FOREWORD

One of the special features of 1971 Census is a compilation of directory of all the towns of India. It includes seven statements giving the status, growth history and functional category of towns, physical aspects and location, municipal finance, civic and other amenities, medical, educational recreational and cultural facilities; trade, commerce, industry and banking and population by religion. The Primary Census Abstract of each town will also be presented in this directory.

The rationale for providing wide range of other information alongwith the primary census data of each town derives from the fact that the demographic data of the census are on the one hand the products of the inter-play of a number of economic, cultural and social factors; on the other hand the demographic situation in its totality influences the economic, social and cultural developments of villages, towns and areas of higher order. It is this dynamic inter-relationship which is intended to be highlighted, by bringing together census and non-census statistics and other data in the town directory.

Alongwith the qualitative and quantitative data, suitable maps have also been included in the directory. One map proposes to bring out the spatial relations of the towns of different size groups and Functional categories. Another one intends to bring out in visual focus, the spatial pattern of distribution of functional areas inside the towns of different size groups and functional categories. In the context of these two sets of visual presentation, one important demographic character of the town the gradience of the distribution of the population in different densities, is proposed to be brought out in a third map.

It is hoped that the town directory will stimulate considerable research in the various associated disciplines in the country.

The planning of the project has been done in the Social Studies Division in the Office of the Registrar General, India, under the guidance of my colleague Dr. B. K. Roy Burman, Deputy Registrar General (Social Studies). The data have been compiled in the offices of the Directors of Census Operations. In the compilation of the data a large number of sources had to be tapped. I avail of this opportunity to thank all my colleagues associated with the project, and also the various official and non official agencies without whose cooperation it would not have been possible to collect the manifold data for all the towns of the country.

INTRODUCTORY NOTES

According to the 1971 Census the population residing in Urban areas of the State was 12,388,596 accounting for 14·02% of the total population. In 1901 these figures stood at 5,390,611 (11·09%). It would be apparent that urbanisation has not made much headway ; although the strength of the Urban population has increased by 6,997,985.

On account of industrial development and technological advancement in urban centres as also pressure on land in the rural areas, there is a constant migration of population from rural areas to urban centres in search of livelihood. As a result several agglomerations have sprung up in or around industrial areas which now present problems which were never dreamt of in the past. It has become necessary to make detailed studies of the complex problems which have arisen in the urban areas. It is expected that the data presented here would be helpful to demographers and research scholars for further research in the field.

Among manifold problems of Urban areas housing is the most acute one. Closely connected with it are problems of water supply, sanitation, transport and communication. When large number of persons stay in a small area, the hazards to health are also many. Provision of protected water supply and adequate underground drainage facility is the minimum requirement of any health programme in a densely urbanised area. A large number of persons have to commute every day not only to and from their places of work, but marketing centres and places of recreation and entertainment. A satisfactory and efficient transport system is a basic requirement which must be fulfilled. Provision of educational facilities to children in the school-going age-groups within reasonable distance is a requirement which cannot be ignored.

A very careful and systematic study of the above problems has to be made in order to provide a balanced development of any area. Basic data for each of the urban areas of the State is being published for the first time in Census to meet out the urgent need of the administrators, planners and others. It is hoped that this data at one place would be helpful in Urban studies.

Scope of Town Directory

This Directory furnishes the basic data for each urban area in the State in seven statements covering :

(1) the status of the Civic Administration, the functional category of towns and the growth of population since 1901 ;

(2) Physical aspects and location ;

(3) Civic finance ;

(4) Civic and other amenities ;

(5) Medical, educational, recreational and cultural facilities ;

(6) Trade, industry, commerce and banking facilities and

The Primary Census data for each urban area are also incorporated in the volume.

In the case of municipal towns, the non-Census data were obtained from municipal authorities and for other towns these were obtained from the concerned local authorities. The information was scrutinised in the Directorate of Census Operations.

Definition of Urban Area

The study of definitions of urban area from 1901 to 1971 Census provides an interesting account, pointing towards a gradual evolution. Briefly the definitions of town in different censuses are given below. For more detailed study Part II-A (i)—General Population Tables, Census of India 1961 and 1971 may be consulted.

1901 and 1911—A town was defined as :—

(i) every continuous group of houses inhabited permanently by not less than 5,000 people and

(ii) every area within which the Chaukidari Act or the Municipal Act or the Cantonment Act is in force.

1921—The definition remained as before except that for the above Acts, Act-II of 1914 and Act II of 1916 were substituted. Two explanations were added.

1 Where several villages lie so close together that their homes form a continuous group with a population exceeding 5,000 such group is a town and

2 Where one village is broken up into distinct groups of homes, none of which contains more than 5,000 inhabitants the place is not a town.

1931 and 1941

The definition included all municipalities, notified areas, town areas and cantonments. The Census Superintendent was given the discretion to treat a place inhabited by not less than 5,000 persons as a town considering its character, importance and historical associations.

1951—In the Census of 1951 a city was defined as a town with a population not less than one lakh or any other town with an expected population of 50,000 or above which the State Superintendents with the sanction of the State Government might decide to treat as a city for Census purposes.

1961—The following places were deemed to be Urban at the 1961 Census :

1. All Municipalities and Notified Areas
2. All Cantonments
3. All places satisfying the three conditions noted below :—
   (i) Population exceeds 5,000
   (ii) At least three-fourths of the working population depends on non-agricultural pursuits and
   (iii) Density of population exceeds 1,000 persons per sq. mile (386 per sq. km.)
4. All localities though not in themselves local bodies which are contiguous to a city or town and have urban characteristics mentioned at (ii) and (iii) above.

The definition adopted during 1961 Census was also adopted during the 1971 Census and all places satisfying the following conditions have been treated as towns :—

1. All Municipal Corporations, Municipal Boards, Cantonments and Notified Areas.
2. All localities though not in themselves local bodies but forming part of a city or town agglomeration.
3. All other places satisfying all the three undermentioned conditions :—
   (a) a minimum population of 5,000 ;
   (b) at least 75% of male working population is non-agricultural, and,
   (c) a density of population exceeding 1,000 persons per sq. mile (386 persons per sq. km.)

Those which have a population of one lakh and above were treated as 'Cities'.

DETAILED NOTES OF ITEMS COVERED IN THE STATEMENTS TO THE TOWN DIRECTORY

The basic data of the Town Directory have been presented in the following seven statements :—

Statement I

Civic status of each town, its growth since 1901, its functional category in 1961 and 1971 Censuses have been given in this Statement. The civic administration status of each town as in 1970 has been recorded in column 5 of the statement by using the following abbreviations :—

Status		Abbreviation
1	Municipal Corporation	C
2	Municipal Board	M
3	Town Area Committee	TC
4	Notified Area Committee	NA
5	Cantonment	CB

Columns 14 and 15 of the statement reveal the functional categories of the towns according to 1961 and 1971 Census. The method applied for determining the functional category is uniform for 1961 and 1971 Censuses and was worked out on the basis of the formula given below:—

The nine industrial categories of workers adopted in 1971 Census were grouped into 5 sectors as follows :—

Functional Sector	Industrial Categories
1. Primary Activities (agricultural and its allied branches)	I Cultivators
	II Agricultural Labourers
	III Livestock, forestry, fishing, hunting and plantations, Orchards and allied activities.
	IV Mining and Quarrying.
2. Industry (including constructions)	V Manufacturing, processing, servicing and repairs.
	VI Constructions
3. Commercial	VII Trade and Commerce
4. Transport, Storage and Communications.	VIII Transport, Storage and Communications.
5. Other services	IX Other services.

These five functional sectors have been shown by using the following abbreviations :—

Functional Sector	Abbreviation
1 Primary activities	Pr.
2 Industry	Ind.
3 Commercial	Com.
4 Transport, Storage and Communications.	Tr.
5 Other Services	Ser.

The percentage of workers under each of the above five groups to total working population is worked out for each town. These towns are then classified according to their percentage values which determine the characteristics of the towns as primary activity, industrial, commercial, transport and service etc. town on the following basis :— (i) If one functional sector of the economy absorbs more than 2/5th of the total working population (more than 40%) then the town would be designated (mono-functional) by that particular industrial category. (ii) If the percentage falling under any one industrial category is less than 40% then the next predominant industrial category is taken into account, so that their total reaches three-fifths of the working population i.e. 60 per cent. Such a town would then be designated as (bi-functional) like, industry-cum-service town or commercial-cum-transport town or as the figures may indicate. (iii) If the total percentage of any two categories does not come to 60 per cent, then the third predominant industrial category is taken into account and it is designated as (multi-functional) like, Industry-cum-service-cum-transport town etc.

Statement II

This statement gives details of physical aspects and location of towns. Under physical aspects, the details relating to annual rainfall and minimum and maximum temperature are given. The statement also gives the details of distance (by road) of the towns from the nearest City. (with population of 1 lakh and above), from State Headquarters. It also gives details as to whether or not a town has a navigable river/canal within 10 km. and the name of sea-port (if any) within 50 km. (The latter is not applicable to towns of Uttar Pradesh).

Statement III

This statement gives details of Civic finance for the Municipal Corporation, Municipal Board, Notified Area, Town Area and Cantonment Board for the year 1968-69. It also gives the number of banks and agricultural as well as non-agricultural Co-operative Credit Societies.

Statement VII

This statement covers the details of the population (by sex break-up) of each town by religion viz. Hinduism, Islam, Sikhism, Jainism, Christianity and Buddhism. Primary Census Abstract

It contains primary Census data which includes area of each town in Sq. kilometres, the number of occupied residential houses, the number of households, total population with sex breakup (including Houseless and Institutional population) and population of scheduled castes and scheduled tribes, literate and educated persons. The entire working population of each town with sex break-up is divided into nine broad industrial categories namely (i) cultivators, (ii) agricultural labourers, (iii) those working in livestock, forestry, fishing, hunting, plantation etc., (iv) in mining and quarrying, (v) in manufacturing, processing, servicing and repairing, (vi) in construction, (vii) in trade and commerce, (viii) in transport, storage and communications and (ix) in other services and non-working population.

Urban Development

The rate of increase of Urban population in Uttar Pradesh and in other States of India is shown in Table 1. It would be seen from the Table that during the decade 1961-71 while the population of U.P. increased by 19·79 per cent, its urban population increased by 30·68 per cent. It would further be seen that in 1961 the proportion of urban population to the total population was 12·85 per cent which has now gone upto 14·02 per cent in 1971.

The rate of growth of population in Uttar Pradesh during the two decades 1951-1961 and 1961-71 is lower as compared to All India. During 1951-61 decade the population in Uttar Pradesh increased by 16·66% against the All India increase of 21·64 per cent, similarly, during the decade 1961-71, the population in Uttar Pradesh increased by 19·79 per cent against the All India figure of 24·75 per cent. The growth of urban population in U. P. had shown an increase of 9·90 per cent during 1951-61 against the All India figure of 26·41 per cent. This gap has narrowed down during 1961-71 decade since the urban population in Uttar Pradesh increased by 30·68 per cent against 38·23 per cent in All India. Pace of urbanisation during 1961-71 has been faste in Uttar Pradesh compared to 1951-61.

Study of growth of urbanisation in Uttar Pradesh and India brings out some interesting points. The urban population in Uttar Pradesh in 1901 was 53·91 lakhs which formed 11·01 per cent of the total population. The corresponding figures for the country was 2·59 crores, which constituted 10·84 per cent of the total population.

During the last 70 years the percentage of urban population in Uttar Pradesh has moved up from 11·09 per cent in 1901 to 14·02 per cent in 1971 against the All India figure of 10·84 per cent in 1901 to 19·91 per cent in 1971. If we consider the absolute figures, the total urban population in Uttar Pradesh has more than doubled while All India figures have quadrupled in last 70 years.

* (i) In working out 'decade variation' and 'percentage decade variation' for India for 1941-51 and 1951-61, the 1951 & 1961 population of Tuensang district of Nagaland i.e. 7,025 & 134,275 respectively have not been taken into account as this area was censused for the first time in 1951 and these figures are not comparable.

(ii) The 1961 population (336,558) of Arunachal Pradesh (N. E. F. A.) has also not been taken into account for working out the decade variation and percentage decade variation for 1951-61 of India as it was censused for the first time in 1961 Census.

It would be seen from Table 3 below that urban population has been increasing during the last decade in Uttar Pradesh as well as in India. The proportion of urban population to total population varies considerably from State to State. The statewise percentage of urban population shows that Uttar Pradesh ranks fourteenth as regards proportion of urban population. Uttar Pradesh is thus far behind the country's average of 19·91 per cent in urbanisation. The pace of urbanisation in Uttar Pradesh, in spite of its large number of cities and towns, has been much slower than in the country as a whole.

Note on Statement I

Number of Towns—There were 284 urban areas in 1961 Census in Uttar Pradesh. This figure has moved up to 334 during the 1971 Census. It is significant that all the 284 urban areas of 1961 Census have retained their urban status during 1971 Census. As such no town was declassified during the decade 1961-71.

Towns Added in 1971 Census

During the Census of 1971, 50 new areas have been given urban status. All these except Atarra have attained urban status for the first time. Atarra was first treated as urban area in 1951. Subsequently it was declassified on account of non-fulfilment of the urban conditions in 1961. In 1971 Atarra with a population of 17,231 regained its urban status. Maudaha, Muhammadabad and Bansi, which are tahsil headquarters were treated as urban areas for the first time during the 1971 Census. Pithoragarh and Khalilabad have also been classified as Urban during the 1971 Census, the former is a district headquarters and latter a tahsil headquarters. Khalilabad has acquired urban status due to its emergence as a centre of manufacture and sale of handloom products. Maruadih, Obra and Renukoot are classified as urban areas for the first time during the 1971 Census, the former being industrial-cum-residential town, which has sprung up on account of the manufacture of Diesel locomotive, the latter is due to the establishment of some big concerns like Hindalco etc. and Obra, with 11,505 persons, has come up on account of Obra Thermal Power Project. Bharat Heavy Electricals Ltd., an industrial-cum-residential township near Hardwar with a population of 12,094 persons has attained urban status during the 1971 Census. Table 4 gives details of the towns added in 1971 alongwith their population.

The 1971 population count reveals that the population of Uttar Pradesh State is 8·83 crores, of which 1·24 crores reside in urban areas. Thus he percentage of urban population to the total tate population comes to 14·02 per cent. The districtwise distribution of urban population given hereunder (Table 5) shows that Lucknow, Dehra Dun, Kanpur, Agra, Varanasi, Jhansi, Meerut, Moradabad, Saharanpur, Bareilly, Naini Tal, Rampur, Allahabad, Bijnor, Aligarh, Mathura and Shahjahanpur districts have higher proportion of urban population as compared to the State average of 14·02. The remaining districts (37) fall below the State average. Lucknow, the capital of the State is highly urbanised district with 59·90 per cent of the population living in urban areas. The next in order is Dehra Dun district having 47·08 per cent urban population. It is closely followed by Kanpur and Agra with 42·80 per cent and 36·61 per cent respectively. Pratapgarh, Sultanpur, Basti, Unnao, Tehri Garhwal and Deoria districts are least urbanised as the urban population in these districts varies from a minimum of 1·96 per cent in Pratapgarh to 2·96 per cent in Deoria. The following Table 5 gives the distribution of urban population in descending order :

Towns Declassified in 1971

As already stated, no town has been declassified during the decade 1961-71.

CLASS VI	(Below 5,000)	26	55,790	0·59	26	56,221	0·45

Seven cities—Kanpur, Lucknow, Agra, Varanasi, Allahabad, Meerut and Bareilly have continued to remain in Class I ever since 1901. In 1931, Moradabad acquired the status of a Class I city. In 1941 Shahjahanpur, Saharanpur, Aligarh and Jhansi qualified for this class. In 1951 Rampur, Dehra Dun, Mathura and Gorakhpur joined the rank. In 1961 Mirzapur-cum-Vindhyachal joined this class and in 1971 Firozabad, Ghaziabad, Muzaffaranagar, Farrukhabad-cum-Fatehgarh and Faizabad-cum-Ayodhya raising the number of Class I cities to 22.

It would be seen from Table 6 given above that 49·97 per cent of the total urban population was living in Class I cities in 1961 Census, this proportion has gone up to 52·89 per cent in 1971. As against 18 towns in the population range of 50,000 to 99,999 during 1961 Census there are now 21 such towns in 1971 Census. The towns added to the list of Class II towns are Haldwani-cum-Kathgodam, Banda and Khurja. The population in Class II towns formed 12·94 per cent of the total urban population during 1961 Census. During the decade this proportion has gone down to 11·56. During 1961 Census 62·91 per cent of the urban population lived in Class I and II towns, this proportion has gone up to 64·45 per cent during 1971 Census. This shows an increasing concentration of population in the towns of higher class. There were 56 Class III towns in 1961 Census covering 17·80 per cent urban population. This number rose to 71 in the 1971 Census but the percentage of population covered is about the same (17·87). As against 82 Class IV towns covering 11·91 per cent of the urban population in 1961, there are now 100 such towns covering 11·56 per cent of urban population. In this class although the number has increased, the proportion of population has gone down. There were 85 Class V towns in 1961, their number has gone up to 94 in 1971 showing an increase in number of towns. The proportion of urban population living in such towns has slightly gone down during the 1971 Census. There were 26 Class VI towns in the 1961 Census and this number remains constant. The percentage of total population has, however, gone down from 0·59 to 0·45.

The distribution of towns by civic status is given in the following table 7 which reveals that five cities namely Kanpur, Lucknow, Varanasi, Allahabad and Agra have Municipal Corporations while 151 towns have Municipal Boards, 11 towns have Notified Areas, 83 towns have Town Areas and 54 towns in the State have neither municipalities nor town areas for the town administrations.

Functional Characteristics

During the 1961 Census, 284 areas were declared as urban areas. The distribution of all these 284 towns by their functional categories revealed that 127 towns had mono-functional characteristics, 78 towns had bi-functional characteristics and 79 towns had multi-functional characteristics. According to the 1971 Census 334 towns have been declared as urban and their distribution by functional categories indicates that 133 have mono-functional characteristics, 67 have bi-functional characteristics and 133 have multi-functional characteristics. One town namely Badrinathpuri was uninhabited at the time of the enumeration during the 1971 Census. The following Table 8 shows the comparison of functional categories of towns during the 1961 and 1971 Censuses:—

A further analysis of towns by the functional categories and size class of towns (given in Table 9) shows that out of 22 Class I towns, 5 towns have one characteristic viz. Service (3 towns) and Industry (2 towns), 8 have two characteristics viz. Industry-cum-Service and 9 have three characteristics of which one has Service-cum-Commercial-cum-Industry, three have Industry-cum-Service-cum-Commercial, two have Service-cum-Industry-cum-Commercial, one has Industry-cum-Commercial-cum-Service and two have Service-cum-Transport-cum-Industry. Out of 21 Class II towns, 3 have a single characteristic, 4 have two characteristics and 14 have three characteristics. Out of 71 Class III towns, 18 have a single characteristic 19 have two characteristics and 34 have three characteristics. Out of 100 Class IV towns, 42 have single characteristic, 15 have two characteristics and 44 have three characteristics. In Class V towns, 42 have one characteristic, 21 have two characteristics and 31 have three characteristics, whereas in class VI towns, 23 have one characteristic, one each has two and three characteristics. It would be seen that Service is mainly reflected as a single important characteristic in 66 towns of different classes.

The classification of towns by functional categories pointedly brings out that there are very few towns which have a single characteristic. It would be seen from the towns having two characteristics or three characteristics that Service hold an important place in combination with Industrial and Primary Activities for most of the towns. The second position after Service is occupied by Primary Activities.

Note on Statement II

This statement gives the physical aspects and location of towns.

Uttar Pradesh has always occupied a unique place in the map of India. "In the Vedic period it was the centre of Aryavarta. The upper Ganga Valley and the land adjoining the upper Yamuna on its western side bore the name of Madhyadesa and its core was the Dhruva Madhyamadesa 'the firm middle country' extending as far east as Prayag. Of the sixteen maha Janpadas (States) existing in the early days of Buddhism, as many as seven were located in Uttar Pradesh, viz. (1) Kuru (Meerut) and extending to Delhi and (Taneshwar), (2) Panchala (Bareilly, Budaun and Farrukhabad), (3) Surasena (Mathura region), (4) Vatsa (Allahabad region), (5) Kosala (Oudh), (6) Malla (Deoria district) and (7) Kashi (Varanasi). In the Middle Ages the great northern Indian plain was known as Hindostan and while the Punjab, Gujarat, Bihar and Bengal had their distinctive names, the areas comprised in the present Uttar Pradesh had no other and was completely identified with Hindostan. The area between the Ganga and the Yamuna was a land of great importance and was referred to as the Doab.[1] "Justifying its ancient as well as modern name it lies between latitudes 23°·52'N and 31° 28'N and longitudes 77° 4' E and 84° 38' E. On the north it has International Frontiers with Tibet and Nepal. In the south it touches Madhya Pradesh. In the north-west and the west are Himachal Pradesh, Punjab, Delhi and Rajasthan. The eastern border is entirely with Bihar. Physiographically Uttar Pradesh, can be divided into three distinct regions. viz. the Himalayan region in the north, the Gangetic plain in the middle and the Hills and Plateau in the South. The Himalayan Region is mountainous and is traversed by several ranges extending from the bare region of perpetual snow to the densely wooded Siwalik hills[2].

The distribution of the towns by the latitude range given in Table 10 above reveals that in this State no town is situated between the altitude range 0-50. 54 towns are in the altitude range of 51 to 100, 157 towns are above 100 metres but up to 200 metres and 123 towns are in the altitude range of more than 200 metres.

The details relating to the distance of the towns from the nearest city having a population of more than one lakh have been included in Table 11. It reveals that Agra is the nearest city having more than one lakh population for 12 urban areas. Out of these 12 urban areas, Firozabad. and Mathura are Class I, Achhnera, Fatehpur Sikri, Jalesar, Aliganj and Jaswantnagar are Class IV towns whereas Etmadpur, Shamshabad, Fatehabad, Bah and Mathura Cantt. are Class V towns. Allahabad is the nearest city for 10 urban areas, out of which 7 (Mauaima, Mongra Badshahpur, Phulpur, Sirsa, Machhlishahr, Rajapur and Manikpur Sarhat) are of Class V; Atarra and Chitrakut Dham are of Class IV and Bela Pratapgarh is of Class III. For 17 urban areas Kanpur is the nearest city in which Lucknow is of Class I town; Fatehpur and Banda of Class II; Unnao, Charbagh-Alambargh, Kalpi, Lucknow Cantt. Auraiya and Orai are of Class III; Bindki, Hamirpur, Bharthana, Maudaha and Bilgram of Class IV; whereas Madhoganj, Pukhrayan and Lakhna are Class V towns. Lucknow is a nearest city for 26 urban areas, out of which Kanpur, Faizabad-cum-Ayodhya are of Class I; and Kanpur Cantt. and Sitapur are of Class II; Nawabganj (Bara Banki), Sandila, Rae Bareli and Laharpur are of Class III; Zaidpur, Fatehpur (Bara Banki), Biswan, Khurja, Armapur Estate, Northern Railway Colony (Kanpur), Mahmudabad, Rudauli and Jais are of Class IV; Malihabad, Banki, Rampur Bhawanipur, I. I. T. Kanpur, Faizabad Cantt. and Neemsar-Misrikh are of Class V; whereas Military Petrol Depot, Rawatpur Station Yard and Central Railway Colony are of Class VI towns. Varanasi is the nearest city for 24 urban areas, out of which 11 Mahuadih, Ram nagar (Varanasi), Mughalsarai, Northern Railway Colony (Mughalsarai), Ahraura, Saidpur, Muhammadabad (Ghazipur), Shahabad, Kopaganj, Rasra and Reoti are of Class IV; Lohta, Chakia, Chandauli, Kerakat, Mariahu and Muhammadabad (Azamgarh), belong to Class V; Azamgarh, Ghazipur, Mubarakpur and Ballia are of Class III, Jaunpur and Maunath Bhanjan belong to Class III; whereas Mirzapur-cum-Vindhyachal is Class I town.

The distribution of towns by the distance from the nearest city shows that 9 towns are located within a distance of 10 km. whereas 32 towns are situated in the distance group of 11 to 25 km and 91 towns are within a distance group of 26 to 50

km. It would be seen that quite a significant number of towns (200) are beyond a distance of 50 km. from the nearest city and 65 are even beyond 100 km.

The following Table 11-A summarises the distribution of towns by distance from the nearest city given in detail above.

Note: 2 Urban areas of size class V towns are not included in the above distribution.

The distribution of towns by distance from the district Headquarters given below in Table 12 shows that 97 urban areas are within a distance of 10 km. from the district Headquarters whereas 44 towns are in the distance range of 11 to 25 km. from the district Headquarters. Those in the distance group of 26 to 50 km. number 118, whereas those beyond 50 km. but less than 100 km. are 61. There are 12 urban areas which are more than 100 km. away from the district Headquarters. Only in 5 districts viz. Garhwal, Naini Tal, Hamirpur, Banda and Mirzapur, urban areas are situated at a distance of more than 100 km. from the district Headquarters. There are 5 urban areas which are situated beyond 100 km. in Mirzapur district.

Out of 334 urban areas only 200 urban areas are connected by rail the distribution of 124 urban areas not connected by rail by their distance from the nearest rail head is given below in Table 13. It shows that for five urban areas the nearest railway station is within 1 km. whereas for 29 urban areas the railway station is within the range of 2 to 5 km. and for 17 urban areas the railway station is within the range of 6 to 10 km. 18 urban areas have railway stations at a distance range of 11 to 15 km. and 22 have their railway stations at a distance ranging from 16 to 25 kms. The largest number of urban areas (43) not connected by rail have their railway stations beyond 26 km.

*Information of I.I.T. Kanpur has not been included because of its special characteristics.

† Information of 10 urban areas being mostly Rly. Colonies and Institutions is not available and hence it is excluded. Besides data of F.R.I. Dehra Dun, Narendranagar, Deva Prayag, Bhowali, Landour Cantt. and Muni-Ki-Reti have also been dropped out because of their special characteristics causing undue high budgetary receipts and expenditures.

The per capita total receipt for the urban areas works out to Rs. 30.89. More than one-third i.e. Rs. 11.56 is received from taxes. Less than two-third i.e. Rs. 19,33 is received from all other sources.

The per capita total expenditure of the urban areas is less than the per capita receipt. It is Rs. 28·38 against the per capita receipt of Rs. 30·89. The gap is noticed only in cities having population of more than one lakh. In the rest of the categories of urban areas, there is no noticeable difference in the per capita receipt and expenditure. The per capita expenditure on public health and conveniences is only Rs. 8·69 and on public institutions Rs. 3·73 only The expenditure on all other aspects is, however, Rs. 15·96.

It has generally been felt that the ability of local bodies to mobilise resources is seldom commensurate with the functions assigned to them and it is of common knowledge that the gaps between the functions and resources of local bodies is gradually widening. As indicated above difference in per capita of receipt and expenditure does not necessarily indicate the strength or weakness of the local finances. To quote from Uttar Pradesh Taxation Enquiry Committee report 1968-69 p. 148.

"A local body might be showing surplus in its budget by rendering civic services at a very low level of efficiency or by not rendering some services at all. The real problem of local finance is not that of balancing the budget but that of matching the resources with statutory obligation".

It would be seen from the above Table 14 that the per capita total receipt is maximum (Rs. 33·20) in towns having population of more than one lakh whereas it is the minimum (Rs. 11·50 in the class V urban areas i.e., having population 5,000 to 9,999. The diminishing trend of per capita receipt is visible from the figures shown in the Table given above. The per capita receipt declines with decrease in the population size of the towns with an exception in Class VI towns. A similar trend can also be seen from the per capita receipt through taxes. The per capita receipt is highest in Class I towns being Rs. 13·61. It drops to Rs. 11·86 in Class II towns, Rs. 10·41 in Class III towns and Rs. 9·57 in Class, VI towns. In Class IV and V towns the receipt from the taxes is very meagre being Rs. 7·28 and Rs. 4·22 respectively. This trend also indicates that large sized urban areas can effectively raise resources for the civic finance through taxation when compared with the smaller-size-class town except those towns that get financial help from the Government for some specific purposes.

The per capita receipt from all other sources also shows almost similar trend. It can also be seen from the Table that per capita income from all other sources is Rs. 19·59 for the towns having more than one lakh population It declines to Rs. 16·48 in Class IV towns which is followed by Class III towns where it stands at Rs. 13·97. This income for Class II is almost the same i.e. Rs. 13·66. It is significantly low for Class V and VI towns being Rs. 7·28 and 7·66 respectively.

The per capita total expenditure figures given above would shows that the per capita total expenditure for Class I towns is Rs. 31·27 which is the highest among all the classes of towns the minimum being seen in Class V towns where it is as low as Rs. 10·70 only. It can also be seen that the per capita total expenditure almost diminishes with the decrease in the population size of towns with an exception in Class VI towns.

The per capita expenditure on public health and conveniences also reveals a similar trend. The per capita expenditure on this item diminishes with the decrease in the population size with an exception in Class VI towns. It is maximum at Rs. 10·65 for Class I towns, whereas the minimum is only Rs. 2·94 for Class V towns. Expenditure on public institutions is quite meagre in all the categories of the towns. It is only Rs. 4·80 in Class II towns, Rs. 3·99 in Class I towns, Rs. 3·95 in Class III towns and Rs. 2·66 in Class IV towns It is negligible in Class V and VI towns. The per capita expenditure on all other aspects varies from a minimum of Rs. 6·95 in Class V towns to a maximum of Rs. 16·63 in Class I towns having population more than one lakh.

Note on Statement IV

The indicators worked out to study the availability of amenities on roads per 100 sq. km. and per 1,000 population by size class of towns are given is Table 15.

Average	300·44	77·21	377·65	0·690	0·177	0·86

Table 15 gives the road length by size class of towns. It would be seen that the total road length in the urban areas per 100 sq. km. comes to 377·65 km. Its breakup by Pucca and Kachcha roads shows that the length of Pucca road per 100 sq. km. is 300·44 km and that of Kachcha road is 77·21 km. A study of these figures by the size class of towns as indicated in the Table would show that the total road length in cities having more than 1 Lakh population is 471 56 km. per 100 sq. km. area. It gradually falls down to 431·01 km. in Class II towns. Thereafter in Class III towns it works out to 378·37 km. per 100 sq. km. It again falls down in Class IV and V towns. In Class VI towns it is slightly higher than the Class V towns. The pucca road length per 100 sq. km. diminishes with the decrease in the population size of the towns except in case of Class VI towns where it is more than the Class V towns. It is maximum being 425·96 km. in Class I towns and falls gradually with the decrease in size Class of towns and reaches the minimum length of 150·77 km. in Class V towns. A quite different trend is noticed in case of Kachcha road. It is 45·60 km. per 100sq. km. in Class I towns which sharply increase to 114·25 in class II and falls down to 80·89 km. in case of Class III towns and again rises to 110·70 in case of Class IV towns and thereafter there is a decline to 78·09 km. in case of Class V towns and 69·68 km. in Class VI towns.

Data of road length per 1,000 population is also given in above Table 15. It indicates the total road length available per 1,000 population is 0·867 km. in the urban areas of the State. Its breakup in Kachcha and Pucca roads shows that road length of Pucca road per 1,000 population is 0·690 km. whereas it is 0·177 km. for Kachcha road. A study of road length by size class of towns indicates that the road length per 1,300 population increases from Class I to Class VI towns. Thus it is only 0·697 km. per 1,000 population in the cities with more than a lakh population whereas it is 3·397 km. in Class VI towns having population less than 5,000. An almost similar trend is noticed for both Pucca and Kuchcha roads.

The details relating to the method of disposal of waste water have been collected. The following Table 16 gives the details of the type of Sewerage by the size class of town.

It would be seen from the above Table 16 that out of 334 urban areas in Uttar Pradesh only 41 urban areas in the State have under-ground sewerage. This means that this modern method of disposal of waste water is provided in a limited number of urban areas in Uttar Pradesh. There are 149 urban areas which have Pit Tanks, and 53 urban areas have Septik Tank. There are 91 urban areas which have open surface drainage for the disposal of waste water. It would be apparent that Pit Tanks and open surface drainage are the most commonly accepted methods for disposal of waste water in most of the urban areas.

The following Table 17 gives details about the methods of disposal of night soil :—

Note—Where there are more than one method of disposal of night soil prevalent in a town, they are shown at two places in order of importance.

It would be seen from the above Table 17 that in 46 towns night soil is removed by carrying on head (called head load). In other 44 towns night soil is removed on head load but this method is prevalent alongwith other methods. Thus in 90 urban areas night soil is removed on head load. These towns are distributed in all categories of towns even those having population of more than one lakh. In large number of towns baskets are used for the removal of the night soil.

Medical facilities

The following Table 18 gives the distribution of various types of medical institutions by size class of towns:—

Table 19 given below gives the distribution of number of beds by the size class of towns.

In all there are 33,863 beds in the medical institutions of the Urban areas of the State. This gives an average of 2·73 beds per 1,000 population. The distribution by the size class of towns shows that the facility diminishes with the decrease in the size of population upto class IV towns. Thereafter it shows a rise. It is 11·56 per 1,000 population for the urban areas having population less than 5,000.

Education

Table 20 given below shows the number of Higher Secondary, Senior Basic and Junior Basic Schools per 1,000 population:—

Total	334	1,328	1,199	5,559	0·107	0·097	0·449

It can be seen that there are 0·449 Junior Basic Schools per 1,000 population in the urban areas of the State. The distribution by size class of towns shows that there is a slight disparity in this facility in different categories of towns. It is, except in Class VI towns lowest being 0·403 in Class V towns whereas it is the highest in Class VI towns being 0·623.

The average number of Senior Basic Schools per 1,000 population in the urban areas of the State is 0·097. To be more clear it can be said that in the urban areas of the State there are 4·49 Junior Basic Schools per 10,000 population and 0·97 Senior Basic Schools per 10,000 population. The educational facilities increase with the decrease in size class of towns being lowest in Class I and highest in Class VI towns.

Only 119 or 35·84 per cent of the Urban areas have technical or non-technical colleges whereas 213 urban areas are devoid of this amenity. It would be seen from the figures given below that the proportion of urban areas having technical or non-technical college diminishes with the decrease in the population size of the towns. All the cities and towns having more than 50,000 population have technical or non-technical colleges, whereas 37 out of 71 Class III urban areas have this amenity. In Class IV towns technical or non-technical colleges are located in 21 per cent of the total urban areas only.

It would be seen that 8 of 22 cities with more than a lakh population have medical colleges. 5 cities of this class have engineering colleges. 4 Class II towns have no facility of technical education, two of these towns have Ayurvedic Colleges and 3 have Polytechnics. Only two towns in Class IV and 1 town in Class VI size groups viz. Atarra and Rishikesh in Class IV and Gurukul Kangri in Class VI have medical colleges of Ayurvedic Studies. It would thus be seen that a very few small towns have facility of medical or engineering education.

The following table gives the details of facilities relating to stadia, cinemas and public libraries in towns of the State:—

All the Class II Urban areas have cinemas and 19 out of them have public libraries also. In all only 126 towns have cinemas whereas 208 are devoid of this type of amenity.

Note on Statement VI

The following figures give details of banking facilities as well as agricultural and non-agricultural credit societies. It would be seen from Table 23 that 250 urban area have banking facilities. There are 84 urban areas in the State which are devoid of this amenity 203 towns have agricultural credit societies and 131 towns are devoid of this amenity. Those having non-agricultural credit societies number 144. Thus there are 190 urban areas in the State which do not have any non-agricultural societies.

Important Commodities Manufactured

The data relating to three most important commodities manufactured has been collected for the Town Directory. The tabulation of these datas given in Tables 24, 25 and 26 would reveal that the most important commodities manufactured pertain to the category of food products, cotton textiles, wood and wood products, furniture and fixtures. It would be seen from the Table 24-A that in 86 urban areas the first important commodity manufactured belongs to the category of food products and in 41 towns cotton textiles forms the first important commodity manufactured. In 23 towns wood and wood products, furnitures and fixtures products form the first important commodity manufactured. In 18 towns, jute, hemp and mesta textiles constitute the first important commodity manufactured There are 56 urban areas where no important commodities are manufactured.

As regards second important commodity manufactured in urban areas similar trend would be noticed as given in Table 24-B. Manufacture of Food products is shown as the most important. commodity manufactured in 89 urban areas. There are 27 town which have reported their second important oommodity manufactured as cotton textiles. 22 towns have shown wood and wood products, 17 towns have shown chemicals and chemical products, and again 17 urban areas have shown basic metal and alloy industries. There are 70 urban areas in which there is no such second important commodity manufactured.

The details given in the Tables 24-A, 24-B and 24-C clearly bring out the industrial backwardness of a large number of urban areas. It would also be seen that the important commodities manufactured mostly pertain to food and food proudcts and textiles. A significant number of urban areas have no important items of manufacture which clearly shows that though these places are treated as urban areas the secondary sector of economy viz. Manufacturing which forms a sound basis for urban economy has not been developed. Unless this becomes possible they cannot possibly function as growth Centres.

Important Commodities Imported

The details regarding important commodities imported in urban areas are covered in the Town Directory. It would be seen from the Tables 25-A, 25-B and 25-C given below that in a majority of urban areas of the State the most important, first, second and third commodities imported are food and food-stuffs, textiles, live-animals, beverages and intoxicants. Items of these categories are reported as first important commodity in 260 urban areas, as second important commodity in 230 urban areas and as third important commodity in 192 urban areas. This shows that most of the items imported pertain to primary-consumption articles.

Fuel, Chemicals, perfumery, ceramics and glass are reported as first important commodity imported in 29 urban areas, as second important commodity in 42 urban areas and as third important commodity in 35 urban areas. Wood, paper, other fabrics, inedible oils such as petrol, mobil oil allied products are reported as first important commodity imported in 20 urban areas, as second commodity imported in 22 urban areas, and as third important commodity imported in 39 urban areas. In the rest of the categories only a few urban areas are covered. This would indicate that the commodities imported in the urban areas of Uttar Pradesh are mostly basic-consumption articles and a few other necessary articles. Machinery, equipments etc. are reported to be imported by only a few urban areas.

Important Commodities Exported

Data relating to three most important commodities exported from the urban areas have been collected for compilation in the Town Directory. The tabulation of the same is given in Tables 26-A, 26-B and 26-C given below. It clearly indicates that most of the commodities exported as the first important commodity or second or third important commodities pertain to the Major Group 60 of the N.I.C. i.e. relating to Food, Textiles, Live animals, Beverages and Intoxicants, 224 ubran areas have reported the export of these commodities as the first important one. 210 urban areas reported the commodities under this group as the second and 182 have reported it as the third important one. These figures abundantly indicate that the items exported from the urban areas of Uttar Pradesh mostly belong to the primary sector of economy i.e., mainly agricultural produce. The export of wood, paper, other fabrics, bones, skins and inedible oils etc. have been noticed in only 23 urban areas. Fuel, chemicals perfumery, ceramics, glass are noticed in only 16 urban areas. It indicates that the export trade of the items of the secondary sector is found only in a limited number of towns. The details are as given below:

Note on Statement VII

Population by Religion

The distribution of urban population by religion is given in Table 27 below by the size class of towns. It would be seen that 67·87 per cent of the population follows Hindu religion, 29·52 per cent Islam religion and 1·19 per cent Sikhism. Only 0·70 per cent follow Jainism, 0·60 per cent Christianity and 0·12 per cent follow Buddhism. Its distribtion by size class of towns would show that percentage of population following Hindu religion varies from the minimum of 62·11 per cent in Class II urban areas to the maximum of 86·29 per cent in Class VI urban areas. The population following Hindu religion is more than 65 per cent in "all categories" of towns taken together. The number of those following Islam varies from a minimum of 10·93 per cent in Class VI towns to a maximum of 35·59 per cent in Class II towns. The population following Islam religion does not exceed 36 per cent in any of the categories of the towns.

The number of those following Sikhism varies from the minimum of 1·01 per cent in class III towns to the maximum of 1·37 per cent in Class II towns.

The number of those following Jainism varies from a minimum of 0·22 per cent in Class VI towns to the maximum of 1·24 per cent in Class III towns.

The number of those following Christianity varies from a minimum of 0·40 per cent in Class II towns to the maximum of 1·14 per cent in Class VI towns.

The number of followers of Buddhism varies from a minimum of 0·04 per cent in Class III towns to the maximum of 0·29 per cent in Class VI towns. This would indicate more or less an even distribution of population by religion in different categories of towns.

Note on Primary Census Data

Density of population

The total urban area in the State is 2,844.16 sq. km. and the urban population of the State is 12,388,596. This gives an average density of 4,356 persons per sq. km. in the urban areas. The distribution of towns by size class reveals that the density per sq. km. diminishes with the decrease in the population size of the towns. It is the highest in cities having more than a lakh population wherein the density per sq. km. is 6,759 persons. It declines to 5,098 persons per sq. km. in class II towns. Thereafter it sharply decline to 3,852 in class III towns. Again it declines to 2,606 in case of class IV towns. 1,812 in class V towns and 687 in case of class VI towns. Table 29 gives the details of density by size class of towns.

Number of House holds

The details of the number of households per Census house has been worked out by density and size class of towns and reproduced in Table given below. It would be seen from Table 30 that there is no variation in the number of households per 1,000 Censes houses by size class of towns and by density.

Household Size

The average household size in the urban areas of the State comes to 5·37 persons per household. Its distribution by size class of towns as given in Table 31 below would show that the household size diminishes with the decrease in the population size of the towns. It is 5·34 persons per household in cities having more than a lakh and population rises to 5·78 in Class II towns and from there it cotinuously declines in all the subseqent size classes and reaches the minimum figure of 4·31 persons per household in Class VI towns. This is contrary to the general belief that the family size in the larger cities is less than that in smaller towns and semi-urban areas :—

Sex Ratio

The study of number of females per 1,000 males by the size class of towns as given in table 32 shows that the average number of female per 1,000 males in the urban areas is 821. It can be seen that in cities having more than a lakh population the number of females per 1,000 males is 822 whereas it is higher in Class II and III towns In Class IV, V and VI the sex ratio is low.

A study of sex ratio composition by density shows that the number of females per 1,000 males increases with an increase in the density range. There are 568 females per 1,000 males in the towns having density of 200 persons or less and increases with the increase in the density and reaches the maximum figures of 839 females per 1,000 males in the towns having density of more than 5,000 persons per sq. km.

Literacy

A study of the literacy by sex and its relationship with the population size of the towns given in Table 34 below shows that the proportion of literates in the urban areas is 43·63 per cent. This figure for males comes to 52·08 per cent whereas for females it is 33·33 per cent. This would firstly show wide disparity in literacy by sex. It would be seen from the Table 34 that the proportion of literates is highest (52·07 per cent) in urban areas having population below 5,000 whereas it is only 46·10 in case of cities having more than a lakh population. Thereafter it declines gradually to 41·69 per cent in Class II towns and 41·25 in case of Class III towns. It further declines to 38·53 in case of Class IV towns and thereafter shows a rise in the subsequent two size groups of towns. This trend is similar for the proportion of literate males and females. (The above percentage includes the population in age-group (0-4) which has otherwise been treated as illiterate).

Note.—Literacy percentage has been worked out by taking total population without excluding 0-4 age-group.

Having surveyed the literacy by size class of towns, we may now examine it by districts also. As already mentioned above, the State average of literacy in the urban areas is 43·63. Distribution of districts in relation to the average rate of literacy in urban areas of the State (as given in Table 35 below) shows that 24 districts are above the State average and 30 below it. Only 7 districts are more than 25 per cent, above the State average. They are Almora, Tehri-Garhwal, Uttarkashi, Dehra Dun, Pithoragarh, Garhwal and Chamoli. They form a compact zone in the Himalayan Hills. The towns in Almora have literacy even more than 50 per cent above the State average. Those more than 25 per cent below it are only three i.e., Bijnor, Budaun and Rampur—contiguous districts. As many as 44 districts lie within 25 per cent of the State average. These within 5 per cent of the same are Mainpuri, Mathura, Kheri, Meerut, Varanasi, Deoria, Saharanpur, Jalaun, Basti, Ghazipur, Farrukhabad and Sitapur.

A study of percentage of literates by density would show that percentage of literacy almost decreases with the increase in the density range. The percentage of literacy is 69·51 per cent in the urban areas having density of 200 persons or less per sq. km. and shows a continuous downward trend with the increase in density and reaches the minimum figure 42·75 per cent in urban areas having density of more than 5,000 persons per sq. km.

Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes Population

The proportion of Scheduled Caste persons in the urban areas is 11·32 per cent of the total urban population. The proportion of Scheduled Caste population by size class of towns given in Table 37 below shows that it is highest (18·50) per cent) in urban areas having population below 5,000) whereas it declines to 13·61 per cent in Class V towns and thereafter shows a steady decline in the subsequent size class of towns viz, Class IV, III and II and again rises to 11·30 per cent in the Class I towns having more than one lakh population.

The proportion of Scheduled Caste population in cities has been further examined and the city-wise population of Scheduled Castes (given in Table 38) indicates that in Agra city the proportion of Scheduled Castes is very high being 21·82 per cent closely followed by Jhansi, where 19·29 per cent belong to Scheduled Castes.

The city-wise distribution of Scheduled Caste population given above shows that Ghaziabad, Allahabad, Aligarh, Kanpur and Mirzapur have higher proportion of scheduled caste population as compared to State average of 11·32.

The proportion of Scheduled Tribe population in the urban areas is only 0·13 per cent. This is but natural as a very large porportion of Scheduled Tribe population lives in the rural areas. The study of proportion of Scheduled Tribe population by size class of towns would show that its proportion is minimum in cities having population between 20,000 to 49,999 where it is only 0·04 per cent. It is highest in Class V towns being 0·29 per cent. It goes down to 0·25 per cent in Class VI-towns. The percentage of Scheduled Tribe population to total population of Class I, II and IV is 0·13, 0·18 and 0·11 respectively. The proportion of Scheduled Tribes in KAVAL towns has been further examined and it is found that in Agra their percentage is also highest as shown in the following Table 39:

Workers and Non-workers

The distribution of workers and non-workers by size class of towns is given hereunder in Table 40. In the urban areas of the State 27·67 per cent of the population is returned as workers.

This proportion for males is 47·85 per cent whereas it is only 3·10 per cent for females. The study of workers by size class of towns shows that the proportion of workers is 27·35 per cent in cities having more than a lakh population. Thereafter it rose to 28·24 per cent in Class II towns then decline to 27·10 per cent for Class III towns. From Class IV it increased with the decrease in the population size of the towns and reached the maximum figures of 30.02 per cent in Class VI towns. This trend is almost identical for male workers except in case of Class V and VI towns wherein it has shown slightly decreasing trend. The proportion of male workers to total male population is 47.48 per cent in Class I towns which rose to 48·54 per cent in Class II towns and then it declined to 47·04 per cent in case of Class III towns and it again rose to 49·57 per cent in Class IV towns. This trend is slightly different for females. The proportion of female workers to total female population is 2·84 in Class I towns and thereafter it rose to 3·74 per cent in Class II towns, after which it declined with the decrease in the population size upto Class IV towns and whereafter it increases with the decrease in the population size.

Distribution of Workers by Industrial Category

Further distribution of workers by Industrial Category and by size class of towns is given in Table 41 below. The distribution of workers by Industrial Category I clearly shows that the proportion of cultivators increased with the decrease in the size of the population upto Class IV towns and thereafter it declined in Class V and VI towns. Regarding agricultural labourers (Category II) it would be seen that the proportion of agricultural labourers increased with the decrease in the population size of the towns upto Class IV and thereafter it declined. It is 1·91 per cent in Class I towns and reached the maximum figure of 8·90 per cent in Class IV towns and thereafter it decreased to a percentage of 7·59 in case of Class V and VI towns. Almost similar trend can be noticed among Categories III and IV i.e., persons engaged in livestock, forestry, fishing and mining and quarrying. Combined figures varied from the minimum of 0·79 per cent in Class VI towns to the maximum of 1·08 in Class III towns. If we take the entire Primary Sector into account it can be seen that the proportion of workers in Primary Sector increased with the decrease in the population size upto Class IV and thereafter it declined with the decrease in the population size. The proportion of workers engaged in Primary Sector was only 5·01 per cent in Class I towns and increased to the maximum of 22·06 per cent in Class IV towns and thereafter decreased to 18·96 per cent in case of Class V towns and 15·02 in case of Class VI. There was no definite trend about the proportion of workers engaged in Household Industry (Category V-A) which varied from a minimum of 0·28 per cent in Class V towns to the maximum of 9·53 per cent in Class II towns. Regarding Manufacturing Industries other than household (Category V-B) it would be seen that the proportion of the workers decreased with the decrease in the population size of the town. It was 22·73 per cent in Class I towns and reached the minimum figure of 4·63 per cent in Class VI towns. There was no definite trend about the proportion of workers engaged in Construction (Category VI) but it could seen that in the first four Classes of towns (I, II, III and IV) it was considerably higher than the rest of the two Classes (V and VI). The proportion of workers engaged in Trade and Commerce (Category VII) declined with the decrease in the population size of the towns. In this category 20·73 per cent workers were engaged in cities having more than a lakh population whereafter it was almost equal upto Class III and thereafter showed a declining trend and reached the minimum of 8·86 per cent in Class VI towns. In Transport, Storage and Communications, the proportion of workers engaged in this category was only 11·84 per cent in Class I towns and thereafter continuously showed a declining trend and reached the minimum of 8·80 per cent in Class V towns and afterwards showed a remarkable increase in Class VI and reached the maximum of 30·00 per cent. The proportion of workers engaged in Other Service (Category IX) is 30·39 per cent in cities having more than a lakh population which considerably increased to 38 00 per cent in Class VI towns and it was between 27·83 per cent to 33·97 per cent in the remaining size class of towns (I to V). This would reveal, that generally the proportion of persons engaged in Secondary Sector of economy decreased with the decrease in the population size of the towns and in case of Tertiary Sector the same trend was noticed with minor exceptions.

The intersector distribution of working force has been summarised in the Table given below. It would be seen that the number of workers engaged in Primary Sector increased with the decrease in the population size of the towns upto Class IV towns whereafter it went down continuously upto Class VI. In the Secondary Sector of the economy, the number of workers declined with the decrease in the population size of the towns. The number of workers engaged in the Tertiary Sector also declined with the decrease in the population size of the towns upto Class IV and thereafter it went up.

The participation rate of females has been given in Table 43 below. It can be seen that only 3·10 per cent of the total females were returned as workers in 1971 Census in the urban areas of the State. The distribution of the same by size class of towns showed that the proportion of female workers generally increased with the decrease in size class of population. The distribution by primary, secondary and tertiary sectors, would show that the proportion of females working in Primary Sector increased with the decrease in the population size of the towns except Class VI towns. In Secondary Sector this female proportion had no definite trend. It varied from a minimum of 0·14 per cent in Class VI towns to the maximum of 1·51 per cent in Class II towns. In Tertiary Sector also there was no definite trend and it varied from a minimum of 1·51 per cent in Class IV towns to the maximum of 2·84 per cent in Class VI towns.
