Gujarat is the home of 3,734,422 tribal people constituting 13.99 per cent of the State's total population of 26,697,475. They are the inheritors of an art tradition that is the product of long development and continues to this day in unbroken succession. Isolated communities till recent times, the traditions of their art have been passed down by oral transmission from mother to daughter and father to son and reveals an inspiration and outward expression in forms and motifs that have remained basically unchanged through the years. Many of the art forms of the Adivasis are the result of deep spiritual experience or have their roots in dream, story, myth or legend. Significant forms have thus survived unchanged through centuries during which the underlying myths and legends have remained basically the same.

They have taken the material of their crafts from the environment around them. One of the commonest materials used was clay, exploiting the plasticity of which they never seem to have tired. Terra-cotta objects were produced on an unimaginably large scale and for a variety of purposes. The rich diffusion of terra-cotta products of innumerable shapes and sizes that may still be found in any area of Gujarat inhabited by the tribal people is testimony to the fact that this tradition continues in unbroken succession.

The stylised terra-cotta horse and rider displayed on this pamphlet comes from Surat District. The specimen is of a rather unusual genre, in that the face of the horse and the long projection behind the rider are considerably exaggerated and offer no easy interpretation.

Preface

The Provisional Population Totals of the Census of '71 were published in May of the same year within about a month of the actual count. Since then there has been a constant and pressing demand for the final publication of the totals of the Districts, Talukas and Towns and Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes. The present publication is brought out to meet with this immediate requirement.

The entire data contained in the Primary Census Abstract is included in the District Census Handbook Volumes which are under print at present. We hope to bring out the District Census Handbook Volumes in respect of at least six Districts during the month of June '72 and the balance in the following two months. In fact the Primary Census Abstract data for all districts of the State has been finalised since early 72, but on account of the bottleneck in printing the publications have been delayed.

To the readers, who need all the information contained in the Primary Census Abstract, we would request to refer to the District Census Handbooks which are being published for each District of the State. These volumes contain information about the area of each village or town, occupied residential houses and households, total population (including institutional and houseless), literate and educated persons and the distribution of workers into nine industrial categories.

It is hoped that the present publication will meet with the immediate requirement of the administrators, research workers and scholars, who are in urgent need of the final population totals and the figures of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes in connection with several projects they have on hand. It will also be helpful to the local bodies who are statutorily required to use the latest Census figures for the purpose of their forthcoming elections.

I have to express a deep debt of gratitude to Shri L. R. Dalal, ICS, Chief Secretary to Government of Gujarat, for agreeing to bring out this publication on the same lines as the District Census Handbook Volumes, in order to make available the compiled data as soon as possible.

I shall be failing in my duties if I do not avow it here that this whole idea was envisaged by Shri P. B. Buch, Director of the Bureau of Economics & Statistics, Government of Gujarat, whose anxiety it was that the labour we had poured in compiling this voluminous data is not withheld from the public eye for a day longer than necessary.

AHMADABAD,
1-6-1972.

C. C. DOCTOR,
Director of Census Operations,
Gujarat.
