PREFACE

All Censuses from 1901 to 1961 in Sikkim were conducted under the technical guidence of the Directorate of Census Operations, West Bengal. The data of these Censuses were also processed in that Directorate and results published alongwith the West Bengal reports of the respective years. To meet the immediate need of statistical data for all the government departments and other data users, instead of provisional population totals, the Government of Sikkim published the basic population figures of 1971 census in separate report entitled "District Census Handbook of Sikkim" in 1974. Detailed information on all-India pattern for 1971 census was processed in the Directorate of Census Operations, West Bengal and the results for publication were made available to the recently established Directorate of Census Operations, Sikkim in 1978. These results could be published only after completion of top priority jobs of first ever Census of 1981 under the provisions of Census Act of India which was enforced in Sikkim in the year 1976.

In the present volume A, B, C, D & F Series—General population tables, Economic tables, Social and Cultural tables, Migration tables and Fertility tables are being published. E. & H series—Establishment and Housing tables have been published in another volume.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

I. General Note

The censuses of the modern times started around the 18th century. In India the first Imperial Census was conducted in 1871. Since then Indian census has taken place after every ten years. First census of Sikkim was taken in 1891. Thereafter, every census of Sikkim was taken alongwith the Census of India.

1.2. Reference Date : The reference date for the 1971 Census was 1st of March 1971. In other Indian states it was 1st of April 1971 because of the postponement of the census operations due to mid-term general elections. The enumeration in Sikkim, commenced on 1st January 1971 and concluded on 28th February 1971. A revisional round of fifteen days was undertaken by the enumerators from 1st to 15th of March 1971 to bring the data up-to-date by recording the births & deaths during the period of enumeration i.e. up to 1st March 1971 (before sunrise).

1.3. The Census Schedules : For the 1971 census following schedules were canvassed ;

(i) Houselist Schedule
(ii) Establishment Schedule
(iii) Individual Slip

Another schedule called the Population Record was compiled from the information collected in the Individual Slip.

Concerning instructions for filling up the schedules, alongwith the copies of the schedules, are given in the Appendices II and III.

1.4. Pretesting of the Census Schedules : Evolving census questionnaire requires careful Planning and extensive consultation with the census data users such as Planning Commission, Ministries of the Central Government, the State Governmentss, Central Statistical Organisation, Directorate Geueral of Employment & Training, Social Welfare Organisations. Universities and other research institutions, and individual scholars. The recommendations of the U. N. and E.C.A.F.E., also provide valuable guidance. The various concepts are minutely discussed and developed to suit local conditions.

The framing of the 1971 census questionnaire was taken up by the Registrar General, India as early in March 1967. The comments received from various experts, data users and the Directors of Census Operations were discussed at a seminar held in New Delhi.

The draft census schedules evolved at the seminar were pretested in the field by all the state census offices during the last quarter of 1967. The aim of the pretest was to test the concepts, procedures, suitability and adoptability of the formats of the questionnires etc. The results of the pretest were discussed at a conference of Director of Census Operations and representatives of Central Statistical Organisation, National Sample Survey, Army Statistical Organisation, Council of Scientific and Industrial Research and National Building Organisation.

A set of second draft schedules was then developed for another pretest which was conducted by all the state census offices in January-February, 1969. The results and experience of the second pretest were again discussed at a conference of Directors of Census Operations and representatives of other organisations between 16th and 21st May, 1969. Almost immediately after the conference, the Planning Commission discussed the questionnaires and the concepts for the 1971 census at a special meeting and made certain recommendations. It was on the basis of these recommendation and the views expressed at the conference of Census Directors that the schedules for 1971 census were finalised and approved by the Ministry of Home Affairs.

1.5. The Houselist : This schedule was intended to provide a complete list of all census houses and households in every village and town, and also the approximate population to form the basis for the fixing of census enumerator's block in such a way as to ensure complete coverage without omission or overlapping of the households. Since 1961, this houselist has served as a kind of housing Census Schedule. Particulars of the purposes for which census houses are used, the material of wall and roof of each census house, whether the census households live in owned or rented houses, the name of the head of household and the number of members in each household are collected. The houselist of 1961 by and large follows the pattern of the 1961 census houselist. The improvement is in respect of vacant houses. Reasons for vacancy are ascertained, since at the 1961 census a number of dilapidated houses and sometimes even vacant sites were allotted house numbers and shown as vacant which gave a misleading impression that a large number of houses were vacant. If the head of a household belonged to a scheduled caste or scheduled tribe, it was specifically recorded. The households engaged in cultivation were recorded as such so that the list may form a frame for any sample survey of agricultural households that a future agricultural census may attempt. In the 1961 houselist, some data on houses used as factories or workshops were collected. At the 1971 census a separate schedule called the Establishment Schedule was canvassed alongwith houselisting and its scope was much larger covering all establishments as explained in the paragraphs below.

1.6 The Establishment Schedule : This is a new schedule developed for the 1971 census. It covered all establishments like manufacturing, trade or other establishments where people worked. An establishment was defined as a place where goods were produced or manufactured not solely for domestic consumption or where servicing and/or repairing is done such as a factory, workshop or household industry or a place where retail or wholesale business was carried on or commercial services were rendred or an office, public or private, or a place where educational, religious, social or entertainment services were rendered. It was held necessary that in all these places one or more persons should be actually working.

The establishment schedule collected particulars on (i) whether the establishment is a government, quasi-government, private or cooperative institution; (ii) average number of persons working daily last week or in the last working season including proprietors and/or family workers; (iii) if used as a manufacturing establishment whether it was a household industry, registered factory or unregistered workshop; the description of products processed or servicing done; type of fuel or power used; (iv) if it was a trading establishment the description of goods bought or sold and whether retail or wholesale; and (v) if used as other establishment its description such as an office, hotel, theatre, etc.

This schudule is designed to yield very useful data particularly in regard to the unorganised sector, classifying the establishments by the size of employment and the industrial or trade categories; correlating the power used and size of employment; indicating public or private or cooperative institutions by the size of employment. The establishment schedule will also serve as a very good frame for any type of future sample surveys. It may, however, be remembered that the establishment schedule covered only the establishments run within the same building which is listed and did not cover open air establishments or itinerant establishments with no regular building.

1.7. The Individual Slip : This was the basic schedule of the 1971 census. It was canvassed in respect of every individual irrespective of age and sex during the enumeration period. It contains 17 main questions as against 13 in the 1961 census. The questions cover name, sex, age, marital status, fertility, relationship to the head of the household, birth place, place of last residence, scheduled caste or tribe, religion, mother tongue, other languages, literacy, education, main activity and secondary work.

The individual slip was a fairly comprehensive schedule which collected all essential demographic, social and economic characteristics of every individual that can possibly be collected at an operation of this nature. Any attempt to collect more information would have been beyond the capacity of the census agency as it constituted now. The concepts were made as simple as possible, and such as could be easily understood and applied by the census enumerator who was basically a primary school teacher. The census questions had been designed in such a way that they would not require deep probes.

1.8 New Features of the Individual Slip : The new features of the 1971 census individual slip, as compared to that of the 1961 counterpart, are ; (i) an attempt was made to collect data on current fertility, (ii) migrational particulars with reference to the place of last residence which are expected to yield valuable and realistic data on internal migration, and (iii) considerable departure in respect of the economic questions. The main activity and secondary activity of a person was ascertained according to his spending of time basically as a worker producing goods and services or as a non-worker. For regular work in industry, trade or service the reference period was the weak prior to the enumeration and for seasonal work such as agriculture in the last one year. A person was categorised according to the main activity returned by him. The secondary work, if any, of a worker or non-worker was also recorded in quesion 17. Where a person who is basically a non-worker such as student or housewife but does make some marginal contribution to productive activity, that secondary work is recorded in question 17. Experience of the 1961 census had shown that census was not a proper agency to collect reliable data on unemployment as such. Therefore, the 1971 census does not ask a question on unemployment directly but the unemployed are expected to fall in the residuary category of non-workers, and data in respect of them will have to be utilised subject to all its limitations.

1.9 The Population Record : In the population record, which was a separate schedule for each household, certain basic particulars of all the members of each household were copied out from the individual slips. The population record helped to give a good picture of the composition of the household. These schedules which will be maintained in convenient books for each administrative unit, will serve as a good frame for the future surveys.

In the 1961 census, on the obverse of the population record there was household schedule in which certain particulars of the holdings and land rights of agricultural households were recorded as also details of the household industry. Since an agricultural census was proposed to be conducted by the government as recommended by the F.A.O. in the year 1970, it was felt wise not to attempt collection of any data on holdings, land rights, etc. at the population census lest it might give rise to any confusion on account of conflict of concepts and so on. The household schedule of 1961 census was therefore not adopted for the 1971 census.

1.10 Census Law : A permanent census law—Indian Census Act, was enforced during the year 1948. This Act empowers the central government to notify and conduct census in the whole/or part of the country. The Census Commissioner of India and the Superintendents (now Directors) of Census Operations of states are appointed by the central government under this Act to supervise the taking of census. The Act empowers the state governments or such authorities to whom the state governmerts delegate powers to appoint a series of census officers at various levels to aid in, supervise and take the census. Thus, the entire census organisation is created under the provisions of the Act which authorises the census takers to ask the prescribed census questions and legally, compels all persons to answer the questions truthfully. The law guarantees that the informations collected at census will be used only for statistical purposes and that information on individuals will be kept confidential and will not be used as evidence even in a court of law. The Act provides a legal backing to the entire census operation, and it gives extra ordinary powers to secure all types of assistance from the local bodies or any other person in order to get through the extremely onerous task. Details of the Act can be seen at Appendix I.

1.11. Administrative Set-up : Population census is an union subject under the Ministry of Home Affairs of the Government of India. As already stated the Census Commissioner for India and the Directors of Census Operations are appointed by the central government under the Census Act. (The Superintendents have since been redesignated as Directors of Census Operations). By the very magnitude of the census operations in India, it is not feasible to appoint census officers wholetime at all levels and to create a fully paid separate census agency to carry out census enumeration. It has been the tradition that in view of the national importance of the census from which the central as well as the state governments and also the local authorities stand to benefit, the entire administrative machineries of the state governments are made available to the state Directors of Census Operations to take up the census task. Thus, the census, a central subject, is actually conducted through the state government machinery. The Deputy Commissioner/ Development Officers are declared as District Census Officers and made responsible for conducting census in their respective districts with the help of a huge army of officials and non-officials drawn from different governmant, semi-government and private bodies for census work on part-time basis.

1.12. Census Calendar : The census calendar for Sikkim i.e. the dates of various operations for the census, is presented in the Appendix VI.

1.13. Stages of the Operation : (a) The first requirement for taking census is a clear and precise knowledge of the boundaries of the territorial units, such as districts, villages and towns. Sometime in 1963, through a notification Govt. of Sikkim divided the whole of Sikkim into four districts for administrative purposes, and accordingly Namchi tahsil was reconstituted into Gyalshing district and Namchi district. In the process certain areas were also adjusted and transferred to the newly created districts. Gangtok and Mangan tahsils were converted to Gangtok and Mangan districts. Till 1961 census, the enumeration block was the revenue collection block incharge of a mondal. For the purpose of 1971 census each enumeration block was confined to a block panchayat area which consisted of, in most cases, more than one revenue collection block of a mondal. The enumeration blocks were again groused into circle and each circle consisted of block panchayats with a maximum population of five thousand persons.

Similarly, sometime in 1969, through another notification, Govt. of Sikkim constituted seven bazar committees for the important marketing centres including Gangtok, and, therefore, the census of these seven marketing centres was taken separately. These seven bazars have been treated as towns for the purpose of census operations. The territorial boundaries of these seven towns were also properly demarcated.

Thus the whole of Sikkim was divided into 4 districts, 29 circles, 215 panchayat blocks and 20 urban enumeration blocks.

(b) A hierarchy of census personnel was built up to look after each jurisdiction. A senior officer of the Govt. of Sikkim was appointed as Director of Census Operations, Sikkim, in addition to his own duties. All the four Development Officers in the districts were designated as District Census Officers. 29 full time circle supervisors were appointed to supervise the census work of enumerators. Enumerators were chosen from among the literate persons of the areas concerned and from members of block panchayats. For the seven towns, one officer of the state Government was appointed as part-time Town Census Officer to supervise the work of town census enumerators.

(c) To enable the census to be carried out correctly notional maps of all blocks, panchayats and towns were prepared by plotting houses, duly numbering them both on the map as well as on the house itself at site.

(d) The various concepts of the census questionnaries and the detailed procedures for filling them up, were to be correctly understood by very single enumerator. A systematic scheme of training programme was drawn-up under which the Director of Census Operations and his deputies imparted the training.

(e) As already stated the census enumeration actually started on 1st January 1971 and continued till 28th February 1971; and all the persons were enumerated at their place of residence i.e. at their houses and not at their places of work such as offices, factories or shops.

During the enumeration period the enumerator covered every household in his jurisdiction and enumerated every individual who normally resided in the household. The persons who were eligible for enumeration included the following :

(i) All those who normally stayed and were present in that household during the entire period of enumeration.

(ii) All those known to be normally residing and had actually stayed during a part of the enumeration period but were not present at the time of the enumerator's visit.

(iii) All those known to be normally residing and were not present at the time of the enumerator's visit but were expected to return before the reference date.

(iv) Visitors to the household who would be away from their own households throughout the enumeration period. For the purpose of enumeration, such visitors were treated as normal residents of the place where they were actually found during the enumeration provided they were not enumerated elsewhere.

During the subsequent 15 days i.e. from 1st March to 15th March, 1971 the enumerator made quick and brief visits to all households and brought the enumeration up-to-date as at sunrise of 1st March, 1971 i.e. the reference date, by enumerating any new births that had taken Place after his last visit during the enumeration period but before the sunrise of 1st March, 1971, and visitors to a household not elsewhere enumerated during the enumeration period, and by cancelling the entries in respect of deaths occurring between his last visit and the reference date.

(f) In order to make available data as quickly as possible, a system of quick relay of crude totals, called tne provisional figures, from the enumerators onward to the Director of Census Operations, was employed. Immediately after the revisional round was complete, the enumerator prepared an abstract and posted the provisional totals in the prescribed form and handed that over to the supervisor who consolidated the figures for his entire circle and submitted it to higher authorities. This work was performed during 16th March to 20th March, 1971.

(g) The main processing work of the census data for preparing the tables of different series, was done at the office of the Director of Census Operations, West Bengal, Calcuta.

II. General Population Tables

1.14. General information collected for the population has been shown in Tables A-I to A-IV. Table A-V for Sikkim could not be prepared since there is no core town in the state. Normally the core town of a "standard urban area" needs a population of 50,000 or above, since such areas alone generally have the potentiality of growing into big cities in the next two decades. The concept of rural and urban area as adopted for census 1971 is given below.

1.15. Rural and Urban Area : The village or town is recognised as the basic area of habitation. However, distinction between the rural and urban areas is not yet amenable to a single definition which would be applicable to all countries. In India, the smallest area of rural habitation is the village. It generally follows the limits of revenue village that is recognised by the district administration. The revenue village need not necessarily be a single agglomeration of habitations. It may have one or more hamlets. But the revenue village should have a definite surveyed boundary and each village should be a separate administrative unit with separate village accounts. There may be unsurveyed villages within forests where the locally recognised boundaries of each habitation area are followed within the larger unit or say the forest range officer's jurisdiction. In Sikkim, however, for 1971 census purpose, in most cases, more than one revenue collection block of a mondal has been taken as one census enumeration block. It corresponds to the block panchayat area.

As regards the urban areas the definition adopted for an urban area for the 1971 census which followed the 1961 pattern, was as follows :

(a) all places with a municipality, corporation, cantonment or notified town area,

(b) all other places which satisfied the following criteria :

(i) a minimum population of 5,000

(ii) at least 75% of the male working population being non-agricultural;

(iii) a density of population of at least 400 per Km^2 (i.e. 1,000 per sq. mile)

In Sikkim there is only one town with municipality viz. Gangtok. However, in view of the discretion given to the Director of Census Operations in respect of some marginal cases, six other important marketing centres viz. Mangan, Gyalshing, Jorethang-Nayabzar, Singtam, Rangphu and Namchi have been taken as urban towns for the purpose of census. Mangan, Gyalshing and Namchi are not only the marketing centres but, are also district headquarters.

III. Economic Tables

1.16. Information on the economic characteristics has been presented under 'B' series tables —Tables B-I to B-IX. Some of the important concepts and definitions used are explained below.

1.17. Worker: Since the first Indian census of 1872, information on economic data is being collected regularly in every census. However, the concept of "worker" is being modified in every census, so as to reflect more correct picture of the economic characteristies of the population. The definition of a "worker" in the 1971 census is slightly different from that of 1961. In the 1961. census, a person was considered as a "worker" according to his participation in any economically productive work. In the case of regular employment in any trade, profession, service, business or commerce, a person was taken as a worker if he was employed during any of the 15 days preceding the day on which he was enumerated. An exception of the 15 days period to reckon one as a worker had been made in 1961 in the case of seasonal work like cultivation, livestock, dairying, household industry, etc. In such cases if a person had put in an hour's regular work a day throughout the greater part of the working season, he was considered as a worker. "Work" included not only actual work but also effective supervision and direction of work. A person might be working as a cultivator or as an agricultural labourer or at a household industry or might be doing any other work. He might be engaged either in one or more than one of the above categories. A full-time student who spent sometime in his father's shop for even a day during the refereuce period of a fortnight was considered as a "worker". Similarly, of a woman who was basically engaged in household duties, also engaged herself in work such as pounding of rice for sale or wages or in domestic services for wages for others, or minding cattle, or selling firewood, or making and selling dung cakes, grass or any such work, she was also treated as a "worker." Thus, in the 1961 census a person was categorised basically as a "worker" even if such a person's contribution to work was extremely marginal.

1.18. Main Activity : In the 1971 census every individual was asked to declare what according to his was his "main activity", i.e. how he engaged himself mostly. Accordingly, all persons were divided into two broad streams of main activity as 'worker' and 'non-worker'. A 'worker' was defined clearly as a person whose "main activity" was participation in any economically productive work by his physical or mental activity. "Work" involved not only actual work but effective supervision or direction or work. The reference period was one week prior to the date of enumeration in the case of regular work in trade, profession, service or bussiness. If a person had participated in any such regular work on any one of the days during the week preceding the day of enumeration, and this had been returned as his "main activity", the person was classified as a worker and categorised accordingly. A person who normally worked but had been absent from work during the reference period on account of illness or travel, holiday, temporary breakdown, strike, etc., was treated as engaged in regular work in which he would have otherwise been employed but for his temporary absence. Persons under training such as apprentices with or without stipends or wages were considered as economically active and recorded as working. A person who was offered work but did not actually join it, was not treated as engaged in work. In respect of seasonal work like cultivation, livestock-keeping, plantation, some types of household industry, etc., which are not carried on throughout the year, a person's main activity was ascertained with reference to such work in the last one year even if he was not economically active in the week prior to enumeration.

1.19. Secondary Work : In 1971, a person was treated basically as a "non-worker" if he or she did not come under any of the categories of "worker" mentioned above. Thus, a person engaged primarily in household duties such as cooking for one's own household, or performing one's own household duties, or student attending an institution, or a rent receiver,was classified as such for his main activity and was treated as "non-worker". If he was also engaged in some economic activity, obviously not to the same extent as a full-time worker, that activity was mentioned under the head of "secondary work". The secondary work, if any, of those who were basically classified as "workers" was also ascertained.

The following economic questions were put to every individual in the 1971 census.

Q. 16. Main activity

(a) Broad category

(i) Worker (cultivator or agricultural labourer or in household industry or other worker), or

(ii) Non-worker (in household duties or student or retired person or dependent, beggar or vagrant or inmate of a charitable or penal institution or other non-worker),

(b) Place of work (Name of village/ town)

(c) Name of establishment

(d) Nature of industry, trade, profession or service

(e) Description of work

(f) Class of worker

Q.17. Secondary work

(a) Broad category (cultivator or agricultural labourer or household industry or other worker)

(b) Place of work (Name of village/ town)

(c) Name of establishment

(d) Nature of industry, trade, profession or service

(e) Description of work

(f) Class of worker

The workers were classified into following broad industrial categories :

I. Cultivators

II. Agricultural labourers

III. Livestock, forestry, fishing, hunting & plantations orchards and allied activities

IV. Mining & quarrying

V. Manufacturing, processing, servicing and repairs

VI. Construction

VII. Trade and commerce

VIII. Transport, storage and cmmunication

IX. Other services

The non-workers were classified into seven categories viz :

1. Those attending to household duties
2. Students
3. Retired persons or rentiers
4. Dependents
5. Beggars
6. Inmates of penal, mental or charitable institutions, and
7. Other non-workers.

Concepts of various types of workers and non-workers alongwith the relvant instructions to the enumerators for filling the individual slip can be seen in Appendix III-Instructions to census ennmerators for filling up the individual slip.

Following concepts and definitions were used while recording the information in the census of 1971.

1.20. Cultivator ; A person was treated as cultivator if he or she was engagd in cultivation by oneself or by supervision or direction in one's capacity as the owner or lessee of land held from Government or as a tenant of land held from private persons or institutions for payment of money, kind or share.

Cultivation involved ploughing, sowing and harvesting and production of cereals and millet crops such as wheat, paddy, jowar, bajra, ragi etc., and pulses, raw jute and kindred fibre crop, cotton, etc., and other crops such as sugar-cane, groundnuts, tapioca, etc., and did not include fruit growing, vegetable-growing, or keeping orchards or groves or working of plantations like tea, coffee, rubber, cinchona and other medicinal plantations.

A person who merely owned land but had given out land to another person or persons for cultivation for money, kind or share of crop and who did not even supervise or direct cultivation of land, was not treated as working as cultivator. Similarly, a person working in another person's land for wages in cash, kind or share (agricultural labourer) was not treated as cultivator.

1.21. Agricultural Labourer : A person who worked in another person's land for wages in money, kind or share had been regarded as an agricultural labourer. He had no risk in the cultivation but he merely worked in another person's land for wages. The labourer had no right of lease or contract on land on which he worked.

1.22. Household Industry : A household industry was defined as an industry conducted by the head of the household himself/herself and/or mainly by the members of the household at home or within the village in rural areas and only within the premises of the house where the household lived in urban areas. The industry was not run on the scale of a registered factory.

1.23. Household Duties : This covered all those persons basically engaged in unpaid home duties doing no other work, even if such a person also participated in some other work, it was not to the same extent as a whole-time worker and if the person had returned his or her main activity as attending to household duties. If a person whose main activity was attending to household duties, also engaged oneself in some other economic activity such as helping in family cultivation or preparing cowdung cakes at odd times for sale etc., that economic activity was covered as secondary work under question 17. On the other hand, a woman who worked primarily was a factory worker or a plantation labourer or an agricultural labourer or in some office or shop etc., and also attended to household duties, obviously her main activity as the economic activity in which she was mostly engaged in.

1.24. Students : This referred to those whose main activity was returned as a student. This covered all full-time students or children attending school Even if such persons participated in some work but not to the same extent as a full-time worker, by merely helping casually as an unpaid family worker in family cultivation, household industry, trade or business, they were treated primarily as students, if that was their main activity.

1.25. Retired Person or a Rentier : A person who was retired from service and was doing no other work i.e. not employed again in some full-time work or did not engage himself in some other work as cultivation, in business, trade, etc., or a person who was rentier or living on agricultural or non-agricultural royalty, rent or dividend or any other person of independent means for securing which he did not had to work, came under this category.

1.26. Dependent : This category include all dependents such as infants or children not attending school or a person permanently disabled from work because of illness or old age.

Dependents included all non-workers even if able-bodied who had no other activity coming under any of the categories of non-workers and who were not seeking any work either, but were purely dependent.

1.27. Beggars : This covered beggars. vagrants or such cases as independent women without indicacation of source of income and those of unspecified sources of subsistence and who were not engaged in any economically productive work.

1.28. Institutions : This covered convicts in jails or inmates of a penal, mental or charitable institutions, even if such persons were compelled to do some work such as carpentry, carpet-weaving, vegetable growing etc., in such institutions. An undertrial prisoner in a jail was not, however, brought under this category but was indicated according to the main activity he was engaged in before he was apprehended.

1.29. Other Non-workers : This included all non-workers who did not came under any of the six categories above but were seeking work. A boy or girl who had completed education or had stopped studying and was seeking work, came under this category. A person irrespective of age and whether educated or not, if he reported that he was not engaged in any other activity but was seeking work came under this category.

1.30. Class of Worker : For a person who was :

(i) an "employer," that is, who hired one or more persons in his work described in question 16(e)

(ii) an "employee," that is who did his work described in question 16(e) under others for wages or salary in cash or kind

(iii) a "single worker," that is, who was doing his work described in question 16(e) without employing others except casually, and without the help of other members of the family except casually and a participant in work as members of co-operatives

(iv) a "family worker," that is, who was doing his work described in question 16(e) in a family enterprise alongwith other members of the family without wages or salary in cash or kind.

1.31. Occupational and Industrial classification of workers : It was for the first time in the 1961 census that distinct questions were asked in order to classify the working population into two fold divisions, viz., (i) according to occupation of each individual and (ii) according to industry in which he or she was working. A similar approach was followed in this census also. Thus, except for those who had returned their main activity as cultivatoror agricultural labourer against Q. 16 (a) (i) in the individual slip, information collected against Q. 16(d) and Q. 16(e), respectively, had enabled classification according to 'industry' and 'occupation' of the working population. The word 'industry' used in 1961 census, also in 1971, had a wider meaning and covered not only the organised or manufacturing industry but also all other sectors of economic activity including livestock, forestry, fishing, hunting, mining and quarrying, trade, commerce, transport services, other services, etc.

For the two fold 'occupational' and 'industrial' classification of the working population, National Classification of Occupations (NCO) 1958, and Indian Standard Industrial Classification (ISIC) 1958, respectively, were used in the 1961 census. This time the occupational classification of the working population was done as per National Classification of Occupations, 1968, and the industrial classification was done as per National Industrial Classification (NIC), 1970 as adopted by the Office of the Registrar General, India. Both these classifications are based on a three digit code system. In the case of the occupational classification, the first digit represents the 'occupational division', the second digit represents an 'occupational group' and the third represents an 'occupational family', while in the case of industrial classification one, two and three digit code numbers represent, respectively, a 'division', a 'major group' and a 'minor group'. The occupational and industrial three-digit code lists referred to above are reproduced as Appendices IV and V.

On the basis of industry, workers have been divided into nine categories in which they were reported to be working; these are (I) as cultivators, (II) as agricultural labourers, (III) in livestock, forestry, fishing, hunting and plantations, orchards and allied activities; (IV) in mining and quarrying; (V) in manufacturing, processing, servicing and repair; (VI) in construction; (VII) in trade and commerce; (VIII) in transport, storage and communications; and (IX) in other services. Category (V), i.e. manufaturing, processing, servicing and repair has been further sub-divided into two sub-categories, viz. V (a) at household industry and V(b) in manufacturing other than household industry. The correspondence between the nine industrial categories mentioned above and the National Industrial Classification (NIC), 1970, adopted for the economic tables in this census, is given below:

Category	Industrial Division of NIC, 1970
I, II	These have not been separately coded for industrial classification as they formed distinct categories in themselves.
III	Industrial Division	0
IV	Industrial Division	1
V (a), V (b)	Industrial Division	2 & 3
VI	Industrial Division	5
VII	Industrial Division	6 & 8
VIII	Industrial Division	7
IX	Industrial Divisions	4 & 9 and X

IV. Social & Cultural Tables

1.32. Information on social and cultural characteristics of the population has been presented inC series table—Table C-I to Table C-VIII. Some of the important concepts and definitions used to collect the information are explained below.

1.33. Head of household: The head of the household for census purposes was a person who was recognised as such in the household. He was generally the person who bears the chief responsibility for the maintenance of the household and took decisions on behalf of the household. The head of the household was not necessarily the eldest male member, but was even a female or a younger member of either sex.

1.34. Age : The age of the person was recorded in total years completed last birthday.

1.35. Never married : A person who was never married at any time before, was recorded as never married.

1.36. Currently married : A person who was married whether for the first or another time and whose marriage was subsisting at the time of enumeration with the spouse living, was classified as currently married.

1.37. Widowed : A person whose husband or wifewas dead, and who did not married again, was recorded as widowed.

1.38. Separated or Divorced : A person who had been separated from wife or husband and was living apart with no apparent intention of living together again or who had been divorced either by decree of a law court or by an accepted social or religious custom but who had not remarried, was classified as separated or divorced.

1.39. Literate and Educated persons : For the purpose of census, only a person who can both read and write with understanding in any language had been considered 'literate'. Evidently, a person who could merely read but could not write had not been treated as literate. It was not necessary, however, that a person who was literate should have received any formal education or should have passed any minimum educational standard. Children of the age 4 years and below even if they could both read and write were not considered literate because they were not deemed to have developed the required 'understanding.'

1.40. Language : As regards languages spoken by the people, there were two questions on language information-one on 'mother-tongue' and the other on 'other languages'. Question 14 was on 'mother-tongue' and clear instructions were given to the census enumerator for recording the answer.

Mother-tongue: Mother-tongue is the language spoken in childhood by the person's mother to the person. If the mother died in infancy, the language mainly spoken in the person's home in childhood was taken as the mother-tongue. In the case of infants and deaf mutes the language usually spoken by the mother was taken as the mother-tongue. Schedule VIII to the Constitution of India specifies 15 languages. Speakers covered by these languages/mother-tongues constitute 95.37 per cent of the Indian population. The remaining 4.63 per cent is accounted by 'other languages' Nepali, Lepcha and Bhotia languages have been covered under 'other languages'

1.41. Schcdule easte and schedule tribe : The terms 'scheduled castes' and 'scheduled tribes' have been defined in clauses 24 and 25 of article

366 of the Constitution, respectively as follows :

"Scheduled castes" means such castes, races or tibes or parts or groups within such castes, races or tribes as are deemed under article 341 to be scheduled castes for the purpose of the Constitution.

"Scheduled tribes" means such tribes or tribal communities or parts of or groups within such tribes or tribal communities as are deemed under article 342 to be scheduled tribes for the purpose of the Constitution.

*In case of Sikkim, this state was not an integral part of the Indian Union at the time of 1971 census. Figures shown for scheduled castes relate to the castes declared as scheduled castes under the Representation of Sikkim Subjects Regulation (1966). These are Kami, Damai and Sarki. So far, no caste or tribe has been scheduled under the Constitution in relation to Sikkim.

1.42. Religion : For religion tables Hindus, Muslim, Christian, Sikh, Buddhist, and Jain religions were considered. The census enumerator had the instructions to record the religion as actually returned by the respondent. In respect of other religions, the actual religion was recorded. Where a person said that he had no religion it was recorded accordingly.

V. Migration Tables :

1.43. In this series following tables have been included which are based on full count.

D-I—Population classified by place of birth

D-II—Migrants classified by place of last residence and duration of residence in place of enumeration.

D-V—Workers and non-workers according to main activities classified by place of last residence.

D-VI—Migrants classified by place of last residence, age-groups, duration of residence and marital status.

Tables D-III and D-IV are related to immigration into cities and in urban agglomeration. In case of Sikkim there is no city or urban agglomeration. As such these tables have not been prepared.

1.44. What is migration? Migration is the movement of persons from one place to another. In other words, migrants may be defined as persons who have had their last previous residence at any place outside/the village or town of enumeration. In case of Sikkim, all the persons except those who were born in one block panchayat/town and enumerated in the same place, have been treated as migrants for the census.

The study of migration was often made with reference to place of birth. In 1881, its scope was confined to finding out the name of the district if the person who was born outside the province/state, the name of the district and province or state, and the name of the country or the state if the person was born outside India. The scope of the enquiry remained unchanged till 1951, when a separate question on nationality was added. The classification of migrants based on the duration of residence and rural or urban nature of birth-place, was adopted in the presentation of migration tables in the 1961 census. The migration data have been presented with reference to the place of birth and the last residence.

1.45. The data presented in these tables are mainly based on the answers recorded in the individual slip against the following questions.

Question :

7 (a) Place of birth

7 (b) Rural/Urban

8 (a) Place of last residence

8 (b) Rural/Urban

8 (c) District

9. Duration of residence at the village or town of enumeration.

Every table is preceded by a flyleaf which explains the mode of presentation of data.

VI. Fertility Tables

1.46. Measurement of the fertility is one of the most important factor required for the study of growing population. With this in view a question was put to all currently married women while canvassing the individual slip in the census. Information was collected on two items viz., age at marriage and any child born in the last one year. The five tables generated from these items have been produced in F-Series as Tables F-I to F-V.

* Population figures excludes population of areas under unlawful occupation of Pakistan and China, where census could not be taken.

 The area of Arunachal Pradesh (83,578.0) is included in 'Total', separate area for 'rural' and 'urban' is not available.

† (i) While working out the density, the area and population of Jammu and Kashmir have been excluded as comparable data are not available.
(ii) Rural and urban population of Arunachal Pradesh has also been excluded as rural and urban area figures are not available.

†† Includes Mizo district, now constituted as union territory of Mizoram.

£ Some changes in the area figures, due to computational error, were intimated by the Surveyor General of India, after the publication of Part-II-A Volumes of Andhra Pradesh and Orissa (series 2 and 16 respectively). The changes relate to Visakhapatnam, East Godavari, West Godavari and Khammam districts of Andhra Pradesh and Koraput district of Orissa. Hence area figures in respect of these districts as also the respective state totals appearing in this volume will not tally with those reported in the Part-II-A Volumes of Andhra Pradesh and Orissa.

$ Includes 30 villages which are uninhabited (there being no occupied residential houses located in these villages) but have houseless population which adds to 1,215 persons (978 M., 237 F.)

STATE TABLE A-I
AREA, HOUSES AND POPULATION

A-I—AREA, HOUSES AND POPULATION

Flyleaf

This is the basic population table for the census and provides data at state, district and town levels by rural and urban classification. It presents area in Km^2, population per Km^2, number of inhabited and uninhabited block panchayats, number of towns, number of occupied residential houses, households and population by sex according to the 1971 census. Area figures as were found in the 1961 census are given. Town-wise area figures are not available for Sikkim.

This table is comparable with Table A-I of the 1961 census report (West Bengal and Sikkim) with some variations as follows :

(a) This time number of block panchayats which are co-terminous with villages has been given. In 1961, the number of villages (revenue collection blocks) was shown and no village-wise data were published.

(b) Area and density figures are given in metric terms.

(c) An additional column showing the total number of households has been included in the table. It helps to form an idea of the average number of persons who normally live together in a particular area and also helps to compare the total number of occupied residential houses with the total number of households. The figures for the number of households include institutional and houseless households and the population figures include the persons in such institutional and houseless households.

The urban areas (towns) for this state are as per the state government notification for the important marketing centres including Gangtok. These seven bazars have been treated as towns for the purpose of census operations.

The new concept used in the 1971 census, viz. urban agglomeration, in place of the town group of 1961, to define contiguous urban areas and their out-growths which have a co-ordinated pattern of development is not applicable to this state and as such information is not given in this volume.

2. Change in area of state and districts

In the 1961 census, the state was divided into three tehsils, namely, Mangan, Namchi and Gangtok. For 1971 census, the state is divided into four districts in view of the state government notification of 1963. Namchi tehsil was reconstituted as Gyalshing district and Namchi district. Gangtok tehsil was divided into Gangtok district and Mangan district. In the process, certain areas were adjusted and transferred to the newly created districts.

The area figures of the state are as per the 1961 census. These are the Surveyor General's area figures which are provisional. Figures for urban areas are those furnished by the municipal authorities. The figures for rural areas of the state have been arrived at by subtracting the figures for urban areas from the Surveyor General's area figures.

There was no change in the jurisdiction of the state between 1961 and 1971.

3. Change in number of towns

There are seven towns in the 1971 census in the state as against only one, Gangtok, in the 1961 census. The State government notified in 1969 seven bazar committees (Gangtok, Singtam, Rangphu, Mangan, Gyalshing, Jorethang and Nayabazar and Namchi) as important marketing centres. These seven bazars have been treated as towns for the purpose of the 1971 census. No urban area has been declassified.

4. Changes in number of villages (panchayat blocks)

The number of villages was 462 in the 1961 census. In the 1971 census the number of panchayat blocks (215) has been given. Till 1961, the enumeration block was the revenue collection block in charge of a mandal. For the purpose of 1971 census, each enumeration block was confined to a block panchayat area which consisted of, in most cases, more than one revenue collection block of a mandal.

5. Definitions

Village has been used in this table in the sense of a panchayat block. The term town has been used to connote all places which have been treated as urban and so declared before the 1971 census and naturally include many places which do not conform to the concept of town adopted for the purposes of census, given below :

(1) Municipal Corporation

(2) Municipal Area

(3) Town Committee

(4) Notified Area

(5) Cantonment Board

(6) Selected places with (a) density of not less than 400 persons per Km^2 (b) a population of 5000 (c) three fourth of the working population should be out side agriculture (d) or any other place which according to the Director possesses pronounced urban characteristics and amenities.

Census house is a building or part of a building having a separate main entrance from the road, common courtyard or stair-case, etc. used or recognised as a separate unit. It may be inhabited or vacant. It may be used for residential or non-residential purposes or both.

Occupied residential houses mean those houses which are either fully or partly used for residential purposes.

Household is a group of persons who commonly live together and would take their meals from a common kitchen unless the exigencies of work prevented any of them from doing so. There may be 'one-member household', 'two-member household' or 'multi-member household.' For census purposes each of these types is regarded as a "household." Again, there may be a household of persons related by blood or household of unrelated persons; the latter are boarding houses, hostels, residendial hostels, orphanges, rescue homes, ashrames etc. These are called institutional households.

This appendix shows the details of rural places with a population of 5,000 and above with their population and contribution to rural population in terms of percentages. It also covers the towns with a population under 5,000 with similar details.

One of the criteria for a place to be declared as town is that it should have a population of 5,000 and over. But, various reasons, many places with less than 5,000 population are treated as towns.

BLOCK PANCHAYATS CLASSIFIED BY POPULATION

A-III BLOCK PANCHAYATS CLASSIFIED BY POPULATION

This table (as in 1961) shows the number and population of block panchayats/villages in population groups of less than 2,000 population; 2,000—9,999; and with population 10,000 and above. The first broad group is further sub-divided into smaller size sub-groups as 'less than 200'. '200—499', '500—999', and '1,000—1,999'. Two clusters 2,000—4,999 and 5,000—9,999 are used for the second sub-group. The number of block panchayats/villages and the population covered in each sub-group is shown.

An appendix to this table shows that sub-totals of broad groups of villages, viz., 0—499. 500—1,999, 2,000—4,999 and 5,000 and above. This appendix is a new addition.

TOWNS AND URBAN AGGLONERATIONS CLASSIFIED BY POPULATION IN 1971 WITH VARIATION SINCE 1901

TABLE A-IV TOWNS AND URBAN AGGLOMERATIONS CLASSIFIED BY POPULATION IN 1971 WITH VARIATION SINCE 1901

This table which corresponds to table A-IV of 1961 census gives the variation in urban population separated by males and females, decade variation and percentage decade variation for each town. It also gives area of towns at the 1971 census in Km^2. The towns have been divided into six classes according to their population size : I—population of 100,000 and above; II—population of 50,000 to 99,999 ; III—population of 20,000 to 49,999 ; IV—population of 10,000 to 19,999 ; V—population of 5,000 to 9,999 and VI—population less than 5,000.

According to Indian census convention any place with a population exceeding 100,000 is called a city.

The concept of town group used in 1961 was replaced by a concept of urban agglomeration in 1971. In Sikkim, there is no urban agglomeration. Gangtok is the only town in Sikkim existing prior to the 1971 census.

TABLE A-IV TOWNS AND URBAN AGGLOMERATIONS CLASSIFIED BY POPULATION IN 1971 WITH VARIATION SINCE 1901

Appendices

Fly-leaf

Appendix I is the same as in 1961. It shows the new towns added in 1971 and towns in 1961 which were declassified in 1971. It is supplemented with two lists 'A' and 'B' showing places with a population under 5,000 treated as towns for the first time in 1971 and those omitted from the list of towns in 1971 but which were treated as towns in 1961. No town was declassified in 1971 in Sikkim. Appendix - II is a new addition for this census. It shows the reasons for the change in area of towns between 1961 and 1971. There was no change in area of Gangtok town between 1961 and 1971.

PRIMARY CENSUS ABSTRACT

PRIMARY CENSUS ABSTRACT

Fly-leaf

The Primary Census Abstract gives details on area, number of occupied residential houses, households, total population, population of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, literate and educated persons, the working population classified into 9 broad industrial categories and non-workers as a separate category. The definitions adopted for occupied residential house, household, literacy, worker, non-worker etc., are furnished in detail in the "Instructions to Enumerators for filling up the Individual Slips", which is given as an annexure to this volume.

2. The definition placed on the term 'worker' in the 1971 Census is slightly different from that of the 1961 Census. In the 1961 Census a person was considered as a worker based on his/her participation in any economically productive work. In the case of regular employment in any trade, profession, service, business or commerce a person was taken as worker if he was employed during any of the fifteen days preceding the day on which he was enumerated. An exception to the above period of 15 days of reference to reckon one as a worker had been made in the case of seasonal work like cultivation, livestock, dairying, household industry etc. In such case if person had put in an hour's work a day during the major part of the season he was considered as a worker. Work includes not only actual work but also effective supervision and direction of work. A person may be working as a cultivator or an agricultural labourer or at household industry or may be doing any other work. He may be engaged either in one or more than one of the above. A full time student if he spends some time in his father's shop or even a single day in a fortnight he was considered as a worker. Similarly if a woman who was basically engaged in household duties also engaged herself in work such as rice pounding for sale or wages, or in domestic services for wages for others, or minding cattle, or selling firewood or making and selling cow-dung cakes or selling grass etc. or any such work she was also treated as a worker. Thus in the 1961 Census a person was categorised basically as a worker even if such a person's contribution to work was extremely marginal.

3. In the 1971 Census every individual was asked to declare himself what according to him was his main activity i.e. how he engaged himself mostly. Accordingly all persons were divided into two broad streams of main activity viz. as workers and non-workers. Moreover a worker was defined clearly as a person whose main activity was participation in any economically productive work by his physical or mental activity. Work also involved not only actual work but also effective supervision or direction of work. The reference period was only one week prior to the date of enumeration in the case of regular work in trade, profession, service or business. If a person had participated in any such regular work on any one of the days during the reference period he was classified as a worker and categorised accordingly. In respect of normal work like cultivation livestock keeping etc. a person's main activity, was ascertained with reference to such work in the last one year even if he has not such economically active in the week prior to enumeration. In the case of persons who were basically occupied as house workers, students, rent receivers etc. they were classified as such for their main activity. If they were also engaged in some economic activity, obviously not to the same extent of fulltime workers, that activity was ascertained under the head of secondary work. The secondary work, if any, of those who were basically classified as workers were also ascertained.

4. The workers of 1961 were grouped under nine industrial categories as shown below :

I Cultivators
II Agricultural labourers
III Mining, quarrying, live-stock, forestry, fishing, hunting and plantations, orchards and allied activities,
IV Household industry
V Manufacturing other than household industry
VI Construction
VII Trade and commerce
VIII Transport, storage and communications and
IX Other services

5. In 1971 separate category has been provided for Mining and Quarrying (Category IV) as against a combined category of "Mining, Quarrying, Livestock, Forestry, Fishing, Hunting and Plantations, Orchards and allied activities" in 1961. The category IV of 1961 viz Household Industry is included in category V—"Manufacturing, processing, servicing and repairs" treating it as a sub-category viz, V(a) At the 1961 Census "Household Industry" covered establishments falling under Division '0' and '1' of the National Industrial Classification e.g. Cattle rearing, orchardry, plantation etc. apart from Division 2 and 3. At the 1971 Census, Household Indnstry is confined to Divisions 2 & 3 only i.e. it covers only manufacturing, processing, servicing, or repairing. The ten broad industrial categories followed in the 1971 Census are as follows :—

I Cultivators

II Agricultural labourers

III Live-stock, forestry, fishing, hunting and plantations orchards and allied activities.

IV Mining and quarrying

V Manufacturing, processing, servicing and repairs—

(a) At Household Industry

(b) Other than household industry

VI Construction

VII Trade and commerce

VIII Transport, storage and communications

IX Other services

X Non-workers

6. No caste or tribe had been scheduled under the Constitution in relation to Sikkim when Census of 1971 was taken. But figures shown under columns 10. 11 and 12 of the State Primary Census Abstract and columns 9 and 10 of the Panchayatwise Primary Census Abstract relate to the castes declared as Scheduled Castes under the Representation of Sikkim Subjects Regulation (1966).

PART II-B
GENERAL ECONOMIC TABLES

TABLE B-I PART A

TABLE B-I PART-A WORKERS AND NON-WORKERS ACCORDING TO MAIN ACTIVITY CLASSIFIED BY SEX AND AGE-GROUPS

This is the main economic table. It gives the distribution of the entire population of Sikkim in two broad categories : "Workers" and "Non-workers". Workers are further classified into nine broad Industrial categories. I - Cultivators ; II - Agricultural labourers ; III-Livestock, forestry, fishing, hunting and plantations, orchards and allied activities ; IV-Mining and quarrying; V-Manufacturing, processing, servicing and repairs (a) Household industry, (b) Other than household industry; VI - Construction; VII-Trade and commerce; VIII - Transport, storage and communications; IX - Other services.

The presentation is somewhat different from the 1961 census. Mining and quarrying have been assigned a separate category (Category - IV) as against the combined category III in 1961, viz., Mining, quarrying, livestock, forestry, fishing, hunting and plantations, orchards & allied activities. The 1961 category IV of household industries is included in Category V (Manufacturing, processing, servicing, repairing), treating it as sub-category V (a). At the 1961 census, "Household industry" also covered establishments falling under Division "0 & 1" of the Indian Standard Industrial Classification such as cattle rearing, bee keeping, orchards, plantation etc. apart from those falling under Division 2 & 3. At the 1971 census, "household industry" is confined to Division 2 & 3, it covers only manufacturing, processing, servicing and repairing.

Instead of four age groups as in 1961, data have been cross-classified into eight age groups, viz., 0-14, 15-19, 20-24, 25-29, 30-39, 40-49, 50-59, 60+.

Tables give the information at state and district level separately for rural/urban areas.

TABLE B-II

TABLE B-II WORKERS AND NON-WORKERS IN CITIES AND NON-CITY URBAN AREAS ACCORDING TO MAIN ACTIVITY CLASSIFIED BY SEX AND AGE-GROUPS.

Flyleaf

This table is similar to table B-II of 1961. The data have been presented for state (urban)/district (urban)/towns. The table gives the distribution of population into workers and non-workers, workers are further divided into nine broad industrial categories by broad age-groups. The age-groups adopted are the same as that of table B-I Part-A. The state had no "town group" in 1968, and has no "urban agglomeration" as per the 1971 census concept.

Explanations regarding the comparision of this table with its corresponding table of 1961 (viz., Table B-II) in respect of cross-classification of data pertaining to age-groups and industrial categories is similar to that mentioned in the notes of B-I Part-A, which may be referred to.

TABLE B-III PART B CLASSIFICATION OF WORKERS AND NON-WORKERS ACCORDING TO MAIN ACTIVITY BY EDUCATIONAL LEVELS IN RURAL AREAS ONLY

Flyleaf

Like Table B-III Part-A this table gives information of each category of workers and non-workers by literacy and educational levels in rural areas only.

However, for rural areas it furnishes information only with broad educational levels of Primary, middle, matriculation or higher secondary, non-technical diploma or certificate not equal to degree, technical diploma or certificate not equal to degree and graduate and above.

TABLE B-VI PART A

TABLE B-IV PART-A—INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION OF PERSONS AT WORK OTHER THAN AT CULTIVATION AS MAIN ACTIVITY BY SEX AND DIVISIONS, MAJOR GROUPS AND MINOR GROUPS

Fly-leaf

This table presents the distribution of population at work other than at cultivation by divisions, major groups and minor groups of the National Industrial Classifications, 1970 (N.I.C., 1970) with some suitable modifications wherever necessary. The data are presented by sex at state and district levels for "total area" and "urban area". This is an important economic table as it gives a detailed picture of employment position in various sectors of economy.

TABLE B-IV PART B INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION OF WORKERS IN MANUFACTURING, PROCESSING, SERVICING AND REPAIRS ON HOUSEHOLD INDUSTRY BASIS AS MAIN ACTIVITY BY SEX AND CLASS OF WORKERS

Fly-leaf

The table presents the data on workers at household industry for total, rural and urban areas by sex. The workers are further classified by class of workers i.e. employees and single workers. Data have been given for Divisions and Major Groups of N.I.C., 1970.

This table broadly corresponds to Table B-IV Part A of 1961 Census. The only difference is that in 1971 this table provides data for two classes of workers, namely employees and single workers. Figures for the family workers are not presented in this table separately. These can be derived by subtracting totals of columns 5, 6, 7. & 8 from the total of columns 3 & 4.

TABLE B-V PART A—OCCUPATIONAL CLASSIFICATION BY SEX OF PERSONS AT WORK ACCORDING TO MAIN ACTIVITY OTHER THAN CULTIVATION

Fly-leaf

This table corresponds to Table B-V of 1961. The table gives the occupational distribution of workers who are engaged in non-agricultural occupations cross classified by industrial categories. This table has been prepared by sex for total and urban population at state level only.

TABLE C-I PART-A

TABLE C-I PART A—MEMBERS OF HOUSEHOLDS BY RELATIONSHIP TO HEAD OF HOUSEHOLD CLASSIFIED BY AGE-GROUPS

Fly-leaf

This table gives information for total, rural and urban population at state and district levels. It gives the composition of the households by relation to the head of the household classified by three age-groups viz. less than 30, 30-49, and 50+. "Age not stated" is included in "all ages". Related and un-related members of the households and the single members households are shown separately. The relationship to the head of the household is given for sons, brothers, father, mother and other male or female members separately for married persons and for other marital status combined.

The table gives some idea about the sociologist aspect regarding the extent of joint family system. Age distribution of the head of the households and their relation classified by marital status helps to study the future trend of the joint family system.

The table corresponds to Table C—1 of 1961 census, wherein the relationship to the head was shown as "married sons" and "other married relations" and was not classified by broada ge groups.

TABLE C-III

TABLE C-III PART A—AGE, SEX AND EDUCATION IN ALL AREAS

Fly-leaf

This table has been prepared separately for Total and Urban areas and presented as Part A and B respectively. The table corresponds to Table C-III of the 1961 census whice was presented in three Parts (Parts A, B & C) for Total, Rural and Urban areas respectively. This table gives the literacy in the total population as well as in different age-groups. The figures for rural areas can be derived from Parts A & B.

The age-groups adopted are 0—4, 5—9, 10—14, 15—19, 20—24, 25—34, 35+ and Age not stated. The educational levels for which data are presented are :

All areas

(i) Illiterate
(ii) Literate (without educational level);
(iii) Primary
(iv) Middle
(v) Matriculation or higher secondary
(vi) Non-technical diploma or certificate not equal to degree
(vii) Technical diploma or certificate not equal to degree
(viii) Graduate and above

Urban areas

(i) to (vii) as above.
(viii) Graduate degree other than technical degree
(ix) Technical degree or diploma equal to degree or post-graduate degree

(a) Engineering & technology
(b) Medicine
(c) Agriculture veterinary and dairying
(d) Teeching
(e) Others

The questions on the individual slip at the 1971 census for literacy and educational level and the instruction for filling them up were as follows.

Question 12 : Literacy (L or O)

Definition of a literate : A person who can both read and write with understanding in any language is to be taken as literate. A person who can merely read but can not write is not a literate.

It is not necessary that a person who is literate should have received any formal education or should have passed any minimum educational standard.

For a person who is literate i.e., who can both read and write, record 'L' in the triangle against question 12. If there is any doubt a person's ability to read or write, the test that may be applied for reading is his/her ability to read any portion of the printed matter in the Enumerator's Instructions and similarly for writing he/she should be able to write a simple letter. Ability merely to sign one's name is not adequate to qualify a person as being able to write with understanding. If a person claims to be literate in some other language with which the enumerator is not acquainted, the respondent's word has to be taken as correct. Other members of the household may also be able to testify to the literacy of the person enumerated.

For a person who is illiterate i.e. who can neither read nor write or can merely read but can not write, in any language, write, 'O' in the triangle against question 12. All children of the age of 4 years or less should be treated as illiterate even if the child is going to a school and may have picked up reading and writing a few odd words.

Question 13: Educational level

This question will be asked of those for whom 'L' has been recorded against question 12. For a person who is illiterate and 'O' has been put against him in the answer to question 12, there is no advantage in ascertaining the educational level even if he had at some stage attended school and passed a standard and had relapsed into illiteracy. In such a case you should put 'X'. You have to ascertain and record the highest educational level attained by a person for whom 'L' is recorded in answer to question 12.

For a person who is still studying in a particular class, the highest educational level attained by him will be one that he has actually passed and not the one in which he is studying. For example, a person studying in 1st year B.A., should be recocded as only 'PUC' or 'Higher Secondary', as the case may be. Similarly, a person studying, say, in the 4th year of 'MBBS' should not be noted as 'MBBS' but as 3rd year 'MBBS' which is the highest level he has actually attained. If you are not sure whether a person has passed Primary, Middle, Higher Secondary or other difinite levels, you may record the actual standard passed such as say IIIrd standard, VIIIth standard, 1st year B. Com. etc.

The highest educational level attained by the person enumerated should be recorded. When a person holds both general and technical qualifications both of which are of aquivalent level such as say B. Sc. (Zoology) and M.B.B.S. or B.A. (Maths) and B.E. (Bachelor in Engineering), the technical qualification should be given preference in recording the highest educational level attained. Where the general educational level is higher than the technical educational level or where it is not possible to decide which of the two levels is relatively higher, the highest level of education as returned by the person concerned should be recorded.

In recording the highest educational level of a graduate or a post-graduate, subject of specialisation such as B. Sc (Maths), M.A. (Economics), M. Sc. (Botany), B. Sc. (Agriculture), etc., should be noted. You should not use abbreviations which are not in common use. In such cases, the degree or diploma should be spelt out fully.

Whenever you come across graduates or post-graduates as also those with a technical diploma or degree, you will have to issue him a "Degree-holder and Technical Personnel Card" and ask the person concerned to fill it. You should note the location code on the Card while issuing it. Put a tick (√) after noting the educational level against question 13 immediately after you issue a card. When you collect it after some time but before you complete the enumeration of your area, cross the tick and put a circle as (×).

You will have to ensure that the card issued to all the graduates and the technical degree or diploma holders are collected back. The non-crossed tick, if any, against question 13 will show that the card has not been collected.

TABLE C-IV

TABLE C-IV—SINGLE YEAR AGE RETURNS

Fly-leaf

This table corresponds to table C-IV of 1961 census and gives single year age distribution for the entire population of the state by Total, Rural and Urban areas.

An appendix to this table has also been prepared at state and district level giving 5 years age-groups. The question on Age and Instructions for filling it up at the 1971 census are given below.

Question 4 : Age

Record the age of the person in total years completed last birthday. Very often there is a tendeney on the part of the individuals to return 'years running' rather than the 'years completed'. Make sure that only the actual number years completed is recorded.

In respect of infants who might not have completed one year by the day of enumeration their age in completed years should be invariably shown as 'O' as they have not yet completed one year of age and add 'Infant' in brackets. As was stated under general instructions make sure that infants even if a day old are invariably enumerated. You should not enter age in months. The age of an infant who has not yet completed one year should invariably be noted as 'O' only.

Age is one of the most important items of demographic data and you should ascertain the age with greatest care. Many persons particularly in the rural areas cannot give their as correctly. They should be assisted to state the correct age by stimulating their memory with reference to any historical event etc., well known in the area. Sometimes the age can be ascertained with reference to the age of another person of a known age that may be in the same household or in the neighbouring household or that of a well know person of the village such as Headman of the village. A person can more easily say whether he was older or younger to such a person and by how many years. This will help you to record the age more accurately.

TABLE C-V—MOTHER-TONGUES OF THE 1971 CENSUS

PART A—DISTRIBUTION OF LANGUAGES (INCLUSIVE OF MOTHER-TONGUES GROUPED UNDER EACH) SPECIFIED IN SCHEDULE VIII TO THE CONSTITUTION OF INDIA

PART B—SPEAKERS OF LANGUAGES/MOTHER TONGUES (INCLUSIVE OF MOTHER-TONGUES WHERE GROUPED) OTHER THAN THOSE SPECIFIED IN SCHEDULE VIII TO THE CONSTITUTION OF INDIA

Fly-leaf

These tables correspond to the all-India language tables of the census of India 1951 published in Census of India Paper I of 1954 and the language tables C-V of the census of India 1961 published in volume I Part II-C (ii) language tables and volume XVI-West Bengal and Sikkim Part II-C (i) Social and Cultural tables.

The question on mother-tongues at the 1971 census and instructions to enumerators were as follows.

Question 14 : Mother-tongue

Definition : Mother-tongue is the language spoken in childhood by the person's mother to the person. If the mother died in infancy, the language mainly spoken in the person's home in childhood will be the mother-tongue. In the case of infants and deafmutes, the language usually spoken by the mother shall be recorded.

Record mother-tongue in full whatever be the name of the language as returned and avoid use of abbreviations. You are not expected to determine if the language returned by a person is the dialect of another major language and so on. You should not try to establish any relationship between religion and mother-tongue. You are bound to record the language as returned by the person as his mother-tongue and you should not enter into any argument with him and try to record anything other than what is returned. If you have reasons to suspect that in any area due to any organised movement, mother-tongue was not being truthfully returned, you should record the mother-tongue as actually returned by the respondent and make a report to your superior Census Officers for verification. You are not authorised to make any correction on your own.

Table C-V Part A This table is presented in two sub parts C-V Part A (i) showing the distribution of speakers of languages (inclusive of mother tongues grouped under each) specified in Schedule VIII to the constitution of India for the state and its four districts separately for total, rural and urban areas cross-classified by sex and C-V Part A (ii) showing the distribution of speakers of these languages for four districts, and seven towns in the state for total areas only cross-classified by sex.

Table C-V Part B In this table, speakers of languages/mother-tongues (inclusive of mother-tongues where grouped) other than those shown under table C-V Part A are also presented in two subparts. C-V Part B (i) gives the number of speakers of these languages/mother-tongues for state and districts for total, rural and urban areas and C-V Part B (ii) for districts and towns for total only, cross-classified by sex.

In presenting the data in these tables, mother-tongues have been grouped in certain cases under the relevant language (s) in the light of studies made so far or information readily available. The category 'Others' shown in table C-V Part B (i) and (ii) represents speakers of all mother-tongues which returned less than 10,000 speakers at country level or are not identifiable. The identifiable mother-tongues which returned 10,000 or more speakers have been grouped as indicated below :

Table C-V Part B HINDI—Bhojpuri; Garhwali; Kumauni; Maithili; Marwari; Mewari; Pahari*; Rajasthani

Table C-V Part A NISSI/DAFLA—Apatani

All other mother-tongues falling under Part B and which returned less than 10,000 speakers each at the all-India level or were not 'identifiable' on the basis of information available as of data are included in the category 'Others' occuring as the last entry in Part B.

*PAHARI is a combination of Various speaches spoken over long stretches of areas where the speakers preferred to give a general name as Pahari. Similar is the case with BHOTIA and MUNDA appearing in table C-V Part B and marked by asterisk therein.

TABLE C-VI

TABLE C-VI—BILINGUALISM

Fly-leaf

This table corresponds to table D-I Part II of the 1951 and C-VI of the 1961 censuses.

The question on bilingualism at the 1971 census was :

Question 15 : Other languages

"After recording the mother-tongue in question 14, enquire whether the person knows any other language (s), Indian or foreign, and record language (s) returned by him against this question. In case he does not know any language apart from his mother-tongue, put 'X' against this question.

The number of languages recorded under this question need not be more than two. These languages should be other than his mother-tongue and they should be recorded in the order in which he speaks and understands best and can use with understanding in communicating with others. He need not necessarily be able to read and write these languages. It is enough if he had a working knowledge of these subsidiary languages to enable him to converse in that language with understanding."

In this table, data on bilingualism are presented only for selected languages mother-tongues (L/MTs). The selection of these LMTs has been done on the basis of all-India table C-V/Bilingualism of 1961 and a list of L/MTs was devised for all India. This list formed the basis for preparing the table on bilingualism. In the case of both rural and urban areas of this state, the figures are based on cent per cent count and the processing of data was done manually.

Columns 2,3 and 4 of the table give the total number of speakers of L/MT inclusive of MTs grouped under it. Columns 5, 6 and 7 give figures of such of the speakers who returned a second language, that is to say, any other L/MT not accounted for in columns 2, 3 and 4. Column 8 contains in 'run on' fashion the names of subsidiary L/MTs inclusive of L/MTs wherever grouped by number of male and female speakers within brackets.

This table corresponds to C-VII of the 1961 census. The table gives data for Persons, Males and Females separately for each of the six numerically important religious communities of India viz., Hindus, Muslims, Christians, Sikhs, Budhists and Jains by Total, Rural and Urban areas.

The figures for other religions have been grouped together in the column 'Other Religions and Persuasions'. Details of other religions and Persuasions appear in appendix accompaning the table.

The 1971 instruction to enumerator for filling up the question on religion was :

Question 10 : Religion

In answering this question use the following abbreviations :

H : Hinduism
I : Islam
C : Christianity
S : Sikhism
B : Budhism
J : Jainism

For others record the actual religion as returned fully.

If a person says that he has no religion it may be recorded accordingly. Do not mistake religion for caste which will not be recorded here.

TABLE D-I
MIGRATION TABLES

TABLE D-I—POPULATION CLASSIFIED BY PLACE OF BIRTH

Fly-leaf

This table corresponds to table D-II of 1961 census and gives the distribution of population of each sex by birth place according to rural and urban areas. The place of birth is broadly classified as follows :-

A. Born in India

B. Born in countries in Asia beyond India (including U.S.S.R.)

C. Countries in Europe (excluding U.S.S.R.)

D. Countries in Africa

E. Countries in two Americas

F. Countries in Oceania

G. Unclassifiable

Persons born in India are further classified as I. Within the state of enumeration with three sub classification viz. (a) Born in place of enumeration (b) Born elsewhere in district of enumeration (c) Born in other districts of the state. II. States in India beyond-the state of enumeration for each of the state and union territory. A person is considered as born in the place of enumaration if his birth place is somewhere in the village where he is enumerated in the case of rural areas and somewhere in the town where he is enumerated in the case of urban areas. In case of person born outside India, the date are given in respect of Individual countries under each continent. In the table, however, a few selected countries only are shown, others being grouped as 'elsewhere'. The data have been presented for state and districts.

The two Appendices to this table give information on Inter-district migration.

Fly-leaf

This table corresponds to table D-III of the 1961 census which has prepared with reference to the place of birth. Data have been presented on migrants according to the last residence and duration of residence in place of enumeration by rural and urban areas for each sex. The period of residence is grouped as less than 1 year, 1—4 years 5—9 years, 10—19 years, 20+ years and period not stated. The last residence is classified as follows.

A. Last residence elsewhere in India
B. Countries in Asia beyond India (Including U.S.S.R.)
C. Countries in Europe (excluding U.S.S.R)
D. Countries in Africa
E. Countries in two Americas.
F. Countries in Oceania
G. Un-classifiable

Last residence elsewhere in India is further clatsified as I. within the state of enumeration but outside the place of enumeration (a) Elsewhere in district of enumeration (b) In other districts of state of enumeration. II. States in India beyond the state of enumeration for each of the states and union territories. This table is prepared only for the state.

In case of last residence outside India, the data are given in respect of individual countries under each continent. In the table, however, a few selected countries only have been shown, others being grouped as 'Elsewhere' under each continent.

An appendix to this table gives migrants by state of last residence and age, for duration of residence of 0—9 years by sex.
