DISTRICT CENSUS HAND BOOKS

A District Census Hand Book for each of the 20 Districts in Andhra Pradesh

PRINTED BY THE SWAARAJYA PRINTING WORKS, SECUNDERABAD FOR THE DIRECTOR OF PRINTING, HYDERABAD.

PREFACE

The District Census Handbook is an innovation introduced at the 1951 Census. The Handbooks are compiled by the Census Office but published by the State Government. They proved to be very popular and valuable publications in considerable demand by the public as well as the official users of the Census data. At the 1961 Census, therefore, it was decided not only to continue the publication of the District Census Handbook but to greatly improve upon its precursor of 1951.

The present District Census Handbook may be conveniently divided into four parts. The first part consists of a narrative description of the physical features and history of the district, the social and economic characteristics of the people and the progress made by the district in each field of administration over the past decades. This is supplemented by a gazetteer of places. The second part consists of administrative statistics of various departments. The third part is based mainly on the present Census returns and consists of statistical tables giving the particulars of population, sex ratio, the economic composition, literacy, language and migration data, etc. The fourth part consists of Village and Town Directory which is perhaps the vital part of the Handbook giving villagewise and townwise particulars of area, households, population, Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, literacy, broad categorisation of working population, etc. Against each village and town the educational, medical, public health and transport facilities, etc., if available, have also been indicated. At the end of the fourth part a tabular statement of fairs and festivals, information about which had been collected through the Census enumerators will also be found. The pages of each part are numbered separately. The Handbook is enriched with two district maps, one showing the administrative divisions and important communications, rivers, etc., and the names of all important places of above 5,000 population and the other showing the talukwise density of population. In the Village Directory portion of the Handbook, before the statistics of each taluk are presented, a taluk map showing the village and town boundaries with the location code number of each village and town marked will also be found. Thus the District Census Handbook is a self-contained and convenient book of reference about almost all matters pertaining to the district.

The Handbooks are no doubt coming rather late, a few years after completion of the Census count. This delay, if at all it can be called delay, could not be helped. The very detailed sorting of Census slips and compilation of the elaborate 1961 Census tables were time consuming; the administrative particulars for incorporation in the Handbooks had to be collected from different departments and other sources on proformae that were finalised and circulated from this office ; the preparation of the excellent maps of the district and the taluks, attempted this time, also required considerable time; and lastly the printing of these voluminous reports which had to be done very carefully was a laborious process. All the same it is hoped that these Handbooks will serve as valuable sources of reference about all matters pertaining to the district and help one to asses the impact of the Five Year Plans and the progress each district had made in its social and economic well being over the decades and also serve as a guide in planning for the future. The credit for the compilation of this Handbook goes chiefly to Shri K. M. Ahmad, I. A. S. and Shri P. S. R. Avadhany, Deputy Superintendents of Census Operations. Shri Ahmad took great pains to tour the district, contact the various officers of the district and dig out information from various sources. A compilation of this type and magnitude could have taken a much longer time but for the diligent efforts of Shri Ahmad and Shri Avadhany. The Handbook section of the Census Office under the Tabulation Officer, Shri K. Narasimha Murthy, did a commendable work in the speedy and accurate compilation of the Village Directory and the other Statistical and Administrative tables. Sarvashri G. Pandurangam, N. G. Swamy and M. Vilayat Ali of the Cartographic Section in my office did a magnificent work as will be evident from the quality of maps that have been produced.

INTRODUCING THE DISTRICT

WARANGAL DISTRICT

G.P.RANGAM.

Prepared at the Office of the Superintendent of Census Operations,

CHAPTER I

GENERAL FEATURES

The district of Warangal lies between the latitudes 17°19′ and 18°36′ north, and longitudes 78°49′ and 80°43′ east. This district, as it was once constituted, was for a very long time found to be too extensive and difficult to administer as one unit and with an area of 8,139 sq. miles at the 1951 Census it was the largest district of the erstwhile Hyderabad State. It was, therefore, felt that the bifurcation of this district would help in administering the areas better. The inhabitants of the eastern taluks which are far more backward than the western taluks also agitated for a separate unit exclusively for the eastern taluks as being conducive to the economic progress of these taluks Accordingly this district was bifurcated on 1st October, 1953 in the Notification No. 48/A4/193/53, dated 18th September, 1953 and an area covering 3,970.1 square miles comprising the taluks of Khammam, Yellandu, Madhira, Bhoorgampadu, and Palvancha were separated and constituted into the Khammam district with headquarters in the town of Khammam. Subsequently, in 1959 Bhadrachalam and Nugur taluks were transferred to the Khammam district from East Godavari district.

After the above mentioned taluks were separated from this district, Jangaon taluk covering 872.3 square miles was transferred to this district from Nalgonda district. Parkal taluk covering an area of 556.2 square miles was transferred from Karimnagar district to this district. Two villages of Sirvole and Kamepalle measuring 12.4 square miles of Khammam taluk were however retained in this district.

The present district of Warangal occupies an area of 4,955.8 square miles and has a population of 1,545,435 persons and a density of 312 persons per square mile according to the 1961 Census. There are altogether 978 inhabited villages, 106 uninhabited villages and 8 towns in this district. It is bounded on the north by the Karimnagar district, on the west by the Medak district, on the south by the Nalgonda district and on the west and south-east by the Khammam district. It comprises the four taluks of Warangal, Mahbubabad, Narasampet, and Mulug of the original district, Parkal taluk of Karimnagar district and Jangaon of Nalgonda district. The following statement gives the area particulars of the various taluks in the district together with their population and density as at the 1961 Census.

The following statement gives the classification of the geographical area under different categories of utilization in the district for the years 1954-55 to 1960-61. Percentages of area under each type of utilization have also been calculated for the years 1955-56 and 1960-61, the final years of the First and the Second Plan periods for obtaining a comparison in the pattern of land utilization before and after the implementation of the Second Five Year Plan. On account of the changes in territorial jurisdictions and in the area of the district, particulars for the years 1950-51 to 1953-54 have not been furnished.

The net area sown under all crops in the district forms 30.3% of the total area during the year 1960-61. Forests cover 25.4% of the district's total area while barren and uncultivable land covers 5.6%. The area put to non-agricultural use such as roads, buildings, etc., covers 6.6% of the total area. About 23.4% of the area is left over as fallow and this can be further classified into cultivable waste (land laid fallow for more than 5 years) 2.4%; other fallow land (land kept fallow for more than one year and less than five years)5.0%; and current fallows (land left fallow in the current year only) 16.0%.

The net area under cultivation has shown an increase during 1955-56 and 1956-57 as compared to 1954-55 but has decreased in the years 1957-58 to 1960-61. The area actually decreased by 1,85,953 acres in 1960-61, as compared to the figures of 1956-57 i. e., the decrease has been 15.7% during these years. This decrease is said to be on account of unfavourable seasonal conditions during 1960-61. On account of the increased use of land for new roads, buildings and construction of new irrigation sources the land put to non-agricultural use has increased by 60,893 acres i. e., by 39.7% over the figures for the year 1955-56, the year before the commencement of the Second Five Year Plan.

The general elevation of the district varies considerably, the country around the town of Hanumakonda being 1,700 feet above sea level and the average elevation of the district being only about 870 feet. The whole area is studded with isolated hills. A range of low hills runs from Parkal and Singareni to Ashwaraopet in the south-east bounding the lower Godavari valley. The Kandikal gutta, a range, extends from the south-east to Chinnur in the Adilabad district. Ten miles north-west of Warangal are the Chandragiri hills and 14 miles west of it are the well known iron hills of Hasanparti.

The principal river in the district is the Godavari. It touches the district north of Gangaram village in the Mulug taluk and flowing in a south-easterly direction along its eastern boundary, leaves it at the south-east of Bhoorgampadu in Khammam district, whence it enters the East Godavari district.

* Area figures were standardised by the Bureau of Economics and Statistics adopting correct areas of forest and barren lands in the year 1957-58.

* * Not included in net area sown.

The other rivers are the Muner and the Paler, besides some minor streams. The Muner flows from the Pakhal lake and joins the Wira falling into the Krishna after a course of 96 miles. The Paler flows almost parallel to the Muner and also flows into the Krishna 7 miles south of Jaggayyapet in Krishna district.

Climate and Rainfall:

As this district is situated at a considerable distance from the sea coast its climate generally tends to be dry and there is also not much fluctuation in the temperature. It gets quite warm during the summer months of April, May and June and during the rest of the year it continues to be warm except during the winter months of December and January when the temperature drops slightly. The warmest month is May when hot and dusty winds and sometimes even hailstorms occur. The mean daily maximum and minimum temperatures have been recorded as 42.5°c and 28.6°c respectively.

The rainy season commences with the onset of the south-west monsoon in the later part of the month of June and ends with the month of October with the closure of the south-west monsoon. The normal annual rainfall of the district is 1055.7 mms. (41.5 inches); the maximum of rainfall occurring in the months of June, July, August and September. The following statement furnishes the monthly rainfall data for the years 1954–55 till 1960–61 as well as the normal rainfall.

Irrigation:

The main sources of irrigation in this district are rainfed tanks, lakes, wells and hillstreams. The three important lakes which irrigate a considerable area under each in the district are the Ramappa, Laknavaram and Pakhal. In 1960–61 the rainfed tanks (including the three above mentioned lakes) irrigated 78.6% of the total area. Irrigation under wells was about 16.8% and the rest 4.6% area was irrigated by other sources. There was a decrease in the net area irrigated in the district due to adverse seasonal conditions in the year 1960–61. The following statement gives particulars of the net area irrigated from different sources for the years 1954–55 to 1960–61:

Living standard of the people:

Excepting in Warangal town the general living standards of the people in the district are low when compared to the standards in the coastal districts of the State. The cost of living index numbers are issued for the district headquarters only. The index numbers for the Warangal centre are furnished in the following statement for the years 1951 to 1961. The general index number for 1961 shows an increase of 53 points over the index number for 1951 :

The average daily wages of field labour, herdsmen and skilled labour as at the end of each year are exhibited for the years 1958 to 1960 in the following statement. The agricultural wages have shown a decrease in 1959, but they have once again risen in 1960

Crops :

Rice, jawar and maize are the principal food crops grown in the district. Rice occupies the first place in outturn while jawar occupies the first place in area.

Food requirements :

The estimated consumption of food requirements of cereals (rice and millets) has been worked out on the basis of per capita consumption of 14 ounces per day. The percentage of rice eaters and millet eaters amongst the total population of the district has been presumed at 50% rice eaters and 50% millet eaters. The requirements for seed purposes at the seed rate of 42 lbs. per acre of rice and 20 lbs. per acre of millet has also been worked out. In the following statement the food requirements have been furnished for the three consecutive years viz., 1958-59, 1959-60, and 1960-61 together with the averages.

STATEMENT I-4

FOOD PRODUCTION AND REQUIREMENTS ARE GIVEN IN TONS

From the above statement it can be seen that by the end of 1961 the district was in surplus to the tune of 12,973 tons in so far as rice was concerned but deficit in millets to the extent of 22,396 tons. There was therefore, an overall deficit to the extent of 9,423 tons of cereals as per the estimates worked ut in the above statement.

Geology :

The geology of Warangal district presents one of the most interesting pictures as it comprises a variety of geological formations and contains minerals of economic importance.

The principal geological formations seen in the district may be clasified into divisons like Archaean

Puranas and the Gondwanas. Iron ore, copper, limestone form the main minerals of the district. The general geological succession in the area is as follows :

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Recent | | Kankar-Murram soilKamthis |
| Gondwanas | | BarakarsTalchirs |
| Puranas | | Sullavais-Shales, slates and phyllites and intercalated limestonesPakhals - Grits, Subarkose and Quartzites |

| | | Dharwars Banded haematite and magnetite quartz chlorite and talc schists |

The Archaeans can be conveniently divided into Dharwars and Peninsular granite complex.

The Dharwars which are considered as the oldest rock type in the district consist mainly of banded ferruginous quartzites and talc schist. They occur as narrow and elongated bands with a NNW–SSE trend in the granites of the peninsular complex.

The peninsular granite complex consists of a great variety of rocks, chiefly granite of different composition and character.

The granites are exposed in the form of sheet or dome like masses of various sizes scattered about in flat or undulating country. They are medium to coarse grained and made up mainly of quartz, grey, and pink felspar with muscovite, biotite and hornblende. Spene, zircon and apatite are common accessory minerals. Some of the granites were subjected to great pressure resulting in their being metamorphosed to gneiss or gneissic granite.

The granites are commonly cut by dolerite dykes which range in thickness upto a hundred feet and in length to several miles. In certain places the dykes rnuparallel to each other. They are dark coloured, fine to medium grained and consist of plagioclase and augite.

The Purana rocks in the district are classified into two groups, the Pakhals and the Sullavais. The Pakhals lie unconformably on the granite but in places the Sullavais extend westwards and lie directly on granite overlapping the Pakhals.

The Pakhals are composed mainly of limestone, marbles and phyllites, grits, quartzite. The Sullavais are made up of red, brown and mottled coarse sandstones. There is a progressive increase in metamorphism south-east wards from Adilabad district.

The grits and quartzites consist of ferruginous grit which is generally conglomeratic at the base. These rocks show current bedding on a large scale. The strike of these varies from WNW–ESE to NE–SW and dip NNE to SE at angles ranging between 5° and 30°.

The shales and phyllites are compact and show ripple marks on their surface. Fairly rich haematite ore bodies are sometimes found within the shales. The Gondwanas are sedimentary rocks deposited in fresh water. They occupy a broad belt running NW–SE along almost all the eastern border of the district and show general north-easterly dips at about 10° to 20°.

The main division of the Gondwanas occur in the district are the Talchirs, the Barakars and the Kamithis.

The Talchirs are the oldest beds of the Gondwanas and consist of boulder beds and shales at the base followed upwards by fine grained greenish and grey sandstones.

The Talchirs pass gradually upwards into Barakars which are massive coarse and felspathic sandstone. They are usually white in colour. These Barakars are devoid of coal seam in this district except N.W. portion in Kamaram where few coalseams have been noticed. The coal seams are found associated with Barakar sandstone in the adjoining Khammam district.

The Kamithis consist of soft, medium to coarse sandstones interbedded with grits, conglomerates and ferruginous shales. The Kamithis do not contain coalseams.

Mineral Resources :

Copper: Mineralisation of copper is noticed in sheared and brecciated quartz vein which show

NW-SE trend near Yellamala (56° /NW ; 17°-42' : 79°-7') and Katkur (56 N/SW ; 18°-2'-30" : 79°-14'). The minerals of copper detected in these veins consist of chalcopyrite, covellite, bornite, malachite, associated with azurite, galena cerussite, anglenite and wolfenite. The occurrence of copper in this district is not of economical importance.

Iron ore: The iron ore occurs near Yerabali as banded haematite quartzite. It is about 6 miles long and 100 to 250 feet wide. The iron content varies between 33% to 66%. The reserves have been estimated to the order of 6.7 million tons. These deposits extend partly to Karimnagar and Khammam districts.

1 A prominent band of haematite is exposed on the crest of hillock one mile north of Mallampalle. The average analysis of ore in this area is about 52.50% of Fe. About 40,000 tons of haematite are estimated from this deposit.

2 A band of banded haematite quartzite is seen on south-eastern extremity of the bund of the Pakhal lake. About 8.5 lakh tons of ore is available.

3 Boulder bed of banded haematite and Magnetite quartzite are seen immediately east and S. E. of Gabripet and also 3 kms., NW of this village. About 56,000 tons of iron-ore is available.

Limestone: Numerous bands and lenses of crystalline limestone occur in the district in the pyroxene bearing quartzite. One of the bands is 7 furlongs N. 46° E of .1224 ridge. It is 200 feet wide and 2½ furlongs in length. The limestones are impure, greenish white to dark greyish colour. They are not important economically.

Granite is extensively quarried in the district as block and pillars and is used locally as building stones and also for construction of tank bunds and as road metal.

Flora:

The forests of the district come under the category of tropical dry deciduous and tropical thorny forest types. During the warm weather most of the trees become leafless. There are varying types of crop of all age classes with intermixed patches of different types and qualities. Thus it is quite common to find good quality of valuable teak, adjacent to or mixed up with valueless types of poor quality forests. The height of the trees vary from 15 feet to 80 feet. The valuable and more important species commonly found are the teak, bijasal, nallamaddi, boja, channangi, tiruwam, shisham, satin, tapsi, abnus, anduk, burgu, bandar, makav and bamboo.

Fauna:

In the extensive forests large game is abundant such as tigers, leopards, cheetahs, bears, wolves, hyenas, wild-hog, spotted deer, bison, jungle sheep and antelope. The Pakhal forests have been declared as reserved forests. In this area wild duck, snipe, blue and green pigeons, partridges, quail, and wild beasts can be seen.

The following statement gives particulars of the livestock and poultry in the district as per the quinquennial Census for the years 1951, 1956 and 1961. It can be seen from the statement that the livestock increased by 17.4% in 1961 as compared to 1951 while the increase in poultry is of the range of 147.6% as compared to the 1951 figures.

Communications :

The district is traversed by the Madras–Delhi (broad-gauge) railway line starting from Dornakal in the east to Hasanparthi Road in the north over a total length of about 70 miles. Another railway line connects Hyderabad to Kazipet commencing from Kazipet in the west to a distance of about 38 miles. These two branches of railway are under the Central Railway. The other areas in the district are only connected by roads and cart tracks. The latter usually loose their utility during the rainy season. Bus services connect most of the important places in the district.

Towns :

There are altogether eight towns in this district of which Warangal and Jangaon are City Municipalities; Parkal, Mahbubabad, Dornakal and Cherial are Town Municipalities while Hasanparthi and Narsampet are Panchayats. The total urban area of the district is 50.6 square miles. The total urban population is 217,859 persons with a density of 4,306 pesons per square mile according to the 1961 Census. Of these towns Warangal with a population of 156,106 persons is the headquarters of the district and it is the fifth most populous city in the State.

CHAPTER II

HISTORY

Warangal is an ancient town after which a district and a Commissioner's Division in the former Hyderabad State, and again a district in the present Andhra Pradesh State have been designated. The Warangal division in erstwhile Hyderabad State, formed the eastern portion of the Nizam's Dominions and extended from the river Penganga in the north to the Krishna in the south. It was one of the biggest districts before 1, October 1953 when a few taluks were separated from it and formed into the Khammam district. The district of Warangal, lies in the north-east of the State, between 17° 19′ and 18° 36′ north latitude and 78° 49′ and 80° 43′ east longitude and has a total area of 4955.8 square miles. The ancient town of Warangal is situated on the Central Railway, about 86 miles north of Hyderabad City. It lies on the watershed separating the basins of the Godavari and the Krishna in the lower part of their course. The country which surrounds it, consists of large undulating plains of reddish sandy loam and black soils, broken here and there by piles of huge granite boulders and basaltic dykes. From a military point of view Warangal seems to have occupied an advantageous position, on account of its location. Due to this reason, evidently, and also because of its climate, it must have been selected for building a fort in the ancient days. Great lakes, historical monuments, temples and forts make Warangal an interesting district, for the pilgrim, the historian, the archaeologist and the nature lover. Warangal itself is not very ancient but Hanumakonda,and legends surrounding it, seem to link the area up with the great Vishnukundins and other previous dynasties of the Buddhist and pre-Buddhist periods of Indian history. The district originally formed a portion of the ancient Kingdom of the Andhra Kings, who subdued the whole of the Deccan. During the eighth century it was 'Orukal', the capital of Yadava Kings of Tuluva Andhras. For nearly two hundred years, from the middle of the twelth century, it formed part of the territories of the Kakatiyas or Ganapatis of Warangal. Prola Raja is said to have captured the Chalukyan King, Taila III and to have warred successfully against the other kings. His son Rudra I extended his possession while Raja Ganapati claims to have defeated the King of Kalinga and to have had the Kings of Southern Gujarat and Bengal as his vassals, ruling as far south as the Nellore district of the presen Andhra Pradesh State. Ganapati was succeeded in about 1257 A. D. by his daughter Rudrama Devi, who has been mentioned as the ruler of the country by Marco Polo.

The name of Warangal is said to be a corrupt form of Orukal which was probably the original designation of the old town. This seems to have been adopted by the early Muslim historians of India. Orangallu and Orugallu are the two variants of this appellation[1]. All these terms refer to the solitary cliff, which stands at the centre of the fort of Warangal which has, evidently given its name to the locality. There is also a divergence of opinion regarding the origin of the Kakatiyas, the ruling dynasty of Warangal. According to one opinion based on the Hanumakonda inscriptions, they came from the Chola dynasty. The other opinion is that the Kakatiyas were of Chalukyan blood and had only matrimonial relations with the Rajas of Chola. The family name of Kakatiya is derived from the local appellation of the Goddess Durga[2]. In view of these two conflicting evidences it is difficult for us to decide as to what dynasty Kakatiyas belonged. However, Dr. Yazdani's following translation seems to be more authentic as most of the scholars have accepted it. "At first Betal and after him his son Prola I remained firmly loyal to the Western Chalukyan standard, and thus won the affection and favour of their over lords. Delighted by the military ability and unswerving loyalty of Prola I, the Emperor Ahavamalla Someswara I granted him Anumkonda-Vishaya as a permanent fief. Prola I thus became the founder of the Kakatiya principality, which under his ambitious successors grew into a powerful Kingdom embracing the whole of the country." The Kakatiya line seems to have been in existence even earlier to the middle of the seventh century A. D. because the Chinese pilgrim Hieun Tsang mentions the Kingdom of Dana Kakatiya in the south. The Rajas of Warangal in the beginning were vassals of the Chalukya Kings of Vatapi but in the eighth century A. D. when the latter dynasty became extinct and the sovereignty of the Deccan passed to the Rashtrakutas, the Warangal Kings assumed independence and the dynasty gradually rose into power. The first important king of the family was Prola Raja who reigned from 1150-1163 A.D. Prola Raja was the father of Rudra Deva I, the founder of the well known Hanumakonda temple. It may, however, be incidentally remarked that the fort of Warangal was founded by the Kakatiya King Ganapati [1] (1199-1200 to 1260-61 A. D.) and was completed by his daughter Rudrama Devi who succeeded her father in the absence of a male issue [2]. This talented lady was styled Raja or King and was called Maharaja Rudra i. e., the great King Rudra, on account of the manly qualities she possessed, just as Razia, the gifted and famous daughter of Sultan Ultamish of the slave dynasty was called Sultan. She built the massive outer mud wall around the fort [3] and completed the inner stone wall which was commenced by her father[4]. The outer mud wall is 72 feet wide and 56 feet deep. Traces of a third earthen wall are visible near the villages of Thimmapur and Narasimalingudem, six miles south of Hanumakonda. This wall is said to have had a circumference of thirty miles, the largest in India. A large temple in the centre of the fort which was presumably under construction, has been excavated. The boundary of the original temple was marked by four large elaborately carved gateways facing the four cardinal points. They bear a striking similarity to the famous gateways of Sanchi, and are very imposing to look at. There are a number of temples, dedicated to Narasimhaswami, Padmakshi and Govindarajuluswami, which are of great sanctity. The last named temple is perched on a hillock near the Warangal Railway Station, commanding a panoramic view of the entire city and its surroundings. Very beautiful and artistic is the modern Siva temple constructed by a rich merchant of the city with idols of pure white marble and walls inlaid with coloured porcelain. Warangal remained under the Kakatiyas for a couple of hundred years from about the middle of the twelfth to about the middle of the fourteenth century A. D. Prataparudra was the last ruling chief of this dynasty about whom there is definite inscriptiona evidence. He is said to have died in 1325 A.D. Wha became of his dominions after his death is not known. As the late Rai Bahadur Venkayya pointed out long ago [5] an inscription at Upparapalle in the Cuddapah district refers to a son of Prataparudra named Juttaya. According to Sir Walter Elliot [6] Virabhadra was Prataparudra's successor who had to retire to Kondavidu. The late Mr. Sewell said that it was Krishna who succeeded Prataparudra but with a much reduced Kingdom [7]. Venkayya a writer of that period states that Muslim writers spoke of Vinayakadeva, alias Nagadeva, as the son of Prataparudra[8] though he did not quote any authority for this statement. The absence of inscriptions of these persons, namely, Virabhadra, Krishna and Vinayakadeva alias Nagadeva, is significant and would lead us to surmise that the Kakatiya dynasty had dwindled into insignificance or to a secondary position and must have gradually disappeared from the scene. It is worthwhile to make it clear here briefly as to how and when the Warangal fort came into the hands of the Muslim rulers. It is evident from history that the Muslim armies first made their appearance in the Deccan about the middle of the thirteenth century. The first expedition, therefor, against Telangana took place in A.D. 1303 by Alauddin Khilji. In 1310 Malik Kafur led an expedition on Warangal and seized the hill of Hanumakonda. Consequently, subordinate chiefs and the distinguished nobles of the Kakatiya Kingdom took up their residence with the king in the inner citadel, built of stone. The condition of the besieged in the inner fort became increasingly difficult owing to the lack of accommodation and at last Prataparudra could hold out no longer[9]. Thereupon he sued for peace and Malik Kafur agreed to raise the siege on condition that Prataparudra should promise to the Sultan annually a stipulated sum of money and send a contingent of elephants as tribute[10]. Prataparudra accepted those conditions and discharged his obligations faithfully. After the death of the Sultan there were political disturbances in the country and ultimately Ghiyasuddin Tuglaq, ascended the throne and proclaimed himself Sultan in 1320. As a result of these disturbances Prataparudra refused to pay the annual tribute to Ghiyasuddin Tugulaq. After consolidating his authority Sultan Ghiyasuddin turned his attention to the south, and in 1323 sent an expedition against the Telangana under his son Mohammed Bin Tugulaq who finally captured the fort and Prataparudra was taken prisoner. It was considered unsafe by the conquerors to keep him in the country, where his presence might lead to political complications and therefore Prataparudra was despatched to Delhi with all the members of his family under Khadir Khan and Khaja Haji, two trusted officers of the Imperial Army. They were not however destined to bring the fallen monarch into the metropolis, for before Delhi was reached he had expired. The circumstances under which he died are not however clear. But according to the inscriptions of 1330 it is stated that Prataparudra while being carried away as captive to Delhi died on the banks of the river Somadhbana i. e., Narbada[1]. While returning to Delhi Mohammed Bin Tugulaq appointed Malik Maqbool as the Governor of Telangana under whom Kapaya Nayaka was ruling over Warangal independently. On August 3, 1347, Zafar Khan, one of the military officers who had rebelled against Mohammed Bin Tugulaq, declared himself to be the king of the Deccan under the title of Alauddin Shah Bahmani and subsequently Malik Maqbool was removed from the Governorship.

It is a well known fact that at the time of the rise of the Bahmani Kingdom, Warangal was independent under the rule of Kapaya Nayaka.[2] This ruler was on friendly terms with the Bahmani King, and even furnished him with elephants, on the latter's request. Of course, we hear of the Sultan setting out on an expedition to conquer Telangana, but it related only to the region around Bhongir and not Warangal. However, hostilities arose between these two kingdoms before long, and the expansion of the Bahmani Kingdom eastwards was regarded by the Warangal ruler to be an encroachment on his own territory. Warangal began to act in concert with Vijayanagar, and in the reign of Mohammed Shah Bahmani I, 1358–1373, war commenced which ultimately ended in the submission of the Warangal Kingdom. Peace was restored on the payment of a large sum of money to the Bahmani ruler as indemnity and Golconda and its dependencies had to be ceded besides presenting a rich and a valuable throne.[3] It is not clearly stated whether Warangal retained its independence after this. The Burhan-i-Masir states[4] that in the latter days of his reign i.e., the reign of Mohammed Shah Bahmani I, (1358-1373) being seized with the desire of conquering Telangana he brought the country into the possession of the agents of his Government. This statement might imply that Warangal was made a feudatory State but it seems probable that till at least the beginning of the reign of Ahmed Shah Bahmani 1422–1435 Warangal remained independent intriguing with Vijayanagar against the Bahmani Kingdom and proving itself a veritable thorn on the side of the Bahmani Kingdom. Soon after his accession, Ahmed Shah Bahmani proceeded against Telangana. According to Firishta[5], Khan Azam who had proceeded against Warangal in advance with a small army defeated and slew the King of Warangal and obtained possession of the place. The king moved to Warangal and took possession of those treasures, the accumulation of ages which had till then been preserved from plunder. The king then rewarded Khan Azam suitably and detached him to reduce the remainder of Telangana, which he effected in the space of four months and returned to join the King at Warangal. Khan Azam was now left to reduce some strong posts in possession of the deceased Rajah's heirs, while the king proceeded to Gulbarga. These events are dated as 1424 A. D.

The compaign described above by Firishta is a specific attack on Warangal as a punishment for helping the Kingdom of Vijayanagar.

The Kingdom of Warangal completely lost its individuality in 1430 during the reign of Alauddin Bahmani. This Sultan after capturing Warangal left behind him his trusted Minister Mahmood Gawan to protect the Telangana. Later Mahmood Gawan returned to the capital Gulbarga and his place at Warangal was taken by yet another trusted subject by name Sarang Khan.

On the break-up of the Bahmani Kingdom, Warangal fell to the share of the Qutub Shahis of Golconda. Shitab Khan became the Governor of Warangal under the Qutub Shahis of Golconda[1]. The Durbar Hall of Shitab Khan still standing in the fort of Warangal indicates that this man of fortune must have won the kingship attributed to him in the record under Qutub Shahi Kings[2]. This Durbar Hall, as Mr. Yazdani has pointed out is a spacious building of the true Pathan style which stands near the western gateway of the central shrine in the fort. To establish his identity we have to refer not only to the accounts given by the Muslim historians and in the Kaifiyat preserved in the Government Oriental Manuscripts Library at Madras but also to some Telugu books as well. The History of Sultan Quli Qutub Shah[3] would show that Shitab Khan was in the possession of the strong forts of Warangal, Khammameth and Bellamkonda. Obviously, then, he must have governed the tracts between Warangal and Guntur on both sides of Krishna River. He took great interest in developing the fort by constructing a few buildings for his subjects. These buildings are no longer in existence. Only the ruins of these can be seen.

Under the Qutub Shahi period Warangal remained as the second city of the Kingdom. In 1687 when Golconda was captured by Aurangazeb, Warangal too automatically got annexed to the Kingdom of Delhi. Rohilla Khan was entrusted with the administration of Golconda and Hyderabad and later Mubaraz Khan took his place and was the Subedar till 1724. In that year he was defeated and killed in the battle of Shaker Khera in Berar by Nizam-ul-Mulk Asif Jah I. The latter declared himself independent of the Kingdom of Delhi and ruled the Deccan. Thus Warangal came under the sway of the Nizam's Dominions.

In the administrative set up of the erstwhile Hyderabad State, Warangal was first made the headquarters of a taluk and later the headquarters of a district and a Suba, with the Subedar residing at Warangal. After the Police Action and the merger of the Hyderabad State with the Indian Union in 1948, the Subedarship was abolished and Warangal continued to be the headquarters of a district.

Kakatiya Glories

Temples: The Kakatiyas were magnificient builders and in their structures one notices vigour and loftiness, as also a sense of proportion, qualities, which unfortunately, are seldom observed in similar structures in other parts of the country. The massiveness of the pillars at Hanumakonda, Warangal and Palampet is in due proportion to the altitude of the buildings and to the heavy superstructure and in spite of their thickness the pillars have an extremely symmetrical form and rise to considerable height, giving a general air of loftiness to the whole building. The interiors of the temples are spacious, thus admitting more light and air than is commonly the case in Hindu edifices. The pillars, doorways and screens are profusely decorated, the arrangement and style of the carvings being highly refined and appropriate. The temples represent the full development of the Chalukyan style and as such form important landmarks in the history of the Hindu architecture and sculpture.

The thousand pillared temple of Hanumakonda is the best example of architecture that flourished during the Kakatiya period. The main block of the temple consisting of the three shrines and the hall, belongs to the period of the inscription, i. e., 1162-63 A.D., while the prolongation of the porch, with the Nandi pavilion and detached pillared hall, is a later addition. The temple, as is recorded in the inscription, was dedicated to the Triad, Siva, Vishnu and Surya and their figures are beautifully carved over the doorways of their respective shrines. The northern and eastern shrines originally had images of Vishnu and Surya; the recesses which accommodated the images and the overshadowing canopies are still in evidence. But it seems that once the temple came into the hands of the Saivaites they removed the images from their shrines and replaced them by Salankas which exist up to the present. The most notable features of this temple are the richly carved pillars and lintels, the delicate screens and the most carefully finished sculptures consisting of dvarapalas etc. But hardly less striking is the massive yet lofty style of the architecture characterised by the extraordinary height of the plinth, the majestic pillars and the ponderous beams and ceiling slabs. The Nandi pavilion and the detached pillared hall are comparatively plain and devoid of ornament, but the Nandi itself is a splendid specimen of a monolith[4]. It reveals the genealogy of the Kakatiya Kings.

Another important architectural form of the Kakatiya dynasty is found in the temples of Palampet, a small village in the Mulug taluk, 40 miles from Warangal. On the shores of Ramappa lake, are the remains of temples, described as the brightest stars in the galaxy of medieval temples of the Deccan. The pillars and ceilings are full of ornamentation and scenes from the Ramayana and the Mahabharata are sculptured everywhere. Long panels of figures of Gods, Goddesses, warriors, acrobats, musicians and dancing girls in different poses decorate the outer walls while female figures in extremely graceful postures almost lifelike and made of highly polished black basalt stone are arranged in pairs in the form of brackets. They represent the Yakshis, female spirits, in technical dance poses serving as guards of the doors. Telugu literature flourished under the patronage of the Kakatiya Kings. Somana, Thikkana and Maranna were poets of great merit and the greatest among them was Thikkana who rendered Mahabharatha into Telugu.

Irrigation Works: Of the best irrigation works of the area which stood the test of time are the Pakhal, Ramappa and Laknavaram lakes. Pakhal lake is situated about 32 miles east of Warangal town. It was constructed about 700 years ago. Pakhal is a large artificial sheet of water and is formed by a 2000 yards dam across the Pakhal river at a place where it cuts its way through two low hills. The water covers an area of 13 square miles when the lake is full, with an average depth of 30 to 40 feet. It has a catchment area of 102.5 square miles and is capable of irrigating 17,000 acres though the settled ayacut is roughly 9,000 acres, the rest being reserved as Shikargah. The Ramappa lake not far from Mulug and at a distance of 44 miles to the north-east of Warangal, is another most magnificent example of the old irrigation works constructed by the Kings of Kakatiya dynasty. A reference to this tank is made in an inscription at Palampet according to which this lake was constructed in 1213 A.D., when the Kakatiya King, Ganapati Deva was ruling. It has a catchment area of about 82 square miles and four main distributary channels. It is capable of irrigating about 9,000 acres. The Laknavaram lake is 13 miles from Mulug and is regarded as a sister to Ramappa tank. The lake is formed by shutting up three narrow villages with short bunds. It has a catchment area of 75 square miles and three main distributaries, irrigating about 13,000 acres.

Commerce: To maintain a well balanced economic prosperity throughout the country, the Kakatiya Rulers had friendly traderelations with foreign countries. The records of the Kakatiyas speak of merchants of the home country, merchants of another country and merchants from different countries. The first were the local merchants organised in local guilds. The second were like the first except that they came from another country; the last were the powerful guilds including merchants from all countries playing a prominent part in the foreign trade of the country as a whole. They specially traded in elephants, saphires, moonstones, pearls, rubies, diamonds, topaz and other precious articles, cardamoms, cloves, sandal, musk, saffron and other spices and perfumes. They either sold them wholesale or hawked them about. The Motupalle inscription of King Ganapati gives some idea of the conditions of maritime trade. Trade, both inland and foreign was well organised and briskly carried on throughout the period. The great port cities like Masulipatnam were the emporia of foreign trade. The extensive bazaar of that great city (Warangal) was full of tall mansions of many apartments each with doorways, wide verandahs and corridors. The merchants lived with their families on the upper storey while the lower ones were set apart for conducting business. The impressions gathered by Marco Polo, a medieval traveller, throws more light on the industries when he remarks-"in this Kingdom also are made the best and most delicate buckrams and those of the highest price; in short they look like tissue of spider's web. There is no king nor queen in the world but might be glad to wear them. The people also have the largest sheep in the world and great abundance of all the necessaries of life." In most of the common industries the rule was production for the local market; but the movements of the individual merchants from one part of the country to another and the highly developed organisation of mercantile corporations in different parts of it, provide adequate evidence of a brisk internal trade in certain sorts of goods. Spinning and weaving formed a major industry which occupied considerable numbers and guilds of weavers were generally in a flourishing condition and took an active part in many local concerns. The export of the finer varieties of cloth from various parts of the country is proved by records. Warangal itself specialized in the manufacture of carpets which were much sought after. Important trade centres were connected by roads for the movement of goods.

Administration: When Prataparudra Deva II succeeded his grandmother in 1295 certain administrative reforms were introduced throughout the country. He divided the whole Kingdom into 77 Nayakships, confining recruitment there to the Padmanayaka community and thoroughly overhauling the staff of Nayakas. Some of the great Nayakas, like Kapaya Nayaka who later played a great part in resisting the Muslim invasions were the products of this system which incidentally, was later adopted and elaborated by the rulers of the Vijayanagar.

Society and Culture: There is no authentic record giving a reliable estimate of the population during this long period. In the sea ports, and in the capital of the Kingdom there were undoubtedly considerable numbers of foreigners including Arabs, Chinese and Persians. The bulk of the population was constituted of Hindus organised in castes. The role of women in high society was varied, important and generally speaking, pleasant. Princesses of the Royal family received good education in literature and the fine arts; some were quite equal on occassion, to the tasks of administration and war. The Kakatiya princess Rudrama carried on the administration of the Kingdom and took part in wars personally and actively. In civil life the Brahmins occupied a highly respected position. With the exception of the few who entered the State service in the army and elsewhere, they generally devoted themselves to religious and literary pursuits and stood outside the race for wealth and power. Hundreds of inscriptions in and around Warangal proclaim the continued solicitude of kings, nobles and merchants for the maintenance and encouragement of a class of men who devoted themselves exclusively to intellectual pursuits.

Growth of Warangal City: The city of Warangal, although comparatively more ancient than some other cities of India, has however been so much influenced by political and historical factors in its growth, right from its inception, that the study of its growth and development in its true historical perspective will be more helpful in explaining the other factors that might have been functionally associated with its growth. It seems therefore logical to study the growth of this city through its various historical stages. The historical periods chosen are not just convenient dates but representative landmarks in the history of its development. Either they indicate a significant historical event which had a marked influence on the form and function of the city or the inauguration of a new economic force into the fabric of city life.

These stages are :—

|---|---|
| Kakatiya stage | 1260-1422 |
| Transition stage | 1422-1725 |
| Asif Jahi stage | 1725-1948 |
| Modern stage | 1948 onwards |

The Kakatiya stage—1260-1422: The Kingdom of Kakatiya, of which Warangal was the capital, was ruled by the Kakatiya dynasty from 1150 to 1422. In 1422 the Kingdom was annexed into the Bahmani and then fell to the Qutub Shahis of Golconda. Since then this independent Kingdom became a peripheral province of a vast Qutub Shahi Empire. It thus lost its individuality and the forces that had contributed to make Warangal a great Kingdom ceased to exist. In the absence of contemporary accounts it is difficult to estimate in which direction the growth of city took place. However, it must be pointed out that the direction of the growth of the city was well anticipated by Rudra Deva I and he had made it all the more possible by constructing a thousand pillared temple four miles west of Warangal. The recent excavations of the Archaeological Department in and around the Warangal fort throw a good deal of light on the origin of the city and its early period of growth. These reports of excavations contain a detailed chronological account of the various temples and buildings and serve a useful purpose to form a better picture of the city as it had then existed. The temples remind us that devotion to God was the first concern of the King and his subjects. The remarks of Malik Fakruddin Juna, a Commander of Sultan Alauddin's army while marching towards Warangal fort throw much light on the built up area of the city when he says "when this force reached the Gardens of Arangal, the iron of their horseshoes turned green from walking over the grass. Two famous officers and forty horsemen went forward and reached the summit of the Anamkonda Hill from where they could see all the suburbs and gardens of Arangal[1]". The same Commander further speaks of "a fort, the like of which is not to be found on the face of earth. Its wall, though of mud, was so hard that a spear of steel could make no impression upon it, if a maghrabi-stone were to strike it, it would rebound like a nut thrown by a child[2]". In the absence of contemporary accounts it may, however, be said that in this period the settlement and built up area might have been within the fortress of Warangal. A few hamlets namely, Hanamakonda, Mathwada and Girmajipet were existing as religious centres and most of the open area was confined for the cultivation of various products[1]. Thus three hamlets were situated along the main roads leading to Golconda fortress[2]. Even to-day we find some old temples in these hamlets in a dilapidated condition testifying to their past glories.

Transition stage—1422-1725: This period may rightly be termed as transitional in the history of the growth of this city. It was divested of the status of a capital city. Its economy was disturbed. Its political ownership was unsettled. Things however, calmed down towards the end of 1725 when the control of the city of Warangal passed into the hands of Nizam-ul-mulk Asif Jah, the founder of the Asif-Jahi dynasty. This long transitional period also recorded two significant events in the history of the city. Permanently the city lost its capital status and became the third city of the region the first two being Hyderabad and Aurangabad. It had become a part of the province of the Deccan of the Asif Jahi Kingdom. It was during this period that more people began to settle down outside the fortress of Warangal. Corroborating this, Bilgrami and Wilmot write "a group of men called Shaiks who were well-known carpet merchants settled down permanently a mile from the fortress of Warangal[3], This area now called Denshahipet is noted for carpet industry. However, the population on the north along the fortress wall, towards the south and west, was expanding and new northern,southern and western suburbs like Ramannapet, Rangshahipet* and Lakshmipura(Hanamakonda) had come into existence. Lakshmipura and Hanamakonda had virtually become the greatest religious centres of the city. A unique feature of the development of the city right from its inception is the ribbon like development along the road to Hyderabad. The axis of growth, however, was oriented towards the west.

The Asif-Jahi stage—1725-1948: This period in the growth of Warangal city was characterised by three distinct phases (a) construction of Subedari buildings, (b) construction of Railway Stations, (c) appearance of a cotton mill. The three factors combined to change the axis of growth of Warangal and added new dimensions to its landscape. The plan for constructing Government buildings for offices and residential quarters for officers was mooted in 1923 but it was completed in 1926 when Warangal, was declared as the headquarters of the Subah by Salar Jung, the then Prime Minister of Hyderabad under the administrative reforms of Hyderabad State. Prior to this there were no buildings. The construction of these buildings was not so important as the consequence since in the wake of its construction there came into existence around the buildings a cluster of shops and dwelling houses. This nucleus settlement now forms a part of the locality called Subedari and Lakshmipura at Hanamakonda. Another factor which contributed to the growth of city was the construction of Railway Stations connecting the railway lines between Hyderabad—Delhi and Hyderabad—Madras in the nineteenth century. Two railway stations within a distance of 8 miles were constructed at Warangal and Kazipet respectively. This factor, gravitated population on a large scale and soon the built up area from Kumarpalle and Lashker Singaram bended its way towards the railway station and within the course of twenty years a densely populated locality at Kazipet came into existence. The Azam Jahi Mills north of Mathwada, the rice mills in the South and the oil mills north-west of the fort were the chief organised industrial units of Warangal and were all established between 1931 and 1948. The establishment of a textile mill and its workshops in the north of Mathwada gave great impetus to the growth of that small hamlet. In fact it formed the nucleus around which the built-up area developed extensively. The rice mills and oil mills attracted a large growth along the main road from the fortress to the Railway gate. Besides this, other industries like tanning etc., also developed not only in the built up area but also in the surrounding villages namely, Vedeyapalle, Mamla and Rangshahipet. Thus it is found that the city of Warangal is not a product of an evolutionary process of urbanisation but the result of piece-meal development. It was during the period of Rai Murlidhar Bahadur (1340 F) the then Subehdar of the Warangal that the mits of the city were determined by a complete survey of the city. These limits of course draw the boundary of the city and roughly determine also the extension of the built up area.

The modern stage—1948 onwards: This tremendous and piecemeal development of the city was in the main haphazard, unco-ordinated and unplanned. As a result several glaring defects and deficiencies have developed. To cope with the situation and remedy the defects, the municipality took keen interest in preparing the Master Plan with the collaboration of the Town Planning Department in 1949. The Plan has both a negative and a positive aspect. By controlling and fixing the land uses, the municipality seeks to prevent haphazard and confused growth. By reservation of lands for various public uses such as recreation grounds, schools, hospitals etc., it seeks to ensure that adequate land for these purposes is kept available for being utilised in future. The plan has already been implemented and according to it the Regional Engineering College Building, Kakatiya Medical College Building and a few other structures have been constructed.

Population :

On the 1st March 1961, the reference date of Census, 1,545,435 persons were found in Warangal district. This means an increase of 16.21% over the 1951 population. There are 312 persons per square mile in the district as against 339 in the State as a whole. The density of Urban population in the district is 4,306 as against the corresponding State average of 4,340. The density of Rural population (271) also is less than the corresponding State average (284). The Urban density figures for the 1951 Census stood at 6,554 for the district and 4,074 for the whole State. Amongst the districts of the State, Warangal District, with an area of 4955.8 square miles occupies 12th rank in regard to area and 15th rank as regards population.

Distribution and density of population : The district comprises only six taluks. Warangal taluk, the headquarters of the district, records the largest number of people (539,427) i.e., more than one third of the district population, living in it. The next populous taluk is Jangaon (319,136) followed by Mahbubabad (274,108), Parkal (172,230), Narasampet (147,126) and Mulug (93,408), taluks respectively. Warangal taluk is the most densely populated one with 666 persons per Sq mile followed by Mahbubabad (405), Jangaon (345), Parkal (328), Narasampet (188) and Mulug (76).

Growth of Population :

As the statement to follow indicates, except for the decade ending 1921, when the great Influenza epidemic affected the population growth adversely there has been a rapid increase of population over the decades from 1901 to 1961. The rate of increase of population in the district was the highest during the decade 1941–51. All the taluks in the district have also maintained a constant rate of growth during the above mentioned decades. It is notable that the rate of increase of population of the district during all the decades except during the decade 1911–1921 is higher than the State average during the corresponding decades. There was marked decrease in the growth of population during the decade 1911–1921 by 1.12% as against tha State average of 0.13%. During the 60 years i.e., from the dawn of the present century this district recorded a marked increase of 136.41% as against the State average of 88.73%. The higher rate of increase of population might be attributed to the influx of a large number of persons from the deltaic districts who have settled permanently here on account of the development of lands for agriculture on the Godavari bank as well as under certain projects as Laknavaram Tank and also due to the concentration of population in Warangal city with its rapid industrialisation.

The Influenza epidemic of 1921 affected this district adversely and particularly the two taluks of Jangaon and Parkal which have recorded a decrease in the growth of population by 17,527 and 3,354 persons respectively as against the overall growth of population (11,695) in the other taluks of the district. It is, therefore, clear that there was a net decrease of 9,186 persons in the district representing 1.12% of the district population. Besides the influenza epidemic, cholera and plague also played their parts effectively in bringing down the population of the district during the decade 1911–1921.

The following statement illustrates the growth of population and percentage decade variation in the district as well as in the taluks during the last 60 years.

Rural and Urban Population :

This district consists of one city, seven towns and 1,084 (978 inhabited and 106 uninhabited) villages. 85.90% of the total population lives in villages and only 14.10% lives in the towns and the city. Warangal City, which is the district headquarters accounts for 10.10% of the total population and 71.65% of the total Urban population. Mahbubabad and Jangaon towns occupy the second and third places respectively in the district as regards Urban population.

Sex Ratio :

For every 1000 males there are 954 females in the district. In 1951 Census the sex ratio was slightly less as there were 953 females for every 1000 males in the district. In the Urban areas of the district there are 929 females for every 1000 males which is markedly lower than at the 1951 Census figure of 951 and in Rural areas there are 959 females for every 1000 males and this figure is slightly higher than the previous Census figure of 954. In general it may, therefore, be seen that there is a shortage of females in the district and this shortage is more pronounced in Urban areas than in the rural areas. The marked fall in the sex ratio of the Urban population may be on account of large influx of male population into the Urban centres particularly Warangal City due to the expansion of industrial facilities, large construction works and so on and also due to the return to the rural areas of the several females that might have gathered in urban centres at the time of the 1951 Census on account of the disturbed Law and Order conditions in the rural areas that prevailed then. This has also resulted in an improvement of the sex ratio in the rural population. The Urban centres of this district and the collieries of the neighbouring Khammam district might have also drawn several males from the rural areas of this district.

Age structure :

Able bodied persons of above 15 years and below 55 years constitute 50.58% of the total population, the remaining being accounted for by children and young persons of age below 15 years (41.38%) and old persons of 55 years and above (8.04%). The age distribution of every hundred persons in the population is shown below.

STATEMENT III-3

Age Structure

| 65—69 | 14,888 | 0.96 |
| 70 and above | 35,091 | 2.27 |
| Age not stated | 279 | 0.02 |

From this table it is seen that very few people survive to old age. The large proportion of children shows that the population of this district is young and further rapid growth of population can be expected.

Marital status :

As elsewhere in the country marriage is universal. Out of the total number of 1,091,919 persons (Males 567,115 and Females 524,804) aged above 10 years, 863,400 have been found to be married (79.07%) and this number includes 111,474 widowed (Males 23,324 and Females 88,150) and 12,145 (Males 5,639 and Females 6,506). divorced or separated persons. The marital status of 14 males and 3 females is unspecified. 20.93% of the age-group above 10 years were found to be unmarried. 65.03% of males and 70.69% of females are of married status in this age group. In the age-group 10–14, out of a total number of 185,838 persons, 5,292 males and 32,868 females were found to be married. Amongst these married persons 21 males and 205 females were found to be widowed, 8 males and 549 females were found to be divorced or separated. It will be seen that few boys, as compared to girls, get married in the age group 10-14. The more possible inference is that girls are ready for marriage both psychologically and physically at a much earlier age than boys and therefore it is a common practice for girls marrying men quite older to them in age. Another strange phenomenon is revealed from the study of the tables on matrimonial status of the population of Warangal district. As per the 1961 Census there is a shortage of 36,043 women as compared to the total number of men in the district. Inspite of this shortage of women it is seen that the total number of women married (370,994) is more than the total number of married men (368,770). This imbalance may be either due to some men getting married to more than one woman or the females usually getting married in the early ages or men going to other places to seek their livelihood, leaving their wives at home or women coming to their parents for confinement and temporary stay. This problem is, therefore, likely to be an interesting subject for sociological study.

Literacy and Education :

The development of a country largely depends upon the education of its people and hence great stress has been laid on education in our Five Year Plans. Education is the systematic instruction, schooling or training given to young persons in preparation for the work of life, while literacy is the ability of a person to read and write in order that he can communicate with the outside world. During the Census enumeration information regarding literacy and educational levels of each person was collected and the particulars were so tabulated as to facilitate proper planning for the improvement of educational facilities with reference to the needs of the country in various fields.

At the present Census a person who can both read and write any language is taken as a literate. A person who can merely read but cannot write has not been treated as a literate. The test for reading is the ability to read any simple letter. Children aged 4 years and below have been automatically treated as illiterates. If a person has been successful in a recognised examination or examinations, the highest qualification so obtained has been taken as the level of education of that individual. Columns 18 and 19 of the Village and Town Directory given in Part IV of this handbook indicate the number of literates among males and females in each village and in each ward/locality of the town. The following statement gives at a glance the total number of literates as well as their percentage to the population in the district and in each of the taluks of the district sex-wise for the total, rural and urban population.

It may be seen from the above statement that 15.37% of the population of the district is literate against the corresponding figure of 21.19% for the State as a whole. The district's percentage is very low as compared to the State's percentage and this shows that the district is educationally backward. The incidence of illiteracy among females is very heavy. Only 6.63% of the female population are literates and the remaining 93.37% of females are illiterates while the urban population obviously shows higher literacy. The percentage of literates in the urban population of this district (36.63%) is below the corresponding percentage for the State (41.78%). The urban populations of Parkal and Narasampet taluks show particularly poor literacy. The literacy amoung the rural population of the district (11.88%) is also below the corresponding State average of 16.85%. The rural population of Narasampet and Mahbubabad taluks is particularly backward in this regard. Concentrated attention has to be paid to the development of education throughout the district if it has to catch up with the more advanced districts.

The following table will illustrate the extent of literacy in the district in the different age-groups.

The number of educational institutions and scholars studying therein in the year 1960-61 are given in a separate statement under administrative statistics in Part II of this Handbook.

Working Population :

Persons engaged in productive work whether they derive income or not have been treated as 'Workers' at the 1961 Census. In respect of seasonal work like Cultivation, Livestock, Household Industry etc., if the person had some regular work for more than one hour a day throughout the greater part of the working season, he has been recorded as a Worker. Persons temporarily incapacitated, under-trial prisoners, if they had been working before, have also been treated as Workers. Those that were treated as 'Non-Workers' were wholetime students, housewives, infants or the old and infirm dependants, persons permanently disabled from work, retired persons, people of independent means for which they need not work, beggars, convicts in jail, unemployed persons etc.

From the above classification of 'Workers' and 'Non-Workers', it may be seen that the definition of a worker has been liberally conceived. Any one who generally spends more than an hour per day on any particular productive occupation has been considered as a Worker. 55.19% of the population is found to be economically active.

There are 416,659 persons between ages of 5-14 years, representing 26.96% of the total population. The recent trend has been to regard this age-group as representing the school going population. With the introduction of compulsory education this age-group will henceforth be automatically eliminated from the working population. According to the 1961 Census, 107,396 persons of this age group belonged to the working population. That is 6.95% of the non-adults constituted the earning members of the population.

The figures of the district indicate that the working women are not in keeping with their numbers. 46.61% of the females come under the inference of workers as against 55.19% among the males. Several of the females will obviously be housewives not participating in any other work particularly among the town dwellers.

Persons engaged in agriculture (Cultivation and Agricultural Labour) as their main work constitute 70.58% of the total working population. Women outnumber men in the category of Agricultural Labour. The following table based on 20% of sample Household Schedules gives the figures of sample households engaged in cultivation classified by interest in land and size of land cultivated in total, rural and urban areas separately.

Non-Agricultural occupations provide employment to 29.42% of the total working population. The following table illustrates the broad categories of Workers other than in Cultivation and Agricultural Labour and number of persons in each with their percentage to the total working population.

Medical Facilities :

Though there is a Government General Hospital at the district headquarters together with a Medical College attached to it, the medical facilities in the district are quite inadequate for the population of the district. As seen from the Census occupational returns, there are only 84 practitioners of modern medicine of whom only 12 are women. This means that there is one doctor for 10,982 men and one lady doctor for 62,891 women. Further there are only 4 Dentists, 95 Nurses, 244 Midwives and Health Visitors.

The following table illustrates the average number of beds, Doctors, Dentists and Nurses, Midwives and Health Visitors per 100,000 of total, rural and urban population.

| | Number | Per 100,000 population |
|---|---|---|
| Beds | 448 | 29 |
| Doctors | 84 | 5 |
| Dentists | 4 | 0.3 |
| Nurses, Midwives and Health visitors | 339 | 22 |

There are about 828 persons who practise Ayurvedic and Homeopathic systems of medicine. There are also about 79 persons who profess to be physicians and have been classified under 'Others'.

Other professions:

There are 426 Architects, Engineers and Surveyors in the district. Of these 333 are Civil Engineers, 14 Mechanical Engineers, 22 Electrical Engineers, 3 Metallurgical Engineers, 45 Surveyors and 9 Others who have not been elsewhere classified.

On the educational side there are 159 University Teachers, 600 Secondary School Teachers, 1,577 Middle and Primary School Teachers, 55 Nursery and Kindergarten School Teachers and 2,214 Teachers who have not been elsewhere classified.

On the Juristic side there are 10 Judges and Magistrates, 94 Legal Practitioners and Advisers, 1 Law Assistant and 11 Jurists and Legal Technicians (including petition writers) who have not elsewhere been classified.

On the communications side there are 251 Railway Engine Drivers and Firemen. There are 796 Motor Vehicle and Motor Cycle Drivers, 1,049 Cycle Rickshaw Drivers and Rickshaw Pullers and 625 animal drawn vehicle drivers.

The fifth Table in the 'B' Series in Part III of this Handbook gives full details regarding the people of various occupations amongst the working population available in the district, classified by sex of persons. All these occupations have been classified according to the National Classification of Occupations. It provides an interesting field of study to the discriminating reader and will help to assess the requirements and the availability of resources and talent.

Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes:

The total Scheduled Castes population of this district is 260,503 persons representing 16.86% of the total population. The Scheduled Tribes population stands at 32,936 persons representing 2.13% of the total population. There is a higher proportion of Scheduled Castes population in the district than the State's average. The proportion of Scheduled Tribes population is lower than the State's average. The highest concentration of Scheduled Castes is found in Parkal taluk representing 19.51% of the general population of that taluk closely followed by Jangaon taluk (19.30%), Warangal taluk (17.66%), Mulug taluk (16.82%), Mahbubabad taluk (13.50%), and Narsampet taluk (11.77%). The percentage of Scheduled Castes (16.86%) in the district is higher than the State's average of 13.82%.

As regards the Scheduled Tribes population the highest concentration is found in Mulug taluk (18.42%) and this is more than the Scheduled Castes Population of this taluk. This taluk is followed by Narasampet with a percentage of 6.81, while in Parkal and Mahbubabad taluks Scheduled Tribes constitute 1.20% each of the population of the respective taluks. Warangal and Jangaon taluks record 307 and 40 persons respectively. On the whole the district average is 2.13% of the total population which is less than the State average of 3.68%.

Of the total population of Scheduled Castes 134,501 are males and 126,002 are females and this shortage of females is not very different from the general trend of population in the district. There is a shortage of 63 females for every thousand males in the Scheduled Castes population of the district. The extent of literacy among the Scheduled Castes population is low, more so among the females. Only 1,105 females (0.88%) and 9,550 males (7.10%) are literates.

162,043 persons are workers representing 62.20% of the total Scheduled Castes population; 90,877 men and 71,166 women come under this category. Their major occupation is working as Agricultural Labour and as usual women outnumber men in this field. Very few have taken to manufacture, construction, trade and commerce and transport and communications. This seems to be due to lack of appropriate training and orientation. There are very few persons who have reached even the matriculation or the higher secondary stage. The actual figure for this stage is 108 males and 12 females representing 0.08% and 0.01% of their respective numbers. These figures by themselves aptly illustrate the need for the upliftment of these communites through more advanced education and technical training. It is also seen that though the proportion of workers among these communities is higher than the district average, yet the sort of work that is being done by them is only of the lowest category.

The following table shows the population particulars of the various Scheduled Castes enumerated in Warangal district at the 1961 Census.

The Scheduled Tribes population of the district is 32,936. 82.64% of the Scheduled Tribes population of the district live in the two taluks of Mulug and Narasampet. Their economic and social conditions are no better than those of the Scheduled Castes. Their educational achievements are hardly worth mentioning. Their main occupation is Agricultural Labour, and a few of them work in Household Industry, Mining and Quarrying etc.

The following Table illustrates the population particulars of the various Scheduled Tribes enumerated in Warangal district in the 1961 Census.

Social and Religious Groups :

Hindus form the bulk of the population constituting 93.52% and this major religion is followed by the Muslims (5.13%), the Christians (1.29%) and the Sikhs (0.04%). There are only 156 Jains, 74 Buddhists, and 26 'Others' also living in the district.

Migration :

Migration of persons from one part of the country to another part is not uncommon and more so as between the districts in the State. Generally migration is prompted by the economic conditions prevailing in a particular place like famine conditions, employment opportunities, trade and commerce etc, and the desire to lead a better living. Warangal district bounded by Khammam on the east, Karimnagar on the north, Medak on the west and Nalgonda on the south, is economically better, compared to the other districts in the Telangana region and hence naturally attracts persons from the neighbouring areas. Amongst the four districts which surround this district, Nalgonda and Karimnagar are comparatively more backward than the other two. Hence these two districts contributed a large number of migrants to this district. A detailed study of the migration trends in this district reveals that 116,512 persons (44,472 males, 72,040 females) have immigrated into this district from other districts of the State and 5,861 persons (3,175 males and 2,686 females) from other States in this country and 182 persons from other countries. 36,936 persons (11,636 males and 25,300 females) have migrated from Karimnagar district followed by Nalgonda 28,104 (9,107 males and 18,997 females); Khammam 13,577 (5,013 males and 8,564 females); Hyderabad 9,683 (5,083 males and 4,600 females); Medak 6,265 (1,924 males and 4,341 females) and Adilabad 2,640 (972 males and 1,668 females). Mahbubnagar and Nizamabad districts have sent 751 (451 males and 300 females) and 702 persons (322 males and 380 females) respectively.

As regards immigration of people from the Andhra and Rayalaseema regions, Guntur and Krishna districts stand in the order of priority as 7,494 (4,109 males and 3,385 females) and 5,723 persons (3,214 males and 2,509 females) have migrated into Warangal district respectively. The other districts which follow these two are East Godavari, Nellore and West Godavari from which 1,267, 1,165 and 1,026 persons have migrated respectively to this district. Immigration of population from the remaining districts is quite negligible. It is also evident from the above, that more number of women have immigrated into this district than men from the other districts of Telangana region mainly on account of ties of marriage, while more male population than female population have migrated from the Coastal and Rayalaseema districts obviously prompted to migrate for investment and work. The majority of workers among the migrants have taken to cultivation and agricultural labour and only a few of them are engaged in Household Industry, Trade and Commerce and in other services. More than half of the immigrants constitute 'Non-Workers' most of whom are made up of female housewives drawn into this district by ties of marriage.

Persons immigrated into this district from the other States in the country are only 3,175 males and 2,686 females. Amongst these immigrants, a large proportion is accounted by the neighbouring states of Maharashtra, Madras, Madhya Pradesh and Mysore and also Kerala. Due to its association with the Maharashtra and Mysore States prior to the Reorganisation of States and formation of Andhra Pradesh some people may still have their interests here and the influx of population from Madras and Kerala States may be for business purposes or for employment in Railway establishments etc.

As regards emigration of population it is noticed that 48,914 males and 77,809 females have gone out of this district to the other parts of the State, mostly to the neighbouring districts of Khammam 40,564 (19,282 males and 21,282 females); Karimnagar 23,818 (5,624 males and 18,194 females); Nalgonda 21,897 (5,279 males and 16,618 females) and Hyderabad 13,541 persons (7,044 males and 6,497 females). The other districts to which there are out migrants are Medak 7,817 (1,852 males and 5,965 females); Adilabad 7,392 (3,705 males and 3,687 females); Nizamabad 3,564 (2,111 males and 1,453 females) and lastly Mahbubnagar 1,142 (380 males and 762 females) with the smallest number in Telangana area. It is seen that amongst the emigrants also women outnumber men as the women have to perforce migrate to join their spouses in neighbouring districts. Emigration of population to Coastal and Rayalaseema districts is not of much significance. Amongst these districts the bulk of the migrants from Warangal district is found in Krishna with 3,970 (1,983 males and 1,987 females) persons. This is followed by Guntur with 1,338 persons (638 males and 700 females); West Godavari 600 (285 males and 315 females); Visakhapatnam 336 (280 males and 56 females); Nellore 248 (157 males and 91 females); Kurnool 166 (94 males and 72 females); East Godavari 146 (102 males and 44 females); Srikakulam 75 (46 males and 29 females); Cuddapah 52 (19 males and 33 females); Anantapur 34 (21 males and 13 females) and lastly Chittoor 23 (12 males and 11 females). This negligible number of out-migrants from this district to many of the districts in Andhra and Rayalaseema Regions may be in connection with business or to meet their relatives or to seek some sort of employment. The majority of male population has emigrated to all the districts except to the districts of West Godavari, Krishna, Guntur and Cuddapah to which greater number of women have emigrated than men. In general it is observed that emigration of persons is more pronounced from the rural areas of this district to the rural areas of the other districts.

The City of Warangal has considerably developed since the 1951 Census count due to the establishment of new educational institutions like an Engineering College, a Medical College, an Industrial Training Institute and some High Schools. In addition to these, construction works which gained momentum and industrial expansion in the secondary sector attracted a good number of persons from the neighbouring districts by providing employment opportunities. The location of educational institutions attracted several persons into the City as this district stands next to Hyderabad City in the Telangana area in providing educational facilities. Another advantage is that the City is very near to the Kazipet railway junction and is also connected by well laid out Roads. The migrants to this City stand at 12,569 from rural and 9,795 from urban areas. 8,585 persons of the migrants to the City are classified as Workers, while 13,779 persons constitute Non-Workers. Industrially also the district is not behind many of the other districts in the Telangana region. A number of industries are located in the City itself and this has resulted in wider employment opportunities to the people immigrated into the City.

Housing :

Though next to food and clothing man requires shelter as his necessity, it is a known fact that many people, specially in the urban areas, are deprived of even the barest shelter. It is quite a common sight in urban areas to see that many poor hunger stricken people live on pavements with no shelter to protect them from the vagaries of nature. The migration of the people from the rural areas to the urban areas for their livelihood has further accentuated the accommodation position. The pressure on land in urban areas has become so great and the land so dear that it has gone beyond the reach of a common man and consequently slums and unhealthy localities have grown up resulting in sub-human living conditions.

With a view to improving the situation and for future planning of the housing programmes the Government of India suggested to the National Buildings Organisation, working under the Ministry of Works, Housing and Supply to collect in collaboration with the Registrar General, India during the 1961 Census operations the basic data on housing required by the Planning Commission. A common questionnaire, was, therefore, evolved for the entire country and an attempt was made during the 1961 Census operations to collect the required, comprehensive data on housing to meet the needs of the National Buildings Organisation. These data on housing do not merely relate to residential housing but also cover places of business, workshops, schools, restaurants, places of entertainment, hospitals etc. From the information so gathered it has now become possible to assess not only residential housing requirements but also the adequacy or otherwise of the requirements of Industry, Commerce, Education, Public Health Institutions etc.

In Warangal district, as anywhere else, houses used wholly or partly for dwelling purposes form the largest proportion of the Census Houses. 283,900 houses out of a total number 341,367 houses are used wholly as dwellings, 1,595 houses as shop-cum-dwellings and 5,721 houses as workshop-cum-dwellings. Some of the part dwellings like laundry-cum-dwellings, barbers' saloon-cum-dwellings have been included under the category of 'Others'. If these houses are also taken into account the proportion of the houses used wholly or partly as dwellings will be higher. It is seen that the proportion of dwellings to population in the rural areas is more than in the urban areas. Thus for a rural population of 1,327,576 there are 249,885 dwellings, while for an urban population of 217,859 there are 34,015 dwellings. This means that in the urban areas there are 156 houses for every thousand population and in the rural areas 188 houses accomodate every thousand persons. It is obvious from these figures that there is over-crowding in residential housing. Thus the increase in residential accommodation has not kept pace with the growing needs of a fast growing population.

The proportion of Census Houses used as shop-cum-dwellings is very small and is only about five per thousand houses in the district.

Workshop-cum-dwellings are more than the shop-cum-dwellings and their proportion among the total Census Houses is about 17 per thousand in the district. This seems to indicate that separate workshop facilities are inadequate in this district. Out of 5,721 workshop-cum-dwellings 5,101 are located in rural areas as against 620 in the urban areas of the district. The workshop-cum-dwellings in rural areas may consist of mostly living houses in which handlooms are located.

Hotels, Hostels and Dharmasalas etc., account for about 0.06% of the total number of Census Houses in the district and their percentage is far below the State's percentage of 0.14 for this category; the proportion is higher in urban areas than in the rural areas and it may be due to a large number of hotels.

Shops excluding eating houses are slightly more than 8 per 1000 in the district and this figure is far below the State's average of 1.3%. The urban proportion, as every where in the State, is considerably higher than the rural proportion. The number of shops in the district shows that it is commercially backward when compared to other districts in the Circars.

The proportion of business houses and offices to the total Census Houses is very small in the district i.e., 667 out of a total number of 341,367 houses. In this category, though the number of houses in the rural areas is larger, the proportion to total number of houses is higher in urban areas.

There are 1,348 Census Houses in the district which are used as factories, workshops and worksheds-710 in the rural areas and 638 in urban areas. There are about 4 houses used as factories, workshops and worksheds out of every 1000 houses in the district. The proportion is higher in the urban areas than in the rural areas. Though this district is not highly industrialised it is somewhat advanced when compared to many of the other districts in the Telangana area.

There are 914 Census Houses in the district which are used as schools and other educational institutions. Of these, 733 are in the rural areas and 181 in the urban areas. For every 1,000 houses there are less than 3 houses under this category in the district. The proportion is higher in the urban areas than the corresponding proportion in the rural areas.

There are 347 restaurants, sweetmeat shops and eating places, out of a total number 341,367 Census Houses. Out of this number 140 are in the rural areas and the remaining 207 in the urban areas. In this category there is nearly one house for every 2,000 houses in the rural areas, while in the urban areas there are nearly 5 houses for every 1,000 houses.

Places of entertainment, recreation etc., including temples, mosques and churches constitute 1,866 houses-1,590 in rural areas and 276 in urban areas.

There are 162 Census Houses used as Hospitals, Public Health Institutions, Dispensaries, Clinics etc., in the district. Of these 71 are in the rural areas and the remaining 91 in the urban areas. The proportion of such houses to the population, therefore, in the urban areas is much higher as compared to the rural areas. It is a very well known fact that medical and public health facilities are grossly inadequate in our country, especially in the rural areas and hence no further comment is considered necessary on the existing state of affairs.

As explained earlier, the category of 'Others' includes houses put to miscellaneous uses like cattle-sheds, garages etc. Consequently no distinct pattern is discernible in this category of houses in the rural and urban areas of the district. The proportion of houses in this category is higher in the rural areas than in the urban areas.

Wall and roof material of the houses in the district:

The type of housing in this district generally follows the pattern similar to the rest of the Telangana region and is distinct from that observed either in the coastal Andhra or in the Rayalaseema regions. Tiled houses are more common than thatched houses. However, in a few isolated villages particularly close to the areas under wet cultivation it is not uncommon to find houses with roofs made up of paddy hay and as a result these villages seem to present an entirely different picture from the neighbouring villages. The habitations make it appear as though an entire coastal delta village had been uprooted and grafted in the midst of the wet lands of this district. These are the settlements of the migrants from the delta districts of the State who have acquired large extents of land in this area and settled down during the course of the last decade or two.

House constructions largely depend on the local building material available, the climatic conditions and traditions. These also generally reflect the economic condition of the people of the area. The great majority of the population who exist on marginal subsistence can hardly be expected to think of innovations to their houses which are more utilitarian than decorative. The villager has to depend on his own limited resources i.e., the material he can get free or at a very nominal cost and the efforts he and his family can muster in the form of labour, know how etc. The wall material that he can readily procure is earth from his own field. The roof material may be of thatch made up of palmyra leaves which he can cut from the nearby trees or the dry stalks of the crop that he grows or the reeds and grass which he can collect from the jungle.

Wall material:

In the rural areas of the district mud is predominantly used for construction of the walls. Such houses account for 83.3% of the total number of houses as against the State's average of 64.7%. The proportion of houses with mud walls is 49.9% in the urban areas as against the corresponding figure of 39.8% for the State. It is, thus, evident that the proportion of houses with mud walls in the rural areas is higher than the corresponding figure in the urban areas. Jangaon taluk records more than 90% of the houses with mud walls. More than 70% of the houses in the urban areas of Parkal taluk are built with mud walls.

The percentage of houses built with stones and bricks is negligible in the rural areas. The use of bricks as wall material is common in house building in the urban areas and this has become more pronounced in the recent years. Houses built with brick walls are considerable in number in Warangal and Mahbubabad taluks. 58.6% of the houses in Warangal City come under the category of houses built with brick walls.

The proportion of houses with walls made of grass, leaves, reeds or bamboo ranges between 7 and 9 percent in the rural areas and this proportion keeps more or less in conformity with the State's average. Mulug and Narasampet taluks account for more than 20% of the houses with walls made of grass etc. One might expect to find a larger proportion of houses with walls made of grass, bamboo etc., in the forest region of this district. But it may be probable that in many cases in the rural areas the grass or bamboo walls might have been plastered with mud or dung giving the impression of mud walls. Houses built with walls of grass, bamboo etc. form an insignificant proportion in the urban areas of the district.

Roof material:

It is a common sight to find several houses in the rural areas, roofed with thatch or similar materials. The rural areas of Mulug, Narasampet and Mahbubabad taluks account for more than 70% of the houses with thatched roofs and this percentage is higher than the State's average of 62.7%. Thatched houses are not uncommon in the urban areas of the district. The houses in the urban areas of Narasampet taluk are generally roofed with grass, thatch etc. Such houses account for 10.4% of the total number of houses in Warangal City as against the State's average of 37.2%.

The roof material which comes next in importance in the rural areas is mud. Though in certain areas where rainfall is low or scanty, mud is also used for roof tops. Houses having mud roof are rare in this district on account of heavier rainfall. In the urban areas of the district houses roofed with mud are hardly found.

The proportion of houses with roofs made of brick and lime is higher in the urban areas than in the rural areas; but this type of houses in the district in general is quite less.

In Jangaon Taluk alone corrugated iron, zinc or other metal sheets are used for 2.5% of the urban houses, while 3.5% of the houses are roofed with asbestos cement sheets in the urban areas of Mahbubabad Taluk.

This district exhibits a distinct bias towards the country tiled houses and more so in urban areas. Rural areas of Warangal, Parkal and Jangaon taluks record more than 40% of the houses roofed with tiles. The urban areas of Warangal district record the highest proportion (73.4%) of the tiled houses as against the State urban average of 33.6%. All the taluks in the district have a significant proportion of roofed houses. It is obvious that this district is subject to heavy rainfall and does not permit the construction of the flat mud roofed houses. Hence houses roofed with tiles are preferred. Apparently the better suitalibity of the local soil for the manufacture of country tiles and inadequate availability of jungle thatch in the urban areas might have led the people to take more and more to tiles as roofing material. Probably tradition too has something to do with preference to certain types of houses. These houses generally have an open court-yard in the middle and tiled living portions of the house are built round it. An underground drain from the middle court-yard runs below the front portion of the building and opens out into the street in front of the house.

Housing in forest areas :

In the forest areas of the district, inhabited by the tribal population, the construction of residential houses conforms to the material that the tribals can get from the forests. The walls are generally made up of wattle plastered with mud or dung. The roof is thatched which is sometimes made up of mere twigs and leaves. The tribal habitations are different from those of the Agencies of Visakhapatnam or Srikakulam. The houses in this district are more stable. Each house is independent and not a row of houses with common walls as found in the Agencies. The walls are high and the roof is not so steep and low as in Visakhapatnam district for the obvious reason that this area is free from gales.

CHAPTER IV

IRRIGATION

The district of Warangal which should have been a predominantly dry farming area like the rest of the Telangana was converted into a granary for rice by the foresight, engineering skill and the benevolence of the Kakatiya Rulers, who governed this tract of land nearly a thousand years ago for a number of years. They created huge artificial lakes by putting earthen dams across rivers and streams and thereby storing water for the purpose of irrigation. The surviving monuments of their skill and work are the magnificent lakes at Ramappa, Laknawaram and Pakhal. All these lakes are now under the control of the Public Works Department. A brief description has been given in the following pages on the irrigation facilities available in the district. Major and Medium Irrigation Works are badly lacking in this district.

Ramappa Lake :

This lake is situated at a distance of 44 miles to the north-east of Warangal. An inscription near the lake furnishes the date of its completion as March 31st, 1213 A. D. This magnificient work of irrigation is a gift of the Kakatiya dynasty to posterity. For the creation of this lake bunds have been laid across Medi Vagu and Ralla Vagu. The surplus and the drainage of this lake flows by the name of Moruvancha Vagu which joins Manair, a tributary of the river Godavari.

This lake has a capacity of 5,401 million cubic feet at the maximum flood discharge level, though the total yield from the catchment is only 1120 M. Cft. Thus the capacity of the lake at full supply level is more than 2½ times the anticipated yield. Hence it has been treated as a non-surplusing lake. However, to discharge 1,500 cusecs, a weir 59 feet in length in a saddle between two hillocks on the left bank has been provided with a head of 8 feet. This work has been taken up and is in progress.

This lake is capable of irrigating 5,164 acres of paddy. The settled ayacut is only 3,858 acres under the following four irrigation channels.

| Name of channel | Length M. F. | Area irrigated (in acres) |
|---|---|---|
| (1) | (2) | (3) |
| Voger channel | 5-4 | 1,521 |
| Veerla channel | 2-5 | 986 |
| Burugu channel | 2-7 | 340 |
| Somi channel | 5-4 | 1,011 |

In addition to the irrigation under the above channels, a further area of 1,577 acres is being irrigated under the earthen motts laid by the ryots across the seepage course of the lake.

| | Acres |

The following statement furnishes particulars of the area irrigated under the Ramappa lake from 1949 to 1958.

Laknawaram Lake :

This lake is situated in Mulug taluk about 43 miles from Warangal. This was also constructed by the rulers of the Kakatiya dynasty, and was completed about the year 1213 A. D. This lake was restored in the year 1909 at a cost of Rs. 3,00,000/-

The bund has been laid across the Laknawaram Vagu and the surplus from this lake goes by the name of Laknawaram river which ultimately joins the river Godavari. This lake has been formed by closing three narrow valleys each with a short bund with the hills forming the natural barriers for a total length of 2,000'. There is only one tower sluice. From this the water flows through a natural valley for about half a mile upto the pick-up earthen dam called Saddi Madugu. The irrigation channels commence from this pick-up dam.

This lake is capable of irrigating 7,068 acres of paddy in Abi and 1,767 acres in the Tabi seasons respectively. However, the settled ayacut is only 4,983 acres under the following four channels.

| | Length M.F. | Ayacut (in acres) |
|---|---|---|
| Narsimlu channel | 8-7 | 2,103 |
| Rangapur channel | 7-4 | 2,123 |
| Kota channel | 5-1 | 532 |
| Sreerampathy channel | 2-7 | 225 |

The following statement furnishes particulars of the area irrigated under this lake from 1949-1958.

Pakhal Lake :

This lake was also constructed during the period of the Kakatiyas about the year 1213 A. D. It is said that during the reign of Prataparudra II the Commander of the Delhi Emperor's forces breached the lake. This breach remained as such till 1922, when the Public Works Department under the Nizam restored the lake to its present standard at a cost of O. S. Rs. 4,50,000.

This lake is situated in the revenue village of Pakhal in Narasampet taluk. It is seven miles east of Narasampet, which in turn is 21 miles east of Warangal City.

The stream which has been harnessed is a tributory of Krishna river. The capacity of the tank at F. R. L. + 829.79 is 3386.30 M. Cft. The total yield from the catchment area is only 1878 M. Cft. The bund has three sluices viz., (1) Tower Sluice with sill + 799.59, (2) Sangam Sluice with sill + 810.16 (recently constructed) and (3) Mula sluice with sill + 806.31. The settled ayacut is 8,891 acres under the following channels.

| | Length in Miles | Settled Ayacut in acres | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Sangam channel | 12 | 4,461 | Abi |
| Jalbandam channel | 12 | 1,356 | Abi |
| Thungabandam channel | 9 | 1,932 | Tabi |
| Pasnoor channel | 9 | 796 | Abi |
| Mo.t Veeraram channel | 6 | 346 | Tabi |

It has now been proposed to expand this ayacut to 11,500 acres and the ayacut has been developed upto 12,000 acres. The villages that benefit from this irrigation source are (1) Khanapur,

(2) Dhar maraopet, (3) Pakhal (4) Sarwapur (Dwarakapet), (5) Veeraram (Rangapur), (6) Inapalli and (7) Thungabandam.

Apart from the above three lakes of irrigation, there are several other sources under the Public Works Department which cater to the irrigation needs of the district. The following statement furnishes an abstract of the sources under the control of the Public Works Department with ayacuts of more than one hundred acres each.

Minor Irrigation

Maintenance of Minor Irrigation Sources was transferred to the Zilla Parishad and Panchayat Samithis from the control of the Revenue Department with effect from April 1961. There are 4,175 Minor Irrigation Sources in this district each having an ayacut of less than one hundred acres. The total extent of the registered ayacut under all these sources is 84,875 acres.

Well Irrigation :— "Techno-Economic Survey of Andhra Pradesh" published in 1962 throws some light on this type of irrigation in the Telangana area in general. This seems to apply equally well to lift irrigation in Warangal district. Extracts from this Report have, therefore, been reproduced for the benefit of the reader.

"The scope for large scale exploitation of ground water is absent as the substrata are trap or granite incapable of yielding prolific ground water supplies. But there are many tracts and peneplains spread out at various places of the region where the sub-soil water level is fairly high and where a cluster of wells can be sunk for lift irrigation."[1] "Although the ground water level is suitable for lift irrigation in many areas, wells are very sparsely distributed as compared to similar areas in coastal districts like Anakapalle and Chittoor Taluks. Of the existing wells 12% are not in use. This is surprising in view of the fact that the main income is derived by the farmer only from the limited wet area he owns. Some large scale farmers have more than one well in their holdings but actually use only one well. Again there are many common wells from which water is utilised by many farmers by turn. Certain significant factors work agianst any extension of lift irrigation through wells. First, in most of the areas where wells can be sunk, undulation of the soil is heavy, thereby eliminating the scope for lift irrigation by 'mota'. Electric pump sets or oil engines can only be useful in these areas.* Secondly since most of the lands are chalkas having no capacity for retaining moisture, fields must be watered every day for paddy cultivation. Unless the family has surplus labour to work on its land, day and night, irrespective of the rate of remuneration, lift irrigation by 'mota' for paddy cultivation is uneconomic. Again the number of animal pairs required for wet cultivation increases more than proportionately with the increase in area under wells and their number. The expenditure required for maintaining these animals would not justify, for many farmers the increase in the number of wells and their ayacut. Lastly, under the present cropping pattern the major agricultural operations commence at the same time both for dry and wet crops. Since each holding includes a portion of dry area, any increase in the wet area would require diversion of a lot of labour and other resources from dry to wet cultivation. With the increase of area under lift irrigation farmers will have to experience the scarcity of labour".*

AGRICULTURE

Soils

The district has a variety of soils comprising sandy loams with patches of shallow black cotton soils and at places even medium and deep black cotton soils.

Loams take their origin from granite and sandy stone. They are well drained, shallow and neutral and are low in nitrogen and phosphatic content. They respond well both to organic and inorganic manures. The black cotton soils have a poor drainage, slightly alkaline but poor in phosphoric content.

In Narasampet and Mulug taluks black cotton soils predominate and they occupy an area of 50% to 60%. About 10% is rocky and the rest is sandy loam. In Parkal taluk most of the area is covered by sandy loam while occasionally one comes across patches of black cotton soils and red loams. Rocky soils are also noticed. Half of Warangal taluk comprises of poor soils. 15 to 20 per cent of the total cropped area has patches of black cotton soils. Red loams and black soils constitute half of Jangaon taluk, while the other half comprises of sandy loams and rocky soils. More than 50% of the cultivable area is fertile comprising of a major portion of black cotton soils. As regards Mahbubabad taluk most of the area being newly reclaimed is highly fertile, comprising of heavy loam with patches of black soils.

The following statement gives particulars of percentages of various types of soils with reference to the area of each of the taluks :

Crops and area under production

Rice, jowar and maize are the principal food crops grown in the district. Rice occupies the first place in outturn while jowar occupies the first place in area. The following is the general trend of crop acreages during 1954-55 to 1960-61.

Rice: There was a general increase in the acreage and outturn excepting for the year 1960-61 which was affected by drought. This increase in the production of the rice crop can be attributed to the adoption of improved agricultural practices and the increased use of chemical fertilizers. The yield rate of rice crop per acre increased from 507 lbs. in 1955-56 to 1084 lbs. in 1959-60.

Millets: There has been an increase both in the area and production of jowar, maize and bajra crops. The yield rates of jowar and bajra increased from 334 lbs. per acre and 257 lbs. per acre during 1955-56 to 411 lbs. per acre and 400 lbs. per acre respectively during 1959-60. However, there has been a wide fluctuation in the yield rate per acre in the case of maize.

Pulses: Except for the year 1960-61, there has been a steady increase in the area as well as the outturn of the pulses crops.

Commercial Crops: Groundnuts, castor and gingelly are the chief commercial crops grown in the district. The yield rates of these crops have not been appreciable as proper attention is not being paid towards them.

The following statement furnishes particulars of the acreages, yield rates and the total outturn of the important crops in the district for the period 1954-55 to 1960-61.

Agricultural practices

Manure: For several years the ryot has been used to applying bulky organic manures like the farm yard manure of cattle, sheep and goats. Since this manure cannot be obtained in adequate quantities it was being supplemented by oil cakes etc. Even this supplement was found to be insufficient to replenish the fast depleting fertility of the soils and so inorganic chemical fertilizers like ammonium sulphate, ammonium sulphate nitrate, calcium ammonium nitrate, ammonium phosphate came to be applied and in course of time their use became more popular. Green manure crops have also been introduced into the district and these are being ploughed into the soil and act as a further supplement to the inorganic fertilisers. The popular green manure plants are sunn hemp, dhaincha, pillipesara, wild indigo etc. In Warangal, phosphatic fertilizers like bonemeal or bone super are being manufactured by a local firm. The products of this firm are also being exported to the other districts as well.

Agricultural Implements: The use of improved agricultural implements means saving of time, labour and money. It also helps to improve cultivation resulting in the better yield of crops. The implements in use in the district are still of the traditional type. However, the Agriculture Department in the district is making efforts to introduce the improved varieties. These are being demonstrated by the department during Melas and Jataras. The implements usually demonstrated are the iron ploughs of various sizes and types, ridgers, bund formers, wet land puddlers and tramplers, improved mechanical seed drillers, bladed harrows of different sizes, winnowers, threshers, chaff cutters, persian wheels, oil engines, electric motor pumps etc. The following statement gives particulars of the agricultural implements used in the district in 1951,195 and 1961 with percentages of increase or decrease.

Rotation of crops

Paddy: In wet lands paddy after paddy is the usual practice and rotation in general is not at all common. The Department of Agriculture in this district has, however, successfully prevailed upon certain sections of the ryots to rotate one crop with the other for not only obtaining some extra income but for also increasing the fertility of the soil. Hence at some places groundnut is being sown in rice fallows especially where the soils are light. Jowar is being rotated with cotton and groundnut, while wheat is rotated with jowar, cotton and gram. Bajra is being rotated with jowar, cotton, gram and ragi etc.

Electricity for agricultural purposes

As only a few villages in the district are electrified, the use of electricity for agricultural purposes is not so significant when compared to the vastness of the district. However, the use of electric motors has risen from two in 1951 to 281 in 1961.

The use of oil engines is quite encouraging in the decade 1951-61. The number of oil engines increased from 88 in 1951 to 1181 in 1961.

Miscellaneous

Government Main Experimental Farm, Warangal: Established in 1933, it is situated at a distance of five miles from the Warangal Railway Station on the Mulug Road. Its object is to release improved strains of the important crops grown in the eastern Telangana division such as rice, jowar, maize, groundnut etc. It is also in charge of seed multiplication, and the maintenance of the purity of improved strain. It produces and supplies grafts of plants of mango, sapota, citrus, atemoya and other fruit trees etc.

INDUSTRIES

Among the districts of the Telangana, Warangal district has comparatively a larger number of industries covering several fields. The following is a description in brief of each type of the industries existing in the district.

Textile Industry

There is a large scale textile factory known as the Azam Jahi Mills located at Warangal. This Mill manufactures coarse and medium types of cloth and employs nearly 4,000 persons. The Mill has an expansion programme in which 6,400 spindles will be added. The construction of the shed is in progress. The machinery worth about Rs. 18 lakhs is being purchased. The Mill expects to produce 900th of Yarn/shift. About 80 more workers will be employed per shift.

Flour Rice and Oil Mills

There are sixty such units in the district employing nearly 1,300 persons.

Tanning Industry

Tanning of hides and skins is one of the more important industries of the district. This industry was introduced in this district over a decade and a half ago by migrants from the North Arcot District of Madras State. Some time ago there were as many as fifty tanneries but due to fluctuations in market some of them have closed down. At present there are twelve tanneries employing 390 persons. The investment in each of the individual units ranges from Rs. 7,000 to Rs. 70,000. A major portion of the tanned skins are being exported to the United Kingdom through agents at Madras. The State Government now propose to establish a Model Tannery at Warangal to train the artisans in the improved methods.

Bone crushing and Bone Meal

The Deccan Fertilizers and Glue Products situated in Warangal manufactures bonemeal which is used as manure. This finds a ready market locally and the excess is sold all over the country.

Wood Works

There are about fifteen small scale carpentry units in this district engaged in the manufacture of furniture, house building materials, carts and agricultural implements etc. Teak is mostly used for furniture and Kodesar, Nallamaddi and Peddgi types of wood are used for building materials such as doors, windows and beams. All these varieties of wood are obtained in abundance from the forests of the district. About one hundred workers, both skilled and unskilled are employed in this trade. An artisan earns Rs.3/-per day while an unskilled worker is paid Rs. 1 50 per day. Machinery is not yet being used in this industry. There are five Training-cum-Production Centres for carpentry where training is imparted in the use of modern and better tools and the other know-how.

Saw Mills

There are twelve saw mills in this district, of which six are located at Warangal, four at Jangaon and two at Mahbubabad, with a total sawing capacity of 20,800 cubic feet per month. This industry has further scope for expansion on account of the exclusive forest areas of this district.

Light Engineering Industries

There are altogether fifteen light engineering units in the district attending to repairs of the rice and oil mills, oil engines, machinery etc. Some of them also manufacture spare parts, castings of both ferrous and non-ferrous metals etc. These units depend mostly on job works. On account of the very low capital of about Rs. 2½ lakhs, the growth of this industry has been very slow. 75% of the 200 workers employed are skilled. The Government have also established one Blacksmithy Training Centre and one general engineering servicing workshop where methods in the use of modern and improved tools are demonstrated.

Cottage and Village Industries

The Cottage and Village Industries in this district consist mainly of blacksmithy, brassmithy, carpentry, pottery, crude tanning of leather, oil crushing, hand-pounding of rice, cement works, bamboo works, cane works, syrups making and tailoring. Except for bamboo, cane works and syrup making, all the other industries mentioned above exist in most of the bigger villages and these form an integral part of the village economy. The Government have established training centres at several places in the district where hereditary artisans are imparted training in improved methods. After the completion of the training the trainees are given some financial assistance under the "State Aid to Industries Act" for enabling them to make use of the training in their practical field.

Necessary implements etc. have also been purchased. The scheme could not be implemented due to the fact that the entire area has been leased out for a long period. Efforts are being made to transport Sundra Wood from Mahadevpur Range of Karimnagar district and start the centre. The Director of Industries and Commerce has been requested to take up the matter with the Chief Conservator of Forests for the allotment of trees.

District Level Leather Office, Warangal

Besides the establishment of the Model Tannery on the recommendation of the Leather Advisory Board, the Government sanctioned a scheme for the dissemination of information regarding technical knowledge, use of latest types of tools in the manufacture of leather and modern types of foot wear to the Village Tanners and Cobblers; steps to be taken to revive the Leather Co-operative Flaying and Carcass Recovery Centres (started with the financial assistance of the Khadi and Village Industries Board); collection of correct data relating to the annual output of the leather forming raw materials in the various parts of the State, their movement and demand; number of persons actually engaged in the various branches of the composite leather industry; arrangements for collection of first hand information on all matters connected with the leather Industry in each district.

The object of the scheme is to give technical assistance to the tribals and supply of disease free layings. The tribals collect seed cocoons from the forest generally in autumn. They will be further multiplied for conducting 2nd and 3rd crops. The third crop is an industrial crop and yields reeling cocoons.

An area of 150 acres of forest with Maddi plantation has been allotted to this station by the Government for conducting departmental rearings. A further forest area of over 500 acres in Eturnagaram Range has been found suitable and correspondence to allot this area is under progress. A grainage building has been constructed. The cocoons harvested by the tribals are being purchased by the station and utilised for reeling purposes both by "NATWA" and "Improved reeling machines". The silk produced is utilised for the manufacture of cloth for shirting, cholies etc.

Besides the above, the Station also renders training facilities. Fifty two boys have been trained so far.

In addition to the above the following subsidiary schemes have been sanctioned during the Third Five Year Plan and attached to Tassar Seed Station, Venkatapur:—

(a) Preservation of food plants taken over from the Forest Department.

(b) Production-cum-Training Centre in reeling and spinning.

(c) Scheme for orgainsation of Field Experimental Unit to study the different varieties of food plants of Tassar Silk Workers in Telangana Area.

The main object of the Scheme (a) is to maintain the food plants of Tassar Silk Workers in the forest on scientific lines for conducting successful rearings. The food plants are pollarded to the required height by attending to other inter-cultural operations. Necessary techinical staff has been posted for the scheme.

The Scheme (b) is intended to produce Tassar Silk yarn on improved reeling machines. The silk produced is used in the manufacture of Tassar Silk Fabrics.

The Scheme (c) is to study the effects of the Tassar Silk Workers on different food plants particularly with reference to the yield of silk and rearing period etc. The Tassar Silk Workers are fed on different plants as per the floor of the Forest area on which they are reared. Envisaging these features, a few important food plants have been planted in different plots near the Seed Station.

Besides the above four schemes a Government Silk Farm has been established in Village Chalvai, which is 11 miles from Mulug headquarters.

The object of this scheme is to propagate the cultivation of mulberry gardens in private sector and to improve the economic condition of ryots by taking sericulture as Household Industry. An area of five acres has been brought under mulberry cultivation in Government Silk Farm. Due to propagation 25 acres have been brought under mulberry cultivation in private sector in the project area. The disease free layings are supplied by the Government Grainage Centre, Hindupur.

Distribution of improved hand tools in Carpentry and Blacksmithy to Village Artisans on Subsidy basis

The object of sanctioning subsidy to the trained artisans is to purchase tools and equipments to enable them to establish themselves in their trades and vocations and thus to put the training they have received to profitable use. Subsidies were granted to village artisans by March, 1963 in Panchayat Samithis of Parkal, Kamalapur, (Chityal), Maripeda, and in the Multipurpose Projects of Narasampet, Wardhannapet and Sangam.

CHAPTER VIII

SOCIAL WELFARE

A Social Service Department was for the first time set up in a temporary capacity in 1944 in the erstwhile Hyderabad State. The aim of this Department was to help the members of the Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes, Denotified Tribes and other Backward Classes in bettering their lives and improving their standard of living. The activities of this department were extended into Warangal district in 1947. After the Reorganisation of the States in 1956 and the formation of Andhra Pradesh, the Social Service Department was renamed as the Social Welfare Department and was functioning on the same lines as in the other districts of Andhra Pradesh.

This Department's primary concern is to remove all the disabilities viz., social, economic, educational etc., that are traditionally the handicaps of the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes and to enable them to catch up with the more progressive sectors of the society. The department co-ordinates the activities of all departments, in so far as their functioning touches and benefits the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes.

With the formation of the Panchayat Samithis and Zilla Parishads the activities of this department were transferred from the Revenue Department to the Panchayati Raj bodies like Zilla Parishads and Panchayat Samithis excepting those connected with the Scheduled Tribes and the Denotified Tribes, which are still being administered directly by the District Collector.

During the first two Five Year Plan periods several schemes were evolved for the betterment of these classes and a considerable amount of money was spent on their welfare. The following statement gives particulars of allotment, expenditure and achievements during the First and the Second Plan periods on the welfare of Scheduled Castes :

Employment

The lack of employment and the mass under-employment of large sections of population and the resultant misery and other evils hardly require detailed description. The scarcity of jobs and the great pressure and influence which is required to obtain them had resulted in a gross inequitable distribution of these limited loans. The Government had, therefore, necessarily to step in to see that these few jobs are distributed according to the merit of the applicant and the date of his application. Employment Exchanges were therefore, created not only to provide employment but also discover new avenues of employment through market information.

The Employment Exchanges throughout the country were first started to provide employment to the demobilized persons of the Second World War. When this problem was solved, the exchanges were continued to tackle the greater problem of unemployment in this country.

Three Regional Employment Exchanges were first established in the erstwhile Nizam's Dominions. They were situated at Hyderabad, Aurangabad and Warangal. The Regional Employment Exchange at Warangal was to cater to the needs of the five districts of Warangal, Karimnagar, Nalgonda, Adilabad and Khammam. The following statement furnishes particulars of the progress of registrations and placements from 1951 to 1961 in the Regional Employment Exchange, Warangal :

STATEMENT VIII-8

| Year | Average monthly registration | Average monthly placings |
|---|---|---|
| (1) | (2) | (3) |
| 1951 | 130 | 24 |
| 1952 | 530 | 72 |
| 1953 | 465 | 134 |
| 1954 | 318 | 98 |
| 1955 | 731 | 100 |
| 1956 | 743 | 100 |
| 1957 | 462 | 54 |
| 1958 | 620 | 71 |
| 1959 | 774 | 83 |
| 1960 | 683 | 82 |
| 1961 | 876 | 104 |

The above statement shows that the average monthly registrations and placings increased from 130 and 24 respectively in 1951 to 743 and 100 at the end of the First Five Year Plan respectively, and this increase can be attributed to the impact of Planning on employment. During the Second Plan period separate Employment Exchanges were established for each of the districts under the Warangal Region. The District Employment Exchange at Nalgonda came into existence in November, 1957, at Adilabad in January, 1958, at Karimnagar in October, 1958 and at Khammam in October, 1958. The Regional Employment Exchange at Warangal was converted into a District Employment Exchange for Warangal District and the Regional Employment Exchange Officer at Warangal continued to have supervisory control over the District Exchanges under him. From Statement VIII-8 it can be seen that the average monthly registrations and placings had dropped down in the Warangal Exchange from 1957 and this can be explained by the fact that these figures indicate only those relating to the Warangal District Employment Exchange and these figures can therefore be considered to be quite creditable for one district.

Employment Market Information

During the Second Plan period a new branch for collection of employment information was started for public sector establishments in 1958 and for private sector establishments in 1959. Under this scheme information regarding the number of persons employed, vacancies likely to be filled, types of persons required etc., is collected for every quarter from the various public and private sector establishments on an "Establishment Reporting System". The purpose of this scheme is to provide the exchange with information needed to improve and add to the service rendered by it; to enable the exchange to locate vacancies and to provide a basis for the study of changes occurring from time to time in the level and nature of employment in the area of the exchange. This information also helps in evaluating the extent to which employment exchange operations are influencing the employment market and identifying and classifying the employment market area. It also helps in the assessment of manpower requirements of professional, scientific and technical workers, providing information about employment particulars and careers over a wide range of occupations and industries to young people and for planning training programmes according to the present and future needs. The following statement gives a summary of the statistics in respect of the work performed by the Employment Market Information Unit.

Vocational Guidance Unit

This unit was started during the Second Five Year Plan period and commenced functioning from 1960. The functions of this unit are (1) providing vocational guidance and employment counselling to youths and adults, (2) assisting in placement of youths in institutions or in training centres, (3) follow-up and review of the progress of persons who have been given guidance or counselling by this unit, (4) maintenance of a library consisting of occupational literature as well as prospectus of educational institutions, technical colleges etc.

Vocational guidance is a process of helping persons to adjust themselves to the existing conditions in such a manner that their capacities or abilities are put to a better use. It aims at effective use of man-power for greater efficiency and economy in the execution of work in industry, business and Government offices. Under this system an individual's qualities, abilities and aptitudes are matched with the requirements of a job. Several tests have been evolved to test the individual's level of intelligence, ability, aptitude, interest etc., to suit particular jobs or trades.

The following are the particulars of work done by the Unit by the end of the Second Plan period :

|---|---|
| Group guidance rendered | 9,976 applicants |
| Individual guidance rendered | 338 applicants |
| Individual information imparted | 1,870 applicants |
| Old cases reviewed | 68 |
| No. of schools visited for purposes of career talks to students and teachers | 45 |
| Applicants sent to training centres for training | 55 |

District Soldiers, Sailors, and Airmen's Board

It is estimated that about 500 families of Ex-Servicemen are living in this district, mostly scattered over rural areas. The work of rehabilitation and the welfare of these families is being attended to by this Board with the Collector as the Chairman and the Regional Employment Officer as the Ex-officio Secretary. In addition this Board is assisted by 14 more members of whom 5 are Ex-Servicemen. Cases for grant of educational concessions to the dependants of the Ex-servicemen under the Post War Reconstruction Fund and other schemes are also being dealt with by this Board. The other activities of the Board are looking into cases of pensions, medical assistance, discharges or release from the army, exgratia payments, loans and grants to deserving Ex-Servicemen etc.

Women's Welfare

The activities of the Women's Welfare Department were extended to the Telangana area under the Second Five Year Plan schemes in the year 1959-60 by starting the Offices of the Assistant Women's Welfare Officer in each of the districts. Thus the activities of the Women's Welfare Department came to be extended to Warangal district also when in 1959 The office of the Assistant Women's Welfare Officer and the Women's Welfare Branch were started at Hanamkonda. A trained organiser, a craft instructress, a maternity assistant and a Sevika were the staff sanctioned for the Women's Welfare Branch while posts of the Assistant Women's Welfare Officer, a Lower Division Clerk-cum-Typist, a Sevika, a peon and a watchman were sanctioned in the office of the Assistant Women's Welfare Officer. Schemes similar to those in the Andhra Region meant to help and encourage the middle class, the lower middle class and the poorer class women to improve the Socio-Economic conditions were introduced here. Crafts like cutting, tailoring and knitting were taught. For the benefit of small children pre-basic classes were started. A slum centre was started at Kancharakunta during September, 1960 to promote the welfare of the Scheduled Castes. During the same month Adult Literacy classes for the women of backward communities were started at Thummalacheruvu. A Maternity Assistant was appointed in April, 1961 to help women during the ante and post natal periods.

A Sub-Centre of the Women's Welfare Branch was extended into the Subedari and started functioning in the Red-Cross building.

During the year 1960–61 a Vocational Training Centre was started in Warangal. The aim of this centre is to train unemployed women belonging to backward classes in some craft or the other with a view to provide employment to them in a public or a private institution. Subjects in which training is being imparted are typewriting, shorthand,book-keeping, accountancy, commercial practice, drafting and precis writing. The first batch of the trainees after the completion of their training appeared at the Government typewriting examination in October, 1961. Out of the total number appeared for the examination 60% got through. Hostel facilities have also been provided for these trainees at the rate of Rs. 30/- per head. 20 out of the 30 trainees got a stipend of Rs. 30/- per month each.

Under the Third Five Year Plan a Chrilden's Home for Scheduled Castes was started at Jangaon in April, 1961. This Home provides educational and hostel facilities with necessary equipment for orphans and poor children in distress. A Balavihar was started at Subedari in August, 1961. This Balavihar is intended to promote children's activities with a view to providing recreational and cultural activities for such of those children who seek these outside their homes. In the evenings an elderly person engages the children by organising games and sports, teaching them songs and drama and telling them useful and healthy stories.

Under the Agency scheme of social assistance to sick and infirm, deserving tribal women belonging to Chinnaboinpalle and Seetanagaram of Narasampet Multipurpose Project were granted aid in the form of outright grant of goats worth Rs. 500/-. Under the Grant-in-aid schemes 23 individuals were granted aid and two institutions viz., Vidyodaya Mahila Mandali, Warangal and Saraswati Mahila Mandali, Pembarthi were granted Rs. 400/- and Rs. 300/- respectively. A few deserving deserted and destitute women were sent to Service Homes and to the Shelter Homes. A tailoring centre was started at the Central Jail during 1962. The Red-Cross granted Rs. 400/- to this centre and out of this amount a Usha sewing machine, furniture and other equipment were purchased.

There are 12 tailoring and dress making centres in this district and necessary training is being provided to women. Deserted and poor women, and widows who seek training in these centres are also supplied sewing machines on 50% subsidised basis. The following statement gives the names of the Block places of the training and the number of batches trained.

CHAPTER IX

PANCHAYATI RAJ

Historical Retrospect

Local Boards did not exist in the erstwhile Nizam's Dominions till the forties of this century. The Hyderabad Village Panchayats Act of 1940 was the first enactment relating to village self-government and under this Act 442 Panchayats were established. The functions and scope of these Panchayats were very limited under the monarchial form of Government. They were nominated bodies and were not "representative" as we understand its meaning today. The resources of these local bodies were also insufficient.

After the Police Action and the merger of the Nizam's Dominions in the Indian Union the elected Government repealed the Act of 1940 and enacted the Hyderabad Village Panchayats Act, 1951. Under this Act, elections to Village Panchayats were held for the first time on the basis of adult franchise. The Government, however, retained the right to nominate some members including those of the Scheduled Castes. A village having a population of over 1,000 but below 5,000 was considered normally as suitable for the establishment of a Village Panchayat. There was, however, a provision to group together villages, if necessary, for this purpose. There was a provision in the Act for the delegation of Gram Panchayat powers to Rural Reconstruction or Co-operative Societies, though in actual practice, very few Rural Reconstruction Societies were so empowered. The functions of Village Panchayats were limited and were divided into obligatory and discretionary. As was the case during the Nizam's regime, even under the popular Ministry the resources of the Village Panchayats were grossly insufficient to meet even the limited power conferred on them. An enabling provision was made in the Act to provide for a Government grant upto 15 percent of the land revenue of the village and also 1/3rd of the local cess as contribution from the District Board. The Act also authorised the Panchayats to levy certain taxes and collect fees. In actual practice, however, the Government did not pay 15 percent of the land revenue to the Panchayats. In many cases this contribution did not exceed 7 percent. The Act had provided for the constitution of Nyaya Panchayats but in actual practice none was constituted. In the very first year 1,224 Village Panchayats were constituted under the Act, but the process was stopped in the following year because of lack of finances. The sum total of all these efforts was that little was achieved. After a lapse of two years, the State Government once again undertook the constitution of Panchayats in 1955. In that year another 1,500 Panchayats were constituted bringing the total number of Panchayats to 2,724.

After the Local Self-Government Ministers' Conference held at Simla in 1954, the State Government re-examined the entire issue. It was considered that the then existing enactment was defective and insufficient to fulfil objectives. Shri Gopal Rao Ekbote, the then Minister for Local Self-Government and now a Justice of the Andhra pradesh High Court, summarised the main features of this system as follows :—

(i) It was not properly elective or representative

(ii) It was administrational and not self-governing

(iii) It was concerned with too narrow a range of the activities of the community

(iv) The boundaries were not drawn with reference to social requirements but purely on geographical grounds.

Another Act known as the Hyderabad Gram Panchayat Act was enacted in 1956. It wass aid to be an improvement over the earlier enactment.

This Act considerably enlarged the powers and functions of the Gram Panchayats and added to their resources. Its main features are described below :

Panchayats are to be constituted for villages with a population of not less than 1,000 and not more than 5,000. The Government can group a number of villages for the purpose. In special cases, however, Panchayats can be constituted for villages with less than 1,000 population or with more than 5,000 population. All adult persons of a village, whose names are included in the list of voters, constitute the Gram Sabha. At least two meetings of the Gram Sabha must be held every year to consider the annual statement of accounts, a report on the work done by the Panchayat in the preceding financial year and a programme of work for the next year.

A village is divided into constituencies for the purpose. The representation of each constituency on the Gram Panchayat is at the rate of one Panch for every 150 of the population, provided that the total number of Panches in the Gram Panchayat shall in no case be more than 12 or less than 6. Seats are reserved in the Gram Panchayat for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes on the basis of their population. The Panches, so elected, then elect a Sarpanch and an Upa-Sarpanch from amongst themselves in their first meeting. The term of office of the Panches is for three years, commencing from the date of the first meeting of the Gram Panchayat. The Government, however, has the power to extend the term of office by one year. The Gram Panchayat has the power to remove a Sarpanch by a 2/3rd majority and an Upa-Sarpanch by a bare majority.

The Sarpanch presides over Gram Panchayat meetings, as also Gram Sabha meetings and is responsible for the conduct of day-to-day administration of the Panchayat. The Gram Panchayat must meet at least once a month. The quorum is not less than one half of the Gram Panchayat membership.

There is a provision for the appointment of a Karobari who will be in charge of preparing and maintaining assessment list, essential statistics, accounts and records and will be entitled to recover dues of the Gram Panchayat. He will be the main Executive Officer, responsible for implementing all decisions of the Gram Panchayat. He is appointed by the Collector, but the Gram Panchayat has the power to remove him for misconduct or negligence of duties by two-third majority.

The duties, functions and powers assigned to the Gram Panchayat fall broadly into the following three classes :

(i) Compulsory duties
(ii) Discretionary functions
(iii) Transferred functions

The functions together cover very a wide field of activities. The Gram Panchayat can perform these functions subject to their resources and local requirements. In addition to the functions specified unde the Act, the State Government has the power to delegate such functions as it may deem fit.

The statutory functions of the Panchayats can be considered under the following heads :

(i) Administrative
(ii) Civic
(iii) Social
(iv) Economic and Development
(v) Statistics
(vi) Judicial, and
(vii) Police

The Act provides for the vesting of the management of public property and other community buildings in the Panchayat. Gram Panchayats have not taken up the task of collection of land revenue, taxes and fees on behalf of the Government, though there is an enabling provision to that effect in the Act. This will enable the Government to gradually eliminate the system of Vatandari. Land revenue collection is at present done by Patels and Patwaries. The Panchayats may also maintain the land records which at present are being maintained by village officials.

Civic functions include village sanitation, public health, water supply, transport and communications and building bye-laws. The Panchayats have the powers to lay down rules and standards for sanitation and can impose penalties for their non-observance. There is provision for street drains and general drainage arrangements. Panchayats can construct public lavatories and bathing places. Other civic functions of the Panchayats are filling up of unused wells, insanitary ponds, pools, ditches, hollows or pits; maintenance of public wells and tanks; preventing pollution of drinking water; maternity and child welfare; control of epidemics and contagious diseases; other medical facilities; control over slaughter houses; setting up of hospitals and dispensaries; construction and maintenance of village roads, streets, cart stands, market places and Dharmasalas.

The social functions of Panchayats relate to the following:—education, recreation, social welfare, development of libraries and reading rooms, organisation of fairs and public festivals, Akhadas, removal of untouchability, discouraging gambling and drinking, prevention of child marriage, steps for the reducation of wasteful expenditure on marriages, funerals etc.

The powers conferred on the Gram Panchayats under the Act touch various aspects of rural economy, e. g., agriculture, animal husbandry, subsidiary and cottage industries, marketing and co-operative movement, etc. Under agriculture are included supply of better seeds and manure, improvement of livestock, arrangements for co-operative and collective farming, control of pests and diseases, construction and supervision of minor irrigation works etc. The Panchayats can also arrange for the cultivation of common lands, lands under Government management and lands which the owners are not able to cultivate. The object of the State Government is to make the Gram Panchayat the primary institution for development of rural economy.

The Panchayats under the Act have been assigned the duty of collection and maintenance of vital statistics. They are required to help in population and livestock Census and in the compilation of data on crops and agriculture.

The Judicial aspect

According to the Act, every village shall elect five members to act as Nyaya Panches for a Nyaya Panchayat established for a village, and to form a panel of Naya Panches for Nyaya Panchayats established for a group of villages. A person elected to the Nyaya Panchayat has to be a permanent resident of the village, and should be able to read and write. Nyaya Panches cannot be members of the Grama Panchayat. The Nyaya Panches elect a Pradhan and an Upa-Pradhan. The term of office of Nyaya Panches is three years, but the Government can extend the term by one year. The Nyaya Panches are required to take oath of office. Panches guilty of misconduct and irregularities can be removed.

The Nyaya Panchayats have been vested with civil, criminal and revenue powers. They can try offences of a minor nature. In addition, they can try offences entrusted to them by the Government. They can order a person to furnish security for the maintenance of peace. They can refer some intricate cases to Munsif's Court.

Regarding civil suits, Nyaya Panchayats shall have jurisdiction to hear a suit for money due on contracts except in respect of moveable property or for the value thereof. They have further jurisdiction to hear cases regarding damages to moveable property and suits under the Cattle Trespass Act. The monetary jurisdiction of the Nyaya Panchayats has been fixed at Rs. 100/—. The Government, however, can raise the pecuniary jurisdiction of any Nyaya Panchayat to Rs. 500/—. The villagers are entitled, under the Act, to refer for award any of their disputes of whatever value, to the Nyaya Panchayats for arbitration. Some of the disputes under the Hyderabad Record of Rights and Regulations and the Hyderabad Tenancy and Agricultural Lands Acts can be tried by the Nyaya Panchayats.

Conciliation Boards and Village Volunteer Force

A novel feature of the Hyderabad Act is the constitution of Conciliation Boards in the Gram Panchayats. Each party to the dispute can select one Panch from among those who are elected members of the Gram Panchayats and the third person on the Board is the Sarpanch or the Upa-Sarpanch. It has been specifically provided in the Act that no Nyaya Panchayat shall take cognizance of any dispute unless a certificate of failure of conciliation proceedings in respect thereof has been produced. It is expected that thus many disputes will be settled and there would be no need to go to Nyaya Panchayats.

The Act lays down detailed procedures for the conduct of Nyaya Panchayats. These are purposely kept very simple. No legal practitioner can appear before the Nyaya Panchayat. The parties, however, can be represented by agents. Fines imposed by Nyaya Panchayats, if not paid within the specified time, can be realised with the help of superior authorities. The Munsif Magistrate or the Deputy Collector, has been authorised to revise any decision of the Nyaya Panchayats. In spite of the above provisions no steps were taken to establish either Nyaya Panchayats or Conciliation Boards.

The Act authorises the Village Panchayats to constitute a Village Volunteer Force for Watch and Ward and to assist the Gram and the Nyaya Panchayats in the discharge of their functions and serving of summons, and notices. The Government can empower a Gram Panchayat to take measures for maintenance of law and order and prevention of crimes in the village. The Panchayat is authorised to appoint a Chowkidar, also called a Kotwal in the Act, and one or more as his assistants for this purpose. He is incharge of the Watch and Ward section of the Gram Panchayat and has the right to arrest without a warrant any person who is a proclaimed offender, or has been concerned in any cognizable offence, or is in possession of stolen property or is a deserter from the army. The Kotwal has also the obligation to inform the nearest police station of suspicious or sudden deaths or possible disputes.

Sources of Revenue

The Act provides for the constitution of a Panchayat Fund. The Gram Panchayat Fund consists of all the accumulated balances of the Gram Panchayat, all sums of taxes, tolls, fees authorised to be levied under the Act and all interests and profits arising from any Gram Panchayat investment or transaction and also all fees and fines payable under the Act. Compensation received by the Gram Panchayat under the provisions of the Act, gifts or deposits of private individuals or institutions and loans raised by the Gram Panchayat are also treated as parts of the Panchayat Fund.

The other sources of Revenue of Panchayats are aids and grants from the Government and Local Boards. The Government's contribution is 15 per cent of the land revenue of the village and also 50 per cent of the local cess collected in the village under the District Boards Act.

The obligatory taxes to be imposed by the Panchayats are: (i) property tax, (ii) taxes on professions, trades and callings, (iii) vehicle tax, (iv) a tax on transfer of immovable property. The discretionary taxes are (i) pilgrim tax, (ii) general water tax, (iii) entertainment tax, (iv) animal tax (v) toll tax and other fees.

Section 86 of the Act authorises the Gram Panchayat, after obtaining the sanction of the Gram Sabha, for a specific period and a specific purpose, to levy a cess at the rate of two annas on every rupee of land revenue. The Gram Panchayats can borrow after obtaining the sanction of the Government.

The Act provides for the preparation of annual budget by the Gram Panchayats and lays down the procedure for its approval. The then District Boards were authorised to approve the budgets. The accounts have to be submitted to the Gram Sabha.

The Act empowers the Gram Panchayats to introduce compulsory manual labour for purposes of public utility. The approval of the Gram Sabha has to be obtained. The Gram Panchayat can specify the labour to be performed. A person is free to get labour assigned to him performed on his behalf by another person, or pay for its performance at such rates as may be determined by the Gram Panchayat. The Act prescribes penalty for non-performance of labour.

The former District Boards have generally powers of supervision over the Gram Panchayats. The Collector, the President of the District Board, District Panchayat Officer, Deputy Collector, Tahsildar, or any other officer authorised by the Goverment can inspect any property or work undertaken by the Panchayats. The Collector has the power to stop a Panchayat from undertaking any work considered undesirable or improper. The Government has the power to dissolve a Panchayat for repeated dereliction of duty, but the grounds of dissolution have to be communicated to the Gram Panchayat which has to be given time to show cause against the proposal. In the period of dissolution, the District Board has the obligation to perform Panchayat functions in the village. Immediate steps have to be taken for the reconstruction of a Panchayat after its dissolution.

Thus the Hyderabad Gram Panchayats Act reveals that the erstwhile Government of Hyderabad have been very bold in confering extensive rights on the Panchayats. In actual practice most of the provisions remained only on the Statute Book and not implemented.

The Village Panchayats have gained more importance with the introduction of the Panchayati Raj administration from 1959.

Growth of Community Development Programme in the district

The Central core of philosophy of Community Development is to create a strong desire on the part of the people for a better standard of living and to help to achieve their new goals largely on the principle of self-help and self-reliance. The Community Development Programme was introduced in this district in 1952 with the inception of a Community Project at Mulug. Subsequently, a N.E.S Block was started at Mahbubabad in the year 1956. The movement gained momentum during the Second Five Year Plan period and by the end of the Second Five Year Plan there were 17 Stage I, Stage II and Pre-Extension Blocks in the district covering a population of 869,416 persons spread over in 876 villages. During the Third Five Year Plan period the movement gained further impetus in the district. The following statement furnishes details of the number and names of the Blocks that were existing in the district and also their dates of inception, number of villages covered etc.

STATEMENT IX-1

| Name of Block | Date of inception | Stage of the Block | No. of Villages in the Block | Area (In Sq. Miles) |

| Cherial | 2-10-62 | I | 45 | 184.70 |
| Mulug | 2-10-52 | Post Stage II | 54 | 82.40 |

During the recent delimitation of the Blocks the number was reduced to 14 in this district.

In order to make the people feel more responsible in their developmental programmes and constructive activities the Government introduced the three tier system of Panchayati Raj, the Village Panchayat at the village level, the Panchayat Samithis at the Block level, and the Zilla Parishad at the District level. The Panchayat Samithis were constituted in this district on 1st November 1959 and the Zilla Parishad was constituted on 1st December 1959 on a statutory basis. After the introduction of the democratic decentralisation at the District, Block and Village levels, the responsibility and initative in economic and social development in rural areas rested with these popular institutions, the Zilla Parishad, the Panchayat Samithi and the Village Panchayat. As the Panchayats have to play an important role in the various developmental programmes the need not only to constitute the Panchayats for all the villages but also to strengthen their administration was keenly felt. For this purpose two Divisional Officers were appointed with suitable ancillary staff. The Zilla Parishad is entrusted with heavy responsibility of Community Development and Planning in addition to Secondary Education and maintenance and construction of roads in the entire district.

During the Second and Third Five Year Plans greater importance was given to Agricultural Programmes. Greater stress was also laid on Irrigation and Reclamation, Health and Rural Sanitation and Communication facilities in this district. Agricultural production is proposed to be increased to the optimum during the Third Five Year Plan period in order that self sufficiency in food production is attained. It is hoped that the targets will be achieved by the end of the plan period as programmed.

In order to have a uniform legislation for the entire State instead of having two separate Acts (i.e., the Hyderabad Gram Panchayats Act in the Telangana area and Andhra Pradesh (Andhra area) Village Panchayats Act in the Andhra area, the Government have brought forward an Integrated Bill for Panchayats in the State (viz., The Andhra Pradesh Gram Panchayats Bill, 1963) which has been recently passed by both the Houses of the Legislature. All the best provisions in the two enactments have been incorporated in the integrated Bill.

GAZETTEER

WARANGAL TALUK

This taluk has a population of 539,427 persons according to 1961 Census count and extends over an area of 810.5 sq. miles with 200 inhabited villages, one uninhabited village and two towns viz.. Warangal and Hasanparthi.

The following statement shows the number of inhabited villages arranged according to the various population sizes.

|---|---|
| Less than 200 | 3 |
| 200-499 | 12 |
| 500-999 | 34 |
| 1,000-1,999 | 78 |
| 2,000-4,999 | 68 |
| 5,000-9,999 | 5 |
| 10,000-and above | ... |
| Total inhabited villages | 200 |

The five villages having more than 5,000 population are Dharmasagar (5,382), Atmakur (5,387), Vaileru (5,984), Zafargadh (6,197) and Madikonda (8,238). The places of interest among these villages are described in succeeding paragraphs.

The taluk lies about 1,050 feet above the sea level and enjoys a pleasant climate over the major part of the year. River Aker takes its birth in this taluk, flows south-east and makes its exit near Dharmaram in Mahabubabad taluk.

Warangal City—is the headquarters of the district and lies on the Madras-Delhi railway line. Kazipet which falls within the Warangal City Municipal limits is the Railway junction at which the line from Hyderabad joins the Madras-Delhi line. Warangal has been constituted into a special grade municipality and has a population of 156,106 as per 1961 Census count. It extends over an area of 24.00 sq. miles and has a density of 6,504 persons per sq. mile with 26,352 occupied residential houses in all. It is an elongated city spread in a ribbon like fashion along the road and Railway line and four distinct localities can be distinguished, viz., the Fort area, Matwada, Hanamkonda and Kazipet.

The original name of Warangal is said to have been Orukal which means single rock, perhaps referring to the lonely cliff standing at the centre of Warangal Fort. It was also known as Ekasilanagaram and was the capital of the earliest Andhra rulers. Examples of architectural and sculptural beauty representing the glorious past of the Kakatiya rulers are still available and worthy of a visit. The thousand pillared temple at Hanamkonda built in 1162 A.D. in the Chalukyan style and the Warangal Fort stand testimony to the rule of the last Hindu dynasty. The Archaeological Department is taking all possible steps to preserve their identity. Though some portions have been destroyed on account of the ravages of time yet in many cases the stone carvings are still in a very good condition. History reveals that the city had a glorious past during the reign of the Kakatiyas, when literature and sculpture reached great heights of perfection.

The 1961 Census count discloses the fact that Warangal City is fast improving in many respects. It enjoys good educational centres and institutions. There are forty six Primary Schools, eight Middle Schools, nine High Schools, two Basic Training Schools, an Arts and Science College, a Training College, a Government Polytechnic ,a Regional Engineering College and the Kakatiya Medical College. As there is good scope for the progress of both technical and academic institutions on account of the location of this town as well as on account of the facilities like land etc., available here, there is a possibility of an University being set up here in the near future. Some suggest that it should be named as "Kakatiya University".

This city has a well protected water supply system, fed by the Dharmasagar tank. Due to commercial development and rapid increase in population of the city, the existing water supply is found to be quite inadequate. Therefore, the construction of a R. C. C. tank at Kazipet has been completed. The construction of sump well—a masonary service of 3,00,000 gallons, at Govinda Rajulagutta is in full swing.

The Mahatma Gandhi Memorial Hospital, on account of the Kakatiya Medical College being attached to it, has been raised to the status of a General Hospital. It is located on the main road between Hanamkonda and Warangal. During the Second Five Year Plan period the Dental, Eye and

E. N. T. departments were commenced with complete equipment and thus the hospital is being gradually expanded to bring more and more specialised departments in its fold. Facilities are also provided to impart instruction to the medical college students. In addition to this there are two Government Hospitals, one at Hanamkonda and the other at Matwada. Besides these a nursing school, a family planning clinic and a blood bank have started functioning. The Christian Missionaries also maintain a hospital at Hanamkonda.

Warangal City is noted for its famous cotton durrie and woollen pile carpet industry. It has many Co-operative Societies and notable among them is the Block printing and Carpet Industrial Co-operative Society. The woollen and silk carpets and rugs command good sale both in and out of India.

The Village Artisan Industry, Saw Mill cum Timber Seasoning Plant, Model Carpentry Centre, Model Blacksmithy Centre and General Engineering Service Workshop are functioning actively. Besides all other administrative offices and Courts associated with a district headquarters being located here, a Tribal Welfare Office has also been opened for looking after the welfare of the tribal people.

Dharmasagar—a large and ancient village with a population of 5,382 according to 1961 Census is situated about 10 miles west of Warangal city. In this village there is a large lake called 'Dharmasagar' built during the Kakatiya reign. It supplies drinking water to the inhabitants of Warangal city. It is connected by a fair weather road of 5 miles length from Madikonda village on Warangal–Hyderabad road and it is also five miles away from Kazipet Railway Station.

There is a temple dedicated to Venugopala swamy. The festival of Venugopalaswamy is only of local importance and it is celebrated anually for about a week during Magha Suddha Dasami to Purnima (January–February). This village comes under Madikonda Panchayat Samithi. A well furnished Inspection Bungalow is also maintained by the Public Works Department.

Atmakur— is about 12 miles north-east of Warangal city on the Warangal–Mulug road with a population of 5,387 persons as per 1961 Census. It was once the seat of Sur Desai of Inagala family. This village is in Hasanparthi Panchayat Samithi and has a Police Station. A well furnished Inspection Bungalow maintained by the Public Works Department is situated here. The village is 14 miles away from Warangal Railway Station and 18 miles away from Kazipet Railway Station.

In this village there is a temple for Venugopalaswamy and His Kalyanotsavam is observed annually for about 14 days. Only local people congregate during the festival.

Madikonda— comes first in population among all the villages in this taluk, with a population of 8,238 as per 1961 Census. The village is situated about 2 miles west of Kazipet Railway junction in the Central Railway on the Warangal–Hyderabad road. It is the headquarters of a Panchayat Samithi. A Police Station is also situated here.

Zafargadh–is a fairly big village, with a population of 6,197 according to 1961 Census and is situated about 25 miles south of Warangal city. The village is surrounded by the fort wall built between two hills. It was the seat of muslim chieftains who had built the fort more than a century back. Sri Lakshmi Narsimhaswamy temple is situated on one of the hills which attracts many devotees from the neighbouring villages. In this temple Lord Lakshmi Narasimhaswamy gives darshan in the form of Narasimha with four hands; holding Sankhu and Chakra along with Lakshmi by his side. The Lakshmi Narasimhaswamy festival is held during Sravana Suddha Padyami (July-August) and Karthika Suddha Purnima (October-November). The festival is purely local but people of all communities participate even from the surrounding villages. There are choultries to accommodate the pilgrims and free feeding facilities are also provided during the festival.

Hasanparthi—is one of the eight towns in this district. It has a population of 7,719 persons as per the 1961 Census. It has a Railway Station on the Kazipet–Delhi line. This village has assumed religious importance as the Yerragattuswamy festival is observed every year in honour of Yerragattuswamy during Holi i.e., Phalguna Suddha Purnima (February–March). The temple for Yerragattuswamy is constructed on a hillock which lies one mile away from the town. In this temple the stone image of Yerragattuswamy is in human form being seated on Sesha, the serpent king. The festival lasts for three days and it is estimated that nearly 20,000 people both local and from the surrounding villages congregate here. This festival is observed by people of all communities.

It is interesting to note that in the past Hasanparthi was famous for silk saries and contained a large number of expert weavers. Hasanparthi is the headquarters of Panchayat Samithi. A High School is situated here.

PARKAL TALUK

The taluk is situated in the middle of the northern region of the district with a population of 172,230 at the 1961 Census. It is surrounded by Warangal and Narasampet taluks in the south, Mulug taluk in the east, and Karimnagar district in the west and north. It has 126 inhabited and 5 uninhabited villages and one town viz., Parkal.

The following statement shows the number of inhabited villages arranged according to the various population sizes.

|---|---|
| Less than 200 | 7 |
| 200-499 | 19 |
| 500-999 | 27 |
| 1,000-1,999 | 47 |
| 2,000-4,999 | 26 |
| 5,000-9,999 | ... |
| 10,000 and above | ... |
| Total inhabited villages | 126 |

In this taluk the construction of the Salivagu Irrigation Project is under progress. It is situated about 6 miles north-west of Parkal. When this project is completed it will irrigate about 2,000 acres and also supplement the water supply to Parkal town.

Parkal Town—with a population of 6,722 at the 1961 Census is the headquarters of a Panchayat Samithi and taluk as well. About 23 miles north of Warangal Railway Station, Parkal town is situated on the Hanamkonda-Huzurabad road. There is also a road from Parkal to Mahadevpur.

Parkal town has a High School, two Middle Schools, one for boys and the other for girls and also a good number of Primary Schools for children. During the Second Five Year Plan period a Government Hospital was constructed with an accommodation for 6 beds. There is a Travellers' Bungalow maintained by the Public Works Department. On every Sunday a large weekly market is held to cater the requirements of the local people. The town is 16 miles from Uppal Railway Station and 20 miles from Hanamkonda.

In this town there are two important temples. One is for Kumaraswamy and the other for Chennakesavaswamy. The Kumaraswamy festival is held from Margasira Suddha Shasti to Ashtami (November - December). It is estimated that during the festival 3,000 people both local and from nearby villages congregate here and the festival lasts for three days. The Chennakesavaswamy Kalyanothsavam lasts for eight days from Vaisakha Suddha Dasami to Bahula Vidiya (May-June). The festival is only of local importance.

MULUG TALUK

This taluk is on the north-eastern end of the district with a population of 93,408 according to 1961 Census. River Godavari flowing from north - west to south-East forms a boundary on the north-eastern side of this taluk and separates it from Khammam district. A major portion of the taluk is covered by reserve forests. There are 151 inhabited and 67 uninhabited villages in this taluk.

The following statement shows the number of inhabited villages arranged according to the various population sizes.

|---|---|
| Less than 200 | 67 |
| 200-499 | 36 |
| 500-999 | 18 |
| 1,000-1,999 | 15 |
| 2,000-4,999 | 15 |
| 5,000-9,999 | ... |

The three big lakes viz., the Ramappa, the Ghanpar and the Laknavaram built during the reign of the Kakatiyas are in this taluk. These lakes date back to the Kakatiya reign and their construction is an eloquent tribute to the engineering skill of the Kakatiyas.

It is built of black basalt and beautifully carved. Every year Ramalingeswaraswamy festival is held during Magha Bahula Triodasi and Chaturdasi (February - March). It is also a holy place for Gonds. Though there is no specific temple as such constructed yet they all gather to observe their religious formalities at periodical intervals. Thus the religious importance of this place is doubled.

Laknavaram—with a population of only 246 at the 1961 Census is a very small village situated about 15 miles away from Mulug, the taluk headquarters. ## GENERAL POPULATION TABLES

General Population Tables prepared at the 1961 Census are the basic demographic tables and give information about the total population as recorded at the present Census in the district/taluk/town, the territorial changes that have occured during the last decade from 1951-61, variation of population during the past six decades, distribution of villages and towns by population sizes and trends of urbanisation in the district. The data are presented under the following four Tables.

A-I Area, Houses and Population

A-II Variation in Population during sixty years (1901–61)

A-III Villages classified by population

A-IV Towns (And Town-Groups) classified by population in 1961 with variation since 1941

All the above Tables pertaining to Warangal district are reproduced in this Hand Book.

TABLE A-I–AREA, HOUSES AND POPULATION

This Table, the basic population table, gives for the district and for each taluk as well as for each town in the taluk, area in square miles and also in square kilometres, persons per square mile, number of villages inhabited and uninhabited, number of towns, number of occupied residential houses, and population by persons, males and females. The figures have been given separately one below the other under Total, Rural and Urban. In this Table, as in all other tables, the taluks have been arranged in the order of the Location Code Numbers adopted in the 1961 Census and not in an alphabetical order. For this purpose all six taluks in the district have been numbered off continuously in a clock-wise order starting from the taluk in which the district headquarters is situated i.e., from Warangal taluk. The Location Code Numbers allotted to the taluks are shown below:—

| Name of Taluk | Location Code Number |
|---|---|
| Warangal | 1 |
| Parkal | 2 |
| Mulug | 3 |
| Narasampet | 4 |
| Mahbubabad | 5 |
| Jangaon | 6 |

One of the main changes in the presentation of this Table since the last Census is that the particulars of each of the towns in the taluk are also given underneath the concerned taluk besides giving the number of inhabited and uninhabited villages in each taluk.

The district area shown against (x) in column 3 (a) in brackets is that supplied by the Surveyor-General, India. The difference noticed between the area figures furnished by the Surveyor-General and the figures given by the State Survey Department shown against (y) is on account of the different methods of computation of areas adopted by the two authorities. The area figures adopted generally for the district and the taluks are as furnished by the State Survey Department and the area figures of each of the towns are as furnished by the Local authorities concerned and these are exhibited under column 3 (a). The urban area of each taluk has been worked out by adding the areas of all the urban units in the taluk and the rural area of the taluk is obtained by deducting the urban area of the taluk from its total area.

The area in sq. kilometres under Column 3 (b) is obtained by converting the area given under column 3 (a). The area figures for district Total/Rural/Urban, taluk Total/Rural and for each town have been first converted separately. In order to tally the totals of all the taluks with the district total the converted Total/Rural/Urban area figures of the taluks have been suitably adjusted on prorata basis according to area ratios of the taluks. The area of each town both in sq. miles under column 3 (a) and in sq. kilometres under Column 3 (b) have been given upto second decimal place while the Total/Rural/Urban areas of the taluks as well as of the district have been given only upto first decimal place.

The density of persons per sq. mile for the district and for each of the taluks and towns has been worked out according to the area figures exhibited under column 3 (a).

"Village" referred to in this Table and in all other Tables in this book is the Revenue administrative unit with well defined boundaries. Village having one or more groups of habitations is treated as an inhabited village and village with no habitation is treated as an uninhabited village. The number of inhabited and uninhabited villages in each taluk and in the district are shown under columns 5 and 6 of this Table. In computing the number of villages in a taluk, the villages which are either completely included in an urban unit (town) or hamlets to a main Revenue village, are not taken into account. All the Revenue villages within the taluk are demarcated and numbered off continuously from North-West to South-East. The number so assigned to each village is the 1961 Census Location Code Number, distinct from the Revenue Survey Number and will be referred to hereafter as the Location Code Number.

"Town" is a place of usually not less than 5,000 inhabitants possessing distinct urban characteristics and should also satisfy certain criteria prescribed.

For recognition of any place as a town at the present Census it should be either covered by a City Corporation, Municipality or Cantonment Board or it should generally satisfy the following criteria :—

(i) It should have a minimum population of 5,000;

(ii) The density of population should not be less than 1,000 per sq. mile; and

(iii) At least ¾ths of the adult male population should be non-agricultural.

The total number of towns in each of the taluks and in the district is exhibited under column 7 of this Table.

"House" is defined, for the purpose of 1961 Census, as a structure or part of a structure, a dwelling, a shop, workshop, or a factory, place of business, a shop-cum-dwelling giving on the road or a common staircase or a common courtyard, leading to a main gate or enjoying a separate entrance. Only houses used wholly or partly for the purpose of residence by one or more households are considered as residential houses and the number of such residential houses and the number of such houses in the town/taluk/district have been given in column 8. Houses utilised wholly for purposes other than residence are not therefore taken into account in this Table.

The total population, by persons, males and females for the district as well as for each taluk and town have been exhibited separately under columns 9, 10 and 11 in this Table.

Besides the main Table, there are also three Appendices to this Table.

Appendix I: In this Appendix the growth of the district and the taluks to the present area since the last Census have been traced by giving the territorial changes that have taken place during the last decade together with the names of the units and the area involved in the changes. The net area gained or lost by each unit is also given in this Appendix. Pakhal taluk has been renamed as Narasampet taluk during this decade.

Appendix II: One of the criteria for a place to be declared as a town is that it should normally have a population of 5,000 and over. However, several places with a population of 5,000 and over did not qualify to be treated as towns while a few places with less than 5,000 population might have been treated as towns for good reasons at the present Census. This Appendix will give the number of such places with their population. There are no new towns under 5,000 population at 1961 Census in this district.

Appendix III: This Appendix shows the taluk-wise figures for the Houseless Population and the Institutional Population separately. Houseless Population comprises of those people who have no fixed place of residence and no regular home to live in. Institutional Population is a group of unrelated persons living and messing together under the management of a head of the household appointed either by rules governing the Institution or by common consent of its members. For the purpose of studying different characteristics this population has been included along with the Household Population.

TABLE A-II—VARIATION IN POPULATION DURING SIXTY YEARS (1901-1961)

This Table compares the population of the district as ascertained at the 1961 Census with the corresponding figures for the six previous Censuses. The figures revealed at the previous Censuses have been adjusted for subsequent territorial changes in order to afford a correct basis for comparison.

As this Table gives the growth of population from decade to decade, this data forms the main source for the estimation of population in the absence of reliable Vital Statistics. One of the main changes in the presentation of this Table since the last Census is that the percentage of variation is also given from decade to decade. The variation of males and females from decade to decade has been omitted at the present Census.

During the last decade major changes in the jurisdiction of this district have taken place. Parkal taluk from Karimnagar district and Jangaon taluk from Nalgonda district have been transferred to this district. Yellandu, Madhira, Bhoorgampadu, Palvancha (Kothagudem) and Khammam taluks except Sirvole and Kamepalle villages have been transferred from this district to the newly constituted Khammam district.

Appendix to this Table shows the 1951 population according to their territorial jurisdiction in 1951, changes in area and the population involved in the changes that have taken place during the last decade. The details of transfers of areas in each case together with the names and areas in sq.miles and the number and the date of Notification of each transfer to the extent available are also given in the footnote.

TABLE A-III—VILLAGES CLASSIFIED BY POPULATION

This Table shows the total number of inhabited villages in the district, arranged on population basis under the following groups:—

Less than 200 population

200—499

500—999

1,000—1,999

2,000—4,999

5,000—9,999

10,000 and above

The villages which are either uninhabited or wholly included in urban units are not taken into account in this Table. The following statement gives at a glance the break-up of all the inhabited villages of Warangal district classified by population in four broad groups viz.,

| Class | Number of inhabited villages |
|---|---|
| Less than 499 | 244 |
| 500—1,999 | 510 |
| 2,000—4,999 | 215 |
| 5,000 and above | 9 |
| Total inhabited villages | 978 |

For the definition of "village" and "inhabited village" see explanatory note to Table A-I.

TABLE A-IV—TOWNS (AND TOWN-GROUPS) CLASSIFIED BY POPULATION IN 1961 WITH VARIATION SINCE 1941

This Table shows the growth of each town since 1941. The civic status, area both in sq.miles and sq. kilometres, population with sex break-up decade variation in total population and percentage of decade variation have been given for every town in this Table.

For the definition of "Town" see explanatory note to Table A-I

The towns have been classified into six classes according to their population in the latest Census as detailed below.

| Class | Population size |
|---|---|
| I | 1,00,000 and above |
| II | 50,000—99,999 |
| III | 20,000—49,999 |
| IV | 10,000—19,999 |
| V | 5,000 – 9,999 |
| VI | Less than 5,000 |

Class I towns with a population 100,000 and above have been treated as cities. The total number of towns under each class in the district at 1961 Census are given below.

| Class | Number of Towns |
|---|---|
| I | 1 |
| II | Nil |
| III | Nil |
| IV | 2 |
| V | 5 |
| VI | Nil |
| Total Towns | 8 |

Mulug is the only town of 1951 Census deleted in the present Census in this district. No new place has been treated as a town for the first time at 1961 Census in this district.

Since the prime purpose of this Table is to show the growth of towns as towns and not how certain places have grown into towns from villages, the population of a place which at any particular Census year was not treated as a town is not given in this Table. The population of towns at each of the last seven census years i.e., since 1901 is, however, given in Table A–IV in Part II–A General Population Tables of Andhra Pradesh (State Volume). The population of towns for previous Censuses are those then recorded.

The civic status of every town i.e., whether the town is a City Municipality, a Town Municipality etc., is indicated after the name of the town in the abbreviated letters C. M., T. M. etc.

One of the main changes in the presentation of this Table since the last Census is that the areas of towns and town-groups and the percentage of decade variation of the total population of the towns have also been given.

The Appendix to this Table gives the names of towns treated as such at the present Census together with the names of villages either fully or partly included in them.

NOTE:—1. Towns treated as such for the first time in 1951 Census and which continue as Towns in 1961 Census are printed with an asterisk (*) on the left side.

2. Under columns 3(a) and 3(b), (x) represents the area figures furnished by Surveyor-General of India and (y) represents the area figures furnished by the State Survey Department. The urban areas are based on the area of individual towns furnished by the local authorities. The rural area for a district/taluk is obtained by subtracting the urban area from the total district/taluk areas according to the State Survey Department.

3. The sq. kilometres and density figures of urban areas of taluk/district are worked out using the area figures corrected upto 2 places of decimals obtained by adding the areas of the towns in the respective units and not using the area figures given in the Table. In addition to this, the area figures relating to square kilometres are further adjusted to make the taluk/district totals tally.

4. The following abbreviations have been used for the status of a town :—
C. M : City Municipality, T. M : Town Municipality, P : Panchayat

ECONOMIC TABLES

The Economic Tables for the 1961 Census are based on the principal work of a person and the concept of dependancy has been abandoned altogether for economic classification. The entire population has been divided into the following nine categories of Workers, for broad economic classification based on the National Classification of Industries adopted by the Government and the Non-Workers being shown as a separate category.

I Working as Cultivator

II Working as Agricultural Labourer

The Household Economic Tables which are a special feature of this Census and which are prepared on the basis of a 20% sample of the returns in the Household Schedules filled up at the time of enumeration and are given in a separate volume entitled "Census of India 1961 Vol. II Andhra Pradesh Part-III-Household Economic Tables" and may be referred to.

The working population in each of the nine categories of workers and the non-working population is divided by broad Age-groups viz., 0-14, 15-34, 35-59, 60+ and Age not stated in some of these Economic Tables.

TABLE B-I-WORKERS AND NON-WORKERS CLASSIFIED BY SEX AND BROAD AGE-GROUPS

This Table is prepared separately for Total, Rural and Urban population and is a summary Economic Table for the entire district. It gives the distribution of the population by sex among the nine Industrial Categories of Workers and also Non-Workers by the four broad Age-groups 0-14, 15-34, 35-59 and 60+ years. This is the basic Economic Table and the Age-groups correspond to the different stages of life which have special significance with reference to capacity to work viz., children, young persons, middle aged persons and elderly persons. The classification of non-working population is made in other succeeding Tables.

This Table is prepared on the basis of the principal work of a person irrespective of the fact that the person may not be self supporting from the income derived by that work. In the case of persons who are engaged in more than one work, which are also productive activities, the principal work is taken as that one which has been declared by the person himself as the work on which he spends the longest time and not necessarily the work from which he derives the largest income. Thus the stress is on the concept of work and not income or dependancy. The following explanation makes it clear as to who is treated as a Worker.

Workers

All persons who were engaged in some productive work during any of the 15 days preceding the day on which enumerated, irrespective of the fact whether they derive income or not, are treated as Workers. In respect of seasonal work like Cultivation, Livestock, Household Industry etc., if the person had some regular work for more than one hour a day throughout the greater part of the working season, he is recorded as a Worker. Persons temporarily incapacitated from work at the time of Census enumeration due to illness or other cause are also treated as Workers. An undertrial prisoner in prison during the Census enumeration is also treated as worker if he did some productive work before he was apprehended. Convicts in a prison or long term inmates of hospitals or mental institutions, are not however treated as Workers. Persons under training as apprentices with or without wages are recorded as Workers. Family Workers i.e., who do not directly derive any income but attend to work along with other members of the family are treated as Workers. An adult woman who is engaged mainly in household duties and in no other economically productive work i.e., a housewife, is not, however, treated as a Worker. Work includes not only actual work but also effective supervision. A public or social service worker who is actually engaged in public service activity or political activity is taken as a Worker. Thus all workers in any branch of productive work are netted as Workers.

Non-Workers

All persons who are not workers i.e., those falling under the following categories are treated as Non-Workers:

(i) Fulltime students or children attending schools and who do no other work;

(ii) Persons engaged in unpaid home duties such as housewife;

(iii) Any dependant including an infant or child not attending school or a person permanently disabled from work because of illness or old age;

(iv) A retired person who is not employed again, a rentier or royalty receiver or any other person of independent means for securing which he does not have to work and who does no other work;

(v) Beggars, vagrants or independent women without indication of source of income and others with unspecified source of existence;

(vi) A convict in jail or an inmate of a penal, mental or charitable institution;

(vii) Unemployed persons seeking employment for the first time;

(viii) Persons employed before but now out of employment.

TABLE B-III—INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION OF WORKERS AND NON-WORKERS BY EDUCATIONAL LEVELS

This Table is divided into two parts. Part A relates to Urban areas and Part B relates to Rural areas. In this Table each of the nine categories of Workers and also the Non-Workers is classified by different educational levels.

In Part A which relates to Urban areas only, the data are given for all the Urban areas of the district put together and also for Warangal City by the following educational levels.

Illiterate
Literate (without eduational level)
Primary or Junior Basic
Matriculation or Higher Secondary
Technical diploma not equal to degree
Non-technical diploma not equal to degree
University degree or Post-graduate degree other than Technical degree
Technical degree or diploma equal to degree or Post-graduate degree
Engineering
Medicine
Agriculture
Veterinary and Dairying
Technology
Teaching
Others

In Part B the data which relate to Rural areas only are given for the district, followed by taluks by the following educational levels.

Illiterate
Literate (without educational level)
Primary or Junior Basic
Matriculation and above

A "Literate" is a person who can, with understanding both read and write. He should be able to read any matter in print or manuscript and also be able to write a simple letter. A person who can neither read nor write or can merely read and cannot write is considered as illiterate. All children aged 4 years and below are treated as illiterates. The test for education is that the person should have passed a recognised written examination or examinations as proof of the educational level attained. The highest examination passed is taken as the level of education.

TABLE B-IV—INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION BY SEX, AND CLASS OF WORKER OF PERSONS AT WORK OTHER THAN CULTIVATION

This Table is divided into three parts.

Part-A shows Industrial classification by sex and class of worker of persons at work at Household Industry for Total, Rural and Urban population. The data are shown first for the Division followed by Major Groups in the order laid down in the Indian Standard Industrial Classification under that Division.

Part-B shows the Industrial Classification by sex and class of worker of persons at work in Non-Household Industry, Trade, Business, Profession or Service for the Total and Urban population. In this part also the data are presented first for the Division followed by the Major Groups in the order laid down in the Indian Standard Industrial Classification.

Part-C shows the Industrial Classification by sex and Divisions, Major Groups and Minor Groups of persons at work other than cultivation for Total and Urban population of the district. The data are presented first for the Divisions followed by Major Groups in the order laid down in the Indian Standard Industrial Classification. Under each Major Group the corresponding Minor Groups are shown.

Only Part-C is reproduced in this Book. Minor Groups having less than 1% of Workers of the respective Division (0.5% in the case of Division) 2 & 3 are not shown in this Table, but given in the Appendix to this Table.

"Household Industry" is an industry conducted by the head of the household himself and/or mainly by members of the household at home or within the village in the Rural areas and only at home in Urban areas. The industry should not be run on the scale of a registered factory and should relate to production, processing, servicing, repairing or making and selling of goods.

An "Employer" is a person who has to employ other persons in order to perform the work. Such a person is not only responsible for his own personal work but also for giving work to others. But a person who employs domestic servants for household duties or has subordinates under him in an office where he is employed by others, is not an employer, even if he has the power to employ another person in his office on behalf of his own employer or employers.

An "Employee" is a person who usually works under some other person for salary or wages in cash or kind. Persons who are employed as managers, superintendents, agents, etc., and in that capacity employ or control other workers, on behalf of their own employers are not regarded as employers.

A "Single Worker" is a person who works by himself but not as Head of household in a Household Industry. He is not employed by any one else and in his turn does not employ anybody else, not even members of his household except casually. Single worker also includes a person who works in joint partnership with one or serveral persons hiring no employees, and also a member of a Producers' Co-operative. Each one of the partners or members of such Producers' Co-operative is recorded as a "Single Worker".

A "Family Worker" is a member who works, without receiving wages in cash or kind, in an Industry, Business or Trade conducted mainly by members of the family and ordinarily does at least one hour of work every day during the working season. Such an Industry, whether run at home or away from home in town or village and even away from village in the Rural area should ordinarily be in the nature of a recognised partnership, joint stock company or registered factory. Members of a family include those drawn from beyond the limits of the Household by ties of blood or marriage. The family worker may not be entitled to a share of the profits in the work of the business carried on either by the person or Head of the Household or other relative. Members of the household who help solely in household duties are not treated as family workers.

Note:— In respect of Household Industry, by the very nature of the participation of the workers in a household Industry all the four categories of workers are not recognised. Only the "employees" if any in a Household Industry are categorised as such. The rest are clubbed together as "others".

TABLE B-V—OCCUPATIONAL CLASSIFICATION BY SEX OF PERSONS AT WORK OTHER THAN CULTIVATION

This Table shows, for the Total and Urban Population, the Occupational Classification of persons working in non-Agricultural occupations. The data are presented first for the Division followed by the Occupational Groups in the order of the National Classification of Occupations. Under each Group the detailed Occupational Families are shown. Occupational Families, accounting for less than 1% of the Workers of the respective Division (less than 0.5% in case of Families under Division 7-8) are not given in this Table, but shown in the Appendix to this Table. The particulars for the district are given down to the Occupational Family, while the taluk-wise particulars and particulars for Warangal city are given upto Division level only.

The Occupational Classifications given in this Table is quite distinct from the Industrial Classification presented in Table B-IV Part-C. Occupational Classification relates to the actual work a person does irrespective of the Industry in which he is engaged. e.g., a person who is a clerical worker for Occupational Classification may be connected with Industry, Trade or Service. Conversely in the same Industrial Category there may be persons following different Occupations as, technicians, managerial workers, clerical workers, watch and ward etc., Therefore in this Table under each Occupational Division, Group and Family the broad Industrial Category of the worker is also given.

TABLE B-VII—PART A—PERSONS WORKING PRINCIPALLY (i) AS CULTIVATORS (ii) AS AGRICULTURAL LABOURERS OR (iii) AT HOUSEHOLD INDUSTRY CLASSIFIED BY SEX AND BY SECONDARY WORK (i) AT HOUSEHOLD INDUSTRY (ii) AS CULTIVATOR OR (iii) AS AGRICULTURAL LABOURER

PART-B—INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION BY SEX OF PERSONS WORKING IN NON-HOUSEHOLD INDUSTRY, TRADE, BUSINESS, PROFESSION OR SERVICE WHO ARE ALSO ENGAGED IN HOUSEHOLD INDUSTRY

This Table is divided into two parts:

Part-A shows the persons working principally as Cultivator or as Agricultural Labourer or at Household Industry and who have secondary work in the other two alternatives from among Household Industry or Cultivation or Agricultural Labour. The data for the district are given for Total, Rural and Urban population by Industrial Divisions and Major Groups. For the taluks, however, the particulars are given for Rural Population and by Divisions only. Particulars for Warangal city are presented separately.

Part - B shows the persons working principally in Non-Household Industry, Trade, Business, Profession or Service and also engaged at Household Industry as Secondary work by Industrial Divisions and Major Groups. The data for the district are presented for the Total, Rural and Urban Population by Divisions followed by the Major Groups of that Division. The talukwise data are presented for Rural Population and Warangal City data for its Urban Population by Industrial Divisions only.

TABLE B-VIII—PERSONS UNEMPLOYED AGED 15 AND ABOVE BY SEX AND EDUCATIONAL LEVELS

This Table shows the distribution of persons unemployed aged 15 and above by sex and educational levels for Urban and Rural areas separately in two parts.

In Part-A, which relates to the Urban areas, the unemployed have been sub-divided into two classes, viz., (i) Persons seeking employment for the first time (ii) Persons employed before but now out of employment and seeking employment. The data are given by broad Age-groups and by educational levels. The first class of unemployed are divided into the Age-groups 15-19, 20-24, 25-29, 30-34, 35+ and Age not stated and the second class into Age-groups 15-19 20-24, 25-34, 35-44, 45-59, 60+ and Age not stated. Particulars for Warangal city also have been reproduced in this Table.

Part-B relates to Rural areas. The data in this part are given talukwise by educational levels. The data in this Table are not, however, given by Age-groups.

TABLE B-IX—PERSONS NOT AT WORK CLASSIFIED BY SEX, BROAD AGE-GROUPS AND TYPE OF ACTIVITY

This Table shows for the Total, Rural and Urban Populations, the persons not at work classified by sex, broad Age-groups and type of activity. The Non-Workers are divided into eight categories according to their activities viz., (i) Fulltime students: (ii) those attending only to Household duties; (iii) Dependants, infants and disabled; (iv) Retired persons, Rentiers or persons of independent means; (v) Beggars, vagrants etc.; (vi) Inmates of penal, mental and charitable institutions; (vii) Persons seeking employment for the first time; and (viii) persons employed before but now out of employment and seeking work according to their activities. These eight categories are based on the recommendations of the United Nations. This Table provides information about those who have an income without working, about housewives, about school going children, besides other types of non-working population. The data for the district are presented for Total, Rural and Urban Populations. The talukwise data are, however, presented for the Rural Population only and the data for warangal city have been presented separately.

A total number of 24 males and 7 females have been returned as fulltime students in the Age-group 35-59 in this district. These elderly persons might be pursuing advanced studies in religion such as Christian missionary trainees, or in Vedas, Music or other Fine Arts etc., and hence classified as fulltime students.

TABLE C–I—COMPOSITION OF SAMPLE HOUSEHOLDS BY RELATIONSHIP TO HEAD OF FAMILY CLASSIFIED BY SIZE OF LAND CULTIVATED

This Table, prepared on a 20% sample basis from the Household Schedules filled in at the time of enumeration, gives the composition of Households, separately for Total, Rural and Urban areas in the district. The Households in the Rural areas are further classified into 3 Economic Categories viz., (1) Households engaged neither in cultivation nor in Household Industry, (ii) Households engaged in Household Industry only and (iii) Households engaged in Cultivation. In respect of the third category of Households the data are furnished separately for each of the eleven classes of Households according to the Size of land cultivated, viz., (i) Less than one acre, (ii) 1.0–2.4 acres, (iii) 2.5–4.9 acres, (iv) 5.0–7.4 acres, (v) 7.5–9.9 acres, (vi) 10.0–12.4 acres, (vii) 12.5–14.9 acres, (viii) 15.0–29.9 acres, (ix) 30.0–49.9 acres, (x) 50.0 + acres and (xi) Size of holding unspecified. The composition of the Households is given in terms of the heads of Households, spouses of heads of Households, married sons and other married relations, other relations and unrelateds persons. This table will thus indicate the strength of the joint family system and will therefore be of sociological interest.

TABLE C–II—AGE AND MARITAL STATUS

This Table prepared on full count gives the distribution of population both by Age-groups and Marital Status separately for Total, Rural and Urban population in the district, and for the Rural population in each of the taluks and for Warangal City. This is a very important demographic Table. A comparison of the data in this Table with corresponding data pertaining to the last Census will give an indication of mortality in different Marital Status and also in different Age-groups. The Age-groups viz., 0–9, 10–14, 15–19, 20–24, 25–29, 30–34, 35–39, 40–44, 45–49, 50–54, 55–59, 60–64, 65–69, 70 + and Age not stated adopted in this Table conform to international requirements. Age-group 0–9 is automatically treated as 'Never Married' for the purpose of this Table. The proportion of increase or decrease in the various Marital Status since the last Census and the trends in the age at marriage can be studied from this. Table. From the data on married females by Age-groups given under column 9 of this Table, the future birth rates can also be forecast.

TABLE C–III—AGE, SEX AND EDUCATION

This Table gives the distribution of Total population by broad educational levels, Sex and by broad Age-groups. The Table is divided into three parts.

Part A relates to all areas while Part B and Part C relate only to Urban and Rural areas respectively. The educational levels given for all areas and Rural areas in Part A and Part C are the same while in respect of Urban areas in Part B more detailed educational levels have been adopted. These educational levels are the same as those adopted in Table B-III for the Industrial Classification of Workers and Non-Workers by educational levels. This table is useful in ascertaining the growth of literacy in the total population as well as in the different Age-groups since the last Census.

TABLE C-V—MOTHER-TONGUE

This Table exhibits separately for the Total, Rural and Urban population of the district and only for the Rural population of each taluk and for Warangal City the number of persons, males and females speaking a particular language as Mother-Tongue. The languages returned at this Census are given in this Table in an alphabetical order.

'Mother-Tongue' is the language spoken in childhood by the person's mother to the person or mainly spoken in the Household. If the mother died in infancy then the language mostly spoken in the Household is the Mother-Tongue. In the case of infants and deaf mutes the Mother-Tongue is the language usually spoken by the mother.

This Table is very important in view of the large number of languages and dialects spoken in the country and will be of great assistance for ensuring the implementation of the various safeguards granted to the linguistic minorities under the Constitution.

TABLE C-VII—RELIGION

This Table gives separately the distribution of Total, Rural and Urban population of the district and Rural population only of taluks and of the urban population of Warangal City according to Religion. In Censuses earlier to 1941 the practice was to show the distribution of population Religion-wise down to the village level. Since the 1951 Census this practice has been discontinued.

TABLE C-VIII—SCHEDULED CASTES AND SCHEDULED TRIBES

Part A—Classification by Literacy and Industrial Category of Workers and Non-Workers among Scheduled Castes

Part B—Classification by Literacy and Industrial Category of Workers and Non-Workers among Scheduled Tribes

This is a general Table prepared for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes only and gives separately, the total population of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes and their distribution by literacy and by classification of workers, into different Industrial Categories and the total number of Non-Workers. This Table is divided into two parts. Part A relates to Scheduled Castes and Part B relates to Scheduled Tribes. This is the first time that the number of literates amongst the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes are given separately. In addition to this Table some more Special Tables for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes pertaining to Warangal district have also been prepared and incorporated in this book under the series "SCT Tables".

EXPLANATORY NOTE

D-SERIES

MIGRATION TABLES

The Tables in this series show the migration trends analysed on the basis of the results of the 1961 Census. The data are presented in the following seven Tables, which are reproduced upto district level and for all Cities and Town-Groups in the publication "Census of India 1961 — Volume II Andhra Pradesh–Part II-C Cultural and Migration Tables" and these may be referred to for details.

|---|---|
| D–I | Non-Indian Nationals |
| D–II | Place of Birth |
| D–III | Migrants classified by place of birth and duration of residence in place of enumeration |
| D–IIIA | Migrants from other States and outside India (less than 5 years duration) classified by Age-groups |
| D–IV | Migrants to Cities classified by Sex, broad Age-groups, educational levels and in case of Workers also by occupational Divisions and Groups |
| D–V | Cities showing population born locally, Migrants from Rural areas and Migrants from other Towns and Cities |
| D–VI | Distribution of Industrial categories of Workers and Non-Workers by place of birth |

In this Hand book only Tables D–I and D–II showing the Non-Indian Nationals and other migrants in Warangal district are reproduced.

TABLE D–I–NON-INDIAN NATIONALS

This Table shows the number of Non-Indian Nationals sex-wise in the district. The Non-Indian Nationals for the purpose of presentation of the data have been broadly classified into five groups viz.

(i) Nationals of Countries in Asia beyond India (including U. S. S. R.)

(ii) Nationals of Countries in Europe (excluding U. S. S. R.)

(iii) Nationals of Countries in Africa

(iv) Nationals of Countries in two Americas

(v) Nationals of Countries in Oceania

The name of the country of which the person is a National is given separately under each group. The persons who have not recorded any Nationality have been shown separately. Nationals of Goa, Diu, Daman and Pondicherry have been treated as 'born in India.'

TABLE D–II–PLACE OF BIRTH

This Table, prepared as in all previous Censuses, gives the distribution of population by birth place. The data are presented both by the place of enumeration and by the place of birth classified separately into Rural and Urban areas. An important change in the presentation of the data at the present Census is that the Place of Birth has been classified separately as Rural and Urban. This two fold presentation of the data enables one to study the migration trends not only within the district and from outside the district but also from Rural to Urban areas and vice-versa.

E-IV Distribution of Sample Households living in Census Houses used wholly or partly as dwellings by predominant material of wall and predominant material of roof

E-V Sample Households classified by number of members and by number of rooms occupied.

All the above Tables give information upto taluk level, except Table E-III which contains figures upto the district level only, and also in respect of towns having a population of 50,000 and more and are reproduced in the publication "Census of India, 1961, Vol. II-Andhra Pradesh, Part IV-B-Housing and Establishment Tables" and it may be referred to for full details. In this Hand book only "Table E-I-Census Houses and the uses to which they are put" pertaining to the Warangal district is reproduced.

TABLE E-I—CENSUS HOUSES AND THE USES TO WHICH THEY ARE PUT

This Table shows the number of Census Houses and the different uses to which they are put. The data are given down to taluk level and also for towns having a population of 50,000 and more; the data are presented separately for Total, Rural and Urban areas.

"Census House" is defined in the present Census as a structure, or a part of a structure inhabited or vacant, or a dwelling, or a shop-cum-dwelling or a place of business, workshop, school etc., with a separate entrance. If a building has a number of flats or blocks which have separate entrances of their own and are independent of each other giving on the road or a common stair case, or a common courtyard leading to a main gate, then each such block or flat is considered as a separate Census Houses. If within an enclosed or open compound there are separate building then each such building is treated as a separate Census House. If all the structures within an enclosed compound are together treated as one building then each structure with separate entrance is treated as a separate Census House.

SCT-SERIES

SPECIAL TABLES OR SCHEDULED CASTES AND SCHEDULED TRIBES

This series of special Tables for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes gives the population of each Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe classified by Religion, Age, Marital Status, Education and distributed by Industrial Categories of Workers adopted in Table B-I. After the 1931 Census, the population figures of individual Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes are being given only at the present Census. The data are presented in the following five Tables:

SCT-I Industrial classification of persons at Work and Non-Workers by sex for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes

SCT-II Age and Marital status for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes

SCT-III Education in Urban and Rural areas for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes

SCT-IV Religion for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes

SCT-V Sample Households engaged in Cultivation classified by interest in land and size of land cultivated in Rural areas only for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes

Besides the above five Tables, the following three Special Tables, relating to either Scheduled Castes ro Scheduled Tribes exclusively are reproduced.

SC-I Persons not at work classified by sex, type of activity and educational levels for Scheduled Castes only

ST-I Mother-Tongue and Bilingualism for Scheduled Tribes

ST-II Persons not at work classified by sex and type of activity for Scheduled Tribes

These three Special Tables are also reproduced upto district level. The figures for all the taluks are also given in this book in respect of Scheduled Castes and in the case of Scheduled Tribes for Mulug and Narsampet Taluks in which their number is considerable.

In view of the safeguards provided in the Constitution for these communities, the Tables in this series will be of much use and guidance, especially when the Government are taking measures for the improvement of the condition of these communities by suitable welfare schemes under the Five Year Plans. The total Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes population is given talukwise separately for Total, Rural and Urban areas and for each Town under the State Primary Census Abstract. The villagewise particulars are given under the Village Directory.

The Scheduled Castes in Andhra Pradesh are those listed in Part I under "Andhra Pradesh" to Schedule I of the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes lists (Modificaion Order, 1956) published in the Notification of the Ministry of Home Affairs, New Delhi, dated 29th October 1956. ## TABLE SCT-I-INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION OF PERSONS AT WORK AND NON-WORKERS BY SEX FOR SCHEDULED CASTES AND SCHEDULED TRIBES

This Table shows for the Rural and Urban areas of the district, the population of each Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe classified by Industrial Category of persons at work and Non-Workers by sex. The Table is divided into two parts. Part A relates to Scheduled Castes while Part B relates to Scheduled Tribes. This Table is important as it gives the strength of each of the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, the working population among them and the sector of Industry in which the working population is engaged. The data are presented for the Rural and Urban areas separately.

TABLE SCT-II—AGE AND MARITAL STATUS FOR SCHEDULED CASTES AND SCHEDULED TRIBES

This Table shows for each Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe the total population by Age and Marital status. This Table is divided into two parts. Part-A relates to Scheduled Castes and Part-B relates to Scheduled Tribes. This Table corresponds to Table C-II for the total population; however, th

Age-groups are restricted to 0–14, 15-44, 45+ and Age not stated only, in both the parts of this Table. This Table enables us to know the percentage of each of the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes to the total population in the corresponding Age-group. Such communitywise data by Age and Marital Status for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes are being given for the first time at the present Census. The Age distribution and Marital Status data will give an indication as to whether the population of a Caste/Tribe is growing or declining.

TABLE SCT-III-EDUCATION IN RURAL AND URBAN AREAS ONLY FOR SCHEDULED CASTES AND SCHEDULED TRIBES

This Table shows the literacy and educational levels for each Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe separately for Rural and Urban areas. This Table is divided into Part-A (i) and Part-A (ii) relating to the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes respectively in Urban areas and Part-B (i) and Part-B (ii) relating to the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes respectively in Rural areas. In the case of Urban areas the educational levels adopted for giving the data are the same as those adopted in Table B-III Part A and in the case of Rural areas the data are given as in Table B-III Part B. This Table, therefore, enables us to know the proportion of each of the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes among the total population in different literacy and educational levels.

TABLE SCT-V--SAMPLE HOUSEHOLDS OF SCHEDULED CASTES AND SCHEDULED TRIBES ENGAGED IN CULTIVATION CLASSIFIED BY INTEREST IN LAND AND SIZE OF LAND CULTIVATED IN RURAL AREAS ONLY

This Table shows the sample Households engaged in Cultivation classified by interest in land and size of land cultivated in Rural areas only, separately for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes. The Table is divided into two parts. Part-A relates to Scheduled Castes and Part-B relates to Scheduled Tribes. The sizes of landholdings and types of interest in land cultivated adopted in this Table are the same as those adopted in Table B-XI.

TABLE SC-I--PERSONS NOT AT WORK CLASSIFIED BY SEX, TYPE OF ACTIVITY AND EDUCATIONAL LEVELS FOR SCHEDULED CASTES

This Table shows persons belonging to the Scheduled Castes not at work classified by sex, type of activity viz., fulltime students, persons seeking employment for the first time, unemployed but seeking work and others, by educational levels. The broad educational levels adopted are illiterate, literate (without educational level), Primary or Junior Basic, Matriculation or Higher Secondary, and above Matriculation or Higher Secondary. This Table is prepared for total Scheduled Castes as a whole and not separately for each individual caste and the figures are exhibited for Total, Rural and Urban population. This Table will be very useful as it clearly illustrates the extent to which the Scheduled Caste children have taken to education and it also helps to plan employment for the unemployed members of the Scheduled Castes. This Table has been prepared for Rural areas of all the Taluks in the district, as the percentage of Scheduled Castes population in the Rural areas of all the Taluks in the district exceeds the State average proportion.

TABLE ST-I--MOTHER-TONGUE AND BILINGUALISM FOR SCHEDULED TRIBES

This Table shows exclusively the Scheduled Tribes classified by Mother-Tongue and subsidiary languages spoken by them. The data are given for the Total, Rural and Urban areas in the district and Rural areas only of Mulug and Narasampet Taluks, as the Scheduled Tribes population in these two taluks only is considerable. The Scheduled Tribess have their own peculiar languages and dialects and this Tables gives the language or dialect of each Tribe. In respect of the members of the Scheduled Tribes who have moved out of their homes and as a result of contact with the local population speak some other languages also, those subsidiary languages are also shown in this Table. The number of male and female speakers of the subsidiary language is indicated in brackets after the subsidiary language under column 7 of the Table.

TABLE ST-II--PERSONS NOT AT WORK CLASSIFIED BY SEX AND TYPE OF ACTIVITY FOR SCHEDULED TRIBES

This Table shows for the district the persons not at work classified by sex and type of activity for each individual Scheduled Tribe. The types of activity under which the persons not at work are classified are the same as those adopted in Table SC–I viz., fulltime students, persons seeking employment for the first time, persons unemployed but seeking work and others. In this Table the particulars are given according to the individual Tribe while in Table SC–I similar particulars in respect of Scheduled Castes are given for Total Scheduled Castes as a whole by educational levels. The present Table, however, shows the number of unemployed persons in each individual Tribe without reference to the literacy levels.

As may be observed from the statement at page [133] of this explanatory note the Scheduled Tribes population in the district is concentrated in only two Taluks viz., Mulug and Narasampet where the percentage of Scheduled Tribes population exceeds the State's average of 4.27%. Particulars are furnished for these two Taluks also in this Table.

PART IV

VILLAGE AND TOWN DIRECTORY

EXPLANATORY NOTE

VILLAGE AND TOWN DIRECTORY

This Directory renders an account of each village, as also each ward and each Enumerator's Block of a town. It gives the Location Code Number and name of each village/town, area of the village/town, and where inhabited, the number of Occupied Residential Houses, Census Households, Total Population, population of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, Literate Population, Workers classified into the following nine Industrial categories of workers and Non-Workers :—

I Cultivator
II Agricultural Labourer
III Mining, Quarrying, Livestock, Forestry, Fishing, Hunting and Plantations, Orchards and Allied activities
IV Household Industry
V Manufacturing other than Household Industry
VI Construction
VII Trade and Commerce
VIII Transport, Storage and Communications
IX Other Services ; and
X Non-Workers

The data are presented talukwise, first for the rural portion in the "Village Directory" and next for the urban portion in the "Town Directory." In the Village Directory the villages have been arranged in the ascending order of the Location Code Numbers assigned to the villages within the taluk and in the Town Directory, in the ascending order of Location Code Numbers assigned to the towns in the taluk and also by each ward and Enumerator's Block in the ascending order. The taluk map given at the beginning of the Village Directory of each taluk showing the Location Code Numbers of each village and town and other particulars will help the easy location of the villages.

In the Village Directory, villages uninhabited and villages that have been completely merged in towns have been indicated accordingly. In respect of villages which are partly included within the town limits and partly fall outside the town limits, the particulars for that portion included in the town limits, i.e., 'Urban Portion' are clubbed with the particulars of the town and given in the Town Directory and for that portion outside the town limits, i.e., 'Rural Portion' the data are given in the Village Directory along with other villages. The term "Rural" is indicated immediately after the names of such villages to make the position clear. In the presentation of data for the towns, the particulars have been exhibited in ascending order of Municipal Wards or Blocks and also by Enumerators' Blocks and not according to the villages constituent in the town. In order that each Enumerator's Block may be located, the jurisdiction of each Block i. e., the houses covered by each Enumerator's Block, in the towns is indicated at the beginning of the Town Directory.

Under column 8 the area is given for the villages and towns in square miles based on the information furnished by the State Central Survey Office, the Tahsildars and by the Municipal authorities concerned. In respect of certain villages for which the area particulars are not available the abbreviation "N.A." is given in column 8. As the area of a taluk comprises not only the area of the villages but also the area of Reserved Forests, etc., within the taluk, the areas of all the villages put together may not be equal to the area of the taluk.

Under columns 9 to 41 the Total Population, Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes Population, Literate Population, total number of Workers under each of the nine categories and Non-Workers are given by sex for each village/town.

The taluk map found at the beginning of the Village Directory of each taluk shows the boundaries of each village and town, the important roads and railway lines, the rivers, if any, in the taluk. In this map the Location Code Number of each village is shown and the names of the towns and villages having more than 5,000 population, important tourist centres and places of great religious importance, etc., if any, are given. Urban areas have been shown by shading the area covered. Uninhabited villages and inhabited villages of different sizes of population i.e., below 2,000, 2,000—4,999, 5,000 and above, are shown by distinct designs. An alphabetical list of villages with the Census Location Code Numbers indicated against theme, is given after the taluk map and before the Village Directory. This list enables one to find out the Location Code Number of any village and thereafter to get the required particulars of the village from the Village Directory.

The information relating to Educational facilities, Medical and Public Health facilities, Drinking Water facilities, Communication and Transport facilities and Electrification is also given villagewise in this section for the first time besides the population data. In the other Sub-Tables 3 to 6 relating to Police Stations, Veterinary Hospitals, Reading Rooms and Places of Public Entertainments (Cinemas) also, the data are presented in the same form as explained above i.e., first for the district and then for each taluk. Only the names of places where such facilities exist are given.

In the Sub-Table 7 relating to Industrial Establishments, the number of units under various industries existing in villages and towns are given. These particulars were mainly those collected through a schedule of industries and crafts issued to the village school teachers in connection with the Rural Craft Survey. In this schedule the data were to be given by the numbers of families; and as such, the families which had members engaged in any of the industries had been taken as units for that industry. In respect of some villages where the schedules had not been answered, the information was compiled from the houselists. Certain data were taken from other sources as well such as the Village Directory furnished by the Tahsildars, and the survey of Industries conducted in the cities. It is, however, quite possible hat there may be some villages for which the information could not be presented. Such omissions are, however, likely to be very few. The particulars are given separately for the rural and urban areas. Under the name of the district, the industries are arranged in the ascending order of Minor Groups of the Indian Standard Industrial Classification showing the total number of establishments within brackets next to each Minor Group Code Number, for total, rural and urban areas separately. Then, the figures for the various taluks are presented showing first the total numbers on the pattern adopted for the district totals, followed by the particulars for the villages and towns in that taluk in the order of the Village Directory. Against each village/town are shown the Minor Group Code Numbers of the industries or crafts found in that village/town with the number of units engaged in that Minor Group in brackets against each of the groups.

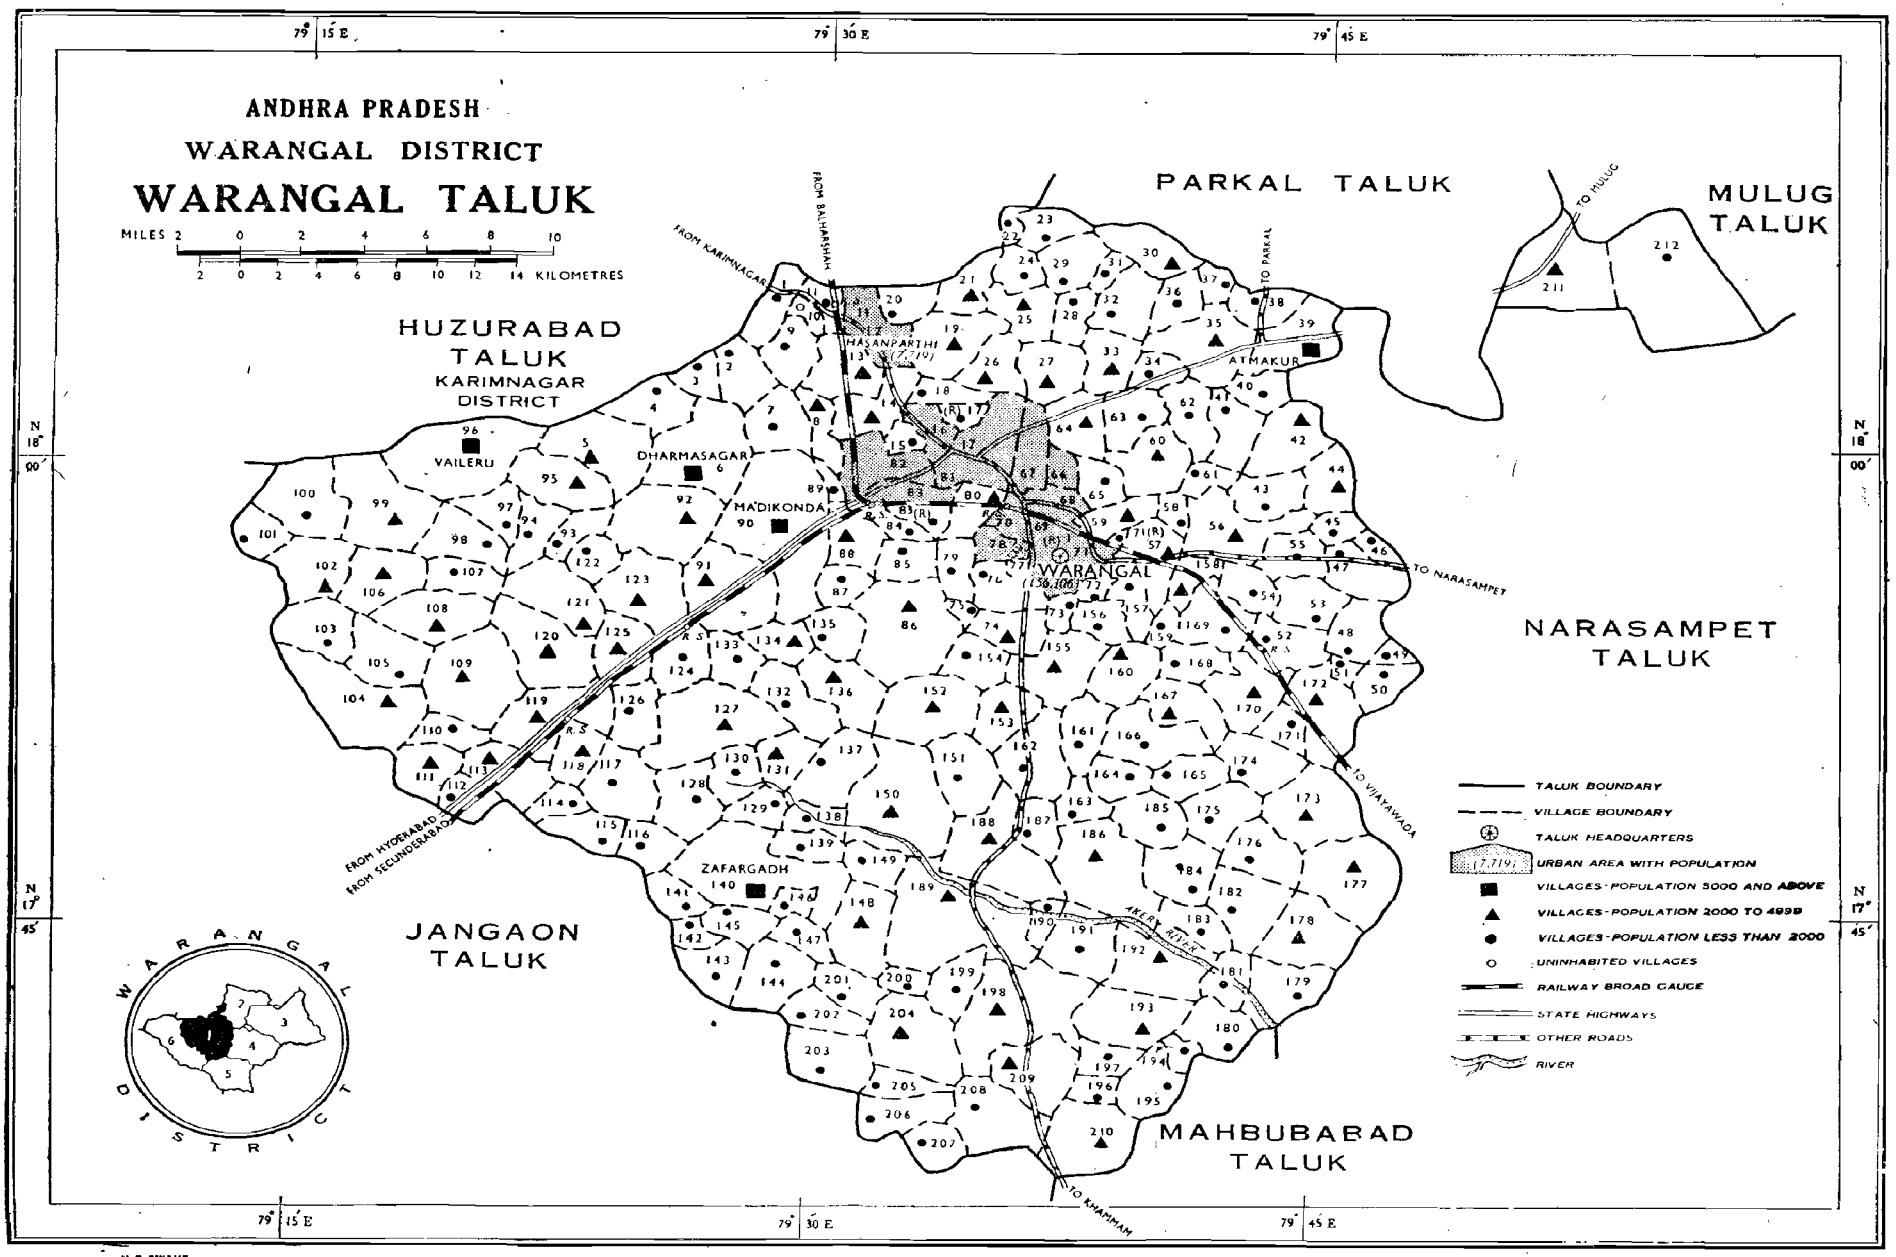

In the three Sub-Tables 8, 9 & 10 relating to Handicrafts information is given about the various Crafts practised, the number of persons engaged, the distribution of Artisan Communities, the number of families engaged in the Handicrafts the names of highly skilled craftsmen of each community, and the distribution of articles of crafts by main material used, source of design, manufacture, marketing and earnings. These particulars were mainly collected through a schedule of Industries and Crafts issued to the village school teachers in rural areas and to the Municipal Authorities in the Municipal Areas. In respect of Cities the information was collected through the staff of the Census Tabulation Offices, specially appointed for the purpose. In respect of some villages where the schedules have not been answered the information was taken from the Houselists prepared at the time of house numbering in 1960. A detailed report on the Handicrafts Survey is given in "Census of India, 1961—Volume II—

Andhra Pradesh—Part VII-A, Handicraft Survey Reports (Selected Crafts)" and may be referred to.

In the Sub-Table relating to Fairs and Festivals given at the end of this section, the important fairs and festivals that take place in the village, the month in which they take place, etc., are given for each village having such importance. A detailed report on the Fairs and Festivals is, however, given in "Census of India, 1961—Volume II—Andhra Pradesh —Part VII B Fairs and Festivals" and may be referred to.

All the information given in the various Sub-Tables in this section an based on the information furnished by the Heads of Departments, the District Officers, the Tahsildars and the Municipal Authorities concerned.
