FOREWARD

(1) PHYSIOGRAPHY.

(a) Situation and Physical Characteristics.—Coorg State comprising an area of 1593 sq. miles is a mountainous country, situated on the summits and the Eastern and Western slopes of the Western Ghats within degrees of North latitude 11′56″ and 12′50″ and East longitude 75′22″ and 76′12″. Viewed from an eminence the whole of the southern portion of the country presents the appearance of one great forest intersprsed by valleys which after August appear green with paddy crop. In the North the country becomes open towards the East while to the West and North the country rises to high peaks measuring from 3,800 feet to 5,729 feet above the sea level. Wherever possible the valleys in Coorg are formed into flats and terraces for rice cultivation and high lying lands are cultivated with coffee, orange, cardamom, pepper, etc.

There are seven main outlets, one to South Kanara, two to Malabar and four to Mysore. A good number of village communication roads has been opened to connect villages which lie away from the main roads. Some of these village communication roads are fit for vehicular traffic during the fair weather only. As Coorg is not connected by railways, transport facilities are confined to motor vehicles and country carts. The nearest coast is at a distance of about 40 miles from the Western border of the State.

(b) Rivers.—The main drainage of Coorg is in an easterly direction towards the Bay of Bengal while some mountain torrents flow west from the Western Ghats towards the Arabian sea.

The rivers are not remarkable either for width or depth but their water supply is everywhere abundant throughout the year. As their sources are high up in the mountains and their sources lie over steep declivities; they flow with great rapidity over generally very rocky beds, rendering themselves almost useless for navigation of any kind and owing to the height of their banks and the unevenness of the country few of them can be used for artificial irrigation purposes.

The chief of the Coorg rivers both as to size and importance is the Cauvery which rises on the Western border from the Brahmagiri peak at a height of about 4,000 feet above the sea level. Flowing in an easterly direction it cuts Coorg into two halves and traverses through Mysore, Salem, Coimbatore, Trichinopoly and Tanjore to a distance of 400 miles before it joins the Bay of Bengal. Its important tributaries are Laxmanathirtha, Kakkabe, Harangi and Hemavathi. The rivers that flow to the west are Barapole, Nojikalhole and Kumaradhari.

(c) Climate.—Generally speaking the climate of Coorg is temperate. The temperature varies from 50°F. in December to about 90°F. in the month of April.

The country gets both the South-West and North-East monsoons. The South-West monsoon which usually starts at the end of May is more severe and windy. The North-East monsoon is not continuous but it usually comes down in torrents and is most welcome for the rice crop. The Western part receives an annual rainfall ranging from 120 inches to 250 inches and the eastern portion which is in the nature of a plateau from 50 to 65 inches while the fall in the middle tract running North to South varies from 70 to 90 inches. Mercara, the capital of Coorg, situated about the centre of the State, about 3,800 feet above the sea level, receives an annual rainfall of around 125 inches.

(d) Soil.—Coorg is still a sealed book to Geologists, no proper survey having been conducted so far. Efforts are in progress to have a geological survey of Coorg. Soil classification has, however, been carried out only in the case of wet and dry crop lands.

Wetlands have been classified according to the soil, sufficiency of irrigation and comparative elevation. Three classes of soil have been recognised and they are (1) Alluvial or loam (2) Sandy loam and (3) Sandy soil. Classification according to water supply has been made under three heads according as the supply is found to be abundant, sufficient or insufficient. A further distinction has been made between high-lying and low-lying lands. These in combination have been arranged for purposes of assessment into 8 classes and they are known as " tarams ". In fixing the taram special advantages and disadvantages have been taken into consideration including marketing facilities.

(e) Forest Area covered and general description.—Forest area consists of Reserved forests, comprising 3,30,726 acres, paisaries 1,77,800 acres, Devarakadus 7,895 acres, Urudves 8,519 acres and banes 2,09,523 acres. Banes are owned by private individuals while all the other lands are registered in the name of the Government. The following are the main caste trees grown in Coorg, namely Sandal, Teak, Biti, Ebony, Honne, Mathi, Nandi, Hebbalasu, Halhalasu, White Cedar, Irupu, Poon, Noga, Balanji, Champaka, Hunse, Yenne Mara, Irul, Alale, Nowladi, Bilwara, Nerale.

(f) Irrigation facilities and liability to famine.—Cultivation of rice is carried on wet system except in the eastern and North-Eastern villages where dry farming is more general. The rice lands are mostly situated in valleys between hills. The total area under rice cultivation in 1951 was 89,640 acres and ragi 4,031 acres. Out of this area 7,453·56 acres of rice area was irrigated by tanks and by channels from dams put up across rivers. The rest is either rain-fed or springfed.

(g) Average area cultivated with wet food crops, rain-fed food crops and commercial crops.—The area of lands under food and commercial crops during 1950-51 was as follows :—

		Acres			Acres
Rice	..	89,640	Rubber	..	5,684
Ragi	..	4,031	Pepper	..	1,066

(2) HISTORICAL AND ARCHÆOLOGICAL.

For particulars about prehistoric age the historian has to depend on Kauveri Purana, a legend which says that the Coorgs, the Chief inhabitants of the State, are the descendants of Chandravarma, a Kshatriya king. History narrates that Coorg was under the sway of self-made chieftains, known as paleygars who were always fighting with one another. The Chalukyas, Kadambas, Hoysalas who built up dominions in South India also held their sway over Coorg when they were in the height of their power.

After the fall of Vijayanagar in 1565 an Ikkeri prince came to Coorg and settled at a place called Haleri, about six miles from Mercara. He posed as a jangama and gradually acquired strength and influence and later on assumed authority as the Raja of Coorg. He conquered all Palegars who opposed him and thus became the founder of the Lingayat Kingship in Coorg.

Halery princes ruled over the country from about 1600 to 1834. After the fall of Tippu Sultan in 1807 the influence of the East India Company gradually spread throughout South India. Viraraja II who became the ruler of Coorg in 1820 was reputed to be cruel and the people getting tired of his misrule invited the Company to depose the King. In response to the people's wishes the Governor-General of British India marched an army into Coorg in 1834 and the Raja surrendered without resistance. He was taken prisoner and sent to Benares on 12-5-1834 and according to the wishes of the people of Coorg the British annexed Coorg.

Under the British rule, Coorg was kept under the direct control of the Central Government. The politicial Agent at Mysore became the Chief Commissioner of Coorg. Under the guidance of the Chief Commissioner of Coorg, the Commissioner with headquarters at Mercara was running the administration. After the retrocession of Bangalore Cantonment with Mysore State, the post of Commissioner was abolished and a full time Chief Commissionership with headquarters at Mercara was created with effect from the 15th of July 1940.

A Legislative Council of the nature of the one of a Lieutenant Governor's Province with four official members, 2 European members, 15 elected members and one nominated member to represent backward communities was inaugurated on the 28th January 1924. After the attainment of Independence, Coorg along with the rest of India was given the benefits of responsible Government and a popular Ministry elected on the basis of adult franchise is expected to be set up in the near future.

Mercara is the capital of Coorg situated 3,800 feet above the sea level. The next important town is Virarajendrapet in South Coorg and it is an important commercial centre for Coorg with close trade communications with the Malabar coast.

The only structures of archæological interest are the Raja's Fort and Palace Raja's tomb and Raja's seat at Mercara and the palace in Yevakapadi Village, Napoklu Nad.

(3) DRAINAGE AND SANITATION.

There is no proper drainage system in Coorg. Open drains have been provided in the more important streets in the Mercara and Virajpet Municipalities and Somwarpet and Fraserpet Notified Areas. Under village development schemes open drains have been provided in the main streets of Sirangala, Hebbale and Thorenur in Fraserpet Hobli during 1949-50 and 1950-51.

Latrines are either under bore-hole system or removal system. Bore-hole latrines are provided even in some rural areas.

(4) MEDICAL.

There are two principal hospitals, one at Mercara and the other at Virajpet, 11 District Board allopathic hospitals and dispensaries at Somwarpet, Fraserpet, Sanivarsanthe, Sunticoppa, Murnad, Sidapur, Napoklu, Gonicoppal, Thithimathi, Balale and Srimangala and three District Board Ayurvedic dispensaries at Bhagamandala, Hebbale and Kodlipet. There are in addition three bi-weekly dispensaries at Sampaje, Kanur and Hudikeri and 12 weekly dispensaries at Nanjarajpatna, Valnur-Thyagathur, Herur, Chettalli, Ammathi, Madapur, Cheyandane, Kutta, Kakkabe, Nelagi, Kargunda and Birunani.

Facilities for X-Ray treatment are provided in the two provincial hospitals. Dental clinics are also attached to these hospitals. Eye-clinics are being conducted in the two provincial hospitals as well as in the District Board hospital at Somewarpet on specified days in the week. Ambulance vans are stationed at the Mercara, Virajpet and Somwarpet Hospitals. In-patient wards are attached to all the dispensaries except at Sunticoppa and Murnad and the three Ayurvedic dispensaries. Midwives have been posted to all rural hospitals and dispensaries. There are in all 15 rural Midwives stationed in different centres to do maternity and child welfare work in addition to the midwives provided for the hospitals and dispensaries.

(5) WATER SUPPLY.

There is no protected water supply in Coorg. In Mercara water supply is provided from reservoirs and wells. The rain water is collected in high level natural tanks during monsoon and directly distributed by gravity. The storage capacity is insufficient and during summer there is scarcity of drinking water . Elsewhere, the people depend upon wells or streams for their water supply.

(6) EDUCATION.

The schools in Coorg are under the management of the Government, District Board, Municipalities and private bodies. One school for scheduled tribes is under the management of the Forest Department. The inspection of all the schools is done by the District Educational Officer and his staff. In recent years there is a general awakening among the public and most of the villagers are trying to have a higher elementary section attached to the primary sections already in existence. These higher elementary sections are managed by the private bodies in the State. If the experiments seem successful they are recommended to the District Board by the inspecting staff to be taken over by Government.

The following are the Educational Institutions in Coorg, viz., one second grade college, five Government high schools, two Girls aided High Schools, two boys' aided high schools and one unaided high school. There are 37 District Board middle schools, 62 primary schools, 17 grant-in-aid schools, one Government primary school for Yeravas and Kurubas and three nursery schools. During 1950-51, 147 boys and 30 girls were in the College, 3,547 boys and 2,177 girls in the high schools, 7,310 boys and 4,554 girls in the middle schools, 3,233 boys and 1,933 girls in the primary schools, 37 boys and 37 girls in the Nursery Schools, 45 boys and 25 girls in the Forest School for Scheduled Tribes and 555 boys and 320 girls in the grant-in-aid schools.

The direct and indirect expenditure during 1950-51 was Rs. 12,77,712. Towards this expenditure Government contributed Rs. 9,02,791, the District Board Rs. 42,802 and the Municipalities Rs. 22,567. The income from fees is Rs. 2,16,074 and Rs. 93,478 from other sources.

Kannada (regional language) is the medium of instruction in all the schools. English and Hindi are being taught compulsorily from I Form onwards.

National Cadet Corps units have been raised in four Government High Schools and there are 360 cadets and 12 officers. A sum of Rs. 30,000 is being spent every year towards the expenditure on the N. C. C.

There are 800 boy scouts and 35 girl guides in the high and middle schools in this State.

Basic education has not yet been introduced in this State. It is proposed to start Basic Schools during 1952-53 when the first batch of Basic trained teachers will be available from the Basic Training School at Virajpet.

There is a Scheme to introduce Adult (Social) Education in this State. The approval of the Government of India is awaited for the implementation of this Scheme. Two teachers have already been trained in adult education in Mysore State.

This State has 31 per cent of its population educated and there is a greater upward tendency in the matter of literacy apart from the cry for higher education. There is a general demand that degree courses should be opened in the local Government College. Steps are in progress to construct the necessary buildings to open the degree classes with the commencement of the academic year in 1953. There are no technical Schools in this State except the Industrial Training Institute, run by the Government of India, Ministry of Labour. Students go to the neighbouring States of Mysore and Madras for technical and professional education.

(7) COTTAGE INDUSTRIES.

The only cottage industry of importance in Coorg is Bee-keeping. Coorg is a good honey producing area. The flora and fauna of the country are very conducive for the production of honey. With a view to improve this industry and to bring the produce under an organisation " The Coorg Honey and Wax Producers' Co-operative Society Ltd.," was registered on the 12th February 1936 The Society's office is located in Virajpet with its jurisdiction extending over the whole of Coorg State. The main object of the society is to find favourable markets for Coorg honey and wax and also to disseminate the scientific and modern methods of bee-culture.

Special mention may be made of the yeoman service rendered by Swami Sambhavanandaji of Sri Ramakrishna Mutt in introducing modern methods of bee-keeping in Coorg and in starting the Honey Society.

Government gave some grants to the Honey Society in the initial stages for purchasing machinery and also timber for preparing modern bee-hives to enable them to sell hives to bee-keepers at concessional rate.

On 30th June 1951, the Society had a membership of 640 with a paid-up share capital of Rs. 13,147, Reserve fund of Rs. 16,435 and building and other funds of Rs. 24,365. During the year 1950-51 the Society did a turnover of about Rs. 2 lakhs and handled a stock of about 60,000 lbs. of honey and 1,700 lbs. of wax.

In addition to the organised marketing of honey the Society is doing useful work in spreading knowledge on improved bee-culture by the issue of literature and supply of modern bee-hives, literature and appliances at concession rates with the result that many people in the different parts of Coorg have taken to bee-keeping as a Cottage Industry.

(8) LARGE SCALE INDUSTRIES.

Important festivals exclusively observed in Coorg are " Keilmuhurta," " Cauvery Shankra mana " and " Hutri." Keilmuhurta (or Ayudhapooja) is celebrated on a particular day in each village between the 5th to 18th of " Simha " month which falls between the 20th of August and 3rd of September each year, i.e., soon after the transplantation work in the rice fields is completed. On that day all the weapons such as guns, swords, spears, etc., are cleaned and " puja " offered to them in the forenoon and after lunch, the menfolk adorned in Coorg costume of Kuppasam (long coat), Sash and turban gather in the village Common selected for the purpose and exhibit their skill in shooting and games. In the days that follow, the villagers gather together with their weapons and dogs go about hunting wild animals that damage the crops.

Cauvery Shankramana.—This is the day on which the people of Coorg do puja and offer special prayers to Mother Cauvery (Lopamudre) who, according to the legend, took the form of river Cauvery for blessing the people. It falls on the first of " Thula " month, i.e., about the 16th or 17th of October each year. It is generally believed by the people of Coorg that by taking bath in the river Cauvery all their sins will be washed off. On the Cauvery Shankramana day thousands of people gather at Talacauvery, the source of the river Cauvery, and take their holy bath in the river and offer special prayers.

Hutri or Puthari.—The meaning of the word is new rice. The festival is celebrated as a welcome celebration for bringing home the new rice from the fields where it is grown. This takes place on the Full Moon day in the month of " Vrischika " and it falls between the 20th of November and 20th of December. On that day at the auspicious moment in the night the head of the family dressed in the Coorg costume goes to the fields with his family members, relatives and servants, with music and drums and shouting prayers for abundance, cuts a few paddy stalks and brings the sheaf to the threshing yard and then to the house. The ears of the crop will be tied at the temple or other places of worship as well as at various places of importance inside and outside the house such as cradle, safe, granary, etc. Afterwards all the members partake of a sumptuous dinner. During three or four days following this, there will be dancing in the village Common (Mandu) with canes in hand and this dance is known as " Kolata ."

In addition to these festivals, festivals are also celebrated in the temple of the village deity in almost every village at different times of the year and in different forms. In some of the temples there are special dances known as " Bolakatu," " Kombatu," " Peeliatu," " Chopatu," etc.

The names of the places where telegraph offices and post offices are established are given below.—

Mercara, Virajpet, Pollibetta, Sidapur, Sunticoppa, Somwarpet and Fraserpet contain both post office and telegraph office. In Gonicoppal, Ponnampet, Napoklu, Kodlipet, Sanivarasanthe, Beloor, Hebbale, Madapur, Murnad, Bettakeri, Bhagamandala, Kothur, Sampaje, Chettalli, Ammathi, Vontiangadi, Kakotuparambu, Parane, Kadanga, Bittangala, Hathur, Thithimathi, Hudikeri, Srimangala, Balele and Makut, there are only post offices.

(9) CONCLUSION.

There has been an all round awakening in recent years and a marked improvement in the economic condition is noticeable among the upper middle classes. The condition of the lower middle classes continues to be difficult as the rise in prices and the apparent prosperity has operated in a vicious circle. This State has contributed a large percentage of men for the army and in particular to the Officer-Cadre during World War II. An Anti-Tank Battalion has been formed mainly of men drawn from this State. During the struggle for National freedom, this State played a notable part along with the other States. Both men and women took active part in the National struggle launched by the Congress. In recent years the people have evinced keen interest to increase the cultivation of food as well as money crops. Encouraged by the high prices fetched by agricultural produce several people have also been taking keen interest in trade and commerce. The demand for education has increased and there are few parents who have not shown a keen desire to educate their children. In all the nation-building work the State Government has taken the most active interest spending large sums of money on the promotion of health and education, the improvement of roads and communications and the development of agriculture. Malaria, which took a heavy toll in the past, has been successfully brought under control by the spraying of D.D.T. and it can be safely stated that Coorg is no longer dreaded by a visitor as it used to be in the past by reason of the high incidence of Malaria. In fine, this Government of Coorg has endeavoured to function as a truly Welfare State by implementing several schemes formulated as part of the Post-War Development Plans.

I. C. SUBBIAH,

Assistant Commissioner, Coorg.
