The Motif on the cover page depicts a person working on handloom at his residence.

"Handloom industry with its widespread ramifications occupies a very important place in the economic fabric of the country. This traditional industry not only offers greater employment avenues but also affords in this age of science and machines ample chances of aesthetic expression through human skill and workmanship."

This industry is largely pursued on household industry basis in almost all taluks in Andhra Pradesh. In fact the textile handloom and spinning industry conducted as household industry provides the largest extent of employment after agriculture. Considerable number of women also participate in it. With the quick advance of science and technology, the techniques of handloom weaving have also been improved to such an extent that the handloom products are in no way inferior in quality to those woven in mills. "The handloom products of Andhra Pradesh State have special distinction and individuality. They pulsate with vigour and vitality reflecting artistic and cultural traditions of Andhra Pradesh. The folk-art, bold in colour combinations and enchanting designs invest these fabrics with unsophisticated grace". These products have good market not only in our country but also abroad, particularly in Singapore, Kuala Lampur, Athens, Mauritius, Laos, Nairobi, Hamburg, Japan on account of their artistic excellence and utilitarian value.

Andhra Pradesh produces some exquisite varieties of handloom cloth at noted centres such as Uppada and Peddapuram in East Godavari district; Pedana and Machilipatnam in Krishna district; Peteru, Mangalagiri and Guntur in Guntur district; Chirala in Ongole (Prakasam) district; Venkatagiri in Nellore District; Madhavaram and Pullampet in Cuddapah district; Dharmavaram in Anantapur district; Yemmiganur and Adoni in Kurnool district; Amarachinta, Gadwal and Narayanpet in Mahbubnagar district; Siddipet in Medak district; Sirsilla, Metpalli and Koratla in Karimnagar district and Pochampalle in Nalgonda district. Apart from the above, Pondur in Srikakulam district has won All-India fame as the producer of very fine 'Khadi' . Even a casual visitor to this place finds in a majority of houses a loom functioning and the women folk invariably engaging themselves in spinning of 'Khadi' on 'Charkha'. The THOGATAS, SALES, RANGARAJUS, DEVANGAS, KOSHTI, PADMASALES and PATTUSALES are some of the well-known weaving communities in Andhra Pradesh State. Handloom weavers are also found in a particular sect of Scheduled Caste known as Malasale. Besides the specialised fabrics produced at the famous centres mentioned above, ordinary sarees and 'dhotis' and cloth in common use by the local people are produced on handlooms in many rural and urban areas.

There are over 83,000 establishments engaged in the manufacture of cotton textiles on household industry basis in Andhra Pradesh according to the 1970 Houselisting Operations. They constitute slightly more than one-tenth of the total establishments of all varieties in the State including trading and service establishments. Roughly 2 lakh persons are engaged in this industry. Establishments manufacturing wool, silk and synthetic fibre textiles on household industry basis are about 7,000 in number in the State. Almost all these are run by manual power. About two-thirds of these establishments have two to four workers each.

In the recent past, the handloom industry, no doubt, has been facing several problems like shortage and high prices of yarn. But under the existing economic conditions, proper encouragement needs to be given to this industry in view of its large employment potential with relatively small investment. Tangible efforts are necessary in all directions for increasing the productivity in the Handloom Sector so that it could emerge as a strong and self-reliant sector in the State's economy.

PREFACE

Houses used as dwellings only were being listed till 1951 for the purpose of conducting the Census. Later, the need for authentic and comprehensive information regarding various types of establishments for scientific economic planning was felt. An attempt was made for the first time at the 1961 Census by canvassing a separate and uniform schedule called the Houselist in which details of each and every house such as purpose for which Census house was used, material of wall and roof, number of rooms occupied by household, number of persons in the household, whether the household was living in owned or rented house and if the house was used as workshop or factory, names of products, repair or servicing undertaken, average number of persons employed, kind of fuel used, were collected. As regards establishments, details were recorded only if any kind of production, processing, repair or servicing was undertaken or if any goods were made and sold. If any Census house was used either fully or partly for purposes other than those mentioned above, the details of such establishments were not taken note of. Thus, in the 1961 Census Houselist, some simple data on houses used as workshops or factories were collected. With the increasing demand for more details about the establishments, the scope of the Houselisting operations was enlarged at the 1971 Census. So a separate schedule called the Establishment Schedule was canvassed along with the Houselist. This obviated loading of the Houselist with several details of the Establishments.

The Establishment Schedule canvassed on State wide basis in 1970 gathered particulars not only of manufacturing establishments but also of all types of establishments including trading and service. The particulars so collected include whether the establishment is a Government/Quasi-Government, private or co-operative institution, average number of persons working, whether it is household industry, registered factory, unregistered workshop, description of products, processing or servicing done, type of fuel used, description of goods bought/sold, whether retail or wholesale in respect of trading establishments. Information was also collected if any house was used as Government Office, School, Hospital, Railway Station, Barber's Saloon, Cinema House, Hotel, Tea Shop, etc. This Schedule yielded very useful data particularly in regard to the unorganised industrial sector for classifying the establishments by the size of employment and industrial or trade categories, correlating the power used and the size of employment.

The data collected through the establishment schedule will also serve as a good frame for any future industrial surveys. It should however, be remembered that this schedule covered only the Establishments run in the houses which are listed and therefore will not cover open air or itinerant establishments that will not have any houses for locating them. Further, Houselisting Operations should not be construed as a full-fledged industrial survey. The establishment schedule was canvassed only as supplementary to the Houselist. Moreover, in an operation like Census where each house should be listed and every individual will have to be covered for so many details, it was not possible to gather information about the capital investment, raw materials, actual turnover, etc., relating to the establishments for obvious reasons. To add to this, the enumerating agency though fully trained cannot be said to be adequately equipped with the academic background and experience essential for any sophisticated economic survey. However, these deficiencies will, in no way, diminish the immense value of the data collected and tabulated into six tables presented in this volume. The significance and the concepts of the terms used in them have been given in the introductory note and also in the fly-leaf preceding each of these six tables.

As the survey on establishments was conducted as part of the Houselisting Operations, the readers, therefore, may be able to appreciate better the data in this volume if they also go through Part IV—Housing Report and Tables Volume of Andhra Pradesh (already published) which inter alia provides information about the number of houses put to different uses such as residences, shop-cum-residences, workshop-cum-residences, etc.

The most strenuous efforts put forth by thousands of enumerators and supervisors under the guidance of the Charge Superintendents, Sub-Divisional Officers and District Officials have resulted in the successful conduct of gigantic operation of Census. My heart-felt thanks are due to them all.

I am very much indebted to Sri A. Chandra Sekhar, Registrar General and Ex-Officio Census Commissioner of India for his invaluable guidance at all stages of Census Operations. I am also grateful to Sri K.D. Ballal, Deputy Registrar General, Sri K.K. Chakravorty, Central Tabulation Officer, Sri S. Raghavachari, Assistant Registrar General, Sri S.C. Sharma, Assistant Registrar General and Sri C.S. Rao, Deputy Director (Data Processing), for their kind co-operation.

A large band of devoted workers comprising editors, coders, punch operators and punch verifiers, processed the establishment schedules in my office under the able guidance of Sri N. Lakshmi Prasad, Deputy Director of Census Operations. The list of supervisory officials is given at the end of this preface. I am thankful to all of them.

The tables on establishments were prepared on the Computer at Registrar General's Office, New Delhi. These tables were checked and verified by Sri K.K. Sarma, Tabulation Officer and Sri K. Srimannarayana Murthy, Computor in my Office, for their arithmetical accuracy and inter-table consistency under the supervision of Sri P.S.R. Avadhany, Deputy Director of Census Operations and Sri K. Narasimha Murthy, Assistant Director of Cens Operations. The printing of this volume was looked after by Sri C.S. Bose, Tabulation Officer with the assistance of Smt. P. Nirmala, Statistical Assistant, Sri A. Salam, Computor, Sri G. Jaya Prakash, Sri M. V. Narasinga Rao and Smt. A.S.M. Laxmi, Assistant Compilers. My thanks are due to them.

I would also like to record my appreciation of the good work done by the workers and officers at Government of India Press, Coimbatore who were associated with the printing of this volume.

Table E-I : Distribution of Establishments by broad types.

Table E-II Part A : Distribution of Manufacturing, Processing or Servicing Establishments other than Household Industries classified by Registered Factories, Un-registered Workshops and size of Employment.

Table E-II Part B : Distribution of Manufacturing, Processing or Servicing Establishments other than Household Industries classified by Industry, Fuel/Power or Manual used and size of Employment.

Table E-III Distribution of Trade/Commercial Establishments classified by the type of Business or Trade and size of Employment.

Table E-IV : Distribution of Establishments (Other than Manufacturing, Processing or Servicing or Business and Trade Establishments) by size of Employment.

These tables prepared on full count are based on the data collected in the Establishment Schedule during the Houselisting Operations conducted during February/May, 1970. This schedule was designed to collect basic data about all types of establishments and was canvassed throughout the country. It may be recalled that Houselist schedule of 1961 Census contained provision for recording basic particulars of manufacturing establishments only. Encouraged by the valuable and useful information gathered at the 1961 Census about the manufacturing establishments, a separate and more elaborate schedule to cover all types of establishments was designed and canvassed during the 1971 Census. It is expected that the data collected in the Establishment Schedule will fill in a number of gaps in the existing data relating to small scale, cottage and other unorganised industries.

An establishment is defined as a place where goods are produced or manufactured not solely for domestic consumption, or where servicing and/or repairing is done such as factory, workshop or household industry or servicing and/or repair workshop, or a place where retail or wholesale business is carried on, or commercial services are rendered, or an office, public or private, or a place of entertainment, or where educational, religious, social or entertainment services are rendered It is necessary that in all these places one or more persons should be actually working.

The establishments are divided into three broad types viz., (i) Manufacturing, Processing or Servicing Establishments, (ii) Trade or Business Establishments and (iii) Other Establishments depending on the nature of activity of the establishments. They are also classified into three categories according to the nature of management viz. (i) Government or Quasi-Government (ii) Private and (iii) Co-operative.

A further classification of the manufacturing establishments into (1) Registered Factories (2) Un-registered Workshops and (3) Household Industries is also made.

The trading establishments are classified as Wholesale or Retail and other businesses and commercial houses as 'Others'. Lastly the other establishments i.e, other than the Manufacturing or Commercial Establishments include Educational Institutions, Public Health Institutions, Government Offices, Theatres, Hotels etc.

Some of the terms used in the schedule are explained below:

Government or Quasi-Government Establishment: An establishment was treated as Government/Quasi Government Institution if the Central or State Government or the local authority such as the Zilla Parishad, City Corporation or Municipality etc., completely owned or had a majority of shares as to control the management of the establishments.

Private Establishment: These are those owned and managed by private individuals or corporate bodies not being Co-operative Institutions or Government or Quasi-Government institutions.

Co-operative Establishment: Establishment registered under the Co-operative Societies Registration law of the State alone fall in this category.

Registered Factory: A factory which is registered under the Indian Factories Act was treated as a registered factory.

Un-registered Workshop: A workshop which is not registered under the Factories Act was treated as Unregistered Workshop.

Household Industry: A house hold Industry is defined as an industry where some manufacturing, processing or servicing is carried on and the Industry is conducted by the Head of the Household himself/herself and/or mainly by the members of the household at home or within the village in rural areas, and only within the premises of the house where the household lives in urban areas. The industry should not be run on the scale of a registered factory and the goods produced also should not be merely for domestic consumption but should be available to outsiders for sale.

Trading Establishment (Wholesale or Retail): Trading establishments are classified as wholesale or retail depending on the volume of transactions involving sale and/or purchase of goods.

Explanation of other items used in the different tables is given wherever necessary in the fly leaf to the concerned table. A detailed analysis and discussion of the data contained in these tables will be found in the volume "Census of India, 1971-Series 2—Andhra Pradesh – Part III-A-Report on Establishments".

Limitations of the data presented in the Establishment Tables

The limitations of the data collected at 1961 Census on the manufacturing establishments were pointed out in the volume entitled "Census of India, 1961-Volume II-Andhra Pradesh-Part IV-A—Report on Housing and Establishments".

Some of the above limitations hold good in respect of the Establishment Schedules of the 1971 Census also. The relevant portions of the above said volume are reproduced below:

(i) It is possible that in the case of workshop-cum-residences some of the houses were recorded merely as residences if the manufacturing process was not being carried on at the time of houselisting. Especially in the rural areas, handloom weaving, making of earthenware and pottery, manufacture of leather footwear etc., are carried on by some of the households which are engaged in agricultural operations during the agricultural seasons and in the concerned housholds industries during the off season. Though no precise estimate of the number of units in some of the household industries recorded in Table E-I. and E-II Part. C may be very much on the lower side.

(ii) Despite the instructions that all places where any kind of production, processing, servicing or repairing is undertaken should be recorded as workshops or factories as the case may be, some enumerators felt their conscience pricked to enter as workshop a place where a mere handloom was located or some lace work was done or earthen dolls were made on a household industry basis. He somehow, felt that some sort of machinery should exist to treat a place as a factory or workshop. He did not cosider a potter's house or weaver's hut as a workshop. Hence, there is some possibility of household industries being considerably under-enumerated. Besides, several types of the household industries are carried on in such a way inside the homes that it is hardly possible for an enumerator to notice them at the time of his visit. In urban areas there is also a possibility of wilful suppression of information for the fear that the house-tax may go up if the house is reported as anything than residential. Several such cases therefore might have been treated merely as residences.

(iii) In a few cases the enumerators might have recorded 3 or 4 contiguous houses constituting only one industrial unit, say, a rice mill or an oil mill as 3 or 4 rice mills or oil mills because each constituent building of the premises in which the factory is located might have been numbered as a separate Census house. Also in some other cases, some of the ancillary units like a welding shop or a smithy shop in large establishment like a big textile mill or a sugar factory might have been recorded as separate establishments because these ancillary units were housed in structures bearing independent Census house number. The ancillary units are incidental to the main industry and hence may have to be treated as constituent parts and not as independent establishments pursuing their work exclusively. In both these cases there is a possibility of arriving at inflated figures for the number of establishments under some of the industries.

(iv) In some cases the names of the factories or establishments or the description of products manufactured or the service or repair undertaken were not clearly recorded in the Establishment Schedule but only vague entries like workshop or factory were recorded. In all such cases the units had to be classified under major group 38 or 39 –"Manufacture and repair work of goods not assigned to any other group". The figures under this major group include some establishments which could have been classified under other groups provided the information was clearly given.

(v) In a number of cases particulars about the power used and employment were not recorded in the Establishment schedule. In the case of those industrial units which were well known or for which data were available from other sources these particulars were filled up before tabulation. It was easy to secure the particulars in familiar factories or workshops from other sources. But in quite a number of cases especially in the rural areas it was not possible to do so in the case of smaller establishments. In these cases the establishments were assumed to be employing one person each and using no power.

(vi) It is also possible that at the time of houselisting some of the industrial units engaged in seasonal industries like tobacco curing, gur making, might have been employing a very limited number of persons and in most cases only the watch and ward staff because of the off season for that particular industry. Employment figures in these industries may therefore be low and may not present the actual position correctly.

In addition to the above limitations the following aspects may also have to be kept in view.

Some of the establishments like the seasonal jaggery making units located in the fields would not have been covered by the enumerators, as the units are not located in any structures. Similarly itinerant trading or other establishments, pavement shops etc, which do not have any permanent location might not have been listed out by the enumerators.

The variation in the number of registered factories as obtained from the Establishment Schedules and the list maintained by the Factories Department are explained below:

According to Rule 2 m (i) and 2 m (ii) of Factories Act a factory or a workshop employing 10 or more workers and using power should be got registered; similarly a workshop employing 20 or more persons and not using any power/fuel should be got registered under the Factories act. For the above said position of the Act there are the following exceptions:

(a) Factories falling under the following categories are notified by the State Government, irrespective of the size of employment, as registered factories under Section 85 of Factories Act of Government of Andhra Pradesh.

(i) Paddy and Rice polishing

(ii) Vegetable oil extraction

(iii) Sawing of Timber

(iv) Printing Presses

(v) Engineering works (Manufacture of machinery and repair including parts)

Whereas during the compilation of the data from Establishments in the Establishment Schedule, the size of employment and the power used was taken into consideration to decide whether a factory or workshop should be recorded as a registered factory or not.

(b) Beedi and Cigar factories have been excluded from the scope of registered factories according to an Act of 1966 by Government of Andhra Pradesh. But during the tabulation of the data from the Establishment schedules the size of employment was considered to decide whether an establishment was a registered factory or not.

(c) It is also likely that some of the factories which have become eligible for registration but not actually registered and therefore do not find place in the list of registered factories, might have been recorded as registered factories by the Census enumerators. Similarly some factories which were earlier registered but defunct at the time of Housclisting might not have been deleted from the list of registered factories while the enumerator might have listed them under the un-registered category.

(d) Further it appears that the defunct factories are not deleted immediately from the list of Registered Factories maintained by Chief Inspector of Factories unless the concerned reported immediately or the staff of the Chief Inspector of Factories noticed them during tours. It may also happen that in the hope of better days, the owner of the establishment may be securing the registration. Hence some of the defunct factories do find place in the list of Registered Factories available with the Chief Inspector of Factories.

TABLE E-I

DISTRIBUTION OF ESTABLISHMENTS BY BROAD TYPES

This table gives the classification of all the establishments in Total, Rural and Urban areas of the State/ District and Cities with a population of 100,000 persons or more according to 3 broad categories viz., (i) Manufacturing, Processing or Servicing Establishments, (ii) Trade or Business Establishments and (iii) Other Establishments. Further break up of the establishments under these three categories, as described in the introduction, is also given. That is, the establishments under category (i) are further classified as registered factories, unregistered workshops and household industry establishments, establishments of category (ii) as wholesale, retail and others and the establishments under category (iii) as Educational Institutions, Public Health Institutions, and Others. The classification of the establishments according to type of management i.e., whether they are Government/ Quasi-Government, Private or Co-operative, is also given in this table.

TABLE E-II PART A

DISTRIBUTION OF MANUFACTURING, PROCESSING OR SERVICING ESTABLISHMENTS OTHER THAN HOUSEHOLD INDUSTRIES CLASSIFIED BY REGISTERED FACTORIES, UN-REGISTERED WORKSHOPS AND SIZE OF EMPLOYMENT

This table gives the distribution of manufacturing, processing or servicing establishments other than household industries for total, rural and urban areas separately and individually for each city according to the size of employment, under each Division and Major Group of National Industrial Classification of 1970. These particulars are given separately for registered factories and un-registered workshops.

Under the National Industrial Classification of 1970 the whole range of economic activity which includes agriculture, mining, manufacturing, construction, trade, communications and transport, other services, etc. is divided into 9 Divisions; each Division is further divided into Major Groups which are again sub-divided into Minor Groups. The Divisions and Major Groups and Minor Groups are given Code Numbers for facilitating analysis and reference. Table E-II Part A which pertains only to manufacturing units is concerned with Division 2 and 3 Manufacturing. The full description of the Divisions and Major Groups that appear in this table is given below:

TABLE E—II PART C

DISTRIBUTION OF HOUSEHOLD INDUSTRY ESTABLISHMENTS CLASSIFIED BY INDUSTRY, FUEL/POWER USED AND SIZE OF EMPLOYMENT

This table gives the distribution of Household Industry Establishments according to the nature of Industry (Division/Major Group of National Industrial Classification), fuel/power used and the size of employment. Data are presented for the Rural and Urban areas of the State/Districts and for each City.

An industry is treated as a Household Industry if it satisfies the following four criteria, viz.,

(i) Nature of activity—There should be some manufacturing, processing or servicing of goods not merely for domestic consumption but atleast some part of the production should be available for sale to outsiders.

(ii) Participation—Participation of Head of Household and/or family members in the industry is essential. The role of hired workers is very insignificant and casual.

(iii) Location—The industry should be located within the premises of the house or within the limits of the village in Rural areas and only within the premises of the house in Urban areas.

(iv) Size—It should not be run on the scale of a registered factory.

Division 2 & 3 and the Major Groups therein which pertain to this table are described already in the fly leaf to Table E—II Part A. The categorisation of the establishments according to fuel/power used is similar to the one adopted in the Table E—II Part B. The size of employment is indicated by five groups viz.,

Establishments employing—

(1) 1 person
(2) 2 to 4 persons
(3) 5 to 9 persons
(4) 10 to 19 persons, and
(5) No. of persons unspecified.
