ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I should express my gratitude to the thousands of people who worked hard in taking the Census and in compilation of its results. This was the first census of Maharashtra and everyone was inspired by an appeal to make it a success.

A large share of the credit for the success of the Census goes to the District Census Officers (Personal Assistants to Collectors now called Resident Deputy Collectors), the Tahsildars, Mamlatdars and Municipal Officers who worked as Charge Officers and the subordinate staff of the Revenue Department and Municipalities who did strenuous work for the Census in addition to their normal duties. I am obliged to them all.

I wish to express my obligations to Shri N. T. Mone, I.C.S., Chief Secretary and Shri D. R. Pradhan, I.C.S., Revenue Secretary to the Government of Maharashtra, but for whose guidance and support the Census could not have been conducted so smoothly.

I would like to thank Shri M. A. Telang, Director, Bureau of Economics and Statistics, Government of Maharashtra, for his excellent co-operation at all stages.

I am deeply indebted to Shri Asok Mitra, I.C.S., Registrar General and Census Commissioner, India, whose experienced handling of the 1961 Census operations made our roles at the State level less arduous than those in the previous Censuses. His affection gave us strength and confidence. His devotion to work was always inspiring.

I am grateful to Shri D. Natarajan, Deputy Registrar General, who was always sympathetic and helpful in all administrative and technical matters. I am also thankful to Shri K. D. Ballal, Central Tabulation Officer and his staff who very kindly checked the material for accuracy and made useful suggestions for improvement of this volume.

My office staff worked hard in all stages. I should particularly mention Shri D. V. Rangnekar, Deputy Superintendent of Census Operations, who rendered valuable assistance in planning and conducting various stages of Census work. The main tables, and the inset statements were respectively prepared by Shri A. W. Mahatme and Shri J. G. Deshmukh, Tabulation Officers in our Central Tabulation Office. The dot map of population included in the volume was prepared by our Cartographer Shri M. S. Mavinkurve. Shri K. H. Shevade looked after the printing of the Volume.

I am thankful to Shri J. W. D'Souza, Director and Shri B. S. Naik, Deputy Director, of Government Printing and Stationery Department for their advice on the layout of Census Report Volumes. Shri B. W. Khadilkar, Manager and Shri R. B. Alva, Standards Officer, of the Government Central Press, Bombay, and Shri J. D. Gandhi, Manager, Photozincographic Press, Poona, got material for the volume printed with utmost dispatch.

THE DISTRICTS IN MAHARASHTRA

G. P. Z. P. POONA-1963

INTRODUCTION

The 1961 Population Census was the tenth decennial Census of India. Its reference date, fixed as sunrise of 1st March 1961, approximated the completion of the Second Five-Year Plan. The data collected at this Census will, therefore, indicate the changes brought about during the first two Five-Year Plans. This was also the first Census taken after the formation of Maharashtra as a separate State in 1960. The data would, therefore, present a demographic picture of Maharashtra around the year of its inauguration.

2. The population data for the constituent areas of Maharashtra for 1951 and earlier Censuses are available in the Census Reports of old States of Bombay, Central Provinces & Berar and Hyderabad. Available material has been computed and recast with reference to the 1961 boundaries and areas of Maharashtra and its twenty-six districts. The data presented for any previous Census for comparison is generally related to the present boundaries or areas of the State and the districts. Comparability of 1961 Census data with earlier Censuses has thus been maintained in spite of the numerous changes in the boundaries of the State and its districts during the last sixty years.

3. A list of publications issued to present 1961 Census material on Maharashtra and its districts is given on title page 2.

4. This Part II-A of the Report contains General Population Tables (A Series) and the Primary Census Abstract. A note has been added as a flyleaf to each Table to briefly explain its layout, and the definitions or concepts used during the Census. A few derivative Tables are also included in the flyleaves either for comparison with earlier data or between various administrative units and for correlating different aspects of 1961 Census material. The flyleaves are not, however, intended to present analysis or discussion of any observed facts, for which Part I-A of the Report is exclusively reserved.

5. Generally, the Tables present the Census material for 31 units, i.e. the State, the 4 divisions and the 26 districts. For purposes of the 1961 Census, the districts had been given a serial (code) number running from north-west to south-east. The order of presentation uniformly followed in the tables is based on those code numbers and is shown below :—

MAHARASHTRA STATE

BOMBAY DIVISION
(1) Greater Bombay.
(2) Thana.
(3) Kolaba.
(4) Ratnagiri.
(5) Nasik.
(6) Dhulia.
(7) Jalgaon.

(21) Amravati.
(22) Yeotmal.
(23) Wardha.
(24) Nagpur.
(25) Bhandara.
(26) Chanda.

6. Each Table starts with entries for the State. Then follow entries for Bombay Division and its districts; then Poona Division and its districts ; and so on. A similar order is followed for Talukas and Mahals within a district wherever a table gives material also for those smaller administrative units.

7. A brief account of how the 1961 Census was taken is given below. It would further facilitate appraisal of its results.

8. The scope and the concepts of the 1961 Census Questionnaire were determined in consultation with the State Governments and the Ministries of the Government of India. Formats of the Census Questionnaire were finalised after two pre-tests, i.e. field trials carried out in all parts of the country. Marathi Forms were used in Maharashtra, except in Greater Bombay and four Cantonment areas, where, for a few practical difficulties, English Forms were used. These Census Forms were printed at the Government of India Press at Nasik and were dispatched from there to the District and Taluka Officers directly.

9. In 1951, the Census Questions were not printed on the Questionnaire Form. Only their serial numbers were printed. The answers to those questions were also recorded mostly in numerical codes like 1, 2 or 3. As an improvement in 1961, the Census Questions were briefly printed in Marathi (or English) on the Census forms and the answers were recorded in Marathi (or English) alphabetical abbreviations. This led to clearer understanding of and better response to the questions and more accurate record of Census returns.

10. The Census was taken on the " canvasser method " which had been used in all previous Censuses. The enumerators called on each household in their assigned areas between 10th and 28th February, and filled in Census forms by interviewing one or more responsible members of the household. They revisited all those households between 1st and 5th March and corrected their forms for changes occurring between their first visit and the Census reference date, viz. sunrise of 1st March 1961.

Appointment of District Census Officers and Charge Officers

11. The State Government issued orders that the entire Census work in the districts should be carried out under the guidance and control of the Collectors concerned. The Personal Assistants to Collectors were designated as District Census Officers. They assisted the Collectors and attended to Census work in detail. The Mamlatdars/Tahsildars, Mahalkaris or Naib-Tahsildars in charge of talukas or mahals were appointed as Charge Officers. The Chief Officers, Executive Officers or Secretaries of 53 Municipalities (having more than 20,000 population in 1951) worked as Charge Officers within the respective municipal limits. The Executive Health Officer, Bombay Municipal Corporation, the Medical Officer of Health, Poona Municipal Corporation and the Deputy Municipal Commissioner, Nagpur Municipal Corporation, worked as Charge Officers for Bombay, Poona and Nagpur Municipal Corporation areas, respectively. For Military limits within the Cantonment areas, the Officers-Commanding the respective military stations and for the civil limits of the Cantonment areas the Executive Officers of the Cantonment Boards concerned worked as Charge Officers.

12. The Charge Officers appointed and trained the enumeration staff, arranged supply of forms and other stationery articles and organised Census work within their charges.

Housenumbering and Preparation of Houselists

13. Numbering and listing of houses was carried out as the first stage of Census work. Field work was done between 16th September and 15th October 1960, mainly by the Revenue and Municipal staff. The houselists provided a minute territorial frame for organising enumeration and gave a sound estimate of 1961 population from which the requirements of Census forms and personnel for each charge could be estimated accurately. The first stage was also a sort of a trial for the District and Charge Officers who could locate weaker links and set them right in good time.

Census Divisions and Staff

14. Preparations for enumeration work began almost simultaneously with the completion of the first stage. The average population size for each enumeration block was fixed as 750 in rural areas and 600 in urban areas. The enumerators working in the first stage prepared separate houselist sets for areas approximately covering this population and having some natural boundaries for demarcation. In rural areas, each village up to 750 population made a separate block. Bigger villages were divided into two or more blocks. In urban areas, Wards with 600 or smaller population were made into a separate block each and Wards with higher population were divided into two or more blocks each having about 600 estimated population and streets or some other natural boundaries of demarcation.

15. The State Government had issued orders to all Government employees to do Census work as a part of their normal duty. In pursuance of these and similar orders issued by the various Ministries of the Government of India the enumerators and supervisors were appointed from among the employees of the State and the Central Governments and Municipalities. The majority in rural areas was, however, from the Primary School Teachers and Village Talatis.

16. The supervisors were of a slightly higher cadre, mostly employees normally engaged in supervising or inspecting functions. On an average, a supervisor looked after the work of six enumerators. In Maharashtra, 67,640 enumerators and 11,902 supervisors worked during enumeration. In Bombay City alone, the number of enumerators was 7,165 and that of supervisors 1,179.

Training

17. Two booklets were prepared in English and Marathi for use as self-contained manuals of instructions for the two stages of Census work.

18. Training for enumerators and supervisors was organised separately for the two stages of work. The first for housenumbering and houselisting was arranged between 1st and 15th September 1960. The intensive training for the second stage, viz., enumeration, was organised in three training rounds, the first between 16th and 31st December 1960, second between 1st and 15th January 1961, and the third between 16th and 31st January 1961. Each trainee had to take training in all the three rounds. Each training round consisted of two classes and included practical work covering five households and 10 individual slips. The third or final round started with what was called a training sample Census. The trainees took actual Census of 10 households and filled in slips for 50 persons. Their difficulties were later on discussed and solved in the final class.

19. As a rule, not more than 50 trainees were called for training at a time at any centre. Every batch of trainees was trained by three different officers in the three rounds. This was done to avoid monotony and to ensure full coverage and equal emphasis on various aspects of the Census Questionnaire. A very useful and interesting item included in the training rounds was the decoding of filled-in Census Forms and of the trainees being asked turn by turn to correct mistakes intentionally allowed in some of them.

Supervision

20. Each supervisor was instructed to inspect the entire work of each of his enumerators in the first two days. No fixed percentage of inspection was prescribed for the whole enumeration period. But the supervisors were made responsible both for timely completion and quality of Census work of all their enumerators.

Honorarium

21. Enumerators and Supervisors were paid honorarium for Census work. This was done to meet out-of-pocket expenses incurred by them on travelling and stationery articles and also as an incentive for good work. The following were the rates of payment :—

	Enumerators	Supervisors
I. Housenumbering and Houselisting—
Rural Areas ..	Rupee one for 30 houses.	Rupee one for 150 houses.
Urban Areas ..	Rupee one for 24 houses.	Rupee one for 120 houses.
II. Enumeration—
Rural Areas ..	Rupee one for 50 persons enumerated.	Rupee one for 250 persons enumerated.
Urban Areas ..	Rupee one for 40 persons enumerated.	Rupee one for 200 persons enumerated.

Enumeration and Reporting of Figures

22. As described in paragraph 10, the enumeration work was carried out between 10th February and 5th March 1961. The enumerators returned their papers to the Charge Officers on 6th March 1961. The Charge Officers prepared abstracts and reported provisional charge totals to the Collectors on the 7th. District provisional totals were in turn reported to us at Bombay and to the Census Commissioner at Delhi. Maharashtra districts were among the first few to report to Delhi. On 8th March, we released the provisional population totals for Maharashtra and its 26 districts to the Press. On 17th March 1961, our first printed brochure was issued giving 1961 Census provisional populations for districts, talukas and towns, by sex and literacy.

23. The Charge Officers collected Census records and dispatched them to the Tabulation Offices by 25th March. By the end of March 1961, Census records had been received in the Tabulation Offices from all the 284 Charge Officers.

24. The Census of all areas in Maharashtra was taken simultaneously and there was no need for any area to depart from the All India schedule of Census Operations. The Census of houseless persons was taken on the night of 28th February 1961. In rural areas and small towns, each enumerator moved in his block and enumerated the houseless persons. In Bombay and other big cities, a few additional centres were set up where the Police brought houseless persons for enumeration.

25. The following was the Calendar of Census Operations for the State. All the 26 District Census Officers and 284 Charge Officers strictly followed the Calendar item by item. The scheme worked so well that during the course of twelve months there was not a single case where an item of work was delayed in any charge beyond the date fixed in the Calendar.

CALENDAR OF CENSUS OPERATIONS, 1960-61

I. Preliminary Arrangements

April and May 1960 :

(1) Taluka Officers prepare up-to-date talukawise lists of villages and towns and proposals for Location Code Nos. Charge Officers of Municipal areas similarly work for Wards.

(2) Preparation of maps for talukas and Municipal areas showing location of villages or Wards by Code Nos.

(3) Checking estimates of requirements of Census Forms prepared at Bombay.

(4) Arrangement for receipt and storage of Census Forms in the District Office and Charge Offices.

(5) Delimitation of blocks and Circles for housenumbering and houselisting.

(6) Prepare Charge Registers. Estimate requirement of personnel required for the first stage of housenumbering and houselisting as well as for the second stage of enumeration to work as enumerators, supervisors, instructors and section officers.

(7) Contact Officers concerned with Defence Establishments, Railway Colonies, Forest areas, etc., to ensure their co-operation.

April and May 1960—contd.

(8) Contact local Officers of various Government Departments to make sure of availability of personnel, prepare provisional lists of personnel to be appointed as enumerators, supervisors, instructors and section officers ; make sure of their latest postings and addresses.

(9) Preparation of Census Scheme for each Charge and its submission to the Collector (before 15th of June).

June 1960 :

(10) Preparation of Census Scheme for the district and forwarding it to the Superintendent of Census Operations before 30th June.

II. Housenumbering and Houselisting

July 1960 :

(11) Divisional Conferences of District Census Officers and District Statistical Officers.

(12) Charge Officers prepare sets of Census Forms, other literature, orders of appointment, letters of authority, etc., for distribution at the first stage. Prepare Distribution Registers of Forms.

(13) Collectors appoint Section Officers and Instructors for each Charge.

August 1960 :

(14) Meetings of Charge Officers and other Municipal Officers at district headquarters. Their training.

(41) Intensive publicity.

(42) Socio-economic enquiries of selected villages through the Statistical Officers.

(43) Training sample census (last week of January 1961).

1st February to 9th February 1961 :

(44) Distribution of Census Forms to enumerators.

(45) Payment of advance honoraria to enumerators and supervisors.

(46) Intensive publicity.

10th February to 3rd March 1961 :

(47) Publicity.

(48) Actual enumeration (first and second rounds).

(49) Writing of Part II of the Household Schedules and Abstracts.

(50) Intensive supervision.

(51) Block reports.

4th March 1961 :

(52) Return of census forms to supervisors on 4th March.

6th March 1961 :

(53) Preparation of circle summaries.

(54) Return of census forms to charge officers.

7th March 1961 :

(55) Reporting of provisional totals to District Census Officer.

9th March 1961 :

(56) Telegraphic reports on district provisional totals to Superintendent of Census Operations, Bombay and Registrar General, India.

9th March to 15th March 1961 :

(57) Complete check of census forms, block and circle reports, etc., as received in the Charge Office.

(58) Payment of balance of honoraria to all enumerators and supervisors.

16th March to 31st March 1961 :

(59) Packing and despatch of census forms to District Office and to Tabulation Office.

(60) Complete Census accounts.

(61) Submission of final charge reports on census to the Collector.

1st April to 15th April 1961 :

(62) District reports on census.

(63) Reconciliation of census accounts.

(64) Post-enumeration check.

(65) Winding up.

26. There were three Census Questionnaire forms : —

(i) The houselist to collect information in respect of houses and households;

(ii) The Individual Slip to collect information in respect of each individual; and

(iii) The Household Schedule to collect information in respect of each household.

27. The information regarding houses and households obtained through the houselists included the following items :—

Houses

(i) purpose for which the House was used, e.g., dwelling, shop, shop-cum-dwelling, business, factory, workshop, school or other institution, jail, hostel, etc.;

(ii) material of walls;

(iii) material of roof;

Households

(iv) name of the head of the household;

(v) number of rooms in use by the household;

(vi) whether the household was living in an owned house or a rented house;

(vii) persons living in the household—

(a) males,
(b) females,
(c) total;

Factory or Workshop

If a house was being used as a workshop or a factory the following additional information was obtained for that house:—

(viii) name of the Firm or Proprietor;

(x) average number of persons employed daily;

(xi) kind of fuel or power used.

28. The information collected in respect of each individual included the following demographic, social and economic items :—

For identification—Location Code :

1 (a) Name.

1 (b) Relationship to the Head of the Household.

Demographic Questions

2 Age.

3 Marital status.

4 (a) Birth place.

4 (b) Born, rural or urban.

4 (c) Duration of residence if born elsewhere.

13 Sex.

Social Questions

5 (a) Nationality.

5 (b) Religion.

5 (c) Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe.

6 Literacy and Education.

7 (a) Mother-tongue.

7 (b) Any other language(s).

Economic Questions

8 Working as Cultivator.

9 Working as Agricultural labourer.

10 Working at Household Industry—

(a) Nature of work;

(b) Nature of Household Industry;

(c) If Employee.

11 Doing work other than 8, 9 or 10—

(a) Nature of work ;

(b) Nature of industry, profession, trade or service ;

(c) Class of worker ;

(d) Name of Establishment.

12 Activity, if not working.

29. The two demographic questions 4 (b) and 4 (c) had been added in 1961 to study migration in greater detail.

30. There were five economic questions (8 to 12) in the Individual Slip. A departure was made in the concept for collection of economic data. At the last few Indian Censuses, income or economic independence was made a criterion for measuring the economy of the country. Economically independent and economically dependent persons had been classified separately. They were called earners and dependents. An intermediate category of economic semi-dependence was introduced in 1931, 1941 and 1951. They were called working dependents in 1931, partly dependents in 1941 and earning dependents in 1951. In practice, however, this intermediate category did not seem to have worked well. It was felt that the strict application of criterion of economic independence suppressed those who worked in family economic activities but did not actually earn an income. The 1961 Census, therefore, laid stress on ' work ' so that all people who worked (including family workers, who were not in receipt of any income, or working children who did not earn enough for their maintenance) were included as workers.

31. The following information in respect of economic activities of each household was collected through the ' Household Schedule ' :—

A. CULTIVATION

	Local name of right on land	Area in acres
1. Land under cultivation by Household—
(i) owned or held from Government.	.....	.....
(ii) held from private persons or institutions for payment in money, kind or share.	.....	.....
(iii) Total of items (i) and (ii)	.....	.....
2. Land given to private persons for cultivation for payment in money, kind or share.	.....	.....

B. HOUSEHOLD INDUSTRY

	Nature of Industry	Number of months in the year during which conducted

C. WORKERS AT CULTIVATION OR HOUSEHOLD INDUSTRY

	Members of Family working				Hired workers
	Head	Other Males	Other Females	Total
(1) Household Cultivation only.	....	....	....	....	....
(2) Household Industry only.	....	....	....	....	....
(3) Both in Household Cultivation and Household Industry.	....	....	....	....	....

32. The ' Household Schedule ' was a new feature of 1961 Census. It was thought that in the case of countries of such economic status as ours where not all the goods produced enter the money market and where much of what is produced is consumed by the family itself, collection of information purely on the basis of individuals tended to be slightly misleading unless such information was supplemented by information relating to economic activities of the household as an entity. The ' Household Schedule ' was, therefore, designed to collect data on the two chief economic activities of the households in our country, namely, cultivation and household industry.

33. Part II of the Household Schedule was a Census population record. It contained names of all persons in each household and also showed the following main characteristics for each of them :—

(1) Sex.
(2) Relationship to the head of the household.
(3) Age.
(4) Marital status.
(5) Description of work, if working.

34. This Census population record was intended as a substitute for the 1951 National Register of Citizens.

35. The three Census Questionnaire forms and the instructions issued for filling them are reproduced for facility of reference at the end of this note (vide pages 8-26).

36. The filled in records for the whole area of Maharashtra State, after completion of Tabulation work, have been stored at the Topiwala College Building at Mulund, Bombay.

37. The following may be listed as unique features of 1961 Census :—

(i) Uniform Houselists and Housing Tables

38. For the first time, uniform houselists have been prepared all over India and essential housing data and data relating to industrial establishments have been collected. All Housing and Establishments Tables (E Series) have been prepared from these houselists.

(ii) Household Schedules and Census Population Record

39. Information in respect of two chief household economic activities, viz., Cultivation and Household Industry, has been collected in the Household Schedules. The Household Economic Tables [B(ii) Series] have been prepared from them. These Tables are a special feature of 1961 Census. They present data relating to extent of land under cultivation, nature of household industry, period of working of that industry and the number of persons employed therein. Part II of the Household Schedule is the Census Population record as counted at the Census in each household giving for each member of the household name, sex, relationship to the head, age, marital status and description of work, if working. This population record will be useful as a sample frame for future surveys.

(iii) Industrial and Occupational Classifications

40. Economic activity of the people has been studied in greater detail. Instead of the eight livelihood classes of 1951 the economic activities are classified by nine broad categories of workers. Further elaborate classification made is based on the Indian Standard Industrial Classification up to minor groups (3 digits) of Industry and on the National Occupational Classification up to occupational families (3 digits).

(iv) Migration

41. With two additional questions on migration, the aspect of movement of population has been studied in greater detail. Along with place of birth of a migrant information was collected whether that place of birth was rural or urban and on the number of years spent by the migrant at the place of migration. Place of birth has now been cross-tabulated with duration of residence. This new Table will now show annual and decade volumes of immigration as well as trends of migration from different places of birth. Migrants to Bombay and other Cities of Maharashtra have been further cross-tabulated with age-groups, educational levels and occupational distribution. This will give skilled and unskilled workers and show occupations that attract migrants to cities.

(v) Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes

42. Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes had been studied in 1951 only as two special groups. Information had not been collected for individual Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe. In 1961, the name of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe has been specifically asked and special Tables have been prepared separately for each Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe. These would enable evaluation of progress made by different Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes during the last decade as well as formulation of future plans for their welfare.

(vi) Age Classification

43. Five-year age-groups have been adopted for Age Tables as recommended by the United Nations. All Age Tables including the single-year age Tables have been prepared on the basis of full count and not on a 10 per cent. sample as in 1951.

(vii) Educational Classification

44. Along with information about literacy, information on educational levels attained has been collected and cross-tabulated with age-groups. The data presented thus relate to broad educational qualifications and not merely to literates and illiterates as in the earlier Censuses.

(viii) Classification of Non-workers

45. The non-workers have been classified in eight categories based on the recommendations of the United Nations. This kind of Table (B-IX) had never been attempted before, nor were questions ever asked on the activities of non-workers. Data are presented separately for those who have an income without having to do any work. Similarly, data on school-going children and on housewives doing domestic work are presented for the first time. These eight categories of non-workers have been further classified by broad age-groups. This together with the elaborate classification of workers will give a complete picture of how the whole population was economically active or inactive, how employed or unemployed as on 1st March 1961.

Accuracy of the Census Count

46. With a view to make a scientific appraisal of the coverage and accuracy of the Census count a post-enumeration check was conducted in Maharashtra State, as a part of an All India programme, around 22nd March 1961 in one per cent. of selected blocks in urban areas and half per cent. of blocks in rural areas. The number of selected blocks in which the work of post-enumeration check was conducted was 196 in urban areas and 304 in rural areas. The number of houses selected from these blocks for re-enumeration was 5 per cent. in urban areas and 10 per cent. in rural areas. On an average re-enumeration of about 6 to 8 houses in each selected urban block and of about 14 to 15 houses in each selected rural block was carried out.

Error in population count might occur on account of (a) omission or duplication of a house as a whole and hence its inmates and (b) omission or duplication in counting inmates in a house covered by the census. The effect of type (a) error on population count was sought to be estimated from a sample of enumeration blocks and of type (b) error from a sample of houses in the selected blocks.

The following statement gives the results by rural and urban areas in Maharashtra:—

I—Estimated Error as a Percentage of Census Population

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILLING UP THE HOUSELIST

Column 1—Line Number.

Only one digit of the line number has been printed in this column. The line numbers should be continuous for your block. Where the line numbers exceed 9 write the earlier digit(s) yourself.

Column 2—Building Number (Municipal or Local Authority or Census Number, if any).

This refers to the entire structure on the ground. There are, however, high, large or long buildings along a street or lane which have been partitioned or portions of which have been sold, which have distinct, separate main exit on the road and which belong to separate owners or occupiers or alternatively there are a series of different houses joined each to each by common walls on either side to make the whole look like one building but parts of which have been built at different times and belong to separate owners. Such distinguishable structures, although not separate from each other, should be regarded as separate buildings and given separate numbers. Each building should have a separate number. If in big cities a large mansion or building containing several census houses has a well known name by which it is generally known then the name of the building should also be recorded for convenient reference. If there are more than one structure within an enclosed or open compound belonging to the same person, e.g., the main house, the servants' quarters, the garage, etc., only one building number should be given. If the locality consists of a number of streets in a village, the buildings in the various streets should be numbered continuously and the streets should be taken in uniform order, from North-West to South-East. Experience suggests that the best way of numbering is to continue with one consecutive serial on one side of the street and complete the numbering on that side before crossing over to the end of the other side of the street and continuing with the serial, stopping finally opposite to where the first numbering began. In a city enumeration block, the numbering will have to respect the axis of the street and not any preconceived geographical direction like North-West. A building under construction should also be given a number in the serial. If a new hut or building is constructed between the time when the housenumbering and houselisting have been completed and the census count it should be given a new number beyond the last number of the serial for the village. Arabic numerals should be used for building numbers.

This will facilitate verification by supervisors. In areas, e.g., urban, where the buildings are already numbered by the municipal or other authorities, the enumerator may adopt the existing numbers in the houselist. In such cases, column 2 will carry the established municipal or local authority number which will facilitate identification. Where there are municipal or local authority numbers but there are reasons to believe that the number is incomplete or unsatisfactory, the municipal or local authority number may still be entered in column 2, but at the same time it will be necessary to serially number that building afresh for the purposes of census houselist. In that case, the new census serial for buildings will be entered in column 3 and the new census numbers for the buildings will have to be painted on the buildings themselves. In those cases where there are no municipal or local authority numbers in existence, all buildings will have to be serially numbered for the census and column 2 will contain entries of this census serial. This number will have to be repeated in column 3 with sub-numbers for census houses, if any.

A census house is a structure or part of a structure inhabited or vacant, or a dwelling, a shop, a shop-cum-dwelling or a place of business, workshop, school, etc., with a separate entrance.

If a building has a number of flats or blocks which have separate entrances of their own and are independent of each other giving on the road or a common staircase or a common courtyard leading to a main gate, they will be considered as separate census houses. If within an enclosed or open compound there are separate buildings then each such building will also be a separate census house. If all the structures within an enclosed compound are together treated as one building then each structure with a separate entrance should be treated as a separate census house.

The order in which census houses within a building should be numbered should be continuous, preferably clockwise, or in any convenient manner if it is at all difficult to do it clockwise. If a building itself is a census house, then it will have only one number, namely, that of the building. If within a building there are a number of census houses, then each census house will have two sets of numbers, e.g., the number of the building and the sub-number of the census house. The census house number should be written after the building number in Arabic numerals in brackets such as 2(2), 3(2), etc. A census house may contain more than one household, in which case, each household will have to be denoted by a separate alphabetical sub-number (see instructions for column 11 below).

Column 4—Purpose for which census house used, e.g., dwelling, shop, shop-cum-dwelling, business, factory, workshop, school or other institution, jail, hostel, hotel, etc.

The actual use to which a census house is put should be written here.

In the case of a factory or workshop 'Factory' should be written for a large factory if registered under the Indian Factories Act and 'Workshop' for a small unregistered workshop. A workshop is a place where some kind of production, repair or servicing goes on or where goods or articles are made and sold. Similarly, a shop is a place where articles are sold for cash or for credit. Business houses are those where transactions in money or other articles are taking place, e.g., bank, etc. But rooms or apartments where professional consultations are held such as by doctors, hakims, pleaders, etc., should be described as 'professional consultation rooms' and not workshops. In the case, however, of a dispensary where, in addition to consultation by a doctor, medicines are prepared and sold, the house should be described as a dispensary. Write also if used for place of worship or congregation or if unoccupied, 'vacant'. If the census house is a shop, business house, bank, etc., but is not a factory or workshop as defined above, the name of the proprietor, manager or director should be entered in column 18.

Columns 5 to 8—"If this census house is used as an establishment, workshop or factory".

These columns apply only in cases where the census house is a factory or a workshop i.e. where some kind of production, processing, repair or servicing is undertaken or where goods or articles are made and sold. If the census house is not used for purposes of a factory or workshop write 'X' in each of the columns 5 to 8.

Column 5—Name of establishment or proprietor.

Write the name of the establishment in the case of factories or large manufacturing concerns and write the name of the proprietor in the case of small workshops and establishments like confectioneries where no distinct name has been given to them like Halwai shop, etc. If the census house is not used for the purpose of a factory or workshop put 'X' in each of the columns 5 to 8.

Column 6—Name of product(s), repair or servicing undertaken.

In this column enter the actual work that is being done in the establishment, factory or workshop, like paper making, shoe making, cycle repairing, motor servicing, etc.

Column 7—Average number of persons employed daily last week (including proprietor or household members, if any).

The total number of workers including apprentices, either paid or unpaid, employed in the factory or workshop, including the owner or proprietor and any of his family members (if working), should be entered. The average number of persons working per day during the week preceding the date of your visit should be entered.

In case more than one product is produced it is not necessary to enquire the number of persons employed in the production of each product. It may not be possible to get this information in cases where the operations may be composite.

Column 8—Kind of fuel or power, if machinery is used.

If the factory or workshop uses steam or diesel engine or fuel, e.g., kerosene, soft coke, electricity, water-mill, etc., for running the machinery used for production, servicing or repairs, write what fuel or power is actually used.

Columns 9 and 10—Description of Census House.

Column 9—Material of wall.

Under this column the material out of which most of the walls of the house are made, i.e., grass, leaves, reeds, bamboo, unburnt bricks, mud, burnt bricks, stone, cement concrete or timber should be written. Where a house consists of separate structures each of different materials, the material out of which the walls of the main bedrooms are made are to be recorded.

Column 10—Material of roof.

The material out of which most of the outer roof exposed to the weather and not the ceiling is made, i.e., tiles, thatch, corrugated iron, zinc or asbestos cement sheets or concrete, etc., should be written. In the case of a multi-storeyed building the intermediate floor or floors will be the roof of the lower floor.

Column 11—Sub-number of each Census Household with Census House Number (Column 3).

A household is a group of persons who commonly live together and would take their meals from a common kitchen unless the exigencies of work prevented any of them from doing so.

There may be one or more households in a census house. Each household should be separately numbered. This can be done by using the alphabets as (A), (B), (C), etc. For example, if building No. 2 is also a census house and has three households, the household numbers will be 2(A), 2(B) and 2(C). If building No. 4 has two census houses, the houses will be numbered as 4(1) and 4(2). If within each house there are respectively 3 and 2 households, then they will be numbered as 4(1A), 4(1B), 4(1C) and 4(2A) and 4(2B).

Column 12—Name of Head of Household.

The name of the Head of each household given in column 11 should be written here. The Head of a household, for census purposes, is the person on whom falls the chief responsibility for the maintenance of the household. The name of the person who is actually acknowledged as Head of the household should be recorded. In the case of places like messes, boarding houses, chummeries, etc., where people live together with no ties of relationship, the manager or superintendent or the person who by common consent is regarded as the Head should be recorded as Head of the household.

If the census house is used as a sitting place, cattle shed, etc., write the use to which it is put (and add the name of the owner).

Column 13—Number of rooms in Census Household.

If a census house is occupied by one household the enumeration of rooms should be simple.

If a census house consists of a number of households the number of rooms occupied by each household should be entered on each line against the name of the Head of the household. In cases where more than one household occupy a single room or share more than one room in such a way that it is not possible to say the number of rooms occupied by each household, the number of rooms should be given together within brackets as common to both the households.

A room should usually have four walls with a doorway with a roof overhead and should be wide and long enough for a person to sleep in, i.e., it should be at least 6 ft. long. Unenclosed verandah, kitchen, store, garage, cattle shed and latrine which are not ordinarily used for living and sleeping should not be treated as rooms. An enclosed room, however, which is used for living, dining, sorting and cooking should be regarded as a room.

Column 14—Does the household live in own or rented house ?

If the household lives in own house write 'O'. If the household lives in a rented house write 'R'.

In the case of public buildings like schools, hospitals, etc., or places of worship, put 'X' in this column.

Columns 15 to 17—Number of persons residing in census household on day of visit.

Write the number of males residing in the household in column 15, the number of females residing in the household in column 16 and the total number of persons in column 17.

In this column should be entered any useful or significant information about the building or the census house or the census household that has not been entered in any other column. For example, if the census household is occupied by members of Scheduled Castes or Scheduled Tribes, it should be indicated by writing words 'S.C.' or 'S.T.'. If a census house is vacant at the time of houselisting but there is reason to believe that the house will be occupied in the course of the next few days and almost certainly before the census enumeration period, then the word 'Vacant' should be entered in column 4 and a remark should be entered in column 18 to the effect 'likely to be occupied shortly'. Thus, the Remarks column should be utilised for recording all significant information relating to the building or census house or census household.

Each person engaged in housenumbering of one block will have to make out an abstract at the conclusion of houselisting and housenumbering. This abstract will be in the form shown below:—

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ENUMERATION

PART I*—GENERAL

INTRODUCTION

India seems to have had some form of Census taking even 2,000 years ago. In recent times, however, regular Censuses started from 1872 and this 1961 Census which you are going to take is the tenth of the series. It is the Second Census since Independence and its period closely coincides with the completion of the Second Five-Year Plan and with the beginning of the Third.

2. Valuable information.—You will collect very valuable information in this Census. It will be used to evaluate the progress which we have made in social and economic fields after Independence and through the first two Five-Year Plans.

3. The distribution and growth of population observed in this Census will be used to estimate regional and national requirements of food, clothing, education, health, medical amenities, employment, etc. The planners and administrators of the country will be thus using the facts and figures which you collect in this Census for formulation of governmental policies over a long time. Trade and Industry also use this information to study regional or national requirements of consumption goods, and availability of manpower and determine the location or lines of production and trade accordingly.

4. Accuracy of work.—It is essential that the facts and figures which will be so used as a basis for future planning are collected with utmost accuracy. The value of a Census depends upon its accuracy. All the past Censuses had been conducted in difficult conditions. But the work had always been of a very high standard, and has earned a high place for India in the Census map of the world.

5. People's co-operation.—You will be taking the 1961 Census in very favourable circumstances. The Census Forms have been designed and printed with a view to make your work as easy as possible. You will also get abundant co-operation from the people as the need for and the importance of a Census is now appreciated all over the country. Nothing prevents you from making this 1961 Census the best of all the Censuses held so far.

6. Your own attitude.—Much will depend upon your own approach to the Census work given to you. True, that it is an addition to your normal work, and that you are not accustomed to such a trying job. But, it has been given to you and to thousands of persons like you because it is the only way of taking a Population Census in a great country like ours. The country's law requires you to do this work. Your officers will also give you concessions from office attendance, office hours, etc. A small honorarium will also be paid to you to meet your out-of-pocket expenses incurred on purchase of stationery, to and fro journeys, etc. Moreover, such occasions come only once in ten years. Why should you not, then, take pleasure in being so closely associated with the most extensive operation of stock taking of the nation's progress. You would not mind the small addition to your normal work or the other accompanying inconveniences, if you work with a feeling that the work you do for the Census will be your humble contribution in this great national endeavour.

7. Courtesy to the people.—While on Census duty you have to approach all the households in the area assigned to you and to ask many questions about all persons, men and women, young and old. The law requires them to give truthful answers to your questions. Everybody will certainly do so.

8. Nonetheless, your visits are also going to inconvenience them. Only through your cordiality you can reduce this inconvenience and save your own time as well as theirs. The people would respect you because of your good behaviour. They would respect you more if you yourself feel and always keep in mind that you are engaged in a respectable job and that you are doing it for your nation. Such a feeling will provide enough patience to you also to bear with a few exceptional types of people who would often not reply properly and would sometimes ask you to come later on or even refuse to reply to your questions.

9. Recognition of work—Medals.—Courtesy to the people and a very high standard of accuracy of work will, therefore, be your two guiding principles while you are doing Census work. Your good work will be certainly recognised. Government has ordered that the quality of work performed for Census should be considered while writing annual confidential reports. In addition, the Government will be awarding silver and bronze medals to the enumerators and supervisors whose work is judged by the Collectors to be above the mark. Your work has also to be in keeping with the high administrative standards of our State. You will certainly give off your best for the Census.

ADMINISTRATIVE SET-UP

10. Administrative Set-up.—The entire Census work in a district proceeds under the control and guidance of the Collector. His Personal Assistant has been designated as District Census Officer who assists the Collector in all aspects of Census work. The Executive Health Officer of Bombay Municipal Corporation is the Chief Census Officer for Greater Bombay Municipal Corporation area.

11. Revenue Officers in charge of talukas or mahals have been appointed as Charge Officers. Municipal Chief Officers or Secretaries also work as Charge Officers for a few selected big municipalities. Executive Officers of Cantonment Boards are in charge of Census work for the respective Cantonment areas. The Deputy Municipal Commissioner of Nagpur and the Medical Officer of Health, Poona Municipal Corporation, are Charge Officers respectively for Nagpur and Poona Municipal Corporation areas.

12. The Charge Officers are responsible for efficient conduct of Census work. They have been empowered to appoint persons for various duties pertaining to Census. They would also sign declarations to that effect. In a few cases, Section Officers have been appointed to assist them.

13. The Charge Officers will—

(i) make appointments of enumerators and supervisors and assign areas of work to them ;
(ii) make arrangements for their training ;
(iii) arrange supply of all Census forms, literature, etc. ; and (iv) provide effective supervision over Census work in the field.

14. Enumerator and his Block.—Persons appointed to do Census work on the field are called enumerators. Each of them has to work for a specified area, which is called his " Block ". A block may be a whole village or part of a village or a ward or section in a town. Normally a block would have a population of about 600 in urban areas and about 750 in rural areas.

15. Supervisor and his Circle.—A supervisor is appointed to supervise the work of about six enumerators. The area given to him for supervision is called his " Circle ". Normally it would contain six blocks or a population of about 3,600 in urban areas and of 4,500 in rural areas. A circle may consist of a village or a group of villages or a ward or a portion of a ward in urban areas.

16. Appointment Order.—You would receive an order of appointment for Census work from the Charge Officer during the first week of December 1960. A copy of these instructions and some other literature also will be enclosed with it. The order of appointment is a statutory order made under the provisions of the Census of India Act. Under the provisions of this Act, no one can refuse to do the work entrusted to him.

TRAINING

17. Training.—The order of appointment will be followed by another order asking you to attend three rounds of training at specified centres and on certain fixed dates. It is your duty to attend all the training rounds. Your failure to attend any training round may be considered as negligence or failure in performance of duties.

* This Part I was issued in Maharashtra as a Supplement to the Standard All India Instructions for Enumeration issued as Part-II and reproduced at pages 19-26 below.

18. You should read these instructions and the other literature sent to you before you attend any training round. Also follow the instructions in the training class attentively. Do ask questions in the class and get your doubts or difficulties clarified. Do not miss any opportunity of getting actual practice of Census work. It will add confidence to your understanding.

19. Each round of training would consist of two theory classes and a practical demonstration in which at least 5 Household Schedules and 10 Individual Slips should be filled in before the batch of trainees. The third round will start with actual practice of enumeration called Training Census. You will be actually enumerating ten households and fifty individuals and filling ten schedules and fifty slips specially printed in red ink for this purpose. This round will close with a discussion on the mistakes made and the difficulties experienced by you and your colleagues during the Training Census.

20. The object of training is not only to teach the method of Census work. It is also intended to develop among all enumerators and supervisors a common and uniform understanding of all questions. We can imagine that Census information will lose much of its comparability if each enumerator or supervisor gives his own meaning and content to the Census questions.

21. Programme of training and enumeration.—The programme of training and enumeration will be as follows :—

(1)	1st round of training ..	Some day between 16th and 31st December 1960.
(2)	2nd round of training ..	Some day between 1st and 15th January 1961.
(3)	3rd round of training ..	Some day between 16th and 31st January 1961.
(4)	Receive second set of Census forms and advance payment of honorarium.	During the 1st week of February 1961.
(5)	Actual enumeration work	10th February to 5th March 1961.
(6)	Submission of records in the Charge Office.	6th March 1961.
(7)	Receive balance of honoraria.	During the 2nd week of March 1961.

State Government's Orders

22. The Government of Maharashtra have through their Government Resolution, General Administration Department, No. CNS-1060/558-H of 18th June 1960, ordered as follows :—

"Preliminary arrangements for the 1961 Census are being made in the districts and the municipal areas in the State of Maharashtra. Field work for Census will be done as follows :—

	Period
(1) House-numbering and preparation of House-lists.	16th September to 15th October 1960.
(2) Enumeration	10th February to 5th March 1961.

Census work, will, as in the past, be done by the fullest use of all establishments under the control of the Government of India, the State Government and the local bodies on a voluntary basis.

2. Census is a nation-wide administrative operation involving demands on the services of staff which will have to be met from the resources of all establishments throughout the country. Government is accordingly pleased to direct that the Heads of Departments and Heads of Offices should spare the services of as many of their staff as may be required for appointment as Section Officers, Supervisors and Enumerators, by Collectors, Mamlatdars (Tahsildars), Municipal authorities, etc.

3. Local Census Officers will be drawing minimum required staff from various departments. The Heads of Departments and Heads of Offices should, therefore, not support any claims for exemption from Census work. Nor should they sanction leave to any employee selected for Census duty except on medical grounds.

4. All employees of the State Government should accept and perform readily any work connected with the Census which is entrusted to them by responsible local Census Officers. Government servants are specifically instructed that they should give no cause for complaint by the officers in charge of the Census in respect of the performance of Census duties. They should perform their duties as diligently and conscientiously as the normal duties of the posts held by them. The manner in which they have performed Census duties will be taken into account in the periodical assessment of their work and conduct.

5. Census work is spread over a few weeks in order to reduce the number of employees to be drawn from various offices and also in order to enable them to carry out their duties conveniently. Section Officers, Supervisors and enumerators may not, therefore, always have full time job during the periods indicated in paragraph 1 above and it will be possible for them to attend to their urgent work. Heads of Departments and Offices are requested to give concessions to such persons in the matter of office attendance, disposal of normal work, etc., not only during the periods indicated above but also during the periods preceding them in which they will be called upon to make preliminary arrangements for Census or to receive training and instruction.

6. As in the past, Census work will be done by all Government employees on a voluntary basis as a part of their normal duty. Government of India may, however, order payment of honoraria to meet the small out-of-pocket expenses incurred by Government employees while on Census duty. Orders regarding payment of such honoraria will be issued in due course.

7. Divisional Commissioners and the Director of Education are requested to communicate these orders to all the local authorities within their jurisdiction."

Honorarium

23. During 1951 and all previous Censuses, enumeration work had been done purely on voluntary basis, i.e. without any extra payment for it. The same traditions will continue for the 1961 Census also. Under the above Government orders all employees of Government and local bodies will perform Census work as a part of their normal duty. The Government have however ordered payment of honorarium at the following rates to all enumerators and supervisors to cover small items of out-of-pocket expenditure incurred by them on purchase of paper, pencil, ink or on to and fro journeys :—

To Enumerators—

(a)	In Urban areas ..	One rupee for every 40 persons enumerated.
(b)	In Rural areas ..	One rupee for every 50 persons enumerated.

To Supervisors—

(a)	In Urban areas ..	One rupee for every 200 persons enumerated.
(b)	In Rural areas ..	One rupee for every 250 persons enumerated.

24. An amount of Rs. 5 will be paid to you as an advance out of the total honorarium payable to you. This advance will be paid when the second set of Census forms are issued to you from the Charge Office. Balance of honoraria will be calculated on the basis of actual work done by you. Payment of that balance will be made to you during the second week of March 1961.

25. Second set of Census Forms.—After you have completed all the three rounds of training, the Charge Officer will issue the second set of Census forms and literature to you. You may have to go to the Charge Office to obtain this set and to receive the advance payment of honorarium. This should be done during the 1st week of February 1961.

26. The second set issued to you from the Charge Office will consist of the following :—

A. Enumerator's set—
- (i) A letter of authority ;
- (ii) Required number of household schedule pads of 50 schedules and pads of 25 schedules ;
- (iii) Required number of individual slip pads of 100 slips and 25 slips ;
- (iv) Two copies of block reports ;
- (v) Abbreviated Houselist prepared for the block concerned ;
- (vi) One copy of printed pulp board or sheet showing abbreviations to be used.

B. Supervisor's set—
- (i) A letter of authority ;
- (ii) Spare pads of household schedules and individual slips, one of each category and size ;
- (iii) Two copies of block reports ;
- (iv) One printed pulp board or sheet showing abbreviations to be used.

27. You should check up the contents of the set carefully. During this visit to the Charge Office you should also seek instructions from the Charge Officer if you have any doubts about the boundaries of your block or circle, its location code numbers or about any other matter related to Census work.

ENUMERATION

28. Preliminary round in the block.—As soon as you receive the second set of forms you should go round your block with the abbreviated houselist in your hands and familiarise yourself with the houses it contains and its boundaries. Your block must have been shown to have some natural boundaries. This round will enable you to see which are those boundaries. You should thus make doubly sure of complete coverage in your block.

29. Scheme of Work.—You have to obtain certain particulars like age, marital status, place of birth, religion, literacy, education, language, economic activity, etc. in respect of all persons and also particulars regarding cultivation of land, household industry, etc. for all households in your block. You have to visit every household in your block and interview the head of the household or some other person in the household for collecting the required information. You should record the information as returned for individual persons in the individual slips. You have to use one slip separately for each person. The information collected for households is to be recorded in the household schedules by similarly using a schedule separately for each household.

30. Reference Date.—Size of population as well as its characteristics go on changing day by day. Age, education and economic activity also change in course of time. The information you collect should, therefore, be as it happens to be at sunrise on 1st March 1961. This date has been fixed by Government as the reference date.

31. In the past, Census used to be taken all over the country during only one night. That practice, however, required a huge army of people for enumeration, and involved unmanageable tasks of training and supervision. The one night enumeration method has now been given up and the work is now spread over three weeks.

32. Two rounds of visits.—You start visiting households in your block and recording information from 10th February 1961, and complete one full round of all households in the block by 27th February 1961. You would of course record information about individuals or households as found at the time of your visits to those households. From 1st March to 5th March 1961, you visit each of the households again and record all changes by births, deaths, visitors, etc., which had occurred after your first visit and before the sunrise on 1st March 1961. Thus, during your second round—called the revisional round—you correct the entire information collected during your first round and make it tally with the conditions as actually obtaining at sunrise on 1st March 1961.

33. One hundred per cent. coverage.—Census is valued because of its complete coverage. Its objective is, therefore, to have a 100 per cent. count. No one should be left uncounted. Nor should anyone be counted twice. The other objective is that the information should be complete. All questions should be asked for every person and for every household and answers recorded against every item. In other words, no item should be left blank or unrecorded in any Slip or Schedule. The answers should also be recorded neatly, in proper places and with correct abbreviations. Any mistake in recording an answer would make the entry ambiguous and the completeness of your information is lost to that extent.

34. Careful handling of Census Forms.—The Charge Officer has given you Census Forms to meet your probable requirement. You should keep and use those Forms very carefully. Slips and Household Schedule Pads in which you have recorded information are very valuable records. Any damage or loss would mean your doing the work again.

35. You should number pads of slips and household schedules. You should take the second pad only after all pages of the first have been filled in. You should first utilise all pads of 100 slips and then start with pads of 25 slips.

36. In no case should a slip or schedule be torn out of the pad. Even if some mistake has been made or a slip or schedule is spoiled you should not tear it out. You should simply draw two cross lines over it and write as 'spoiled'.

37. After completion of work you have to return all pads, used, partly used and unused to the Charge Officer. You have to account not only for the number of pads but also for the spoiled and cancelled slips or schedules. Numbering of all the pages in the pads will also help you in preparing pad abstracts and block reports.

38. Visits to households.—You know that as a preparation for Census, all houses in your block have been numbered and listed very recently. A list of houses and names of heads of households residing in your block is given to you in the second set. You should follow the same sequence of houses as in the list for your visits to the households. You start on 10th February, with the first house in the list, then visit the second, then third and so on. As soon as you have visited a household and recorded complete information for it and for all persons, you should tick of its number in the list.

39. You should not leave any household till you have filled in slips for all members of the household and a schedule for the household itself. Take particular care to ask information of young babies and visitors who are most likely to be left out of the count unless you specially ask for them.

40. Visit all houses.—Housenumbering has been done a few months ago. There may have been many changes in the meantime. Apart from the changes in the sizes of households, a few households might have also changed places. New houses might have been built up. Houses which were vacant then or were used for non-residential purposes may now be occupied by households. You may also come across a house which had altogether escaped numbering in the first stage. The list of houses given to you will thus be useful only as a guide. You should not treat it as an exhaustive list. You should yourself work with a searching eye and do everything possible to locate new or unnumbered houses. Farm houses which are normally scattered far and wide should not be missed. You should make enquiries for all houses, sheds, huts, or similar structures to find out if anyone is residing there. Location of all households residing in your block is the first important step in securing 100 per cent. count. The next step is of counting all persons in every household.

41. You should thus work with great vigilance and (i) visit all households residing in your block at the time of enumeration whether they are included in the list or not ; and (ii) count all persons in each household.

42. New or unnumbered houses.—While you follow the numbering sequence as appearing in the list, you also see round and try to discover unnumbered or unlisted households. As soon as you come across one you should enter it at the end of the list with the number of its preceding house and letter A prefixed to it. If you discover a new or unnumbered house after a house bearing number 33(2) the discovered house should be entered at the end of the list with number A 33(2) and so on.

43. You are taking Census of an area given to you. You should not, therefore, restrict to the list of houses given to you only for use as an outer frame for work. You should also not restrict work only to the gaothan of the village or town. You should also work for houses, situated outside the gaothan but within the administrative limits of blocks given to you. If you have any doubt about the extent of your block, you should immediately seek clarification from the supervisor or the Charge Officer.

44. Interview.—During your visit to a household you interview the head of the household or any other adult member of the household who can answer your questions accurately and give information about himself as well as of other members of the household. You should, on entering a house, wish according to the local custom and introduce yourself and explain the purpose of your visit. You should always carry the Letter of Authority with you. If demanded you should show it. You should frankly admit that you are going to take some of his valuable time and ask him a few questions. This would create a sort of friendly atmosphere. You should be very businesslike during the interview as you have to cover a large population within a short period. Refrain from controversial matters. Do not discuss political matters. Do not enter into an argument with anyone with regard to his religion or language.

45. You should also thank the person interviewed after your interview is over. The cordial atmosphere which you are able to create during the interview will not only save your time but would also improve the quality of the answer and through them the accuracy of your information.

46. Secrecy of Answers.—You should remember that the information you collect is of a confidential nature and you are bound by law to maintain secrecy about it. Disclosure of any information is punishable under the Census of India Act. There should, therefore, be no unauthorised person accompanying you during the interview.

47. No Unauthorised Questions.—You are permitted only to ask the questions incorporated in the slip and the household schedule. You should not, therefore, ask any other unauthorised questions.

48. Refusal to Answer.—If the person being interviewed refuses to answer your questions you should use tact and humour and very politely explain the nature of your enquiry and the provisions of law which are equally binding upon him. In 99 per cent. cases, you may be able to overcome difficulties in this manner. If you come across any more difficult case, you may seek instructions from your supervisor or Charge Officer. It should be your duty, however, to be patient with everybody and not to get provoked in any case.

49. Repeated Visits.—In a few cases, you may not be able to find the head of the household or any other person capable of giving you the required information in your first visit. Some houses might be locked or vacant. You may have to repeat your visits to such houses and go at a time suitable to the household. Repeated visits will also be needed if you do not get adequate answers in your first visit.

50. Sequence of Work.—You will start work with the filling of slips for all the persons of the household. After recording information for all persons in the household you will fill in the household schedule. For filling of slips also the sequence should be to take the head of the household first followed by his wife and children in the order of their ages, then the other related members of the household and then in the last unrelated members of the household. In other words, the sequence should be in the order of nearness of relation and between near relatives that of age. You should make repeated inquiries about infants and very young children for they are liable to be left out of count.

51. You should ask questions in the same order as they are printed in the slip and in the household schedule.

52. Form of Questions.—The questions have been printed in brief on the slips and on the household schedules. You should note the complete versions of the questions. Otherwise, you may not understand their full meaning and implication. A printed copy showing full versions of all questions will be supplied to you separately.

53. Daily output of work.—You have to complete work for about 150 households by 28th February. Simultaneously you have to complete writing of Part II of Household Schedule as well as of pad abstracts. 'On the 28th of February, you may have to work only on the houseless population. You may also keep one or two days for unforeseen difficulties. You thus have only 16 days for work inclusive of holidays. You should, therefore, complete enumeration of at least 10-12 households and 40-50 persons every day and also write Part II, for the households enumerated during the day, at night. Enumeration of 10 households and about 40-50 persons and writing of Part II and of pad abstracts will together mean 4 to 5 hours work for you every day. It is necessary to keep this speed throughout the enumeration period. It will enable you to do work with equal care and attention and there may be no necessity to rush through the work during the fag end of the enumeration period.

54. Correct recording of Answers.—Against every question asked you should truthfully record the information that has been returned by the person interviewed. Making of any false returns is punishable under the Census of India Act.

55. All answers should be recorded in the slips and household schedules in ink. The recording should be done in appropriate places, i.e., in the geometrical designs provided for that purpose. Answers should also be recorded with the abbreviations prescribed for use. You will find these abbreviations for recording answers of questions at Appendix I. A printed pulp board or sheet showing all these abbreviations will also be given to you as a part of the second set.

56. Recording of information obtained under a question in a wrong place would nullify your enquiry to that extent. It is important to ask all questions to all persons. It is equally important to record their answers in correct places and with correct abbreviations.

57. Part II Instructions for writing individual slips & household schedules.—Instructions for filling individual slips and household schedules are given in Part II. They should be studied thoroughly.

58. Pad Abstracts.—For every pad used you have to write a pad abstract on its brown cover. You have to count for each pad the number of slips for males and females separately. Out of each you have also to count separately literates among males and literates amongst females. For this you should count all slips which have against Question 6, an entry of 'L' or a name of examination passed, i.e. an entry other than 'O'.

59. Houseless Population.—On the night of 28th February, you should enumerate the part of the population which lives without any fixed abodes or leads a nomadic life. Such people are constantly on move. Working on only one night (28th February) throughout the country will prevent their being counted twice.

60. Household schedules and slips will be filled in for such houseless persons in the same manner as for the general population. Normally, there would be a small number of such persons in a block and it should be possible for the enumerator to count all of them alone. The village patil or the local police officer will assist the enumerator in going round the block at night and in obtaining information from the houseless persons.

61. Should there be a big camp of nomads or a similar concentration of beggars and other houseless persons in any block, the Charge Officer and the Supervisor will provide special assistance and the work of enumeration of the houseless persons may go on for two nights, i.e., may continue even on the night on 1st March 1961.

62. During the preliminary and the first enumeration rounds in the blocks, the enumerator should have noted the places in his block where houseless persons are likely to be residing.

63. In the case of big cities, special instructions will be issued by the Charge Officers. They would also arrange for Police help required for this work.

64. Care will have to be exercised to distinguish between the genuine houseless population and the persons, who do have houses and live in the households, but sleep on the streets or at other public places. You should also not confuse temporary visitors and travellers who have already been enumerated in their households.

65. Final Round.—You would have completed enumeration of all households and houseless population on 28th February 1961. From 1st March 1961 to 5th March 1961, you should re-visit all the households. Ask first if there has been a new birth. Then ask about visitors and lastly if there has been any death. Address your questions with due decorum, so as not to cause any hurt to anyone's feeling.

66. You should fill in a new slip for a child born after your first visit and before sunrise of 1st March. If the child has not been given a name write unnamed or 'Baby', etc.

67. If you find that any person whom you had enumerated in your first visit has died before the sunrise of 1st March you should cancel the relevant slip by drawing two cross lines over it and by overwriting the word 'dead' on it.

68. If you find any visitor who has not been enumerated elsewhere because of his having left his place of normal residence before 10th of February, you have to enumerate him and fill in a new slip.

69. It should be remembered that new slips are to be filled in or old slips are to be cancelled only for changes before sunrise of 1st March. You should not take any notice of births or deaths occurring after sunrise of 1st March.

70. You should read out from Part II of the household schedule the names of persons enumerated in the household to someone there. Make enquiries if someone else has been left out. Also ask for domestic servants if any residing in the households.

71. Block Report.—After completing the second round of all the households and having written new slips and cancelled some slips for births and deaths you should make appropriate corrections in Part II of the household schedule concerned. Pad abstracts should also be corrected accordingly.

72. After having made all these corrections you should fill in the Block Report. It is a simple form and you have to carry the entries from pad abstracts to it and prepare totals for your block.

73. Submission of Records.—The only remaining item of work is submission of the Block Report and enumeration records to the Charge Officer through your Supervisor. You have to return even unused pads of slips or schedules and accounts in Parts I and II of the Block Report for the pads which had been given to you. All papers should be received in the Charge Office on 6th March 1961.

Duties of Supervisors

74. Supervisor's Duties.—Supervisors have to assist Charge Officers in the efficient conduct of the Census Operations in all stages. It is their duty to see that the enumerators attend all the training rounds, take the training properly and also get adequate practice. If anyone of the enumerators does not attend a training round or does not take the training seriously, the supervisor concerned should report the matter to the Charge Officer and under his guidance take steps to make the enumerator attend the training round at another centre.

75. The Supervisor should also know the person who is proposed as an enumerator in reserve for his Circle. He should take care of his training as much as he takes of other enumerators.

76. The Supervisor should see that all his enumerators get enough stock of Census Forms and literature. He should carry some pads as spare with himself and should supply them where needed and also take prompt steps to ensure supplies to all his enumerators.

77. Inspection of work on the field and guidance to the enumerators on spot are the two most important duties of the Supervisor. The Supervisor should meet all his enumerators in the first two days, i.e. either on 10th or 11th of February, and see that they have started work and that everyone is working on right lines. This first supervision round is very important because it is only for the first 20 to 25 households that an enumerator might make a few mistakes and might experience some difficulties. After correcting such mistakes, if any, and making sure that everybody is working with normal speed, the Supervisor should report this fact to the Charge Officer on 12th February 1961.

78. From 12th February onwards, the Supervisor should start inspection of the enumerator's work. He should first scrutinise all the Forms—Slips and Schedules—filled by the enumerator to date. The scrutiny should be to see if the Forms are completely filled in or not and if recording of answers is with the correct abbreviations and in correct places or not. The Supervisor should also inspect some of the households by himself visiting them and checking up on a few important aspects in each case. The check should be specially to find out if any person in any household has been left out of the count and if economic activities have been correctly enumerated or not. The Supervisor should put his initials and date on all the Slips and Household Schedules which he verifies by personal enquiry with the households.

79. The Supervisor should go on inspecting enumeration work from block to block and should at the end have inspected by personal inquiries with the households, not less than ten per cent. of the households in each of his blocks. He should also keep in touch with the progress of work and the requirements of Census Forms in each block. On 20th February, he should send his second report to the Charge Officer showing the work completed in each block and the amount of inspection work he has done himself.

80. The Supervisor should ensure that the enumeration of all households is completed by all enumerators on or before 27th February, and that they also complete writing of Part II of Household Schedules.

81. The Supervisor should arrange for the required assistance to his enumerators for enumeration of houseless persons on the night of 28th February.

82. The Supervisor's inspection work may continue even beyond 28th February. It should, however, be completed before 5th March 1961. By 5th March, the Supervisor should have completed his scrutiny and field inspection work for all blocks. He should scrutinise all pad abstracts and block reports and initial them. These records are going to be scrutinised in the Charge Office and the Supervisors may have to themselves rectify all deficiencies found later on. They should, therefore, take proper care while inspecting an enumerator's work and should get all deficiencies completed through the enumerator himself.

83. The Supervisor should collect all Census pads and block reports from all his enumerators and after completing his own scrutiny and inspection should personally submit them to the Charge Officer on or before 6th March 1961, positively.

84. The Supervisor will thus be responsible for the quality of work, fullness of information and timely completion of enumeration work by all the enumerators in his Circle.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ENUMERATION

PART II—TECHNICAL

INSTRUCTIONS TO ENUMERATORS

The 1961 Census count will relate to the sunrise of 1st March 1961. The count will be spread over a period of 19 days, beginning on the 10th February and ending on the 28th February 1961. During this period you should visit every household in your block for enumeration. On the night of 28 February you will have to go round your enumeration block and enumerate all persons who are houseless. (In large cities the enumeration of houseless persons will have to be undertaken in a different manner for which more elaborate arrangements will be made.) During the period 1st March to 3rd March you will have to pay a revisional round to every household and verify that your earlier work of enumeration has been completed in every respect. If during this revisional round you find that a birth has taken place in any household between the time of your first visit and the sunrise of 1st March 1961, you will have to fill up a new slip for this birth ; if there has been a death in any household during the same period you will have to cancel the slip of the dead person ; if there is a visitor in any household who has come to stay during the same period and has not been enumerated elsewhere, you will have to fill up a new slip for this visitor. But you will not have to take notice of any birth or death or visit occurring after sunrise of 1st March 1961.

You will have been supplied by your Supervisor household schedule forms in books of 50 or 25 each for recording information relating to the household as a whole and enumeration pads consisting of 100 or 25 slips each to record information of individuals living in the household. Instructions for filling up the household schedule and the individual slips are given in this booklet. You should carefully observe them when filling each household. You can fill up the household schedule first or the enumeration slips first but for every household you should fill up both before you leave the household and also fill up the Census Population Record at the back of the household schedule.

A—Instructions for filling up the Household Schedule

At the top of the Schedule you will find the Location Code. You will have to write the Location Code of the household here. Your supervisor will give you the Code numbers representing your district, tehsil/thana/town, village/ward/block. You should take care to write these three numbers connected together by oblique strokes in between on every household schedule.

When you are visiting each household for enumeration you should write the code number of the household also on the Household Schedule. For purposes of the census a Census House has been defined as a structure or part of a structure, a dwelling, a shop, workshop, factory or place of business, or shop-cum-dwelling giving on the road or a common staircase or a common courtyard leading to a main gate or enjoying a separate entrance. A household means the entire group of persons who commonly live together in the same census house and take their meals from a common mess unless the exigencies of work prevent them from doing so. In some census houses there may be more than one group of persons, each group with a common mess. In such cases, each group should be regarded as a separate household for purposes of the census and a separate household schedule should be prepared. You should write the household number from the extracts of the Houselist given to you by your supervisor. If, in any case, you find a census house or a household satisfying the definitions given above has not been numbered you should bring it to the notice of your supervisor and have a separate number given to the house or household and enumerate the household.

At the right hand corner of the Location Code you will find a question "Is this an institution ?" with a rectangle below it. If you are enumerating any penal, charitable or mental institution, hostel, hotel, hospital, boarding house, etc., you should write the nature of the institution within the rectangle like jail, hospital, etc.

Below the Location Code you will find a column for recording the full name of the Head of the household. The Head of the household for census purposes is a person on whom falls the chief responsibility for the maintenance of the household. Thus the Head of the household need not necessarily be the eldest male member but may even be a female or a younger member of either sex. You need not, however, make any elaborate enquiry about this and should record as Head of household the name of the person who is actually acknowledged as such.

Institutions like boarding houses, messes and chummeries should also be regarded as census households but of 'unrelated persons living together'. In such a Household the manager or superintendent or the person who has administrative responsibilities or who by common consent is regarded as the Head, should be recorded as Head of the household. If in an Institution separate families are also living, each such family should be treated as a census household and a separate household schedule should be filled. In such cases the full name of the recognised Head of the household should be written.

If the Head of the household is a person who spends the week-days in town and spends the week-ends at home, he should be recorded as Head of Household and entered for enumeration at his home. If he should be away for a fairly long time which covers the entire enumeration period then the person who is incharge in his absence should be recorded as the Head of the household.

You will find a parallelogram at the right hand side against the Full Name of the Head of the household marked " S.C./S.T.". If the Head of the Household is a member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe obtaining in your State or in your District, you should write the name of the particular Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe to which the Head of the Household belongs within the parallelogram. If the Head of the Household does not belong to Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe you should put 'X' within the parallelogram.

You should then fill up the part of the household schedule relating to Cultivation and Household Industry. Sub-part 'A' relates to Cultivation, sub-part 'B' to Household Industry and sub-part 'C' to Workers at Cultivation or Household Industry.

Sub-part 'A' relating to Cultivation will have to be filled in only where the household cultivates land. (Land includes all land normally used for cultivation purposes including temporary fallows.) Three categories of land are given in items 1(i), 1(ii) and 2. Items 1(i) and 1(ii) relate to land actually cultivated by the household. Item 2 relates to land which is not cultivated by the household but has been given by it to private persons for cultivation for payment in money, kind or share. In each of the three cases the total of separate plots or parcels of land in different places, owned or held, or taken or given should be made and entered. A number of lines has been provided for this purpose in 1(i) and 1(ii) to account for separate plots or parcels of land held or owned or taken under different recognised local rights. If the household (a) cultivates land owned or held from Government or taken from private persons or institutions or (b) has given land to private persons for cultivation purposes you should ascertain the local name of the right on such land and record in the column relating to 'local name of right on land'. Category 1(i) land owned or held from Government, will include the total of all pieces of land owned or held in owner-like possession, e.g., land held directly from Government under a grant, lease or assignment, (i) with rights of permanent, heritable and transferable possession, (ii) with rights of permanent and heritable possession, but without the right of transfer and (iii) temporary or conditional leases of any kind with the Government. Category 1(ii) land taken from private persons or institutions for payment in money, kind or share, will include land (i) with rights of permanent, heritable and transferable possession ; (ii) with rights of permanent and heritable possession but without right of transfer ; (iii) held in a variety of tenancies or tenures which may be broadly classified as follows :—

(a) tenants holding land with permanent and heritable rights whose land cannot be resumed by the owner on grounds of personal cultivation (such tenants may in some cases have the right of transfer also) ;

(b) tenants who have been given permanent rights subject to the right of resumption by the owner (in some cases the tenant has the right to acquire ownership of the non-resumable area. In other cases he does not possess the right) ;

(c) tenants holding land in areas where interim measures have been enacted for stay of ejectment or for continuing the leases for a specified period ;

(d) tenants holding land on temporary leases who are liable to ejectment ; and

(e) areas held on condition of rendering service either to a village community or to Government (This also includes cases where labourers on plantations are given some land for cultivation with permanent rights) ; and

(iv) the following:—

(a) land taken for a fixed amount of money,

(b) land taken for a fixed amount of produce,

(c) land taken for a share of the produce,

(d) land for which money is paid partly in one and partly in any other form mentioned above, and

(e) land held free of consideration.

Category 2 land given to private persons for cultivation for payment in money, kind or share will include the classifications mentioned in category 1(ii).

Categories 1(i) and (ii) will include only those plots or parcels of land which are cultivated by the household itself, that is, lands which lie within the village, or in adjacent villages, or within such a distance as enables the household to work on the land or actively supervise the cultivation. They will not include land owned or held in distant places where distance itself is a bar to active cultivation, constant supervision or direction. But Category 2 will include land in any part of the country whatsoever. You should ascertain the extent of land in each category of local right in acres and record it in acres corrected up to the first place of decimal in the column relating to 'Area in acres'. In case it is not possible to record the area in decimal, the figures of acres and gunthas may be recorded. It is not however necessary to write fractions of a guntha. A fraction being less than 1/2 guntha should be overlooked and a fraction of 1/2 guntha or more should be taken as one guntha. Figures for acres and gunthas should be written with a dash between them and not with '&' written in between. Write 15-22 and not 15 & 22. You should write the total of separate plots or parcels of land under the same right if they are situated in different places. If it is not possible to ascertain the extent of land in acres you should, if possible, make a conversion from the local measure given to you. Even if this is not possible write the area in local measure giving invariably the name of the measure adopted.

This sub-part will not apply to households which do not possess or cultivate any land. Thus, it will not apply to households which consist of only agricultural labourers without any land. In such cases put an 'X' in all the spaces provided in the right hand side and put a bold cross on this sub-part.

Land under any of the items in sub-part 'A' includes rent free land, lands enjoyed in permissive possession or gifts without encumbrance or consideration. A household which is a member of a co-operative farm will record only that amount of land in the co-operative farm which had belonged to it before and under right enter 'co-operative farm'. Labour hired by such a co-operative farm should not be entered for this household.

Sub-part 'B' relates to Household Industry. This part will be filled up only where there is a Household Industry conducted by the Head of the household himself and/or mainly by members of the household at home or within the village in rural areas and only at home in urban areas. The industry should not be on the scale of a registered factory. The participation of the Head of the household and/or members of the household is an essential feature of the Household Industry. In a rural area the Household Industry can be located either at home or within the village. But in an urban area the Household Industry or at least the major part of its work must be located only at home. A Household Industry should relate to production, processing, servicing or repairing and includes makers and sellers of goods.

The test for a Household Industry is mainly threefold :

(a) Household Industry should embrace manufacture, processing or servicing and may include sale but should not be confined simply to buying and selling. At least part of the goods offered for sale from the household should be manufactured or processed by members of the household.

(b) Household Industry should be on the household scale where the workers mainly will be the Head of the household himself and members of the household, the role of hired workers from outside being of secondary importance. Thus, in any Household Industry, members of the household should be in a position to lend a hand in the industry whenever they find time in the course of their daily chores. Household Industry cannot, therefore, be on the scale of a registered factory but can use machinery and employ power like steam engine or oil engine or electricity to drive the machinery.

(c) Location also is important, for proximity decides participation by members of the household. In a village this participation is possible if the Household Industry is located at home or within the village, because village organisation is such as makes it possible for members of the household to move about freely in the village to look after their work. In urban areas such a free movement is not possible and, therefore, for Household Industry in urban areas we should consider only those industries which are located at home. Where, however, part of the work is done outside the house, e.g., preparing and dyeing the yarn for weaving or winding into warp and wool or cleaning metal surfaces before electroplating in baths, it should still be considered a Household Industry, even in urban areas, as the main operation of weaving or of electroplating is conducted within the house and only one or two operations are conducted outside.

The following activities should also be regarded as illustrative of Household Industry. Biri-makers who either alone or with the help of members of the family roll biris at home, for wages at piece rates, while the contractor supplies the materials. Certain processes like buttoning and handsewing of tailored clothes, dyeing and printing of cloth, are carried out at home by members of the household both at residence and at 'place of work' or where women folk of the household fill in at home with lac gold ornaments prepared at the shop by male members of the household.

Ascertain from the Head of the household whether there are any Household Industries and write the nature of the industry(s) in the column provided, if there are any. Then ascertain for how many months in a year roughly they are conducted and put down the number of months in the appropriate column. If the industry is conducted throughout the year write '12'. If there is no Household Industry of any sort put an 'X' in each of the places in the right hand corner where the answers will be written and put a bold cross on this sub-part.

Sub-part 'C' relates to Workers in Cultivation or Household Industry.

In the case of households which are engaged only in Cultivation, if the Head of the household is working write 1 under the column 'Head', and ascertain how many other male and female members of the family are working. Write the numbers in the respective columns. Write the total number of family workers including the Head, if he is working, in the column relating to 'Total'. Then ascertain whether any hired workers are employed and, if so, write the number of such workers in the column allotted for it. The hired workers should have been in wholetime employment during last working season or should be in wholetime employment during current working season.

Similarly in the case of households engaged in Household Industry only, if the Head of the household is working write 1 in the column relating to the 'Head', and also ascertain how many male members and female members of the family are working and write the numbers in the respective columns. Write the total number of family workers including the Head, if he is working, in the column relating to 'Total' and then ascertain the number of hired workers, if any, and then write the number of hired workers in the appropriate column.

If a household is engaged both in Cultivation and Household Industry ascertain whether the Head is working and write 1 under the column relating to the Head and also ascertain how many male and female members of the family are working both at Cultivation and the Household Industry and write the numbers in the respective columns. Write the total number of family workers in the column relating to Total. Ascertain the number of hired workers engaged by the family both for Cultivation and Household Industry and write the number in the appropriate column. In a household engaged both in Household Cultivation and Household Industry, you need not ascertain how many are engaged in Household Cultivation and Household Industry separately.

Even if any of the members of the family working or hired labourers are absent during the period of the census count they should be counted for the purposes of the Household Schedule.

In the case of households engaged in Cultivation only, put 'X' in the columns relating to 'Household Industry only' and 'Both in Household Cultivation and Household Industry'. Similarly, in the case of Households ngaged in Household Industry only, put 'X' in the columns relating to 'Household Cultivation only' and 'Both in Household Cultivation and Household Industry'. If a household is engaged both in Household Cultivation and Household Industry put 'X' in the columns relating to 'Household Cultivation only' and 'Household Industry only'. If a household is not engaged in either Household Cultivation or Household Industry or both put 'X' in all the columns and a bold 'X' on this sub-part.

The test for a worker is whether a person is actually working in Cultivation or Household Industry or supervising or directing work thereon.

B—Instructions for enumerating individual members of households

I. GENERAL

1. Enumerate all persons who are normally resident in the household, i.e., those who live in the household and also those who have recently become members of the household through marriage or birth or other vital social or domestic ties and are present at the time of your visit.

2. Enumerate also all persons who are normal residents in the household even if they are absent at the time of your visit, provided they left the household on or after the 10th February 1961, or if they had left earlier than 10th February 1961, are likely to return before the sunrise of 1st March 1961.

3. Enumerate a visitor, a boarder, or a guest found in the household at the time of your visit, if he had not been enumerated before and if he will be away from his household between the 10th and 28th February 1961, and warn him not to permit any other enumerator to enumerate him even if he goes back by 1st March 1961.

4. Do not enumerate pavement dwellers or others who do not form part of the household, when you are enumerating the households. These along with persons who do not normally reside in houses, i.e., members of wandering tribes, tramps, sadhus, etc., would be separately enumerated on the night of the 28th February and on the 1st and 2nd March 1961.

5. Each individual has to be enumerated in one slip. Before commencing enumeration of an individual make sure to fill the Location Code in each case. The Location Code in the slips will be the same as in the household schedule to which the individuals relate.

6. The questions have been briefly printed in the slips, but only briefly, and you should study the detailed question forms and instructions for answering them without which you will be liable to miss some of the range and implications of the questions. You should ask the questions in the order in which they are given in the slips and proceed to record the answers in their given order. You should make use of the abbreviations recommended in these instructions for recording the answers to the various questions. All abbreviations required to be entered within the geometric designs should be written well within the designs.

7. Make repeated enquiries about new born babies and very young children for they are liable to be missed because they neither talk nor walk and no meals are usually cooked for them.

8. Before leaving one household for the next make doubly sure that all the persons that are to be enumerated in the household have been enumerated. As soon as you have completed the enumeration of the household fill up the Census Population Record at the back of the Household Schedule for that household before you proceed to the next household. Strike the total for the number of males and females in the household and check it with the number of enumeration slips used before you sign the Census Population Record.

9. You should revisit every household in your block during the period of final check (1st to 3rd March) when you should enumerate every birth that has taken place in the household since your visit but before sunrise of 1st March. You should cancel the slip for any death that might have taken place since your last visit but before sunrise of 1st March by drawing a bold line diagonally across the slip and write DEATH along the diagonal line. You should enumerate any visitor who may have arrived to stay since your last visit and who says he has not been enumerated anywhere else. But you should not take notice of any birth or death or visit occurring after sunrise of 1st March 1961. After your revisit if you have added any new slip or cancelled any slip already prepared you should make corresponding changes in the Census Population Record at the back of the Household Schedule.

10. As soon as you have completed a pad, you should fill up the enumerator's abstract on the cover of the pad. After you have completed the enumeration of your block and filled up all the abstracts in the pads, you should total up your figures and prepare your abstract for your entire block and hand it over to your supervisor along with your pads.

11. Under the Census Act, every person is legally bound to furnish you with the information you need for recording your answers. You must not ask information on any matters not necessary for the purposes of the census, for example, the amount of any person's income. Nor must you disclose to any unauthorised person any information given to you or the results of the enumeration. All census entries are confidential and cannot be admitted as evidence in any civil proceeding whatever or in any criminal proceeding other than a prosecution for a census offence.

II. Instructions for Filling up the Slips

In each household you should first enumerate the Head of the household followed by other members of the household in the most convenient order and see that none of the persons in the household are left out. Please make repeated enquiries about infants and very young children, for they are liable to be left out of count. Count near relatives first, such as wife, son, daughter-in-law, daughter, son-in-law, grand-children, then distant relations and then domestic servants or other employees living in the household, boarders, visitors, etc.

Location Code.—Write the Location Code of the household in each slip. For instructions please see Section A above.

Q. 1(a) Name.—Write the name of the person enumerated. If a woman's name is not given out describe her as 'so-and-so's mother, wife or daughter'. If a woman does not take the name of a person's husband and that husband's particulars have to be recorded write 'so-and-so's husband'.

For newly born infants who have not yet been given a name write 'Baby' and write 'father's or mother's name'.

Q. 1(b) Relationship to the Head of the household.—In the case of the Head of the household write 'Head'. The person who should be treated as the 'Head of the Household' has been fully explained in Part A. All relationships in this question should be recorded in respect of that person. In the case of relations write the relationship in full. Do not use words like nephew, niece or uncle, but state whether brother's or sister's son or daughter (for nephew or niece) or father's or mother's brother (uncle). 'Son' will include 'adopted son' or 'step son'; similarly for a daughter. In the case of visitors, boarders or employees write 'visitor', 'boarder' or 'employee' as the case may be.

If on the check or revisional round between the 1st and 3rd March the Head of the household as recorded previously is found to have died, the person in the household who succeeds him by common consent as Head should be recorded as Head and the relationships in all other slips will have to be suitably corrected. The slip of the dead Head of household will, of course, be cancelled.

In the case of places like messes, boarding houses, chummeries, etc. where people live together with no ties of relationship, the manager or superintendent or the person who by common consent is regarded as the Head should be recorded as Head of the household. Other members should be recorded as 'unrelated' in this question.

Q. 2 Age in completed years last birthday.—Write age in years completed last birthday. For infants below one year of age, write 'O'. You will find many persons who cannot state their age correctly. You should assist them to state the correct age. If you are not able to elicit correct age directly, you should stimulate their memory by referring to historical incidents or religious events, etc. You may use any local calendar of such events that may have been prepared for the purpose.

Q. 3 Marital Status.—

For never married	write	NM
Married	write	M
Widowed	write	W
Separated or Divorced	write	S

For a person who has never been married write 'NM'. For a person married, whether for the first or another time, write 'M'. Write 'M' also for persons who are recognised by custom or society as married and for persons in stable de facto union. Even if a marriage is disputed in the locality write 'M' if the person concerned says he or she is married or in stable de facto union. For a widowed person whose husband or wife is dead, and who has not been married again, write 'W'. For a person who has been divorced in a lawful manner, either by decree of a law court or by a regular social or religious custom but who has not remarried, or a person who has been separated from wife or husband and is living apart with no apparent intention of living together again, write 'S'. For a prostitute return her marital status as declared by her.

Q. 4(a) Birthplace.—

1. If born in village or town in which enumerated	write	PL
2. If born in another village or town of district in which enumerated	write	D
3. If born in another district in the State of enumeration	write	name of district.
4. If born in another State in India	write	name of district and State if name of district is known; otherwise write name of State.
5. If born in a country outside India, e.g., Pakistan or any other country	write	name of country.
6. Persons born at sea or in air or in railway carriages or on road transport, e.g., buses etc., should be entered as such.

Q. 4(b) Whether born in Village or Town.—

1. If born in a village	write	R
2. If born in a town which is considered a town at the present time even if it was not so considered at the time of birth	write	U
3. If the person enumerated is not in a position to say whether the place of birth is a village or town	Write the name of the place of birth as returned by him.

Q. 4(c) Duration of Residence—

1. For a person born in village or town or city in which enumerated	write	X
2. For a person born in another village or town or city of district of enumeration or who was not born in the district of enumeration	write the number of completed years this person has been in the village/town/city of enumeration. (Do not take into account periods of temporary absence on leave or holiday or tour or business.)
3. If the duration of residence is less than one year	write	O
If the duration of residence is one year or over	write the actual number of completed years of residence.

Q. 5(a) Nationality.—

1. For Indian nationals	write	I
2. For other nationals	write the nationality in full.

Q. 5(b) Religion.—

For Hindu	write	H
Muslim	write	M
Christian	write	C
Jain	write	J
Buddhist	write	B
Sikh	write	S

For others write the answers actually returned.

Q. 5(c) Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes.—The answer to this question will be recorded only if a person belongs to a Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe. If the person belongs to a Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe obtaining in your State or in your district write the name of the caste or tribe to which he belongs. For all others, write 'X' in this column. A list of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes obtaining in your State or in your district is given elsewhere in these instructions.

If the person belonging to a Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe returns his caste or tribe by a synonym or a generic name of a caste or tribe as given in your list, write the name as returned and the name of the relevant caste or tribe, as per printed list, within brackets.

Do not write the names of Scheduled Castes in general terms as 'Harijan', 'Achhut'. You should ascertain the name of the caste when it is returned and write it. If a person is negligent and insists on calling himself merely 'Harijan' tell him that this description will not earn the person any benefits under the Constitution permissible to Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes. This may persuade him to give out the correct name.

Scheduled Castes can belong only to the Hindu or Sikh religions. If a person belongs to a Scheduled Caste, there will be either 'H' or 'S' in the answer to question 5(b). Scheduled Tribes may belong to any religion.

Q. 6 Literacy and Education.—

I. Illiterate or Literate

For a person

1. Who can neither read nor write or can merely read but cannot write in any language ..	write	O
2. Who can both read and write	write	L

The test for reading is ability to read any simple letter either in print or in manuscript, i.e., if the person can read one of the examples in the Enumerator's Handbook with felicity he may be taken to have passed the test for reading. The test for writing is ability to write a simple letter. The test for literacy is satisfied if the person can with understanding both read and write.

II. Standard of Education

If the person can both read and write and has also passed a written examination or examinations as proof of an educational standard attained, write the highest examination passed instead of L.

Q. 7(a) Mother-tongue.—Write the mother-tongue in full including dialect as returned by the person enumerated. Mother-tongue is language spoken in childhood by the person's mother to the person or mainly spoken in the household. If the mother died in infancy write the language mostly spoken in the person's home in childhood. In the case of infants and deaf mutes give the language usually spoken by the mother.

Q. 7(b) Any other language(s).—After recording the mother-tongue enquire whether the person knows any other language(s), Indian or Foreign, and write the language(s) returned by him against this question. In case he does not know any other language put X.

The number of languages recorded against this question should not be more than two. These languages should be other than his mother-tongue which he speaks and understands best and can use with felicity in communicating with others. Such language or languages will exclude dialects of the same language.

Qs. 8 to 11 Working.—These questions apply only to workers. A person who is working may be working as a Cultivator, as an Agricultural Labourer, at a Household Industry or may be doing any other work. You have to record the answers in questions 8, 9, 10 and 11 according as the person is working as a Cultivator or as an Agricultural Labourer or at Household Industry or doing any other work. He may be engaged in only one of the above four categories or in more than one. Thus a person can be working both as a Cultivator and an Agricultural Labourer, in which case he should be entered both in Q. 8 and Q. 9. Or, he may be working both as Cultivator and at Household Industry in which case he will be entered in Q. 8 and Q. 10. Or, he may be working in any possible combination of 8, 9, 10 and 11, in which case he will be entered in the appropriate places. Or, he may be doing just one kind of work in which case he will be entered in only one of the four Questions 8 to 11.

Detailed instructions as to how the answers should be recorded in the individual questions are given against those questions below. You should carefully study them before recording the answers. For an undertrial prisoner enumerated in a Jail he should be recorded for the work or kinds of work he was doing before he was apprehended. Similarly, for a person temporarily in a hospital or similar institution he should be recorded for the kind of work he was doing before he was admitted into hospital or institution. But for a convict in a prison or for long term inmates of penal or charitable or mental institutions, the person's previous work should not be recorded but 'I' should be recorded in Q. 12 below.

The basis of work will be satisfied in the case of seasonal work like cultivation, livestock, dairying, household industry, etc., if the person has had some regular work of more than one hour a day throughout the greater part of the working season. In the case of regular employment in any trade, profession, service, business or commerce the basis of work will be satisfied if the person was employed during any of the fifteen days preceding the day on which you visited the household. If on the check or revisional round such a person is found to be unemployed no change in the original entry should be made. A person who is working but was absent from his work during the fifteen days preceding the day on which enumerated or even exceeding the period of fifteen days due to illness or other causes should be treated as worker. A person who has been offered work but has not actually joined should be treated as non-worker. Work includes not only actual work but effective supervision and direction of work.

Persons under training as apprentices with or without stipend or wages will be regarded as working.

An adult woman who is engaged in household duties but doing no other productive work to augment the family's resources should not be considered as working for purposes of this question. If, however, in addition to her household work she engages herself in work such as rice pounding for sale or wages, or in domestic services for wages for others or minding cattle or selling firewood or making and selling cowdung cakes or grass, etc., or any such work she should be treated as a worker.

Persons like beggars, pensioners, agricultural or non-agricultural royalty, rent or dividend receivers, who may be earning an income but who are not participating in any productive work should not be treated as working unless they also work in cultivation, industry, trade, profession, business or commerce.

A public or social service worker who is actively engaged in public service activity or a political worker who is also actively engaged in furthering the political activity of his party will be regarded as a worker and entered fully in Q. 11.

Q. 8 Working as Cultivator.—For a person working as cultivator write C. For a person not working as cultivator and for a person not working at all put X.

For purposes of the census a person is working as cultivator if he or she is engaged either as employer, single worker or family worker in (a) cultivation of land or supervision or direction of cultivation of land owned or held from Government and (b) cultivation of land or supervision or direction of cultivation of land held from private persons or institutions for payment in money, kind or share.

Cultivation involves ploughing, sowing and harvesting and does not include fruit growing or keeping orchards or groves or working for plantations like tea, coffee, rubber, cinchona and other medicinal plantations. Persons engaged in fruit growing or orchardry or plantations like tea, coffee, rubber, cinchona and other medicinal plantations, should be entered in Q. 10 or Q. 11 as the case may be.

A person who has given out his land to another person or persons for cultivation for money, kind or share of crop and who does not even supervise or direct cultivation of land, will not be treated as working as cultivator. Similarly, a person working in another person's land only as a labourer and has no right or lease or contract on land on which he works, nor is responsible for taking decisions as to which crops to sow and when, or taking the risks of cultivation and is paid wages in cash, kind or share such as share of produce (Agricultural Labourer) will not be treated as cultivator in this question.

Q. 9 Working as Agricultural Labourer.—Write AL for a person working as agricultural labourer, i.e., a person who works in another person's land only as a Labourer without exercising any supervision or direction in cultivation, for wages in cash, kind or share such as share of produce. For others put X. The labourer should have no right or lease or contract on land on which he works, nor should he be responsible for taking decisions as to which crops to sow and when, or taking the risks of cultivation. A share of the produce goes to him only as wages. He should have been working as Agricultural Labourer in the last or current cultivating season.

Qs. 10(a) and 10(b) Household Industry.—If a person is working in a Household Industry write (1) the nature of work done by him in the Household Industry against question 10(a) and (2) the nature of the Household Industry against question 10(b). Otherwise put X in both questions 10(a) and 10(b). A Household Industry is defined as an industry conducted by the Head of the household himself and/or mainly members of the household at home or within the village in rural areas and only at home in urban areas. The industry should not be run on the scale of a registered factory. Thus the main criterion for a Household Industry is the participation of one or more members of a household in rural areas. In the urban areas the industry should be confined to the house. You should carefully keep in mind the definition of Household Industry in the rural area if you are enumerating a rural area and the definition in the urban area if you are enumerating an urban area.

A Household Industry should relate to production, processing, servicing, repairing or making and selling of goods. It does not include professions such as pleader or doctor or barber or waterman or astrologer.

A person though he may not be working in his own Household Industry may be working as a paid employee in another Household Industry. You should, therefore, enquire whether the person who is not working in his own Household Industry is working in any other Household Industry and if so, write the nature of the work done by him against question 10(a) and the nature of the Household Industry against 10(b).

Q. 10(c) If Employee in Household Industry.—This question will be filled up only for a person who is working as a paid employee in another person's Household Industry. In his or her case write EE. For all others put X.

The following examples will illustrate how questions 10(a) to 10(c) should be filled up for persons working at Household Industry :—

Q. 10 Working at Household Industry

(a) Nature of work	(b) Nature of Household Industry	(c) If Employee
1. Spinning yarn	Spinning yarn in Ambar Charkha.	X
2. Dyeing and printing yarn ..	Handloom weaving ..	X
3. Threshing and cleaning grain.	Flour making chakki ..	X
4. Labourer employed for crushing oil.	Oil ghani	EE
5. Tempering and polishing implements.	Blacksmithy making agricultural implements.	X
6. Labourer employed for making and firing kiln.	Earthenware pottery ..	EE
7. Throwing and Turning pottery	Earthenware pottery ..	X
8. Making wooden doors and windows.	Carpentry ..	X
9. Filling gold ornaments with lac.	Goldsmithy	X
10. Labourer working hosiery machine.	Hosiery	EE
11. Keeping accounts ..	Hosiery	X
12. Polishing and Scraping metal.	Electroplating ..	X
13. Labourer employed for putting iron hoop on cartwheels	Cartwheelwright ..	EE
14. Repairing of guns ..	Gunsmithy	X
15. Bee Keeping ..	Producton of honey ..	X
16. Tending cattle ..	Livestock raising ..	X

Q. 11 Doing Work other than 8, 9 or 10.—If a worker is not working as a cultivator or as an agricultural labourer or at any Household Industry write the actual work he is doing. If a person is working as a cultivator or as an agricultural labourer or at Household Industry and also does some other work (including dairying or livestock raising, orchard or plantation, etc., as distinct from cultivation of crops) which does not relate to any of the above categories, write the other work he does in this question. If he is engaged in more than one work and neither of them relates to any of the three categories mentioned above write here the work on which he devotes more time.

Q. 11(a) Nature of Work.—In the case of persons not working or who work only as cultivator or as agricultural labourer or at Household Industry, put X.

Describe fully the nature of the work done by the person himself. Full and precise information as to the nature of work done by the person should be given either in the vernacular or in English or in vernacular transliteration of English. At previous censuses much trouble has been caused by inadequate answers, and if you do not succeed in obtaining satisfactory information on the individual slips, you will be required to make a further visit for that purpose.

Q. 11(b) Industry, Business, Trade, Profession or Service.—In the case of a person who is working and the nature of whose own work has been recorded in Question 11(a), you should write here the nature of industry, business, trade, profession or service in which the person works.

As in the case of Question 11(a), you should describe in detail the nature of industry, business, trade, profession or service in which the person works. Vague answers should be avoided. In the case of industries, the articles which are produced or serviced or repaired, should be given. If more than one article is produced the chief article produced or serviced or repaired should be given. In the case of business or trade the principal article of trade should be described. In the case of service describe the nature of the service to which the person's work belongs. The description should be such that it would be possible to classify the establishment in which the person is working for purposes of industrial classification of the population. The description should be either in the vernacular or in English or in vernacular transliteration of English.

In the case of a person for whom an X is put in Question 11(a) put an X in this question also.

Important points to remember in Questions 11(a) and 11(b)

1. Women or children who help with work, such as rice pounding or doing domestic service for wages or minding cattle or selling firewood or making and selling cowdung cakes, grass, etc., should be described fully even if they work part-time. In the case of married or grown-up women who do any of the work mentioned above in addition to the usual household duties such work should be fully described and HW written in brackets after the full description.

2. If a person makes the articles he sells, he should be entered as maker and seller of them.

3. Wherever convenient, for complete description, the work should be expressed by the vernacular name by which it is known.

4. The following are too vague and must not be used by themselves :

Scientist, technician, civil servant, clerk, engineer, inspector, checker, foreman, overseer, supervisor, labourer, machinist, assistant, contractor, polisher.

5. Labourers.—For an unskilled labourer usually employed on one sort of work alone, give also the sort of work done, e.g., railway porter, market or bazar porter, labourer employed on road digging, bricklayer's labourer. If accustomed to work on various jobs, write general labourer.

6. Machine Operators.—Always state the kind of machine giving its recognized name, if any.

7. Shop-keepers, Retail Dealers, Shop Assistants.—If wholly or mainly engaged in selling, write 'Dealer' (if principal) or 'Shop Assistant' or 'Salesman' (if assisting) and state whether the business is wholesale or retail or both. For shop assistants and salesmen in stores with several departments, state the particular department in which engaged (e.g., Ship and Railway Parts, Fans and Sewing Machines, Grocers and Confectioners).

8. Transport Workers.—Describe fully the nature of the transport, e.g., air transport, rail transport, transport by motor car or motor cycle, or vehicles drawn by horse, etc.

9. Services.—For a person engaged in the Defence Services write 'Service of Central Government'.

10. If the job is known in the trade or industry by a special name, use that name. Manager, Foreman, etc., should be given the department, branch wherever applicable, e.g., Sales Manager or a Manager of Hardware Department, Machine Shop Foreman or Boiler Room Foreman, etc. The following terms are insufficient by themselves :—

Manufacturer, merchant, agent, broker, refractor, dealer, engineer and iron works, etc.

11. Domestic services.—In the case of any private servant, e.g., a cook or domestic servant, write only 'private cook or domestic servant'. There is no industry in his case but in the case of persons employed in hotels, restaurants, boarding houses, institutions, etc., the words hotel, restaurant, etc., should be added.

For persons in the employ of Firms carrying on two or more businesses, if the businesses are carried on in separate premises then the business carried on at the premises in which the person is employed should be given. If the businesses are carried on in the same premises but each has a separate organisation (i.e., they have separate records of employment, production, etc.) then the appropriate business should be quoted. If, however, the two activities are carried on side by side then the major activity of the firm or establishment should be given.

12. Commerce.—Special care should be taken to see that the distinction between retail and wholesale business is clear. As in industries, the goods handled should be clearly indicated.

Q. 11(c) Class of Worker.—For a person who is :

1. an Employer, that is, who hires one or more persons in his work described in Q. 11(a)	write	MR
2 an Employee, that is, who does his work described in Q. 11(a) under others for wages ors alary in cash or kind	write	EE
3. a Single Worker, that is, who is doing his work described in Q. 11(a) without employing others except casually, and without the help of other members of the family except casually. This will include workers working as members of co-operatives	write	SW
4. a Family Worker, that is, who is doing his work described in Q. 11(a) in own family without wages or salary in cash or kind	write	FW

For a person for whom an 'X' is put in Qs. 11(a) and 11(b) put an X in this question also.

Explanation.—

(i) An Employer is a person who has to employ other persons in order to perform the work entered in Q. 11(a). That is to say, such a person is not only responsible for his own personal work but also for giving work to others in the business mentioned in Q. 11(a). But a person who employs domestic servants for household duties or has subordinates under him in an office where he is employed by others, is not an employer, even if he has the power to employ another person in his office on behalf of his own employer or employers.

(ii) An Employee is a person who usually works under some other person for salary or wages in cash or kind. There may be persons who are employed as managers, superintendents, agents, etc., and in that capacity employ or control other workers on behalf of their own employers. Such persons are only employees, as explained above, and should not be regarded as employers.

(iii) A Single Worker for the purpose of Q. 11(c) is a person who works by himself but not as Head of household in a Household Industry. He is not employed by any one else and in his turn does not employ anybody else not even members of his household except casually. This definition of a Single Worker will include a person who works in joint partnership with one or several persons hiring no employees, and also a member of a producers' co-operative. Each one of the partners or members of such producers' co-operatives should be recorded as 'Single Worker'.

(iv) A Family Worker is a member who works, without receiving wages in cash or kind, in an industry, business or trade conducted mainly by members of the family and ordinarily does at least one hour of work every day during the working season. For the purpose of the entire Q. 11, such an industry should be on a scale larger than what has been covered in 'Household Industry' in Q. 10 whether run at home or away from home in town or village and even away from village in rural area and should ordinarily be in the nature of a recognised partnership, joint stock company or registered factory. For the purpose of this definition members of a family may be drawn from beyond the limits of the household by ties of blood or marriage. The family worker may not be entitled to a share of the profits in the work of the business carried on either by the person or Head of the Household or other relative.

Members of the household who help solely in household duties should not be treated as family workers.

Q. 11(d) Name of Establishment.—Describe in detail the name of the factory, workshop, business house, company, shop, etc. If a person has no fixed place of work, write 'No fixed place of work'.

For a person for whom an X is put in Qs. 11(a), 11(b) and 11(c) put an X in this question also.

The following examples will illustrate how Qs. 11(a) to 11(d) should be filled up for persons doing work other than 8, 9 or 10.

After you have filled up the answers to questions 8 to 11, if you find that in the case of any person more than one productive activity has been recorded, i.e. more than one of the questions 8, 9, 10 or 11, has been filled up by some work you should ask him which one of the activities that has been recorded for him is his principal work. The principal work is the one on which the person spends most time. Put a ring round the number of the question 8, 9, 10 or 11, according to the work on which the person says he spends most time. You should invariably ask for the principal work where more than one work is recorded and put a ring round the question relating to the principal work.

It may be that in a few cases you find that you have recorded more than two productive activities in questions 8 to 11, i.e. more than two of the questions, 8 to 11, would have been filled up by some work. In such cases you should first ascertain the principal work, i.e. the one on which the person spends most time and put a ring round the number of the question. You should then ascertain the work which is the next in importance to his principal work, i.e. the work after his principal work which occupies most time. You should put a tick against the question number of that work on the right hand side of the question number. The ring and the tick should be put clearly so that any difficulty will not be felt to recognise them clearly.

Q. 12 Activity, if Not Working.—This question will apply to a person NOT Working.

Write 'X' in this question for a person who is working, that is for whom you have recorded the work in any of the questions 8 to 11 above.

The following activities should be recorded in the case of persons NOT Working :—

1.	For a full-time student or child attending school who does no other work, such as make articles at home for sale, nor even help part-time in his own family cultivation, industry, trade or business ..	write	ST
2.	For a person engaged in unpaid home duties (like housewife or other adult female) who does no other work, such as make articles at home for sale or wages, nor help regularly even part-time in family cultivation, industry, trade or business ..	write	HW
3.	For any dependent, including an infant or child not attending school, a person permanently disabled from work because of illness or old age ..	write	D
4.	For a retired person who is not employed again, rentier, person living on agricultural or non-agricultural royalty, rent or dividend or any other person of independent means for securing which he does not have to work and who does no other work	write	R
5.	For a beggar, vagrant or independent woman without indication of source of income and others of unspecified source of existence	write	B
6	For a convict in jail (an undertrial prisoner will be shown as a worker if he used to work before he was apprehended) or an inmate of a penal, mental or charitable institution	write	I
7.	For a person who has not been employed before but is seeking employment for the first time ..	write	NE
8.	For a person employed before but now out of employment and seeking employment	write	UN

Explanation.—If a person, who does not work, cannot be readily classified in any of the above categories, put him in category 5 and write B in this question. A retired person who has taken up regular work again should not be entered in this question as he would have been entered for his new work in Questions 8 to 11.

A person who is not working but has been offered work which he has not joined should be included in item 3 and 'D' should be written. He should not be included in items 7 or 8.

Q. 13 Sex.—Write 'M' for Males ; and 'F' for Females.

AREA, HOUSES AND POPULATION

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Formation of Maharashtra

Reorganisation of States has been one of the important events in the decade 1951-61. Though not much of transfer of population was actually involved, it meant a complete redrawing of the political map of India and creation of many new States. Maharashtra is one of the new States formed in 1960. The change actually came in two stages. The first was the creation of a bilingual Bombay State* with an area of 190,668 square miles and a population of 482·65 lakhs according to the 1951 Census. The second stage came in 1960 when the State of Bombay was split up† to make two new States of Maharashtra with 26 districts and Gujarat with 17 districts.

Major changes in areas, boundaries and names

2. The districts of Kolhapur, Osmanabad, Nanded and Chanda have undergone major changes because of the reorganisation of States in 1956. Thana and Dhulia districts similarly had major changes in 1960. Greater Bombay district increased in size in 1956 because of addition‡ of 71·3 square miles from Thana district (not connected with the reorganisation of States). The remaining nineteen districts did not have any major area changes during the last decade. The changes since 1901 have, however, been numerous and extensive and none of the 26 districts to-day has the same size or shape as it had in 1901. Changes in the boundaries of the State and the districts occurring in the decade 1951-61 are described below. Appendix I to Table A-I also shows the corresponding 1951 units for each administrative unit in 1961 wherever it has undergone a change. Changes occurring earlier are, however, described separately for each district in paragraphs 5 to 30 in the flyleaf to Table A-II.

3. Maharashtra has an area of 118,279·9 square miles and its constituent units in terms of 1951 jurisdictions are as follows§ :—

	Area (Sq. miles)	1951 Population
(i) 13 Districts of Old Bombay State	55,515·1	19,210,283
(1) Greater Bombay ..	169·0	2,994,444
(2) Thana (excluding 133·0 square miles area of Umbergaon taluka) ..	3,552·1	1,282,572
(3) Kolaba	2,712·3	909,083
(4) Ratnagiri	4,982·8	1,711,964
(5) Nasik	6,013·0	1,429,916
(6) Dhulia (West Khandesh) (excluding 246·8 sq. miles area from Akalkuva, Taloda, Nandurbar and Nawapur talukas) ..	4,850·3	1,060,278
(7) Jalgaon (East Khandesh)	4,392·0	1,471,351
(8) Ahmadnagar ..	6,471·9	1,410,873
(9) Poona	6,023·0	1,950,976
(10) Satara (North Satara) ..	4,029·7	1,177,016
(11) Sangli (South Satara) ..	3,317·1	998,434
(12) Sholapur	5,813·5	1,505,316
(13) Kolhapur (including Chandgad taluka of Belgaum district with an area of 394·0 sq. miles) ..	3,188·4	1,308,060
(ii) 5 Districts from Old Hyderabad State	25,018·5	5,109,886
(14) Aurangabad ..	6,454·9	1,179,404
(15) Parbhani	4,846·7	1,010,864
(16) Bhir	4,216·9	826,046
(17) Nanded (excluding 633·6 square miles area from Deglur and Mudhol talukas but including 801·9 sq. miles of Adilabad district)	3,989·7	883,531
(18) Osmanabad (including Udgir, Ahmadpur and Nilanga talukas of Bidar district together having an area of 1,777·3 square miles).	5,510·3	1,210,041
(iii) 8 Districts from Old Madhya Pradesh	37,746·3	7,682,395
(19) Buldhana ..	3,766·0	870,168
(20) Akola	4,091·0	950,994
(21) Amravati	4,691·0	1,031,160

(24) Nagpur	3,834·0	1,234,556
(25) Bhandara	3,623·0	1,071,657
(26) Chanda	10,088·3	1,052,975
Total for the State ..	118,279·9	32,002,564

4. The limits of Greater Bombay Municipal Corporation were extended‡ in 1956 to include an additional area of about 71·3 square miles. The whole area included in Greater Bombay was previously in Thana district. The Greater Bombay district in 1961 has 169 square miles area against 90·8 in 1951. The difference of about 6·9 square miles [169−(71·3+90·8)] is explained by the addition of some reclaimed area and accurate survey of 15 previously unsurveyed Khoti villages included in the Municipal Corporation limits whose areas in 1951 had been estimated approximately.

5. Thana has lost about 71·3 square miles because of transfer to Greater Bombay in 1956. An area of about 133·0 square miles consisting of 3 towns and 47 villages of Umbergaon taluka was included* in Surat district of Gujarat State in 1960 and the remaining 27 villages were transferred to Dahanu taluka. A new mahal known as Talasari Mahal consisting of these 27 villages of Umbergaon taluka was created in 1961.† The area of Thana district in 1961 is thus 3,552·1 square miles against 3,756·4 square miles in 1951.

6. The following areas from Dhulia district were transferred†† to Surat and Broach districts of Gujarat State in 1960 :—

	Area	No. of villages	1951 Population
(i) Akalkuva Taluka ..	38·0	37	15,585
(ii) Taloda Taluka ..	54·1	43	23,682
(iii) Nandurbar Taluka ..	82·1	38	28,455
(iv) Nawapur Taluka ..	72·6	38	18,024
Total ..	246·8	156	85,746

As a result of transfer of territory and revision of area figures, Dhulia district in 1961 has an area of 4,850·3 square miles against 5,405·2 square miles in 1951.

7. Taluka Chandgad of Belgaum district having an area of 394·0 square miles was included‡ in Kolhapur district. The area of Kolhapur in 1961 is thus 3,188·4 square miles against 2,794·4 square miles in 1951.

8. Nanded district had the following§ changes under the Reorganisation of States Act in 1956 :—

	Area	1951 Population
(i) Two Revenue Circles Bichkonda and Jukkal from Deglur taluka were transferred to Nizamabad district and Mudhol taluka except Dharmabad Circle was transferred to Adilabad district of Andhra Pradesh ..	— 633·6	— 154,615
(ii) Kinwat taluka and Islapur Revenue Circle of Boath taluka from Adilabad district of old Hyderabad State were included in Nanded district	+ 801·9	+ 88,210

As a result of transfer of territory and revision of area figures, Nanded district has an area of 3,989·7 square miles against 3,875·8 square miles in 1951.

9. Talukas Udgir, Ahmadpur and Nilanga from Bidar district of Hyderabad State (now included in Mysore) were included§ in Osmanabad district. This added 1,777·3 square miles in area and 402,589 in population of Osmanabad district. Osmanabad district area in 1961 is, therefore, 5,510·3 square miles against 3,732·5 square miles in 1951.

10. Taluka Rajura of Adilabad district of Hyderabad State was included in Chanda district. This meant an addition of 776·3 square miles in area and 75,357 in the 1951 population of Chanda district. Taluka Rajura was administered for over two years from Nanded district§ but was ultimately included‖ in Chanda district from 1st March 1959. The area of Chanda district in 1961 is thus 10,088·3 square miles against 9,312·0 in 1951.

11. The names of four districts in Maharashtra were changed¶ during the decade. The changes are as follows :—

Old name	New name
(i) West Khandesh district ..	Dhulia district
(ii) East Khandesh district ..	Jalgaon district
(iii) North Satara district ..	Satara district
(iv) South Satara district ..	Sangli district

12. A major change in Aurangabad district during the decade was the creation of Soegaon Mahal with 67 villages, 30 transferred from Kannad taluka and 37 from Sillod, both of the same district. Other changes made during the decade are of inter-taluka transfer of villages within the same district. Only one case (No. 5 on page 31) is of the transfer of a village outside the district. All such changes are listed in the statement at page 31. Changes by way of amalgamation of two or more revenue villages are not included here as they did not change area or boundaries of any administrative unit.

13. Most of the major changes in area and boundaries of the districts and talukas have been a part of an all-India overhaul of State boundaries. As far as old Madhya Pradesh was concerned, 8 districts have fully come to Maharashtra, and none of those districts or any other adjoining districts in Madhya Pradesh has been split up on linguistic or other considerations. On the side of Telugu-speaking area of old Hyderabad, not only the districts but even talukas have been split up on linguistic grounds. Two full talukas (Rajura and Kinwat) and one revenue circle of Boath taluka of Adilabad district have come to Maharashtra and portions of Mudhol and Deglur talukas of Nanded district have gone to Andhra Pradesh. On the side of Kannada-speaking areas of Hyderabad and old Bombay States, the districts of Bidar and Belgaum have been split up and three talukas from Bidar (Udgir, Ahmadpur and Nilanga) and one from Belgaum (Chandgad) have come to Maharashtra. No taluka has, however, been split up on that side of the boundary of the State. Towards the north, the boundary between Maharashtra and Gujarat has been fixed by splitting Umbergaon taluka of Thana district and Akalkuva, Taloda, Nandurbar and Nawapur and Taloda Nawapur, Nandurbar, Akalkuva talukas of Dhulia district partly on linguistic considerations and partly for the requirements of an irrigation project in Gujarat. The boundary line between Maharashtra and Mysore is still in dispute and some settlement involving exchange of areas on both sides appears to be imminent.

14. The limits of Bombay Municipal Corporation were extended to include outlying suburban areas for the purpose of ensuring more suitable and efficient Municipal administration. The limits were extended to coincide with the boundaries of Bombay Suburban District. Towards the north-east the extended limits now touch those of Thana Municipality while towards the north only seven villages intervene between the extended boundary and the natural boundary provided by the Bassein creek.

15. The new Mahal with headquarters at Soegaon (paragraph 12 above) in Aurangabad district was created for administrative convenience. The villages included in this mahal are situated on the other side of Satmala hills and did not have easy communications with Kannad or Sillod. For trade and commerce the area is linked more with trade centres in Jalgaon district.

16. The change of names of North Satara to Satara and South Satara to Sangli was long due. When Sangli, Miraj and other neighbouring areas were princely states, the intervening British territories were a part of Satara district. The district created after the merger of the states was called South Satara district because it included southern territories of the old Satara district. Only two districts—West Khandesh and East Khandesh—had a sort of regional names and with their change to Dhulia and Jalgaon all the districts in Maharashtra are named after the names of their headquarter towns. Kolaba district which has its headquarters at Alibag remains the only exception. A majority of the talukas in Maharashtra are also known by the names of their headquarter towns. The following are the exceptions which bear other names, which are mostly local names of the respective sub-regions :—

District	Name of Taluka/Mahal	Name of headquarters
Kolaba	Sudhagad ..	Pali
Ratnagiri	Sangameshwar	Devrukh
Nasik	Baglan ..	Satana
Dhulia	Akrani ..	Dhadgaon
Poona	Ambegaon ..	Ghodegaon
	Maval ..	Vadgaon
	Haveli ..	Poona
	Mulshi ..	Paud
	Purandhar ..	Sasvad
Satara	Javli ..	Medha
	Khatau ..	Vaduj
	Man ..	Dahiwadi
Sangli	Khanapur ..	Vita
	Valva ..	Uran Islampur
Kolhapur	Karvir ..	Kolhapur
	Bhudargad ..	Gargoti
Amravati	Melghat ..	Dharni
Yeotmal	Kelapur ..	Pandharkaoda

17. Columns 3(a) and 3(b) of Table A-I give areas for the State, divisions, districts, talukas and towns. Area figures presented in Table A-I for talukas are those furnished by the district officers and confirmed by the State Director of Land Records. Surveyor General's figures are not available for units lower than the districts and there is thus no question of reconciling taluka area figures obtained from these two sources.

18. For the districts, however, figures available from the Surveyor General and the Director of Land Records do not tally in any case. The area figures reported by the Director of Land Records are obtained by totalling village areas calculated from cadastral survey records. The Surveyor General's figures are obtained by drawing district boundaries on large scale maps and by measuring areas by planimeter. There is bound to be some difference in these two sets of figures because of the different methods used. But the difference between the two figures seems to be very high in the case of Greater Bombay, Thana, Dhulia, Jalgaon, Ahmadnagar and Aurangabad districts. At the moment, no reconciliation is possible because in the latest letter communicating his revised area figures for Maharashtra and its districts, the Surveyor General has said that his figures should be treated as provisional and ' very approximate ' as some of the recent changes have not been finally adjusted. Nanded and Chanda area figures reported by the Surveyor General indicate that no adjustment has yet been made for the transfer of Rajura taluka from Nanded to Chanda district, effected in 1959.

19. Both the sets of figures for areas of the State and the districts are shown below :

20. Table A-I is presented in two parts. The first is the Union Table A-I giving details for the State, divisions and districts only. The second portion is the State Table A-I presenting figures for smaller units down to talukas and towns. Area figures shown in columns 3(a) and 3(b) of the Union portion of Table A-I against (a) and (b) are those reported by the Surveyor General and the Director of Land Records respectively. Densities shown in Column 4 in that portion of Table A-I are worked out on the area figures of the Director of Land Records. In the following State portion of Table A-I and in all other Census Tables, the figures furnished by the Director of Land Records only are shown and used for calculation of densities of population. The break-up of area figures into rural or urban areas is also not furnished by the Surveyor General. The area figures for urban areas presented throughout this Volume are the totals of municipal or non-municipal areas of urban centres concerned. The area figures for rural areas are the differences of total geographical areas and urban areas for the units concerned.

21. Table A-I is a basic Census Table giving 1961 population figures for each administrative unit down to taluka level and for each town separately. Towns situated in a taluka are shown immediately following the entries for the taluka total, rural and urban areas. They are arranged in the order of code numbers assigned to them with reference to their geographical location, except in the case of second and further constituents of Town Groups, which appear immediately below the first constituent. Area of each administrative unit is shown both in square miles and square kilometres. Column 4 gives density of population per square mile. Columns 5, 6 and 7 show the number of inhabited and uninhabited villages and towns. Column 8 gives the number of occupied residential houses. Columns 9, 10 and 11 give 1961 population by total, males and females. For each unit, figures are presented for total, rural and urban areas separately.

22. The States portion of All India Table A-I is reproduced below for facility of comparison. It would be seen that Maharashtra ranks third among the States in area, population and number of towns. By area, it constitutes 9·64 per cent. of India excluding Goa, Daman and Diu. By population it is 9·02 per cent. of India excluding Goa, Daman and Diu.

* Surveyor General's figure. State Survey figure is not available.

23. Among the districts of Maharashtra, Greater Bombay has the largest population (4·15 million). The next three districts in rank are Poona with 2·47 million, Sholapur with 1·86 million and Nasik with 1·86 million. Wardha district has the smallest population (0·63 million).

24. Chanda district has the largest area (10,088·3 square miles) among the districts. The next three districts in rank are Ahmadnagar with 6,471·9, Aurangabad with 6,454·9 and Poona with 6,023·0 square miles. Greater Bombay has the smallest area (169·0 square miles). Second lowest is Wardha with 2,434·0 square miles.

25. The taluka averages for area and population for the State and the four divisions are as follows. Sironcha Tahsil in Chanda district has the largest area 3,089·0 square miles and Nagpur Tahsil has the largest population 828,455.

Definition of Rural and Urban Areas

26. As mentioned in paragraph 21 above, area and population figures are shown in the main Table A-I for each administrative unit separately for Rural and Urban areas. For purposes of 1961 Census, a town or an urban area is defined as a place which has—

(1) a Municipality, a Cantonment or Civil lines ;

or

(2) (i) a population of 5,000 or over ; and

(ii) at least 3/4ths or more of male workers engaged in non-agricultural pursuits.

27. Clause 2(ii) originally related to total adult male population, but was modified to cover total male population because 1951 statistics of dependency in various livelihoods were not available for each unit separately for adult males. Similarly, an additional clause of urban density being not less than 1,000 per square mile, included in a few States has not been applied in Maharashtra though there are only 8 towns together making a population of only 49,247 in the State which would not have satisfied that clause.

28. The population enumerated in urban areas is urban population and the population enumerated in all other places is rural population.

29. For the first time in the history of Indian Census specific criteria as at 2(i) and 2(ii) in paragraph 26 above were fixed for determining whether a place was urban or not. Urban population sizes are, therefore, comparable from State to State except for the limitation introduced by the clause relating to Municipalities and Cantonments. No uniform requirements of population size had been applied in the States for constituting Municipalities at different places. Even in Maharashtra, there are 15 Municipalities at places having less than 5,000 population while there are 36 places having over 10,000 population (over 20,000 in one case) where there are no Municipalities.

30. In all the Censuses since 1901, all the places having Municipalities, Cantonment Boards or Civil Lines have been treated as towns. The criteria described in clause 2 of paragraph 26 have, however, changed from Census to Census.

31. The definitions of urban areas (towns) used in earlier Censuses were as follows :—

1901—The term town includes every municipality of whatever size, all civil lines not included within municipal limits, every cantonment and every other collection of houses, permanently inhabited by not less than 5,000 persons which is of an urban character though not under municipal government.

1911—Every municipality, all civil lines not included within municipal limits, every cantonment, every other continuous collection of houses inhabited by not less than 5,000 persons which the Provincial Superintendent may decide to treat as a town for Census purposes.

1921—Towns mean all municipalities, cantonments and civil lines and any other places having a population of not less than 5,000 which the Provincial (Census) Superintendent may decide to treat as a town for Census purposes.

1931—A "Town" is any municipality, cantonment, civil lines or other inhabited place having a population of not less than 5,000, which the Provincial Superintendent of Census Operations may decide to treat as a town for Census purposes.

1941—Town is a place of not less than 5,000 inhabitants possessing definite urban characteristics. All municipalities and cantonments are included under towns.

1951—A town meant a municipal area, cantonment area or a place which had a population of 5,000 or more inhabitants and exhibited urban characteristics.

32. The criterion of population of 5,000 or over for non-municipal places seems to have been fixed in all Censuses but was not perhaps strictly adhered to. The other criterion of urban characteristics had not, however, been specified any time before 1961. It had been left to the discretion of the Provincial Census Superintendents.

33. In a few Censuses, suburban population had also been included as urban population. In 1911 and 1921, suburban population was defined as the population enumerated outside municipal limits but within the limits of the revenue village or villages whose name or names the municipality bears. In both these Censuses, such suburban population had been shown as urban population.

34. In the 1931 Census, the 1921 criterion of the revenue jurisdiction of the village was replaced by conditions of possession of urban characteristics and of direct proximity to a municipal area and such suburban population was treated as urban population.

35. In 1941, a limit of population not less than 1,000 was added to the conditions of 1931, and such suburban population was treated as urban population.

36. In 1961, each suburb has been examined and has been treated as town only where it independently satisfied the prescribed criteria for urban area in 1961. Non-municipal areas of Manmad in Nasik district and Dhond in Poona district are such examples of overflows of municipal populations independently satisfying the requirements of urban areas and are consequently included in urban population. In all other cases suburbs with less than 5,000 population have been excluded from urban population in spite of their non-agricultural characteristics and proximity to municipal areas.

Declassification of 1951 towns

37. Judged by the 1961 criteria fixed for determining urban areas, it was found that out of 383 towns of 1951, as many as 128 did not have municipalities or cantonments and did not have 3/4ths of male workers engaged in non-agricultural professions. In fact, 16 of those 128 places did not even have population of 5,000 in 1951. As a consequence, all these 128 places treated as towns in 1951 were declassified and have been treated as villages in 1961. The list has been prepared after examining 1961 Census data and includes only such places as did not satisfy the prescribed criteria in 1961. These declassified places are not included in column 7 of Table A-I.

38. Statement (2) at pages 36-37 is a list of 1951 urban areas which have been treated as villages in 1961. Their names are arranged by their class in 1951. The 1951 urban and 1961 rural populations have been shown for each town in columns 3 and 4.

39. It would be seen that one town from Class III, six from Class IV, one hundred and five from Class V and sixteen from Class VI have been treated as villages. These declassified towns had together an urban population of 862,305 in 1951. Their rural population in 1961 is 10,46,428. The largest pruning has been in Class V out of which 105 towns with 708,919 urban population in 1951 and 850,479 population in 1961 are treated as villages.

40. It may be seen that very few places have been declassified in Nagpur and Aurangabad divisions. It is because even small places have municipalities in those two divisions and their 1951 lists did not have many non-municipal towns. Reduction in the number of towns is very significant in Nasik, Jalgaon, Poona, Sangli and Kolhapur districts.

New Towns

41. The 1961 Census data for all villages having population of 5,000 or over were also examined to determine if any of them satisfied the prescribed urban characteristics in 1961. It was found that 23 places did so and have accordingly been included as new towns. They are included in column 7 of Table A-I and printed in italics, except Harnai in Ratnagiri district.

42. There are quite a few non-municipal places which satisfy only one of the two requirements prescribed for urban areas. Akluj in Sholapur district has a population of over 20,000, but does not have 3/4ths of male workers engaged in non-agricultural professions. There are similarly 29 places having 10,000 or more population and 305 having populations between 5,000 and 10,000 which do not satisfy this condition. On the other hand, there are localities having a predominantly non-agricultural activity but having a population of less than 5,000. Koynanagar at the project site is an example of this type. None of the places of either type could be treated as a town.

43. Statement (3) at page 37 is the list of 23 new towns, arranged by their class. Their 1951 rural and 1961 urban populations are shown in columns 3 and 4, respectively.

44. The 23 new towns together have an urban population of 163,434 or 1·5 per cent. of the total urban population of Maharashtra in 1961. Out of the new towns four are in Class IV, eighteen in Class V and only one, viz., Panhala in Class VI. This last is treated as a town in spite of its small population (1,948) because a Municipality has been constituted for that hill station in 1954.

45. It may be seen that there are no additions of new towns in Aurangabad Division. No new foci for expansion of non-agricultural activities appear to have developed in that Division during the decade 1951-61.

46. The Statement (4) at page 38 will show the progress in the number of towns from 1901 to 1961 for the State and for each district.

47. The total number of towns had been continuously increasing since 1901. It fell down in 1961 because of the new definition of urban areas. In addition to 128 declassified towns, nine out of the 1951 list have merged in Greater Bombay and three have merged in three other towns.

48. Very few new towns have been added after 1901 in Nagpur Division. Buldhana district, for example, has had the same number of 9 towns in all the Censuses since 1901.

49. For the State as a whole, the number of towns has grown from 219 in 1901 to 266 in 1961 or by 21 per cent. But the urban population in 1961 is 247 per cent. higher than that of 1901. This indicates continued expansion of existing towns and slow emergence of new centres attracting fresh urbanisation and developing into new towns.

50. Table A-IV shows the variation of urban population and growth of individual towns during the last sixty years (1901-61). The subject has been further discussed in the explanatory note for that Table.

Villages

51. Columns 5 and 6 of Table A-1 give the number of inhabited and uninhabited villages.

52. A " village " is a statutorily recognised village having a defined boundary and separate land records. Hamlets, wadies or padas have, therefore, not been treated as separate villages. On the other hand, statutorily recognised villages having no population have been treated as separate but as " uninhabited " villages.

53. Forest villages, however, make an exception. They are population centres situated within reserved forest areas. Their population mainly consists of forest labourers and their families. Most of them are, however, permanent localities and also have attached cultivated areas leased out by the Forest Department under certain conditions. Their land records are not, however, maintained by the Revenue Department. Such forest villages have also been treated as villages. Their total number in Maharashtra is 597. The number of revenue and forest villages for the State and each district are shown below in Statement (6) at page 40.

54. Following is a brief account of how the " village " had been defined in earlier Censuses :—

1921—" Villages " means Revenue villages other than (i) those which are wholly absorbed in cities or towns and (ii) those which on the night of the Census contained no population.

1931—" Villages " means a Revenue village other than (i) those which are merged in cities and towns and (ii) those which on the night of the Census were uninhabited.

1941—The term " Village " means a revenue village other than those which are merged in municipal areas and uninhabited villages.

1951—In the open plains the villages generally have only one village site and constitute identifiable clusters of population living in built-up contiguous areas. In jungle tracts numerous hamlets may be grouped in one village. The village in such cases is a revenue village, a unit of area into which the countryside was divided for the purposes of land revenue and not a single locality population centre.

55. It would be seen from column 5 of Statement (6) at page 40 that 417 villages have been completely included in urban limits. Their population is included in urban population and their number is not included in the number of inhabited villages in column 4 or 6. In case of villages only partly included in urban areas, their population outside the municipal limits has been treated as rural population and number of such partly included villages is included in the number of inhabited or uninhabited villages as the case may be. Statement (6) at page 40 and the paragraph following it would further explain the position.

56. The following Statement (5) gives the number of inhabited villages for 1951 and 1961 for the State, divisions and districts :—

57. It would be seen that in 1961 there are 35,851 inhabited villages in Maharashtra as against 35,526 in 1951. Columns 5 and 6 of the All India Table reproduced on page 33 will show the 1961 number of inhabited and uninhabited villages in India and 15 States.

58. Among the districts, Chanda district has the largest number of inhabited villages (2,755). The next three districts in rank are Aurangabad with 1,879, Kolaba with 1,778 and Nagpur with 1,653 inhabited villages. Sangli district has the smallest number (526) of inhabited villages.

59. Leaving aside the rare case of Poona City Taluka, which has only one inhabited village, the number of inhabited villages in the other talukas ranges from 17 in Vengurla Mahal of Ratnagiri district to 843 in Gadhchiroli taluka of Chanda district.

The average number of inhabited villages per taluka for the State and the four divisions is as follows:—

State/Division	Total No. of Inhabited Villages	No. of Talukas	Average No. of inhabited villages per taluka
(1)	(2)	(3)	(4)
MAHARASHTRA ..	35,851	229	157
Bombay Division ..	9,340	77	121
Poona Division ..	6,534	67	98
Aurangabad Division.	7,140	46	155
Nagpur Division ..	12,837	39	329

60. The number of villages has generally increased during the 1951-61 decade except in Yeotmal, Nagpur and Bhandara districts where it has gone down slightly. The increase in the number of villages is partly due to the inclusion of 128 towns of 1951 as villages in 1961, and partly to a few uninhabited villages getting populated during the decade.

61. The farmhouse populations have been taken to the villages in whose shiwars the farmhouses are situated. Some erstwhile uninhabited villages thus have got small populations shown against them when one or more farmhouses are enumerated in their shiwars though their gaothans still continue to be unpopulated. Such villages are included in the 1961 figures for inhabited villages.

62. The decrease in the number of inhabited villages occurs because small villages (especially the forest villages) get depopulated. A few villages have also gone under submergence in the new irrigation projects.

63. As stated in paragraph 53 above, forest villages are included in the number of inhabited villages in Statement 5 while the uninhabited villages are not so included. Statement 5 does not, therefore, conform to the number of revenue villages for the State or any district. The following Statement (6) gives villages and towns in the State and districts for 1961 according to Revenue Department's village lists. The number of forest villages is shown in columns 8, 9 and 10 to facilitate comparison with the number of (revenue) villages shown in columns 2, 3 and 4 or the total number of all villages in columns 5 and 6 of Table A-I. Columns 5 and 7 of this statement give the number of villages fully or partly merged in urban areas.

* These are included in figures shown in Column 4.

64. It would be seen that 422 villages have been fully included in towns. They are not included in the number of inhabited villages. In the case of 250 partly included villages, each village has been counted separately and is included in the figures of inhabited villages in Table A-I.

65. All the cases of villages fully and partly included in towns are listed in Statement 7. The presentation is districtwise and in each case of inclusion of a village, the name of the town and the name(s) of the village(s) included in it either fully or partly are shown separately. The population of such included areas is, however, treated as urban population.

66. Classification of villages by size of population may be seen in Table A-III.

Occupied Residential Houses

67. Column 8 of Table A-I shows the number of occupied residential houses for the State and all administrative units down to talukas separately for total, rural and urban areas and also for each town separateiy.

68. A house is a structure or part of a structure, having a separate entrance, whether that entrance leads directly to the street, or to a common staircase, a court-yard or a gate.

69. Thatched huts are treated as structures and therefore also as houses.

70. Houses are classified by their use, e.g., as dwellings, shops, workshops, temples, schools, offices, etc. Some houses are used partly for residential purposes and partly as shops, workshops, offices, etc. They are classified as shop-cum-dwellings, etc. Every house where one or more persons were found to be residing (irrespective of the house being used only as a residence or partly as a residence and partly for some other purpose) is classified as an occupied residential house.

71. The number of occupied residential houses in column 8 includes garages, depots or shops where one or more persons (may be drivers, watchmen, etc.) were found to be residing at the time of Census. It does not on the other hand include houses which are residential houses but which at the time of Census, were either vacant or where no person was found to be residing.

72. The following Statement (8) will give the number of persons per occupied residential house, sex ratio, i.e. number of females per thousand males, percentage of rural and urban population to total population and density per square mile for total, rural and urban for the State, divisions and districts :—

STATEMENT 8.

Density per square mile, Persons per Occupied Census House, Number of Females per 1,000 males, and Percentage of Rural and Urban population to Total population, 1961

Chanda ..	5·1	5 2	4·7	985	993	901	100	92·27	7·73	123	114	3,615

73. The number of persons per occupied residential house (columns 2 to 4 of Statement 8) is not strictly proportional to density per square mile (columns 11 to 13). Density of population in Chanda is 123 per square mile and the number of persons per occupied residential house 5·1. In Bhandara district, the density is about 200 points higher than Chanda but the number of persons per house increases only from 5·1 to 5·2.

74. In the urban areas, which have a higher density of population, the number of persons per house is generally lower than in the rural areas. This shows that concentration of heavy population in urban areas does not necessarily lead to a larger size of the household. Because of the definition of the house adopted in the Census, the actual pattern of housing shortage in urban areas is not reflected in Table A-I. In rural areas, the houses are large but their different portions do not have independent access. Two or more families, therefore, share the accommodation and use only one entrance. By definition such accommodation is treated as only one house. On the other hand, houses in urban areas are mostly designed to provide separate entrance to each tenement and consequently the number of houses (according to the 1961 Census definition) is larger in the urban areas and cases of two or more households sharing a house are not many.

75. Much more material on housing conditions including number of rooms per household has been collected in the Census. It is presented in Part IV of the Census Report which also contains analysis and discussion on that subject.

Sex Ratio

76. Columns 5, 6 and 7 of Statement 8 give 1961 sex ratio, i.e. number of females per 1,000 males for total, rural and urban areas for the State, divisions and districts.

77. Sex ratio for Maharashtra is 936 as against 941 for India, 1,022 in Kerala, 1,001 in Orissa, 994 in Bihar, 992 in Madras, 981 in Andhra Pradesh, 959 in Mysore, 953 in Madhya Pradesh and 940 in Gujarat. Sex ratio is lower in Maharashtra because the State has a higher percentage of urban population. This is obvious because rural population in Maharashtra has a sex ratio of 995 which is very near parity. All India sex ratio for rural areas is 963 and only the following four States have a higher sex ratio for rural areas than Maharashtra :—

Kerala	..	1,027
Orissa	..	1,015
Bihar	..	1,012
Madras	..	1,003

78. Among the districts in Maharashtra, Kolaba, Ratnagiri and Satara have excess of females over males. It is because of the heavy migration of males from those three districts for work to Bombay.

79. The highest sex ratio (1,433) obtains in Guhagar taluka of Ratnagiri district. Srivardhan and Mhasala talukas of Kolaba district and Mandangad, Dapoli, Sangameshwar, Lanja, Rajapur, Devgad and Malvan talukas of Ratnagiri district also have sex ratios higher than 1,250. South of Kolaba and north of Ratnagiri district appears to be the region from which bulk of the migrants come to Bombay. Gadhchiroli tahsil of Chanda district having 35·9 per cent. of population as Scheduled Tribes has exact parity of the two sexes.

80. Columns 9 and 10 of Statement 8 give percentage of rural and urban population for the State, divisions and districts.

81. Among the States in India, Madras has the largest number (339) of towns. It is closely followed by Uttar Pradesh with 267 towns. Maharashtra is third in the rank with 266 towns. But, the gross urban population is the largest (11 million) in Maharashtra and both Madras and Uttar Pradesh, in spite of their larger number of towns have only 9·0 and 9·5 million urban population, respectively.

82. Maharashtra also has the highest percentage (28·22) of urban population in India. Corresponding percentages for India, Maharashtra and 14 other States are as follows :—

Percentages of Urban population to Total population

1	India	.. ..	17·97
2	Andhra Pradesh	.. ..	17·44
3	Assam	.. ..	7·69
4	Bihar	.. ..	8·43

83. After Greater Bombay with 100 per cent. urban population, the following, among the districts, stand high by rank in percentage of urban population :—

Nagpur	.. ..	52·07
Poona	.. ..	38·10
Thana	.. ..	30·21
Sholapur	.. ..	27·95
Amravati	.. ..	26·14

84. The following districts have less than 10 per cent. population as urban :—

Bhir	.. ..	9·85
Ratnagiri	.. ..	8·09
Chanda	.. ..	7·73

85. Columns 11, 12 and 13 of Statement 8 reproduce the figures of column 4 of Table A-I for comparison.

86. Density of population in Maharashtra is 334 per square mile against the Indian average of 358. The densities for India and 15 States are shown in column 4 of the All India Table reproduced on page 33.

87. Among the districts, the following have densities higher than the State average :—

Greater Bombay	.. ..	24,568
Kolhapur	.. ..	501
Thana	.. ..	465
Poona	.. ..	410
Jalgaon	.. ..	402
Nagpur	.. ..	395
Kolaba	.. ..	390
Sangli	.. ..	371
Ratnagiri	.. ..	367
Satara	.. ..	355
Bhandara	.. ..	350

88. Poona and Nagpur present high densities, because of their large urban populations. In Thana, it is partly due to its large urban population, partly to the overflow of Greater Bombay population in rural areas and also to some extent to the intensive rice and garden cultivation. Bhandara, Kolaba and Ratnagiri are rice producing districts, while Kolhapur and Sangli have very rich soils under intensive cultivation.

89. Among the talukas the following have over 500 per square mile densities of population in rural areas :—

Thana district	..	Bassein taluka	660
		Thana taluka	736
Kolaba district	..	Uran mahal	621
		Alibag taluka	568
Ratnagiri district	..	Vengurla mahal	549
Ahmadnagar district	..	Srirampur taluka	514
Satara district	..	Karad taluka	539
Sangli district	..	Valva taluka	660
Kolhapur district	..	Panhala mahal	516
		Hatkanangale taluka	756
		Shirol taluka	668
		Karvir taluka	656
		Kagal taluka	573
		Gadhinglaj taluka	644

90. High density of rural population in Bassein, Thana and Uran talukas is due partly to the overflow of Greater Bombay population and partly to the intensive cultivation of paddy and garden crops in the coastal strip. The heavy density in Srirampur taluka of Ahmadnagar district is due to intensive cultivation of sugarcane under canal irrigation and a large number of agricultural labourers migrating from neighbouring districts for work on sugarcane farms as well as in the sugar factories. Vengurla in Ratnagiri has intensive cultivation of garden crops.

91. Valva taluka of Sangli district and six talukas of Kolhapur district together make the most densely populated rural area of Maharashtra. Soils here are very rich. People are generally progressive and have taken to intensive methods of cultivation. Many agricultural labourers temporarily migrating from neighbouring areas for work are also included in the population of these talukas as in the case of Srirampur.

Appendices

92. Three Appendices are added to Table A-I. Appendix I shows the 1951 territorial units constituting the present set up of the State and each of the districts or talukas which have undergone some change during the decade 1951-1961. A small Sub-Appendix is given to show the areas for 1951 and 1961 for those municipal towns which have undergone changes in area since 1951.

93. Appendix II shows for the State and each administrative unit down to talukas the number of villages with a population of 5,000 and over and towns with a population under 5,000.

94. Out of 334 villages having over 5,000 population 29 have population of over 10,000. One of them, viz., Akluj in Sholapur district, has a population of over 20,000. On the other hand, there are 15 towns with less than 5,000 population. They had to be treated as towns because they have municipalities.

95. It would be seen that 8·3 per cent. of rural population lives in villages of over 5,000 population while the towns below 5,000 together make only 0·5 per cent. of total urban population of the State.

96. In Aurangabad Division, this latter percentage goes as high as 2·9 per cent. It is so high because there are many municipalities at places with less than 5,000 population. These places are merely administrative centres and do not have much of other non-agricultural activity.

97. Appendix III to Table A-I shows for the State and each administrative unit down to taluka level the houseless population in columns 3 to 5 and the institutional population in columns 6 to 8.

Houseless Population

98. Some persons do not have any fixed place of residence. Some of them go on moving from place to place. Others camp at dharamshalas or sarais or just live on the street pavements or in open spaces without erecting huts or any other structures. Such people are called houseless persons. They were specially enumerated all over the country on the night of 28th February 1961. Columns 3 to 5 of Appendix III show this houseless population for each administrative unit.

99. Ordinarily, each enumerator was asked to make a note of places within his block where houseless persons were likely to be found, to visit those places on the night of 28th February, and to count all such persons found there on that night. In cities like Bombay, in addition to the enumerators going on the prescribed visits within their blocks, the Police collected beggars and other houseless persons found on the seashore, parks, gardens and other open spaces. Such persons were taken to enumeration centres specially opened for enumerating them on that night. Nomadic groups were also enumerated at places where they were found on the night of 28th February.

100. There is yet another class of houseless persons in Bombay and other cities. They are the domestic servants who work at more than one household, but do not take food or stay with any one of them. Most of them sleep during the night in passages, corridors or open courtyards. None of the households in the building would own them as members. Nor are their sleeping places numbered as houses. To avoid such persons being missed from the count special instructions were issued to enumerators in Greater Bombay to make enquiries at each building, to find out and to enumerate such persons.

Institutional Population

101. By the 1961 Census definition a household is a group of persons living in the same house and eating from the same kitchen. The inmates of institutions like jails, hospitals, lodging and boarding houses, hostels, etc., are thus treated as members of those households which, to distinguish them from family type households, are called institutional households. Columns 6 to 8 of Appendix III show such institutional population for the State and each administrative unit down to taluka level. It may be seen that out of 176,873 institutional population rural areas have only 34,708 and the bulk is in the urban areas. Nearly one-third of the State's institutional population is in Greater Bombay alone. These persons were enumerated in the normal course of the enumerators' visits. Travellers who had been enumerated elsewhere or who had either left their normal residence after 9th February 1961, or were expected to be back home before 28th February, were not enumerated at Bombay or other places where they were found to be camping. In all such cases they were to be enumerated at places of their normal residence.

102. Total institutional and houseless population for Greater Bombay in 1961 is 115,498. In 1951, it was 50,008. Figures for houseless population and institutional population were not given in 1951 separately.

103. 294,960 houseless persons have been enumerated in Maharashtra. In Greater Bombay alone, the number of houseless persons enumerated on the night of 28th February, is 62,177.

104. It is difficult to assess the accuracy of the enumeration of houseless persons. In rural areas, the enumeration should be more reliable as there are a few known places of abode of houseless or wandering people and the arrival of any outsider anywhere in the village becomes common knowledge very soon. On the other hand, places of abode of such persons are numerous in big cities. These people are usually involved in crime or at least offend against the provisions of the Bombay Beggars Act. They are, therefore, not normally inclined to get themselves enumerated. They also get scared of Police efforts for collecting them for enumeration and try to hide or escape in all possible ways. A small portion of the houseless population in the cities would thus be always missed from the Census count.

UNION TABLE A-I—AREA, HOUSES AND POPULATION

(1) In columns (3a) and (3b), line (a) against 'T' (Total) indicates area figures supplied by the Surveyor-General, India, and line (b) indicates area figures supplied by the State Land Records and Survey Department.

(2) Conversion ratio for columns (3a) and (3b) is 1 square mile = 2·59 square kilometres.

(3) The area figures reported by the Surveyor-General in square miles [vide column (3a)] are in rounded integers. The conversions of these figures into square kilometres shown in column (3b) have also been rounded to integers.

(4) Population per square mile in column 4 has been calculated on the basis of the area in square miles indicated in column (3a) against line (b).

(5) The square kilometre figures in column (3b) and the density figures in column 4 in respect of the urban areas of Districts, Divisions and State have been worked out by using the square mile area figures correct to two decimal places, obtained by adding the areas of the towns in the respective units, and not by using the area figures up to one decimal place indicated in this Table. The square kilometre figures have been further adjusted slightly, wherever necessary, in order to make the District/Division/State totals agree.

STATE TABLE A-I—AREA, HOUSES AND POPULATION

(1) Area figures are as supplied by the State Land Records and Survey Department.

(2) Conversion ratio for columns (3a) and (3b) is 1 square mile = 2·59 square kilometres.

(3) Names of towns treated as such for the first time in 1951, which continue as towns in 1961, have been marked with an asterisk(*).

(4) Names of towns treated as such for the first time in 1961 have been printed in italics.

(5) The square kilometre figures in column (3b) and the density figures in column 4 in respect of the urban areas of Talukas, Districts, Divisions and State have been worked out by using the square mile area figures correct to two decimal places, obtained by adding the areas of the towns in the respective units and not by using the area figures up to one decimal place indicated in this Table. The square kilometre figures have been further adjusted slightly, wherever necessary, in order to make the Taluka/District/Division/State totals agree.

(6) "M" stands for Municipality and "M. Corp." for Municipal Corporation.

APPENDIX I

Statement showing 1951 Territorial Units constituting the present set up of Maharashtra State

NOTE.—(i) The names of those units only which have undergone changes in jurisdiction since1951 have been shown in this Appendix.
(ii) Area figures are as obtained from the State Land Records and Survey Department.
(iii) Where transfers of more than three villages are involved, the names and location code numbers of the villages in question have not been shown in this Appendix. They will be found in a separate Annexure to this Appendix. In each case where a transfer of more than three villages is involved, the entry has been marked with a number symbol in square brackets and this symbol has been repeated in the Annexure where the particulars of the villages in question have been indicated.

ANNEXURE TO APPENDIX I TO TABLE A-I

(i) This Annexure shows the particulars of the villages involved in the transfers, wherever the number is more than 3. In each such case, the entry in the Appendix bears a number symbol in square brackets. This symbol has been repeated in the Annexure, and the particulars of the villages in question have been indicated against it.

(ii) The areas of the villages involved in the transfers have been indicated wherever they are available in the 1951 District Census Handbooks. In the case of symbol numbers 3, 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17, the villagewise totals do not tally with the figures of areas gained or lost, shown in the Appendix, because of revised computation of taluka areas reported by the State Survey Department.

TABLE A-II

VARIATION IN POPULATION DURING SIXTY YEARS

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This Table furnishes data on population for the seven Censuses from 1901 to 1961 for the State, divisions and districts. Decade variation of population is shown in actual figures in column 4 and in percentage in column 5.

2. There have been many changes in the State and District boundaries since 1901. The figures shown in columns 3, 6 and 7 for the earlier Censuses are, however, adjusted for the present boundaries and areas of the State, divisions and districts. The Table, therefore, contains comparable figures for a study of growth of population during the last 60 years. In the absence of reliable data on vital statistics it is, together with the migration tables, the main source of estimation of future populations.

3. The Appendix to this Table gives details of changes of boundaries or areas in the jurisdictions of the districts from 1951 to 1961. Areas and populations affected by each change have been shown in the Appendix and foot-notes have been added to explain each such change.

4. The following is a brief districtwise account of changes occurring in their boundaries over a period of about hundred years. Quantitative reference to areas or number of villages involved has not been possible for a majority of changes described here. Each paragraph thus deals with the administrative history of a district in a general way. Changes occurring in the decade 1951-61 have, however, been shown in the Appendix to Table A-II with authentic reference to areas and number of villages involved.

Greater Bombay

5. Bombay City covering the entire Bombay Island has always been administered as a separate Collectorate. The area lying beyond the Island of Bombay had been a part of Thana District and its portions have, from time to time, been added first by creation of the Bombay Suburban District and later by extension of its boundaries as well as those of the Greater Bombay Municipal Corporation.

The process of extension started in 1917* when to cope with the work related to the development of Suburbs a separate Mahal with headquarters at Bandra consisting of fifty villages situated on the west of the B. B. & C. I. (Western) Railway line was created in Thana District.

In 1920, the Salsette taluka (including the Bandra Mahal) was divided† into North and South Salsette talukas. North Salsette taluka continued in Thana District, while a new district called Bombay Suburban District consisting only of the South Salsette taluka was created for effective implementation of Suburban Development Schemes.

In 1921, seven villages from Kalyan taluka were separated from Thana District to make a separate taluka of Ambarnath which was included in the Bombay Suburban District.

Ambarnath taluka was abolished and its seven villages were re-transferred to Kalyan taluka of Thana District in 1936.

Thirty-three villages from South Salsette taluka of Bombay Suburban District were transferred to Thana District in 1945. Fourteen of these villages required for development of Aarey Milk Colony were again brought back to Bombay Suburban District in 1946.

In 1950, the boundaries of Bombay Municipal area were extended to include for the first time the entire area of Bombay Suburban District for municipal purposes. The enlarged Municipal Corporation was called Greater Bombay Municipal Corporation.

The boundaries of the Bombay Suburban District and Greater Bombay Municipal Corporation were further extended in 1956 to include 26 more villages from Thana District.

The areas added to the Municipal Corporation in 1950 for Municipal administration are called " suburbs ". Those added in 1956 are called " extended suburbs ".

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was included in Bombay State. Since 1960, it forms a part of Maharashtra.

For Revenue administration, Greater Bombay consists of two districts : (i) Bombay and (ii) Bombay Suburban District. For the 1961 Census, the entire area included in the Greater Bombay Municipal Corporation limits has been treated as one Greater Bombay District.

Thana District

6. The territory now included in Thana District was in 1817 a part of North Konkan District which had its headquarters at Thana. In 1830, the three sub-divisions north of the Bankot Creek [Shanksi (Pen), Rajuri (Roha) and Raigadh (Mahad)] were transferred from South Konkan to North Konkan. South Konkan with its headquarters at Ratnagiri was made a subordinate Collectorate under Thana. In 1833, the two were again made full-fledged districts and named as Thana and Ratnagiri districts. In 1853, the three southern sub-divisions (Shanksi, Rajuri and Raigadh) together with the Kolaba agency consisting of Underi and Revdanda sub-divisions were formed into the sub-Collectorate of Kolaba which was placed under Thana. In 1869, the sub-Collectorate of Kolaba was separated from Thana and made a full-fledged district.

Administrative sub-divisions were reorganised in 1866. Sanjan was named as Dahanu, Kolvan as Shahapur and Nasrapur as Karjat. Vada peta was raised to be a taluka. Uran Mahal which had been separated from Salsette in 1861 was placed under Panvel.

* Government Resolution, Finance Department, No. 3488, dated 8th November 1917.

† Government Resolution, Revenue Department, No. 3149 dated 15th November 1920.

Panvel taluka with (Uran) Karanja peta was transferred to Kolaba District in 1883. Karjat taluka was also transferred to Kolaba before 1891.

A new Mahal with headquarters at Bandra consisting of fifty villages of the Salsette taluka lying west of B. B. & C. I. Railway line was created in 1917. In 1920, the Salsette taluka was divided into North Salsette and South Salsette talukas. South Salsette taluka consisting of 84 villages was separated from Thana and included in the newly created Bombay Suburban District.

Seven villages were separated in 1921 from Kalyan taluka, to make the new taluka of Ambarnath which was included in the Bombay Suburban District. North Salsette taluka was made a Mahal under Kalyan taluka in 1923. It was re-named as Thana taluka in 1926.

The name of Kelva Mahim taluka was changed to Palghar taluka. By 1936, Ambarnath taluka was broken and its seven villages were reverted to Kalyan taluka.

Thirty-three villages from the Bombay Suburban District were transferred to Thana District in 1945. Fourteen of those thirty-three villages required for the development of Aarey Milk Colony were returned to the Bombay Suburban District in 1946.

Former Indian State of Jawhar was merged in the district and the new Jawhar taluka was formed in 1949.

Twenty-seven villages and eight towns from Borivali taluka and one town and one village from Thana taluka were transferred to Bombay Suburban District in the year 1956 and the limits of Greater Bombay Municipal Corporation were also extended to include them for municipal purposes.

In the year 1960, the taluka of Umbergaon with 47 villages and 3 towns was transferred to Surat District of Gujarat State and its remaining 27 villages were first included in Dahanu taluka and later on made into the new Talasari Mahal in 1961.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was included in Bombay State. Since 1960, it forms a part of Maharashtra.

Kolaba District

7. Up to 1852, the district formed a part of Thana District. In 1853, Underi and Revdanda sub-divisions of the former Kolaba agency together with Shanksi (Pen), Rajuri (Roha) and Raigadh (Mahad) sub-divisions separated from Thana District were formed into what was called the Kolaba sub-Collectorate under Thana District. The sub-Collectorate was raised to a full-fledged district in 1869. Panvel taluka with Uran (Karanja) peta was transferred from Thana District in 1883. Karjat taluka was also transferred from Thana District before 1891.

In 1891, the district had the following sub-divisions :—

Alibag, Mangaon, Roha, Pen, Nagothna peta, Panvel, Uran peta, Mahad, Khalapur peta and Karjat.

Nagothna peta was abolished in the decade 1921-31 and Khalapur peta was abolished in the year 1932. A new taluka called Khalapur taluka was formed in the year 1946.

Consequent upon the merger of parts of former Indian States with the district, the taluka boundaries were reorganised in the year 1949. Poladpur, Srivardhan, Mhasala, Murud and Sudhagad were created as new mahals. Sudhagad consisted mainly of areas formerly under Bhor State while Srivardhan, Murud and Mhasala have areas formerly under Janjira State. Two villages from Ratnagiri District were added to this district in 1950.

With the Reorganisation of States, the district was transferred to Bombay State in 1956. Since 1960, it forms a part of Maharashtra.

Ratnagiri District

8. South Konkan was formed into a separate district in 1819. Its headquarters were first at Bankot and later at Ratnagiri. Three northern sub-divisions were transferred to Thana District in 1830 and the district was reduced as a sub-Collectorate under Thana. In 1833, it was again made full-fledged district and named as Ratnagiri District.

In 1891, the district had the following sub-divisions :—

Devgad, Ratnagiri, Sangameshwar, Vengurla, Malvan, Rajapur, Chiplun, Guhagar peta, Khed, Dapoli and Mandangad peta.

There were no major changes between 1891 and 1931. Vengurla taluka was down-graded as peta in 1923.

A new mahal called Kankavli Mahal was formed in the year 1945.

The former Indian State of Savantvadi was merged with the district and the taluka boundaries were reorganised in 1949. One new taluka of Savantvadi and two new mahals of Kudal and Lanja were newly formed in the year 1949. Two villages were added to this district from Kolhapur District and two villages from this district were transferred to Kolaba District in 1950.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was included in Bombay State. Since 1960, it forms a part of Maharashtra.

Nasik District

9. The territory now included in Nasik District was formerly partly in Khandesh District and partly in Ahmadnagar District. Yeola was then known as Patoda taluka. In 1837-38, parts of Ahmadnagar District consisting of Sinnar, Chandor, Dindori, Nasik including Igatpuri and the Peint State were made into a sub-Collectorate under Ahmadnagar. The sub-Collectorate of Nasik was, however, abolished in 1856 and its talukas incorporated in Ahmadnagar District. In 1861, Nimar peta under Sinnar and Vani peta under Dindori were abolished and a new sub-division was formed with headquarters at Niphad. Headquarters of Karnai taluka included in Trimbak peta was transferred to Igatpuri town in the year 1861-62 and the name of the taluka changed from Karnai to Igatpuri taluka. In 1869, Nasik was made a full-fledged district, with eight sub-divisions of Ahmadnagar (viz. Nasik, Sinnar, Igatpuri, Dindori, Chandor, Niphad, Yeola and Akola) and three sub-divisions of Khandesh District (viz. Nandgaon, Malegaon and Baglan) together with Peint State. Shortly afterwards, Akola taluka was returned to Ahmadnagar. In 1875, Baglan was divided in two talukas, viz., Baglan or Satana and Kalwan. After the death of the Begam, Peint State became British territory and was made into a sub-division in 1878.

There were no major changes in the district or taluka boundaries between 1901 and 1948.

Consequent upon the merger of Indian States a new mahal known as Surgana Mahal consisting of the former Indian State of Surgana, was created in 1949. In 1950, 11 enclave villages which formed part of Nandgaon taluka were transferred to Aurangabad District. Two villages from Surat District were added to this district. Four villages were transferred to West Khandesh District.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was included in Bombay State. Since 1960, it forms a part of Maharashtra.

Dhulia Distriet

10. The entire area now making two districts of Dhulia and Jalgaon was previously administered as one district of Khandesh with headquarters at Dhulia. In 1869, the three talukas of Malegaon, Nandgaon and Baglan were transferred to the newly formed district of Nasik. In 1891, the Khandesh District consisted of the following sub-divisions :—

Jalgaon, Jamner, Bhusawal, Edalabad peta, Sindkheda, Taloda, Dhulia, Chopda, Shahada, Pachora, Bhadgaon peta, Savda, Raver peta, Yaval peta, Nandurbar, Nawapur peta, Chalisgaon, Erandol, Amalner, Parola peta, Shirpur and Pimpalner.

Savda taluka was abolished in 1896 and the two petas of Yaval and Raver made independent talukas.

In the year 1906, the district was broken into two districts known as West Khandesh and East Khandesh. The following thirteen talukas were transferred to East Khandesh District with headquarters at Jalgaon :—

Amalner, Parola peta, Bhusawal, Edalabad peta, Chalisgaon, Chopda, Erandol, Jalgaon, Jamner, Pachora, Bhadgaon peta, Raver and Yaval.

The remaining eight talukas, viz., Dhulia, Nandurbar, Nawapur peta, Pimpalner, Shahada, Shirpur, Sindkheda and Taloda formed the new district of West Khandesh with headquarters at Dhulia.

Headquarters of Pimpalner taluka had been transferred to Sakri in 1887 but the name of the taluka was changed to Sakri taluka in 1908.

The new taluka of Akkalkuva was created in the year 1950.

In 1950, five villages—four from Nasik District and one from Broach District—were added to this district. Two villages from this district were transferred to Broach District.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was included in Bombay State.

38 villages from Nawapur taluka, 38 villages from Nandurbar taluka, 43 villages from Taloda taluka and 37 villages from Akkalkuva taluka were transferred to Gujarat State in 1960.

Since 1960, the district forms a part of Maharashtra.

The name of the district was changed from West Khandesh District to Dhulia District in the year 1961.

Jalgaon District

11. The area now included in Jalgaon District was up to the year 1905 included in Khandesh District which had its headquarters at Dhulia. The following 13 talukas were separated from Khandesh in 1906 to form East Khandesh District with headquarters at Jalgaon :—

Amalner, Parola peta, Bhusawal, Edalabad peta, Chalisgaon, Chopda, Erandol, Jalgaon, Jamner, Pachora, Bhadgaon peta, Raver and Yaval.

In the year 1917 Parola peta was raised to Parola taluka.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was included in Bombay State. Since 1960, it forms a part of Maharashtra.

The name of the district was changed from East Khandesh District to Jalgaon District in the year 1961.

Ahmadnagar District

12. Ahmadnagar was formed into a district in 1818. In 1822, its boundaries extended from Vani in the Dindori sub-division of Nasik to Karmala which is presently in Sholapur District. In 1830, it included the sub-Collectorate of Sholapur under it. The District of Sholapur was formed in 1838 but was abolished in 1864 when a part of its area reverted to Ahmadnagar. In 1837-38, the sub-divisions of Sinnar, Chandor, Dindori, Nasik, Igatpuri and the Peint State were made into the Nasik sub-Collectorate under Ahmadnagar. That sub-Collectorate was, however, abolished in 1956 and the area reverted to Ahmadnagar. Two full-fledged districts of Nasik and Sholapur were formed in 1869.

In 1891, the district had the following sub-divisions :—

Jamkhed, Nevasa, Srigonda, Shevgaon, Sangamner, Nagar, Kopargaon, Akola, Karjat, Parner and Rahuri.

Pathardi peta was newly formed in 1913 and the remaining area of Jamkhed taluka was re-named as Jamkhed Mahal. Karjat taluka was similarly downgraded as a peta in the decade 1931-41. Srirampur taluka was newly formed in 1945 and Pathardi and Karjat petas were upgraded as talukas in the decade 1941-51.

Twenty-one enclave villages were transferred from Bhir District in the year 1950 to this district. At the same time, 26 villages were transferred from Ahmadnagar District to Bhir District and 1 village to Aurangabad District.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was included in Bombay State. Since 1960, it forms a part of Maharashtra.

Poona District

13. In 1820, Poona District had 1,213 villages grouped into the following nine sub-divisions :—

Poona City, Bhimthadi, Indapur, Pabal, Khed, Purandhar, Haveli, Maval and Shivner (Junnar).

Pabal was abolished and with some villages exchanged Sirur taluka was transferred from Ahmadnagar in 1866-67.

Mulshi peta was separated and brought from Maval to Haveli taluka.

Headquarters of Bhimthadi taluka were transferred from Patas to Supa in 1878. Baramati peta under Bhimthadi taluka was abolished and the headquarters of Bhimthadi taluka were shifted to Baramati and a new peta was created with headquarters at Dhond in 1892.

New Poona City taluka was formed between 1917 and 1921.

Bhimthadi taluka was named as Baramati taluka after 1949. Petas of Ambegaon (under Khed), Dhond, Sirur and Mulshi were raised to full-fledged talukas in 1948-49.

Consequent upon the merger of former Indian States a part of Bhor State was added to the district and one village was transferred from Poona to North Satara District. Taluka of Bhor and Velhe Mahal were newly formed in 1949.

With the Reorganisation of States, the district was included in Bombay State in 1956. Since 1960, it forms a part of Maharashtra.

Satara District

14. Satara District was formed in 1848. It was first called a province and not a Collectorate. It had the following 11 sub-divisions :—

Bijapur (now a district in Mysore State), Javli, Karad, Khanapur, Khatau, Koregaon, Pandharpur, Satara, Targaon, Valva and Wai.

In 1856, 12 new Mahals were formed as follows :—

Pimpaude in Koregaon, Khandala in Wai, Bamnoli in Javli, Kole in Karad, Shirala and Peth in Valva, Helvak in Targaon, Mayni in Khanapur, Nateputa and Pusegaon in Khatau and Sangola and Bhalvani in Pandharpur.

In 1862, the boundaries of the sub-divisions were again overhauled and the district was divided in the following sub-divisions :—

Bijapur, Javli, Karad, Khanapur, Khatau, Koregaon, Malsiras, Man, Pandharpur, Patan, Satara, Targaon, Valva, Wai and Khandala peta in Wai and Shirala peta in Valva.

Bijapur was transferred to Belgaum District in 1862. Tasgaon taluka was transferred to Satara District from Belgaum in 1863. Pandharpur was transferred to Sholapur in 1864-65. Targaon sub-division was abolished in 1867. Malsiras was transferred to Sholapur in 1875. Malcompeth peta was formed in the year 1884.

Khandala peta was abolished in the year 1927. Malcompeth peta was named as Mahabaleshwar. Khandala peta was reconstituted in the year 1947.

Consequent upon the merger of former Indian States, parts of Phaltan, Jamkhandi, Akkalkot, Bhor, Aundh, Sangli and one village from Poona District were added. The new taluka of Phaltan was created in 1949. Four talukas of Khanapur, Tasgaon, Valva and Shirala peta were transferred to the new district of South Satara with headquarters at Sangli in 1949. The remaining portion of the district was called North Satara District.

One village from Khanapur taluka of Sangli District was transferred to Karad taluka of Satara District.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was included in Bombay State. Since 1960, it forms a part of Maharashtra.

The name of the district was changed from North Satara District to Satara District in the year 1961.

Sangli District

15. The areas now constituting Sangli District were up to 1948 partly included in the old Satara District and partly in the former Indian States of Aundh, Jath, Sangli, Kurundvad (Senior), Miraj (Senior), Miraj (Junior) and Wadi Estates. The new district known as South Satara District was formed in 1949 with headquarters at Sangli. It included four talukas of Tasgaon, Khanapur, Valva and Shirala peta transferred from old Satara District and two new talukas of Miraj and Jath formed out of parts of former Indian States merged in the new district.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was included in Bombay State. Since 1960, it forms a part of Maharashtra.

The name of the district was changed from South Satara District to Sangli District in the year 1961.

Sholapur District

16. The areas now making Sholapur District were formerly in Ahmadnagar, Poona and Satara. Karmala was in Ahmadnagar, Mohol in Poona and Pandharpur, Malsiras and Sangola in Satara (which was then an Indian State). Barsi and Sholapur frequently changed between Ahmadnagar and Poona Districts. The sub-Collectorate of Sholapur was formed under Ahmadnagar District in 1830. The district of Sholapur was formed in 1838 and consisted of the following sub-divisions : Sholapur, Barsi, Mohol, Madha, Karmala, Indi, Hippargi and Muddebihal. That district was, however, abolished in 1864. In 1869, the sub-divisions of Sholapur, Barsi, Mohol, Madha and Karmala together with Pandharpur and Sangola from Satara District were again formed into Sholapur District to which Malsiras was transferred from Satara District in 1875.

There were no major changes in the district or taluka boundaries between 1891 and 1941.

Consequent upon the merger of the former Indian States, two villages of Jamkhandi, 21 villages of Jath State, 13 villages and one town of Kurundvad State, 13 villages of Miraj Senior State, 3 villages of Miraj Junior, 28 villages and one town of Sangli State and a part of Akalkot State were added and three new talukas of Mohol, Akalkot and Mangalvedha were newly formed in 1949. Sholapur Taluka was split up in two talukas, viz., Sholapur South and Sholapur North.

In 1950, 53 enclave villages were transferred from Hyderabad State and included in the district in exchange of 12 enclave villages belonging to this district transferred to Osmanabad and Gulbarga Districts.

One village from Indi taluka of Bijapur District was also added to Mangalvedha taluka of this district in 1950.

Kolhapur District

17. In 1884, Kolhapur State had the following six sub-divisions : Karvir, Panhala, Shirol, Alta, Gadhinglaj and Bhudargad. In addition, it had two petas, Raybag under Shirol and Katkol under Gadhinglaj.

The State of Kolhapur was merged in the year 1948 and its area consisting of 956 villages together with five villages from the former State of Kurundvad, one village from State of Miraj (Senior) and seven villages from Belgaum District was formed into the new district of Kolhapur in 1949. Raybag and Katkol were transferred to Belgaum District now in Mysore State. The new district consisted of the following talukas :—

Shahuwadi, Panhala Mahal, Hatkanangale, Shirol, Karvir, Bavda Mahal, Radhanagari, Kagal, Bhudargad, Ajra Mahal and Gadhinglaj.

Two villages from this district were transferred to Ratnagiri District in 1950.

Taluka Chandgad was transferred from Belgaum District in 1956.

With the Reorganisation of States, the district was included in the Bombay State in 1956. Since 1960, it forms a part of Maharashtra.

Aurangabad District

18. There were no major changes in the boundaries of the district or its talukas between 1901 to 1941.

Eight villages of Ambad taluka were exchanged with six villages of Pathri taluka of Parbhani District.

Twenty-five enclave villages belonging to the neighbouring districts of Nasik, East Khandesh and Ahmadnagar were transferred to Aurangabad District in 1950.

More than a third of the district was jagir area. The Nizam's own estate called " Sarf-e-Khas " comprised two talukas with headquarter at Khuldabad and Sillod. The Sarf-e-Khas was merged with the Government area under the Sarf-e-Khas (Merger) Regulation of 1949. All the other jagirs were abolished and their villages were taken over under direct Government administration under the Hyderabad (Abolition of Jagirs) Regulation, 1949. Consequent upon the integration of jagirs and Sarf-e-Khas areas, all the taluka boundaries were reconstituted in April 1950. Two new Mahals were created, one with headquarters at Khuldabad and another with headquarters at Jafferabad.

In the year 1953, a new mahal with headquarters at Soegaon was created by transferring 37 villages from Sillod taluka and 30 from Kannad taluka. All the villages transferred to this Mahal are situated to the north of the Satmala hills.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was transferred from Hyderabad State to Bombay State. It forms a part of Maharashtra since 1st May 1960.

Parbhani District

19. In 1905, the northern villages of Nanded taluka of Nanded District were added to Kalamnuri taluka. Eight villages from Ambad taluka in Aurangabad District were added to Pathri taluka and in exchange six villages from Pathri were transferred to Ambad taluka.

There were no major changes in the boundaries of the district or its talukas between 1906 and 1948.

Taluka Palam was a part of Nizam's own estate known as " Sarf-e-Khas ". This estate was abolished in 1949 under the Sarf-e-Khas (Merger) Regulation of 1949. More than one-third of the district area consisted of other jagirs. All these jagirs were also abolished in 1949 under the Hyderabad (Abolition of Jagirs) Regulation, 1949, and their villages taken over under direct Government administration.

Consequent upon the integration of Sarf-e-Khas and jagir areas all the taluka boundaries were reconstituted in the year 1950. A new taluka was constituted with headquarters at Gangakhed. It included the erstwhile Sarf-e-Khas area from Palam taluka and villages from two erstwhile jagir talukas of Sonpeth and Gangakhed. Another jagir taluka of Partur was retained as a new taluka in the district. It included most of the erstwhile jagir area and a few villages transferred from Pathri and Jintur talukas.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was transferred to Bombay State. It forms a part of Maharashtra since 1st May 1960.

Bhir District

20. In the year 1905, Kaij taluka was abolished, and its villages merged in the adjoining Amba taluka. The name of Amba taluka was later on changed as Mominabad taluka.

There were no major changes in the boundaries of the district or its talukas between 1906 and 1948.

Twenty-six enclave villages belonging to Ahmadnagar District were transferred in 1950 to Bhir District. Twenty-one villages from Patoda and Ashti talukas were transferred to Ahmadnagar District.

The district had about one-fourth area as jagir. The Nizam's own estate called " Sarf-e-Khas " covered what is now Patoda taluka. It was taken over under the Sarf-e-Khas (Merger) Regulation of 1949. All the jagirs were abolished and their villages taken over under direct Government administration in the year 1949 under the Hyderabad (Abolition of Jagirs) Regulation, 1949.

Consequent upon the integration of Sarf-e-Khas and jagir areas the boundaries of all the talukas in the district were reconstituted in the year 1950. A new taluka was created with headquarters at Kaij. Patoda taluka which was previously under Sarf-e-Khas was converted into a Mahal.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was transferred from Hyderabad State to Bombay State. It forms a part of Maharashtra since 1st May 1960.

Nanded District

21. In the year 1905, Mudhol taluka of Nizamabad District was transferred to Nanded District and the erstwhile Bhaisa taluka was merged in it. Taluka Aowla Narsapur of Nizamabad District was abolished and a new taluka was formed with headquarters at Kinwat. Another taluka with headquarters at Osmannagar (Lathi) was also abolished and its villages were divided between Biloli and Kandhar. The northern villages of Nanded taluka were transferred to Kalamnuri taluka in Parbhani District and a few other portions transferred to Hadgaon and Mudhol talukas.

Headquarters of Kandhar taluka were for many years at Mukhed.

There were no major changes in the district or taluka boundaries up to the year 1948.

In the year 1949, Sarf-e-Khas taluka with headquarters at Khadka (or Mukaramabad) was taken over under Sarf-e-Khas (Merger) Regulation. All the other jagirs in the district were also abolished and taken over under direct Government administration in the same year under the Hyderabad (Abolition of Jagirs) Regulation.

Consequent upon the integration of Sarf-e-Khas and jagir areas the boundaries of all the talukas were reconstituted in the year 1950. Two new mahals were created, one with headquarters at Mukhed and another at Bhokar.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was transferred from Hyderabad State to Bombay State. Two Revenue Circles of Deglur taluka and three Revenue Circles of Mudhol taluka were transferred to Andhra Pradesh. Two talukas (Kinwat and Rajura) and one Revenue Circle from Boath taluka were transferred from Adilabad District. The remaining Dharmabad Revenue Circle of the erstwhile Mudhol taluka was included in Biloli taluka. Islapur Revenue Circle was included in Kinwat taluka.

Rajura taluka, which was isolated and about 300 miles away from the district headquarters, was transferred to Chanda District in the year 1959.

The district forms a part of Maharashtra since 1st May 1960.

Osmanabad District

22. The district was temporarily ceded to the British Government in the year 1853. It reverted to Hyderabad State in 1860. Its headquarters formerly used to be at Naldurg and the district was known as Naldurg District up to 1904. The district of Naldurg was abolished and the new district of Osmanabad was formed with headquarters at Osmanabad (formerly Dharashiv).

In 1905, two talukas with headquarters at Wasi and Naldurg were abolished. Wasi was merged in Kalam and Naldurg in Tuljapur.

Headquarters of Ausa taluka were shifted to Latur and the taluka was named as Latur taluka.

Among the districts of Marathwada, Osmanabad had the biggest area under the Nizam's own estate called " Sarf-e-Khas ". The Sarf-e-Khas was merged with the Government area under the Sarf-e-Khas (Merger) Regulation in the year 1949. All the jagir areas were also abolished and taken over under direct Government administration in the same year.

Consequent upon the integration of Sarf-e-Khas and jagir areas all the taluka boundaries were reconstituted in the year 1950. Two new talukas with headquarters at Ausa and Umarga and a new mahal with headquarters at Bhum were created.

In the same year (1950) 11 enclave villages from Sholapur were transferred to the district and 52 villages from this district were transferred to Sholapur District.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was transferred from Hyderabad State to Bombay State. Three talukas of Ahmadpur, Nilanga and Udgir were transferred from the adjoining district of Bidar to Osmanabad District.

The district forms a part of Maharashtra since 1st May 1960.

BERAR

In 1853, Berar which formed a part of the Nizam's dominion was assigned to the East India Company in liquidation of the large debt due on account of arrears of pay of the Hyderabad Contingent and as a security for the future payment of that force. At that time, Berar was divided into two districts, South Berar (the Balaghat) with headquarters at Hingoli and North Berar with headquarters at Buldhana.

After 1857, Hingoli with its neighbouring area was restored to the Nizam and Berar was reconstituted into two districts, East Berar with headquarters at Amravati and West Berar with headquarters at Akola. In 1903, the treaties of assignment were superseded by an agreement under which the Nizam leased Berar to the Government of India in perpetuity in return for an annual rent of Rs. 25 lakhs. Administration of Berar was transferred from the Resident of Hyderabad to the Chief Commissioner of Central Provinces.

Buldhana District

23. Up to 1863, Buldhana was a part of West Berar District. Talukas of Malkapur, Chikhli (formerly Deulghat) and Mehkar were separated from West Berar District in 1864, to make what was at first called

South-West Berar District and later named as Mehkar District. The district headquarters were shifted to Buldhana in 1867 and the district was re-named as Buldhana District. Khamgaon taluka had been created in 1870 by separating some villages from Balapur taluka of Akola District. Consequent upon the reconstitution of district boundaries in Berar in 1905, Buldhana District received Khamgaon and Jalgaon talukas from Akola District.

There were no major changes in the boundaries of the district or its talukas between 1911 and 1955.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was transferred from Madhya Pradesh to Bombay State. The district forms a part of Maharashtra since 1st May 1960.

Akola District

24. The area which now makes Buldhana District was separated from West Berar District in 1864. Some area was also transferred in 1875 to the newly created Basim District. Mangrul taluka was newly created in that district in the same year.

The district and tahsil boundaries were completely overhauled in 1905. Murtazapur tahsil was transferred from Amravati to Akola District and Khamgaon and Jalgaon tahsils were transferred from Akola to Buldhana District. Basim District (Washim) was broken up and two of its tahsils (Basim and Mangrul) were included in Akola District.

There were no major changes in the boundaries of the district or its talukas between 1911 and 1955.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was transferred from Madhya Pradesh to Bombay State. The district forms a part of Maharashtra since 1st May 1960.

Amravati District

25. In 1864, the Yeotmal District, at first called the South-East Berar and later the Wun District, was separated from East Berar District. A new district of Ellichpur (Achalpur) was created in 1867 by separating three talukas of Ellichpur, Melghat and Daryapur from East Berar District.

With the Reorganisation of District boundaries in 1905, Ellichpur (Achalpur) District with three talukas of Melghat, Ellichpur and Daryapur was amalgamated in Amravati District and Murtazapur tahsil was transferred to Akola District.

There were no major changes in the boundaries of the district or its talukas between 1911 and 1955.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was transferred from Madhya Pradesh to Bombay State. The district forms a part of Maharashtra since 1st May 1960.

Yeotmal District

26. Up to 1863, Yeotmal was a part of the East Berar District. Talukas of Yeotmal, Darwha, Kelapur and Wun were separated from that district in 1864 to make a new district termed at first South-East Berar and afterwards Wun (Wani) District.

In 1905, the taluka of Pusad was transferred from Basim District to Wun District. The name of the district was changed in the same year from Wun to Yeotmal. Headquarters of the district had, however, always been at Yeotmal.

There were no major changes in the boundaries of the district or its talukas between 1911 and 1955.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was transferred from Madhya Pradesh to Bombay State. The district forms a part of Maharashtra since 1st May 1960.

Wardha District

27. The territory now making Wardha District was a part of the Nagpur District until 1862, when it was made a separate district on the ground that Nagpur was too large a district and that the interests of the very valuable cotton industry in this part of the Wardha valley needed special supervision.

The district headquarters were first located at Kaotha near Pulgaon but were transferred to the present site which was then village Palakwadi and which was named as Wardha after the name of the river Wardha.

There were no major changes in the boundaries of the district or its talukas between 1911 and 1955.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was transferred from Madhya Pradesh to Bombay State. The district forms a part of Maharashtra since 1st May 1960.

Nagpur District

28. Nagpur District previously included areas which now are partly in Wardha and partly in Bhandara Districts. The area now constituting Wardha District was separated in 1862. There were only four tahsils up to the year 1908 when a new tahsil was created with headquarters at Saoner.

There were no major changes in the boundaries of the district or its talukas between 1911 and 1955.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was transferred from Madhya Pradesh to Bombay State. The district forms a part of Maharashtra since 1st May 1960.

Bhandara District

29. The district was under regency administration from 1818 to 1830. Headquarters of the district were brought from Lanji to Bhandara in 1820-21. The area became British territory in 1853.

In 1867, a few tracts were transferred from Bhandara District to form the new district of Balaghat. Headquarters of one of the tahsils were shifted from Sangarhi to Sakoli in the same year. In 1881, the district had only two tahsils, viz., Tirora and Sakoli. Bhandara tahsil was created later.

There were no major changes in the boundaries of the district or its talukas between 1911 and 1955 except that the headquarters of Tirora tahsil were shifted to Gondia and the name of the tahsil was changed to Gondia tahsil in the year 1914.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was transferred from Madhya Pradesh to Bombay State. The district forms a part of Maharashtra since 1st May 1960.

Chanda District

30. Up to 1874, the district had only three tahsils, viz., Mul, Warora and Brahmapuri. In 1874, Upper Godavari District of Madras was abolished and four talukas were transferred to Chanda District and made into one tahsil with headquarters at Sironcha. In 1895 the headquarters of one of the tahsils was transferred from village Mul to Chanda. A new tahsil with headquarters at Gadhchiroli was formed in the year 1905 by transferring the Zamindari estates from Brahmapuri and Chanda tahsils. A small zamindari tract from Chanda District was transferred to the newly formed Drug District in 1907. An area of about six hundred square miles consisting of three talukas Cherla, Albaka and Nagur was transferred from Sironcha tahsil to Madras State in the same year.

There were no major changes in the boundaries of the district or its talukas between 1911 and 1955.

With the Reorganisation of States in 1956, the district was transferred from Madhya Pradesh to Bombay State.

Rajura taluka which was a part of Adilabad District of Hyderabad State was transferred to Nanded District in 1956. It was transferred from Nanded District to Chanda District in March 1959.

Because of the different set of laws in force Rajura is actually notified as an independent District and Division in itself and is placed under the Collector of Chanda District and the Commissioner of Nagpur Division, for administrative purposes. For the 1961 Census we have treated it as a part of Chanda District. It is so treated for all administrative purposes also.

Variation of Population

31. The Statement (1) at pages 119–120 shows percentage variation of population from 1901 to 1961 for the State, divisions and districts. This variation is also shown for total, rural and urban areas separately.

32. It will be seen that Maharashtra population has more than doubled (plus 103·97 per cent.) in the last sixty years. The decade growth rate has been generally rising after 1921 and the growth of population even in rural areas has reached the highest rate (24·51 per cent.) during the last decade.

33. Greater Bombay population has grown from 927,994 in 1901 to 4,152,056 in 1961 or has increased by 347·42 per cent. The increase (38·66 per cent.) during 1951–61 is lower than that (66·23 per cent.) of the decade 1941–51. The net decade addition in Greater Bombay population during 1951–61 is however 1,157,612 which is a little lower than 1,193,088 of 1941–51. The percentage of growth during 1951–61 appears to be lower only because the base population in 1951 is higher than that of 1941. Sixty years' growth of population for all cities and towns is shown in Table A-IV.

34. Among the districts, Dhulia has had the maximum increase (201·32 per cent.) between 1901 and 1961. The rate of growth has been comparatively low in Nagpur Division. Amravati and Akola have had very small additions, viz., 52·79 per cent. and 58·14 per cent. respectively in the last sixty years.

35. The Statement (2) at pages 121–122 shows the changes in the sex ratio for the State, divisions and districts during the last 60 years. The figures given in the statement are for females per thousand males.

36. It will be seen that for Maharashtra as a whole the sex ratio has been gradually falling from 978 in 1901 to 936 in 1961. The sex ratio in rural Maharashtra has however been very near parity and has shown a slight reduction from 1,003 in 1901 to 995 in 1961. This is an indication of a very small movement of male population from rural to urban areas within Maharashtra. The wide disparity in the sex ratio of urban areas and its decline from 862 in 1901 to 801 in 1961 are similarly pointers to an ever increasing volume of male immigration from outside the State.

37. Greater Bombay has the lowest sex ratio, viz., 663 in the State. The 1961 figure is however a great improvement over 1951 and is the highest during the last sixty years. The improvement is partly due to the inclusion of some rural population in Bombay Municipal Corporation area after 1951. It may to some extent also reflect improvement in housing conditions which may have led to more family life in 1961.

38. Among the districts, Ratnagiri, Kolaba and Satara are the only three districts having excess of females over males. These three districts contribute the bulk of internal migration to Greater Bombay. In all these three districts the disparity has been increasing after 1931. All the other districts have excess of males over females. The disparity is naturally higher in urban areas. It is however significant that sex ratios for Poona and Nagpur district urban areas are as high as 872 and 892 against 663 of Greater Bombay.

*One village, viz., Ramtapur (Code No. 217 of 1951), from Jukkal Circle of Deglur taluka, which has otherwise been transferred to Nizamabad District of Andhra Pradesh State, has been retained in Nanded District. The population of this village has, however, been counted under Nizamabad District of Andhra Pradesh and not under Nanded District of Maharashtra in recasting the population figures for the years 1901 to 1951.

* Columns 5 to 9 do not reflect changes in regard to the State as such between 1951 and 1961 because the State did not exist as a separate unit in 1951. These entries against the State depict only the changes in the districts that constituted the State in 1961.

† Though these districts have not undergone change in jurisdiction since 1951, there is a decrease in area due to computational revision.

(a) Greater Bombay District .. Borivali taluka (except town Bhayndar and villages Dongari, Kashi, Ghodbandar, Mira, Uttan and Rai Murda) with an area of 63·9 Sq. Miles and town Mulund and village Nahur with a combined area of 7·4 Sq. Miles of Thana taluka of Thana District have been merged in Greater Bombay under Bombay Act No. LVIII of 1956.

(b) Thana District .. In addition to changes as shown against symbol (a), 3 towns and 47 villages, with a combined area of 133·0 Sq. Miles, of Umbergaon taluka of this district were transferred to Surat District of Gujarat State under Bombay Government order No. TLC-3860/27661-C, dated the 22nd April 1960 and the Bombay Reorganisation Act, 1960 (Union Act No. 11 of 1960).

(c) Dhulia District .. .. 37 villages with an area of 38·0 Sq. Miles of Akalkuva taluka, 43 villages with an area of 54·1 Sq. Miles of Taloda taluka, 38 villages with an area of 82·1 Sq. Miles of Nandurbar taluka and 38 villages with an area of 72·6 Sq. Miles of Nawapur taluka were transferred to the newly formed Gujarat State—from the former two talukas to Broach District and from the latter two to Surat District—under Bombay Government Order, No. TLC-3860-C, dated the 25th April, 1960, and the Bombay Reorganisation Act, 1960 (Union Act No. 11 of 1960). Subsequently, however, 10 villages with an area of 9·3 Sq. Miles out of the 37 villages of Akalkuva taluka and all the 43 villages of Taloda taluka have been transferred from Broach District to Surat District by the Government of Gujarat State.

(d) Satara District .. Village Shamgaon with an area of 7·1 Sq. Miles has been transferred from Khanapur taluka of Sangli (South Satara) District to Karad taluka of this district under Bombay Government Notification, R. D., No. TLC-3156-C, dated the 19th July 1958.

(f) Kolhapur District .. Chandgad Taluka with an area of 394·0 Sq. Miles of Belgaum District (now in Mysore State) of the former Bombay State has been merged in this district under Bombay Government Order, No. TLC-3456-L, dated the 15th September 1956 and the States Reorganisation Act, 1956 (Union Act No. XXXVII of 1956).

(g) Nanded District .. (i) Islapur circle with an area of 193·3 Sq. Miles of Boath taluka and Kinwat taluka with an area of 608·6 Sq. Miles of Adilabad District of former Hyderabad State have been merged in this district. In addition to this territory, Rajura taluka with an area of 776·3 Sq. Miles of Adilabad District of former Hyderabad State had also been merged in this district under the States Reorganisation Act, 1956. This taluka has however, subsequently been transferred from this district to Chanda District under Bombay Government Resolution, R.D., No. TLC-4958/15150-R, dated the 16th February 1959.

(ii) Bichkonda and Jukkal circles with an area of 230·8 Sq. Miles of Deglur taluka have been transferred to Nizamabad District and Mudhol taluka (except Dharmabad Circle) with an area of 402·8 Sq. Miles has been transferred to Adilabad District of Andhra Pradesh State under the States Reorganisation Act, 1956 (Union Act No. XXXVII of 1956). [Village Ramtapur (Code No. 217 of 1951), which formed a part of Jukkal Circle in Deglur taluka, has actually been retained in Maharashtra. Its 1961 Census Code No. is 101 in Deglur taluka. However, the adjusted figure of 1951 population for Nanded District shown in column 8 does not include the population of this village. Its area has also been counted against Andhra Pradesh in computing the figure of 230·8 Sq. Miles shown above as the area of Bichkonda and Jukkal Circles transferred to that State.]

(h) Osmanabad District .. Ahmadpur, Nilanga and Udgir talukas with an area of 1,777·3 Sq. Miles of Bidar District of former Hyderabad State have been transferred to this district under the States Reorganisation Act, 1956 (Union Act No. XXXVII of 1956).

Notes.—(i) The figures given in brackets in columns 5 and 6 represent the differences in area between 1951 and 1961 as shown in this Appendix and the figures in brackets in column 7 show the difference in 1951 population as between the figure for the 1951 jurisdiction and for the present jurisdiction.

(ii) In some cases the actual change in area (as given against symbols in the foot notes) in the district boundaries due to jurisdictional change does not agree with the figure of net increase or decrease in area shown under column 5 in brackets against each district. The difference is due to computational revision.

(iii) In some cases the differences between area figures for 1951 and 1961 given under columns 5 and 6 of this Appendix in brackets do not agree with areas given in columns 9 and 10 of Appendix I to Table A-I on account of revised computation.

(iv) Details of names and areas of villages involved in changes described in the notes at (b), (c) and (g) above may be seen in the Annexure to Appendix I to Table A-I.

TABLE A-III

VILLAGES CLASSIFIED BY POPULATION

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This Table gives figures for the number and population of villages in the following population groups : (i) less than 200, (ii) 200 to 499, (iii) 500 to 999, (iv) 1,000 to 1,999, (v) 2,000 to 4,999, (vi) 5,000 to 9,999 and (vii) 10,000 and above. The Table is presented in two parts. First is the Union Table A-III which gives classification of villages for the State, divisions and districts. The second part again gives classification for each district followed by similar details for each taluka or mahal in the district. An appendix is added to show sub-totals up to District level for broader population size groups.

2. A village has been defined in paragraph 52 in the explanatory note to Table A-I. Hamlets are included in the village. Villages having one or more hamlets have been grouped with reference to the total population of the main village and its hamlets. In other words, the classification into size groups is not in each case strictly according to the size of each individual nucleus of rural population but is based on the size of population of the revenue village which may in some cases be a single nucleus of population and in others a group of two or more scattered localities called hamlets.

3. The jurisdictions of revenue villages must have been fixed mainly on considerations of administrative manageability. But the resulting patterns vary widely from district to district. There are not many hamlets in the level or fertile areas, while their number is high in Konkan and other hilly or forest areas. This Table does not, however, reflect this feature because of the limitation mentioned in paragraph 2 above.

4. The following Statement (1) gives percentage of 1961 rural population living in villages of various size groups for each district :—

5. It will be seen that 54 per cent. of the rural population lives in villages with more than 500 and less than 2,000 population. Poona Division has the largest percentage (46 per cent.) of rural population living in villages of over 2,000 population. On the other hand, 24 per cent. of rural population in Nagpur Division lives in villages of less than 500 population. The highest percentage (37 per cent.) of rural population living in villages of less than 500 is in Nagpur district.

6. The Statement (2) at pages 132-133 gives percentages of villages and population by class of villages for 1951 and 1961 Censuses for Maharashtra State, divisions and districts.

7. This statement is prepared from the actual rural, urban population figures recorded in 1951 and 1961, i.e., by following two different definitions of urban areas. In 1961, 128 towns of 1951 have been declassified and treated as villages. The percentage figures for villages above 2,000 population thus get inflated for 1961 in this statement. To make the two sets comparable the 1951 figures have been recast for 1961 definition of urban area, i.e., by treating all declassified towns as villages even for 1951. For Maharashtra State, the comparable figures for 1951 and 1961 are as follows. It would be seen that the smaller village groups are losing both in numbers and percentage of population. This is natural as with the growth of population the villages move up in the classification. It cannot, however, be said whether the growth of rural population has been uniform over all classes of villages or if larger villages are growing faster than smaller villages.

TABLE A-IV

PREPARED BY CENSUS OFFICE, BOMBAY.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This is an important Census Table. It shows the variation in urban population for each town and each class of towns since 1901. The material is not presented in the order of the districts as in Tables A-I, A-II and A-III. The towns here are presented in the order of their class fixed on the basis of population. The towns are classified in the following six classes. The same scheme of classification has been used since 1901 Census.

Class I	.. Population	100,000 or above.
Class II	.. „	50,000 to 99,999.
Class III	.. „	20,000 to 49,999.
Class IV	.. „	10,000 to 19,999.
Class V	.. „	5,000 to 9,999.
Class VI	.. „	less than 5,000.

2. An alphabetical list of all the 266 towns is given at the end of the note to facilitate reference to the entries in the Table. The map facing this page shows all the towns by their size and locations on the background of the distribution of rural population.

3. The Table starts with figures of total urban population of the State for each Census since 1901. It is followed by similar figures for Class I total and the towns included in Class I (called cities) arranged in the order of their population size, then the total for Class II, followed by each town included in that class arranged in the order of population, and so on.

4. Definition of a " town " or an urban area has been given in paragraphs 26 to 31 in the note on Table A-I.

5. Classification of towns is on the basis of their 1961 population. Many towns have changed their class since 1901. The class totals shown in the Table for previous Censuses are not the totals of respective populations of all towns shown in that class in 1961. They are the totals of populations of all towns which on the basis of population were included in that class in those Censuses, except the towns which are constituents of Town-Groups. Some of those towns might have gone up in a higher class or gone down to a lower one. Some might not have even been treated as towns in later Censuses.

6. As the Table shows the growth of urban population alone, the entries for previous Censuses against towns which were not treated as towns in those Censuses are blank. Their populations in those Censuses were treated as rural and are not, therefore, shown here. They are similarly not included in the class totals for any Census.

7. Table A-IV shows the urban areas, while Table A-II shows districts which include rural as well as urban areas. In the case of Greater Bombay, therefore, the two figures will be identical only in 1961, while the differences in the figures of previous Censuses afford us a valuable clue as to how the jurisdiction of Greater Bombay was extended by stages. Thus, in Table A-II the figure for 1901 represents the sum of rural and urban population in what now comprises Greater Bombay, 812,912 standing for urban population in 1901 and the balance 115,082 rural in 1901. Similarly, the difference in each successive year up to 1951 between the population figures in Tables A-II and A-IV will give the component of rural population at the respective Census in the Greater Bombay District of present jurisdiction.

8. Because of such presentation of only urban population figures for previous Censuses, the entries in this Table for Greater Bombay and many other towns may also not tally with the corresponding entries for those Censuses in Table A-IV of 1951 where no such distinction of rural and urban population was made in the figures for earlier Censuses.

Town-Groups

9. Where two or more urban units are adjacent or form a compact urban unit they have been grouped together and that group is called a town-group. Classification of towns together constituting a town-group is done on the basis of the total population of the group.

10. In such cases, the Table, however, separately presents the town-group as well as each of its constituent urban units with their (urban) population for earlier Censuses. The following are treated as town-groups in Maharashtra :—

Town-Group	Constituent Towns
THANA DISTRICT
(1) Dahanu Town-Group	.. (a) Dahanu.

	(b) Rajura.

11. Columns 5 and 6 of the Table show area of each town or class of towns in square miles and square kilometres respectively. The decade variation in population is shown in actual figures in column 8 and by percentages in column 9.

New Towns and Declassified Towns

12. Names of 22 new towns treated as towns for the first time in 1961 are shown in italics. Decade variation for them is not shown in columns 8 and 9 as their population in 1951 was rural. There is one more new town in 1961 with reference to the 1951 Census, viz., " Harnai " in Dapoli taluka of Ratnagiri District. It has, however, not been shown in italics because it is not a town treated as such for the first time in 1961. These 23 towns will also be found in the Appendix to Table A-IV. That appendix shows in columns 2 to 6 the area and population of all the new towns and in columns 7 to 11 the towns of 1951 Census which have been declassified as rural areas in the 1961 Census (see note on Table A-I). The constituent villages of the new towns of 1961 and their 1951 particulars have been shown in Explanatory Note " A " to the Appendix. The 1961 particulars of the villages into which the declassified towns of 1951 have relapsed have been shown in Explanatory Note " B " to the Appendix.

13. Twelve towns of 1951 have been merged in other urban areas, nine being merged in Greater Bombay. Other 128 towns of 1951 have been declassified and treated as villages in 1961. Out of the 128 declassified towns, 105 were in Class V in 1951, 16 in Class VI, six in Class IV and one (Akluj in Sholapur District) in Class III. They have been declassified and treated as villages as they do not fulfil the criteria fixed for urban areas.

Changes in the Class of Towns

14. It is interesting to see how the towns have fared in the classification from Census to Census. The Statement (1) at pages 157–165 shows the changes in classification of each city or town from 1901 to 1961. This statement also includes towns which were treated as towns in 1951 or some earlier Censuses but have not been treated as such in 1961.

15. The towns appear to be ascending the classification scale slowly. Out of 266 towns in 1961, 22 are new towns, 72 have stuck up to their 1901 class, 116 have climbed only one stage of the ladder, 48 have climbed two stages and only five have climbed three stages during the last sixty years. Three towns have actually gone one stage down.

16. Out of 12 cities, two, viz., Thana and Malegaon, have climbed three stages during the last sixty years. They have thus grown very fast. Other five cities, viz., Nasik, Ahmadnagar, Kolhapur, Akola and Amravati, have also grown fast and have climbed two stages in the scale. Sholapur has climed one stage during the last sixty years. Ulhasnagar is a post-independence township but it has also climbed one stage during the last decade. The remaining three big cities, viz., Bombay, Poona and Nagpur, have also increased in population enormously. But no improvement was possible in their class.

17. Out of the Class II towns, Gondia in Bhandara District has shown the fastest rise and has climbed three stages. Other eleven towns which have climbed in the scale by two stages are Kalyan, Bhusawal, Jalgaon, Kirkee, Sangli, Miraj, Barsi, Ichalkaranji, Jalna, Nanded and Chanda. Three towns in this class which climbed one stage are Dhulia, Poona Cantonment and Aurangabad.

18. The Statement (2) at page 165 shows the number of towns in each class of towns in 1961 classified by the degrees of change in classification during the last sixty years.

21. The Statement (5) at page 166 shows the percentage of towns in each class to total number of towns and percentage of population in each class to total urban population from 1901 to 1961.

22. The percentage of population living in cities, i.e., Class I to total urban population has increased from 32·86 in 1901 to 60·49 in 1961. Towns above 20,000 population are generally used for international comparisons. The percentage of population living in the first three classes of towns to total urban population in Maharashtra has grown from 48 per cent. in 1901 to 83 per cent. in 1961.

23. The Statement (6) at page 166 is similar to Statement (5) above. But it is prepared on the basis of town-groups instead of individual towns.

24. The Statement (7) at page 167 shows the percentages of areas of towns in each class to total urban area of the State and density of population per urban square mile in each class from 1901 to 1961. Areas of towns for earlier Censuses were not available in many cases. For purposes of calculating densities for earlier Censuses the 1961 areas of towns have, therefore, been used for earlier Censuses also.

25. For each Census, the first column gives the percentage of total area of all towns in that class to total urban area and the next column gives density of population per square mile for that area in the respective class of towns.

Effect of Change in the Definition on Urban Population

26. The Statement (8) at page 168 shows the calculated 1961 urban population for the State, divisions and districts if the towns treated as towns in 1951 but declassified in 1961 had not been so declassified.

27. It will be seen that the rigid observance of the definition of urban areas and the consequent declassification of 128 towns in 1961 has actually brought down the State urban population from 12,208,989 to 11,162,561 or has reduced it by 9 per cent.

28. The Statement (9) at page 169 shows the calculated 1951 urban population for the State, divisions and districts by application of 1961 definition of towns or the population that would have been recorded if the places treated as new towns in 1961 had been treated as towns in 1951 also and the places treated as towns in 1951 but declassified in 1961 had been declassified in 1951 also. Actual urban population figures for 1961 are also given in the statement. The last column gives the percentage variation of urban population in the decade 1951-61 with reference to the calculated population of 1951 as a base.

29. Statement (9) reflects the real growth of urban population in the decade. For facility of comparison Statement (10) at page 170 gives 1951 and 1961 urban population as actually recorded in the two Censuses on two different concepts of urban areas.

30. Comparison of the last column of Statement (10) with that of Statement (9) will show how a real growth of 31·70 per cent. in the State's urban population in the last decade appears to be only 21·32 per cent. because of the declassification of 128 towns of 1951. Urban populations in Sangli, Jalgaon and Ahmadnagar districts appear to have actually decreased by 32·93, 15·02 and 12·81 per cent. respectively though by comparable urban units they have actually increased by 36·28, 16·19 and 20·06 per cent. respectively. Statement 9 thus eliminates the effect of the declassification of towns and gives a true picture of variation in urban population during the decade 1951-1961.

31. The comparative rates of growth of (i) the total urban population, (ii) total population of all places above 20,000 and (iii) total population of all cities above 100,000 are indicated in Statement (11) at page 170 by showing their respective percentages to total population of the State at each Census since 1901. The percentage of the population of the largest city (Greater Bombay) to the total population of the State is also shown in column 5 of the Statement.

32. Detailed analysis of the pattern and growth of urbanisation in the State will be found in Part I-A of the Census Report.

33. An alphabetical list of all towns of Maharashtra is given at pages 171—174. It gives for each town its location by district and taluka, its population rank in the State, population in 1961 and whether it has a Municipal Corporation (M. Corp.) or a Municipality (M) or a Cantonment Board. Serial number in Table A-IV is shown for each town to facilitate reference to the corresponding entry in that Table.

* These towns which were included in Thana District in 1951 have since been merged with Greater Bombay urban area. The first eight towns were in Borivali Taluka in 1951 and the last one in Thana Taluka.

† This town has been merged with Thana Municipality.

‡ The considerably large figure for 1951 population of Kolshet, as compared to that for 1961, is due to the existence there at the time of the 1951 Census of a temporary settlement of Displaced Persons in a Camp named Akbar Camp. This was subsequently shifted to Kopri Colony in the Thana municipal area.

§ Area figures in columns 8 and 9 have been taken from the 1960 Houselist Register and not from the 1951 District Census Handbook.

PRIMARY CENSUS ABSTRACT

EXPLANATORY NOTE

In the 1951 Census Reports, Table E gave summary figures of livelihood classes and variation of population. Figures of variation of population are now shown for the State and the districts in Table A-II and for all cities and towns in Table A-IV. The Primary Census Abstract shows 1961 Census summary figures for the State, divisions, districts and talukas, each with rural-urban break-up, and for all cities and towns. For each unit, the Table spread over four pages shows area in square miles, number of occupied houses, number of households, total population, populations of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, number of literate and educated persons and number of workers and non-workers. All these items are shown separately for total, males and females. The workers are further classified and their numbers are shown separately for nine industrial categories. The Table is presented in two parts. The first is the Union portion presenting material for the State, divisions and districts only. The other is the State portion giving similar details for the districts, talukas and towns. No data are, however, presented in this Table for town-groups. Under each taluka the individual towns have been arranged in the order of their location Code Numbers. This order differs somewhat from that shown in State Table A-I, where town-groups have been exhibited.

2. Primary Census Abstracts showing similar summary figures for each village and each town/ward are published as Part I—Village Directory in the District Census Handbooks. Primary Census Abstract for Greater Bombay area has been included in Part X (2) of the Report and shows these summary figures for each enumeration block (having a population of about 600), each Circle, Section and Ward of the City. Such basic Census information is presented for such small administrative units in very few countries of the world.

Occupied Residential Houses

3. A house is a structure or part of a structure, having a separate entrance, whether that entrance leads directly to the street, or to a common staircase, a courtyard or a gate.

4. Thatched huts are treated as structures and therefore also as houses.

5. Houses are classified by their use, e.g. as dwellings, shops, workshops, temples, schools, offices, etc. Some houses are used partly for residential purposes and partly as shops, workshops, offices, etc. They are classified as shop-cum-dwellings, workshop-cum-dwellings, office-cum-dwellings, etc. Every house where one or more persons were found to be residing (irrespective of the house being used only as a residence or partly as a residence and partly for some other purpose) is classified as an occupied residential house.

6. Column 4 of the Primary Census Abstract shows the number of occupied residential houses for each unit. This number includes garages, depots or shops where one or more persons (may be drivers, watchmen, etc.) were found to be residing at the time of the Census. It does not on the other hand include houses which are residential houses but which at the time of the Census, were either vacant or where no person was found to be residing.

Households

7. Column 5 shows the number of households for each unit. The " household " is slightly different from a " family ". A " household " is a group of persons who commonly live together in the same house and take their meals from a common kitchen unless the exigencies of work prevented any of them from doing so. A domestic servant residing and eating at the employer's house is a member of the household. Similarly, a friend or a guest (related or unrelated) residing and eating with the host and who has been away from his own house during the entire Census period is treated as a member of the (host) household. On the other hand, a son or a daughter residing in a hostel (may be in the same town) is not treated as a member of the household.

8. The Statement (1) at page 216 shows the number of households for every 100 occupied residential houses separately for total, rural and urban areas for the State and each division and district. Figures for the twelve cities of Maharashtra are shown at the end of the statement.

9. Average for Maharashtra is 106·59 households to every 100 occupied residential houses. Over six per cent. of households are thus sharing houses with other households. A house is treated as common when there is no independent entrance for the portions occupied by two or more households. On the other hand, separation of kitchen divides the groups of persons living in the same house into two or more households. Thus, the parity of one household to one house is exceeded—

(i) by structural limitations not providing independent access to two or more portions of the house occupied by different households ; and

(ii) because of two families sharing a house but not the kitchen.

10. The second factor may either be due to shortage of accommodation or prevailing high rents as at Bombay or to the custom of closely related families sharing a house for security when one or more members of either of the families go out in search of employment elsewhere. That the percentage of households is lower in urban areas shows that the structural improvements, more than compensate the other factor of shortage of accommodation.

11. The Statement (2) at page 216 shows density of households, i.e., the number of households per square mile for total, rural and urban areas for the State and each division and district. These figures more or less tally with Statement (8) in the note to Table A-I giving density of population per square mile for the State, divisions and districts.

Inmates of Institutions and Houseless Persons

12. By definition, a "household" is a group of persons living in the same house and eating from the same kitchen. The inmates of institutions like jails, hospitals, lodging and boarding houses are treated as members of the institutional households or households which are not family type households.

13. Some persons do not have any fixed place of residence. They go on moving from place to place, camp at night in Dharmashalas or just live on the street pavements or in open spaces without erecting huts or any similar structures. All such houseless persons were specially enumerated all over the country on the night of 28th February 1961. Population figures shown in columns 6, 7 and 8 of the Primary Census Abstract are inclusive of both the houseless population and the inmates of institutional households (see paragraphs 97–104 of the note on Table A-I).

14. Enumeration of people was done at places of their normal residence. In the case of big cities like Bombay, the figures, therefore, represent only night time population and do not include the large number of people who come from far off places for work every day.

Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes

15. Certain classes of people are declared by President's orders issued under Articles 341 and 342 of the Constitution of India, as Scheduled Castes or Scheduled Tribes. A few of them are so declared for the whole State but others only for specified areas. Under Article 46 of the Constitution, the State has to promote, with special care, the educational and economic interests of the weaker sections of the people, and, in particular, of the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes and has to protect them from social injustice and all forms of exploitation. For ensuring adequate representation to these classes, seats are also reserved for them in the Lok Sabha and in the State Legislative Assemblies.

(4) Kamar.
(5) Kharia.
(6) Kondh.
(7) Korwa.
(8) Majhwar.
(9) Munda.
(10) Parja.
(11) Saonta.
(12) Sawar.

The Lists of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes now applied to Maharashtra had been copied from the erstwhile States of Bombay, Madhya Pradesh and Hyderabad, irrespective of whether a particular Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe existed in the Maharashtra area or not. The Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes not found in Maharashtra may be existing in the areas of those old States now included in Gujarat, Madhya Pradesh or Andhra Pradesh.

17. A specific question was asked at the 1961 Census to obtain the name of the Caste or Tribe of every person belonging to the Scheduled Castes or Scheduled Tribes notified in the State. Special Tables are prepared to show age, marital status, literacy, education, religion, language and industrial classification patterns for each Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe separately. Those Tables and ethnographic notes on each of those Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes are presented in Part V of the Census Report.

18. Unlike in the 1951 Census, the other Backward Classes have not been separately enumerated in the 1961 Census. The criterion for backwardness, now applied in Maharashtra, is economic condition and not any caste or tribe.

19. Columns 9 to 11 and 12 to 14 of the Primary Census Abstract show population of the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, respectively, by total, males and females. The figures here relate only to the two group totals of all Scheduled Castes and all Scheduled Tribes. Their break-up by individual Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe is shown in Part V.

20. The limitations in coverage of these two groups may be mentioned here. The groups of Scheduled Castes or Scheduled Tribes do not include all backward castes or tribes living in Maharashtra. They include only the Castes or Tribes declared as Scheduled Castes or Scheduled Tribes. In cases where a caste or a tribe is declared as Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe for a limited specified area that Caste or Tribe has been separately enumerated only in that specified area and not in other areas of the State. The case of Gonds will illustrate the position. The Gonds are notified as a Scheduled Tribe in Chanda district but not so in the adjoining Bhandara district. Bhandara district may also have some Tribal population and may also have Gonds among them but no tribe has been declared as Scheduled Tribe in that district and its figure of Scheduled Tribes is, therefore, nil.

21. The Statement (3) below shows percentages of Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe population to total population of the State, divisions and districts for total, rural and urban areas separately and for Cities and Towns of over 50,000 population.

22. It will be observed that Scheduled Castes are scattered in all areas of the State. The average percentage for Maharashtra is 5·63, while the percentage range for the districts is from 1·31 in Kolaba to 13·51 in Bhir.

23. Scheduled Caste figures for Maharashtra show a decrease from 39·99 lakhs in 1951 to 22·27 lakhs in 1961 or from 12·5 per cent. in 1951 to 5·63 per cent. in 1961. This is because a large number of erstwhile Scheduled Caste persons have, during the Census, returned their religion as Buddhist or Nav-Bauddha. Under Clause 3 of the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order, 1950 the Scheduled Castes can only be from among Hindus or Sikhs. Those returning their religion as Buddhist or Nav-Bauddha are not, therefore, treated as Scheduled Castes in the 1961 Census.

24. The religious conversion of these people may not necessarily have resulted in any sudden socio-economic improvement and the State may for some years allow them the same relief or protection as is available to the Scheduled Castes. A Chapter is, therefore, added in Part V of the Report on these erstwhile Scheduled Castes now returning their religion as Buddhist or Nav-Bauddha.

25. The Scheduled Tribe population in Maharashtra has increased from 14·36 lakhs in 1951 to 23·97 lakhs in 1961 or from 4·6 per cent. in 1951 to 6·06 per cent. of the total population in 1961. This increase is partly due to a few additions made to the list of Scheduled Tribes for Yeotmal district in 1956. Nonetheless, the Scheduled Tribe population has also shown a high rate of natural growth. In fact, Akrani Mahal, where the percentage of Scheduled Tribe population is 95·39, has shown the highest growth rate of the decade (55·3 per cent.) among the talukas in Maharashtra.

26. Unlike the Scheduled Castes, the Scheduled Tribes show heavy local concentrations. Buldhana, Akola, Wardha, Nagpur and Bhandara districts have no Scheduled Tribes at all, while Thana, Nasik and Dhulia districts respectively have over 30, 24 and 37 per cent. of their population as Scheduled Tribes. Within the districts also the Scheduled Tribes are more concentrated in certain talukas. The Statement (4) at page 222 shows the talukas where percentage of Scheduled Tribe population to total population is 20 per cent. or above.

Literacy and Education

28. Columns 15, 16 and 17 show figures for literate and educated persons. A "literate" is a person who can both read and write a simple letter. Persons having higher education are also included in this figure. More material on literacy and education cross-tabulated with age-groups is presented in Table C-III in Part II-C, while analytical discussion will be found in Part I of the Report.

29. The Statement (6) at pages 224–225 gives percentage of literates to total population for persons, males and females and by total, rural and urban areas for the State, divisions and districts and for Cities and Towns having a population of 50,000 or more. The percentages given here are out of the total population including children of 0-4 years age-group.

Workers—Non-workers

30. Columns 18 to 50 of the Primary Census Abstract show economic activity of the population. The classification is first into workers (columns 18–20) and non-workers (columns 48–50) and then of the workers into nine categories of economic activity.

31. In the 1951 Census Reports, the population was classified into eight livelihood classes and each class was further divided with reference to economic status into—

(i) self-supporting persons ;
(ii) earning dependants ; and
(iii) non-earning dependants.

32. The concept of dependency has been abandoned for economic classification at the 1961 Census. Instead, the population is classified into workers and non-workers and workers are classified into the following nine categories of economic activity :—

I As Cultivator ;
II As Agricultural Labourer ;
III In Mining, Quarrying, Livestock, Forestry, Fishing, Hunting and Plantations, Orchards and allied activities ;
IV At Household Industry ;
V In Manufacturing other than Household Industry ;
VI In Construction ;
VII In Trade and Commerce ;
VIII In Transport, Storage and Communications ; and IX In other Services.

33. A person is classified as worker if—

(a) in the case of seasonal work like cultivation, livestock, dairying, household industry, etc., he has had some regular work of more than one hour a day throughout the greater part of the working season ; and

(b) in the case of regular employment in any trade, profession, service, business or commerce, he was employed during any of the fifteen days preceding the day of enumerator's visit to the household.

34. A person who was working but was absent from his work during the fifteen days preceding the day on which enumerated or even exceeding the period of fifteen days due to illness or other causes has been treated as worker. A person who had been offered work but had not actually joined has been treated as a non-worker.

35. Work includes not only actual work but effective supervision and direction of work also.

36. Persons under training as apprentices with or without stipend or wages are regarded as workers.

37. An adult woman who was engaged in household duties but doing no other productive work to augment the family's resources has not been considered as working. If, however, in addition to her household work she engaged herself in work such as rice pounding for sale or wages, or in domestic services for wages for others, in minding cattle or selling firewood or making and selling cowdung cakes, or grass, etc. or any such work, she has been treated as a worker.

38. Persons like beggars, pensioners, agricultural or non-agricultural royalty, rent or dividend receivers, etc., who earn an income but who are not participating in any productive work are not treated as workers, unless they also work in cultivation, industry, trade, profession, business or commerce.

39. A public or social service worker who is engaged in public service actively or a political worker who is also actively engaged in furthering the political activity of his party is regarded as a worker.

40. The reference period for classification for seasonal work is the last working season and for non-seasonal regular work a fortnight before enumeration.

41. The population classified as workers here is the economically active population including family workers but not including unemployed persons.

42. The Census Questionnaire did not include any question to determine the numbers of fully employed and under-employed persons out of the employed population.

43. Classification of workers doing two or more different types of work into nine categories of economic activity has been done on the basis of their principal work, i.e. the work which consumes larger portion of their time and not necessarily the work which earns larger portion of their income.

Household Industry

44. A Household Industry is defined as an industry conducted by the head of the household himself and/or mainly members of the household at home or within the village in rural areas and only at home in urban areas. A Household Industry is not run on the scale of a registered factory. Thus, the main criterion for a Household Industry is the participation of one or more members of a household in rural areas. In the urban areas, Household Industry is, in addition, confined to the house.

45. A Household Industry relates to production, processing, servicing, repairing or making and selling of goods. It does not include professions such as pleader, doctor, barber, waterman or astrologer.

Distribution of Workers

46. The Statement (7) at pages 226 to 229 shows the distribution of 1,000 persons, males and females of total, rural and urban areas severally of State, divisions, districts and of Cities among the workers and non-workers, and for each category of workers.

Distribution of Female Workers

47. The Statement (8) at pages 230–231 shows comparative participation of females as workers. The statement also shows the number of females per 1,000 males, for total workers and non-workers as well as for each category of workers.

Other related tables

48. Workers are further classified in greater details up to 3 digits, i.e. by industry minor groups and by occupational families. Tables showing these detailed industrial and occupational classifications are published in Parts II-B (i) and II-B (ii) of the Census Report. Table B-VIII shows the break-up of unemployed persons by educational levels. Non-workers have also been classified in eight categories. These categories cross-tabulated with age-groups will be found in Table B-IX. Both these Tables B-VIII and B-IX are presented in Part II-B (i).
