FOREWORD

Under the 1971 Census series publications, for the first time a state level town directory volume was brought out as a source of basic data in respect of all the towns in the state. The town directory volume, of 1971 series proved useful to the planners, administrators, research workers, academicians and other and, therefore, the state level town directory based on the 1981 census is also proposed to be published. The basic frame of the town directory of the 1981 series remains more or less the same as in the case of 1971 series. However, a few modifications and innovations have been made to make it more informative and useful. It is with this objective in view that a detailed analytical note supported by a number of inset tables based on data on infrastructure have been added.

The volume is divided into two sections. Section A presents an analytical note and the main town directory covering 6 statements and a few appendices. Since the 1981 census could not be conducted in Assam, the town-wise primary census abstract has not been compiled for inclusion in Section A. Section B contains a number of important maps, including maps on land use pattern. Statements I to VI of the town directory provide a wide range of demographic, economic, social and cultural data in respect of each town. These cover information on the location of towns, civic administration status, growth history, physical aspects, civic and other amenities, municipal finances, medical, educational, recreational and cultural amenities besides trade, commerce, industry and banking institutions etc. These statements are broadly comparable to similar statements included in the town directory of the 1971 series and the data contained therein is amenable to a trend analysis. The Statement VII of 1971 series of town directory relating to population by religion and scheduled castes and scheduled tribes has been dropped as its compilation was expected to take time.

The data for the town directory has been compiled in the Census Directorate by Shri N. Bhattacharjee, Assistant Director of Census Operations (T) under the direction of Shri N.K. Choudhury, Ex-Director of Census Operations, Assam. His team of devoted workers led by Shri J.C. Bhuyan, Deputy Director of Census Operations worked painstakingly for compilation of the volume. The task of planning, designing and-co-ordination of the project has been carried out by Dr. N.G. Nag, Deputy Registrar General (Social Studies) of my office. Dr. B.K. Roy, Deputy Registrar General (Map), provided the technical guidance in the preparation of the maps. The draft manuscripts compiled in the Census Directorate have been scrutinised in the Social Studies Division at the headquarters by Shri S.P. Jain, Investigator under the able guidance of Shri M.M. Dua, Dy. Director of Census Operations. I avail of this opportunity to thank all my colleagues who contributed to this project.

PREFACE

The thrust of urbanisation, especially in the developing countries, is on an unprecedented rise and unless the development trends are properly understood and significantly more emphasis is laid on planning, building and controlling development in the larger urban areas, chaos will reign. An in-depth study of the socio-cultural and economic life in urban areas has thus assumed great significance.

The publication of a state level town directory containing comprehensive socio-economic data of each and every town of a state, which was a novel feature of 1971 Census publication programme, has been widely acclaimed by administrators, scholars, research-workers and other actual data users alike.

The present volume contains six statements designed more or less on the pattern of those included in 1971 Census town directory. It also contains maps of all the towns of Assam including maps depicting the pattern of land use in ten towns. Since 1981 Census could not be conducted in Assam the town-wise primary census abstract could not be incorporated in this volume.

We are grateful to the administrators in various local bodies who readily provided us with the required data.

A substantial portion of works of collection and compilation of data presented in this volume was done under the guidance of Shri N.K. Choudhury, Ex-Director of Census Operations, Assam. Shri S.K. Bora and Shri S.K. Barua, Investigators took great pains in compilation and analysis of data obtained from various sources. Dr. R. Kumar, Geographer played a pivotal role in drawing the maps. Shri N. Bhattacharjee, Assistant Director (T) guided the team of devoted workers of this directorate engaged in preparation of this volume.

We are deeply indebted to Shri P. Padmanabha, ex-Registrar General, India and Shri V.S. Verma the Registrar General, India for their inspiring guidance and keen interest in bringing out this volume. We must place on record our deep gratitude to Dr. B.K. Roy, Deputy Registrar General (Map), India for doing the arduous task of checking the maps and to Shri B.P. Jain, Assistant Director in Registrar General's Office for taking great pains in seeing the matter through the press.

ANALYTICAL NOTE

STATE LEVEL TOWN DIRECTORY

Introduction

The publication of a Town Directory for each state was a novel feature of 1971 Census. It included seven statements giving the status, growth history and functional category of towns; physical aspects and location; civic and other amenities; medical, educational, recreational and cultural facilities; trade, commerce, industry and banking and population by religion. It was an important document which portrayed the socio-economic, cultural and demographic life of each town. In 1981 Census also, an attempt has been made to provide similar informations through the Town Directory consisting of six statements. All these statements are almost similar to those adopted for 1971 Census excepting addition of a few new columns in the statements which has been done with a view to facilitate analysis of the data. The statement relating to Religion introduced in 1971 has been dropped this time and a new statement on slum areas has been introduced. The publication programme of 1981 Census envisages bringing out—besides incorporation of the statements of town directory for the towns of each district in the respective District Census Handbooks—the Town Directory for all the towns of the state in one volume to be entitled as 'State Level Town Directory'. The present volume, which for the benefit of data users will provide for each town informations like status and growth history; physical aspects and location; municipal finance; civic and other amenities; medical, educational and cultural facilities and trade, industry, commerce and banking facilities.

The non-census data for the towns of Assam have been obtained from the municipal authorities for the municipal towns and for other towns from the concerned local authorities and/or from offices of Deputy Commissioners and Sub-divisional Officers.

Concept of Urban Area

The dichotomy of the population of a country as rural and urban at a census is a well-accepted practice all over the world. But in view of varying conditions between country to country, it has not been found possible to have a uniform definition of urban that can be universally applicable to all the countries. Definitions have varied even between the different censuses of the same country. In India it was only in 1961 that uniform and somewhat rigid tests were sought to be applied throughout the country for an area to be recognised as an urban unit which was generally followed in 1971 Census too. In the 1981 Census also, the same criteria, as adopted in 1961 and 1971 Censuses are adopted with some minor variations. The criteria adopted in 1981 Census for an area to be treated as urban are spelt out below :

(a) All places with a Municipality, Corporation Cantonment Board or Notified Town Area.

(b) All other places which satisfied the following criteria :

(i) A minimum population of 5,000;

(ii) At least 75% of the male working population engaged in non-agricultural (and allied) economic pursuit;

(iii) A density of population of at least 400 per square kilometre (1,000 per square mile).

The urban concept of the 1981 Census varies slightly from that of 1961 and 1971 in that while the males having activities such as fishing, hunting, logging etc. were treated as engaged in non-agricultural activity during 1961 and 1971 Censuses, in 1981 Census these activities were treated as on per with cultivation and agricultural labour (i.e. agricultural activity for the purposes of this criterion.

Apart from above criteria, the Directors of Census Operations were given some discretion in respect of some marginal cases to include, in consultation with State Government, some places that had other distinct urban characteristics and also to exclude certain urban areas which can no longer be treated as such according to 1981 criteria.

The list of towns for the purposes of 1981 Census was finalised in consultation with the State Government and with the approval of the Registrar General, India.

Urban Agglomeration

The concept of Urban Agglomeration had been developed for the first time in 1971 Census which was no other than an innovation ever the concept of "Town Group" introduced in 1961 Census. It has been decided to follow the concept of Urban Agglomeration for 1981 Census also and data on it have been reproduced almost on the same lines as in 1971 Census.

It is very often found that in several areas around a core city or statutory town have come up fairly large urbanised and well recognised railway colonies, university campus, military campus etc. It is not at all realistic to treat such area lying outside the statutory limits of the towns as rural units though each such individual area by itself may not satisfy the population limit to qualify to be treated as an individual urban unit. Such areas which have definite urban characteristics and form a continuous spread along with the core city or the statutory town deserve to be treated as an integrated urban area. The towns or cities with such spread up have been treated as one urban unit which is called "Urban Agglomeration". An urban agglomeration may constitute as follows : (a) a city or town with contiguous outgrowth the part of outgrowth being out of the statutory limits but falling within the boundaries of the adjoining village or villages; (b) one town with similar out growth or two or more adjoining towns with their outgrowths as in (a) above; (c) a city and one or more adjoining towns with their outgrowths, all of which form a continuous spread.

In Assam there are only four cases of Urban Agglomeration. These are—(i) Badarpur Urban Agglomeration which has been formed with Badarpur (T.C.) and Badarpur Rly. town (ii) Bongaigaon Urban Agglomeration with Bongaigaon (M.B.) and New Bongaigaon Rly. Colony (iii) Digboi Urban Agglomeration consisting of Digboi (T.C) and Digboi Oil Town and (iv) Jorhat Urban Agglomeration has been fromed with Jorhat Municipality and its outgrowths.

Scope off Town Directory

There are altogether 6 statements giving different types of informations for all the towns of Assam which have been incorporated in the Town Directory of 1981 Census. These are same as those adopted in 1971 Census except one giving the population of towns by religion in 1971. The table on religion has been dropped in 1981 Census. Instead, an additional statement i.e. statement IV-A giving informations on notified slum areas of towns having population of 50,000 and above, has been introduced. In case of Assam, however, there is no notified slum area and as such the said table has not found place in this publication. Besides this, for facilitating the analysis of data contained in the statements and to highlight the urbanisation and other trends, a number of inset tables along with five appendices have been introduced in this volume. However, in view of the non-availability of 1981 Census data the number and design of inset tables as well as appendices had to undergo suitable modification in case of Assam. Accordingly, out of 5 appendices originally designed, 4 have been retained for Assam, and a set of 31 inset tables have been retained and revised out of a total of 51 designed for incorporation in the Analytical note.

The Statements

Statement I—It gives the civic status, area, number of households, growth of population from 1901 to 1981, density and sex ratio from 1961 to 1981 for each town of the state. Due to non-availability of 1981 Census data for Assam the columns relating to 1981 Census have been left blank.

Statement II—This statement furnishes data on annual rainfall, temperature, name and distance of the town from state headquarters, district headquarters, Sub-Divisional/Police Station headquarters, nearest city with population of 1 lakh and more, railway station, bus route and navigable river/canal (if within 10 kms.) for each town of Assam.

Statement III—Municipal finance as obtained from the municipalities town committees in respect of town having such statutory bodies has been shown in this statement.

Statement IV—In this statement informations on civic and other amenities such as system of sewerage, number of latrines, method of disposal of night soil, protected water supply, fire fighting services, electrical facilities etc. are furnished for each town. Needless to say that due to non-availability of 1981 Census data, the columns relating to general population as well as population of scheduled castes and scheduled tribes have been left blank in this statement.

Statement IV-A—Civil and other amenities as shown in Statement IV are to be shown in this statement for the notified slums. But as stated earlier there being no notified slum areas in the state, this statement has been dropped from the purview of this volume.

Statement V—It furnishes data on medical, educational, recreational and cultural facilities for each town of the state. Under medical facilities, besides the number of medical institutions, the number of beds in each of the medical institutions has also been provided. Educational facilities cover all kinds of educational institutions including vocational training institutions like shorthand, typewriting and adult literacy classes/centres etc. Under recreational and cultural facilities the number of stadia, cinemas, auditoria, drama halls, public libraries etc. have been shown. Besides these there are columns relating to figures on population and working women's hostels with number of seats. Even at the risk of repetition it is to be said that in case of Assam the population figures could not be shown.

Statement VI—Informations regarding trade, commerce, industry and banking for each town have been included in this statement.

Analysis of data contained in Town Directory Statements

To facilitate analysis of items covered in the statements incorporated in the Town Directory, a set of inset tables has been prepared and are discussed below :—

As per 1981 Census, there are altogether 80 towns in Assam. After 1971 Census the number of towns in Assam has increased with formation of 11 new towns. Out of a total of 72 towns listed during 1971 Census one has been declassified and two namely Pandu and Kamakhya have been merged with Gauhati Municipal Corporation. Ramkrishnanagar of Cochar District has been declassified as it now fails to fulfil the criteria laid down for a place to be treated as urban areas. Out of 11 new towns added in 1981 Census, 7 have been notified as such by the State Government by constituting a Town Committee for each and the remaining 4 have been treated as urban area by the Director of Census Operations, Assam in consultation with the State Government and with the approval of the Registrar General, India. 4 towns declared as such have obtained the status of Census Town (CT).

Table 1 given below shows the number and name of towns added in 1981 Census with their civil status and also with the population that they had as rural areas during 1971 Census.

Table 3(A) given below shows the number of towns within each district with further break-up of the towns into those having statutory bodies and those which have not. Out of 80 towns in the state, 65 have statutory bodies and the rest are census towns with no statutory bodies. The number of towns is found highest in both the districts of Goalpara and Kamrup their number being 16 in each district. Furthermore both these districts record the same number of towns having statutory bodies and those being treated as census towns. It is observed that 5 out of 10 districts in Assam have shown all their towns having statutory bodies. Out of the remaining five districts having non-statutory towns as well Cachar has returned only one such town while there are 4 each in the districts of Goalpara, Kamrup and Dibrugarh. Nagaon district has two non-statutory towns.

Rainfall and temperature table as presented below shows the extent of rainfall and temperature in the district headquarters towns. Average annual rainfall of towns varies between 1217.0 and 3230.1 mm. The highest average annual rainfall is recorded in Silchar town of Cachar district while the lowest of 1217.0 mm is recorded in Diphu town, the headquarters of Karbi Anglong district. The next highest position (2797.4 mm.) has been occupied by North Lakhimpur town of Lakhimpur district. In case of temperature, Nagaon town tops the table in registering both maximum and minimum temperature the maximum being 38.1 celsius and the minimum being 4.8 celsius respectively. The second maximum temperature of 38.0° celsius has been registered both by Gauhati and Tezpur, the headquarters towns of Kamrup district and Darrang district respectively. The lowest maximum temperature of 28.2° celsius has been recorded in Jorhat—the headquarters of Sibsagar district while most of the towns show wide variation between the maximum and minimum temperatures recorded by them. Jorhat town has shown the least variation between maximum and minimum temperatures.

Next table i.e. table 5(A) shows the distance of towns from the nearest city. There is only one city i.e. Gauhati in the state of Assam. Out of 80 towns in the state Gauhati happens to be the nearest city for as many as 71 towns. Other 8 towns along with the Gauhati city are nearer to Shillong which is the capital city of the neighbouring state of Meghalaya. 66 towns of the state are at a distance of 100 kms and above from the nearest cities, 9 towns are at the distance range of 51—100 kms; 3 in the range of 11—25 kms, and 2 in the range of 26—50 kms. There is no any town the distance of which is within 10 kms from the nearest city.

Number of towns within different ranges of distances from district headquarters has been shown in the following table. It is evident from the table that the majority of the towns are situated in the distance range 51—100 kms. There are altogether 33 towns which fall in this range followed by 17 towns in the distance range of 26—50 kms. from the district headquarters towns. There art as many as 6 towns in the district of Goalpara and 5 towns in the district of Kamrup which are more than 100 kms. away from the district headquarters town of Dhubri and Gauhati respectively. Darrang district records two such towns while Nagaon district has one at this distance range.

It is distressing to note that there are altogether 21 towns constituting almost one third of total No. of towns in the state of Assam, which are not connected by rail. Out of which people of as many as 9 towns have to travel more than 26 kms by other mode of transport to reach the nearest rail-head. The nearest rail-head for any of these 21 towns is at a distance of 2—5 kms. and there are only 4 towns located within such distance. The table 6(A) below shows the distribution of these 21 towns amongst the different ranges.

It is hard to conceive of an urban centre without the facility of bus services. But unfortunately there is one such town namely Basugaon (T.C.) which is not linked with the other parts of the state through bus services. Surprisingly enough the nearest bus route for the inhabitants of Basugaon is at a distance range of 16—25 kms. The table 6(B) below corroborates the above statement.

Distribution of towns having navigable river/canal within a distance of 10 kms is shown in the table 6(C) given below. Out of 80 towns in the state 38 have navigable river within 10 kms. There is no such canal in the state where navigation is feasible. Though there are altogether 13 rivers with navigable waterways, prominent among them are only 2. These are the river Brahamaputra and the Barak. Out of 38 towns as many as 20 towns avail the facility of navigation through the river Brahmaputra while the river Barak. extends the facility to only 4 towns.

To acquire an exact idea about the adequacy or otherwise of existing roads in a town it is necessary that parameters like road length per 100 sq. kms. area and per 1000 population of the town are adopted which facilitates a comparative study of such amenity available to different towns in the State. The information on parameter like road length per 100 sq. kms area in the districts is presented below in Table 7. Due to non-availability of 1981 Census population figures parameter like road length per 1000 population could not be adopted in our case.

Total	80	140.27	192.12	390.75

Nagaon district claims the proud position of having the highest aggregate length of loads in the urban areas. In respect of pucca road also this district occupies the first position. The average length of roads per 100 sq. kms. of area for the state as a whole is 390.75 kms. The break-up of pucca and kutcha roads depicts the State average for pucca and kutcha roads per 100 sq. kms. as 140.27 kms. and 192.12 kms. respectively. Due to non-availability of break-up figures for pucca and kutcha road for some of the towns, the total of pucca and Kutcha roads has not tallied with the total road length per 100 sq. kms. for the state as a whole as well as in case of some of the districts.

None but one town in Assam is provided with under-ground sewerage system. Open surface drains have been found to be the most common type of sewerage in as many as 96 out of 80 towns in Assam, 6 towns have the type of Box Surface Drains while an equal number of 3 towns have types of both pit system and Cesspool method respectively. There is only one town which provides the type of sewerage. A table showing distribution of towns by type of sewerage is furnished below :

TABLE 8(A)

District-wise distribution of latrines in percentage by their types has been shown in Table 8(B) given below. For the purpose of the analysis the types of latrines have been grouped into three categories as water-borne, service and others. The percentage (56.24%) of water borne latrines is the highest in Kamrup district closely followed by Karbi Anglong district with 55.46%. Nagaon comes next with 53.38% of such latrines. The number of towns (16) also, however, is the highest in Kamrup district while Karbi Anglong district has only two towns and Nagaon has seven towns within its jurisdiction. The percentage of water borne latrines is the lowest in Goalpara district being only 19.31 closely followed by North Cachar hills district with 19.74%. Karbi Anglong district distinguishes itself by not returning even a single service latrine. The percentage of service latrines is the highest (75.88) in North Cachar hills district while the lowest (9.87%) proportion of this kind of latrines is obtained in case of Darrang district. The proportion of other latrines varies between 49.40% in Darrang and 4.38 in North Cachar hills district.

Practices for disposal of night soil are not the same for all the towns. Different methods have been found prevalent, out of which prominent are Head loads, wheel barrows and Septic tank latrines. Head loads method is prominently practised in as many as 46 towns out of a total of 80 towns in the state. Next comes Septic tank latrines which is prominent in as many as 35 towns while 28 towns have the method of wheel barrows for disposal of night soil. 8 towns practise the method of Baskets and only 3 towns have the method of sewerage. Table 8(C) given below shows the distribution of towns by different prominent methods of disposal of night soil.

To make provision for supply of protected water is one of the prime responsibilities of the administrative authorities of the towns. The source for supply of protected water in the towns of Assam have been shown district-wise in the following table :

The above table shows that piped water which is most chlorinated among the sources forms the most common source of protected water supply in 21 towns out of 80 towns of the state. Tubewell water is mainly used by inhabitants of as many as 28 towns while well water is most commonly used in 19 towns. Only in 12 towns of Assam tanks constitute the prime source for drinking water.

Storage of protected water is an essential prerequisite for supply of piped water. Table 9 (B) below gives the distribution of towns in the districts by the most common system of storage.

B.W.P.—Borewell Pumping System

P.T.—Pressure tank

Only 27 towns have some sort of a system for storage of water supply to their inhabitants.

It is evident from the above table that overhead tanks are to be most commonly found as storage of protected water. As many as 21 towns store the water in overhead tanks. Among other 7 towns, 4 have the system of Service Reservoir, 2 store the water in Pressure tank while only one town has the system of borewell pumping.

Lakhimpur district is conspicuous in not having any arrangement for storage of drinking water.

The availability of fire fighting services in the towns has been focussed in the following table. It is lamentable that only 46 out of a total of 80 towns of Assam have fire fighting services. Leaving aside the N.C. Hills district the percentage of towns in any one district having the fire fighting service is the highest (72.73) in Dibrugarh district while the lowest percentage (37.50) has been recorded by the Goalpara district.

The Availability of fire fighting services at other places by towns not having such amenity has been depicted in Table 10(B) given below.

TABLE 10(B)

10. Cachar	7	—	—	1	1	2
	80	—	3	8	23	34

The table above clearly indicates that as many as 23 towns depend on the fire fighting services available at a minimum distance of 20 kms. The plight of the victims of an unfortunate event of a fire breaking out in any of these urban centres needs no elaboration. Only 3 towns are in a comparatively happy position being in proximity of about 5 kms. from a place where such an amenity is available.

All the towns of Assam are provided with electricity for domestic consumption as well as for other purposes.

Table 11 given below depicts details of various types of medical institutions available in the urban areas of the districts.

It is observed that though the amenities of hospital, family planning centre and T.B. clinic are available in the urban areas of the state in general, quite a few towns here and there are not having such institutions. Towns in Lakhimpur and Karbi Anglong districts are found not having dispensary while Health centres are not available in the urban centres of Dibrugarh and North Cachar hills. Though the number of towns are same in both the districts of Goalpara and Kamrup, it is evident from the table that the total number of medical institutions is almost double in Kamrup compared to that in Goalpara.

The state registers 72 Hospitals, 67 Dispensaries, 21 Health Centres, 39 Family Planning Centres, 23 T.B. Clinics, 18 Nursing Homes and 17 other institutions in its urban areas during the year 1979.

The number of towns where adult literacy centres are available has been shown with district-wise break-up in table 12 given below. The table shows that the urban areas of Kamrup district with as many as 9 such centres acquire the enviable position in the state having a district edge over the other districts.

	80	4 (6)	15 (18)	63 (120)	54 (108)	59 (134)

The above table reveals that out of a total of 80 towns in the state, working women's hostels are available only in 4 towns with 6 such institutions. Stadia are available in 15 towns and their number is 18, 120 cinema halls spread over 63 towns provided recreational facilities. Auditoria numbering 108 are available in 54 towns while 134 public libraries are there in 59 towns. While going through the districts we find that working women's hostels are available in urban areas of only 3 districts namely Goalpara, Kamrup and Dibrugarh. Stadia are found not available in any of the towns of Darrang, Lakhimpur and North Cachar hills. Cinema halls are not available in each and every town of the districts of the plains excepting Sibsagar and Dibrugarh. The number of auditoria is the highest in Kamrup district (26 in 12 towns) closely followed by Dibrugarh district (23 in 8 towns). The urban areas of Kamrup district recorded as many as 51 public libraries followed by 19 in Dibrugarh district.

There most important commidities manufactured in the urban areas of Assam have been focussed in tables 14(A), 14(B) and 14(C) reproduced below. The commodites manufactured as classified of the National Major Groups and Minor Groups of the National Industrial Classification, 1970 and the number of towns manufacturing the particular commodity is shown against the commodity. The explanation of the Industrial codes is given in the Annexure appended to this publication.

Table 14(A) reveals that the highest number (14) of towns manufacture the commodities like mustard oil, tea, coffee and spices falling under major group 21 as the foremost important commodity. Products such as Ghee, fruit products, rice and biscuits which fall under major group 20 come next with 11 towns having such manufacturing units. Products classified under major group 32 and 33 are manufactured as the most important commodity by the lowest number (4) of towns.

As regards manufacture of the second important commodity we find that as many as 11 towns manufacture items falling under major group 27 followed by 10 towns manufacturing items classified under major group 21. Items falling under major group 34 are produced only in 1 town.

Information regarding the third most important commodity manufactured in the urban centres of Assam are furnished in Table 14(C). It is observed that the highest number (11) of towns manufacture items which are covered by major group 20. Commodities classified under major groups 22, 28, 33 and 38 are manufacture as the third most important article in the lowest number (1) of urban centres.

An attempt has also been made to focuss an overall picture of the pattern of various commodities being imported into the towns of Assam. The commodities imported have again been grouped into the divisions, Major groups and Minor groups of the National Industrial Classification (NIC) 1970. Here also commodities have been ranked as First important, Second important and Third important and shown in Table 15(A), 15(B) and 15(C) respectively and are given below :

Regarding the foremost important commodity imported which has been classified in table 15(A) it is found that all the commodities come under a single Division of N.I.C. An overwhelming majority of imported commodities like rice, wheat, pulse, sugar, salt etc. classified under Major group 60. Medicines, raw belmetal sheet which fall under Major group 61 are imported by 6 towns and petroleum products belonging to Major group 62 are imported by an equal number of towns an cement, hardwares belonging to Major group 64 are imported by 4 towns as the foremost important commodity. In respect of the second important commodity imported also it is found that all the commodities imported fall under Division 6 alone and the bulk of these articles such as rice, wheat, pulse, sugar, salt, potato, mustard oil and cloth coming under Major group 60 are imported by as many as 62 towns.

If we look at table 15(C), which relates to third commodity imported we shall see here also that like first and second commodity, commodities imported by as many as 59 towns are grouped under Major group 60 alone. Only 1 town imports commodity classified under Major group 63.

The terms import and export are very much correlated. After analysing in details the nature of commodities imported into the towns of Assam, we now bring into the purview of our discussion the different commodities exported by the towns in the order of first, second and third important commodity shown in tables 16(A), 16(B) and 16(C) below :

It is evident from Table 16(A) that among the 1st important commodities exported, items belonging to Major group 60 play the predominant role which are exported by as many as 39 towns. The items hereunder have been classified into Minor group 600, 601, 602 and 603. Next place has been occupied by Major group 64, items belonging to which are exported by 24 towns. Jute falling under Minor group 649 constitute the main item under this group. It is observed that Jute and tea, Assam is famous for, quite naturally form the main items of export.

Table 16(B) gives the details of second important commodities exported by the towns. It is seen in the table that as in the case of 1st important commodities here also the largest number of towns export commodities that are grouped under Major group 60. The articles mainly include rice, mustard seeds and betelnuts.

The next position is occupied by commodities classified under Major group 62 followed by items under major group 64. The number of towns exporting such items being 16 and 12 respectively.

This table reveals that rice, jute, timber, mustard seeds betelnut etc. constitute the second important items exported by the towns of Assam.

As regards the third important commodities exported by the urban centres it is found that commodities falling under Major group 60 are mostly dealt with for export by as many as 32 towns. Out of these 23 towns export articles which belong to Minor group 601 alone. Next in importance comes Major group 62 articles under which, mainly timber and bamboo products are exported by 24 towns.

Table 17 reproduced below furnishes details of banks as well as agricultural and non-agricultural credit societies functioning in the urban areas of the districts of Assam.

10. Cachar	7	6 (33)	3 (3)	4 (32)
Total	80	77 (275)	27 (152)	24 (666)

As many as 77 towns out of a total of 80 towns of Assam receive banking facilities available within their jurisdiction. Of the remaining three towns not having this facility one each is found in Goalpara, Kamrup and Cachar district. The total number of banking institutions in the state is 275. It is interesting to note here that though Goalpara and Kamrup district present an equal number of towns yet Kamrup records almost double the number of banks obtained in Goalpara district. Sibsagar district with 40 Banks in 10 towns comes next followed by Dibrugarh district with 34 banks in 11 towns. But Cachar district with much less number of towns has comparatively much good banking facilities where as many as 33 banks are functioning in only 6 towns. The district of Darrang has a slight edge over Nagaon district with same number of towns in both the districts.

So far as agricultural and non-agricultural credit societies are concerned, we find that less than one third of the towns of Assam is having such facilities. However, the number of towns having agricultural credit socities is more by 3 than that having non-agricultural credit socities. When 152 agricultural credit societies are available in 27 towns, as many as 666 non-agricultural credit societies are available in 24 towns in the state. Kamrup district alone accounts for 520 non-agricultural credit societies and as many as 91 agricultural credit societies. It is but quite natural that the bulk of the three types of institutions are concentrated in the district of Kamrup which is the nerve centre of the state. These are two district in the state where no such credit societies are available. These are Dibrugarh and Nagaon. North Cachar Hills district does not have any agricultural credit society. 19 non-agricultural credit societies are however available there.
