has been included in it, thus making it a self-contained book of reference for the District.

The book is divided into four parts. Part I consists of four chapters. Chapter I introduces the District, giving information on its location, physical features, climate, fauna and flora, towns and places of interest, a brief history of the District and its administrative machinery. In Chapter II are discussed the use of land, main crops and irrigation, industries, trade and commerce, and communications. In Chapter III the salient features of population are discussed. Chapter IV deals with social and developmental activities, and achievements during the First and Second Five-Year Plans.

In Part II are presented the statistics secured from various Government Departments relating to rainfall, temperature, land utilisation, irrigation, area and yield of principal crops, livestock, industry, co-operation, education, printing and publishing, entertainments, medical and health, births and deaths, transport and communications, community development activities, banks and insurance, and justice. At the end appears a Table on the fairs and festivals in the District.

The Tables relating to the 1961-census are presented in Part III. Part IV contains a Directory of Villages and Towns, showing which among them have educational institutions, hospitals and dispensaries, post and telegraph offices, electrification and protected water-supply; area; number of occupied residential houses and households living therein; population; persons belonging to Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes; number of literate and educated persons; number of workers in nine broad 'industrial categories'; and number of non-workers.

The book contains several maps. There is a map of the District showing the administrative boundaries, roads and railways, rivers and canals, and location of towns. Another map shows the distribution of population; the population of towns is shown by proportionate circles, and of rural areas by dots. For each Tahsil in the District two types of maps have been prepared, one showing the location of social amenities, and the second showing the boundaries of villages and towns. These maps were prepared by Shri Malkit Singh Sran.

This publication is the outcome of the joint efforts of a large number of workers and Government Departments, and grateful acknowledgement is made of the help received from them. Within the Census Organisation mention needs to be made of Shri Jaswant Singh Dilawary, Statistical Assistant, and Sarvshri Vishwa Mitter and Jaswant Lal, Asstt. Compilers, for preparing the Tables appearing in Part II, under the supervision of Shri T.P. Garg, P.C.S., Deputy Superintendent of Census Operations; and of Shri Goverdhan Dass Singla, Statistical Assistant, and Sarvshri Joginder Nath Suri and Dharam Paul Jain, Computors, for preparing the Tables appearing in Parts III and IV, under the supervision of Shri Pawan Kumar, Tabulation Officer. Sarvshri Joginder Nath Suri, Dharam Paul Jain, Ajab Lal Kakkar and O. P. Malik helped in correcting the proofs in the press.

I am grateful to Shri Pawan Kumar, District Statistical Officer, Sangrur and previously the Tabulation Officer in this Census Organisation, for collecting information by personal observations and discussions with a large number of persons in the District, and producing the draft of this Handbook.

My thanks are due also to Shri K. C. Kuriyan, Controller of Printing & Stationery, and his Deputy, Shri Gurpartap Singh, for their personal attention in the printing of the book.

PART I

INTRODUCTION TO THE DISTRICT

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

Name.—The District of Sangrur takes its name from its headquarters town, Sangrur, said to have been founded by one Sanghu, a Jat, about four hundred years back. Raja Sangat Singh shifted his headquarters from Jind to Sangrur in the first quarter of the last century because of the place being nearer to Patiala and Nabha, the other two Phulkian States. Raja Raghbir Singh reshaped the town on the pattern of Jaipur.

Location and Boundaries.—Sangrur is one of the four Districts in the Patiala Division. It lies between north latitude 29°-19′-00″ and 30°-31′-30″ and between east longitude 75°-33-00″ and 76°-19′-00″. The District is most irregular in shape. From Ahmedgarh which is its northern point to Qila Zafargarh touching Rohtak District in the south, is a distance of some 130 miles. Its width is the maximum in the north where its two Tahsils, Barnala and Malerkotla, lie side by side, touching Bhatinda and Patiala, respectively—a stretch of some sixty miles. It tapers southward to some 15 miles in Sangrur Tahsil, and expands and contracts alternately upto its southern most point. The District is surrounded in the north by Ludhiana and Jagraon Tahsils of Ludhiana District and Moga of Ferozepur, in the west by Bhatinda and Hissar Districts, in the south by Rohtak District and in the east by Karnal and Patiala Districts.

Area.—According to the Survey General, India, the area of the District is 3,031 sq. miles but according to the Director of Land Records, Punjab, it is 3,028.5 sq. miles. It is distributed administrativly into five Tahsils: Malerkotla, Barnala in the north, Sangrur in the centre and Narwana and Jind in the south. In area, it occupies sixth position among the nineteen Districts of Punjab. The area of each Tahsil is as follows:—

	Area (sq. miles)
Tahsil	Total	Rural	Urban
Barnala	580.4	572.0	8.4
Malerkotla	511.8	507.9	3.9
Sangrur	889.4	876.1	13.3
Narwana	575.4	574.3	1.1
Jind	471.5	459.2	12.3

PHYSICAL FEATURES

The District is a level plain, without any hill or stream. Its land can be divided into three natural tracts; Powadh, Jangal, and Bangar. The Malerkotla Tahsil lies in Powadh where the soil is clay loam rich for cultivation. The water table is high and irrigation is mostly from wells. Sangrur and Barnala Tahsils lie in the tract known as Jangal. The soil here is generally sandy loam, and enjoys the facility of irrigation from canals. The southern Tahsils of Narwana and Jind are in the Bangar tract and a small slice in the Nardak tract. The water table in this tract is very low and to sink a well is a costly affair. Hence irrigation, if at all, is from canals.

Rivers.—No regular river flows through or along the border of the District. However, during the monsoon two torrents called Sirhind Choya and Jhambowalichoe, run through the Sangrur Tahsil.

Sirhind Choya.—It is also known as Sunamwala choya. It enters the District near Chhintawala and flows in south-westernly direction passing through Ghabdan (7 miles from Sangrur) and Sunam. It flows only in rainy season. Probably it follows the alignment of the canal dug by Ferozeshah III in about 1361 A.D.

Jhambowali Choe.—South of Sirhind Choya flows the Jhambowali choe, which enters the Sangrur Tahsil three miles north of Patran and after traversing a few miles, falls into the Ghaggar river near Moonak.

The River Ghaggar also flows through the district for a very short distance but does not play any significant part in changing the physical aspects of the area.

Canals.—The Sirhind and the Western Jamuna Canals are the main source of irrigation. Two branches of the Sirhind Canal, known as Kotla Branch and Bhatinda Branch, enter the District near Jabo Majra and Ahmedgarh in Malerkotla Tahsil, and serve Malerkotla, Barnala and Sangrur Tahsils. The Western Jamuna Canal irrigates the areas of Jind and Narwana Tahsils. Bhakra Main Canal also passes through the District, but serves only a few villages near Moonak.

Drains.—Widespread floods in 1955 devastated crops on some five lac acres of land in 742 villages of the District. As many as 63,733 houses were reported to be either demolished or damaged, besides cattle heads valued at Rs. 149,000 are reported to have been lost. The district was affected severely in 1964, when 545 villages were affected by floods. Owing to these floods, there has been a marked rise in the sub-soil water table. In order to save the lands from the ill effects of rise in water table and stagnation of flood water in low lying areas of Tahsils of Barnala, Malerkotla and Sangrur, a net work of drains was planned. 55 small drains running into about 153 miles were dug through voluntary efforts of the people, and an other 31 big drains running into about 913 miles have been undertaken by Government. The water of all these drains falls into the Sirhind Choya or river Ghaggar.

Geology.—The only mineral available in certain places of the District is Saltpetre or Shora which is extracted by crystalization. Kankar (Calcarious nodules) is also found at some places, and is used in the construction of roads.

Archaeology.—A portion of Jind and Narwana Tahsils falls in the Nardak or Kurukshetra, which is a sacred land of Hindus. There are several old buildings, temples and tanks, especially in and around Safidon, for which an antiquity to the Mahabharta times is claimed.

There are two ancient temples at Kalayat. One belongs to Kapal Muni and the other is associated with the name of Raj Salvahan. The construction of one of the temples is so designed that the arrangement of brick-work exhibits some sanskrit inscriptions.

Ram Rai, a village five miles from Jind on Jind-Hissar road, was formerly known as "Ram Hridh." The legend goes that Parsu Ram avenged the death of his father by killing 'Sahasar Bahu', a demon king, his sons and army here. He filled five tanks with their blood and was pleased in having a bath there, thus giving the name of Ram Hridh. There is also a temple of Yaksha and Yakshni here. Yaksha is said to be a gatekeeper of the Mahabharta battle field. Several other places in this area, are associated with the Mahabharta, e.g., Ikas, Pandu Pindara and Brah. Please see in this connection, the section on "Towns and Places of Interest."

CLIMATE

The District has the climate of the Punjab plains and, in local terminology, the people distribute the year into three seasons, namely, garmi or karsa (hot season), barsat or chaumasa (rainy season) and jada or sardi (winter season), each of four months duration. The temperature starts rising in March and touches 116° F by the end of June. Hot winds and dust storms blow especially in the southern tract. The first shower of rain generally comes in the beginning of july. The rainy season continues till tne end of September. By early October, the weather turns to fine and by the end of October mild cold season sets in. November and first half of December are quite pleasant and free from rains. Mid-December to mid-February is a period of severe cold. Some rains come during this period also, at times accompanied by frost. The two southern Tahsils of Narwana and Jind are sandy and dry as compared with other Tahsils.

Rainfall.—Table 1* shows the monthly rainfall at the five Tahsil headquarters for years 1956 to 1960. More than three/fourth of the rainfall occures in July to September. The quinquennial average figures for the five stations are as follows :—

Town	Average Rainfall (inches)
Malerkotla	28.8
Barnala	26.8
Sangrur	26.5
Jind	26.3
Narwana	23.8

In matter of rain the District is fairly homogenous.

Fauna.—In the princely times large tracts, known as birs, were declared sanctuaries of wild life. With the extension of cultivation and liquidation of princely states, these sanctuaries have lost in significance and the liberal grant of fire-arms and shooting licenses have reduced the number of wild animals. The black-buck, ravine-deer, Nilgai and wild pig are now found very rarely, but foxes, jackals, monkeys, hare and wild cats are commonly met with. Among wild birds, which can be seen in the District, are peacocks, partridges, quails, sand grouse, snipes and pigeons. Ducks are generally found in the ponds outside villages. The Fisheries Department is also maintaining tanks where various types of fish are reared. Cobra, karait, and chitkabra are the common varieties of poisonous snakes.

Flora.—The District has a variety of trees and grasses. The kikar (Acacia arabica) which is found all over the District, is used in various agricultural implements and as a fuel. Besides, Jand and Dhak also grow on waste lands. Shisham is planted along the banks of canals and road sides as also Beri (Zizyphos jujuba) near the wells. Pipal (Ficus religiosa) and bor (Ficus indica) are liked for shade by the villagers. Sarkanda, which is an useful reed, and dab grass which is relished by the cattle are available in plenty along the canal banks.

HISTORY

The Sangrur District was carved out from the territories of erstwhile Patiala, Nabha and Jind States, collectively known as Phulkian States, on the formation of Patiala and East Punjab States Union (PEPSU) in 1948. The ruling families of these Phulkian States descended from Phul. He was the son of one of the descendants of Jaisal, a Bhatti Rajput who founded the State of Jaisalmir in 1180 but on being driven out from there, he settled near Hissar. He left six sons. Taluka was the eldest and from him descended the families of Jind and Nabha. From the second son, Rama, sprang the family of Patiala. The other four sons only succeeded to a small share and they were not very important. Taluka had two sons, Gurditta and Sukhchen. Gurditta became the ancestor of the Nabha family, and Sukhchen of the Jind family.

The history of Jind, as a separate and ruling state, dates from 1763 when the confederate sikhs captured the Sirhind Town from the Governor under Ahmad Shan Durani. Prior to that the ancestors of Phulkian families were only rural notables. In 1751, on the death of Sukhchen, his eldest son Alam Singh got Balanwali, the second son Gajpat Singh got Badrukhan and to the share of the third son, Bulaqi came Dialpura.

Gajpat Singh was the most adventurous of the three brothers. Balanwali was also passed on to him on the death of Alam Singh In 1754. in 1755, he conquered the imperial parganas of Jind and Safidon. He also overran Panipat and Karnal but was not strong enough to hold them. The next year he made the Jind Town as his capital. In 1772, he got the title of Raja; till then he remained a vassal of the Delhi Emperor. In 1773, he attacked Amloh, Bhadson and Sangrur, which were Nabha territories in consequence of a quarrel with the Raja of Nabha. When Raja of Patiala compelled him, he relinquished Amloh and Bhadson, but retained Sangrur. Since then it became part of Jind state. In 1774, Delhi Emperor made an attempt to recover Jind but the attack was repulsed with the help of the other two Phulkian states. In 1775, he joined the Raja of Patiala to attack Rohtak, but was repulsed by the Moghul army. In 1780, they marched to Meerut but were again defeated. Raja Gajpat Singh was taken a prisoner and his release was secured by paying a heavy ransome.

Raja Gajpat Singh died in 1789 and was succeeded by two sons—Bhag Singh, who inherited the title of Raja with the territories of Jind and Safidon; and Bhup Singh who obtained Badrukhan. Raja Bhag Singh accompanied Lord Lake as far as the Beas in the pursuit of Jaswant Rao Holkar, and was sent as an envoy to Maharaja Ranjit Singh, who was the son of his sister Raj Kaur, to dissuade him from assisting the fugitive prince. The mission was successful and Holkar was compelled to leave Punjab. As his reward Raja Bhag Singh got the pargana of Bawana located in the south-west of Panipat. He also received a territory comprising of Jandala, Raikot, Bassian, and Jagraon from Ranjit Singh.

Bhag Singh died in 1819 and was succeeded by his son Fatch Singn, who also died in 1822. After Sangat Singh, son of Fatch Singh, who died childless in 1834, Sarup Singh, a third cousin of the deceased was recognised the chief of all the territory which was held by his grandfather, Gajpat Singh. The other areas which were either conquered or received as rewards by Raja Bhag Singh were resumed by the British Government. Prior to the First Sikh War the attitude of Raja Sarup Singh towards British Government was not good; but a fine of Rs. 10,000 for failure to supply transport when called for, recalled him to allegiance. His conduct during First Sikh War, when he sent both troops and supplies was appreciated by a grant of land of the annual value of Rs. 3,000, and remission of the previous year's fine of Rs. 10,000. During the mutiny, Raja Sarup Singh not only rendered assistance to the British Government but he himself controlled the Karnal cantonment with his 800 men. He also led his troops in the battle of Alipur. After the mutiny he received in reward the grant of the Dadri territory, 13 villages in the Kularan pargana, close to Sangrur, and a house at Delhi. Like other Phulkian chiefs, his salute was raised to 11 guns and also granted the right of adoption in case of the failure of natural heirs.

Raja Sarup Singh died in 1864 and his son Raghbir Singh succeeded him. Immediately after his installation he was called upon to put down the revolt in Dadri because of the new revenue assessment, which was on the lines of the British system. He crushed the revolt with the help of 2,000 men. Raja Raghbir Singh rendered help to the British Government on the occasion of Kuka out break in 1872 and second Afghan War in 1878. In reward he got the honorary title of Raja-i-Rajgan. He died in 1887, leaving behind his grandson, Ranbir Singh to succeed him. At that time he was only eight years old. A council of Regency was appointed to carry on the administration during his minority. He got full powers in November, 1899, when he became major. The state progressed well during his regime.

Raja Ranbir Singh was ruling the State when Independence dawned in 1947. On the 5th May, 1948, the eight princely states of Patiala, Jind, Nabha, Faridkot, Kapurthala, Malerkotla, Nalagarh and Kalsia were merged together to form the Patiala and East Punjab States Union (PEPSU), and made into eight Districts namely, Patiala Sangrur, Bhatinda, Kapurthala, Mahendragarh, Kohistan, Barnala and Fatehgarh Sahib. In 1953, the number of Districts was reduced to five, by merging Barnala with Sangrur, and Kohistan and Fatehgarh Sahib with Patiala.

TOWNS AND PLACES OF INTEREST

Malerkotla (Area 1.63 sq. miles : Population (1961) 39,543).—Malerkotla, the biggest town in the District is 20 miles north of Sangrur and 30 miles south of Ludhiana. It is a railway station on the Ludhiana—Jakhal—Hissar railway line and lies on 30°-32′N and 75°-59′E. It is the headquarters of the sub-Division and Tahsil of that name. Previously it was the headquarters of the Malerkotla State. Its population increased by 87 per cent since the begining of the century, from 21,122 in 1901 to 39,543 in 1961.

The town is divided in two parts, Maler and Kotla, which were united by the construction of Moti Bazar. The Maler was founded by Sadr-ud-Din, in 1466 and Kotla by Bayazid Khan in 1656. Sadr-ud-Din, the founder of the Malerkotla family, was a Sarwani Afghan of Daraband, and is said to be a very pious man and a disciple of the Pir Rukn Alam, the Multani. He left the Pir and settled at Bhumsi (near Malerkotla). Bahlol Lodi stayed here on his way to attack Delhi and met Sadr-ud-Din. When Bahlol Lodi became the king of Delhi, he gave his daughter to Sadr-ud-Din in marriage, and 68 villages as dowery. From her, the Sadr-ud-Din got three sons, out of whom one died without heir. The descendants of the elder son, Isa, became the rulers of the Malerkotla state, while the descendants of the younger, Hassan, became Khalifas or attendants at the shrine of Sadr-ud-Din, who died in 1515. On every Thursday a fair is held on this shrine when offerings are made in the shape of money and kind. The fair on the first Thursday of every lunar month is more important when it is attended by thousands of people, mostly Hindus. The annual offerings amount to about Rs. 2 lakhs, which are distributed among the khalifas. When the State merged into PEPSU, Nawab Iftikhar Ali Khan was the ruler of the Malerkotla State. Now his wife is the member of the Punjab Vidhan Sabha.

The Diwan Khana, also known as Shesh Mahal, and Moti Bazar are attractions of the town. Moti Bazar consisting of two storeyed shops on either side and made of red bricks, is one furlong long. The grain market located here is controlled by a Market Committee. The Kamboh, residents of this town, are well known for vegetable cultivation. The vegetables grown around the town are sent out to other big towns in the State, and methi is supplied to other States also.

Malerkotla has 84 units, manufacturing cycle parts and sewing machine parts. There are two steel re-rolling mills, one cotton ginning and pressing factory and yet another concern manufactures electric towers.

The town has a Degree College, five High and Higher Secondary Schools for boys and two for girls. A civil hospital, provided with 25 beds, was built some six years ago at a cost of about Rs. 4 lakhs. There is a veterinary hospital, a club provided with a beautiful swimming pool, an emporium and a big poultry farm.

A class II Municipal Committee with 17 members is functioning here since 1905. It had an income of Rs. 592,122 and expenditure Rs. 640,708 in 1964-65. The water supply scheme for the town is under way.

Sangrur (Area 7.00 sq. miles : Population (1961) 28,344).— This town is 34 miles from Patiala and lies on 30°-15′ N and 75°-59′E. It is a railway station on the Ludhiana—Jakhal—Hissar railway line and connected also by metalled roads with Jind, Bhatinda, Barnala, Nabha, Dhuri, Malerkotla and Ludhiana. In 1951, its population was 18,741.

The town is named after Sanghu, a Jat, who is said to have founded it some 400 years ago. Raja Sangat Singh shifted his capital here from Jind being nearer to Patiala and Nabha. Later Raja Raghbir Singh made it a beautiful town, constructing bazars on the lines of Jaipur with pucca shops, gardens, tanks, temples and other public and religious buildings, as also a metalled road around the town.

The old town is enclosed on all the four sides but there is a considerable outside expansion since Independence. The centre of the town is a beautiful fountain from which a north-south road connects the Nabha Gate with Sunami Gate and east -west road connects the Patiala Gate with Dhuri Gate.

Sangrur is the headquarters of the Sangrur District. The Deputy Commissioner's court is located in the Old Palace. The chief attraction of the town is the Banasar Garden, with a marble baradari in the centre of a swimming tank. Within its precints are an Olympic Stadium and the Darbar Hall which accommodates several Government Offices, Public Library and a Model School. The Ranbir College and six schools impart education to boys and girls. A civil hospital and a veterinary hospital, are the other places of public utility. Among the industries of the town are cotton ginning and pressing factory and Rama Pipe Industries producing cement pipes.

A class II Municipal Committee is functioning in the town. Its income during 1960-61 was Rs. 222,289 and expenditure Rs. 271,454. A water supply scheme for the town is in progress.

Jind (Area 9.37 sq. miles: Population (1961) 24,216).—Jind town is situated on 29°-20′ N and 76°-19′E is a railway station on the Ferozepur-Delhi section. The Western Jamuna Canal flows by the side of the town which is 75 miles from Sangrur and 25 miles from Rohtak. It is also connected by metalled roads with Hansi, Hissar and Karnal and a railway section connects it with Jind.

Jind is a corrupted form of the word 'Jainta Puri', which sprang up around the temple of Jainti Devi, the goddess of victory, said to have been built by the Pandavas. Raja Gajpat Singh conquered it in 1755 and made it the capital of his state. Rahim Dad Khan was sent by the Mughal emperor to recapture it. But he was defeated and killed by Raja Gajpat Singh. His tomb still stands here. Raja Gajpat Singh build here a fort the ruins of which can still be seen. The principal places of worship are the temples of Maha Devi Bhuta-Ishwara, Hari Kailash and Jainti Devi and tiraths of Suraj-Kund and some Bhuta-Ishwara.

The town is the headquarters of the Jind tahsil and Sub-Division and has a Degree College and four High and Higher Secondary Schools. There is one civil hospital, a veterinary hospital and a Grain Market which is controlled by the Market Committee. The Market Committee has constructed recently a beautiful Rest House. A cycle manufacturing factory, a cotton factory and a thermometer making factory are the modern industries in the town.

The town has a class II Municipal Committee with nine members. The committee's income was Rs. 497,491 and expenditure Rs. 478,559 during 1960-61. The municipal committee has a water works from where water is supplied to the public at a flat rate of Rs. 4 per tap.

Sunam (Area 1.04 sq. miles: Population (1961) 21,408).—The original name of the town was Surajpur because of a tank named Surajkund or pool of the Sun, and it is situated near a choa, following probably the alignment of the canal dug by Feroze Shah in 1360. It is 8 miles from Sangrur by rail and 12 miles by road and lies on 30°-8′ N and 75°-52′ E. It is also connected by metalled roads with Patiala and Bhatinda. All the five Tahsils have been converted into Sub-Divisions, each placed under the charge of a Sub-Divisional Officer (Civil) who is also of the rank of Assistant Commissioner. His powers vis-a-vis the Sub-Division are analogous to those of the Deputy Commissioner vis-a-vis the District, though he exercise them in consultation with and without detriment to the authority of the Deputy Commissioner. CHAPTER II

ECONOMY

This chapter is divided in four sections, dealing with: A-Agriculture, Irrigation and Livestock; B-Industries; C-Banking, Trade and Commerce; and D-Communications.

A-AGRICULTURE

The economy of the Sangrur District is primarily agricultural. In the 1951-census, 73 per cent of the total population was earning its livelihood from agriculture in one way or the other. At the time of 1961-census, 71 per cent of the total working force was cultivators and agricultural labourers. From these figures it should not be inferred that there has been a decline in the importance of agriculture. In the 1951-census figures, agricultural population included agricultural rent receivers who in the 1961-census were treated as non-workers.

Land in the District varies from sandy to clay loam which is suitable for growing all sorts of crops. More than fifty per cent of the cultivated land being unirrigated, raises one crop a year is the general pattern, the irrigated lands produce two crops. With the construction of Bhakra canal more and more barani lands are being brought under irrigation. Due to heavy rains in recent years water logging became a serious problem in the District. To fight this menace, drains have been dug.

There are three broad types of workers in agriculture: proprietors, tenants and labourers. Most of the cultivators are peasant proprietors, owning and cultivating their own lands. Accretion to their numbers has accrued because of the various land reforms introduced in the post-Independence period. Feudal institutions like jagirdari and biswedari have been liquidated; occupancy tenants have been given proprietary rights; and facilities have been provided to tenants-at-will to become owners of the fields they till. Ceiling on holdings have been fixed and the surplus land with big landlords is being given to landless cultivators on payment of prescribed compensation to the owners parting with land.

For the fear of being deprived of land, many landlords have taken to cultivation with their own hands. Further, to save on labour, they are taking to mechanical farming. Many tenants have thus been reduced to agricultural labourers.

LAND UTILIZATION

Total Area.—In regard to area, the Sangrur District occupies sixth position among the nineteen Districts of Punjab: Kangra (6,292.3 sq. miles) is the largest; and Simla (222.1) the smallest. According to the Surveyor General, India, Sangrur is 3,031 sq. miles in area. Director of Land Records, Punjab, reports it to be 3,028.5 sq. miles. The difference of 2.5 sq. miles between the two figures is due to the different methods of measurement adopted by the two agencies. In this report the area figures as supplied by the Director of Land Records. Punjab, have been adopted.

In Table 2* is given the geographical area and its classification according to use, in terms of quinquennial averages centered on 1951 and 1961. The Sangrur District had a total area of 2,131,122 acres in 1951 and 1,939,817 acres in 1961, the reduction being due to inter-District transfers.

Forests.—With the extension of cultivation the area under forests decreased from 3,153 acres in 1951 to 1,904 acres in 1961. There is no regular forest plantation in the District, and the area managed by the Forest Department consists of road sides, canal banks, and strips of land along the railway lines.

Land not available for cultivation.—This includes absolutely barren and unculturable land and land put to non-agricultural uses, such as land under buildings, roads and canals. The area under this category increased from 121,645 acres in 1951 to 137,516 acres in 1961, the increase being due to the construction of buildings, roads and canals. Such lands formed 7.1 per cent of the total area of the District, in 1961.

Other uncultivable land other than fallow lands.—This category consists of land available for cultivation, whether never taken for cultivation or abandoned later on, culturable wastes, grazing lands and lands under miscellaneous tree crops and groves not included under net sown area. This category covers 79,317 acres or 4.1 per cent of the total area of the District. The area in this category has considerably decreased as compared to 1951, because most of the waste lands have been reclaimed and put under plough. There are no permanent pastures or grazing lands in the District.

Cultivated area —In revenue terminology, a land is termed as cultivated if it was sown even once during the previous four harvests. As such, the cultivated area comprises (i) current fallows; and (ii) net sown area.

	Quinquennial average
	1948-53	1958-63
Current fallows (acres)	237,065	62,336
Percentage to total area	11.1	3.2
Net sown area (acres)	1,593,329	1,658,745
Percentage to total area	74.8	85.5
Cultivated area (acres)	1,830,394	1,721,081
Percentage to total area	85.9	88.7

More than 50 per cent of the land still depend exclusively on rains. However with canals serving more and more of land, the area of fallows is decreasing to the corresponding increase in sown area, which has further increased by utilising a portion of the culturable waste lands.

88.7 per cent of the total area is the cultivated area in the District. Similar figure for the State works out to 65 per cent. The reason for the high figure in this District is that there are no hills in the District.

IRRIGATION

The average annual rainfall in the District is 26 inches of which 20 inches occurs in monsoon months of July, August and September. Hence the need for irrigation for bringing crops to maturity. 46 per cent of the cultivated area is irrigated by the branches of the Western Jamuna Canal, the Sirhind Canal, the Bhakra Canal, and tube-wells and percolation wells. This percentage is more than the state average of 41. Amritsar and Ferozepur are the best irrigated Districts in India with 90 and 63 per cent of the cultivated area receiving irrigation. (Table 4).*

Canals.—The main source of irrigation in the District is the canals, and as much as 70 per cent of the net irrigated area is served by them. The Western Jamuna Canal irrigates the two southern Tahsils of Jind and Narwana, whereas the Sirhind Canal waters the fields in the remaining three Tahsils of Sangrur, Barnala and Malerkotla. In some parts of the Narwana and Barnala Tahsils, the sub-soil water is not fit for irrigation and if irrigation is at all to be had, it is the canals.

But in areas where sub-soil water is good wells and tube-wells are being sunk in large number and in some tracts canal irrigation has been withdrawn. The canal irrigation decreased from 594,817 in 1951 to 532,860 in 1961.

Tube-wells and other wells.—The area irrigated by wells and tube-wells rose from 195,475 acres in 1951 to 223,500 acres in 1961. The number of pumping sets and tube-wells increased from 118 in 1951 to 593 in 1956 and to 1,202 in 1961. Four fifth of the well irrigated lands are in Malerkotla and Sangrur Tahsils.

Crops irrigated.—Table 5† shows the gross area irrigated under various crops. During the quinquennium 1948-53,995,190 acres of crops received irrigation and this increased to 1,174,127 acres in 1958-63. Rice, Sugarcane and Cotton are almost entirely irrigated crops. Of the wheat area, 60 per cent is irrigated and remaining 40 per cent is barani.

MAIN CROPS

There are two main harvests in a year: the rabi (hari), and the kharif (sawani). The rabi or spring harvest consists of wheat, gram. barley, and some fodder crops, which are sown in October-November and harvested from mid-March to mid-May. The kharif or autumn harvest consists of rice, maize, Jowar, bajra, pulses, sugarcane and cotton. These crops are sown in June-August and reaped from early September to late December. Sugarcane and cotton are sown a little earlier. Some crops come in between these two harvests. For example, toria matures late in December and is labelled as Zaid (extra) kharif. Similarly, tobacco and millets are harvested late in June, and are styled as Zaid (extra) rabi (Table 6).

Wheat.—Wheat is the staple diet of the people and is sown all over the District, both under irrigated and barani conditions. Its cultivation is on the increase: it occupied 325,172 acres in 1951 and 510,904 acres in 1961. In 1960-61, its production was estimated at 274 thousand tons which was the second highest among the nineteen Districts of Punjab. In regard to yield per acre (1,217 lbs. per acre) the District has the 4th position.

Gram.—It is the most extensive crop in the District and is sown mostly on barani lands. The acreage under this crop increased from 549 thousand acres in 1950-51 to 637 thousand acres in 1960-61, and the production from 117 thousand tons to 241 thousand tons.

Maize.—This is also an important foodgrain and is eaten in cold weather. It is sown chiefly in Barnala, Malerkotla and Sangrur Tahsils. 67 thousand acres were devoted to it in 1950-51 and 99 thousand acres in 1960-61. The production increased by fifty five per cent from 20,000 tons in 1950-51 to 31,000 tons in 1960-61.

Bajra.—Bajra is sown mostly on barani lands. It is a short period kharif crop. Its cultivation is however on the decline: 207,000 acres in 1950-51 and 178,000 acres in 1960-61. Similarly, the production decreased from 32 thousand tons in 1950-51 to 18 thousand tons in 1959-60. The low price, the low yield, and its consumption limited to peak winter months are the reasons for its disfavour.

Rice.—Because of the increase in irrigation facilities, heavy rains and floods, rice cultivation increased five times during the decade. In 1950-51, 6 thousand acres were devoted to it, and in 1960-61 30 thousand acres. Its production was estimated at 2 thousand tons in 1950-51 and 17 thousand tons in 1960-61.

Groundnut.—Groundnut is a cash crop and is finding great favour with cultivators. It is sown mostly in Malerkotla and Sangrur Tahsils. In 1950-51, it occupied 1,900 acres and in 1960-61 25,100 acres.

Cotton.—The acreage under this crop was 128 thousand acres in 1950-51 and 221 thousand acres during 1962-63. Its production was estimated at 62 thousand bales in 1950-51 and 174 thousand bales in 1962-63. The American varieties are replacing the desi varieties.

Sugarcane.—The area under this crop increased from 29 thousand acres in 1950-51 to 43 thousand acres in 1959-60 and to 49 thousand acres in 1961-62.

This expansion in its area is due partly to the installation of a sugar factory at Dhuri.

CROPPING PATTERN

Two system of cropping are in vogue in the District, dofasli and ekfasli.

Dofasli means two harvests in a year. It usually takes the form of maize in kharif followed by wheat, gram or fodder in rabi. Senji or methra are sown in rabi; if it is cotton in the previous kharif. These rotations are common in irrigated areas.

Ekfasli means one crop in a year, and this system is commonly in vogue for barani lands. If the soil is pure sand, the crop grown is gram or groundnut. If good soil lies below the sand, a mixture of wheat and gram is grown year after year. On sailab (flooded) lands wheat is sown year after year. In dry tracts advantage is taken of the monsoon rains, and bajra and jowar are the chief crops grown.

Crop-Mixtures.—Mixed crops are popular particularly in barani lands. Gram and wheat are sown mixed to provide against uncertainty of weather. If rains favour, wheat comes up better, but should the rains be inadequate, then atleast gram may be expected to give some yield. A sprinkling of sarson is given in wheat fields; sarson thus sown is removed early for fodder and wheat is allowed to grow in full strength. Melons are sown with cotton and removed before cotton shades the ground. It is also a common practice to grow pulses which are short crops alongwith kharif cereals, e.g. maize and mash, jowar and gowara, bajra and moong, barley and massar.

Agricultural Machinery and implements (Table 12)*.—In 1961, the District had 137,932 ploughs (97,966 wooden and 39,966 iron), 523 sugarcane crushers, 474 tractors and 276 ghanies. There is a remarkable increase in the number of oil engines with pumping sets and electric pumps for tube-wells. Their number went up from 118 in 1951 to 1,202 in 1961.

LIVESTOCK

The District has a name for murrah buffaloes and Hariana bulls. Cows and buffaloes are sold in large number to Bombay and Calcutta. With a view to encourage the retention of cows and buffaloes giving high yield of milk within the District and thus preserve the basic stock Government gives a stipend of Rs. 25 p.m. per buffalo and Rs. 20 p.m per cow to the owners of excellent quality.

The Veterinary Department in the District has supplied free of cost 137 pedigree cow bulls and 27 buffalo bulls in the District, in addition to three Artificial Insemination Centres at Malerkotla, Dhuri and Dhanaula, where pedigree Hariana Cow Bulls and Murrah Buffalo Bulls are maintained. Bulls are also maintained at Sangrur, Narwana and Bhawanigarh, for free natural service. The development blocks also maintain good bulls. To control promiscous breeding, 23,394 scrub bulls and calves were castrated during 1960-61.

Cattle.—Table 11,* shows the number of livestock in the District in 1956 and 1961. During the five intervening years, the District showed an increase of 22,621 cattle. Out of total, of 523,172. 204,716, were bulls and bullocks. There were 1,231 breeding bulls as against 143,547 cows above the age of three years which shows 116 cows to a bull. 367 cattle per thousand human beings gives this District the third place among the Punjab Districts.

Buffaloes.—Buffaloes increased from 329,681 in 1956 to 396,635 in 1961. She buffaloes above 3 years of age constitute 52 per cent (205,480) of these animals. While the she buffaloes are better than the milching cows, the male buffaloes are no comparison with the bullocks because of there being sluggish at draft and sensitive to heat. In Sangrur District, there is one milch cow or buffalo for every four persons which shows the liking of the people for dairy produce.

Horses, donkeys, and mules.—With speedier modes of travel becoming available, the equine population decreased from 5,493 in 1956 to 3,910 in 1961. Donkeys are used as beasts of burden, and they increased from 15,038 in 1956 to 15,543 in 1961. Mules also increased from 215 in 1956 to 561 in 1961. They are yoked to carts for transporting goods.

Sheep and goats.—The number of sheep declined from 122,449 in 1956 to 91,385 in 1961. The corresponding figures for goats were 165,350 and 69,338, respectively. This decrease in the number of these animals is not readily known, for it is a fairly lucrative to breed them. The Animal Husbandry Department has opened Sheep Breeding and Wool Extension Centres at Sehna, Shamlo Kalan, Kaurian and Ujhana. From these centres rams of good quality are lent to the breeders for the mating seasons, free of charge. The scheme, if it catches the imagination of the breeders will make sheep-breeders still more lucrative.

Camels.—Cameis are used for transport and ploughing in the dry and sandy areas. Their number was 24,905 in 1956 and 19,656 in 1961. The decrease may be due to the gradual disappearance of waste lands which provide free feed for the animals.

Poultry.—The District is also taking keen interest in the poultry farming. The number of birds increased from 99,359 in 1956 to 127,035 in 1961. There is a Government Poultry Farm at Malerkotla where birds of improved quality are supplied to the breeders on reduced rates. The centre also provides six weeks training to interested farmers.

Cattle Fairs.—Block Samitis and Municipal Committees arrange cattle fairs at 15 different places in the District at regular intervals. The biggest among them are that of Julana and Dhanaula. These fairs besides providing facilities for marketing animals, bring handsome income to the authorities.

Livestock Diseases.—To preserve the livestock and save it from the contagious and non-contagious diseases, such as gal ghotu (Halmorhagic Septicaemia), phar sujan (Block Quarter) and foot-and-mouth disease, there are 23 veterinary hospitals, 25 dispensaries and 2 permanent veterinary first aid centres in the District. These institutions are manned by 14 Veterinary Assistant Surgeons, 13 Animals Husbandry Assistants, 51 Compounders, 4 Livestock Assistants and 35 Veterinary Dressers. During 1960-61, they treated 208,437 animals.

B—INDUSTRIES

Even in the early years of the century the town of Bhadaur was known for bell-metal cups and brass wares, Sunam for cotton pagris, khes and chautahis, Barnala Tahsil for sajji, Sangrur for phulkaris, embroidered desi shoes, gold and silver ornaments, and Jind and Safidon for printing on cloth. Sangrur, Sunam and Barnala had a number of artisans whose products like wooden carts, wooden boxes and peehris were treasured by the village folks in the surrounding areas. Malerkotla boasted of artistic work of tilla and zari, ivory work, brass and copper utensils khes, durries and embroidered desi shoes. Malerkotla was also well known for small agricultural implements like tasla, kahi, and hal as also karahi, tawa, and bucket. These articles were sent through out Rajasthan. At Malerkotla small factory manufactured survey instruments. In Jind state goldsmithy and carpentry received an impetus when Raja Raghbir Singh, sent a batch of goldsmiths to Calcutta and a number of carpenters to Roorki to learn these crafts. A cotton ginning and pressing factory was set up at Narwana in 1900, one at Jind in 1902 and yet another at Malerkotla in 1904. These factories were run by steam and diesel engines.

During the Second World War, when there was a shortage of iron, re-rolling mills were established at Malerkotla, Ahmedgarh, Barnala, Sangrur and Sunam to re-roll scrap metal. The workers of Malerkotla also started the manufacture of spare parts of cycle and sewing machines when their import was limited due to Second World War. These industries received some set back when a large number of muslim artisans migrated to Pakistan in the wake of Partition. But very shortly this gap was made up. Many new industries were set up and many more are on the way. The supply of electricity from Bhakra has also accelerated industrial development. At present though the District is not much developed in large scale industries yet it has achieved a remarkable progress in small scale industries. Most of the industrial units are located at Malerkotla because of the availability of cheap skilled labour.

(i) LARGE SCALE INDUSTRIES

Malwa Sugar Mills, Dhuri.—This factory was set up in 1956 under an agreement between M/s Karam Chand Thapar and Bros., Private Ltd., and the erstwhile Pepsu Government. The State Government has a financial interest in the factory to the tune of Rs. 20 lakhs and is a great boon to the cane growers of the locality, who in 1965-66 received a sum of Rs. 90 lakhs as the price of their cane. During the same year the factory produced 14,262 metric tons of sugar and 700 metric tons of mollasses. The factory employs about 600 persons during the season and 200 off the season.

M/s Sir Ganga Ram and Sons, Malerkotla.—This factory made a start as a small unit, but expanded in 1962. It now manufactures electric transmission towers for the Punjab, U.P. and other state Governments. During 1965-66, their production amounted to Rs. 32 lakhs, excluding the cost of steel which was supplied by the State Governments. The factory employs 240 persons.

M/s Rajindra Modi Ginning and Oil Mills, Sunam.—This multipurpose concern baled cotton and produced cotton seed oil, cotton seed cake and groundnut oil and ice in all worth Rs. 55 lakhs during 1964-65. It provides employment to more than one hundred persons.

(ii) MEDIUM AND SMALL SCALE INDUSTRIES

Cycle, Cycle Parts and Sewing Machine Parts.—Malerkotla is the forerunner in the production of cycle parts such as the stand, carrier and fork (chimta), has 90 units in the line. During 1964-65, the production ran into Rs. 70 lakhs and employment to 1,025 persons. One cycle manufacturing unit (M/s Birmigham Cycle Industries) was set up at Jind in 1960-61.

Another nine units at Malerkotla are engaged in the manufacture of sewing machine parts. Their production amounted to Rs. 2 lakhs in 1964-65 to Rs. 3 lakhs in 1965-66 and they employed 200 and 250 persons respectively during these two years.

Automobile Parts.—All the three units engaged in the line are at Malerkotla. They manufacture auto springs, red hub drums, spinder crosses and third arms, etc. In 1965-66, their production was valued at Rs. 708,900 and they employed 60 persons.

Surgical Instruments.—M/s Sarjit Industries, Malerkotla, produced surgical instruments and hospital equipment worth Rs. 104,272 and employed 42 persons during 1965-66.

One unit M/s A. Paul Instruments Company Jind, set up in 1962-63, manufactures clinical and laboratory thermometers.

Water Pipe Fittings.—Two units, one at Malerkotla and the other at Narwana, are engaged in manufacturing water pipe fittings. They, with an employment of 50 persons, produced these fittings worth Rs. 84,000 during 1965-66.

Radio Assembling.—M/s Gowel Sounds, Sunam and M/s Malerkotla Universal Radio Production-cum-Sale Industrial Co-operative Society, Malerkotla, alongwith 10 more small units, work in the line. Collectively they assembled 1,600 radio sets in 1965-66. The concern at Malerkotla also manufactured 200 radio sets.

Non-Ferrous Metals.—10 units at Malerkotla manufacture brass nozzels, which has become one of the premier industries of the District. Their production was 200 quintals in the year 1964-65. Some units also manufacture military badges and other allied equipment for defence purposes.

Electrical Goods.—Preparation of brass electric lamp holders and thimbles (used at the electric poles) is carried on in two units at Malerkotla. These goods worth Rs. 159,398, were produced during 1965-66.

Steel Re-rolling Mills.—There are 9 mills in the District. They collectively re-rolled 13,320 metric tons with 295 persons in 1965-66, as compared to 12,428 metric tons in 1964-65.

Cotton Ginning and Pressing.—These units are found at different places in the District. With an employment of 1,425 persons, 26 factories turned out 70,895 bales during 1965-66.

Powerloom Weaving.—Ten small units in the District produced cloth worth Rs. 250,000 in 1964-65.

Plastic Goods.—Plastic novelties and auto wind screens are manufactured by two units at Malerkotla.

Saltpetre.—M/s Dhir Saltpetre Works at Dhuri, is the only concern in the line, and in 1965-66, they produced 109 metric tons of this chemical, employing 20 persons.

Asbestos Cement Pipes and Pipe Fittings.—Recently (January, 1966) M/s Rama Pipe Industries, have set up a factory at Sangrur for manufacturing asbestos cement pipes and pipe fittings.

Village Industries.—Handloom weaving, ban and rope making, leather tanning, shoes and other leather goods, gur and khandsari making, and khaddar production, are the important village industries. They play an important role in the rural economy. In 1965-66, 8,662 units stood registered with the Industries Department and they produced articles worth Rs. 61 lakhs.

STATE AID TO INDUSTRIES

Government advances loans on liberal terms and at low rate of interest for setting up new industries and for the expansion of existing ones. Subsidies are also granted to the small rural artisans. During the period 1961-62 to 1965-66, Rs. 14.23 lakhs were distributed in this way and another Rs. 2.9 lakhs have been provided for 1966-67. Government makes arrangements for the procurement and distribution of raw material, such as iron, steel, non-ferrous metals, coal, coke and cement, and essentiality certificates are issued for the grant of import licences for raw material, machinery and their components. Technical guidance for the setting up of new units is given to interested persons.

Three rural industrial development centres, one each at Barnala, Sunam and Malerkotla provide technical guidance and other facilities for the manufacture of agricultural implements, shoes and new designs are given to the handloom weavers. Training in different trades like agricultural implements making, carpentry, blacksmithy dyeing and printing, in sheet metal work, fancy leather, cane bamboo and shoe making, is also imparted in five different centres. In other ten industrial schools, training is being given to girls in tailoring, embroidery, needle work, leather work and salma and sitara. Besides, two industrial training institutes, one each at Narwana and Sunam, are doing very useful work.

One Industrial Estate with 8 sheds at Sunam and another at Malerkotla with 30 sheds, have been set up in the District, which house new industries at a very reasonable rent.

C-BANKING, TRADE AND COMMERCE

Banking.—Table 40* shows the location of Bank Offices in Sangrur District as on the 31st March, 1961. Among them are Branch Offices of State Bank of Patiala at thirteen places, and a Branch of the State Bank of India has at Ahmedgarh. In addition, indigenous form of banking is carried on by the sahukars and money lenders. The money lenders and private financiers are more accommodating and keep the transactions secret; hence it is difficult to dislodge them.

Trade and Commerce.—The agricultural produce of the District is brought for sale in thirteen regulated markets of the District, which function under the Punjab Agricultural Produce and Marketing Act.

In the markets at Barnala, Bahadurgarh, Sunam, Dhuri, Malerkotla and Sangrur wheat is the leading commodity. Gram and sarson are sold mostly in Narwana, Jind and Uchana markets. Sarson is also brought in large quantity for sale at Barnala. Julana is a market chiefly for gur and Barnala leads in cotton.

The main exports of the District are wheat, gram, cotton, gur, and other foodgrains, and among imports sugar, kerosene, coal, cloth, iron and machinery feature prominently.

D-COMMUNICATIONS

But for some pockets the Sangrur District is fairly well served with roads, railways, postal and telegraph facilities.

Railways.—The Ludhiana-Jakhal line enters the District at Ahmedgarh and runs towards south serving Malerkotla and Sangrur Tahsils. Dhuri, an important junction, lies on this line. The Ferozepur-Bhatinda-Delhi line runs in its south easternly course, passes through Narwana and Jind Tahsils. The Ambala-Bhatinda line runs through Malerkotla and Barnala Tahsils in north-westernly direction; Dhuri lies on this line also. Narwana-Kurukshetra serves a strip of 10 miles of Narwana Tahsil. Similarly, Jind-Panipat line, which starts from find, runs in easternly direction and serves mostly the villages of Jind Tahsil. Safidon, a town of this District, lies on this line. There are 43 railway stations in the District, names of which appear in Table 35*.

Roads.—The District has made a remarkable progress in road construction during the two Five Year Plan periods, is borne by the following figures :—

Year	Total (miles)	Metalled (miles)	Unmetalled (miles)
1950-51	128	103	25
1955-56	210	206	4
1960-61	506	434	72

The roads maintained by Public Works Department include the State High Ways and Major and Minor District roads. There is no National High Way in the District.

The State High Ways cover 186.95 miles. This passes through Jind, Narwana, Sangrur, Dhuri, Malerkotla, Barnala, Bhawanigarh and Moonak. The Major and Minor District roads serve as important arteries of communications between different Districts. The important Major and Minor District roads in the District connect the following towns : Kaithal-Narwana; Barnala-Bhadaur-Bajekhana; Bhawanigarh-Samana; Narwana-Uklana; Sunam-Kotshamir; Nabha-Malerkotla; Barnala-Raikot; Sunam-Jakhal; Malerkotla-Kalsian and Malerkotla-Jarg. Besides, many approach roads connect towns and villages with bigger roads.

In metalled road length the District enjoys 6th position among the 19 Districts of Punjab, Hissar with 695 miles leading in this respect.

The road mileage per thousand population was 0.41 as against 0.75 for the entire Punjab. Similarly the ratio of road mileage per hundred sq , miles of area worked out 16.32 as against 25.65 for Punjab.

There is a considerable need for connecting Jind with Safidon, thereby covering some 30 or 40 villages.

Road Transport.—The bullock carts are much in use in the villages, both for conveyance and carriage of goods. In towns the cycles and rikshaws, because of their economical and easy maintenance are taken the place of tongas and ekkas drawn by horses.

There is a appreciable increase in the number of motor vehicles registered in the District during 1951-60. In 1951, the number was 246 as against 874 in 1960. The public carriers, jeeps, motor cycles and tractors, numbered 36,2,106 and 38 in 1951; and 137, 36, 60, and 352 in 1960.

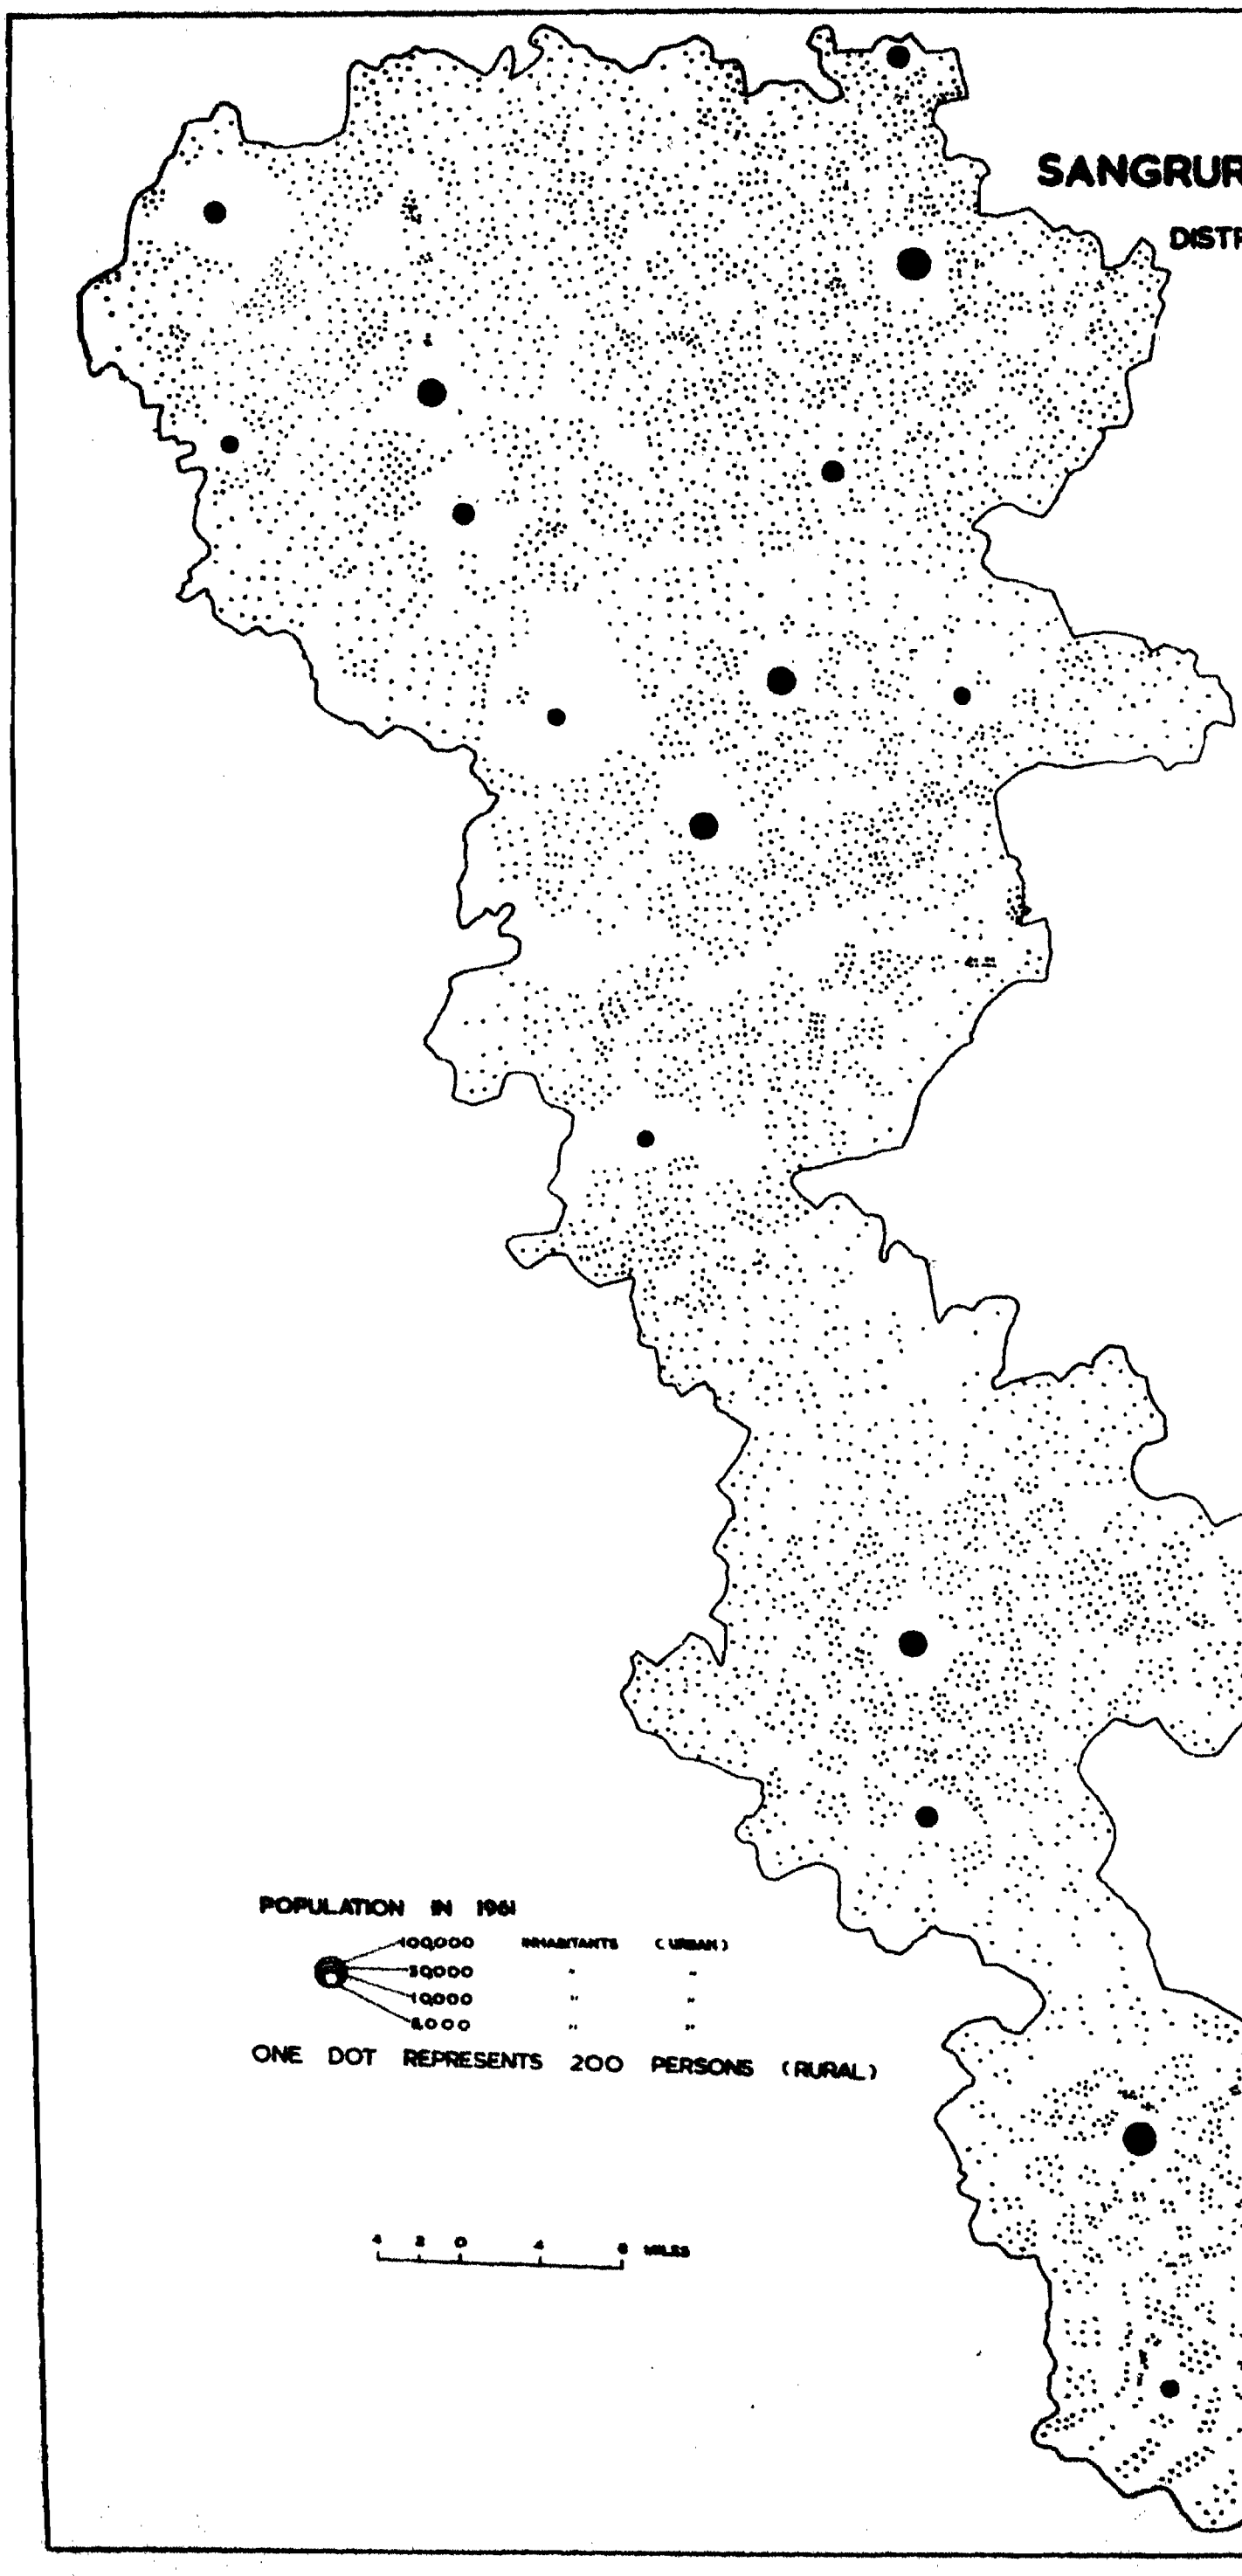

Post and Telegraph.—In 1961, the District had 229 Post Offices: 62 in Sangrur Tahsil; 47 each in Malerkotla and Barnala; 37 in Jind; and 36 in Narwana Tahsil. On an average there was a post office for every four villages, and each served about 13 sq. miles.

CHAPTER III

POPULATION

Part III of this book contains Tables relating to the 1961-census. These Tables are preceded by an exhaustive note explaining their arrangement and the terms used. Only the broad facts thrown out by these statistics are discussed below.

Area (Table A-I)* .—The District covers an area of 3,028.5 sq. miles. The Sangrur Tahsil (889.9 sq. miles) is a larger area than other Tahsils: Barnala (580.4 sq. miles), Narwana (575.5 sq. miles), Malerkotla (511.8 sq. miles) and Jind (471.5 sq. miles).

On the formation of PEPSU in 1948, Sangrur District was carved out from the three Native States of Patiala, Jind and Nabha, collectively known as Phulkian States. Another District Barnala was also formed at that time. In 1953, this Barnala District consisting of 4 Tahsils (Barnala, Dhuri, Malerkotla and Phul) was merged with Sangrur District except a part of Phul Tahsil. In the same year, Dhuri and Sunam Tahsils were made sub-Tahsils and merged in Malerkotla and Sangrur Tahsils,respectively. In June 1958, this District gained one village Bahadurgarh (1.0 sq. mile) from Tahsil and District Ludhiana. Thus the Sangrur District gained an area of 1,092.5 sq. miles during the decade 1951-61.

Population.—On the sunrise of 1st March, 1961, Sangrur District had 1,424,688 souls. Among the 19 Districts of Punjab it occupies the 6th position: Ferozepur District with 1,619,116 persons leading in this respect.

Growth of population (TableA-II)‡ .—In the absence of succinct record of area changes for the eight princely States which were combined into the PEPSU in 1948, to build comparative figures for the Districts of erstwhile PEPSU for the years prior to 1951 proved an impossible task. Hence no information is given for the years 1901 to 1941. In 1951, Sangrur District, for the area now constituted, had 1,111,594 persons, showing an increase of 313,094 persons (28.17p.c.) during the decade 1951-61. This increase is higher than 25.86 p.c. for the Punjab as a whole.

The decade 1941-51 bore the holocaust of unprecedented communal trouble and mass migration in the wake of Partition; the Muslim population migrated to Pakistan and non-Muslims moved in from that side and settled in this District. The years 1951-61 were free from disease and the health measures taken by the Government reduced considerably the death rate while the birth rate remained almost unchanged. The high rate of population growth is a matter of great concern and should this rate persist, it will lead the country to most difficult problems.

Density of population.—Punjab has on an average 429 persons to a square mile, with Jullundur District as the most thickly populated (914) and the Lahaul & Spiti as the sparsest (6). Sangrur District with 470 persons per sq. mile ranks thirteenth among the 19 Districts of Punjab. Among the five Tahsils, the highest number of persons per sq. mile (601) is in the Malerkotla . This is because of its adjoining Ludhiana District, good climate, fertile land, extensive irrigation and secure agriculture. Jind Tahsil with 494 persons per sq. mile ranks second. The other three Tahsils have less number of persons per sq. mile: Sangrur (447); Barnala (440); and Narwana (403).

Villages.—The gap in the density of human population as between rural and urban areas in Sangrur District is than what it is in the State as a whole :

	Density
	Rural	Urban
Punjab	346	9,476
Sangrur District	396	6,176

The rural density is higher in Sangrur District but lighter in reverse for urban areas than in Punjab.

The District has 1,022 villages, out of which 16 are uninhabited. In the District 39 villages out of 47 have population less than 200 persons, located in Malerkotla (21) and Sangrur (18) Tahsils. There are 8 villages, which have population between 5,000 and 9,999. One third of the villages in Malerkotla and Sangrur Tahsils have a population less than 500.

The number of persons per inhabited village in the District works out to 1,176 against 763 for the villages in Punjab as a whole. The villages in Narwana and Barnala Tahsils are bigger units, with 1,606 and 1,556 persons per village. The corresponding figures for Jind and Sangrur are 1,184 and 1,113. The villages in Malerkotla Tahsil are smaller units with an average population of 859 persons per village.

Towns.—Particulars are given of the 17 towns of Sangrur District in Table A-IV.*

There is no class I (population 100,000 and above) or class II (population ranging 50,000 and 99,999) towns in this District. 5 Towns come in class III (20,000—49,999), 3 in class IV (10,000—19,999), 8 in class V (5,000—9,999) and only one, Uchana with population 4,387, in class VI (below 5,000). Malerkotla is the biggest town: its population increased from 21,122 in 1901 to 39,543 in 1961; the maximum increase being during the decade 1951-61. The population of Sangrur rose to 28,344 (1961), from 11,852 (1901), with the highest increase of 51.24 per cent in 1951-61 decade. The population of Jind and Barnala shot up from 8,047 and 6,905 in 1901 to 24,216 and 21,354 in 1961, respectively. The population of Sunam doubled during the last sixty years, i.e. from 10,069 (1901) to 21,408 (1961). Dhuri and Narwana were included in the list of towns for the first time in 1941. Since then their population has doubled. The towns of Dhanaula (11,238), Bhadaur (9,407), Longowal (9,269), Safidon (9,223), Tapa (6,220), Bhawanigarh (5,437), Julana (5,155) and Uchana (4,387), marked moderate increase. Ahmedgarh was taken up as an urban area in 1931 with 3,283 persons. Now its population is 9,074 thus showing an increase of over 200 per cent. This high increase, however, was during 1951-61 due to the inclusion of Bahadurgarh mandi in this town. Lehragaga was added in the list of towns in 1951. During 1951-61 its population has shot up from 3,616 to 7,847, i.e., 117.01 per cent increase.

In Sangrur District 83.1 per cent of the total population lives in villages and 16.9 per cent in towns. The corresponding figures for the Punjab are 79.9 and 20.1 per cent, respectively.

Sex ratio.—Out of the total population of 1,424,688 of the District, 650,218 are females and 774,470 are males, i.e., a ratio of 45.6: 54.4.

The number of females per thousand males in the District works out to 840 as against 864 for Punjab which in turn, is the lowest among the States of India; the corresponding figure for the Indian Union is 941. Among Punjab Districts Sangrur ranks thirteenth; Kangra with 987 females per thousand males being at the top and Simla at the bottom (731).

There is a belt stretching west to east, comprising Ferozepur, Bhatinda, Sangrur, Patiala, Ambala and Simla Districts where the sex ratio is lower than the Punjab average, and the sex ratio declines gradually from West to East: it is 848 for Ferozepur, 837 for Bhatinda, 840 for Sangrur, 830 for Patiala, 812 for Ambala and 731 for Simla. The sex ratio in the District improved from 830 in 1951 to 840 in 1961.

Among the five Tahsils Jind leads with 867 females per thousand males, followed by Malerkotla (846), Narwana (842), Barnala (838) and Sangrur (818).

The sex ratio for rural areas of the District works out to 838 and for urban areas 847; the corresponding figures in 1951 were 827 and 844, respectively.

Age composition.—In Table C-II†, the 1961 population of the District is distributed into various age groups. With a view to comprehending the comparative strength of these groups, a Table is given on the next page in which totals have uniformly been taken as 1,000:—

Too much reliance cannot be placed on the inferences drawn from these figures, since a District is a small geographical area and the inflow and outflow of population in various age groups as a disturbing factor can be quite substantial.

The age pyramid has a broad base and tapers rather obliquely: 310 persons per thousand of the population are below the age of 10, and only 84 of age 55 years and above. Roughly speaking, four out of every 10 persons are below the age of 15, 5 in the groups 15 years to below 55, and only one past the age of 55. Males below the age of 15 years are 428 per 1,000 males: corresponding figure for females is 450. For ages between 15 and below 55 years, the males count 476 per thousand males but the women are 479. In ages 55 years and above the males are 96 and females are only 71.

Large number of persons shift from villages to towns for study and livelihood. The low paid men leave their families in village homes and live in towns by themselves. When past the age of useful work some among them return to villages. The effect of this type of movement is reflected in the statistics of rural and urban age composition. For age groups below 15,15 to below 55, and 55 years and above, the distribution among males is 430, 472 and 98 per thousand males in the rural areas and 421, 497 and 82 in the urban areas. The corresponding figures for females in rural areas are 450, 478 and 72 and in urban areas 451, 485 and 64.

Marital status.—In Table C-II*, population in various age groups is further distributed according to their marital status. To comprehend the significance of these statistics, one thousand males and one thousand females for the Sangrur District as a whole and for rural and urban areas are divided below according to their marital status.

About 57 per cent males and 48 per cent females are unmarried. Higher proportion of unmarried males is because of shortage of females, which aspect has been studied earlier. Correspondingly there is a higher proportion among married females than males.

The proportion of married males is higher in towns than in villages. This proportion is reverse in case of married females. This is because a large number of males shift from villages to towns for livelihood leaving their families behind.

Marriage in this country is universal. In the table given below, 441,968 unmarried males and 312,669 unmarried females are distributed into various age groups, in terms of 1,000 males and females.

It will be noticed that there are only 59 unmarried males out of one thousand males in villages who are of the age more than 34, and there are 5 spinsters per thousand females who are past the age of 24 years in rural areas. The corresponding figures for urban areas are 33 and 3, respectively.

Literacy.—Information on literacy by age groups and sex separately for rural and urban areas of the District, is given in Table C-III*, prepared in three parts. The position is summarised below.

LITERATES PER THOUSAND POPULATION ABOVE THE AGE OF FIVE YEARS

	Sangrur District		Punjab
	Males	Females	Males	Females
Total	1,000	1,000	1,000	1,000
Illiterate	724	901	611	831
Literate	276	99	389	169
Literate (without educational level)	155	61	167	85
Primary or Junior Basic	91	33	166	70
Matriculation and above	30	5	56	14

In literacy this District is at the bottom among the 19 Districts of Punjab. Only one male out of four and one female out of ten can read and write in any language,which was the test adopted for literacy at the 1961-census A little less half this number had schooling and only 30 males out of 1,000 males and 5 females out of 1,000 females had crossed the Matriculation level.

The ruralites have a considerable leeway to make up in order to come upto the level of the urbanites. In the towns of the District there are 554 males and 284 females out of one thousand males and females, respectively, who are literate, but in villages they are as few as 227 and 61, respectively. This feature is common throughout the state where the literacy per thousand is 654 for males and 432 for females in towns and 319 and 104, respectively, in rural areas.

Mother tongue (Table C-V)*.—Sangrur is a bilingual District: two Tahsils Jind and Narwana fall in Hindi region; and three Tahsils Malerkotla, Sangrur and Barnala come in Punjabi region. A little more than half the population reported their mother tongue as Punjabi. Only 25 out of 1,000 persons reported it as Urdu, mostly in the Malerkotla Town, which is mostly inhabited by Muslims. Persons with Hindi as their mother tongue counted 446 per thousand.

Mother tongue	Number of Speakers	Per 1,000
Punjabi	753,388	529
Hindi	635,234	446
Urdu	35,506	25
Others	560	N
Total	1,424,688	1,000

Religion (Table C-VII).—Per thousand distribution of total population in the District among various religions is given below:—

Religion	Number	Per 1,000
Total Population	1,424,688	1,000
Hindus	738,816	519
Sikhs	622,227	437
Jains	7,328	5
Muslims	55,738	39
Christian	577	N
Buddhists	..	..
Religion not stated	2	N

The Hindus form 52 per cent of the total population and the Sikhs 44 per cent. The former predominate in the Tahsils of Jind and Narwana, whereas the latter in Malerkotla, Barnala and Sangrur Tahsils. In towns, Hindus are a little more than double the number of Sikhs. Muslims, constitute 4 per cent of the total population and more than 80 per cent of them live in Malerkotla Tahsil. Jains rank fourth in the list, found mostly in Narwana and Jind Tahsils. More than 60 per cent of the Christians reported themselves in Malerkotla and Sangrur Tahsils.

Place of Birth:—In Table D-II†, two way classification of the total District population has been made: firstly, according to place of enumeration; and secondly, on the basis of place of birth. The Table deals only with immigrants and does not take into account the persons who had gone out of the District. The broad facts brought out by these statistics are discussed below.

	Sangrur District	Punjab
Total	1,000	1,000
Born at the place where enumerated	680	605
Born at another place within the District	150	161
Born in other Districts of Punjab	124	92
Born in other States of India	9	35
Born outside India	36	106
Birth place unclassifiable	1	1

Out of 1,424,688 persons, 68 per cent were born at the place of enumeration. In rural areas this percentage works out 71 and in urban areas 53.5 which shows higher mobility in towns.

Among males, 82.4 per cent of the males population were born where they were enumerated against the female percentage of 50.9. The low figure of females spring from the extra factor of their leaving the ancestoral place on marriage.

Another 12.4 per cent of the population was born at another place within the District. This percentage is as low as 6.8 in case of males and as high as 24.6 for females. Similarly this percentage in case of persons born in other Districts of Punjab is 6.0 and 20.0, respectively. This is again due to the factor of marriage. The Punjab-born Persons formed 95.4 per cent of the District population.

Among the persons born in other States of India, mostly were from Uttar Pradesh (7,034), Rajasthan (3,365) and Delhi (1,407).

Out of 51,762 persons who reported their place of birth situated outside India, 51,110 persons were born in Pakistan who migrated in the wake of Partition, 229 were born in Burma, 197 in Singapore and Malaya, 83 in Nepal and 73 in Africa, 41 in China, and 29 in other countries.

Scheduled Castes (SCT Tables)*.—Scheduled Castes persons number 284,599, forming 20 per cent of the District population. Of these 155,312 are males and 129,287 females. The most numerous castes are Chamar (171,141), Mazhabi (47,795), Balmiki (39,696) and Dhanak (12,888). Eleven per cent of the Scheduled Castes population was enumerated in towns. The literacy percentage amongst Scheduled Castes works out 5 as against 16 for the entire population of the Sangrur District.

Households (Tables B-X to B-XVII,C-I and SCT-V)†.—Members of wandering tribes, tramps, sadhus,pavement dwellers and others who do not live as households comprise the houseless population. Out of 1,424,688 persons in Sangrur District, 904 were recorded as houseless, the maximum (421) being in Sangrur Tahsil. The remaining 1,423,784 persons lived in households. A household has been defined as a group of persons who commonly lived together and take their meals from a common kitchen unless exigencies of work prevent any of them from doing so.

For studying the characteristics of households, a 20 per cent sample was drawn and analysed. In this sample the persons residing in institutions like orphanages, mental hospitals, hostels, jails, boarding houses, Defence and Police personnel living in barracks or under canvass, were excluded since such households do not function as normal economic entities. The sample thus drawn was of 47,535 households consisting of 282,543 persons, or 5.9 persons per household on the average. In the following Table households and persons are divided according to the size of the households.

DISTRIBUTION OF SAMPLE HOUSEHOLDS AND SAMPLED POPULATION ACCORDING TO SIZE OF HOUSEHOLDS

Size of Household	Households		Persons
	Number	Percentage to Total	Number	Percentage to Total
Total	47,535	100.0	282,543	100.0

In villages, 60 per cent of the households were engaged in cultivation, as peasant proprietors and tenants distributed as follows according to the area of their operational holdings.

*Pages 264 to 279. †Pages 212 to 234 and 278.

30.0—49.9 acres	85.6	64.1
50+	24.0	22.9
Unspecified	6.2	5.1

The number of large sized operational holdings are more in Sangrur District as compared to State as a whole. In the District 15.5 per cent of the households work on holdings up to 5 acres as compared with 23.4 per cent in the State as a whole.On the other hand 40.7 per cent of the households each form more than 15 acres, as compared with 30.5 per cent in the State.

Workers and Non-Workers.—In Table B-I *, the District population is classified into nine broad industrial categories of workers and non-workers. The terms are explained in the Explanatory Note appearing before Census Tables (Part III of this book). Figures in terms of 1,000 population are expressed in the Table given below:—

DISTRIBUTION PER 1,000 PERSONS ACCORDING TO INDUSTRIAL CATEGORIES

There are 359 workers per thousand persons in Sangrur District and the remaining 641 are non-workers. Similar figures for Punjab are 350 and 650, respectively. This shows that the number of workers is more in Sangrur District as compared to Punjab . Among males, the workers are more than half the total male population (56.2), while among females they are about one-ninth (11.7). As compared to Punjab as a whole, the number of male workers in this District is also more whereas it is less in case of females.

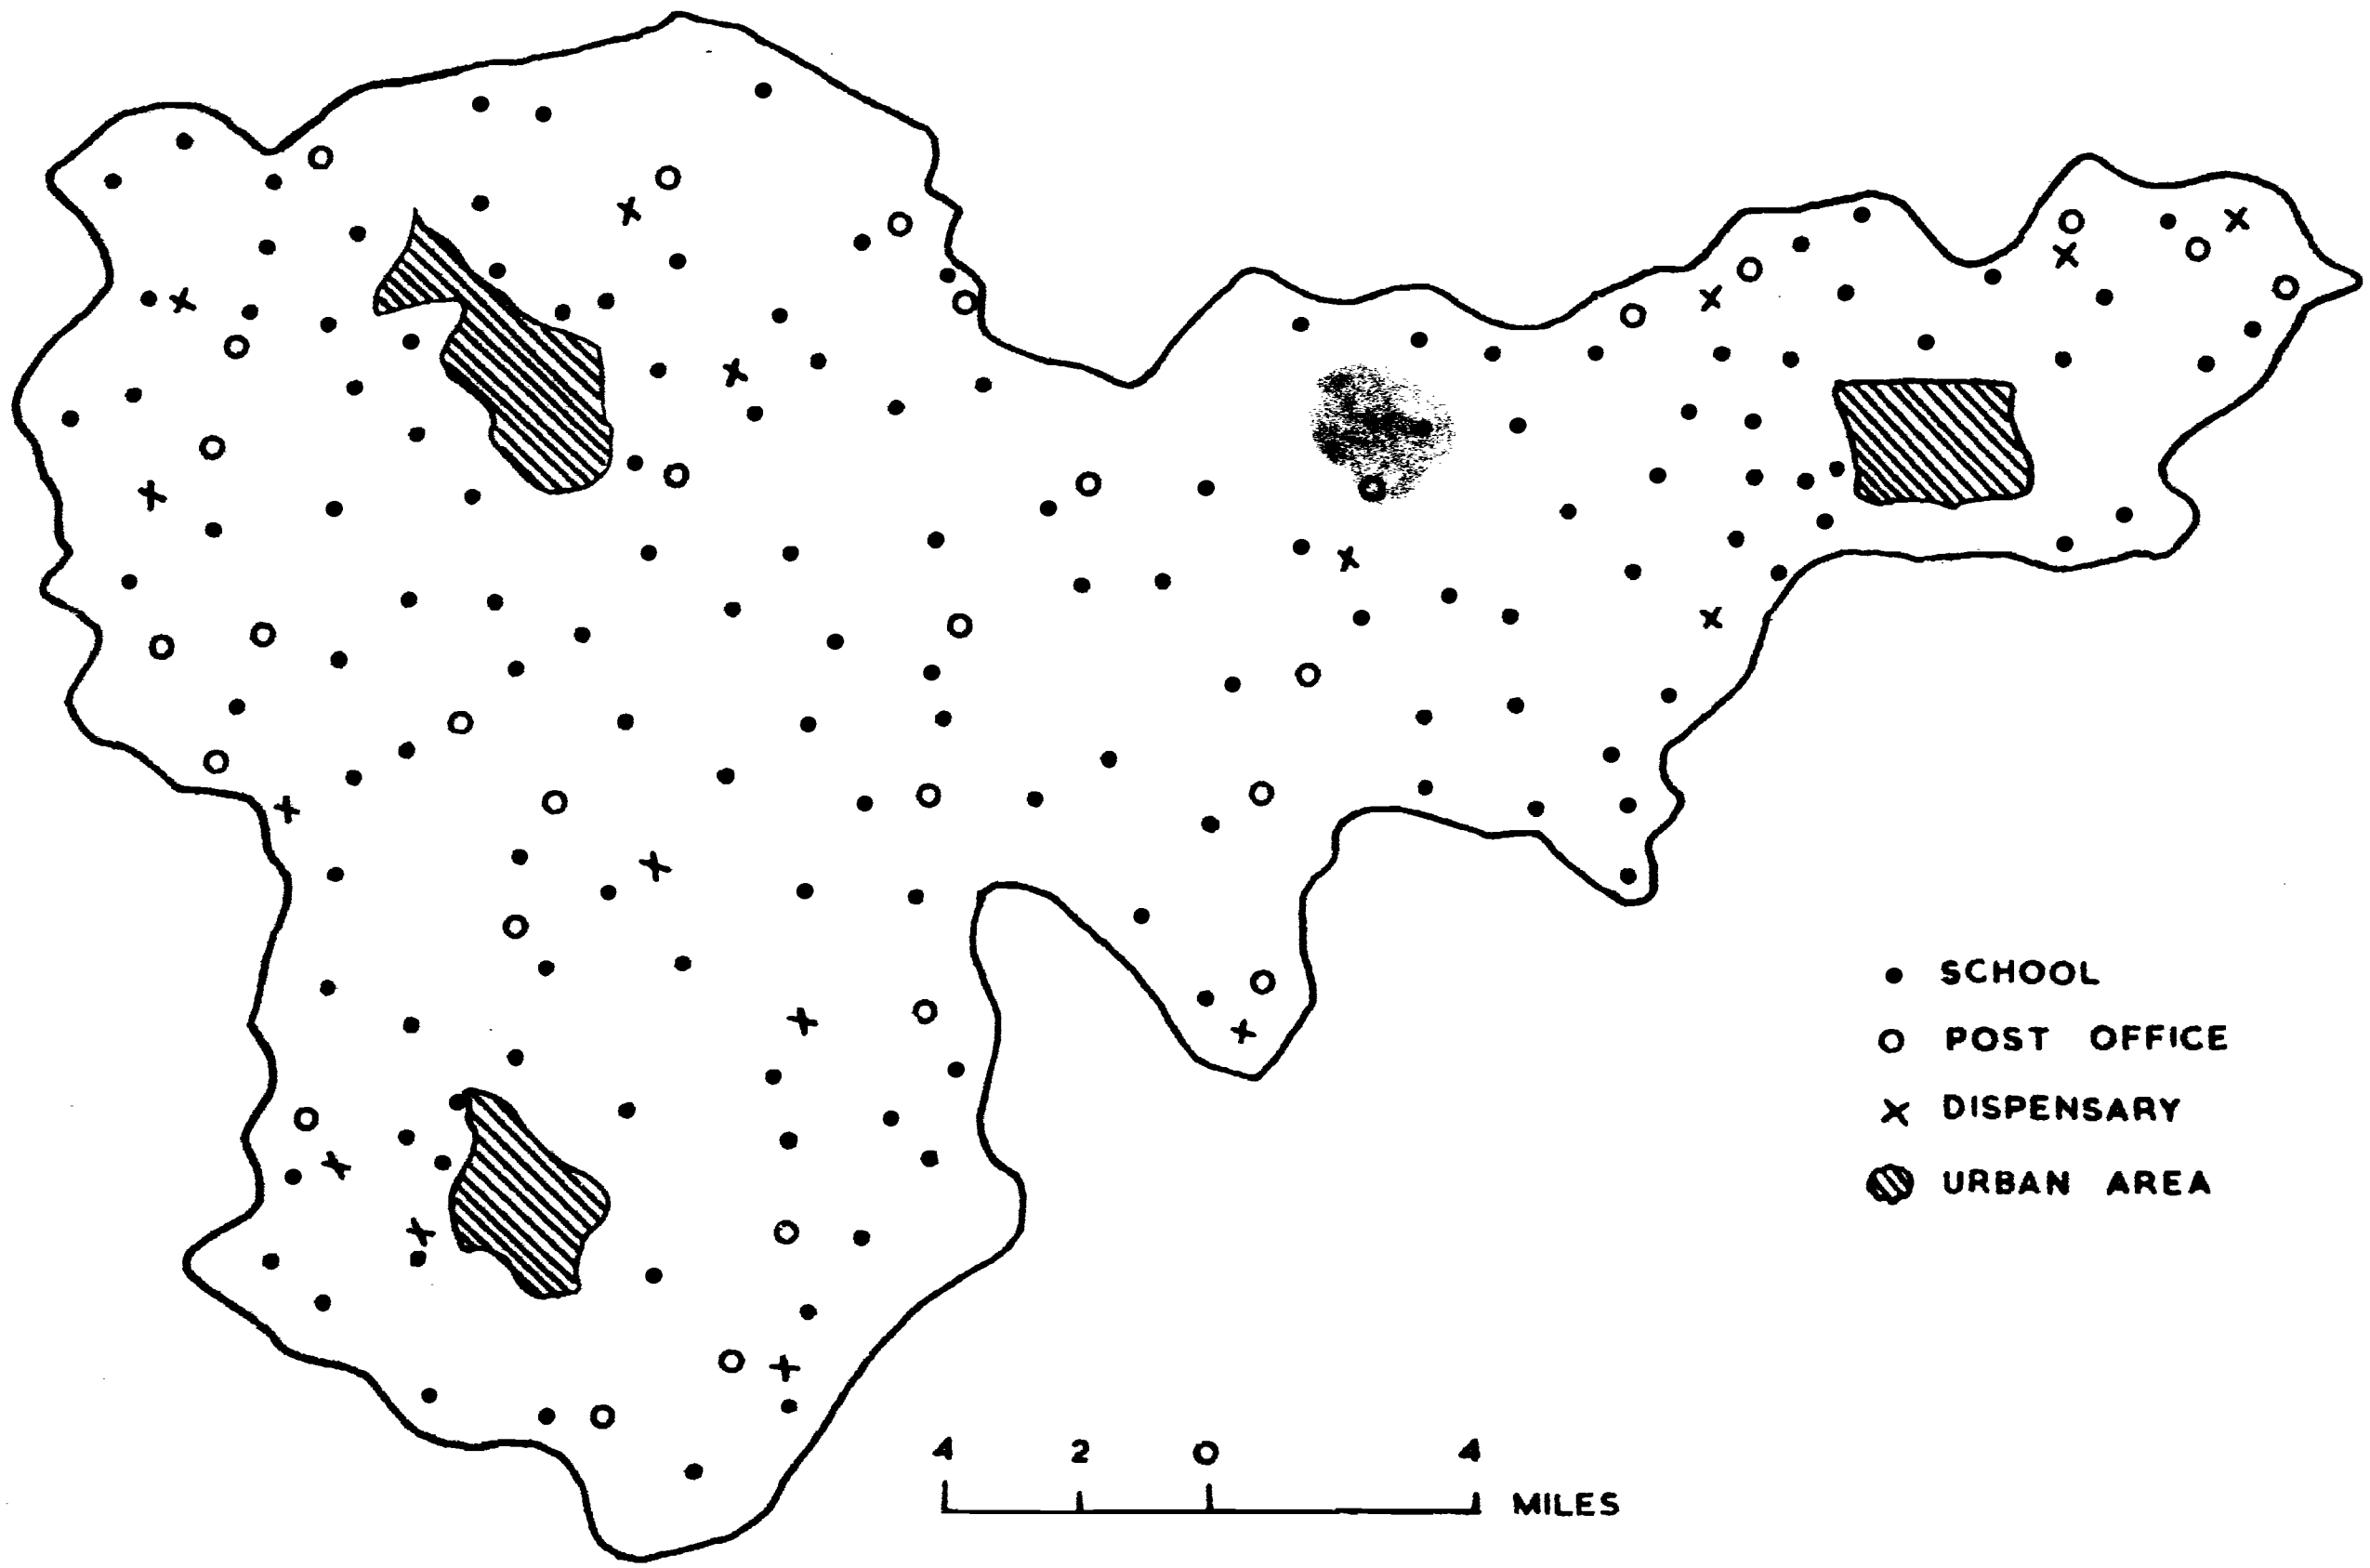

Agriculture (peasant proprietors, tenants and agricultural labour) absorbs 256 persons out of 1,000 in Sangrur District as against 224 in Punjab as a whole. For the reason of larger size of holdings the District has more agricultural labourers.

Only 3 per cent of the total population is engaged in household industries such as ban making, shoe making, weaving of cloth, etc. This ratio is 2.7 in Punjab.

Per thousand distribution of population working in industry, construction, business, transport and other services is less in this District as compared to Punjab as a whole.

SOCIAL AND DEVELOPMENTAL ACTIVITIES

Education (Table 17 to 19)*.—Among the ninteen Districts of Punjab, the literacy percentage is the lowest in this District. In the 1951-census, the literacy percentage was 9.4 which improved to 16.5 in 1961. This fact is borne by the following figures:—

	SCHOOLS		SCHOLARS
	Boys	Girls	Boys	Girls
1951-52
Primary Schools	236	21	22,359	735
Middle Schools	71	7	2,193	859
High Schools	22	2	13,599	696
Total	329	30	38,151	2,290
1960-61
Primary Schools	667	68	33,729	2,317
Middle Schools	57	6	10,144	1,456
High Schools	65	14	32,733	6,571
Higher Secondary Schools	4	..	1,564	62
Total	793	88	78,170	10,406

In 1961, the school going boys were 37 per cent of total male population of the age group 5 to 14. Similar percentage of school going girls works out only 7.

Besides Government, quite a number of organisations are running schools. Among such institutions are the Prem Sabha High School, Sangrur; Guru Nanak High School, Sangrur; Islamia Higher Secondary School, Malerkotla; Arya High School, Narwana; Jat High School, Jind; Hindu Sabha High School, Sunam; Lala Lajpat Rai Kanya Vidalaya, Sangrur; and Akal High School at Mastuana.

The Scheduled Castes and Backward Classes, particularly those residing in the countryside, are still not enthusiastic about education. The introduction of compulsory free primary education has, however, had a salutary effect on them and they have been given various other inducements and encouragements. In Government institutions, free education is given to them. Free books, stipends and scholarships are awarded to the students belonging to these classes. In professional and technical institutions seats are also reserved for them.

Basic Schools.—In 1954-55, there were 6 Basic Schools with 385 students in the District. In 1960-61, their number rose up to 41 imparting education to 2,863 scholars.

Colleges (Table 19).—The Ranbir College at Sangrur was started in 1939 by the erstwhile Jind State imparting education only upto Inter classes. This was raised to Degree classes in 1943. By 1951 two more colleges, one for girls at Sangrur and the other for boys at Malerkotla were opened. All the three institutions are run by the State Education Department. The S.D. College at Barnala was started in 1956 by a private body with 92 students but by 1961 there were 361 students on its rolls 318 boys and 43 girls. The State Government opened one more college at Jind in 1960-61. The S.A. Jain College, started in 1954 at Malerkotla was closed in 1958, due to financial difficulties. In 1960-61, there were five colleges in the District in all having 1,628 scholars.

Technical Education.—The erstwhile Jind State started a Teacher's Training School at Sangrur in 1937. But this functioned only upto 1947. In 1951-52, there were two training schools with 100 students in the District. At present there are 19 units attached to High/Higher Secondary Schools which impart education for J.B.T. classes.

Three Industrial Training Institutes, located at Narwana, Sunam and Malerkotla,impart training in various crafts such as smithy, wood work, motor and radio mechanism, etc. There are two Government Industrial Schools for girls, one each at Jind and Barnala, which give training in embroidery, tailoring and leather works.

There is a private institution at Julana which teaches Sanskrit.

*Pages 64 to 66. Page 66.

Cultural Activities.—Almost all the colleges and some of the schools have their own dramatic and fine arts clubs. They give instructions to the students in debating, dancing, dramas, etc.

There are two good clubs, one each at Sangrur and Malerkotla, in the District. These are provided with tennis and badminton courts and the one at Malerkotla has a swimming pool.

Cinemas (Table 22)*.—In 1951-52, there were six cinema houses in the District. Their number rose up to 8 in 1959-60. In addition to these permanent cinema houses, are the moving talkies, theatrical societies and circuses which visit the District off and on. Besides providing entertainment to the public, they bring handsome income to the State Exchequer by way of Entertainment Tax. The receipts from Entertainment Tax were Rs. 59,731 in 1951-52 and Rs. 222,344 in 1959-60 (Table 46).

Libraries.—With the spread of education, the libraries are becoming popular. Each municipal committee in the District maintains a public library and reading room. The District Public Relations Department maintains a very good reading room at Sangrur.

A Government Public Library with 138 members exists at Sangrur, located in the beautiful Darbar Hall and it has more than 12 thousand books.

Newspapers and Journals.—Particulars of 6 magazines and periodicals, published in the Sangrur District, are given in Table 21.† Two of them are weeklies and the remaining four appear once in a month. All of them were started after Independence.

Printing Presses.—Table 20*† shows the particulars of eight printing presses. Two presses each are located at Sangrur, Barnala and Jind, and one each at Narwana and Malerkotla.

Radios (Table 23)‡.—Radio is gaining in popularity. In 1961, 6,018 broadcast receiving licences were issued in the District as compared with 5,162 in 1959. In the country side, radio, sets are installed in the Panchayat-ghars, where villagers listen the various programmes. Now a days the radio transistor has become very common. There is hardly any villa ge where there is not a transistor or a radio set, owned by individuals or by Panchayats.

Fairs and festivals.—Table 52@ shows the particulars of the fairs and festivals held in Sangrur District. Most of the fairs are dedicated to the pirs and saints. Out of the 228 fairs and festivals nine fairs held at various places listed below attract more than 10,000 people.

Nature of Fair	Places at which held
Dussehra	Dhuri, Malerkotla, Sangrur and Narwana
Baisakhi	Sangrur, Safidon, Nankana Sahib (Sangrur Tahsil)
Gugga Naumi	Dhadowal (Malerkotla Tahsil), Gharachon (Sangrur Tahsil) and Narwana

Id	Malerkotla
Shivratri	Moolowal (Malerkotla)
Udham Singh Tournament	Sunam
Shaheedi Dihara of Sewa Singh	Thikriwala (Barnala)
Ram Rai ka Mela	Ram Rai (Jind)

Social Welfare Activities.—The State Welfare Department takes necessary steps for the welfare of Scheduled Castes, Backward Classes and Vimukat Jatis. In order to eliminate rapidly the existing disparities, a number of schemes are being run under the Union and State Governments. The District Welfare Officer looks after the interest of these classes in the District. Loans and grants are being given to these people for acquiring land, construction of houses, drinking water facilities, purchase of bullocks and agricultural implements. For the education their children are given stipends and books and are exempted from payment of tuition fees in all institutions. They are also given interest free loans for settling in various professions. Some non-official agencies are also working in the District for their welfare.

The Protective Home, located at Sangrur, looks after the fallen and forsaken women. The Indian Red Cross and Bharat Sewak Samaj have their branches in the District.

Political Parties.—Various political parties of the country have their branches in the District. They fight elections enthusiastically both for the State Assembly and Parliament.

Medical and Public Health (Tables 24 to 30)*—With the spread of education and scientific treatment of human ills coming near the reach of the people, the methods of faith cure and quackery are taken resort to by fewer people now. There are some homoeopathy practitioners in urban areas. Ayurvedic and unani systems are liked by the people because of the simpler and familiar medicines prescribed. These systems are also getting better recognition from the Government. The number of Ayurvedic Dispensaries has gone up to 23 in 1960-61 from eleven in 1951-52 (Table 24). Each dispensary is under the charge of a 'Vaid' or 'Up-Vaid' or 'Hakim'.

In 1961, the Civil Surgeon has under him 42 hospitals and dispensaries, all run by the Government, equipped with 351 beds (211 for males and 140 for females). The work of 14 Primary and Rural Health Centres, 18 Maternity and Child Welfare Centres and one Family Planning Centre is supervised by the District Medical Officer of Health. Since July, 1964, all these institutions have been brought under the control of Chief Medical Officer who is helped by two Deputies, one on the Medical side, and the other on Health side.

SOME SPECIAL DISEASES AND THEIR TREATMENT

(i) Tuberculosis.—In addition to the existing arrangements in the major institutions for the treatment of this disease, there are two T.B. clinics in the District wherein specialised treatment is given. One is attached with the Civil Hospital, Sangrur, and the other is located at Hermitage, seven miles from Sangrur.

(ii) Small Pox.—Vaccination and revaccination is being done in the towns by the Municipal Committees and in the countryside by the staff of the Rural Health Centres. In addition to this, it is also being done in the hospitals and dispensaries. With this programme, incidence of disease is on the decline.

(iii) Malaria.—In 1958, a Malaria Unit was established in the District, under the National Malaria Eradication Programme. The staff provided under the scheme carries on surveillance operations side by side with spraying operations. In 1960-61, they carried on the spray work in 704 villages and towns involving 198,858 houses and 826,691 persons at a cost of Rs. 187,184. As a result the mortality and morbidity on account of malaria has been reduced to the minimum.

General Sanitation.—The work of sanitation in towns is the responsibility of Municipal Committees, whereas in the countryside it is looked after by the Block Staff and the Primary Health Centres. There is no regular water supply in the towns of Sangrur District; people depend on wells and hand-pumps. The water supply schemes are now being executed at Sangrur, Barnala, Narwana and Malerkotla. In rural areas the Community Development organisation encourages installation of hand-pumps and construction of pavements and drains.

The general standard of the people in the District is good. In 1961, there was a medical institution on an average for 72.1 sq. miles and 33,921 persons.

Crimes.—In Table 43, † the results of trials conducted in the criminal courts are given. The number of crimes is on the increase. This may partly be due to better registration and detection. In 1951, 2,840 cases which included the pending cases of the previous year also, were brought to trial. Out of these 744 were acquitted or discharged, 588 convicted and 153 were transferred to other courts. The corresponding figures for 1960 were 4,698, 1,510, 1,804 and 9. In order to find out the nature of the crimes and their trends, the figures for the period 1951-60 were looked into in some detail. It was observed that there was a decline in offences against property and person, whereas the cases registered under Excise Act had increased.In 1951,127 murders took place,but this number came down to 66 in 1953 and 34 in 1961. The number of dacoities was 3 in 1958 and nil in 1961, as against 38 in 1951. Burgalaries and theft cases which were 718 and 526, respectively, in 1951, went down to 170 and 251, in 1961. The number of robberies was as high as 107 in 1951. This came down to 21 in 1958 and to only one in 1961. The number of cases registered under rioting was 5 in 1951 and 2 in 1961. Similarly, the cases registered under kidnapping showed a decline from 44 in 1951 to 29 in 1958 and to 19 in 1961. The cases registered under Arms Act were 545 in 1952 and 125 in 1954. Thereafter it started increasing till it reached to 304 in 1961. In 1951, 205 cases were registered under Excise Act. This number increased to 284 in 1957, 570 in 1959 and 908 in 1961.

The receipt from Excise Duties was Rs. 3,773,450 in 1951-52 and Rs. 8,680,665 in 1959-60 (Table 46)‡

DEVELOPMENTAL ACTIVITIES

The following account relates to the trinity of Samoohik Vikas, Sehkari Samaj and Panchayati Raj, i.e., Community Development, Co-operatives and Panchayats.

Community Development (Table 39)†*.—The administrative set up of the Community Development work has already been discussed in Chapter I. Table 39 shows the progress achieved by the 12 blocks, functioning on 31st

March, 1961. Three blocks, namely, Kalayat, Uchana and Mahal Kalan, were created afterwards. By the time of writing this report the whole rural population of the Sangrur District is covered by the 15 Development Blocks.

The aim of the Community Development is to improve the texture of rural life by initiating a self-generating process of change and growth. In this scheme, people's participation and contribution is of great importance. It is not an easy job to assess this because it is mostly in the shape of manual labour which can not be evaluated. It cannot be denied that the community development work has on the whole met with popular support and is changing the face of villages slowly. The achievements of these blocks cannot be exhibited in exact terms. Hence the broad activities are discussed below.

The cultivators are supplied improved seeds, fertilizers, implements and fruit plants at subsidised prices. New strains of crops with better yields and resistance to diseases and pests are developed at the research centres. Improved seeds are multiplied on various seed-multiplication farms for distribution among cultivators through co-operatives. Farmers are assisted in reclaiming lands, laying out model farms, to dig, and maintain compost pits.

Financial help is given to the farmers to construct or repair percolation wells and to instal pumping-sets and tube-wells.

Improved animals of good breed are supplied to the villagers. Key village and artificial insemination centres were started during the First Plan at Dhuri, Malerkotla and Sangrur,and during Second Plan at Ahmedgarh and Barnala. About ten thousand animals were inseminated artificially. Improved varieties of fowls are supplied to encourage poultry farming.

Health and sanitation activities include opening of new hospitals,primary health centres, rural dispensaries, child welfare and maternity centres, construction of pacca and kacha drains, pavement of streets,construction of rural latrines, smokeless chullas, wells for drinking water and installation of hand-pumps.

Under the educational activities new schools are started, old schools are upgraded and schools are converted into basic type. Adult literacy centres are started. Libraries and reading rooms are also started. Young villagers are encouraged to organise youth clubs. Mahila Samitis are started for the welfare of women-folk. For the use of children, children parks and balwaries are started. Panchayatghars, and community centres are started and community listening sets are provided for the benefit of community.

The villagers are encouraged to construct roads and also to repair the old ones. They are also assisted to construct culverts on the roads.

Demonstration-cum-training centres are set up where people are trained in various arts and crafts.

Co-operations (Tables 15 and 16)*.—show the progress of co-operative movement in the District during period 1956 to 1960.

The first co-operative society registered in the District in 1916, was the Balian Co-operative Credit Society in village Balian, Tahsil Sangrur, with a membership of 15 and a share capital of Rs. 150. Since then the movement has made steady progress. The partition damaged these societies badly. The apex institutions like the Provincial Co-operative Bank and the Punjab Co-operative Union were left behind in West Pakistan. Deposits accumulated in long years were lost overnight. The mass migration of Muslim members suddenly depleted the ranks of societies and the loans advanced to them became bad debts. The movement, however, recovered from the shock quickly and dashed for still better achievements as is clear from the below given figures:

Societies	1956-57		1959-60
	Number	Membership	Number	Membership
Agricultural Credit Societies	598	35,768	812	66,766
Agricultural Non-credit Societies	255	8,469	303	12,587
Non-Agricultural Credit Societies	158	4,505	146	5,398
Non-Agricultural Non-Credit Societies	448	13,556	614	19,997

*Pages 62 & 63.

There were two Banks and Banking unions in the District in 1956-57, with a membership of 1,269 and a working capital of 5,184 thousand rupees. They advanced loans to the tune of Rs. 4,744 thousand. In 1959-60, though there was no change in their number but membership and working capital increased to 1,581 and 9,218 thousand rupees, respectively. The loans issued were 11,336 thousand rupees.

Agricultural credit societies form the pivot in the co-operative movement. The societies inculcate the habit of thrift and credit. In 1956-57, the number of such societies was 598 with membership 35,768 and a working capital of 5,388 thousand rupees. They advanced loans amounting to Rs. 3,218 thousand. By 1959-60, their number went up to 812 with a membership of 66,766 and a working capital of 8,277 thousand rupees. The loans advanced in that year were 5,604 thousand rupees. There are some co-operative societies which are confined exclusively to the Harijans.

The number of Agricultural Non-credit Societies was 255 in 1956-57, 294 in 1958-59 and 303 in 1959-60. The membership increased from 8,469 in 1956-57 to 12,587 in 1959-60. Collectively they had a working capital of 962 thousand rupees in 1956-57 and 3,017 thousand rupees in 1959-60.

Non-agricultural Co-operative Societies provide finances to artisans, traders, salary earners and persons in low-income group in the urban areas. In 1956-57, their number was 158. This number declined to 146 in 1959-60, but their membership showed an increase from 4,505 in 1956-57 to 5,398 in 1959-60. The working capital of these societies increased from 467 thousand rupees in 1956-57 to 484 thousand rupees in 1959-60.

The District has taken appreciable strides in the direction of co-operative marketing and processing of agricultural produce. It had 11 marketing societies with a membership of 3,502 in 1959-60, against 6 societies with a membership of 1,190 in 1956-57. These societies in addition to functioning as commission agents also purchase wheat and other commodities for Government whenever required.

There were three sugarcane supply co-operative societies with a membership of 1,644 in 1959-60 in this District. They help the farmers to improve the quality of the sugarcane to increase yield per acre and to sell it out to the mills. Milk supply co-operative societies increased from 4 with 44 members in 1956-57 to 18 with 234 members in 1959-60.

The number of farming societies had gone up to 51 with 677 members in 1959-60 from 33 with 489 members in 1956-57.

Small scale and cottage industries are formed on co-operative basis in order to purchase raw material for artisans and also to dispose off their finished goods. In 1959-60, there were 48 weavers' societies with 828 members, and 156 other industrial co-operative societies with 2,175 members.

Panchayati Raj (Table 37)*.—Many foreign invaders made depredations into this country during the last centuries, but they could not leave behind any permanent impression on the Indian way of life and culture. With the passage of time, they merged themselves in the vast ocean of Indian culture of which our village panchayats were the biggest repositories. The British regime did a great harm by replacing the panchayats with a centralised bureaucratic system of administration. It was strongly felt that if India wants to regain her lost glory, the village panchayats must be revived. Mahatma Gandhi wrote "India's independence must begin at the bottom. Thus every village will be a republic or a Panchayat having full powers. In this structure composed of innumerable villages, there will be ever-widening, never ascending circles. Life will not be a pyramid with the apex sustained by the bottom. But it will be an oceanic circle, whose centre will be the individual, always ready to perish for the village". Our leaders fully shared this view and accordingly the organisation of village Panchayats was made one of the directive principles of the state policy in the constitution of India.

The Punjab Gram Panchayat Act, 1952, amended from time to time, and the Panchayat Samitis and Zila Parishad Act, 1961, form the corner stones of the Panchayati Raj. This structure consists of three tiers, namely, a Panchayat at village level, a Panchayat Samiti at the Block level, and a Zila Parishad at the District level. All these three are linked with each other by means of indirect elections, but they do not constitute heirarchy where one is subordinate to the other. Their spheres of activities are clearly defined and have independent sources of income which enables them to function without losing initiative and self reliance.

Gram Panchayats.—A Panchayat comprises of 5 to 9 members including Sarpanch, who are elected by adult franchise. Adequate representation is provided for women and members of Scheduled Castes. In case no woman is elected as a Panch; one is co-opted as additional Panch. Election is conducted by secret ballot and the term of each member was three years previously, which has now been raised to five years. The first elections for village Panchayats were held in 1953 and the second in 1961.

In Sangrur District, the number of village Panchayats was 246 in 1952-53. This number rose to 623 in 1954-55 and 831 in 1960-61, and the number of members also increased from 4,192 to 5,058.

The Panchayats are expected to give cheap and ready justice. On the criminal side, they have been vested with the powers to try minor offences like petty thefts, hurt, affray, and committing public nuisance. They are under the control of District Magistrate, who can hear appeals against their decisions and also transfer the cases from one Panchayat to the other. On the civil and revenue side, the village Panchayats have been given the powers to try civil and revenue cases upto certain pecuniary limits, and for these cases they are under the control of District Judge and Collector, respectively.

Most of the villages are, however, factionridden, and the system of elections seems to have increased the factional spirit. The Panchayat proceedings are generally marred by group rivalries and group feelings. These are perhaps the pangs of birth, and with the spread of education, proper guidance and maturity of public opinion, t is hoped the things will improve.

In 1955-56, the number of civil and revenue cases instituted with the village Panchayats was 2,377. Out of this, 2,318 were decided, compromised and dismissed. Corresponding figures in 1960-61, were 2,264 and 1,964, respectively. On criminal side, Panchayats tried 419 cases in the year 1953-54, out of which 298 were either decided or compromised or dismissed. In 1958-59, the number of criminal cases instituted with the Panchayats came down to 214, out of which 168 were decided.

The above quoted figures call for two observations. First, there has been a decline in the number of cases coming before the Panchayats. This reduction has been attributed to the villages showing a preference for regular courts to adjudicate their disputes, perhaps because there they expect more impartiality. Second, a majority of cases coming to the village Panchayats are compromised. The latter is a pleasant feature, making for harmony among the village community.

The Panchayats also look to the needs of their respective areas in regard to agriculture, education, public health, animal husbandry, industries, relief to the poor and other constructional activities. They are expected to arrange for 50 per cent of the cost of local development works sponsored by the Development Department in cash, kind or labour. With the help of the Development Department they have opened new schools; constructed new school buildings and repaired the old ones; opened libraries, reading rooms and adult education centres; constructed wells for drinking water and renovated the old ones; constructed new roads; installed hand-pumps and tube-wells; constructed drains, latrines and smokeless chullas; organised new co-operative societies; dug compost pits; laid out model farms; constructed Panchayatghars; arranged community listening sets, play grounds and children parks.

The village common lands now vest with the Panchayats. They receive a percentage of land revenue collections of their village and grants from Government and sometimes also from local bodies. They levy house tax and raise voluntary contributions. The fines and penalties they impose are also transferred to their funds. The total income of the Panchayats in Sangrur District was 1,258 thousand rupees in 1960-61, against an expenditure of 1,094 thousand rupees on public works, education, public health, administration, agriculture and veterinary services (Table 37)*.

Panchayat Samitis.—There is a a Panchayat Samiti for each Block. The Samiti comprises (i) 16 members, e'ected by the Panches and Sarpanches; (ii) two members elected by the Co-operative Societies; and (iii) one member elected by the Market Committees. Besides, every M.L.A. with his constituency in the Block and such members of the Punjab Legislative Council as the Government may specify, work on the Samiti as associate members. Two women interested in social work and four persons belonging to the Scheduled Castes; if not elected otherwise, work as co-opted members. The S.D.O. (civil) and the Block Development and Panchayat Officer of the Block, work as ex-officio members,without the right to vote. The chairman and the vice-chairman are elected from among the elected members for a term of three years, which has now been raised to five years.

The Panchayat Samitis provide and make arrangements for carrying out the requirements of the area under their jurisdiction, in respect of agriculture, animal husbandry, health and rural sanitation, communications, social education, co-operation, and such other miscellaneous duties as development of cottage and small scale industries and other development works. The Samiti is also the agent of the Government for the formulation and execution of community development programme.

The sources of income with the Samiti would be Local Rate, derived from public institutions like schools and markets, fee from fairs and shows, rents and profits accruing from properties vested in it, and such money and grants which the Government may place at its disposal. The Samiti can, with the permission of the Zila Parishad impose any tax which the State Legislature has power to impose under the constitution.

Zila Parishad.—The Zila Parishad consists of the chairman of every Panchayat Samiti, two members elected by each Panchayat Samiti, every M.P., M.L.A., M.L.C., representing the District or any part thereof, and the Deputy Commissioner. Two women and five members belonging to the Scheduled Castes, if not elected otherwise, are co-opted as members. The M.Ps., M.L.As., M.L.Cs., and the Deputy Commissioner do not have the right to vote. The Parishad has a chairman and a vice-chairman, elected by the elected members for three years (now raised to five years).

The Parishad consolidates and co-ordinates the plans prepared by the Panchayat Samitis, examines and approves the budgets of the Panchayat Samitis and advises the Government in regard to Panchayats and Panchayat Samitis, and keeps a watch over agricultural and production programmes and construction works.

The income of the Parishad accrues from Central or State Government funds allotted to it, grants from all-India bodies and institutions for the development of cottage,villageand small scale industries, share of land cess, State tax or fees, income from endowments and such contributions as the Zila Parishad may levy on the Panchayat Samitis.

The Zila Parishad, in this District, started functioning in the year 1963.

Local Bodies (Table 38)*.—There are 17 municipal committees in the District. None of them belongs to class I. Ten are of class II and the remaining seven of class III. The Malerkotla Municipal Committee, constituted in 1905, is the oldest in the District. The Lehragaga Municipal Committee was set up in 1957 and Julana in 1949. All other municipal committees are of the pre-partition period.

In 1960-61, the combined income of all the 17 committees amounted to Rs. 3,333,924. Except in Narwana and Jind Municipal Committees more than 60 per cent of the income accrues to the committees from octroi. In 1960-61, Narwana had an income of Rs. 998,696 and Jind only half of it. Barnala, Malerkotla, Sunam, Sangrur, Ahmedgarh, Dhuri and Safidon has an income between 10 and thirty thousand rupees. Others are small units.

The total expenditure of all the 17 committees in 1960-61 amounted to Rs. 3,397,078, thus showing a deficit of about sixty thousand rupees. 25 per cent of the total expenditure was incurred on public health, another 8 per cent on water supply, 6 per cent each on public safety and municipal properties. Only 2 per cent was spent on education. The income and expenditure per capita was the highest in Uchana and lowest in Longowal Municipal Committees.

RAINFALL

Table 1 presents monthly and annual rainfall and the number of rainy days, separately during ten years ending 1960, for the various stations in the District. In the last column has been shown the average rainfall in each month during the year 1951 to 1960. These figures are very interesting, since they bring out the seasonal distribution of rains.

The rainfall figures have been given in inches, but the annual figures have been shown also in centimetres. Rainfall records are maintained at various important stations in the District.

AGRICULTURE

Table 2 shows the utilisation of land in the District for the period 1901-1961. Information has been worked out for the quinquenniums centring around the Census years 1901, 1911, 1921, 1931, 1941, 1951 and 1961. In this case the year is the agricultural year, ending with the 30th June.

The classification of area has been made according to the following scheme:—

(i) Geographical area represents the total land area as worked out from the Surveyor General and Village Papers. The changes in the area may be due to territorial adjustments, or remeasurement of land.

(ii) Forests include all area actually under forests, whether State owned or private, and administered as forests.

(iii) Land not available for cultivation comprises land put to non-agricultural uses, barren and uncultivable land like mountains, river and canal beds, roads and railway lines, buildings, etc.

(iv) Other uncultivable land includes (a) culturable wastes and other fallows; (b) permanent pastures and other grazing lands ; and (c) land under miscellaneous tree crops and groves, not included under net area sown.

Category (a) comprises land which can be brought under cultivation but which has not yet been cultivated or has remained uncultivated successively for more than four years. Category (b) includes all such lands which are used permanently for grazing or collection of grass. Category (c) includes lands bearing fruit orchards and other plantations.

(v) Fallow land is of two types : First lands which have remained out of cultivation for a period not less than one year but not more than 4 years, second lands which are left fallow up to one year only (current fallows).

(vi) Net area sown is the area on which sowing is actually done during the course of a year.

While digging the foundation of the new Gurdwara a few letters, written by the ninth and tenth Gurus, were found in two kujjas (small earthen pots) at two different places. In the letters, it was predicated that new Gurdwara would be built and that Guru Gobind Singh would be visiting the place on Poh 15 every year. These sacred letters have been preserved in a glass case and people visit the place in order to have a darshan of them.

*He was born in 1902, in Sunam District of the then Patiala State. His father Tehal Singh was a petty railway employee posted at the Railway crossing Amritsar. His mother Narain Kaur died in his childhood. He was brought up and educated at the Chief Khalsa Diwan Orphanage, Amritsar. Some of his companions from the Orphanage fell to bullets of the Britishers in the Jallian-Wala Bagh tragedy of 1919 enacted under orders of the Punjab Governor, Sir Michael O'Dwyer. This moved him intensely and he took a vow to take revenge. He was in search of an opportunity and accompanied a contractor to the U.S.A. where he contacted the Indian revolutionaries. On a call from Bhagat Singh, the great martyr, he returned to India where he remained under detention for four years. Then he managed a passport and went to London where he remained for about seven years. On March 13, 1940, he attended a public meeting at the India House where Sir Michael O'Dwyer was also to speak. The latter had hardly uttered a few words when Udham Singh shot him dead with a pistol. He surrendered himself to police then and there, made a confession and was sentenced to death. He was hanged on the 13th June, 1940.

*In times gone by, there was great scarcity of drinking water in the area. All over it was a big jungle. Some persons one day saw a he-buffalo with some tiny green plants stuck on to its back and horns. At once they thought that the animal had been to a pond. Next day, they followed him and reached a pond where the animal drank water. Thus a store of water was traced. It was dug wide and the people called it Ramsar, tank of God, and began to worship it. While digging it an idol of Krishna was found and alongwith it were traced some steps made of glass-like material. The tank is believed to be mysterious and the fact was proved when an elephant which entered it to drink water never returned. It is also believed that once two learned brothers named Kapil Muni and Ramsar used to live here. The tank has been named after Ramsar, who used to live nearer the tank.

†Ram Rai is supposed to be located within the area of Kurukshetra of yore and a temple dedicated to Parsu Ram, incarnation of Vishnu, exists here. Parsu Ram is believed to have killed the kashatriyas twenty-one times here and to have filled five kunds (reservoirs) with their blood for propitiating the souls of his ancestors. It is believed that a bath at 'Sanet Tirath' situated nearly is holier than that at Thanesar even.

‡This place is also supposed to be located in the area of Kurukshetra of yore. Originally called Ek Hans, Aikas is the corrupted form of the old name. The place is also called Dhundo (search out) because Daryodhana hid himself here during the battle of Mahabharata.

Situated within the area of Kurukshetra of yore, the place is held sacred. The Pandvas are stated to have visited it during the battle of Mahabharata. Another legend says that in ancient times a sadhu came here and on him he had a pitcher in which he had collected sacred waters from athsath tirthas (sixty eight places of pilgrimage). The pitcher was placed in the temple and to commemorate that events, the fair is held.

†*The village is supposed to be located within the area of Kurukshetra of yore. It is said that the Pandvas offered pinds (round balls of kneaded flour) to their departed ancestors here. People take a bath in the tank and offer pinds to their fore-fathers.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Tables presented below have been prepared from the data collected during the 1961-census. Some of the Tables give information up to Tahsil and Town level, and have been prepared exclusively for this volume. Tables A—IV, B—III (Part A), B—VI, B—VIII (Part A), C—III (Part B) and SCT—III (Part A) give information only for urban areas: Tahsilwise Tables for urban areas could not be prepared since sorting of slips was done for non-city urban areas of the District as a single unit. Slips for the five cities in the State were, however, sorted separately. The Tables have been grouped under suitable series and are explained below.

A—SERIES : GENERAL POPULATION TABLES

These Tables deal with distribution of population in 1961 and its growth since 1901. There are four Tables and three Appendices in this series.

Table A-I shows area both in square miles and square kilometers; number of villages, inhabited and uninhabited; number of towns; number of occupied houses; and population for the District, each Tahsil and town, with sex break-up. The figures for towns have been given below the Tahsils in which they are located. Figures are given for the total, rural and urban areas, separately.

The area figures for the District and Tahsils were obtained from the Director of Land Records, Punjab and those for urban areas from the respective Local Bodies. Rural figures were worked out by substracting the urban figures from the total area figures.

Occupied residential house refers to those houses which were actually used for residence, either exclusively or jointly with some other use. Thus vacant houses and houses used for shops, factories, workshops, offices, etc., have not been included in these figures.

In the 1961-census an urban area or town was defined as a place having a local administration, such as Municipal Committee or Cantonment Board, or an area treated as a town because of its having (a) population exceeding 5,000 and (b) at least 75 per cent of its male workers were engaged in non-agricultural pursuits.

Persons were enumerated according to the place of their residence and not their place of work, except in the case of visitors who were enumerated wherever the enumerators met them and on inquiry were told that such persons had not been enumerated before. The population so recorded in towns has been styled as urban populaion and the rest as rural population.

Village, as in previous censuses, refers to an area for which a separate Record of Rights is maintained, or which has been separately assessed to Land Revenue, or would have been so assessed if the Land Revenue had not been realised or compounded or redeemed, or which the state Government had otherwise declared as an 'estate'. This definition of village is identical with that of 'mauza' under section 3 (1) of the Punjab Land Revenue Act, 1887. The definition applies to a demarcated area of land not to a residential site. In hills, cultivation is generally scattered and the population generally lives in homesteads built on individual farms or in groups of hamlets. There also the revenue estate is known as 'mauza', but the smaller units are called tikkas in Kangra District except in Kulu where the revenue estate is termed as kothi and the smaller unit is phati. In Lahaul & Spiti District the rvenue eastate is referred to as Kothi and its components as gaon.

Appendix I shows the territorial changes which took place during the decade 1951—61. Such Tahsils as had not undergone any change of area during the decade have not been mentioned in the appendix.

Appendix II shows the number and population of villages each having 5,000 or more persons, and towns with population under 5,000. The population living in such big villages and towns of small size has also been shown as percentage of total, rural and urban population, under columns 4 and 7.

Appendix III relates to the houseless and institutional population.

Members of wandering tribes, tramps, pavement dwellers and others who do not live as households comprise the houseless population. These persons were enumerated on the night between the 28th February and 1st March, 1961.

Residential institutions such as, jails, hostels, hotels and boarding-houses, were treated as households, and their inmates were treated as members of these households. Policemen and Defence personnel living in barracks or under canvas, and taking their meals from a common kitchen, were also treated as institutional population.

Table A-II shows the population of the District at the time of censuses from 1901 to 1961, and variations in population—in absolute figures and percentage—in each decade. The population figures for the previous censuses have been adjusted according to the 1961 territory of the District.

In Table A-III the villages have been graded according to the size of population as shown below, and for each group the number of villages and their population have been shown.

Villages with population—

(a) less than 200;

(b) 200 to 499;

(c) 500 to 999;

(d) 1,000 to 1,999;

(e) 2,000 to 4,999; and

(f) 5,000 or more.

The term 'village' has already been defined.

Table A-IV shows the population of each town since 1941. The absolute and percentage variations during the two decades have also been worked out. Where a town was not treated as such in any earlier census, its population for that census has not been shown in this Table.

Where two or more towns are adjacent and together form a compact urban unit, their combined population as a town group has also been worked out.

B—SERIES : ECONOMIC TABLES

The Tables of this series relate for the most part to economic activities: thirteen among them deal with the population as individuals and the other nine as households. The population has been distributed in the first instance into Workers and Non-workers. The Workers have been classified (a) into nine industrial categories, further sub-divided into major and minor groups as listed in the "Indian Standard Industrial Classification" (Annexure A) adopted by the Government of India, and (b) according to occupations listed in the "National Classification of Occupations" (Annexure B).

In earlier censuses income or economic independence was taken as the criterion for measuring the economy of the country. Account was made of all the persons who were economically independent and those who were economically dependent. An intermediate category of semi-dependence was introduced from the 1931-census. This category was called 'working dependent' in 1931, 'partly dependent' in 1941 and 'earning dependent' in 1951. A radical change was made in 1961 on the basis of classification of population, discarding economic independence in favour of work.

In the 1961-censes a person was classed as worker if engaged in seasonal work and worked at least for an hour a day throughout the greater part of the working season. If engaged in any trade, profession or service, the basis of work was satisfied if the person was employed during any of the fifteen days preceding the enumeration. Of course, the concept of work covered also supervision and direction of work.

A person who was working but was absent from work due to illness or other reasons, was also counted as a worker. A person who was offered work but did not actually join was, however, taken as a non-worker. Persons under training as apprentices with or without stipends or wages were also recorded as workers.

An adult woman who was engaged in household duties but did no other productive work to directly augment the family resources was not considered to be a worker. But if in addition to her household work she engaged herself in an activity, such as rice-pounding for sale or wages, domestic service for wages, collecting and selling grass or firewood, or making and selling cow-dung cakes, she was treated as a worker. Persons lilke beggars, pensioners, agricultural or non-agricultural royalty or rent or dividend receivers, who earned an income but were not participating in any productive work were not treated as workers unless they also worked in cultivation, industry, trade, profession, business or commerce.

A public or social service worker actively engaged in public service or furthering the cause of a political party was recorded as a worker.

The census questionnaire did not have any question to determine the position about a person being fully or partially employed.

A person doing more than one work was classed under the principal work which consumed a larger portion of his working time, and not according to the work which brought him a major portion of income.

Table B-I gives figures for workers and non-workers according to sex and broad age-groups. Workers have been classified into the following nine industrial categories:--

(1) as cultivators;

(2) as agricultural labourers;

(3) in mining,quarrying, livestock, forestry,fishing, hunting and plantations, orchards, and allied activities,

(4) at household industry;

(5) in manufacturing other than household industry;

(6) in construction;

(7) in trade and commerce;

(8) in transport, storage and communications; and

(9) in other services.

Cultivator is a person who is engaged in cultivation on his own or rented land, i.e., an owner-cultivator or tenant.

Agricultural labourer is a person who works for another person's land for wages in cash, kind or share of produce.

Household Industry is an industry conducted by the head of the household himself and/or mainly members of the household at home or within the village in rural areas and only at home in urban areas.

Construction refers to construction and maintenance of buildings, roads, railways, bridges, canals, etc.

The other five categories are self-explanatory.

Non-worker is a person who is not at work, as defined above.

Table B-III (Part A) has been prepared only for the urban areas and gives the classification of workers and non-workers by educational levels. Workers have heen distributed further into nine industrial categories.

In the 1961-census, the test for literacy was ability to read and write a simple letter. A person who fulfilled this test was taken as literate. In case he had attained any educational standard, the highest examination passed was recorded in the enumeration slip.

These qualifications have been grouped into six educational levels. The sixth level 'Technical Degree or Diploma equal to Degree or Post-Graduate Degree' is sub-divided into seven groups.

Table B-III (Part B) relates to rural areas, and the educational levels are confined only to (i) Primary or Junior Basic, and (ii) Matriculation or above.

Table B-IV (Part A) shows the distribution of workers engaged in household industry by sex and class of workers. They have been divided further into branches of industry listed in the "Indian Standard Industrial Classification" (Annexure A.) Figures have been given for total, rural and urban areas for the District. Tahsil figures are only for rural areas, and up to the industrial Divisions. Major groups which do not have any figures, have been excluded from this Table. In cols. 5 and 6 the workers, who work as employees in the household industry run by others, have been shown. 'Others' under cols. 7 and 8 include workers, who work at their own household industries.

Table B-IV (Part B) shows the distribution of workers engaged in industrial categories III, V, VI, VII, VIII and IX. Workers have further been divided into various Divisions and Major Groups according to the "Indian Standard Industrial Classification" (Annexure A). Material is given only for total and urban areas. Figures for rural areas have not been given in order to save space. Workers have further been classified into employers, employees, single workers and family workers.

An employer is a person who employs other persons in order to perform economic activity in which he is engaged.

An employee is a person who works under others for wages or salary in cash or kind. Persons who are employed as Managers, Superintendents, Agents, etc. and in that capacity employ or control other workers on behalf of their employers have also been taken as employees.

Single worker is a person who works of his own accord without employing others and without the help of other members of the family. This includes members of co-operatives also.

Family worker is a person who works in his own family without wages or salary.

Table B-IV (Part C) shows the distribution of all workers, other than cultivators and agricultural labourers into various Industrial Divisions, Major Groups and Minor Groups or 'Indian Standard Industrial Classification' (Annexure A). The number of workers in each Division, Major Group or Minor Group has been divided further into workers in household industry and workers in non-household industries. Material is given only for total and urban areas. Tahsil figures for rural areas are given up to Industrial Divisions. Major and Minor Groups, which do not employ any worker, have not been included in this Table.

Table B-V gives the distribution of persons at work, other than cultivators and agricultural labourers, according to their occupation. Occupations have been divided into various Divisions, Groups and Families according to the "National Classification of Occupations" (Annexure B). Break-up according to Industrial categories has also been shown for each Occupational Division, Group and Family. Total and urban figures have been given for the District. But in the case of Tahsils, rural figures have been given only up to Occupational Divisions.

Table B-VI presents the distribution of workers, other than those engaged in cultivation. This has been prepared only for urban areas and up to the Divisions of the "National Classification of Occupations" (Annexure B). Persons of each Occupational Division have been further classified by broad age groups and educational levels.

Table B-VII has been prepared in two parts. Part-A is a cross-tabulation of persons whose principal and secondary work are any two of (i) cultivation, (ii) agricultural labour, or (iii) household industry. Part-B gives data of the persons who are principally engaged in non-household industry, trade, business, profession or service but have household industry as secondary work.

This Table has been prepared separately for total, rural and urban population for the District. For Tahsils, figures have been given only for Industrial Divisions and that too for rural areas.

Table B-VIII has been prepared in two parts: Part-A for urban areas, and Part-B for rural areas. They show the distribution of unemployed persons aged 15 and above, by educational levels. The unemployed persons are the total of columns 19 to 22 of Table B-IX.

In Part-A, unemployed persons have been further divided into two groups: (i) seeking employment for the first time; and (ii) persons employed before but now out of employment and seeking work. These groups have been divided into different age groups also. Part-B gives Tahsilwise information also.

Table B-IX relates to non-workers and gives their distribution into the following eight types of activities by broad age groups: —

(i) whole-time students doing no other work;

(ii) persons engaged in unpaid home duties;

(iii) dependents, including children not attending school, and persons permanently disabled from work because of illness or old age;

(iv) retired persons, not employed again, rentiers and other persons of independent means without having to work;

(v) beggars, vagrants or independent women without an indication of their source of income;

(vi) convicts in jail or inmates of a penal, mental or charitable institutions;

(vii) Persons seeking employment for the first time; or

(viii) Persons employed before but now out of employment and seeking work.

Separate figures have been given for total, rural and urban areas for the District and only rural figures in case of Tahsils.

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMIC TABLES

Household Economic Tables (B-X to B-XVII) have been prepared from a 20 per cent sample of household schedules. In the census history, information for the household as a whole has been collected for the first time.

The Household Schedule consists of two parts. In Part-I, after recording the name of the head of the household and whether he belonged to a Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, the following particulars were recorded about the household.

A. If the household was engaged in cultivation, the area of land with it under ownership and tenancy, and any portion of holding given out to others for cultivation. Information about area rented out was also recorded for the households who owned land and had given the entire holding to others for cultivation;

B. If the household was engaged in household industry, the nature of the industry and the number of the months in a year it was conducted ; and

C. Number of members of the household and any hired workers pursuing household cultivation, household industry, or both these activities.

Part-II was filled in from individual Slips of the persons residing in that household.

Table B-X contains information on sampled households which have been divided into the following four categories:—

(i) engaged neither in cultivation nor in household industry ;

(ii) engaged in cultivation only ;

(iii) engaged in household industry only ; and

(iv) engaged both in cultivation and household industry.

The number of households given in column 3 if multiplied by 5 will not tally with that given in the Primary Census Abstract, because the schedules relating to institututions were not taken into account for drawing the sample.

In Table B-XI the sampled households, engaged in cultivation, have been classified by interest in land and size of land cultivated. This Table has been prepared for rural and urban areas separately. Interest in land is of the following three types :—

(i) owned or held from Government ;

(ii) held from private persons or institutions for payment in money, kind or share ; and

(iii) partly owned or held from Government, and partly from private persons for payment in money, kind or share.

These types of interest in land have been cross-tabulated by different sizes of land-holdings.

Table B-XII classifies the cultivating households by (1) size of land cultivated, and (2) number of family and hired workers engaged in cultivation. Sex break-up of the family workers has also been given.

Table B-XIII shows the distribution of sampled households engaged both in cultivation and household industry, into different sizes of land holding, separately for rural and urban areas of the District. Household industries have been divided into Major Groups according to "Indian Standard Industrial Classification" (Annexure A).

Table B-XIV has been prepared in two parts, separately for total, rural and urban population of the District. In Part-A the households have been distributed by nature of household industry and number of persons engaged into the following five size-groups:—

(i) 1 person;
(ii) 2 persons;
(iii) 3 to 5 persons;
(iv) 6 to 10 persons ; and
(v) more than 10 persons.

This part gives data up to Major Groups, while Part-B gives the distribution up to Minor Groups. Col 2 gives description of the industry.

Table B-XV is similar to Table B-XII, but relates to such households as were engaged simultaneously in cultivation and household industry.

Table B-XVI attempts distribution of sampled households engaged in household industry, according to period of working and number of persons engaged therein, separately for total, rural and urban areas of the District. Data in respect of households engaged in household industry only or both in household industry and cultivation has been given separately.

Table B-XVII distributes the households according to the number of their members. For rural areas the follo wing additional information has been given :—

(i) households engaged neither in cultivation nor in household industry;
(ii) those in household industry only ;
(iii) those engaged in cultivation ; and
(iv) distribution of cultivating households according to the size of their operational holdings.

C— SERIES : SOCIAL AND CULTURAL TABLES

Eight Tables, dealing with social and cultural aspects such as age, marital status, literacy and education, language, religion appear under this series. Table C-I has been prepared from a 20 per cent sample of the household schedules, while other Tables are prepared on full count from the individual slips.

Table C-I shows the composition of sampled households according to relationship to the head of the family. Size of operational holdings with the households is also shown for rural areas on the same lines as in Table B-XVII.

Table C-II presents data on age and marital status for total, rural and urban population of the District, and for rural population only in the case of Tahsils. Marital status has been divided into (i) never married; (ii) married ; (iii) widowed ; and (iv) divorced or separated. In 1961-Census, quinquennial age groups, as recommended by the United Nations for population census, have been adopted.

Age groups 0—4 and 5—9 have been combined since all the persons up to the age of 9, have been treated as 'never married'.

From this Table, it can be ascertained whether proportions, in various marital status conditions, have increased or decreased since the last census and whether any trend is observed in the age of marriage. This also gives an account of mortality in each marital status and also in different age groups. Data in Col. 9 on married females by age groups can be utilised for forecasting the future births. In 1951-Census, this Table was prepared on 10 per cent sample, but this time on a full count.

Table C-III has three parts; Part-A for all areas; Part-B for urban areas; and Part-C for rural areas. Population in various age groups has been classified according to educational levels. The educational levels for all areas and rural areas are the same whereas for urban areas they have been further divided into various groups since education is more pronounced and diversified in urban areas.

Table C-V shows the distribution of population by mother tongue separately for total, rural and urban population in the District and for rural population in the Tahsils.

Mother tongue was defined as the language spoken by the person's mother to the person in his childhood or mainly spoken in the house. If the mother died in a child's infancy, the language mostly spoken in the person's home in childhood was recorded.

A Table on bilingulism has also been prepared in 1961-census. This Table is not included in this Volume, and may be found in Part II-C (i) of Punjab Census Report.

Table C-VII shows the distribution of population according to six main religions, for total, rural and urban areas of the District. All other religions have been grouped under "Others". Tahsilwise figures ha ve also been given for rural areas.

Table C-VIII shows the distribution of Scheduled Caste population according to literacy and nine industrial categories of workers, and non-workers, separately for total, rural and Urban population in the District.

Scheduled Castes are the castes listed in the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes List Modification Order (Ministry of Home Affairs Notification No. SRO/2477-A, dated the 29th October, 1956). These castes, in Punjab, are :—

1. Throughout the State :—
(1) Ad Dharmi; (2) Bangali; (3) Barar, Burar or Berar; (4) Batwal; (5) Bauria or Bawaria; (6) Bazigar; (7) Balmiki, Chura or Bhangi; (8) Bhanjra; (9) Chamar, Jatia Chamar, Rehgar, Raigar, Ramdasi or Ravidasi; (10) Chanal; (11) Dagi; (12) Dhanak; (13) Dumna, Mahasha or Doom; (14) Gagra; (15) Gandhila or Gandhil Gondola; (16) Kabirpanthi or Julaha; (17) Khatik; (18) Kori or Koli; (19)Marija or Marecha; (20) Mazhabi; (21) Megh; (22) Nat; (23) Od; (24) Pasi; (25) Perna; (26) Pherera; (27) Sanhai; (28) Sanhal; (29) Sansi, Bhedkut or Manesh; (30) Sapela; (31) Sarera; (32) Sikligar; and (33) Sirkiband.

2. Throughout the State except the Districts of Patiala, Bhatinda, Mahendragarh, Kapurthala and Sangrur :—

(1) Darain; (2) Dhogri, Dhangri or Siggi; and (3) Sansoi.

3. In the Districts of Patiala, Bhatinda, Mahendragarh, Kapurthala and Sangrur :—

Deha, Dhaya or Dhea.

D—SERIES : MIGRATION TABLES

Six Tables were prepared on this subject. Migration has been inferred from the place of birth, a question asked from each individual during the 1961-census. Two allied questions were whether the birth pla ce was a rural or urban area, and the duration of residence at the place of enumeration if born elsewhere.

In this book only one Table has been included : the other Tables are to be found in Part II-C (ii) of the Punjab Census Report.

Table D-II presents the figures for persons born (1) at place of enumeration, (2) elsewhere in the District, (3) in other Districts of the State, (4) in other States of India, and (5) in other countries. Births have been classified into rural and urban areas. This information when studied with the place of enumeration sheds an interesting light on the movement of population from villages to towns and vice versa.

E—SERIES : HOUSING TABLES

Prior to 1961-census, the preparation of houselists differed from State to State since the main idea was to prepare the framework for conducting the census. In the 1961-census, one uniform pattern for houselist has been adopted. In the houselist data on housing such as material of wall, roof, number of rooms, the uses to which they are put, as well as data relating to establishments such as the names of the estiblishments and the products produced, number of persons working, and kind of fuel and power used and number of males and females living therein in case it was used as dwelling, was collected. Five Tables have been prepared in this series from the data so collected. Tables E-I and E-III have been prepared on full count and the other three Tables on 20 per cent samples out of the dwellings. Table E-III, which gives the number of workshops and factories in each industry by kind of fuel and size of employment, has not been given here for want of space. Instead, a running statement, showing the number of establishments in each industry for each village and town has been given. Industries have been shown according to code numbers of the "Indian Standard Industrial Classification" reproduced at Annexure 'A'. Other Tables present data for the District and its Tahsils for total, rural and urban areas, separately, as well as for towns with a population of 50,000 or more. Urban figures of each Tahsil are inclusive of town figures, if any shown thereunder.

Table E-I shows the distribution of census houses according to the use they are put to. Col. 4 gives the number of "vacant houses" which are found vacant at the time of houselisting.

In the earlier censuses the "census house" was defined as a dwelling with a separate main entrance. In the 1961-census the concept of "census house" was made broad as to cover any "structure or part of a structure inhabited or vacant, or a dwelling, a shop, a shop-cum-dwelling or a place of business, workshop, school, etc. with a separate entrance."

Table E-II prepared on 20 per cent sample shows the distribution of census households living in census houses according to their tenure status. Houses lived in by the owners were classed as "owned" and the houses lived in any other capacity were shown as 'rented".

Table E-IV has been prepared from a 20 per cent sample and distributes the houses according to the predominant material going into the construction of walls and the roof.

Where a house consisted of separate structures, each of different materials, the material out of which the walls of the main bed-rooms had been built, was recorded. The roofs were classified on the same basis. In case of multi-storeyed buildings, the intermediate floor or floors have been taken as the roofs of the lower floors.

Table E-V has also been prepared on 20 per cent sample, and shows the distribution of households according to number of rooms occupied by them, such as no regular room, one room, two rooms, three rooms, four rooms, and five rooms or more. The number of persons comprising the households have also been given according to the number of rooms they occupied.

SPECIAL TABLES FOR SCHEDULED CASTES AND SCHEDULED TRIBES

The Constitution of India has provided special safeguards for the members of the Scheduled Castes and President of India has notified the Castes which fall in the list of Scheduled Castes for this purpose. This list has been given in the explanatory note to Table C-VIII above. Hence it has been found desirable to give information in regard to these Castes separately, though they have been included in the general population Tables.

According to the Presidential order referred to above the Scheduled Tribes are found in this State only in Lahaul & Spiti District. Similar Tables have also been prepared for them and may be found in the State Census Report, Part V-A, and District Census Handbook for Lahaul & Spiti.

Table SCT-I classifies into workers and non-workers the number of each Scheduled Caste, giving further details according to nine industrial categories of workers. Since most of the members of the Scheduled Castes are engaged in special types of occupations, such as "tanning and curing of hides and skins" and "scavanging", number of persons following these occupations have also been given under cols. 27 to 30.

Table SCT-II presents data for each caste according to age and marital status. The age groups adopted are 0—14, 15—44 and 45 and above.

Table SCT-III has been prepared in two parts, dealing with urban and rural areas, respectively. In this Table members of each caste have been classified according to educational levels.

Table SCT-IV furnishes data for each caste according to religion, separately for rural and urban areas of the District. Members of the Scheduled Castes can only be either Hindus or Sikhs, so their religion-wise break-up is confined to these two religions.

Table SCT-V has been prepared on 20 per cent sample from the households, showing their distribution according to interest in land cultivated and size of operational holdings.

Table SC-I classifies the members of the Scheduled Castes who are not at work by the type of activity according to educational levels. Only three activities of non-workers out of the eight adopted for the general population (given in the note for Table B-IX) have been taken and others have been lumped together under 'Others' in cols. 11 and 12.

Notes.—†1. The sq. km. and density figures of urban areas of Tahsil/District are worked out using the area figures corrected up to 2 places of decimals obtained by adding the areas of towns in the respective units and not using the area figures given in the Table. In addition to this, the area figures relating to sq. km. are further adjusted to make the Tahsil/District totals tally.

2. Towns treated as such for the first time in 1951-census which continue as towns in 1961-census are shown with an asterisk(*) on their left.

3. The following abbreviation has been used for the status of a Town:—

M.C. = Municipal Committee.

Alphabetical List of Villages in Sangrur District		347

EXPLANATORY NOTE

1. In this Part are presented for each Village and Town in the District, its area and 1961 population, classified by sex and main industrial categories. The term 'village' in all censuses from 1901, has been used for an area for which a separate Record of Rights is maintained, or which has been separately assessed to Land Revenue, or would have been so assessed if the Land Revenue had not been realised or compounded or redeemed, or which the State Government has otherwise declared as an 'estate'. This definition of village is identical with that of 'mauza' under section 3 (1) of the Punjab Land Revenue Act, 1887. The definition applies to a demarcated area of land and not to residential sites. In hills cultivation is generally scattered and the population generally lives in homesteads built on individual farms or in groups of hamlets. There also the revenue estate is known as 'mauza', but the smaller units are called 'tikkas' in Kangra District, except in Kulu where the revenue estate is termed as 'kothi' and the smaller unit as 'phati'. In Lahaul & Spiti District, the revenue estate is referred to as 'kothi' and its smaller component as 'gaon'.

2. Villages having no population have been shown as 'Uninhabited'. They have been retained in the Directory since they bear Hadbast numbers.

3. In the Village Directory, villages are presented Tahsil-wise, and within a Tahsil in order of their Location Code Numbers. The Code Numbers were assigned for the purpose of 1961 Census work, as far as possible, arranging the villages from north-west to south-east. The Hadbast numbers are shown in column 2. The Tahsil map shows the location of each village, identified by its Hadbast number.

4. The Town Directory, appearing after the Village Directory of each Tahsil, presents Census figures for all towns in that Tahsil, giving details of their Wards/Blocks. An Urban area or Town is a place having local administration, such as Municipal Committee or Cantonment Board, or has been treated as a Town because of its having :—

(a) a population of over 5,000; and
(b) 75 p.c. or more of male workers there engaged in non-agricultural occupations.

5. Column 3 gives information on 'amenities' based on the 'Village Notes' prepared by the Patwaris at the time of the 1961 Census. These 'Village Notes' contain several useful items of information which it has not been possible to present in this Directory for want of space. The 'amenities' relate to education, medical facilities, post and telegraph, safe water-supply and electrification and are indicated by the following abbreviations:—

P—Primary School.
M—Middle School.
H—High School.
C—College, including Higher institutions.
T—Technical Institution.
D—Dispensary.
Rhc—Rural Health Centre.
Hos—Hospital.
Mp—Medical Practitioner.
Mcw—Maternity and Child Welfare Centre.
Po—Post Office.
P & T—Post and Telegraph Office.
S—Safe or protected supply of drinking water.
E(A)—Electricity for agricultural use.
E(D)—Electricity for domestic use.

Information on 'amenities' was not collected for urban areas.

6. Column 4 shows geographical area, information for which was obtained from the Village Papers as supplied by the Deputy Commissioners in the case of rural area. The information for urban areas was obtained from local authorities, and wherever possible checked from the records of the Department of Local Self Government.

7. Column 5 relates to 'occupied houses', i.e., houses used as dwellings, or conjointly as dwellings and for some other purpose, e.g. shop-cum-dwellings. Column 6 shows the number of 'households'. A household' means the entire group of persons who commonly live together in the same house, and take their meals from the common kitchen or mess.

8. Columns 10 to 13 present the number of persons belonging to Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes as notified in Government of India, Ministry of Home Affairs communication No. S.R.O. 2477-A. dated the 29th October, 1956 and published as "The Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes Lists Modification Order, 1956"

9. Columns 14 and 15 give the number of literate and educated persons. A 'literate' persons was taken as one who could read and write a simple letter. In case he had passed a written examination as proof of an educational standard, he was recorded as 'educated'

10. Columns 16 to 37 present figures for 'Workers' and 'Non-workers. For the definition of the term 'Worker' and a 'Non-worker' and description of the categories of workers, the reader may see the Explanatory Note to Part III in this Volume. The nine categories of workers have been denoted by Roman numerals:—

I—Working as cultivator (owner cultivator or tenant).
II—Working as agricultural labourer.
III—Working in mining, quarrying, livestock, forestry, fishing, hunting and plantations, orchards and allied activities.
IV—Working at household industry.
V—Working in manufacturing other than household industry.
VI—Working in construction.
VII—Working in trade and commerce.
VIII—Working in transport, storage and communications.
IX—Working in other services.
