DHARWAD DISTRICT

VILLAGE & TOWN DIRECTORY

VILLAGE AND TOWNWISE PRIMARY CENSUS ABSTRACT

Directorate of Census Operations, Karnataka

F O R E W O R D

1. The District Census Handbook (DCHB) published by Census Organisation since 1951 census, is one of the important publications in the context of planning and development at gross-root level. The publication, which is brought out for each district, contains several demographic and socio-economic characteristics village-wise and town-wise of the district alongwith the status of availability of civic amenities, infrastructural facilities, etc.

2. The scope of the DCHB was initially confined to a few Census Tables and Primary Census Abstract (PCA) of each village and town within the district. Thereafter, at successive censuses, its scope and coverage has been enlarged. The DCHB published at the 1961 census provided a descriptive account of the district, administrative statistics, census tables and a village and town directory including PCA. The 1971 census-DCHB series was in three parts: Part-A related to village and town directory, Part-B to village and town PCA and Part-C comprised analytical report, administrative statistics, district census tables and certain analytical tables based on PCA and amenity data in respect of villages. The 1981 census DCHB was in two parts: Part-A contained village and town directory and Part-B the PCA of village and town including the SCs and STs PCA up to taluk/town levels. New features alongwith restructuring of the formats of village and town directory were added into it. In Village Directory, all amenities except electricity were brought together and if any amenity was not available in the referent village, the distance in broad ranges from the nearest place having such an amenity, was given. Information on new items such as adult literacy centres, primary health sub-centres and community health workers in the village were provided so as to meet the requirements of some of the Revised Minimum Needs Programme. Information on approach to the village was provided for the first time in the Village Directory so as to give the details on number of inaccessible villages in each district. In the Town Directory, a statement (IV-A) on slums was introduced to provide the details on civic and other amenities in the notified slums of Class I and Class II towns.

3. The 1991 census DCHB, by and large, followed the pattern of presentation of 1981 census, except the format of PCA was restructured. Nine-fold industrial classification of main workers was given against the four-fold industrial classification presented in the 1981 census. In addition, sex-wise population in 0-6 age group was included in the PCA for the first time with a view to enable the data users to compile more realistic literacy rate as all children below 7 years of age had been treated as illiterate at the time of 1991 census. One of the important innovations in the 1991 census was the Community Development Block (CD block) level presentation of village directory and PCA data instead of the traditional taluk/PS level presentation. It was expected that the presentation of village directory and PCA data at CD block level will help the planners in formulation of micro level development plans, CD block being lowest administrative unit.

4. The present series of 2001 census DCHBs have been made more informative and exhaustive in terms of coverage and content. The Village Directory has been enlarged in scope by including a number of other facilities like banking, recreational and cultural facilities, newspapers and magazines and 'most important commodity' manufactured in village. Income and expenditure of gram panchayat, wherever possible, has been provided. Apart from these, more details on distance(s) at which basic amenities are available (if not available in the village), are given. This includes educational facilities (namely primary and middle schools and college), medical facilities (viz. Allopathic Hospital, Maternity & Child Welfare Centre and Primary Health Centre), drinking water, post & telegraph (post office and phone), communication, bank, credit societies and recreational facilities. In Town Directory, the statement on Slums has been modified and its coverage enlarged by including details on all slums instead of 'notified slums'. The information is given in case of all statutory towns irrespective of their class, against only Class I and Class II towns in the 1981 and 1991 censuses. The basic amenities available in the villages and towns are analysed in depth with the help of a number of cross-classified inset tables and statements. Two other significant additions in the publication are inclusion of 'motif' highlighting significant characteristic of the district and analytical notes as annexures. The analytical notes on (i) fertility and mortality and (ii) various measures of fertility and mean age at marriage are prepared based on 1991 census. Whereas, in the notes relating to (i) percentage distribution of migrants by place of birth/place of last residence, (ii) main religions, (iii) marital status of population, (iv) age, sex and education, and (v) distribution of spectrum of mother tongue, nature and extent of changes occurred in the district in its basic socio-demographic features during the decade 1991-2001 are analysed. The eight digits permanent location code (PLCN) to all the villages and towns have been assigned keeping in view the future needs.

5. The village and town level amenity data have been collected, compiled and computerized in prescribed record structure under the supervision of Shri.H.Shashidhar, Director of Census Operations, Karnataka. Thereafter, efforts have been made to ensure comparability of the information with that of 1991 census data and the information brought out by the respective state governments in their annual reports and statistical handbooks for various years after 1991. The task of planning, designing and co-ordination of this publication was carried out by Shri R.G. Mitra, Deputy Registrar General (C&T) and Dr. I.C. Agrawal, Senior Research Officer of Social Studies Division, Dr. R.P. Singh, Deputy Registrar General (Map) provided the technical guidance in the preparation of maps. Whereas, Shri Anil Kumar Arora, Deputy Director of Data Processing Division who worked under the overall supervision of Shri Himakar, Addl. Director (EDP) helped in preparation of record structure for computerization of village and town directory data and the programme for the generation of Village Directory and Town Directory statements including analytical inset tables. The draft DCHB manuscripts received from the Census Directorates have been scrutinized in the Social Studies Division under the guidance of Shri S.L. Jain, Deputy Director and Shri R.K. Mehta, Assistant Director. I am thankful to all of them and other who have contributed to make this publication possible.

Unkal Tank near Hubli of Dharwad district

Unkal Tank is located at a distance of 4 kms. from Hubli. Unkal Tank is one of the surviving tanks of Hubli City and will celeberate the centenary year during 2003. The then Municipal Authorities decided to construct a tank near Unkal in 1886 in order to meet the drinking water requirements of around 30,000 people. Through the efforts of Great Statesman-Architect Sir.M.Vishweshwaraiah this project became reality in 1903, it served as an important source of drinking water for the people of Hubli till the construction of Neerasagara and Malaprabha Reservoirs after Independence.

Unkal village is located at a distance of 4 kms., from Hubli has a historical past. Unkal tank covers 250 acres with a catchment area of 4,651 Sq.Kms. A number of migratory birds visits the tank. Due to rapid urbanization in the surrounding areas of the tank the water supply has been stopped and declared unfit for human consumption. Efforts to revive the past glory for the tank is going on under National Tank Protection Scheme

In the foreword to the 2001 series of the District Census Handbooks, Sri. D.K. Sikri, I.A.S., the Registrar General and Census Commissioner, India, has traced the history of the District Census Handbooks. He has also succinctly explained the scope and coverage of the District Census Handbooks. These volumes contain salient data on the population for every village and town as revealed by 2001 Census. They also contain a wealth of information regarding villages and towns which, throw some light on the circumstances in which people live and is therefore relevant to the data on the population. This information is also of considerable importance in the context of planned development.

The District Census Handbook is divided into two parts: Part A contains information regarding each village and town (Village Directory and Town Directory collected from various sources) and Part B which contains the data on the population collected during 2001 Census - the Primary Census Abstract. The data published in Part B was collected during February-March 2001 in the Population Census.

The process of data collection for the Village Directory and the Town Directory (Part A) commenced in 1999. The Village Directory formats were mailed to the Deputy Commissioners of Districts for obtaining the village wise particulars through Village Accountants. Similarly the Town Directory formats were mailed to the Commissioners of Corporations, Chief Officers of Town Municipal Councils, Town Panchayats, etc. The village wise and town wise data furnished by these officers were then examined exhaustively for consistency in reporting and comparability with the information published in the 1991 District Census Handbooks. The Household Schedules, which were canvassed to collect the population data during 2001 Census, were scanned and data captured was processed electronically. The Primary Census Abstract was generated centrally on the computers by Registrar General, India.

In compilation of the District Census Handbooks, the Census Directorate had the co-operation of various departments of the State/Central Government. The Census Directorate gratefully acknowledge their assistance.

I take this opportunity to offer my grateful thanks to Sri. H. Shashidhar, Director of Census Operations and Sri. S.R. Raghavendra Rao, Deputy Director (Retd.) for their valuable guidance. I am also thankful to all the officers and officials of this Directorate who have been actively involved in the compilation of this volume.

I am highly grateful to Sri. J.K.Banthia, I.A.S., Ex. Registrar General, India for the benefit I have derived by way of guidance and advice. I express my thanks to Sri R.G. Mitra, Ex. Deputy Registrar General (C&T) and Dr. I.C. Agrawal, Assistant Registrar General and Sri S.L.Jain Deputy Director of Social Studies Division and Dr. R.P. Singh, Ex. Deputy Registrar General (Map) for their guidance.

ANALYTICAL NOTE

(i) HISTORY AND SCOPE OF THE DISTRICT CENSUS HANDBOOK

Introduction

The District Census Handbook is, most valuable district level publication brought out by the Census Organization. It contains micro-level data drawn to the lowest administrative units viz, revenue village in the case of rural areas and Division/Ward level in the case of urban areas. It is extremely useful to the planners, administrators, demographers, sociologists, etc., as it contains resourceful wealth of data regarding basic amenities available in each village and town of the district such as educational, medical, drinking water, post and telegraphs, transportation and communication, banks, societies, recreation clubs, power supply, export/import of important commodities and land use besides, the particulars revealed during the latest census enumeration. It is for the first time that the district census hand book series was included in the census publication programme at the 1951 census, in order to satisfy the growing demand by the administrators, the planners, research scholars, demographers and the other such census data users, for micro-level data. The idea of compiling the District Census Handbooks was pioneered by Sri R.A.Gopala Swamy, I.C.S. the then Registrar General, India and Ex-officio Census Commissioner of India, with a view to preserve the Census records prepared for areas below the district level. He proposed that all the district Census tables and Census abstracts prepared during the process of sorting and compilation, should be bound together in a single manuscript volume and named as the District Census Handbook and suggested that the State Government should take up printing and publication at their own cost. Then onwards, the District Census Handbooks were published in each Census with improved pattern with an aim to give the Census and Non-census data at micro level for each village of the taluk as a whole to suit the requirements of various departments.

The data in the District Census Handbook will help not only in local area planning but also in regulating the provision of goods and services as well as to minimise the regional imbalances in the process of development. The District Census Hand Book sought to replace "Part IV - Taluk Tables and Part V - Village Tables" of the earlier censuses and to present the basic demographic and economic data in the form of "Primary Census Abstract" in respect of each and every village and town within the jurisdiction of the district. The district census handbook consists of two parts, viz, Part A and Part B. Part A comprises village and Town Directory while Part-B contains Village and Town level Primary Census Abstracts. In addition, these volumes contain a set of statistical tables based on the census data in respect of the district and its constituent taluks and towns.

District Census Handbook 1961

It was in 1961 Census that the scope of District Census Hand Book was shaped in the present form by presenting i) an account of descriptive note on the district, ii) a set of non-census data tables dealing with the administrative statistics of the district for a decade, iii) taluk and town level census tables on economic and socio-cultural aspects and iv) the village and urban Primary Census Abstracts depicting the nine fold industrial classification of workers. Information on the availability of certain basic amenities in villages and towns, such as the source of drinking water and educational institutions was also presented in the volumes. However, the district census handbooks of 3 out of then existing 19 districts viz, Bangalore, Dharwad and Mysore were confined to the publication of the village-wise and urban (census enumeration block-wise) Primary Census Abstract only.

District Census Handbook 1971

During the 1971 census, the district census handbook was further refined to present the data in a systematic way. In view of country-wide uniformity in approach and to have a comprehensive coverage, the District Census Hand Books were presented in three parts each, for a district. Part A incorporates the Town and Village Directories. Part-B incorporates the Primary Census Abstract and includes data, in the case of rural areas down to the village level and in the case of urban areas up to the block level. In addition, an introduction is included wherein the changes in jurisdiction, if any, of the district or of the taluks and the changes in the number of villages between 1961 and 1971 were explained. Part-B was essentially demographic in nature and was the end product of the tabulation of the enumeration results. Part C incorporates other census tables and administrative statistics. For convenience, Part-A and Part-B of the District Census Hand Book was presented in one volume and Part-C in a separate volume. In part-C volume, the district and taluk maps were included. These maps were prepared on the basis of maps obtained from the competent authorities concerned.

District Census Handbook 1981

The District Census Hand Book series of 1981, had some new features along with the restructuring of the formats of village and town directories, keeping in view the comparability of 1971 data. All the amenities except power supply in the village were brought together in the village directory with the instruction that in case an amenity is not available in the referent village, the distance in broad ranges from the nearest place/village where it is available were given. A few new items of information such as adult literacy centres, primary health sub-centres and community health centres/workers, data on the availability of Newspapers, Motor Vehicles, etc., in the village, were introduced in the village directory to meet the requirements of the "Revised Minimum Needs Programmes". A new column "total population and number of households" was introduced to examine the correlation of the amenities with the population and number of households they serve. The contents of Part-A were further enlarged by including two appendices, namely a list of villages not having any amenities and a distribution of villages according to the proportion of Scheduled Castes and Schedules Tribes in the total population of the village. The format of Town Directory were also modified to meet the requirements of the Minimum Needs Programme by providing information on a few new items such as class of town and its population, population of SC & ST, decadal growth rate of population, working women's hostel, adult literacy classes / centres, storage system regarding drinking water supply etc., and also the information about the nearest place and distance having educational, medical and fire-fighting facilities, in case such a facility is not available in the referent town. A new statement on civic and other amenities in slums in Class I and Class II town were included to help the planners to chalk out their programmes of slum improvements.

District Census Handbook 1991

The presentation of the District Census Hand Book for the 1991 Census was more or less similar to the manner followed in 1981. The format of Primary Census Abstract was restructured slightly. Nine-fold industrial classification of main workers were given as against four-fold classification. The sex-wise population in the age-group of 0-6 was included in the Primary Census Abstract for the first time to enable data users to compute more realistic literacy rates as all the children below 7 years of age were treated as illiterate at the 1991 census. One of the important innovations in the 1991 census was the Community Development Block-level presentation of data in the village directory and Primary Census Abstract instead of the traditional tahsil/taluk/PS level presentation. C.D.Block is the lowest administrative unit for developmental planning. The choice of the C.D. Block as the unit for data presentation was formulated to help the planners in micro-level developmental plans. Another important improvement at the 1991 Census was dissemination of data through magnetic tapes/floppies in which both the computer as well as manual codes for each revenue village were provided along with the corresponding codes of 1981 Census. In the volumes of the District Census Hand Books, the computer codes assigned to the revenue villages in the 1991 Census and the corresponding codes of 1981 Census were presented so that it may facilitate the data users to use the data either from magnetic tapes or computer floppies.

Scope of the 2001 District Census Hand Book

Like in the previous censuses, the District Census Hand Book (DCH) for the 2001 Census brought out in two parts as usual viz., Part-A The Village and Town Directory, and Part-B the Village and Town Primary Census Abstract.

The District Census Hand Books for the 2001 census is essentially presented in the similar manner in which the District Census Hand Books of 1991 census were presented. This is because the data can be comparable with the earlier censuses and also to study the changes taken place during the decades and hence the approach in 2001 census is similar to 1991 census. The contents have been slightly enlarged and the formats too are restructured to suit the requirements of the data users. In the village directory for 2001 census certain new amenities like, news papers, magazine received, Income-Expenditure of the local bodies, information on number of banks, credit societies, recreational and cultural facilities, most important commodities imported, manufactured and exported have been included whereas the information regarding the "Day or Days of market/hat if any" which was there in 1991 has been excluded. Apart from providing the information about the nearest place and distance in broad ranges for villages not having basic educational and medical facilities, information about the nearest place and distance in broad ranges for villages not having Middle School, College, Hospital (Allopathic), Maternity and Child Welfare Center and Primary Health Center are also been provided this time. Information on availability of drinking water during summer is also included in the Village Directory. However, in the town directory there are no changes except in the statement IV-A where this statement is separately numbered as Statement VII in 2001. Except these, the scope of 2001 series of the District Census Hand Book has, by and large remained the same as in 1991. The non-census information collected at the village level and town level was scrutinized and verified. In case of glaring discrepancies the data were cross-checked with respective parent departments for validation.

One of the significant changes made in 2001 series of District Census Hand Book is that Primary Census Abstracts are presented to the jurisdiction of the Panchayats in the district. With the constitution (73rd Amendment) Act, 1992, it has become necessary for the census organisation to provide population data for the territorial area of a panchayat in order to strengthen panchayat raj system in the country. In view of this, panchayat-wise population figures for total population and for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes population has been compiled and presented in the form of Primary Census Abstract for each district.

Further another important step taken during the 2001 census, is assigning the Permanent Location Code Numbers (PLCN) to the villages. Location code number is a simple but unique device by which every area in an administrative unit in the State/ U.T. can be identified. Thus assigning of Location Code Numbers at various administrative levels, right from State/U.T. to the lowest level namely enumeration block, in census taking is an important step. Each clearly demarcated area can be referred to by a combination of numbers. In a State or U.T. the next administrative area is District, followed by taluk or police station, circle, Development Block or Mandal, etc., Next below this administrative area, in urban areas are cities/towns, further divided into wards/divisions and villages in rural areas. The Location Code Numbers to various administrative areas are assigned in orderly manner always beginning from northwest point and the numbering proceeds in a serpentine manner, keeping the geographical continuity, ultimately ending at the South-East point.

There was a great demand from different organizations to study the village level data over a time span and hence a scheme of assigning permanent location code numbers to the villages and the higher level of administrative areas is devised to ensure data comparability over a period of time. In Indian Census, Location Code Numbers are allotted to each village based on traverse system (zigzag) in a serpentine manner at taluk level. These numbers for villages run from '1' to 'N' in each taluk independently. This system was adopted until 1991 census. But, for the Census of India 2001, all the villages in a state/U.T. are assigned with a Location Code Number in one continuous series beginning from "1" to "N" for the entire state/U.T. and it is not confined to a taluk. The field length of the complete PLCN structure for a village has been kept up to 8 digits and therefore the location code number of village in a taluk contains 8 digits number for 2001 Census.

(ii) BRIEF HISTORY OF THE DISTRICT

In accordance with the usual practice Dharwad district too has been named after the district headquarter town. It may be incidentally mentioned here that though Dharwad has a history of more than eight centuries it is no longer an independent town. In 1962 the erstwhile towns of Dharwad and Hubli were amalgamated to constitute the Hubli-Dharwad Municipal Corporation. Thus, strictly speaking, the district takes its name from a portion of the pre-eminent town of the district. Formerly, that is prior to the publication of the Notification, this district (as well as the former town) was known as Dharwar, the anglicised form of Dharwad or, more properly Dharwada.

The area comprised in the district has a few places of great antiquarian interest and has several sites of historical importance. The epics and the Puranas refer to this part of the country as forming part of Kuntala Desha. Puranas indicate that in ancient times the Matsyas, the Nagas, the Abhiras, Mahisika, Ajas and the Vanaras for varying periods ruled Karnataka, including this part of the country as well. Available evidence shows that men from the early palaeolithic age too inhabited this district. The relics of the palaeolithic period discovered in the district include the Cairns at Agadi, the dolmens at Motebennur, the pigmy flints, which are regarded as the memorials of the survivors of the palaeolithic man, and the clinder mound at Budiguntha. Among the artefacts of the neolithic period, a mention may be made of the painted potsherds, terracotta fancy articles and the Ukhapatra (sacrificial pot) discovered at Itgi and a few other places.

During the early historical period the entire Deccan region, including this district also, formed part of the Mauryan empire. Reminiscences of the Mauryan rule have lingered on to the modern times in expressions such as Morerangadi and Moreramatti applied to the dolmens and cairns found in several parts of the district. References in ancient inscriptions to various centres of this district reveal that Dharwad area too formed part of the empire of the Satavahanas who came to power after the fall of the Mauryas in the Deccan and claimed themselves to be the Lords of the Dakshinapatha. With the downfall of this main dynasty, the Satavahana empire was partitioned among the Abhiras in the north-west, the Chutus in the south and the Ikshavakus in the Andhradesha. The Kuntala country, including Dharwad district as well, formed part of the kingdom of the Chutus during the early parts of the Christian era. Subsequently till the emergence of the Kadambas in about 345 AD, the Gangas and the Pallavas reigned supreme for brief periods, in turns. The Kadambas (345 AD to 565 AD) had their capital at Banavasi and their kingdom included among other areas, the Suddi-Kundur Vishaya (which later came to be known as Kundur-500, extending from Narendra near Dharwad upto Halsi in Belgaum) and major parts of which now stand included in Dharwad district. The central and the northern parts of the district too formed part of their territory as may be made out from the description of the boundaries of their kingdom contained in Birur plates.

In the beginning of the sixth century, the Chalukyas of Badami established their supremacy and rendered the position of the Kadambas into that of their vassals with the title of Mahamandaleshvaras. The district has yielded numerous records registering grants made to various temples (543-65 AD) by Kritivarman II (744-55 AD). The Rashtrakuta Dantidurga in turn overthrew the Chalukyas in about 756 AD. The supremacy of the Rashtrakutas lasted for a little more than two centuries and during this period too the Kadambas managed to retain their position as feudatory chiefs. In matters of prowess and extending patronage to art and literature almost all the Rashtrakuta monarchs have carved out an unique place for themselves. Govinda III (792-814 AD) for instance led his victorious armies up to the Himalayas in the north, and brought the Pallava Dantiga and the Eastern Chalukya king Vishnuvardhana under his subjugation. The name of Nripatunga Amoghavarsha I (814-80 AD) the author of the famous Kavirajamarga, stands foremost in the annals of kannada history, literature and religion. However, Karka the last ruler of this dynasty defeated the family of the Later Chalukyas or the Chalukyas of Kalyan. Under Taila II (973-97 AD) the Belvola and Purigere countries were under the administrative control of his feudatories named Konnappa and Sobhanarasa. The latter is said to have exercised control over Kundur, Kukkunur and Halsige tracts as well. An inscription dated in 1071 AD states that when the Cholas invaded Belvola, burnt many temples, and destroyed several Jaina shrines at Purigere (Lakshmeshvar) as well, Someshvara I (1042-68 AD) repulsed the attack with the help of Chattadeva and Barmadeva. During the period of Someshvara II (1068-76 AD), Lakshmanarasa was the governor of Belvola and Purrigere while Udayaditya of the Ganga family, governing from the city of Bankapur, had the charge of Banavasi as well.

In 1076 AD, Vikramaditya VI rebelled against his brother Someshvara II and occupied the Chalukyan throne. Vikramaditya reigned supreme till 1126 AD and founded an era, called Chalukya Vikrama Varsa, in commemoration of his victory. A large mass of epigraphs bearing reference to the reign of 50 years has been hailed as the most glorious period of the Chalukyan rule when feudatory chiefs belonging to the Kadamba, Sinda, Gutta, Yadava, Kalachurya and hoysala families ruled in their respective territories as Mahamandaleshvaras and paid homage to the imperial throne. His successor Someshvara III (1126-38 AD), known for his learning, is the author of Manasollasa or Abhilasha Chintamani which gives a great deal of information on a variety of subjects. He was succeeded by his son, Jagadekamalla II (1139-55 AD), who in addition to his capital at Kalyan, is, said to have established a provincial centre, at Kadalipura, near Hangal. During the reign of his young brother and successor Taila III (1150-63 AD) the power of the Chalukyas rapidly declined. Bijjala of the Kalachurya family, who was then the commander-in-chief, enlisted the cooperation of some of the dissident power chiefs such as Vijayarka, Prolaraja and kept his own master Taila under complete subjection. In 1157 AD Taila III fled to Annigeri in Dharwad district and made it the capital of his kingdom which was greatly reduced in extent. In 1162 AD, Bijjala marched against Taila forcing the latter to retreat further west to Banavasi and declared himself an independent monarch. The supremacy of the Kalachuryas lasted hardly for two decades. During the brief reign of Bijjala, his prime minister Basaveshvara emerged as a great social and religious reformer and his egalitarian teachings acquired an overwhelming number of followers. The opponents of the reforms preached by Basaveshvara included the king also and the chain of events that took place in the capital culminated in the flight of Basaveshvara to Kudala Sangama and an insurrection in which the Bijjala himself was killed.

In 1182 AD Someshvara IV of the Chalukya family regained some of the provinces of his ancestral dominions from the Kalachuryas and re-established the Chalukyan Empire in this region for a short period. He established himself at Banavasi and had his capital at Annigeri also. Shortly thereafter, the Yadavas of Devagiri (who in the meantime had captured large parts of the Chalukyan empire in the east and the north-east of Dharwad from the Kalachuryas) took over these territories also. Though the period of the Later Chalukyas is reckoned from 1184 AD their empire was divided between the Hoysalas in the west and the south, and the Yadavas of Devagiri in the north and northeast. This division however ceased in 1210 AD when the whole of the dominions passed to the Yadavas of Devagiri. That there was a keen contest between the Hoysalas and the Yadavas for the occupation of the delta between the Tungabhadra and the Malaprabha is evident from the existence of records, both of Hoysala Ballala and Yadava Singhana, in the same region issued by each after their conquests of the place. Hoysal king Vishnuvardhana (1100-52 AD) is said to have extended his power up to Banavasi, Panugal, Halsige, Purigere and Masvadi near Dharwad. His conquests were short-lived and a somewhat more lasting conquest of Dharwad region was by Vira Ballala II (1173-1210 AD). A hero stone in Satenahalli near Hangal refers to the battle between Vira Ballala and Mahamandaleshvara Kamadeva and suggests that this region was occupied by the former after wresting it from Kamadeva.. An inscription on a hero stone at Haveri records that in 1196 AD Vira Ballala laid siege to the city and that his forces were routed by the dashing counter-attack by the brave Sohani and his son Padmanna the leaders of the Kadamba garrison and that in this battle Sohani lost his life. Later, in 1200 AD, Ballala succeeded in taking Hangal. His son and successor, Narasimha II (1220-39 AD), however lost all that his father had captured north of the Tungabhadra and retired to Dwarasamudra.

The first mention of Yadavas in connection with Dharwad is in the reign of their third King Bhillama (1187-92 AD) whose son was defeated by Vira Ballala at Lakkundi. As this victory is said to have secured to Vira Ballala the country of Kuntala it is evident that Bhillama must have then held a fairly extensive kingdom including Dharwad. One of his inscriptions at Annigeri, dated in 1189 AD speaks of Annigeri as the capital from which his underlord, Mahamandaleshvara Bachiraja was governing Belvola. Gadag, Lakshmeshvar, Chaudadanapur and Rattihalli have yielded inscriptions belonging to Singhana II (1209-47 AD) the grandson of Bhillama. In 1247, his Mahapradhana and Senapati Bachiraja was the governor at Lakshmeshvar. A Haveri inscription belonging to the reign of Krishna (1247-1309 AD) the grandson of Singhana, states that his minister Chavundaraya was administering these territories from his capital at Puligere i.e., Lakshmeshvar. Several epigraphs belonging to the reign of Ramachandra Deva (1271-1309 AD), the greatest of the Devagiri Yadava kings, have been found at Chuddnpur, Lakshmeshvar, Naregal and Rattihalli. One of these inscriptions, dated in 1277 AD, mentions that one of his Mahamandaleshvaras namely Saluva Tikkama, led a victorious expedition upto Tungabhadra in the south. Tikkama has been hailed in it as the establisher of the Kadambas and the over thrower of the Hoysalas.

According to another inscription in 1295 AD, his Mahapradhana Mallideva was the governor at Lakshmeshvar. During the reign of his successor Shankara Deva (1309-12 AD), the Yadava kingdom was annexed by the Sultan of Delhi. The suzerainty of the Sultan was resisted by Kampila Raya who was a subordinate of Yadava Ramachandra and had declared independence during the period of the political chaos that ensued the invasions by Malik Kafur. This new kingdom with its strongholds at Kampili, Kummata and Hosadurga (Anegondi) included the present districts of Bellary, Raichur and Dharwad. However, in the 1327 AD campaign Kampila Raya was killed. But, by then, he had sown the seeds from which the great Vijayanagara Empire emerged. An inscription found in Lakshmeshvar commemorates the death of Kampila Raya while another found at Sangur in Haveri taluk records that the image of Kumara Ramanatha (the valiant son of Kampila Raya) was set up at Chengapura (Sangur) by Madarasa in Saka 1329 during the reign of Devaraya. This image is even now regarded as an object of worship and in folk literature, Kumara Rama is hailed as a great saviour. As a result of the conquests undertaken by Harihara and Bukka soon after the formation of the Vijayanagara kingdom, Dharwad district too became one of its integral parts. While Vijayanagara was fast developing, another powerful force, namely that of the Bahamanis, emerged with Gulbarga as its headquarters. As a result northern parts of Karnataka inclusive of Dharwad district became a ground of hot contest between these two powerful rivals. Consequently wars were fought more frequently and the people of this region were subjected to much suffering. In spite of several reverses, by and large, the Vijayanagara kings retained control over a major portion of the district during this period. Navalgund and Bankapur however were among the notable possessions of the Bahamanis.

Yusuf Adil Khan proclaimed independence, seized Bijapur as also Bahamani possessions in Dharwad district and founded the Adil Shahi rule in 1498 AD. The rivalry for the possession of Dharwad region became much more intense until Sri Krishnadeva Raya (1509-29 AD) defeated Ismail Adil Shah in decisive battles and ushered in a period of comparative peace and prosperity. Sri Krishnadeva Raya and his brother Achyuta Raya are credited with the introduction of the system of water works for which the district is famous and also with the introduction of Rai Rekha Mar survey which formed the basis of all later revenue settlements. During this period the Portuguese occupied Goa and they were on good terms with the Vijayanagara monarchs. The Dharwad region flourished as it was located on the main trade route between the capitals of Goa and Vijayanagar.

With the decline of the Vijayanagara power following the death of Rama Raya in the battlefield and the utter defeat suffered by the Vijayanagara forces at the Rakkasa Tangadgi battle in 1565 AD, Dharwad district came under the sway of the Bijapur kingdom. In 1569 AD Dharwad witnessed a major war for supremacy fought between the forces of the Sultan of Ahmednagar and those of Ali Adil Shah. The governors at Dharwad and Bankapur who had been appointed by the erstwhile Vijayanagara kings held out as independent rulers and fiercely resisted the imposition of Bijapur rule for a short while. It was in fact only in 1573 AD that Ali Adil Shah (1557-80 AD) could capture Dharwad (which was regarded as one of the strongest forts at that period) and follow it up in 1575 by the annexation of Bankapur.

Thenceforth, for about a hundred years, this region formed part of the Adil Shahi kingdom of Bijapur, that is, until it was taken over by the Moghul emperor. Though this period of Bijapur rule cannot be hailed as a period of undisturbed peace and prosperity, it may be said that wars were much less frequent. In the latter half of the 17th century it has been recorded that this region was full of villages with weavers and that Hubli was a place of much wealth and trade.

Muhammed Adil Shah of Bijapur refused to accept the supremacy of the Moghul emperor. Consequently in 1633 AD Moghul emperor Shah Jehan invaded the Deccan and laid waste the country and also extirpated the Sultan of Ahmednagar. In 1637 AD, Shahji Bhonsle who was till then in the service of Ahmednagar Sultan entered service in the court of Muhammed Adil Shah of Bijapur and soon earned for himself a place of honour in the Bijapur kingdom. About a decade later, in 1647 AD, his son Shivaji rebelled against the Bijapur Sultan as well as his own father and established himself as an independent ruler with his capital at Kalyan. Shivaji captured portions of Dharwad district also. In 1673 AD, while ravaging Bijapur territory, the Maratha army plundered the rich mercantile town of Hubli. In 1674, Shivaji fortified Nargund and took Dharwad as well. At about this time, Abdul Karim Khan was appointed as the governor of Bankapur province and also as the chief captain against the Marathas. Aurangzeb's son, Sultan Muassim, marched in the name of the Delhi emperor to regain the lost territories and to establish the supremacy of the Moghul and placed garrisons at both these places. But, as his army was greatly reduced due to famine conditions he was compelled to withdraw towards Ahmednagar. However in 1686 AD, Aurangzeb captured Bijapur and annexed the entire kingdom to his empire. The Moghul rule, which started thus, was purely of a military nature and it lasted till 1720 AD only. Abdul Rahuf Khan, the son of Abdul Karim Khan the Bijapur governor of Bankapur, was inducted into the service of the Moghul emperor and was entrusted with the administration of Dharwad region and the surrounding areas. At first he had his capital at Bankapur but, shortly after assuming office, he preferred to move over to Savanur.

The Moghul power began to weaken soon after the death of Aurangazeb in 1707 AD. This led to the establishment of two Maratha principalities under two of Shivaji's grandsons: Satara under Sahu and Kolhapur under Sambhaji. In 1719 AD, Sahu received three imperial grants: one for the Chowth (one-fourth-share), another for the Sardeshmukhi (one-tenth-share) of the revenues of the six Deccan provinces including Bijapur which covered Dharwad as well and the third grant was for the swaraj of sixteen districts including Gadag. Sahu appointed Fathe Singh Bhonsle, the Raja of Akalkot to collect the dues on his behalf. The local Subhedars were however too powerful to allow the Marathas to collect the tributes. As a result in 1726, Peshva Baji Rai himself marched into Karnataka with a large army and plundered places as far south as Shrirangapattana. But he did not make any attempt to establish his power on any durable basis. In consequence thereof the nawab of Savanur gradually acquired a large territory and in 1746, he openly resisted the Marathas. This was resented by the Peshva and culminated in a Maratha invasion of his territories. The Nawab entered into a peace treaty by which he yielded large tracts of Dharwad district to the Peshva and retained only Hubli, Bankapur, Hangal and a few other places. Again in 1755, the Nawab, invited trouble by offering asylum to a deserter of the Maratha command. Bankapur was beseiged by the Marathas and realising the futility of holding out, the Nawab bought peace by surrendering a few more tracts to the Peshva.

The local desais were permitted by the Peshva to administer the ceded territories and he made them responsible for regular payment of tributes due to the Marathas. A few years later, in 1764, Haidar Ali of Mysore subdued the Nawab of Savanur when the latter refused to break off his allegiance to the Marathas. His general Fazal Ulla Khan took Dharwad and over ran the country as far north as the Krishna. Naturally, there was counter attack by Peshva Madhava Rao, and, even though the advance party led by Gopal Rao Patvardhan was defeated by Fazal Ulla Khan, the Peshva used his troops for driving out Haidar's garrisons from the towns and villages north of the Varada and he also took Dharwad. Thus the Maratha supremacy was again re-established in this region. After the death of Peshva Madhava Rao in 1773 there were dissensions in the Poona Court. At this juncture Haidar Ali entered into close relations with Raghunatha Rao, acknowledged him as the head of the Marathas and agreed to support him in the fight for succession. In 1776, in return for a gift of Rs.16 lakhs, Raghunatha Rao agreed that Haidar Ali should take hold of the country to the south of Krishna. Accordingly, Haidar Ali crossed the Tungabhadra, took Bankapur and Savanur. The opponents of Raghunatha Rao enlisted the support of the Nizam and marched south to drive out Haidar's troops. Muhammed Ali, the Mysore general, destroyed the advance party and Haidar Ali tactfully bought off the Nizam's forces. The Maratha re-crossed the Krishna without risking any action. Then, Haidar Ali retook Dharwad and also established his suzerainty over the Desais of Nargund, Navalgund, Dambal, Sirahatti and such other strong places. He strengthened his hold on the district further and formed a close alliance with the Nawab by accepting the offer of Nawab's daughter for his own second son in turn. It was only in 1782 that the Marathas could turn their attention to the territories they had lost to Haidar Ali. Nana Phadnavis demanded that Haidar Ali should pay the tributes due to the Marathas and also to restore to him the territories north of the Tungabhadra. At this juncture, consequent on the death of Haidar Ali, his son Tipu Sultan took over the reigns of administration. When Nana Phadnavis renewed his demands, Tipu Sultan acknowledged the obligations but evaded payment. In the meantime, the Nawab of Savanur shifted his loyalty to the Marathas and thus incurred the wrath of Tipu Sultan. The Nawab was attacked and forced to seek refuge at the Poona court. In 1785, Tipu Sultan demanded a higher tribute from the chief of Nargund. But the chief refused to pay up and sought for the intervention of Nana Phadnavis. Tipu Sultan besieged Nargund and, inspite of the reinforcements despatched by Nana Phadnavis, captured Nargund. He took Kittur as well.

The Marathas then formed an alliance with the Nizam and in 1786 started a major offensive by which they compelled Tipu Sultan to negotiate a treaty. Tipu Sultan, however, had no intention of honouring the agreement and, as soon as the Marathas crossed the Krishna, Mysore troops recaptured Kittur and all other places. Annoyed at this utter faithlessness on the part of Tipu Sultan, the Marathas forged an alliance with the English as well to mount an attack to regain their territories. In 1790, the confederate forces launched a major offensive as a result of which all the territories north of the Tungabhadra (i.e. Bombay-Karnataka region) came under the Maratha rule. By the treaty of Shrirangapattana (1792), the Marathas were, confirmed in their possessions in what has come to be known as the Bombay-Karnataka region. The Maratha rule lasted for nearly three decades and was marked by internal rivalries and considerable hardship to the common man. Most of the Dharwad and Savanur region was made over by the Peshva to Parasuram-bhau in payment of the expenses incurred by the latter in the war, which had just concluded. In respect of the other areas the Peshva appointed Dhondopant Gokhale as his representative. Around 1790, Dhondia Vagh who had risen to a high rank in the Mysore army left Tipu's service and, with a few followers, settled near Dharwad as a freebooter. In 1794, Dhondopant Gokhale defeated Dhondia Vagh and forced him to take refuge with Tipu Sultan. Thereafter Dhondopant Gokhale was appointed the Sar-Subhedar of the province. Owing to the policy of self-aggrandizement adopted by him and the absence of Parasuram-bhau from the district resulted in widespread disturbances for a considerable period of time. Thus, for about a decade from 1797, Bhimrao who had possessed himself of Dambal near Gadag, let loose a reign of terror and unceasing pillage, with the connivance of Dhondopant Gokhale, in the country south of Malaprabha.

In the south, contests were continually going on amongst the followers of Dhondopant gokhale, Parasuram-bhau and the chief of Kolhapur. In the course of these struggles, while Dhondopant appropriated Navalgund and Gadag, the Kolhapur chief took over a major portion of Parasuram-bhau's possessions. In 1799 the fourth Mysore war culminated in the fall of Shrirangapattana and the death of Tipu Sultan. Parasuram-bhau was also killed in 1799. At this juncture, Dhondia Vagh who had been imprisoned and kept in irons, by Tipu Sultan was, set free by the British. He gathered a small army, rebelled against the British rule and began to plunder the countryside. He was however forced to leave the Mysore territories by hot pursuit and on his entering Dharwad district, Dhondopant Gokhale too attacked him and forced him to move further north to take up the service under the chief of Kolhapur. Subsequently, in early 1800, Dhondia Vagh re-entered Dharwad district, firmly established himself in the Savanur country and assumed the title of the king of the two worlds. Thereafter he captured almost all the forts north of Tungabhadra and reigned supreme for a brief period. The combined forces of the British and the Peshva mounted a major attack on Dhondia Vagh in which the latter was finally killed. The destruction of Dhondia's power did not free the district from disturbances mainly because of the bitter feelings between Peshva Baji Rao and the Patvardhans. Struggle for power and plunder among the local estate holders continued almost unchecked. Towards the close of Baji Rao's Peshvaship most of the Southern Maratha chiefs maintained an attitude of semi-independence. In 1817, under the treaty of Poona, the Peshva ceded the territory of Dharwad and Kusugal to the British, which the latter occupied without much delay. A year later, in 1818 at the end of the Maratha war, the Peshva was formally deposed and his territory was formally annexed to the British dominions. Thus a major part of the Dharwad district too came under the British rule. In 1830, the Southern Maratha country was brought under Regulation VII and these territories were formed into one collectorate, called the Dharwad district or Zilla. This included, besides the present Dharwad district, parts of Belgaum, Bijapur and Solapur districts. In 1836 Belgaum was formed into a separate collectorate and in 1839 as a consequence of the annexation of the estate of the chief of Nipani 13 villages in Annigeri were added to the district. The year 1857-58, which has since been hailed as the year when the first war of independence was fought, witnessed anti-British rebellion in Dharwad district too. Baba Saheb of Nargund, Bhimrao of Mundargi and Kenchengauda of Shirhatti were in the forefront of the struggle. As elsewhere here too the rebellion was crushed and Baba Sahib was publicly hanged along with scores of his followers. With this, the British rule took firm roots and lasted till the country-attained independence in 1947. Thereafter, the princely States and estates were formally merged with the Union of India and the entire Dharwad district formed part of the then Bombay State. In November 1956, as a result of the re-organisation of the States on a linguistic basis the entire Bombay-Karnataka region, including Dharwad district, was merged with Mysore State, which has since been renamed as Karnataka. The district lies within the jurisdiction of Belgaum Division, which is one of the four divisions into which the State is divided for purposes of administration.

(iii) Administrative setup and jurisidictional changes during the decade 1991-2001

The present Dharwad district comprises of five taluks viz., Dharwad, Hubli, Kalghatgi, Kundgol, Navalgund group into one Revenue sub-division of Dharwad. Dharwad is the district Headquarter and seat of administration.

Dharwad district headed towards a major geographical change during the decade. As a sequel to Government of Karnataka's Notification No RD 42 LRD 87 part 3, Bangalore dated 2nd August 1997, published in extra ordinary Gazatte no 894 dated 02-08-1997, Seven new districts took their birth showing territorial changes on the administrative and political map of Karnataka during the 2001 census. As a consequence Dharwad was bifurcated into three districts resulting in creation of two more districts namely Gadag and Haveri. Prior to its bifurcation Dharwad consisted of 17 taluks. Of these, five taluks namely Dharwad, Hubli, Kalghatgi, Kundgol and Navalgund have been retained within the jurisdiction of Dharwad. The present Dharwad district comprises of five taluks viz., Dharwad, Hubli, Kalghatgi, Kundgol, Navalgund group into one Revenue sub-division of Dharwad. Dharwad is the district Headquarter and seat of administration. Not only the territorial changes, but there was certain changes within the taluks. The reasons for variations within the taluk are either due to creation of new villages or merger of villages with town. The Statement below gives a detailed picture of villages that were newly created and fully included in the towns.

Total Number Of Towns/ Village:-

According to 2001 Census there are six towns and 379 villages in Dharwad district. As compared to the position in 1991 where in there were 6 towns and 372 villages in Dharwad.

Urban local bodies

The statutory urban local bodies are the City Municipal Councils, Municipal Corporations, Notified Area Committee, Town Municipal Councils, Town Panchayat, and Cantonment Boards. These urban local bodies elect Councilors / Corporators from each ward and the tenure of those Councilors / Corporators would be for five years. The President or VicePresident of the Municipal Council and the Mayor / Deputy Mayor of the Corporations are elected from among the elected Councilors / Corporators whose tenure will be for a period of one year. The Chairman of various committees are also elected among the elected Councilors with a term of one year.

The Chief Officer in Municipal Council and the Commissioner in a City Corporation are responsible for day-to-day administration and the executive authority is vested with them.

Zilla Panchayat and Taluk Panchayat

To promote the development of institution and secure greater measure of participation by the people in the local and governmental affairs by decentralisation of power and functions and for the purpose of development planning and implementation of various programmes thereof Zilla Panchayats have been constituted in the State. The jurisdiction of Zilla Panchayat is coterminous with that of the corresponding district and covers the entire rural and semi urban area but excludes the statutory towns. Accordingly, Zilla Panchayat has been constituted for Dharwad district and its jurisdiction extends over the Taluk Panchayats of the district. The jurisdiction of each Taluk Panchayat is coterminous with that of the taluk of the same name but excludes the area incorporated in the statutory towns or cities.

The Zilla Panchayat elects its president and vicepresident and chairman of its committees from amongst the elected members. The term of these elected representatives will for five years. An officer of the rank of IAS is deputed by the State Government as Chief Executive Officer of the Zilla Panchayat. Various departments assist Panchayat.

Gram Panchayats

The Government of Karnataka has enacted the Karnataka Panchayat Raj Act 1993 on 30.4.1993 replacing its previous enactment in this regard for the formation of Gram Panchayat.

(iv) PHYSICAL FEATURES

Dharwad district is located in the western sector of the northern half of the Karnataka state spanning a total Geographical area of about 4,260 sq.km,and ranks at 24th place among the districts in the state. Dharwad district has the greatest extent from north to south 72 kms and from east to west 87 kms.

(1) Location and size

Dharwad district lies between the latitudinal parallels of 15 degree 2 minutes north and 15 degree 40 minutes north and longitudinal parallels of 74 degree 43 minutes east and 75 degree 36 minutes east. The most conspicuous contour lines of very high and very low areas of the district is located at 500 and 700 metres above the mean sea level respectively. The district is bound by Belgaum in the north, to the south it is bound by Haveri district to the east by Gadag district and to the southwest by Uttara Kannada district.

(2) Physiography

Physiographically Dharwad falls within the well defined macro region of Deccan plateau, one of the two regions into which the state has been divided. Within the state, it is a part of the central Karnataka plateau, one of the four micro regions into which the State has been further divided. The district is classified into two prominent landscope; the Dharwar and the black soil plains. The Dharwar landscape which features Sahyadrian region of the western belt of the district covers the Kalghatgi taluk. This landscape is marked by chain of low hill ranges, meandering streams and monsoonal forest cover. The hill ranges of Budangudda between Dharwad and Kalghatgi, truly represent the Dharwar outcrop with a general north-east and south-west trend. There are two prominent peaks at an altitude of 2,444 feet and 2,357 feet in this range and several low saddles and flat tops. The Unkalgudda near Hubli and the hills of Rayapur between Dharwar and Hubli are examples of isolated hills which are typical to this region. The landscape of black soil plains on this Sahyadrian region constitute a transitional belt where the hilly landscape of the west passes into the undulating plain of black soil. The undulating topography of this northern region of the State is characterized by dry beds of meandering streams and fissures due to intense soil erosion.

(3) Drainage

The erstwhile Dharwad district was drained by two major rivers, the Malaprabha in the north and the Tungabhadra in the south. After the bifurcation of the districts, these two major rivers form the drainage for Gadag and Haveri. However, the drainage for Dharwad is mainly through perennial and seasonal streams. The elevated belt stretching from Dharwad towards Hubli and beyond constitutes a part of the main watershed of the Sahyadris separating the Arabian sea drainage from that of the Bay of Bengal. South-West of Hubli and south of Kalghatgi, the watershed turns further west and passes out of the administrative limits of the Dharwad district. Bennihalla, which is a chief tributary of the river Malaprabha, is the foremost of the perennial streams in the district. The drainage area is mostly underlain by black soil. An extremely low gradient, a broad shifting course varying from 100 to 250 feet in width, intensely furrowed banks, deep gullies and an equally deep loamy bed, threaded channels and saline waters which leave their traces in the dry season are the characteristic features of the Bennihalla. From the north, this stream receives the drainage water of the Tuparinala. Both the Bennihalla and the Tuparinala basins are important from the point of view of agriculture. Also, a small tract in the western margin, south-west of Dharwad and Hubli is drained westwards to the Arabian sea by the Shalmala river.

(4) Climate

Dharwad district has an agreeable and healthy climate. The central and western belt covering Sahyadri region has more pleasant weather than other parts of the district. The year is usually divided into four seasons and they are as follows:-

1) Summer sets in during the second half of February and last till the end of May. This season is marked by harsh eastern winds, rising temperature whirl winds and occasional thunderstorms accompanied by sharp showers. 2) South west monsoon starts during early June and last till end of September. This is a period of cool and damp climate. 3) The months of October and November constitute the post monsoon season and the period witness a gradual rise in day temperature and a substantial amount of rainfall. 4) Winter seasons covers the period from December to mid February and during this season the district enjoys moderate weather.

(5) Winds

The air is hottest in April and May. The temperature some times rises to 105^0F to 107^0F. The easterly winds blow with less force in April and at times give way to a westerly breeze which lowers the temperature in the day time and cools and freshens the nights. During the calms between the regular east and west winds towards the end of March and in April whirl winds or as they are locally called devva gali (devil winds)are common. For a time the east winds blows by day and the west wind by night. By May the west winds begins to freshen and last through the day.

After the west breeze has set in short sharp thunder storms with rain and hail are common. Towards the end of May the west wind begins to blow stronger.

(6) Rainfall pattern

The District falls under northern transition, northern dry and hilly agroclimatic zones of the state. The taluks of Dharwad, Kundgol and Hubli falls under northern transition zone. The taluk of Navalgund falls under northern dry zone. Kalaghtagi taluk falls under hilly zone.

The average Rainfall in the district ranges from 606mm in Navalgund taluk to 1,032mm in Kalaghtagi taluk. The rainfall decreases from south and north part of the district towards northeastern part. The northeast part of Navalgund taluk receives the lowest rainfall.

Among the taluks in the district the premonsoon rainfall contributes 15 to 22 per cent of the annual rainfall, southwest monsoon contributes 58 to 68 per cent and northeast monsoon contributes 17 to 23 per cent of the annual rainfall.

The coefficient variation ranges from 45 to 135 per cent for the premonsoon season, 29 to 140 per cent during the south west monsoon, 52 to 79 per cent during northeast monsoon. The variation for the annual rainfall ranges from 23 to 121 per cent. The variation in rainfall recorded is highest in Kundgol taluk in all the three monsoon seasons. The taluk wise rainfall pattern in the district is given in the following table.

TALUK WISE RAINFALL PATTERN, DHARWAD DISTRICT

A study of the rainfall deficit pattern during the last 20 years compared with the long term data for different seasons indicate increase in rainfall deficiency in the recent past during the pre-monsoon, and northeast monsoon period. Rainfall deficit during last 20 years has been compared with that of long term data in different seasons and is presented in the following table.

TALUKWISE AND SEASONWISE COMPARISION OF RAINFALL DEFICIT DURING LAST 20 YEARS WITH 99 YEARS DATA, DHARWAD DISTRICT

Taluks	Pre Monsoon		South-West Monsoon		North-East Monsoon		Annual Rainfall
	Long term	Recent 20 Yrs.	Long term.	Recent 20 Yrs.	Long term	Recent 20 Yrs	Long term	Recent 20 Yrs.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Dharwad (95)	39(41)	9(45)	25(26)	6(30)	45(47)	11(55)	27(28)	5(25)
Hubli (93)	39(42)	10(50)	28(30)	2(10)	40(43)	10(50)	20(22)	5(25)
Kalghatgi (95)	38(40)	9(45)	15(16)	1(5)	38(40)	10(50)	10(11)	2(10)
Kundgol (42)	28(67)	18(90)	14(33)	11(55)	18(43)	11(55)	16(38)	12(60)
Navalgund (49)	15(30)	9(45)	17(35)	6(30)	21(43)	11(55)	10(20)	7(35)

Note: Figures in bracket indicate values as percentage of number of years for which data is available or for 20 years depending on the column in which it is given.

The following inferences could be made.

- The Premonsoon rainfall in the recent 20 years is more deficit compared to the long term data.
- Southwest monsoon in the recent 20 years is more deficit compared to the long term data, except Hubli, Kalghatagi and Navalgund taluks.
- The rainfall deficit during north-east monsoon is increasing during recent 20 years compared to the long term data.

The trend analysis of annual rainfall deficit indicates increasing trend in the taluks of Dharwad, and Kalaghatgi. The taluks of Kundgol , Navalgund and Hubli indicates decreasing trend.

(7) Forestry

Of the total Geographical area of the district, 8.2 per cent of the land is covered by forest.

Dharwad district is deficient on the western in forest wealth. Most of the forest of district lie in the belt of Dharwad, Kalghatgi and in the interior maidan region of Hubli taluk. The Monsoonal forest of the western belt are somewhat dense and have timber trees such as teak, matti honne etc., and also sandal wood which is of great economic value. In this zone there are vast extents of grass lands. The thorn forest formation consisting of Accacias and Cassias which is a characteristic feature of the black soil plains is very much restricted. A large portion of the forests of the district belong to the Shrub category. A considerable extent of forest area is found in Kalghatgi taluk alone.

The forest exhibits regional variations. The thorn forest formation, consisting mainly of Bundargi (Lodonaea viscosa) and Acacias and Cassias, is typical of the dry black soil region, but is now extremely restricted by agricultural land and the perennial and its tributary streams now show a remnant of such formation. Species of thorn scrub and grasses contribute to a typical land scape of its formation. The Shrub forest offer a far more stern and drier land scape under the influence of dry climate and very inferior soil. Several of the shrubs have economic use, and the grass land patches provide inferior grazing for sheep.

The deciduous or monsoon forest are managed under regular working plans, the object of which is the supply of fuel to the public and small timber for the purpose of house construction and agricultural implements.

The forest of Dharwad and Kalghatgi taluks are of deciduous type containing a rich growth of teak and good percentage of sandal wood. The reserved forest of Hubli taluk falls under the category of Shrub forest having sandal wood.

The chief major forest produce are timber, fire wood, charcoal and sandal wood. The other most important minor forest produce marketable are Tumri leaves, harda, tarwad and kaki bark, gum, honey and bamboos.

(8) Geology

The district belongs to three well known formation :-

The southern portion which is marked by an out crop of two famous bands of Dharwad system of ancient Gnesis and Schists. The Dharwad represents the oldest rock formation and comprise schists, phyllites, argillites, felsite hematite quartzites and limestone. The rocks showing considerable variation in texture are usually massive and are pink to grey in colour. The mineral wealth of the district includes Gold, Copper, Iron and Manganese.

(9) Flora and Fauna

Flora

Some of the most useful trees and plants of the district are mentioned below with their botanical names in brackets.

Alale, harda (Terminalia chebula) bark and berries are useful in tanning and medicine. Atti rumdi or umbar (Ficus glomerata). This yields a wood which may be used in the body of carts into which the iron axle fits. Bel (Aegle marmelos) leaves are used for worship of Shiva. Bural (Bombax malabaricum) is alsilk cotton tree used for making scabbards and toys. Dikamali (Gardenia lucida), it yields an ill smelling gum resin which is much used in healing wounds and sores. Gandha (Santalum album) furnishes the well known Sandal wood of commerce. It is used for carving incense and perfume. From the root a valuable oil is extracted. Ker(Seme carpus anacardium), the oil of the nut is used for treating blisters and for fermentation in rheumatism. The seeds are eaten, and have medicinal property.

Fauna

Tiger and Bison occurs where forest exists. Panthers may found in forest as well as rocky shrub-covered hillsides. Beautiful Leopard, Cheetah or Chiteha, the Indian sloth bear may occur in suitable localities. The Hyena and the Jackal acts as forest scavengers and are found throughout the district. Indian fox(Vulpes Bengalensis) also occurs in the plains. Of the Deer, the Sambar occurs in the more forested areas while the spotted deer is found in the opener deciduous forest. The forest also harbours the Barking deer or Muntjac (Munticus muntjak) and the Mouse deer(Mosehiola memina). Among more broken hills, occurs the Chinkara or the Indian Gazelle(Gazella benneti), smaller Indian Civet Cat (Vivernicula malaccensis) and the Mongoose (Herpestas adwardsii). The Bird life inhabiting the district as a whole is rich and varied.

(10) Soils

The soils of the Dharwad district are formed from the mixture of decomposed rocks of all type and are found distributed all over the district. According to the definition of National Bhrean of Soil survey organization and Land Use Planning (NSSO & ULP), the soils are classified as Usterts-Ustalfs and Usterts-Tropepts. Usterts are deep black soil. Ustalfs are high base status red loamy, red sandy and alluvial soils. Tropepts are shallow black, brown and alluvial soils of the southen region.

Black soil occupy the greatest part of the district, followed by brown soil and red soil. Navalgund, eastern part of Hubli and eastern portion of Kundgol taluks of the district are covered by the black soil. Eastern parts of Dharwad, western part of Hubli taluks are covered by brown soil. Red soil is found over the hills, slopes and ridges in all parts of the district, especially in the western portion of the district.

(11) Cropping pattern

Agriculture is an important livelihood for the people of Dharwad district. According to 2001 census, 25.8 per cent are cultivators and 27.3 per cent are agricultural labourers, which in otherwords, more than 50 per cent of the population is engaged in agricultural activity. That the district is predominantly agriculture is seen evident from the table given below. As per the statistics on land use pattern for the year 1998-99, the data reveals that about 76.4 per cent of the total geographical areas is sown once and cultivable fallow land accounts for 7.8 per cent, thus making a total of 84.3 per cent of area utilized for agricultural purposes. Among the taluks, agriculture is an predominant activity in Navalgund taluk where the net area sown is 96.8 per cent followed by 83.0 per cent in Kundgol . It is also to be noted that in these two taluks, the area shown against 'forest' is absolutely nil. Lands put to non-agricultural use accounts for 6.6 per cent and uncultivable fallow land is less than one per cent in the district. The taluk wise land use pattern for the year 1998-99 in hectares is given below.

The land holdings for the year 1995-96 of different size are given in the below table. The size of the agricultural holdings is one of the important factors that determine the productivity of the land.

From the below table it is observed that the number of holdings of the size 1-2 hectares is high, which accounts for 30.5 per cent of the holders. However, if the aggregate number of holders possessing 2-4,4-10 and more than ten hectares of land are considered, they account for 54.5 per cent of the total holders. Further it is to be noted that the total area held by 45.5 per cent of marginal and small holders consist of 17.1 per cent and the rest of other holders together consist of 82.9 percent of the total area held.

Jowar, Wheat Paddy and Maize are the chief cereal crops of the district and especially grown to a large extent in the taluks of Kalghatgi and Dharwad. Jowar along with paddy is the staple food of the people. Wheat is chiefly grown in Navalgund taluk.

The above table highlights the data regarding area, production and average yield of crops for the year 1998-99 under all seasons. As already stated, wheat and maize are the principal crops in the district. Total area put under cultivation of wheat and maize is 43,362 hectares and 18,569 hectares respectively. The yield of maize per hectare under irrigated condition is 3,904 Kg whereas it is 2,678 Kgs under non irrigated conditions. A considerable area of 56,208 hectares is put under Jowar cultivation. The yield of Jowar per hectare is 985 Kg under irrigated conditions and it is 806 Kgs per hectares under un-irrigated conditions.

Cotton is the chief commercial crop grown in the district. An area of 86,875 hectares is put under cultivation of cotton. Dry chilly is another important spices crops of the district for which an area of 43,111 hectares is utilized for cultivation of this crops. the yield of the crop per hectare is 771 Kgs.

(12) Irrigation

The irrigation wealth of the district is not quite impressive for the reason that there are no major rivers flowing through the district. However there are seasonal streams and couple of perennial streams which runs through the land. Neither the seasonal streams nor the perennial streams have any economic significance for the districtand the district do not have within its limits any major irrigation project or hydel power generating station. The sources available for irrigation are canals, tanks, wells, tube wells and other sources. The table below provides the taluk wise details of net area irrigated through different source.

As per the statistics given in the above table considerable portion of cropped area is being irrigated through canals. Hubli and Navalgund are the two taluks which are benefited by the source. This is because of the Malaprabha irrigation project where a reservoir has been built across the river Malaprabha, a tributary of river Krishna near Manoli in Soundatti taluk of Belgaum district. On account of this, about 22,901 hectares are irrigated in two taluks of the district. Tanks form a source of irrigation to the villages in Dharwad, Kalghatgi and Kundgol taluks. Next to canals, 8,248 hectares of cropped area is irrigated through tubewells. Other than the sources mentioned above, there are no major or minor irrigation projects to boost the agricultural activity in the district.

(13) Natural Wealth

The then undivided Dharwad was endowed with few major as well as minor mineral wealth. After its bifurcation, the present Dharwad district is devoid of any resources. The only major minerals available is the low grade iron ore in Dharwad taluk and clay in Kalghatgi taluk. Building stone and ordinary sand are the two minor minerals available in the district. While building stones are quarried in all the taluks, ordinary sand is quarried only in Dharwad and Hubli taluks, which is presented in the following table.

(14)Animal Husbandry

Animal Husbandry is by and large, regarded as an adjunct to agriculture. Every cultivator's household usually posses at least a pair of Bullock. Quite a large proportion among them posses a few cows, one or two buffaloes, few sheep and goats as well. Poultry keeping is also quite popular in the rural as well as in the urban areas.

Bullocks and Buffaloes are kept for the purpose of heavier agriculture work, cows and she buffaloes are kept mainly for breeding and milk production. The cows and bullocks belong to the imported breed. The important among them being the Amrit Mahal and Krishna valley.

According to Live stock Census 1997 (provisional figures) the total livestock population in the district is 453,593, which includes cattle, buffaloes, sheep, goats, pigs, rabbits dogs and others. The total poultry stock is 309,000. The following table shows the distribution of various types of live stock in the district for the year 1997.

When compared to animal wealth of other district, Dharwad ranks at 26th place in its livestock population and 23rd place in its poultry wealth. The district needs to draw intensive livestock development programme which would focus mainly on indigenous breeds. In order to boost its livestock wealth, of the eleven livestock farms under the control of the Department of Animal Husbandary and Veterinary Services, two are in the district. Jercy cattle Breeding and training centre at Dharwad UAS Campus is engaged in Jercy cattle breeding, bull-calf production, farmers training, fodder development and frozen semen production. The Buffalo Breeding farms at Tegur is engaged in breeding of Surthi buffalo, bull-calf production, its distribution and fodder production. As part of its poultry development, a Intensive Poultry and egg Marketing centre is in the district.

(14A) Veterinary Services.

As regard the availability of Veterinary service it may be mentioned here that as on 31.3.99 there are 104 Veterinary service institutions of different category.

The category wise description of the various veterinary institution the district is mentioned in the given table. The district has 5 veterinary hospitals. There are 16 veterinary dispensaries in the district. There are six mobile dispensaries in the district. Every taluk has Primary Veterinary Centers and Artificial Insemination centers, which are 38 and 39 respectively in the district.

(15) Fisheries

With the absence of any major rivers flowing in the district, fishing resources are confined to rivulets, streams and nallas and the numerous tanks of varying dimensions found scattered all over the district. It provide ample opportunity to those interested in fishing as a profession. There is a considerable scope for the development of inland fisheries. Large scale fishing activity throughout the year is at present restricted to the villages on the banks of perennial resources. By and large fishing is a seasonal occupation as most of the tanks and streams dry up during the summer. Among the taluk Kalghatgi has the largest water spread areas. In fact, of the 576 major and minor tanks in the district with the total of 2,605.06 hectares of Water Spread Area (WSA), in Kalghatgi taluk alone, there are 349 tanks with 1,217.26 hectares of WSA. Also the only reservoir with 490.00 hectares of WSA is in Neersagara, Kalghatgi taluk. The taluk also boast of possessing the only fish seed farm with the facility of having 20 ponds. Private participation in either fish seed or fish production and rearing is not in force. However, the only fish market in the district is run by private marketers. Also there are six Primary Fisheries Co-operative societies functioning in the district. The active fishermen population is one of the least in the state which comprises of 602 persons.

Fishing is carried on mainly by three types of nets called Tatabale, Khaddelbale and bisubale, besides, a rod and line known locally as gana. The contribution of fisheries to the overall economy of the district is only marginal

(16)Industries

Dharwad ranks amongst the industrially backward district of the State. However, in view of its location in the main Cotton belt manufacturing industry, particularly agro based industry makes a significant contribution to the economy of the district. There are no mineral based industries in the district. There is a heavy concentration of industries in the premier city of the district. viz., Hubli-Dharwad Municipal Corporation. Cotton ginning and pressing has all along been one of the chief industry of the district. This is a seasonal industry and is in operation from March to August. Large scale Cotton textile industry is found in Hubli, of this a mention may be made of composite mill of Hubli. Besides, there are few small units comprising of power looms engaged mainly in weaving of fabrics.

There are totally 426 factories in the district giving employment to 33,227 persons. The table below gives the talukwise details of major factories for the year 98-99.

There are several rice mills all over the district especially in Kalghatgi taluk. Groundnut oil mills are also numerically more in the district. Among the other important industries a mention may be made of the beedi factories and the units engaged in manufacture of brass and copper utensils and those engaged in the production of Agarbathis. Hubli-Dharwad city alone account for 50 per cent of the factories in the district.

The district industries centre was set up in Dharwad during 1978 with a view to promote the industrial development of the district.

(17)Trade and Commerce

Trade and Commerce constitute the back bone of the economy of a district. Trade and Commerce rank next only to agriculture as important sources of livelihood for the people of Dharwad district. Hubli segment of Hubli-Dharwad Municipal Corporation area is the heel of rail Roads and high ways. It has all along been functioning as an entrepot for the district in view of its locational advantage. It has direct links with Bombay the main trading centre on the west as also with Davangere, Bellary and Bangalore. The other important centres of trade are the neighbouring district, such as, Gadag, Haveri etc., Cotton is the most important commodity exported from the district, where the chief wholesale cotton markets is located at Hubli, Dharwad and Kundgol. The other agricultural products exported from the district are Groundnut, Cotton seeds, Chillies, betalnuts and Cardamom. Handloom fabrics, Steel furniture and fixtures and Beedies are some of the manufactured goods that are exported from the district. In exchanging the goods and commodities, regulated markets play an important role, in addition, various banks are also functioning under the co-operative folds. This category of Banks includes the Urban Co-operative Banks, Primary Land development Central Co-operative Banks and other Co-operative Banks. As on 31.3.1999 there are 152 Commercial Banks, 41 Rural Banks, 16 Urban Co-operative Banks and 5 PLD Banks in the district.

There are number of co-operative societies in all the taluks of the district discharging useful functions in different parts of the district and are dealing with various items produced by them. Infact beginning of this movement in the district can be traced, especially in Dharwad and Hubli in 1906. The district boast of establishing the Hubli Cotton Sales Society Ltd, Hubli in the year 1915 considered to be the first Indian Co-operative marketing society. The regulated markets numbers to 16 and the total turn over of these markets are around 294.05 crores.

(18)Transport and Communication

Transport and Communication plays a vital role in shaping the economy of a district. Dharwad district is favourably placed in this aspect as it has a good network of roads and railway communication. N.H.4 passes through the district and touches the important centres of Hubli-Dharwad. As on 31.3.99 the district had a total road length of 2355 km. comprising 156km length of National highway, 163 km. length of State highway and 599 km. length of Major district roads. A major position of the road length to the extent of 777 km. has been categorised as village roads.

Besides, the road ways, the district is well connected with rail route too. The total length of railway network in the district is about 151km. broad gauge. Poona-Bangalore city route is of vital importance.

The details of various facilities available under transport and communication for the year 1998-99 are given in the following tables:

(19)Electricity and Power

Karnataka has a place of pride in the history of power generation in the country. KPTCL - Karnataka Power Transmission Corporation Limited (erstwhile KEB) is mainly vested with the functions of transmission and distribution of power in the entire state. The Corporation has been attaching great importance to electrification of villages, hamlets, tribal colonies and harijan basthis and energisation of irrigation pumpsets. Besides, this with a view to benefit weakest among the section of society schemes called Bhagya Jyothi / Kutir Jyothi have been introduced.

Statement given below shows talukwise number of villages electrified and talukwise energisation of IP sets as on 31.3.1999 in Dharwad District.

(v) CENSUS CONCEPT

Building

A `Building' is generally a single structure on the ground. Sometimes it is made up of more than one component unit which are used or likely to be used as dwellings (residences) or establishments such as shops, business houses, offices, factories, workshops, worksheds, Schools, places of entertainment, places of worship, godowns, stores etc. It is also possible that building which have component units may be used for a combination of purposes such as shop-cum-residence, workshop-cum-residence, office-cum-residence, etc.

Usually a structure will have four walls and a roof. But in some areas the very nature of construction of houses is such that there may not be any wall. Such is the case of conical structures where entrance is also provided but they may not have any walls. Therefore, such of the conical structures are also treated as separate buildings.

Permanent houses

Houses, the walls and roof of which are made of permanent materials. The material of walls can be any one from the following, namely, galvanized iron sheets or other metal sheets, asbestos sheets, burnt bricks, stones or concrete. Roof may be made of from any one of the following materials, namely, tiles, slate, galvanized iron sheets, metal sheets, asbestos sheets, bricks, stones or concrete.

Semi-permanent houses

Houses in which either the wall or the roof is made of permanent material and the other is made of temporary material.

Temporary houses

Houses in which both walls and roof are made of materials, which have to be replaced frequently. Walls may be made from any one of the following temporary materials, namely, grass, thatch, bamboo, plastic, polythene, mud, unburnt bricks or wood. Roof may be made from any one of the following temporary materials, namely, grass, thatch, bamboo, wood, mud, plastic or polythene.

Dwelling Room

A room is treated as a dwelling room if it has walls with a doorway and a roof and should be wide and long enough for a person to sleep in, i.e. it should have a length of not less than 2 meters and a breadth of at least 1.5 meters and a height of 2 meters. A dwelling room would include living room, bedroom, dining room, drawing room, study room, servant's room and other habitable rooms. Kitchen, bathroom, latrine, store room, passage-way and verandah which are not normally usable for living are not considered as dwelling rooms. A room, used for multipurpose such as sleeping, sitting, dining, storing, cooking, etc., is regarded as a dwelling room. In a situation where a census house is used as a shop or office., etc., and the household also stays in it then the room is not considered as a dwelling room. But if a garage or servant quarter is used by a servant and if she/ he also lives in it as a separate household then this has been considered as a dwelling room available to the servant's household. Tent or conical shaped hut if used for living by any household is also considered as dwelling room.

A dwelling room, which is shared by more than one household, has not been counted for any of them. If two households have a dwelling room each but in addition also share a common dwelling room, then the common room has not been counted for either of the households.

Census House

A `census house' is a building or part of a building used or recognised as a separate unit because of having a separate main entrance from the road or common courtyard or staircase, etc. It may be occupied or vacant. It may be used for residential or non residential purpose or both.

In certain peculiar situations, the manner in which buildings and census houses were identified for numbering in the field by the enumerators is described hereunder:

Sometimes a series of different buildings are found along a street which are joined with one another by common walls on either side looking like a continuous structure. These different units are practically independent of one another and are likely to have been built at different times and owned by different persons. In such cases, though the whole structure with all the adjoining units apparently appears to be one building, each portion was treated as a separate building and its constituent units as separate census houses.

On the other hand, one may come across cases, particularly in large cities of multistoreyed ownership flats. In these cases while the structure looks like one building, different persons own the flats. In case of such multistoreyed structures, having a number of flats owned by different persons, the entire structure was treated as one building and each flat as a separate census house.

If within a large enclosed area, there are separate buildings owned by different persons then each such building is treated as a separate building. There can be a situation where within an enclosed compound there are separate buildings owned by an undertaking or company or even government that are actually in occupation of different persons. For example, Indian Oil Corporation colony where the buildings are owned by the Corporation but these are in occupation of their employees. Each such building was treated as a separate building. But if in any one of these buildings there were flats in occupation of different households, each such flat was reckoned as a separate census house.

Sometimes it becomes difficult to apply the definition of census house strictly in certain cases. For example, in an urban area, if a flat has five rooms, each room having direct entrance from the common staircase or courtyard, by definition, this has to be treated as five census houses. If all these five rooms are occupied by a single household it was not realistic to treat them as five census houses. In such a case,`singleness' of use of these rooms along with the main house should be considered and the entire flat was treated as one census house. On the other hand, if two independent households occupy these five rooms, the first household living in 3 rooms and the second household occupying 2 rooms, then considering the use, the first three rooms together were treated as one census house and the remaining rooms as another census house. But if each room was occupied by an independent household, then each such room was treated as a separate census house.

In case of hostels, hotels, etc., even if the door of each room in which an inmate lives opens to a common verandah, staircase, courtyard or a common room, as it happens almost invariably, the entire hostel/ Hotel building was treated as one census house. But if such hostels/ hotels have out houses or other structures used for different purposes or the same purpose, then each such structure attached to the main hostel / hotel was treated as a separate census house.

In some parts of the country, in rural areas, the pattern of habitation is such that a group of huts, located in a compound, whether enclosed or unenclosed, is occupied by one household. While the main residence may be located in one hut, other huts may be used for sleeping, as a kitchen, bath room, baithak, etc. Though each of the huts was a separate structure, they form a single housing unit and therefore, have to be treated collectively as one building and one census house. If some of the huts are used by one household and the others by a second household as residence, then the two groups of huts were treated as separate census houses. However, if there were also other huts in the compound used for other purposes and not as part of the household's residence such as, cattle shed, workshed, etc., these were treated as separate census houses.

On the other hand, in urban areas, where more than one structure within an enclosed or open compound (premises) belonging to the same person, e.g., the main house, the servant's quarter, the garage, etc., only one building number was given for this group and each of the constituent a separate census house number.

Only cases where a structure with roof and pillars has come up was treated as a building.

Village

The basic unit for rural areas is the revenue village which has definite surveyed boundaries. The revenue village may comprise of one or more hamlets but the entire village is treated as one unit for presentation of data. In unsurveyed areas, like villages within forest areas, each habitation area with locally recognized boundaries is treated as one village.

Rural-Urban area

The data in tables on Houses, Household Amenities and Assets are presented separately for rural and urban areas. The unit of classification in this regard is `town' for urban areas and `village' for rural areas. In the Census of India 2001, the definition of urban area adopted is as follows:

a) All places with a municipality, corporation, cantonment board or notified town area committee, etc.

b) A place satisfying the following three criteria simultaneously:
   i) A minimum population of 5,000;
   ii) at least 75 per cent of male working population engaged in non-agricultural pursuits; and
   iii) a density of population of at least 400 per sq. km.(1,000 per sq.mile)

For identification of places which would qualify to be classified as 'urban' all villages, which, as per the 1991 Census had a population of 4,000 and above, a population density of 400 persons per sq. km. and having at least 75 per cent of male working population engaged in nonagricultural activity were considered. To work out the proportion of male working population referred to above against b) (ii), the data relating to main workers were taken into account.

Apart from these, the outgrowths (OGs) of cities and towns have also been treated as urban under 'Urban Agglomerations'. Examples of outgrowths are railway colonies, university campuses, port areas, military camps, etc., that may have come up near a statutory town or city but within the revenue limits of a village or villages contiguous to the town or city. Each such individual area by itself may not satisfy the demographic criteria laid down at (b) above to qualify it to be treated as an independent urban unit but may deserve to be clubbed with the towns as a continuous urban spread. Thus, the town level data, wherever presented, also includes the data for outgrowths of such towns.

City

Towns with population of 100,000 and above are called cities.

Urban Agglomeration

An Urban Agglomeration is a continuous urban spread constituting a town and its adjoining urban outgrowths (OGs) or two or more physically contiguous towns together and any adjoining urban outgrowths of such towns. In some cases railway colonies, university campuses, port areas, etc., may come up near a city or statutory town outside its statutory limits but within the revenue limits of a village or villages contiguous to the town or city. Each such individual area by itself may not satisfy the minimum population limit to qualify it to be treated as an independent urban unit but may deserve to be clubbed with the town as a continuous urban spread.

For the purpose of delineation of Urban Agglomerations during Census of India 2001, following criteria are taken as pre-requisites:

(a) The core town or at least one of the constituent towns of an urban agglomeration should necessarily be a statutory town; and
(b) The total population of all the constituents (i.e., towns and outgrowths) of an Urban Agglomeration should not be less than 20,000 (as per the 1991 Census).

With these two basic criteria having been met, the following are the possible different situations in which Urban Agglomerations would be constituted:

i) a city or town with one or more contiguous outgrowths;
ii) two or more adjoining towns with their outgrowths; and
iii) a city and one or more adjoining towns with their outgrowths all of which form a continuous spread.

Household

A 'household' is usually a group of persons who normally live together and take their meals from a common kitchen unless the exigencies of work prevent any of them from doing so. Persons in a household may be related or unrelated or a mix of both. However, if a group of unrelated persons live in a census house but do not take their meals from the common kitchen, then they are not constituent of a common household. Each such person was to be treated as a separate household. The important link in finding out whether it was a household or not was a common kitchen. There may be one member households, two member households or multimember households.

Institutional Household

A group of unrelated persons who live in an institution and take their meals from a common kitchen is called an Institutional Household. Examples of Institutional Households are boarding houses, messes, hostels, hotels, rescue homes, jails, ashrams, orphanages, etc. To make the definition more clearly perceptible to the enumerators at the Census 2001, it was specifically mentioned that this category of households would cover only those households where a group of unrelated persons live in an institution and share a common kitchen.

Houseless Household

Households who do not live in buildings or census houses but live in the open on roadside, pavements, in hume pipes, under flyovers and staircases, or in the open in places of worship, mantaps, railway platforms, etc., are treated as Houseless Households.

Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes

Article 341 of the Constitution provides that the President may, with respect to any State or Union territory, specify the castes, races or tribes or parts of or groups within castes, races or tribes which shall for the purposes of the Constitution be deemed to be Scheduled Castes in relation to that State or Union territory. Article 342 similarly provides for specification of tribes or tribal communities or parts of or groups within tribes or tribal communities which are to be deemed for the purposes of the Constitution to be Scheduled Tribes in relation to the various States and Union territories. In pursuance of these provisions, the list of Scheduled Castes and / or Scheduled Tribes are notified for each State and Union territory and are valid only within the jurisdiction of that State or Union territory and not outside.

It is important to mention here that under the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order, 1950, no person who professed a religion different from Hinduism was deemed to be a member of a Scheduled Castes in addition to every member of the Ramdasi, Kabirpanthi, Majhabi or Sikligar caste resident in Punjab or Patiala and East Punjab States

Union were in relation to that State whether they professed the Hindu or the Sikh religion. Subsequently, in September 1956, by an amendment, the Presidential Order of 1950 and in all subsequent Presidential Orders relating to Scheduled Castes, the Hindu and the Sikh religions were placed on the same footing with regard to the specification of Scheduled Castes. Later on, as per the amendment made in the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order 1990, the Hindu, the Sikh and the Buddhist were placed on the same footing with regard to the recognition of the Scheduled Castes.

The list of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes are notified for each State and Union Territory and are valid only within the jurisdiction of that State or Union Territory and not outside. In respect of Karnataka State the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes as contained in the Scheduled Castes & Scheduled Tribes Orders (Amendment) Act, 1976 are valid for the purpose of Census of India, 2001. With the promulgation of Act 39 of 1991 however, the sub entries Naik, Nayak, Beda, Bedar and Valmiki were added under the main entry at S.No. 38 (Naikda, Nayaka, …..) of the Scheduled Tribes list of the State. There are in all 101 Scheduled Castes and 49 Scheduled Tribes in the State which are listed below:

The lists containing the names of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes applicable for the Census of India 2001 in the State/ Union territory are given below:

Language and Mother tongue

As per the Census concept, each language is a group of mother tongues. The census questionnaire collects information on the mother tongue of each person and mother tongue is defined as the language spoken in childhood by the person's mother to the person. If the mother died in infancy, the language mainly spoken in the person's home in childhood will be the mother tongue. In the case of infants and deaf mutes, the language usually spoken by the mother is considered as mother tongue. It is not necessary that the language spoken as mother tongue should have a script. The mother tongues returned by the respondents in census are classified and grouped under appropriate languages according to their linguistic characteristics.

Literate

A person aged 7 years and above who can both read and write with understanding in any language is taken as literate. A person who can only read but cannot write is not literate. It is not necessary that to be considered as literate, a person should have received any formal education or passed any minimum educational standard. Literacy could also have been achieved through adult literacy classes or through any non-formal educational system. People who are blind and can read in Braille are treated as literates.

Literacy rate

Literacy rate of the population is defined as the percentage of literates in the age group seven years and above. For different age groups the percentage of literates in that age group gives the literacy rate.

Educational level

The highest level of education a person has completed.

Work

Work is defined as participation in any economically productive activity with or without compensation, wages or profit. Such participation may be physical and/or mental in nature. Work involves not only actual work but also includes effective supervision and direction of work. It even includes part time help or unpaid work on farm, family enterprise or in any other economic activity. All persons engaged in 'work' as defined above are workers. Persons who are engaged in cultivation or milk production even solely for domestic consumption are also treated as workers.

Reference period for determining a person as worker and non-worker is one year preceding the date of enumeration.

Main worker

A person who has worked for major part of the reference period (i.e. six months or more during the last one year preceding the date of enumeration) in any economically productive activity is termed as `Main worker'.

Marginal worker

A person who worked for less than six months of the reference period (i.e. in the last one year preceding the date of enumeration) in any economic activity is termed as `Marginal worker' .

Non-worker

A person who has not worked at all in any economically productive activity during the reference period (i.e. last one year preceding the date of enumeration) is termed as `Non worker'.

Cultivator

For purposes of the Census a person is classified as cultivator if she or he is engaged in cultivation on land owned or held from government or held from private persons or institutions for payment in money, kind or share. Cultivation includes effective supervision or direction in cultivation.

A person who has given out her/his land to another person or persons or institution(s) for cultivation for money, kind or share of crop and who does not even supervise or direct cultivation in exchange of land, is not treated as cultivator. Similarly, a person working on another person's land for wages in cash or kind or a combination of both (agricultural labourer) is not treated as cultivator.

Cultivation involves ploughing, sowing, harvesting and production of cereals and millet crops such as wheat, paddy, jowar, bajra, ragi, etc., and other crops such as sugarcane, tobacco, groundnuts, tapioca, etc., and pulses, raw jute and kindred fiber crop, cotton, cinchona and other medicinal plants, fruit growing, vegetable growing or keeping orchards or groves, etc. Cultivation does not include the following plantation crops - tea, coffee, rubber, coconut and betelnuts (areca).

Agricultural labourer

A person who works on another person's land for wages in cash or kind or share is regarded as an agricultural labourer. She/he has no risk in the cultivation, but merely works on another person's land for wages. An agricultural labourer has no right of lease or contract on land on which she/he works.

Household industry worker

Household industry is defined as an industry conducted by the head of the household herself/himself and or by the members of the household at home or within the village in rural areas and only within the precincts of the house where the household lives in urban areas. The larger proportion of workers in household industry should consist of members of the household including the head. The industry should not be run on the scale of a registered factory which would qualify or has to be registered under the Indian Factories Act and should be engaged in manufacturing, processing, servicing and repairs of goods. A person who has been engaged in the economic activity like above is termed as Household Industry Worker.

It does not include professions such as a pleader, Doctor, Musician, Dancer, Waterman, Astrologer, Dhobi, Barber, etc. or merely trade or business, even if such professions, trade or services are run at home by members of the household.

Other worker

A person who has been engaged in some economic activity during the reference period but not as a cultivator or agricultural labourer or in Household Industry is termed as an 'Other Worker (OW)'. The type of workers that come under this category of 'OW' include all government servants, municipal employees, teachers, factory workers, plantation workers, those engaged in trade, commerce, business, transport, banking, mining, construction, political or social work, priests, entertainment artists, etc. In effect, all those workers other than cultivators or agricultural labourers or household industry workers, are 'Other Workers'.

Work participation rate

Percentage of workers (main + marginal) to total population.

Population density

Population density is the number of persons inhabited per square kilometer of the area.

Age

Age is measured in terms of the completed number of years.

Sex ratio

Number of females per 1000 males in a population

(vi) NON-CENSUS CONCEPTS

Improved drinking water

If the household had access to drinking water supplied from a tap, hand pump, tube well or well (protected or covered) situated within or outside the premises, it is considered as having access to improved drinking water.

It may be mentioned that such uniform definition may not be valid across all states.

System of sewerage

Generally, a sewerage system would mean a network of mains and branches of underground conduits for the conveyance of sewerage to the point of disposal. Sewers that carry only household and industrial wastage are called separate sewers; those that carry storm water from roofs, streets and other surfaces are known as storm water drains, while those carrying both sewage and storm water are called combined sewers. However, in some towns which are not provided with such underground sewerage system, it is served by open surface drain, box drain, sylk pattern drain, etc., in these towns.

Type of latrine and Method of disposal of night soil

There are three prevalent systems of disposal of human wastes, viz.(i) underground sewerage, (ii) sanitary water flush latrines with individual disposal systems, like septic tank, leaching cess pool and collecting well, and (iii) dry type of latrines with manual scavenging.

The system of underground sewerage provides for the street sewerage with which are connected the sanitary latrines constructed in the houses having water closets and fitted with flushing cistern (or hand flushing). Through this sewer the faucal matter is transported without the need for scavenging. This system generally exists in cities and big towns.

Where the streets sewer does not exist these sanitary water flush latrines are connected to a local septic tank with a subsoil dispersion system or a leaching pit. Here the liquid wastes from the water closet is disposed of locally in leaching pit, a septic tank with a soil dispersion system is constructed. This dispersion requires an optimum travel through the pores of the soil which renders the harmful liquid bacterially innocuous by the slow process of filtration through the soil traversed.

Where the soil is impermeable, collecting wells are constructed and the sanitary water flush latrines are connected with them. These wells are cleaned at periodic intervals by a suitable device. The dry type of latrines are of service type latrines from where human excreta is removed by scavengers from house to house, in most cases carrying it on their heads or shoulders or in baskets with handle or wheel barrows. These are then collected in bullock carts or trucks or tractors and trolleys for being carried to the dumping grounds.

Fertility

In demography, the word fertility is used in relation to the actual production of children or occurrence of births specially live births. Fertility is a measure of rate at which population adds to itself by births and normally assessed by relating the number of births to a full or part of the population, such as number of married women or number of women of childbearing age. The definitions of the terminology used in computing different fertility rates are mentioned below:

Crude birth rate (CBR)

Ratio of the number of live births in a year to the mid year population, normally expressed per 1,000 population.

$$\text{CBR} = \frac{\text{Number of live births during the year}}{\text{Mid-year Population}} \times 1{,}000$$

Crude death rate (CDR)

Ratio of the number of deaths in a year to the mid year population, normally expressed per 1,000 population.

$$\text{CDR} = \frac{\text{Number of deaths during the year}}{\text{Mid year Population}} \times 1{,}000$$

Natural growth rate

Growth rate is obtained as the difference between crude birth rate and crude death rate in the absence of migration.

Age specific fertility rate (ASFR)

Number of live births in a year to female population in any specified age group normally expressed per 1,000 women.

$$\text{ASFR} = \frac{\text{Number of live births in a particular age group}}{\text{Midyear female population of the same age group}} \times 1{,}000$$

Age specific marital fertility rate (ASMFR)

Number of live births in a year to married female population in any specified age group normally expressed per 1,000 married women.

$$\text{ASMFR} = \frac{\text{Number of live births in a particular age group}}{\text{Midyear married female population of the same age group}} \times 1{,}000$$

General fertility rate (GFR)

Number of live births per 1,000 women in the reproductive age-group (15-49) years in a given year.

$$GFR = \frac{\text{Number of live births in a year}}{\text{Midyear female population in the age-group (15-49) years}} \times 1,000$$

General marital fertility rate (GMFR)

Number of live births per 1,000 married women in reproductive age-group (15-49) years in a given year.

$$GMFR = \frac{\text{Number of live births in a year}}{\text{Midyear married female population in the age-group (15-49) years.}} \times 1,000$$

Total fertility rate (TFR)

It is obtained as the total of the age specific fertility rates (number of children born per woman of the particular age) for the entire reproductive age span. It provides the average number of children that will be born to a woman under the fertility levels indicated by the age specific fertility rates assuming that there is no mortality of women till the completion of reproductive period.

$$TFR = 5 \times \frac{\sum_{15-19}^{45-49} ASFR}{1,000}$$

Total marital fertility rate (TMFR)

Average number of children that would be born to a married woman if she experiences the current fertility pattern throughout her reproductive span (15-49) years assuming that there is no mortality of women till the completion of reproductive period.

$$TMFR = 5 \times \frac{\sum_{15-19}^{45-49} ASMFR}{1,000}$$

Age specific mortality rate (ASMR)

Number of deaths in a particular age and sex group per 1,000 population of the same age group.

$$ASMR = \frac{\text{Number of deaths in a particular age grou}}{\text{Mid year population of the same age group}} \times 1,000$$

q_1

Probability of dying between birth and age 1. This can be used as approximate value of Infant Mortality Rate (IMR) which gives the ratio of number of deaths in a year of children aged less than one year to the number of births in that year.

q_2

Probability of dying between birth and age 2.

q_5

Probability of dying between birth and age 5. This indicator is also known as Under Five Mortality Rate (U_5MR)

Infant mortality rate (IMR)

Ratio of the number of infant deaths (deaths of children below one year) in a year to the number of live births in that year.

$$IMR = \frac{\text{Number of infant deaths during the year}}{\text{Number of live births during the year}} \times 1,000$$

Infant mortality rate comprises of two parts, viz., Neonatal mortality rate and Post neonatal mortality rate. The neonatal mortality rate also comprises of two parts viz., early neonatal mortality rate and late neonatal mortality rate. These are defined as:

Number of infants dying within the first month of life (28 days or under) in a year per 1,000 live births of the same year.

$$NMR = \frac{\text{Number of infant deaths aged 28 days or under during the year}}{\text{Number of live births during the year}} \times 1,000$$

Early neo-natal mortality rate

$$= \frac{\text{Number of infant deaths of less Than 7 days during the year}}{\text{Number of live births during the year}} \times 1{,}000$$

Late neo-natal mortality rate

$$= \frac{\text{Number of infant deaths of 7 days to less than 29 days during the year}}{\text{Number of live births during the year}} \times 1{,}000$$

Post neo-natal mortality rate (PNMR)

$$= \frac{\text{Number of deaths of 29 days to less than one year during the year}}{\text{Number of live births during the year}} \times 1{,}000$$

Perinatal mortality rate (PMR)

Number of still births plus deaths within 1st week of delivery per 1,000 births in a year.

$$PMR = \frac{\text{Number of stillbirths and infant deaths of less than 7 days during the year}}{\text{Number of live births and stillbirths during the year}} \times 1{,}000$$

Still birth rate (SBR)

$$= \frac{\text{Number of stillbirths during the year}}{\text{Number of live births and stillbirths during the year}} \times 1{,}000$$

Maternal mortality rate (MMR)

Number of deaths of women in the age group 15-49 while pregnant or within 42 days of termination of pregnancy from any cause related to pregnancy and child birth per 100,000 live births in a given year.

$$MMR = \frac{\text{Number of maternal deaths to women in the age group 15-49}}{\text{Number of live birth}} \times 1{,}00{,}000$$

Eligible couple (Couples per 1,000 population)

Number of currently married females in the age group15-44 years per 1,000 persons of all ages.

Child woman ratio (0-4)

1. Number of children in the age group 0-4 years per 1,000 women in the age group 15-49 years.

Child woman ratio (5-9)

2. Number of children in the age group 5-9 years per 1,000 women in the age group 15-49 years.

Migration

Migration is the third component of population change, the other two being mortality and fertility.

A person is considered as a migrant by place of birth if the place in which he/she is enumerated during the census is other than the place of his/her birth.

Similarly a person is considered as a migrant by place of last residence if the place in which he/she is enumerated during the census is other than his/her place of immediate last residence outside the village or town and not simply in another house or locality in the same village or town.

Certain aspects concerning temporary movement/ migration of people has been explained below as these are important components concerning migration:

i) Migration of persons in search of job is high in the country. In many cases such migrants are only seasonal in nature. People migrate to other places for work in a particular season and come back again to their usual place of residence after three or four months. All such workers are treated as migrants. Similarly, if a person moved to any other place for attending short term vocational or educational course that lasted for only few months of a year, she/he too were considered as a migrant.

ii) Where a person had merely gone out to another place or had been shifting from one place to another purely on tour, pilgrimage, visit to hospital for treatment or for temporary business purposes, such persons are not deemed to have had another residence different from the place where she/he or her/his family normally resides. She/he is not considered as migrant

iii) A woman temporarily moves into a hospital or to her parents or other relative's house for delivery and if the hospital or the parents/relatives houses is in a place different from usual place of residence, the place where the hospital or parents/ relative's house is the place of last residence of the child but not of the mother.

A new response category 'Moved after birth' was added in Census of India 2001 in the question on 'reasons for migration' to bring out additional migration patterns. Natural calamities or distress migration as a reason for migration for last residence migrants included in 1991 Census, is covered under category of 'Others'. The reason for migration has been determined as applicable at the time of migration and not in reference to any point of time after that. For example, if a person had moved from the place of her/his last residence for the purpose of education and subsequently at some point of time got employment there only, the reason for migration would be 'education' and not 'work/employment'.

Internal and International migration

The migrational movements are of three types (i) Migration within the state itself with its components (a) Migration within the district of enumeration (intra district migration) (b) Migration from one district of state to another district of state (inter district migration), (ii) Migration from one state to another State of the country (interstate migration), (iii) Migration from one country to another country. The first two streams together constitute internal migration, while the last type of movement is called international migration. The present name of the country, state or district and not the name by which they were known at the time of her/his birth or last residence were recorded.

Rural-Urban components of migration

Rural or Urban status in respect of migrants have been determined as applicable at the time of migration and not with reference to any point of time after that.

The flow of migrants consists of four streams viz. rural to rural, rural to urban, urban to rural and urban to urban.

Civic status of urban units

Civic Status of a town/city is determined on the basis of Civic Administrative authority of the town e.g., Municipal Corporation/ Corporation, Municipal Committee/Municipal council, Municipality etc.

Size class of UA / town

Size class of UA/Town is based on the population size of the UA/City/Town. UAs./Towns with 100,000 and above population are classified as Class I UAs. / towns. These Class I UAs. / towns are now further sub classified in to seven sub classes namely M1 to M7 depending on the population size of UA/City/ Town. These are M7 (5,000,000 and above); M6 (2,000,000- 4,999,999); M5 (1,000,000-1,999,999); M4 (500,000-999,999); M3(300,000-499,999); M2 (200,000-299,999) & M1 (100,000-199,999). Towns with, 50,000 to 99,999 population are classified as Class II towns, 20,000 to 49,999 population are Class III towns, population with 10,000-19,999 are Class IV towns, population with 5,000 and 9,999 are Class V towns and towns with less than 5,000 population are Class VI towns.

Slum area

The Slum Areas (Improvement and Clearance) Act, 1956 which was enacted by the Central Govt. defined slums as a) Areas where buildings are in any respect unfit for human habitation; or b) are by reasons of dilapidation, overcrowding, fault arrangement and design of such buildings, narrowness or faulty arrangement of streets, lack of ventilation, light or sanitation facilities, or any combination of these factors, are detrimental to safety, health or morals.

Mega city

The concept of `Mega city' is a recent phenomenon in the Urban Sociology and is defined in term of metropolitan city in the form of large size, problem of management of civic amenities and capacity to absorb the relatively high growth of population. Indian Census in 1991 treated the population size of 5 million and above as the cut off point to identify a place as the mega city. Whereas, for the purpose of inclusion in Centrally Sponsored Scheme for Infrastructure Development in Mega cities the Ministry of Urban Affairs and employment, Department of Urban Development adopted the criteria of 4 million and above population as per 1991 Census for Mega Cities. In 2001 Census, cities with 10 millions and above population have been treated as Mega cities.

(vii) 2001 Census Findings -Population, its distribution

(a) Distribution of population in Rural-Urban Areas:

According to the 2001 Census, the total population of Dharwad district is 1,604,253, comprising 823,204 males and 781,049 females. The population of the district forms 3.0 percent of the state population and ranks at 17th place among the districts. Out of the total population of the district 45.0 percent lives in rural areas while 55.0 percent lives in urban areas. Rural population of the district is distributed among 5 taluks and urban population spread over in 6 towns. The total urban population in the district is 881,917 persons comprising 451,929 males and 429,988 females. The total rural population in the district comes to 722,336 persons and is composed of 371,275 males and 351,061 females as per 2001 Census. This rural population is distributed in 361 inhabited villages and there are 18 un-inhabited villages in the district.

(b) Size-class and Civic Status of towns:

The Statement below gives the position and number of urban units according to size-class of population as per 2001 Census:

SIZE-CLASS AND CIVIC STATUS OF TOWNS

Serial number	Size-Class of town	Name and civic status of town		Urban Population
				Persons	Males	Females
1	2	3		4	5	6
1	I	Hubli-Dharwad	M.Corp	786,195	403,085	383,110
2	IV	Alnavar	TP	16,290	8,298	7,992
3	III	Navalgund	TP	22,202	11,340	10,862
4	III	Annigeri	TMC	25,710	13,070	12,640
5	IV	Kalghatgi	TP	14,680	7,486	7,194
6	IV	Kundgol	TP	16,840	8,650	8,190

Population Growth, Density and Sex-ratio:

Population Growth:

Dharwad District witnessed a positive growth rate in each decade with 2.5, 8.2, 8.3, 18.3, 25.2, 26.8, 31.3, 19.6 and 16.7 percent during the period 1901 to 2001 (except 7.9 percent negative growth during the decade 1901-1911) . According to the 1991 Census the total population of the district was 1,374,895. There has been net addition of 229,358 persons during 1991-2001. The decadal growth rate of the district comes to 16.7 percent. The growth rate for the rural and urban areas of the district is 10.7 and 22.1 percent respectively.

Density:

The population density of Dharwad district is 377 persons per Sq. Km. against the state average of 276 persons. At taluk level, the density varies between 163 persons in Navalgund taluk and 242 persons in Kundgol taluk. In rural areas it comes to 182 persons per Sq. Km., while in urban areas it comes to 2,929 persons. In urban areas, the density of population varies between 377 persons in Hubli-Dharwad town and 14,393 persons in Kundgol town.

Sex Ratio:

There are 949 females for every one thousand males in Dharwad district. The sex-ratio figures for rural areas and urban areas of the district are 946 and 951 respectively. It is also observed that, the proportion of females in rural areas is higher than that of urban areas. Sex-ratio in the age-group 0-6 comes to 943 girls per 1,000 boys in the district as a whole. In rural areas, this proportion is 942, while in urban areas, the sex-ratio of Child population works out to 944 girls per 1,000 boys.

Work Participation Rate:

The work participation rate is defined as percentage of total workers to total population. According to 2001 Census, the total workers including main and marginal workers constitute 42.7 percent of total population of the district. Of the total workers, the share of main workers is 85.8 percent and marginal workers is 14.2 percent. The remaining 57.3 percent of population belongs to the category of non-workers.

As per 2001 Census among the main workers male participation rate in the district is 93.3 percent and corresponding proportion of females is 70.2 percent. The proportion of female marginal workers is higher than male marginal workers, as the females are attending to one or more economic activities in addition to their household duties to improve the family income. Majority of the workers are engaged in agricultural activities. Of the total 684,492 workers in the district, 25.8 percent of these total workers are categorized as cultivators, 27.3 percent agricultural labourers, 2.9 percent in household industries and 44.1 percent in other services.

Literacy:

A person who can read and write in any language is considered as literate in Census. All children of age below 7 years are treated as illiterate.

As per 2001 Census, Dharwad district has reported 992,550 persons as literates constituting 71.6 percent of the total population excluding the population of 0-6 years. The male and female literacy rates in the district are 80.8 and 61.9 percent respectively. The literacy rate of males is higher than that of females. The gap in the male - female literacy rate is 18.9 in the district.

The total literacy rates of rural and urban area are 60.8 and 80.3 percent respectively. The male and female literacy rates in rural areas are 73.1 and 47.7 percent respectively. In urban areas these rates are 87.0 and 73.3 percent respectively. The gap in male - female literacy rates in urban areas is 13.7 as against 25.4 in rural areas. It is thus clear that females are better educated in urban areas than their counterparts in rural areas.

(c) Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes Population 2001:

Of the 1,604,253 total population of the district 8.2 percent of the total population belong to Scheduled Castes and 4.4 percent to Scheduled Tribes. The percentage of Scheduled Castes constitute 88.4 percent in rural areas and 30.6 percent in urban areas. The proporation of Scheduled Tribes is 79.8 and 20.2 in rural and urban areas respectively.

(viii) Brief analysis of PCA data based on inset tables 1 to 36

Following tables, which presents the data on population within the district, with a brief notes will provide an overview of the district.

Distribution of village by population density and ranges are presented in this table. The density of population of the district rural is 193.0 person/ sq. km. If the villages are distributed by different ranges of population density, the picture that would emerge for the rural population of the district is indicated in the above table No 4. Highest no of villages 127 (35.2 per cent) covering population 226,480 have population density ranging between 101-200. Only 22 villages (6.1 per cent) falls under the population density range of 501 and above.

2001	964	976	940	2001	949	946	951

The above table gives the sex-ratio for the rural and urban population of the state as well as that of the district from 1901 to 2001 census.

It is observed that the state has recorded a decrease in the sex-ratio since 1901 census (983). However in 2001 census, the state has registered a better sex-ratio of 965 little higher than the ratio of 1991 Census (960).

For the district, the sex-ratio in 1901 Census was 983, which with some fluctuations, decreased over the decades. However, in 2001 Census, the district has recorded a sex-ratio of 949, better than that of 1991 Census 935. It is also observed that the sex-ratio in 2001 Census for the district (949), is less than that for the state (965).

Again, the ratio for the rural women in 2001 Census is comparatively better than, that for the urban women in the state but vice-versa for the district.

Sex ratio (Rural) for District:		946

Sex ratio by taluk and CD blocks has been presented in the previous tables. i.e. table No. 6 and table No.7. If the sex ratio of the rural population by ranges is given for the inhabited villages in the district the picture that would emerge is as indicated in the above table No.8. Highest number of villages 151 (41.8 per cent) falls in the sex ratio range of 900-949. Only 7 (1.9 per cent) falls in the range of 1100 and above.

The above table shows the distribution of villages by percentage range of Scheduled Tribes population to total population and the distribution of population is presented in ranges. Data reveals that out of the 361 inhabited villages 48 villages do not have Scheduled Tribes population. Majority of the villages have reported 'less than 5.0 per cent' of Scheduled Tribes in each village. Also the percentage does not exceed 30.0, except in case of 5 villages where it ranges between 31-40, and 41-50 per cent.

Number and percentage of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes population for urban agglomeration/towns of the district is presented in table 18. Scheduled castes/ Scheduled Tribes constitute 8.8 per cent and 3 per cent of the district urban population. Among the Scheduled Castes, the highest percentage of 18.1 is reported from Kalghatgi (TP) followed by Navalgund (TP) where the percentage is 13.2. The lowest percentage of 5.9 is reported from Alnavar (TP). In case of Scheduled Tribes, the highest percentages of 3.2 in Annigeri (TMC) and 3.1 in Hubli-Dharwad (MC) are reported.

Literacy rate for District (Rural):		52.3

The above table highlights the distribution of villages by literacy rate for the Scheduled Castes population. Literacy rate among the Scheduled Castes for the district rural is 52.3 per cent. If the literacy rate for the villages is given by ranges, the picture that would emerge for the 339 Scheduled Castes inhabited villages of the district would be as indicated in the above table number 26. Highest number of 99 villages (29.2 per cent) covering a Scheduled Castes population of 17,410 falls under the literacy range of 41-50. Not only that a good number of 72 and 83 villages have reported the rate to be 31-40 and 51-60. Only 4 villages comes under 100 per cent literacy range covering a meagre population of 7.

The distribution of urban literacy rate by sex among Scheduled Castes is presented in table 27. Data reveals that the literacy rate among the Scheduled Castes for the district urban is 71.9 per cent, and that of male and female is 82.1 and 61.4 per cent respectively. Note: Per cent of Worker to total worker are given in brackets.

The distribution of total workers by sex according to four fold industrial category in C.D blocks is highlighted in this table. Data reveals that agricultural labourers and cultivators together constitute 82.4 per cent of the total workers. At taluk level maximum number of cultivators are found in Kalghatgi. (46.3 per cent), whereas agricultural labourers are more in Kundgol , which comprises of 49.5 per cent. Other workers are more in Hubli (20.3 per cent).

* Based on the improved drinking water source, drinking water supply has been classified as `Improved ' or otherwise. If the household has access to drinking water supplied from a tap or a hand pump / tube well situated within or outside the premises it is considered as having access to `Improved drinking water source'. However, the concept of improved drinking water is state specific and this is to be considered accordingly.

$ Transport communication includes bus service, rail facility and navigable waterways.

This table reveals brief analysis of various amenities which are available in CD blocks of the district. It can be seen from the above table that 95.8 per cent of the inhabited villages have educational and 91.4 per cent have improved drinking water facility. Medical and post office facilities are available 55.7 per cent and 37.4 per cent of villages respectively. About 99.7 per cent of villages have power supply in the district. CD block wise analysis shows that good percentage of inhabited villages have educational facility. The position of medical facilities varies from 46 per cent to 68.4 per cent in the CD blocks. Availability of banking facility is not satisfactory.

There are 30 villages which do not have educational facility, but for this for 30 villages primary school is located at a distance of less than 5 kms. About 90 villages do not have middle school out of which 74 villages have this facility at a distance of less than 5 km. Of 353 villages not having hospitals, only 103 have this at a distance of less than 5 kms, and for the rest of the villages, it is more than 5 kms away from their place. Similarly most of the villages do not have access to PHCs. Thouth the population in 96 villages have access to health services within 5 kms distance, for others it is again more than 5 kms away from their villages. Regarding post office, and telephone, good number of villages have this facility at a distance of less than 5 kms. Majority of the villages have banking facility at a distance of less than 5 kms.

Table No.40 depitcs distribution of villages according to distance from the nearest statutory town and availability of certain amenities. It is observed that the distance from the statutory town to the villages does not exceed 15 km for 188 villages. It is between 16 to 50 kms for 96 villages and 77 villages have been classified as unspecified as far as distance is concerned. Distance from nearest statutory town to the village has been correlated with the type of amenities available as per 2001 census. It is understood from the distribution given above that more number of villages that are reachable within 5-15 kms distance from the nearest statutory town have different amenities than villages given against in the other district ranges.

* Based on the improved drinking water source, drinking water supply has been classified as 'Improved ' or otherwise. If the household has access to drinking water supplied from a tap or a hand pump / tube well situated within or outside the premises it is considered as having access to 'Improved drinking water source'. However, the concept of improved drinking water is state specific and this is to be considered accordingly.

Table No. 41 depicts the distribution of villages according to population range and availability of certain amenities. It can be seen from the above table that 117 villages are having a population of less than 1,000. Only four villages have population above 10,000, and 121 villages have population in the range 1000-1999. Villages with population size ranging between 2,000-4,999, 5,000-9,999 and above 10,000 have most of the facilities. Irrespective of the size of population certain amunities like medical, post office, telephone, Banks and agricultural credit societies are not available.

Note: - Cultivable area = irrigated area + unirrigated area

Table No.42 depicts the distribution of villages according to land use. Data reveals that only the cultivable area of the rural district has been taken into consideration which include both irrigated and un-irrigated areas. The cultivable area of the rural portion comprise of 82.3 per cent of the total area. Among the C.D blocks. Navalgund is having highest percentage of cultivable area i.e 95.3 per cent. If the percentage of irrigated area to total cultivable area is considered. Navalgund C.D block is having the highest irrigated area with 34.4 per cent.

Table No. 48 gives the distribution of households by number of dwelling rooms occupied by them. Data presented here is for the general, Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes population of the district, with a rural, urban breakup. The tenure status of dwelling has also been furnished. It is worth observing that majority of the households has exclusive rooms for dwelling than the households which do not have. Infact number of households with one, two, three and 3+ rooms excess,households with no exclusive rooms. However the picture is not the same in rural areas though the total number of households having more than one room exceeds households with no exclusive rooms, The change we see here is households with 3+ rooms are lesser than the other types of dwelling stations. The same trend is observed among the Scheduled castes households. Among the Scheduled tribes, though we notice the same trend, particularly households with three and 3 + rooms are lesser compared to the ones with no exclusive rooms. The median number of rooms is two in the district. It is also observed that households dwelling in own houses accounts for 75.3 per cent.

Table No.49 gives the distribution of households by the type of census houses occupied by them in the district. The structures of census houses occupied by the households have been classified as permanent, semi permanent and temporary. It is observed that 46.9 per cent of the households dwell in permanent houses. About 35.5 and 17.6 per cent dwell in semi-permanent and temporary houses respectively. The distribution reveals that percentage of households dwelling in sem- permnent house is more in rural areas. A comparison among the taluks in rural areas indicates temporary structures, are more in Navalgund while it is very less in Kalghatgi taluks. On the other hand, the change is apparent in Navalgund urban where the temporary houses are by and large more than the other types.

Table No.50 gives the distribution of households by availability of different amenities. Data reveals that, 86.6 per cent of the households have improved drinking water, 82.5 per cent of them have electricity, 59.5 per cent have bathroom, 45.5 per cent have toilet facility, and 57.7 per cent have drainage facility. All the above facilities are reported for Rural and Urban areas.

The above table provides data on households using different types of fuel for the purpose of cooking. The rural household of the district depending on fire wood is 73.9 percent, but those using crop residue is unusually high at 20.5 percent. The other fuels used are negligent. The urban households of the district using cooking gas (L.P.G) are 52.6 percent and those using firewood is 31.9 percent. The data is provided table wise in the table.

The table above provides the data on households availing banking facility and possessing other special assets. The percentage of households availing banking facility in the district (both rural and urban) is higher than at the state level. However percentage of households possessing other specified assets are, more or less on par both of the district and state level., except for possessing scootor / Bicycle. The state level rural households possessing their asset are higher (7.2 percent) compared to the district level (4.5 percent). The percentage of households not possessing any other specified assets, are more or less on par, both at the district and state levels.

(xi) Archaeology

The places of archaeological interest in the district can be divided into pre-historic and the later period. Though not much is known specifically about pre-historic sites, there is evidences to show that early men originated from the district. Pigmy flints which have been found in the district may be considered to be memorials of the survivors of paleolithic men. Other findings of pre-historic origin are implements of Neolithic period polished on gneiss rocks, wheel-made pottery, stone beads and pieces of haematite for the manufacture of pigment. Of the monuments of archaeological interest of the later part, mention may be made of Shri. Amruteshwara temple at Annigeri in Navalgund taluk. This temple is built of black stone of considerable size, with a roof supported on 76 pillars. The walls are carved with interesting mythological figures. This is a protected monument under the Administrative control of Archaeological Survey of India.

Another important monument protected by the Archaeological Survey of India is the Fort at Dharwad. It is said to have been built in 1403 A.D. It covers an area of 76 acres with an outside diameter of about 800 yards. Originally this Fort had only one gate and later on one more gate was constructed.

With only two gates remaining, this fort is in complete ruins. The first gate is 12 ½ feet high and 11 ½ feet broad. The arch above and the sides are built with granite, iron-stone and mortar. The second gate is 13 feet high and 15 ½ feet broad. It's massive wooden doors are four inches thick. The upper part and sides of this gate-way are built with good cut granite stone with cemented mortar. There is a small Hanuman temple between these two gates with a well by its side. Besides these, there are many temples and places of tourist and archaeological importance which is described in the following para.

(xii) Brief description on places of religious, historical or archaeological and tourist importance in villages and places of tourist interest in the towns of the district

DHARWAD TALUK

MUGUD: In ancient days this was the headquarters in respect of a set of 30 villages and was known as Mugunda. Among the four inscriptions found in this village the one dated in 1045 A.D. and belonging to the reign of Chalukya king Someshvara is the earliest. This inscription records the grants to a Jaina temple named Samyukta- Rathnakara and describes a line of Jaina preceptors of Yapanya school who were highly influential in those days.

NARENDRA: This is a place of some historical importance in that, this was a seat of administration from where Mailaladevi, the daughter of Vikramaditya VI (1076-1126 A.D.) and wife of Jayakeshi II of the Goa Kadamba family was governing this part of the country. Two inscriptions of Vikramaditya VI dated in 1125-26 A.D. are also found here. Later, under the Peshva rule, this village was a petty divisional headquarters, and on account of its proximity to Dharwad fort, has witnessed several battles fought on its soil. The village is noted for its Shankarlinga temple.

AMMINABAVI: In ancient days, this was an important centre of learning. It was an agrahara which was being administered by four-hundred mahajanas. Six inscriptions ranging in date from 1071 A.D. to 1567 A.D. and belonging to the reigns of Chalukya Vikramaditya VI, Kadamba king Shivachitta Permadi and Sadasiva Raya of Vijayanagara are found here. The village has an ancient Jaina temple which enshirnes Neminatha and contains numerous pillars as well as a beautiful idol of Adinatha. The local Kalmeshvara temple is of some importance and here, on two wooden pillars about 3 metres apart, there is a record of the Vittahalapanthi land measure. The local Mallikarjuna temple also deserves notice.

KANKUR: This village was endowed in 1104 A.D. for burning incense in the temple of Somanatha in Saurashtra by the Kadamba Chief Jayakeshi II on the occasion of his marriage.

HEBBALLI: The objects of interest here include the ruins of a fort and the temple of Changalavva Devi which too is in a ruined condition. The village has two Yadava inscriptions dated in 1245 A.D. and 1248 A.D. The latter belongs to the reign of Kanhara and describes this place as a commercial centre. The local Shambulinga temple is in the Jain style of architecture.

HUBLI TALUK

AMARGOL: The Shankaralinga temple here is in ruins and is believed to have been built by Jakanacharya. This temple is built by black and light coloured granite and has walls and pillars carved with figures of gods and goddesses. Close to this temple there is the shrine dedicated to Banashankari.

UNKAL: Unkal is noticed for its temples of Kalmeshvara, Virabhadra and Chandramouleshvara. The Chandramouleshvara temple has 4 entrances and appears to have once been a Jaina shrine dedicated to Brahma. The village has the ruins of a fort and also two inscriptions of the 12th century.

SHIRGUPPI: The village has five inscriptions and of these, one refers to Sendraka King Vanasatti (7th century A.D.). There is an interesting sculpture of Bhairava, carved in black granite, near the Hanuman temple.

KOLIWAD: According to tradition this village is the birth place of great Kannada poet Kumara Vyasa who flourished during the 15th century. The visitors to the village are shown around a house which is identified as the house in which the poet was born. The village has several relics of the Jaina, Buddhist and Hindu religions. For instance, the Kalmeshvara temple here has yielded a mutiliated sculpture of Tara bearing on its pedestal a Buddhist record. The Viranarayana temple has an inscription stone nearby which is dated in 1564 A.D. and refers to the deity as Madhava-Janardhana.

KUSUGAL: The small hillock on which now stands the Kalmeshvara temple was the site of a bastion of an old fort. However at present even the vestiges of this fort have vanished and the lands have been brought under cultivation. This fort is attributed to Badr-Ul-Zaman Khan, Tipu's general who held Dharwad for seven months against the combined forces of the Marathas and the English in 1791-92.

BYAHATTI: This village has yielded seven inscriptions, and a copper plate grant. The latter is dated in 1183 A.D. and refers to Kalachuri King Singhana. The temples of Virabhadra and Ramalinga, and two Veerashaiva religious institutions called Kambhahalli Matha and Charanti Matha of this place are the other interesting objects.

CHEBBI: According to tradition the name of this village is Shobhanapura. In ancient days this was the capital of a Jain Prince and had as many as 7 Jaina temples of which only one now exists. An inscription stone dated in 971 A.D. and found at the nearby Adaragunchi village bears a reference to this village under the name Sebbi or Chebbi Thirty. Inscriptions, numbering eleven in all, found in this village itself refer to the reign of the early Chalukyas and later Chalukyas, Vijayaditya, Tribhuvanamalla, Kadamba Kamadeva and Yadava Mahadeva. An epigraph of 1060 A.D. records the death of the Jain teacher Kankanadi by the Sallekhanarite. In another record of the 11th century Svayambhu Dhavaleshvara of Kaladi is mentioned. During the Vijayanagara period this place witnessed considerable improvement and for quite some time was the residence of Sri.Krishnadeva Raya(1509-29 A.D.). Later, this village formed part of the territory of Savanur Nawab and still later, the Peshwas had an arsenal here. The village has the ruins of a fort, the ancient temple of Mallikarjuna and a plain temple of Netagalla Basavanna.

BUDARSINGI: Formerly known as Vuchangi, this village was endowed to god Kapila-Siddha-Mallikarjuna of Sonnalige Kshetra (Sholapur of Maharashtra State) by the Kadamba chief Chattayya of the Goa Kadamba family in 1257 A.D. The epigraph which records this grant quotes a Vachana of Siddharama, a Veerashaiva saint.

ADARGUNCHI: Known as Adirgunte in former times, this village has three inscriptions of which one bears reference to a Jain temple at Ucchangi. The village has a solitary seated image of a Jina, rather larger than life-size, which the villagers point out as that of one Doddappa who was a headdoor keeper when Bankapur was a garrisoned fort.

KALGHATGI TALUK

TAMBUR: The village has a few inscriptions and is well known in the neighbourhood on account of its ancient Basava temple and the annual fair which comes on the occasion of the Bharat-hunnime. The temple is carved with beautiful engravings and to its left there is a large tank as well.

MISHRIKOTI: The village is noted for its ruins of a large fort and a black stone temple of Rameshvara. One of the inscriptions found in this temple is dated in 1136 A.D. and states that Mailaladevi the daughter of Vikramaditya VI and the queen of Kadamba Jayakeshi II was ruling the kingdom from her capital at Kunduru(Narendra near Dharwad). Another inscription found here is dated in 1159 A.D. and belongs to the reign of Shivachitta Peramadi.

KAMADHENU: The temple of Kalameshvara here is built of black granite and its outer walls are decorated with ornamental mythological carvings. Of the 3 inscriptions found here one is dated in 1130 A.D. and belongs to the period of Chalukya Someshvara III. Another inscription of 1172 A.D. belongs to the reign of Shivachitta Permadi. About a kilometre to the south of the village there is a picnic spot, namely water-course called Kalhalla across which a waste weir was built more than a hundred years ago.

KUNDGOL TALUK

KAMADOLLI: The village is noted for its ancient Rameshvara temple the construction of which is attributed to the famous Jakanacharya.

HIREHARKUNI: The Basaveshvara temple here is noteworthy.

SAUNSHI: The village has 4 inscriptions of which 3 belong to the reigns of Chalukya Someshvara II, Vikramaditya VI and Jagadekamalla II. In ancient times this village was known as Tapasipura and it was an Agrahara which was being administered by four hundred mahajanas. The village is noted for its temples enshrining Shankaralinga and Siddeshvara.

GUDGERI: The village has a temple of Ishvara, a Kalmatha and an ancient Jain Basti. Among the 8 inscriptions found here, the oldest is of the times of Rashtrakuta Amoghavarsha I. An epigraph of the reign of Chalukya Someshvara II, dated in 1072 A.D.

mentions his queen Kanchaladevi as exercising authority over this region from her capital at Mulgund. Another epigraph dated in 1076 A.D. registers the renewal of an endowment to the Jain temple named Anesajjeya-basadi of Purigere. There is also a record of Yadava king Singhana bearing the date 1217 A.D.

NAVALGUND TALUK

YAMANUR: This is a place of considerable religious importance in this region and is known for the annual fair held during March-April in honour of Raja Baghsavar of Gulbarga. According to tradition in about 1690 A.D., shortly after the overthrow of the Adilshahi dynasty there lived two saints, namely Khwaja Bande Nawaz at Bijapur and Shah Mira Abdul Rajak Kadri at Gulbarga. The latter, who did several miracles and rode with a snake-whip on a scorpion-bridled tiger came to be known as Raja Baghsavar. On one occasion, it is said, this saint went on a visit to Bijapur to meet Bande Nawaz. As he drew near to the town, he was seen by Khwaja's grand son who unwilling to be outdone used his miraculous powers, jumped on a wall and rode up on it to meet Raja Baghsavar. Humiliated by a power which could make a wall move, Kadri returned to Gulbarga without meeting Khwaja Bande Nawaz. Later he died in grief. As a consequence, Khwaja cursed the boy who too died. Since then Baghsavar's fame has spread and tombs have been raised in his honour at several places. Betroji, a Maratha headman of Koregaon village of Satara district who was an ardent devotee of the saint, saw him in a dream. The saint asked Betroji if he had any wish for which Betroji prayed that the saint live near him and take care of his family. Thereupon the saint told Betroji that he would find impressions of the saint's hand or Panjas and that he should take these to Yamanur, and offer worship after setting up these at an appropriate place. Accordingly on awakening, Betroji found two canes and the Panjas riding on silver tiger. He took these articles to Yamanur and began to offer regular worship. In about 1720 the present tomb was built by a descendant of Betroji. The objects of worship include two hands or Panjas kept on two small brass horses. The annual fair which comes off during Phalguna (March-April) is attended by a large number of Hindus and Muslims.

Brief note on places of interest in and around the towns :

1.Alnavur : This small town located on the Western borders of the district has four inscription of which the earliest is dated in 1081 A.D. and belongs to the reign of Guvaladeva of the Goa-Kadamba family. This place has acquired importance as a railway line branches off from here and proceeds to Dandali, a town of great industrial importance belonging to Uttar Kannad district.

2.Annigeri : The objects of historical importance found in this town include as many as 28 inscriptions of which the earliest relates to the Chalukyan emperor Pulikeshi II. Annigeri attained prominence as the Chief town of the country known as Belvola 300 and is referred to as a rajadhani pattana in several inscriptions. One thousand mahajanas, it is stated, looked after its internal administration. The town is famous for its Amriteshwara temple, the construction of which is acribed to the great sculptor Jakanacharya. This large temple, built of black stone has a roof which is supported on 76 pillars. The annual festival held in honour of this deity during Margasira (December-January) is major event which attracts a large gathering. The temple of Banashankari Basappa, Gachchina Basappa, Hire Hanuman, Mailara and PuradaVirappa as well as the Jaina Basti and the mosques deserve notice. During the early period of the British rule, till 1839 this town formed part of the Jagir of the Chief of Nipani (Belgaum District).

3.Hubli - Dharwad : Hubli and Dharwad have a history of more than a hundred years as separate towns. In 1962 the two towns, about 20 kms apart, were merged together when the Hubli-Dharwad Municipal corporation was constituted. The portion known as Dharwad is mainly a centre of administration and higher education. Hubli is on the other hand, mainly a centre of trade and commerce as well as industry and transport. Both the portions have objects of antiquarian interest such as inscriptions, shrines, ruins of fort walls etc. In ancient days Hubli was an agrahara which was being administered by 200 Mahajanas. Inscriptions found in the Bhavani Shankara temple here, data back to the period of Chalukya King Bhanaraikamalla (1068-1075 A.D.). The importance of Hubli during the later period becomes clear when it is known that the Britishers established a factory here during the 17th century in order to lend support to their trading activities. It was plundered by Marathas. Later Hubli became a part of the Moghul empire. In 1727 A.D. this area became a Jagir of Savanur and it was during this year that the New Hubli Fort was built. Now there are no traces of the forts either at Hubli or at Dharwad.

Among the numerous temples, mathas, mosques and churches found in Hubli portions, the Bhavani Shankara temple is the most ancient and the most outstanding. This belongs to the eleventh century A.D. and enshrines a linga, a ganapati and a beautifully executed idol of Narayana. A mention may also be made of the Amba-Bhavani temple of Dajibanpete, Banasankari temple of old Hubli, Dattatraya temple of Durgadabailu and the Venkataraman of New Hubli. Among the mathas, the one known as Hurusavira - matha is the largest. It is held in high esteem, for in former days the pontiff of this matha exercised spiritual control over the Veerashaiva chief priests of the entire Bombay-Karnatak region. A mention may be made by the Siddharudha matha also as a place of considerable religious importance. Among the churches in Hubli, the church of ascention, St. Joseph's catholic church, St. Andrew's church and the St. John's Lutheran Church deserve notice. Likewise, the Jumma masjid of the mulla street and the Big Mosque in Ganeshpet are old centres of religious importance. The Mastan Sofa mosque, built recently, is noted for its delicate carvings and artistic beauty. The Anandamatha basti and the Parshanamatha basti are the ancient Jaina institutions of historical interest.

In the Dharwad portion, the temples of Durgadevi, Maruti, Mailara linga on the summit of Vidyagiri, Narasimha, Panduranga and Dattatraya are important. The Jumma masjid of Mangalwarpet was built by an Adil Shahi king in about 1686 A.D. Basel Mission church are also of considerable importance. The administrative officer and the university college of karnatak university are located here.

4.Kalghatgi : The town has five inscriptions of which the earliest belongs to the reign of Chalukya Vikramaditya Village Primary Census Abstract – C.D.Block. Among the objects of interest a mention may be made of the tomb of Rustom Shahid, on 18th century Muslim religious worker in whose honour a five-day festival is held every year. The temples of Venkataramana, Hanuman, Basavanna as well as the Parshana-matha basti are of relatively recent origin.

5.Kundagol : Till 1948, Kundagol was a part of the Jamakhandi state. The town has eleven inscriptions of the medieval and later periods and the earliest of these is dated in 1044 A.D. The chief object of interest here is the Shambhulinga temple with a large hall. The whole ceiling of this hall which is a single slab is divided into nine equal parts by two cross bars each way. The central compartment holds an image of Siva in a dancing pasture which the surrounding eight contain the images of asta-dikpalakas. The outer bays of the ceiling are decorated with lotus and Kirtimukha. The temple enshrines a linga and has the idols of Ganapati, Rama, Sita and Lakshman and also the images of several gods and goddess of the Hindu Pantheon. In addition the town has the modern temples of Brahmadeva, Sankaracharya, Yellamma etc. and mathas which are of particular interest to the Veerashaivas. These mathas are called the Panchagriha matha, Hirematha, Siddalinga Sivacharya matha and Shivananda matha. Noted Hindustani music exponent Savai gandharna lived here for some time and in memory of his association with this place a musical mela is organised in the town every year. This event attracts a large gathering of musicians and music lovers from all over the district.

6.Navalgund : The historical importance of this place lies in the fact that it was the headquarters of a small province during the Adil Shahi period and that one of its governors, namely Jalal Khan the brother-in-law of the King All-ud-din II (1435-57 A.D.) acting on false reports of the death of the King wanted to assume independence but failed in achieving his objective. Later on Navalgund was the headquarters of a revenue division managed by the hereditary chiefs called the Desai's of Navalgund. The objects of interest here include the temples dedicated to Navileshvara, Ganapati, Venkatesha, Veerabhadra and Nagareshvara in addition to the ancient Adinatha basati. The town has a relatively large number of mosques and dargahs. The Gavimatha, Panchagriha

Hirematha and the Nagalingaswami matha are the other religious institutions of considerable importance. The large tanks called Neelavvanakere and Channammanakere are said to have been built by the local Dosair a couple of centuries ago. Navalgund is famous for its carpets and wooden toys.

(xii) Scope of Village Directory and Town Directory

Village Directory

Village Directory provides micro-level data which will help the planners in formulation of micro-level developmental plans as the C.D.Block is the lowest administrative unit for developmental planning. Village wise information regarding the availability of certain basic amenities and facilities within the village, as also that on the manner of utilization of the land in the concerned village are furnished in the village directory. The village directory format adopted for the 2001 Census has 23 columns whereas in the 1991 Census there were only 18 columns. When compared with the 1991 Census Village Directory format, column 9 which refers to the day or days of weekly market/ hat if any has been now left out. New inclusions are in respect of facilities like banks, agricultural credit societies, non-agricultural credit societies, other cooperative societies, number of recreational and cultural facilities like cinema/video hall, sports club, stadium/auditorium; receipt of news papers/magazines and the name of the most important commodities manufactured in the village. In all the 23 columns in this tabulation statement, first 3 columns relates to serial number, name of the village with location code and area of village while the next 2 provide information on total population and number of households in the village as per 2001 Census. The next 8 columns relate to basic amenities such as educational; medical; drinking water (potable); post, telegraph and telephone, commercial and cooperative banks, agricultural, non-agricultural and other credit societies, number of recreational and cultural facilities such as cinema/ video hall, sports club and stadium/auditorium and communications (bus service, railway station, waterway). Information in respect of approach to village, nearest town and distance in Kms., power supply, receipt of news paper/magazine, names of the most important commodities manufactured in the village are furnished in columns 14 to 18. Amenities available within the villages are shown in the respective columns and if a particular amenity especially Primary School, Middle School, College, Allopathic Hospital, PHC, MCW, Post Office, Telephone, etc., is not available in the village, the respective abbreviation is given and next to it in brackets the distance in broad ranges viz., <5 kms., 5-10 kms. and 10+ kms. of the nearest place where the facility available to that particular village is indicated. The next 5 columns, 19 to 23 provide information regarding land use (i.e., area under different types of land use in hectares rounded to two decimal places) such as forest, irrigated land by source of irrigation, un-irrigated, cultivable waste (including gauchar and groves) and finally the area not available for cultivation.

Town Directory

The Town Directory section contains seven statements (I to VII) which furnish information on all the statutory towns in the district, on aspects such as growth history, physical aspects and location of towns, municipal finance, civic and other amenities in the town, medical, educational, recreational and cultural facilities, trade, commerce, industry and banking in the towns, civic and other amenities in slum areas of the town. The scope of the various column headings adopted during 1991 Census has remained unchanged in 2001. The towns are arranged in the alphabetical order.

Note :

1. The area figure for the district given under column No 3 against " Total" represents "Geographical Area" and has been furnished by the Surveyor General India. The figures for the urban areas are either those supplied by civic administration authorities of the towns or compiled and supplied by the Director of Survey, Settlement and Land Records or compiled in this Directorate on the basis of the available records pertaining to the delimitation of urban units. Area figures for Rural Areas are derived by subtracting the Total Urban Area from the Total Area of the District.

The total of the area figures of all the C.D. Blocks/Taluks in this district will not tally with the district figures (except urban), because the area figures for C.D. Blocks/Taluks represents the land-use area based on village wise area figures as reported by the local officers. The total area of the taluk may not tally with the aggregate of the areas of the villages listed for Census purposes for it includes the area of the statutory as well as non-statutory towns, villages which may be fully submerged and reserve forests which may not form part of any revenue village, if any, within the jurisdiction of the concerned taluk. The total area of the C.D. Block is derived by subtracting the area of the statutory town or towns (within the jurisdiction of the concerned taluks) from the total area of the taluk.

2. Out growths of towns in urban agglomerations are denoted by letter "OG".

3. The following abbreviations have been used to indicate the Civic Administration Status of town.

M.Corp	:	Municipal Corporation
CMC	:	City Municipal Council
TMC	:	Town Municipal Council
TP	:	Town Panchayat
NAC	:	Notified Area Committee
CB	:	Cantonment Board
CT	:	Census Town (Non-Municipal Census Town / Non-Statutory Town)

SECTION – I

(a) Brief note on Primary Census Abstract

The first census of the third millennium and twenty first century the Census of India, 2001 was the 14th continuous and uninterrupted Indian census since 1872. Thus, 2001 Census will provide data on population and its characteristics marking transition from one century and millennium to another.

The gigantic operation of Population Enumeration (considered by many to be the single largest and complex peace time administrative exercise in the world) was made possible due to the door to door universal canvassing of the Household Schedule by about 2 million enumerators and supervisors covering 593 districts, 5,463 sub-districts, 5,161 towns and 638,588 villages. The comprehensive Household Schedule which replaced the individual slip had three parts and two sides A and B. Part I contained the Location Particulars; Part II related to the Individual Particulars and Part III contained questions for Household engaged in Cultivation/Plantation. The part II of the Household Schedule had 39 columns and 23 questions all of which were universally canvassed and no sampling was resorted to during enumeration.

Data Processing

A quantum leap was made in the technology front while processing the Census 2001 data both for Houselisting and Population Enumeration. The Census schedules for both the phases were scanned through high speed scanners in fifteen data centers across the country and hand-written data from the schedules were converted into digitized form through Intelligent Character Reading (ICR) software for creation of ASCII records for further processing. The designing and formatting of the Household Schedule had to be done very carefully using specialized software so as to ensure uniformity, which was an essential pre-requisite for scanning. The selection of appropriate state-of-art technology in data processing has made it possible to produce all the Houselisting as well as Population Enumeration tables on full count basis for the first time in the history of Census. For Census 2001, about 202 million schedules consisting of about 1,028 million records were scanned and processed within a span of only 10 months starting October, 2002.

Task Force on Quality Assurance

After the data is processed, it is expedient on the part of the data producing agency to satisfy itself about its quality before putting the same in public domain. This has to be done mainly through the process of internal consistency, comparison with similar data in the past and also through validation with likewise data if available, from external sources. Quite often the local knowledge and perception has to be brought into play to understand both the existing and the new emerging trends of population distribution and characteristics. The other very important aspect of the data quality is to ensure complete coverage of all geographical areas especially for the population enumeration phase where the data is disseminated right up to the village level in the rural areas and the ward level in the urban areas. Thus ensuring the complete coverage and correct geographical linkage of each enumeration block was one of the major planks of the quality control, specially for small area population statistics.

A very comprehensive check and edit mechanism was put in place to objectively examine the preliminary Census 2001 Population Enumeration results and finally clear them for use. The responsibility of the final clearance of data was with the Task Force on Quality Assurance (TFQA), headed by the Registrar General and Census Commissioner, India. The other members of the TFQA were the Heads and senior officers of the Census Division, Data Processing Division, Map Division, Demography Division and Social Studies Division. The Directors of Census Operations were co-opted as members whenever the TFQA discussed the data for their States/Union territories. The Directors and their senior officers were required to make detailed presentations of data for their own state both in respect to the quality and the coverage and only after the full possible cleared.

There has been a major departure in Census 2001 from the past in respect of the procedure followed for finalization of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes population. In the earlier censuses, the total Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes populations were finalized at the time of the manual compilation of the Primary Census Abstracts (PCA) at the Regional Tabulation Offices which were specially set up for this purpose. The individual Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes population for each state was finalized much later based on manual coding done by the coders. In 2001 Census, each individual Scheduled Caste and the Scheduled Tribe have been coded directly on the computers by the Data Entry Operators through a process known as Computer Assisted Coding (CAC) and taken up along with the processing of PCA data. The CAC process involves pulling down, from the relevant dictionary of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes, on the computer screen and coding from the dictionary by referring to the image of the specific individual entry in the Household Schedule appearing on the screen. The CAC of the response on Religion wherever required, was also undertaken along with the processing of PCA. This is because the Scheduled Castes status had to be determined in relation to the religion of the individual. Two Special Task Forces, one on Religion and the other on Scheduled Castes/Scheduled Tribes were constituted for scrutiny and appropriate classification of these responses.

The main task of the Special Task Force on Religion was to appropriately merge or group the new responses encountered and code it into the appropriate religious community based on available literature and local knowledge. The Special Task Force on Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes examined the different Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes entries encoun-tered and classified these into appropriate category of the Scheduled Castes or the Scheduled Tribes principally based on the Presidential Notification and the available literature. Thus a very systematic and scientific mechanism was operationalised to firm up the individual religion and the individual Scheduled Castes/Tribes returns. The Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes population in 2001 Census, is thus being finalized by aggregating the population data for individual Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes at appropriate geographical levels.

The entire work relating to the data validation and scrutiny was completed by all the States/Union Territories under the overall supervision and monitoring of the Census Division of the Office of the Registrar General, India with active cooperation and support of the Social Studies Division, Data Processing Division, Data Dissemination Division and Map Division.

Primary Census Abstract

The Primary Census Abstract which is yet another important publication of 2001 Census gives basic information on Area, Total Households, Total population, Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes population, Population in the age group 0-6, Literates, Main workers and Marginal workers classified by the four broad industrial categories, namely, (i) Cultivators, (ii) Agricultural laborers, (iii) Household Industry Workers, and (iv) Other workers and also Non-workers. The characteristics of the Total population includes Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes, Institutional and Houseless population and are presented by sex and rural-urban residence. This data is presented at different levels, namely, India, States/ Union territories, Districts and Cities, Urban Agglomerations (Population 1,00,000 and above) in three different tables. In addition, the Appendix of said publication provides Houseless and Institutional Households and their population by residence and sex for 2001 for India, State and Union territory.

Apart from the India and State/Union Territory volumes for Primary Census Abstract, the District Census Handbook contains District Primary Census Abstract, Appendix to District Primary Census Abstract, Primary Census Abstract for Scheduled Castes, Primary Census Abstract for Scheduled Tribes, Village Primary Census Abstract and Urban Primary Census Abstract of the concerned district in the state.

It was for the first time at the 1981 Census that the Primary Census Abstract (PCA) was brought out for the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes separately on the pattern of General Primary Census Abstract. This practice was continued in 1991 also. In the 1961 and 1971 Censuses, such data were made available in Table C-VIII-Social and Cultural table and to some extent in the series 'Special Tables for Scheduled Castes/Scheduled Tribes'.

The format of Primary Census Abstract has been restructured slightly in the 2001 Census as compared to that of 1991 Census. The nine-fold industrial classification of main workers given in the Primary Census Abstract of 1991 Census has been discontinued and its place, four-fold industrial classification of both 'main workers' and 'marginal workers' are included. In 1981 census only main workers were presented in to four categories. One of the novel features of the primary census abstract of 1991 Census was the presentation of data of the population of age group 0-6 is continued in 2001 Census also. This will help the data users in better analysis and understanding of this literacy data.

Level of presentation in District Census Handbooks:

The Primary Census Abstract data in different PCAs are presented at different levels. The level of presentation of Primary Census Abstracts are as under:

Name of the Primary Cenus Abstract	Level of presentation
1. District Primary Census Abstract	District/CDBlock/UA/City/Town
2. Primary Census Abstract for Scheduled Castes	District/CDBlock/Town
3. Primary Census Abstract for Scheduled Tribes	District/CDBlock/Town
4. Village Primary CensusAbstract	CD Block/Villagewise
5. Urban Primary Census Abstract	Town/WardLevel

The PCA Data for villages was presented CD Block wise for the first time in 1991 Census. This practice is continued in 2001 Census also. The data for each CD Block is presented both for rural and urban areas separately. All the villages within the CD Block constitute the rural portion and the Census Towns and Outgrowths are shown under the urban portion of the CD Block. In case a CD Block is spread over two or more districts, than portion which falls within the district is presented, the data pertaining to remaining portion of the CD Block is presented in the concerned District Census Handbook. The data in the Urban Primary Census Abstract for each town as well as for town with outgrowths in the district are presented. The data for all the wards and the outgrowths of the town(s) are also presented separately below the concerned town(s).

The District Primary Census Abstract is presented in 59 columns. The Primary Census Abstract for Scheduled Castes and Primary Census Abstract for Scheduled Tribes are presented in 52 columns. The Village Primary Census Abstract and Urban Primary Census Abstract are presented in 58 columns.

The concepts and definitions used in the column heading are explained under the sub heading 'Census Concepts' in the Analytical Note. The term 'Total Population' includes the Scheduled Castes, the Scheduled Tribes, the Institutional and the Houseless populations. The explanation regarding area figures presented at various level in the Primary Census Abstracts are as follows:

Area Figures

The area figures supplied by local revenue authorities of the district in respect of tehsils, Police Stations and by the local bodies in respect of towns are given in square kilometers. The area figures of the villages supplied by the Tahsildars in acres have been converted and shown in hectares. The area figures of the CD Block is the total of the village areas coming under each CD Block. The area figures for the district are the same as adopted by the Surveyor General of India to maintain uniformity at the national level. The total area figures of all the tahsils/CD Blocks within the district may not tally with area figures of the district because former represents land use area only. Similarly, the total of all the villages may not tally with the entire rural of Police Station/Tahsil. The difference may be due to the fact that while the area covered by hills, forests and rivers etc, have been accounted in the Tahsils and P.S. level the same may not be covered under the area of the villages. Apart from this it may also differ due to varying methods of computation adopted at different levels.

An appendix to District Primary Census Abstract has also been furnished showing urban enumeration block-wise particulars on Total Population, the Scheduled Castes Population and the Scheduled Tribes Population for each town.

Note on Fertility & Mortality and Migration 1991 & 2001 Census

Fertility levels

In demography, the word fertility is used in relation to the actual production of children or 'occurrence of births specially live births'. Fertility is a measure of rate at which population adds to itself by births and normally assessed by relating number of births to size of some section of the population, such as number of married couples or number of women of child bearing age. In other words, it is a major component of population growth. In the 1991 census, questions on fertility related to age at marriage, number of surviving children at present, number of children ever born alive and children born alive during the last one year were asked. The first three questions were asked to all evermarried women and the last question related to currently married women. The measures of fertility worked out are based on the FSeries Tables of 1991 Census pertaining to Karnataka state and are defined as below:

MIGRATION

What is Migration?

Migration is the third component of population change, the other two being mortality and fertility. A person is considered as a migrant by place of birth if the place in which he is enumerated during the census is other than the place of birth. Similarly a person is considered as a migrant by place of last residence if the place in which he is enumerated during the census is other than his place of immediate last residence.

Internal and International migration

The migrational movements are of three types (i) Migration within the state itself with its components (a) Migration within the district of enumeration (intra district migration), (b) Migration from one district of state to another district of state (inter district migration), (ii) Migration from one state to another state of the country (interstate migration), (iii) Migration from one country to another country. The first two streams together constitute internal migration, while the last type of movement is called international migration.

Why people migrate?

As in 1981 census, the reasons for migration were elicited in 1991 & 2001 census also. The reasons for migration were broadly categorized as (1) employment (2) business (3) education (4) family moved (5) marriage (6) natural calamities like drought, floods etc. and (7) other reasons. Reasons for migration have been elicited only with reference to movement from place of last residence.

Impact of migration

Growth of population of a particular place depends upon natural increase due to excess of births over deaths and migration.

Knowledge of trends in migration helps in future planning of a region

Marriage and age at marriage are important social phenomena and crucial factors in the analysis of the dynamics of fertility. As such, various measures of fertility estimated based on these crucial factors are highlighted in the above table.

Estimates of General Fertility Rate (GFR) a refined measure of fertility, defined as the number of live births per thousand women in the reproductive age-group 15-49 years is a useful tool for measuring fertility, and this rate is further estimated only for the married women which is defined as General Marital Fertility Rate (GMFR). The GFR and GMFR for the district are 130 and 171 respectively.

The cumulative value of the age-specific fertility rates at the end of the child bearing ages gives a measure of fertility known as Total Fertility Rate (TFR). It indicates average number of children expected to be born per woman during her entire span on reproductive period assuming that the age specific fertility rates to which she is exposed to, continue to be the same and there is no mortality. The same is expected for married women known as Total Marital Fertility Rate (TMFR). The estimated TFR and TMFR for the district are 3.94 and 5.61 respectively. The Crude Birth Rate (CBR) is 30.59.

The most useful indices that can be derived from the question on number of Children born alive is the average number of children ever born per ever married women by age-group. Since most of the women complete their reproduction be the age-group 45-49, this indices is termed as completed fertility. The category ever married includes widows, divorced and separated women. As such the completed fertility for the district is 4.74. The child women ratio which is a relative measure to know the fertility performance of a women is 503 in the district.

One of the parameters, presenting female age at marriage relates to all women who live with their husbands, where some of them might have been recently married and some of them decades ago. It can be observed that mean age at marriage of the currently married women of Dharwad district is higher than the state figure of 18.00.

The estimates of mortality indicators presented above have been obtained through indirect estimation using the data on the number of children ever born and number of children surviving to ever married women. The information on questions on children ever born and children surviving canvassed for all ever married woman have been tabulated by the age of the mother. This data has been converted into estimates of probability of dying before attaining a given age. These estimates have been worked out using Brass technique where (qi) is the probability of a newborn child dying before the age i = 1, 2, 3 and 5. The table above shows the estimates of infant and child mortality derived for the year 1991 by sex.

The infant mortality rate (q1) for the person is 74 and for male and female are 74 and 75 respectively. The estimates of under 5 mortality (q5) for person is 95 and for male and female are 94 and 97 respectively.

The Annexure IV(2) presents data on migration by their place of last residence. As far as the district is concerned, it can be seen that migrants whose place of last residence was within the state of enumeration but outside the place of enumeration, constitute major proportion of migrant population. As per 2001 Census, their percentage accounts for 94.65. Among them, more is the inflow from within the district. Considerable proportion from other state have migrated to the district. The variations during the decade among different categories can be seen from the annexure.

Rural and urban composition of internal migrants by their place of birth is provided in the above statement. The data for both the census points out that majority of migrants within the State have relocated at rural areas. Whereas this trend slightly varies with migrants from other states of India, where large influx is seen in urban areas. The details can be seen from the statement.

ANNEXURE - V

Brief account of Main Religions in the District / Taluk as per 2001 Census

Religion forms an integral part of Indian Social System. For an Indian, it is a way of life rather than a faith. Indian Census, since its inception is collecting data on religion and presenting the same in its reports. In the pre-independence Census reports, the data on religion was being presented for 6 major religions viz., Hindus, Muslims, Christians, Sikhs, Jains and Buddhists. Besides, the minor religions have been classified under the category of 'Others'. The data on religion collected and presented by the Indian Census is the basic data of immense use for the researchers, anthropologists, sociologists, demographers, administrators, planners and even for a common man.

India - State differentials

The comparative data of the country and the state of Karnataka presented in Annexure V(i) reveals that the religion wise concentration of population in the state of Karnataka is of three major religions viz., Hindus, Muslims and Christians. Hindus are returned on the higher side with over three per cent more than the national average. Christians recorded nearly one per cent less whereas the proportion of Muslims in the state to national population was almost the same. There are 85.5 per cent Hindus, 11.6 per cent Muslims and 1.9 per cent Christians in Karnataka as against that of 82.4 per cent Hindus, 11.7 per cent Muslims and 2.3 per cent Christians in India. In regard to concentration of other three major religions viz., Sikhs, Buddhists and Jains it is observed that Jains with 0.7 per cent form the fourth major religion in the state whereas Buddhists with 9.8 per cent is the third major religion in India. In the Indian scene the Sikhs form fifth major group, whereas in Karnataka, Buddhists and Sikhs are placed fifth position.

Religion wise growth in the state during the decade 1981 - 91 reveals that the major religions viz., Hindus, Muslims and Christians recorded a growth rate in lesser degree i.e., 20.7 per cent, 25.7 per cent and 11.1 per cent respectively, against that of 22.3, 26.1 and 16.9 per cent in India as a whole. On the other hand Buddhists, Sikhs and Jains recorded a growth rate of 72.8 per cent, 57.8 per cent and 14.6 pecent respectively for the state against that of 34.0, 24.2 and 3.9 per cent respectively for India. Thus, the Jains recorded a higher growth of nearly 11 per cent in the state than that of India as a whole during the decade 1981 - 91.

Percentage distribution of population during 2001 Census, by major religions in India and Karnataka shows that Hindus form majority of the population with 80.5 and 83.9 per cent respectively, while Muslims form 13.4 and 12.2 per cent for the country and state respectively. The proportion of these religions for the country and state, during 1991 Census was 82.4 per cent and 85.5 per cent for Hindus and 11.7 and 11.6 per cent for Muslims. There are not much noticeable changes are found in other religions. Persons who have not reported to which religion or faith they belong to has increased in Karnataka, as its proportion to the total population has increased from 0.1 per cent in 1991 Census to 0.3 per cent during 2001 Census.

The above table furnishes the composition of six major religions along with 'Other Religions' and 'Religion not stated' among the districts of the state during 2001 Census along with 1991 Census. As may be seen from the table that the proportion of population to total population during 2001 Census is below 5 per cent for 23 districts of the state and is between 5-10 per cent in 3 districts. Only Bangalore district has the distinction of having more than 10 per cent of the total population of the state in its jurisdiction. During 1991 Census the situation was almost similar with 22 districts having a proportion of less than 5 per cent and 4 districts had more than 5 per cent but below 10 per cent. With 10.76 per cent of the total population Bangalore district occupied the top position.

Of the total population of the state, proportion of districts having Hindus and Muslims was uniform during both the Censuses i.e. less than 5 per cent of the total population in 21 districts for Hindus and 23 districts for Muslims, while in 5 and 3 districts respectively for Hindus and Muslims had a proportion of 5-10 per cent and Bangalore district alone had more than 10 per cent.

The level of education by sex for the district and the State during 1991 and 2001 Census are presented in the above annexure. It can be seen that percentage of illiterates during the decade has decreased vis-a-vis for the State and the district. Though the male literates out number females, the percentage of women folk acquired literacy during the decade is more than the male population. The comparison of data for the two censuses reveals it so for the State and the district. The different educational level attained by the population can be seen in detail in the above annexure.

ANNEXURE - VIII
Distribution of different Mother Tongue returned during 1991 and 2001 Censuses

As a part of census publication programme the data on spoken languages/mother tongues will be presented under C series. The table C-7 shows the distribution of languages/mother tongues which returned 10,000 or more speakers each at all-India level (including of mother tongues grouped under each for district, with total, rural/urban and male/female break ups. The unclassified mother tongues and the mother tongues having less than 10,000 speakers have been relegated to 'other' mother tongue category. The table divided into Part A – scheduled languages with the mother tongues grouped under each and Part B – Non-scheduled languages with the mother tongue grouped under each. The definition of 'Mother Tongue' is the same as in 1981 Census. The instructions to the enumerators in regard to this question read as under:

Record Mother Tongue in full, whatever be the name of the language returned by the person enumerated. The definition of Mother Tongue is the same as in 1991. "Mother Tongue is the language spoken in childhood by the person's mother to the person. If the mother died in infancy, the language mainly spoken in the person's home in childhood will be the Mother Tongue. In the case of infants and deaf mutes the language usually spoken by the mother should be recorded. In case of doubt, the language mainly spoken in the household may be recorded".

As the above instructions to the enumerators would show, the respondent was made to feel free to return the name of his/her mother tongue and the same was, recorded faithfully by the enumerators. This naturally leads to the recording of a very large number of mother tongue names. It is to be mentioned that mother tongues as returned in the census are basically, the designations provided by the respondents. These designations or mother tongue labels need not be identical with the actual linguistic mediums. For assessing the correlation between the mother tongue designations and actual languages and dialects the raw returns of census were subjected to thorough scrutiny and rationalization.

As many as 29 and 31 languages are returned by the people of Bijapur district during 1991 and 2001 Censuses. Of which 18 are scheduled languages and 11 and 13 are non-scheduled languages respectively.

Part A and Part B of Statement I and II furnishes the details of the Scheduled and Non-Scheduled languages spoken in the district.
