PREFACE

We have already brought out our Report: General Population Tables, Part II-A Series 17-Punjab, Census of India, 1971, encampassing Tables A-I to A-IV and the Primary Census Abstract generated on full count. The data on area, houses and population, contained in Table A-I, have been worked out upto district, tahsil and town levels.* Table A-II depicts the decadal variations in population since 1901. In Table A-III villages have been classified by population size. Towns and Urban Agglomerations, classified by population size in 1971 with variations since 1901, have been presented in Table A-IV. Primary Census Abstract presents information for the State, districts, tahsils and towns on area, number of occupied residential houses, number of households, total population sex-wise, scheduled caste population sex-wise, literate and educated persons sex-wise and total workers and non-workers and the break up of the workers by 9 broad industrial categories. The present volume is coming up as a Supplement to the aforesaid Report-Part II-A General Population Tables, containing Table A-V which embodies the basic data like civic status, area, density of population, occupied residential houses, population of the last two censuses etc. relating to the 12 Standard Urban Areas, demarcated in the State of Punjab, and each of their component units. Primary census data for each of these units have also been presented. Maps of all the Standard Urban Areas have also been incorporated in this part.

A new concept that has been developed for the 1971 Census for the tabulation of certain urban data is the Standard Urban Area. The essentials and raison detere of a Standard Urban Area have been given in the introductory part. By marking out such Standard Urban Areas, meaningful demographic study can be conducted over a sizable period of two-three decades. All towns (12) with a population of 50,000 have been delineated as Standard Urban Areas. This concept has replaced the Town Group concept of the 1961 Census because the data collected for the town groups were rendered incomparable from census to census as the boundaries of the towns got changed and the intermediate areas were even left out of account .

Twentieth century censuses have documented a slow but great increase in numbers of Indian urban population. India is taking part of a world wide tide of urban growth. The 'population explosion' is creating the problem of India's increasing urban numbers and it is thus necessary to oversee the trends in urbanization, over a period of time, in relatively larger areas, territorial jurisdictions of which remain undisturbed over a relatively longer period of time. Table A-V will, therefore, meet a long-felt need of our socio-economic scientists, planners, administrators etc.

We are grateful to Shri A. Chandra Sekhar, Registrar General, India and his successor, Shri R.B. Chari for all the help given to us in the completion of this project. In an equal measure we are indebted to Dr. B. K. Roy Burman, Deputy Registrar General (Social Studies) and Shri K. K. Chakravorty, Assistant Registrar General for their guidance, help and cooperation in their respective fields in the accomplishment of this task. Our thanks are also due to the Compilation and Cartographic Sections of our Directorate in the production of this Part and to Shri Gurpartap Singh Srao, Deputy Controller of Printing and Stationery, Union Territory Chandigarh in arranging for the excellent printing.

STANDARD URBAN AREAS

It was recognized in India as also in various international forums that the area constituting an 'urban agglomeration' is subject to change from time to time depending on the spread of boundaries of the statutory core urban unit and the continuous out-growths. A new concept that was developed for the 1971 Census, to meet this situation, for the tabulation of certain urban data is the Standard Urban Area. The essentials of a Standard Urban Area are (i) it should have a core town of a minimum population size of 50,000 ; (ii) the contiguous areas made up of other urban as well as rural administrative units should have close mutual socio-economic inter-dependence with the core town and (iii) the probabilities are that this entire area will get fully urbanized in a period of three decades. The idea behind this is that it should be possible to provide comparable data for a definite area of urbanization continuously for three decades which would give a meaningful and comprehensive picture.

2. This new concept replaces the concept of 'town group', that was adopted at the 1961 Census. The 'town group', was made up of independent urban units not necessarily contiguous to one another but were to some extent inter-dependent on the socio-economic plane. The data for such "town groups" was rendered incomparable from census to census as the boundaries of the towns themselves changed and the intermediate areas were left out of account. This concept came in for criticism at one of the symposium of the International Geographic Union in November-December, 1968 and the concept of Standard Urban Area came to be developed for adoption at the 1971 Census.

3. The introduction of the concept of the "town group" was an innovation at the 1961 Census. In the Punjab there were 5 "town groups" at the 1961 Census :

Town Groups	Constituent towns
1. Amritsar	(a) Amritsar City (b) Chheharta (c) Amritsar Cantonment
2. Jullundur	(a) Jullundur City (b) Jullundur Cantonment
3. Firozpur	(a) Firozpur (b) Firozpur Cantonment (c) Tankanwali
4. Nangal	(a) Nangal Township (b) Naya Nangal
5. Rajpura	(a) Rajpura Township (b) Rajpura

4. The Standard Urban Area represents the "projected growth area" as in 1991 of a city or town having a population of 50,000 or more in 1971. The area of each Standard Urban Area has been delineated in such a manner that not only would the towns and the villages get merged into it but so also the intervening areas which are potentially urban. The utility of this concept lies in the fact that even when statutory limits of existing towns are changed that area will remain a fixed geographical entity. The Standard Urban Areas thus carved by us have clearly demarcated boundaries with a large core town or a city as their nuclei alongwith the adjoining areas which may be rural or urban. The Standard Urban Areas usually have any or all of the following characteristics :

(a) Permanent urban land use ;

(b) Intensive inter-action with the urban centres as reflected in commutation for the purposes of work and secondary education facilities ; extension of city bus service ; sale of commodities like milk, dairy products, vegetables (other than those transported by rail or truck-haul) and purchase of food grains, clothes and general provisions etc., by the consumers directly ;

(c) Anticipated urban growth as a result of locational decisions relating to industry, market, transport and communication, administrative and servicing functions ; and

(d) Existence of big villages with a large proportion of working force engaged in non-agricultural industrial categories.

5. The term 'urban agglomeration' used in the census terminology at the 1971 Census has altogether a different connotation. It takes into its fold the core town and the auxiliary units of habitation, rural or urban, which are in close vicinity of the town and are deemed to be the outer extremities of the towns in the shape of out-growths or the suburban satellites. Such areas are, therefore, subject to change from census to census and cannot provide a base for collection of bench-mark statistics as can be yielded by the areas designated as Standard Urban Areas.

6. The following 12 towns have been delineated as Standard Urban Areas in the Punjab State by the State Town Planning Organization in consultation with the Punjab Census Directorate, under the overall guidance of the Central Town and Country Planning Organization :

1. Batala
2. Pathankot
3. Amritsar
4. Abohar

5. Firozpur

6. Moga

7. Ludhiana

8. Jullundur

9. Phagwara

10. Hoshiarpur

11. Patiala

12. Bhatinda

7. Table A-V-Standard Urban Areas-gives the basic statistics for each of the 12 Standard Urban Areas and their urban and rural components. Statistics in respect of each component in accordance with its 1971 Rural/Urban status as also the total for urban group and the total for rural group have been shown separately along the rows. The column heads cover, the civic status, area, density of population, occupied residential houses, houseless population by sex and number of households, institutional population by sex and number of households, total population by sex and number of households and the population at each of the 1951, 1961 and 1971 Census counts in respect of each component.

8. Further tabulation relating to Standard Urban Areas is being contemplated as an inter-censal project and is, therefore, beyond the scope of the present publication. The Appendix to Table A-V, however, contains the basic data called the Primary Census Abstract in respect of each component unit of the Standard Urban Area. The totals for rural component, the urban component and total Standard Urban Area have also been shown. This Abstract has been produced on a full count basis and furnishes the figures under the following heads :—

(i) Area (in Square Kilometres)

(ii) No. of occupied residential houses

(iii) No. of households

(iv) Total population by sex

(v) Scheduled Castes by sex

(vi) Literate and educated persons by sex

(vii) Total workers and non-workers and the break-up of workers by nine industrial categories for persons, males and females separately.

The industrial categories adopted at the 1971 Census are :

(i) Cultivators.

(ii) Agricultural Labourers.

(iii) Livestock, Forestry, Fishing, Hunting and Plantations, Orchards and Allied Activities.

(iv) Mining and Quarrying.

(v) Manufacturing, Processing, Servicing and Repairs :—

(a) Household Industry.

(b) Other than Household Industry.

(vi) Construction.

(vii) Trade and Commerce.

(viii) Transport, Storage and Communications.

(ix) Other Services.
